TRIO NAMED IN KILLING

— Burning Love —

SPURNED SUITOR'S VENGEANCE? — Attractive Penny Lindsay was believed to be the target of a spurned suitor's revenge when her soldier brother's car she has been driving was burned. The burning was first thought to be the work of white neighborhood vandals.

Mourners Gather At Victim's Burial

Bereaved Widow to Leave Sickbed to Attend Last Rites for NAACP Leader

MIMS, Fla.—Sombre crowds gathered in this small mid-Florida town today Thursday), from all over the state and the nation to pay final tribute to Harry T. Moore, Florida coordinator of NAACP branches, murdered in his home Christmas night. He paid with his life for his devotion to the cause of Negro rights.

The funeral was being held in a tense atmosphere, heightened by the disclosure a few days ago that Walter White, national head of the Association, had named names and pointed an accusing finger at three known individuals.

White turned over the three names to the Federal Bureau of Investigation Saturday and accused them of suspected complicity in the carefully planned bombing that took Moore's life and seriously wounded his wife.

Widow Attends

Making a heroic effort, the bereaved and ill widow, Mrs. Harriet Moore, left her hospital bed to face the ordeal of the funeral. Services had been postponed from last Friday to enable her to attend.

White flew back here from New York yesterday to speak at the services.

He was one of a vast throng of individuals, Negro and white, who journeyed to this little-known hamlet for one purpose—to prove by their presence their determination to fight against the ruthless, hate-inspired criminals and Klansmen, whose triggermen struck down Moore in an endeavor to terrorize and intimidate all Negroes.

Crowd Grim

The crowd, which began arriving here yesterday, was grim but

Florida Leads Nation in Race-Hate Lawlessness

MIAMI, Fla.—Climaxed by the cowardly midnight murder of Harry T. Moore, head of the State's NAACP, on Christmas night, Florida this year led the nation in lawlessness and terrorism. It outdistanced in wanton brutality even South Carolina, Alabama and Mississippi.

The record is terrifying. It includes murder, lynching, "legal" lynching, floggings, dynamitings and cross burnings.

Moore was murdered when his home at Mims, Fla., was blasted by explosives. His wife was critically injured.

Six weeks earlier one of the Groveland "rape" case prisoners was killed "legally" by a sheriff. A second prisoner was seriously wounded by the same sheriff who was escorting the two manacled men to Lakeland county seat.

In March, Melvin Womack was lynched in Orange county. He died two days after he was beaten by a mob of masked men.

Three other Negroes were severely beaten by white men in the same county. None of the floggers, including the masked men who beat Womack to death, was arrested.

During the summer flaming "K's" and fiery crosses, hate symbols of the Ku Klux Klan, were burned in Miami, Jacksonville, Tallahasse, Fort Myers, Lakeland and Wildwood.

Sinister accompaniment of the attacks against Negroes was the rash of dynamitings and attempted dynamiting of Catholic and Jewish houses of worship. There were 11 separate attempts against these churches and a Negro housing project. All occurred in Miami.

As in the case of the killings and the floggings, not a single criminal has been arrested for these crimes.

In the face of the statewide character of the collapse of the law, it seems obvious that if Florida's authorities

Palm Springs Halts Evictions in Crisis

Bias Policy in Veterans' Unit Slated for Test

Eviction of five Negro families from their condemned homes was halted in Palm Springs last week as the housing crisis there rapidly deteriorated to critical proportions.

At the same time, the policy of the veterans' housing unit of discriminating against Negroes who are in crying need of homes in Southern California's "play" spot headed for a court test.

A number of Negro families are living in houses that have been condemned as unfit for human habitation. Eviction notices have been issued to force the families to move out. But the evictions had to be cancelled—because the families had no other place to which they could move.

Rejects Negroes

Vet Lineau Village, built by the State of California, with vacant apartments, rejects Negro veterans. In past months 25 Negro families applied for apartments there and were refused. Recently two more Negro ex-GIs applied. They likewise were denied homes.

This week the area council of the NAACP, together with the Palm Springs branch of the association, retained Attys. Loren Miller and Everett M. Porter to file suit against the manager of Lienau Village, and the city housing authority to compel them to accept qualified Negro applicants.

The action was determined upon at a special meeting of the executive committee of the Palm Springs branch last Saturday at which 15 people present pledged $370 to finance the legal test, and raised $185 on the spot. Business leader and builder Frank Groves is active in raising the necessary funds and has given his assurance that the needed money will be raised.

Vacancies Available

James Anderson, executive secretary of the NAACP area council, pointed out to the meeting: "Two Negro veterans have applied for occupancy of this veterans' housing and been refused, although there are many vacancies available. It is our wish to cooperate to the fullest possible extent with your city housing authority, but the refusal to admit Negro veterans into a state built veterans' housing unit is illegal. Twenty-five other Negro families have applied for housing at Lienau Village and been refused also, although white non-veterans are admitted as there are too few veterans to begin to fill these units."

— Married —

SURPRISE MARRIAGE—Southern and Northern California circles were surprised this week when socially prominent Alma Ribb from San Jose married "Colonel" C. G. Price Monday afternoon here. The lovely couple are now at home to their many friends at the Price residence on Raymond Ave.

Quiet Enjoyment Greets New Year

Nineteen hundred fifty-two came on the scene Tuesday morning on a wave of quiet enjoyment. No murders, boisterous fights, or tragedies marred his entrance in the community. Everyone had a good time, and enjoyed welcoming the babe in, but the joy was refined and confined.

The Avenue jumped from Slauson to Fifth street. Carefree happy crowds thronged the bars and night clubs, each catering to a particular and discriminating kind of enjoyment. Genial Chubby Johnson, manager of the Paradise Lounge, reported a record-breaking night. Same for Dynamite Jackson's, The Elbow Bend, the Memo and the various cocktail lounges on Central Ave.

The Club Alabam, focal point of the Avenue's terrific comeback, had patrons hanging from the rafters enjoying the classy floor show. Across the street in Ali Bardui's newly opened Last Word, a gay and happy throng welcomed the new year.

On the Westside it was the same story. The Milamo, Garnett's, and the Club Oasis did booming business.

Competing with the public places of entertainment were the Alpha dance and the Omega party, and numerous television parties were held all over town where conviviality held sway among old friends.

Yes, it was a richer, wiser, grown-up and subdued New Years.

Oh yes, there were a few domestic discussions, and a few had too many, but police report it a rather uneventful evening. The only persons who took a beating were the bailbondsmen.

'Phantom Gunman' Suspects Absolved

Three Negroes who were arrested last week as prime suspects in the "Phantom Gunman" case, when they were discovered in the vicinity of the home of a San Gabriel housewife the same evening she was shot, with several weapons in their car, were absolved of any participation in the shooting, but were held on charges of violating the State Deadly Weapons Act.

Amos Strickland, 21, 1832 124th Street, a rodeo rider; Raymond E. Hart, 20, 13112 Wilmington Ave., Compton, a sandblaster, and Jack Nero West, 21, of 1621 E. 117th street were arrested when sheriff's deputies searched their car and found an automatic rifle and a pistol.

The "Phantom Gunman" has been terrorizing residents of the eastern portion of Los Angeles county,

— Baby of New Year —

NICE TIMING—With the timing of a champion, eight pound 13 ounce Wilbert Miller Jr. emitted his first howl at exactly one second past midnight on New Year's Day. Born to Mrs. Marie Miller, of 662 East 24th street at the South Hoover hospital, he thus won the distinction of being the first baby born in Los Angeles in 1952.

Car Burning Laid To Spurned Suitor

The burning of a Negro soldier's automobile in a predominantly white neighborhood last December, was not due to racial hatred as reported in the metropolitan dailies, subsequent investigation by the California Eagle disclosed, but is thought to be the work of a spurned suitor of the sister of the Korean veteran.

Mrs. Jarline Lindsay, of 1189 W. 37th street, reported to the police that a new convertible owned by her son, Pvt. Ozro Lindsay, had been deliberately fired as it stood in the street before her home.

It was first thought to be the work of some of the neighbors as the Lindsay family is the only Negro family in the neighborhood. Four years ago neighbors circulated a petition in an attempt to get her to move from the home and a cross was burned on her front lawn.

Attractive Penny Lindsay, sister of the veteran, has had possession of the car while her brother has been in Korea. Two weeks ago someone put sugar in the gas tank in an attempt to foul the engine.

While the attractive Miss Lindsay wouldn't make a statement, close friends stated that recently she has been having trouble with a jealous man she used to go around with until she discovered he was married and had two children. They also reported that on several occasions he has been to her job at the Red Hut Broiler and created scenes and has acosted her while she has been out socially.

Members of the arson squad of

the police department have been advised of this new angle in the burning.

Pvt. Ozro Lindsay is well known locally, and for many years worked as copy boy for one of the local weeklies.

Miss Lindsay announced her engagement to Clarence Coleman last Thanksgiving.

Illini Queen Missed In Rose Bowl Event

Keen disappointment was felt by many Rose Bowl enthusiasts over the non-appearance of Clarice Davis, coed of Illinois University who was recently crowned homecoming queen of the victorious Illini football team. Miss Davis was expected to arive with her classmates to participate in a round of activities planned by Los Angeles for their social entertainment.

Reason for Miss Davis' absence was given by a sister of her sorority in this city who said she remained at her home in Illinois to study upon the request of her parents. Rumors that she was denied the privilege to ride on a float in the annual Rose Bowl parade at this time are unfounded.

Miss Davis attracted national attention when she became first Negro queen of her school's homecoming game and team went over Stanford in the New Year's Day tussle in the Rose Bowl.

Baby Burns to Death When Small Heater Fires Home

Wee Donald Leon Jackson, 11643 Robin Street, was burned to death in his bed early Wednesday morning when the blankets that covered him caught fire from a small gas heater.

Donald was one year and 10 months old. His older brother, Antonio, himself just a baby of three, pulled the heater over near the bed while his mother was visiting for a few minutes with her next door neighbor, shortly after 7 a.m.

Flames leaped up as the bedclothing caught on fire, terrifying Antonio, who ran screaming from the burning house, yelling to his mother that "the house is on fire!"

Another neighbor rushed in, grabbed 10-month old Irma Jean, who was in the front room, and snatched her to safety.

But the fire had spread too rapidly for any one to rescue litle Donald.

By the time the blaze was extinguished, there was nothing left but a flimsy shell of what had previously been a laughter-filled home.

Bereaved parents of the child are Mrs. Bessie Jackson and John Jackson.

The funeral is to be handled by Conner-Johnson funeral parlors.

Tuskegee Lists Only One 1951 Lynching

MONTGOMERY, Ala.—One person was lynched in the United States during 1951, Tuskegee Institute reported this week.

The Negro institution, in the annual report on mob violence compiled by its records and research department, said the lynching occurred in Orange County, Fla., where Melvin Womack, 26 years old, of Winter Garden, was fatally beaten by a band of masked men March 31. However, it listed three other cases in which death at the hands of a mob was prevented and a fourth in which a man was killed but which "technically" was not a lynching.

Womack, the report said, died in an Orlando, Fla., hospital two days after being "forced by masked men from his home."

"However, it is thought that the night riders lynched the wrong man," the institution concluded.

Three near-lynchings were listed as:

Mrs. J. T. Guzman, director of the Department of Records and Research at Tuskegee, could not explain why the report said Mr. Womack was thought to be the wrong party. Womack was living at the home of Dora Mosby, sister-in-law of Luthern Coleman, a school janitor, who was beaten by four white men on the streets of Winter Garden, two months before the Womack attack.

Tuskegee researchers noted the death of Samuel Shepherd and the wounding of Walter Lee Irvin at the hands of a Florida Sheriff Nov. 6. They were shot while being transferred from Raiford State Prison to Tavares, Fla., for a new trial ordered by the United

L.A. to Hold Fla. Murder Protest Meet

Demand for Federal action to bring to an end lawlessness in Florida was made here this week by Dr. E. I. Robinson, president of the local NAACP.

Dr. Robinson announced a protest mass meeting against the murder of Harry T. Moore in Mims, Fla. is being held here at the Second Baptist Church, Sunday, Jan. 20. West Coast Regional Director Franklin H. Williams will speak on "The Gospel of Justice."

Said Robinson:

"The Federal Government must be prevailed upon to take a stand and put an end to this shameful disregard of the Constitutional rights of Negroes. I am calling upon all officers and members of the Los Angeles Branch to address letters and telegrams to President Harry S. Truman and Attorney-General J. Howard McGrath at the Department of Justice, Washington, D. C., and make contributions to aid the Moore family and wage a fight against terrorism in Florida and elsewhere.

"Request the Department of Justice to make a complete investigation of this heinous crime and immediately upon discovery of the identity of the culprits that the Federal Grand Jury be convened and that these culprits be brought to speedy justice."

Man Dies in Street From Knife Wounds

Arthur Hester, 45, 542 Ceres Avenue, died a horrible death in the street at Fifth and Stanford, Tuesday night crawling around in circles while blood gushed from a deep stab wound in his chest. He was dead before police arrived.

Henry Henderson, 6272 S. Menlo street and Mattie Greg Cox, 2248 E. 90th street told officers that Hester and Georgia Mae Steel, 29, 745 E. 17th street started fighting in a bar at 5th and Stanford. They came out of the bar and continued to fight. Suddenly a knift flashed in Mrs. Steel's hand and Hester fell to the sidewalk mortally wounded.

Mrs. Steel fled the scene and was picked up Wednesday by police officers. She had two black eyes and numerous cuts on her arm and body. She was held on suspicion of murder.

Parents Warned

Parents were warned this week to keep their children away from Bixby slough, where a number of children drowned in 1951. Week end rains have increased the danger area.

DAPS XMAS SHOW—The Newton Division Daps held their annual Christmas show at the Elks auditorium under the guidance of Officer James Polk. Over 300 Daps and their friends were entertained by the star-studded show. Red Callender, Chico Hamilton, Eddie Beal, Jimmie Jackson and the Shades of Rhythm, Elvira Redd and her band, Jimmy Witherspoon and many others. Star of stars was Louis Armstrong, who is receiving thanks from Captain Noel A. McQuown, commander of Newton, on behalf of the many stars that gave their time and talent on the show.

Miss Bonnett Heads Human Rights Group

Miss Lucille Bonnett, popular school-teacher and civic worker, has been elected to serve another term as president of the Los Angeles chapter of the American Council on Human Rights, a national organization of Greek-Letter affiliates which strives for effective local, state, and federal legislation.

Installation ceremonies for the 1952 slate of officers will be held Thursday evening, Jan. 10, at 8:30 p.m. at the Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity house, 2116 S. Western avenue.

Mrs. Emily Woody, public relations co-chairman, announced this week that invitations for the event are now in the mail. The ceremonies, she stated, promise to be highly significant inasmuch as Edward W. Mehren, chairman of the L. A. County Conference on Community Relations, will officiate.

Mehren, also treasurer of the Southern California Society of Mental Hygiene and treasurer of the Beverly Hills Girl Scouts, has earned respect and renown with his skillful administration and coordination of the 39 member agencies of the County Conference, whose motto is "Unity in the Community." They boast an impressive list of progress attainments. Joint approach and action of the conference tends to strengthen good neighborliness through spot-lighting and working on problems of discrimination.

County Conference television programs are presented each Sunday night at 10:30 over KTTV, Channel 11. A few of the more familiar community groups which compose the conference are as follows:

American Council on Human Rights; AFL; Anti-Defamation League; Dep't. Christian Social Relations, Episcopal Diocese; Greater L. A. CIO Council; Japanese-American Citizens League; Urban League; L. A. County Committee on Human Relations; Nat'l. Conference of Christians and Jews; and the NAACP.

RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT—Miss Lucille Bonnett has just been elected to serve another term as president of the Los Angeles chapter of the American Council on Human Rights.

Taft Repeats Okay On Separate Schools

By Lawrence A. Still

ST. LOUIS—Senator Robert A. Taft, self-announced Republican candidate for the president of the United States definitely placed himself on the side of "state's rights" over and above "civil rights" when interviewed here last week by members of the Negro community and the Negro Press.

Refusing to budge one inch from his previously published statements on civil rights Senator Taft declared here that there wouldn't be any more freedom for anybody and Negroes would suffer most in this country if the federal government has all the power and the states could not govern their people as they wish.

But the presidential candidate said he believes most of the civil rights measures in Congress now would be acted upon immediately if the Republican party is given control of the national government in the next elections. "Civil rights" has been "kicked around" Senator Taft said and "Truman doesn't mean to do anything about it no matter what he says." "He can't," the Republican Senator added because of the southern Democratic block which runs the Democratic party in Congress.

Make Them Equal

Speaking at an open meeting of Negroes and whites gathered especially to hear the candidates position on Civil Rights, Taft reiterated his much publicized statement in North Carolina that he didn't think the federal government should interfere with segregated school systems in some states—if they are equal. "If they are not equal then the federal government should get an injunction against the states and take the lead in providing equal schools," he added.

The Senator added that he was personally against segregated schools but that he felt public education could be separate and equal.

Emphatically repeating that he is a confirmed states righter the Senator calmly went down the list of proposed civil rights measures giving his position on each matter. He said he was directly opposed to the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People's proposals for Federal Employment Practice legislation but that he has always supported a voluntary FEPC. "My position is the same on this as it was six years ago when I first introduced FEPC legislation," the Ohio Senator said.

Taft said he felt the new FEPC order issued by Truman was alright. "I told the NAACP they will never get a compulsory FEPC and they won't," he emphasized.

Taft said his record shows he voted for the three so-called civil rights measures including an anti-lynching bill and the bill for the abolition of the poll-tax. The Senator says he has always supported cloture because he is against filibustering on a bill on which the people want a decision. "I voted for cloture on the NAACP FEPC bill even though I opposed the measure," the Senator said.

Gets Angry

Taft said he has always been against segregation and discrimination in hotels, theatres and restaurants and that he favored home rule in Washington, D. C. which would enable jim-crow to be abolished in the nation's capitol. "It ought to be abolished," he emphasized.

The Senator was calm and unwavering throughout most of the discussion but suddenly became emotional at the end of the 25 minute session under the constant barrage of questions on his position. Practically shouting at the top of his voice he told the questioning Negroes "There wouldn't be any freedom left in this country if all the power were concentrated in the federal government and not left in the local communities — and you people would suffer most."

Dramatically summing up his whole position on civil rights the Republican presidential candidate said "I'm for the people in the local communities deciding how they should live and their children should be educated and I won't change that position for anybody — no matter what the political advantage is."

Fla. in Crime Lead

did not actively participate in the atrocities, they at least turned their faces the other way while night-riders and thugs roamed the countryside and carried out their depredations and murders at will.

In at least the one instance a law enforcement officer, Sheriff Willis McCall of Lakeland, perpetrated the crimes. McCall shot and killed Samuel Shepherd and seriously wounded Walter Lee Irvin under conditions which have all the hallmarks of premeditated murder.

His brutal treatment of the two prisoners was an established fact. Yet, despite NAACP protests, he was permitted to escort the two prisoners at night over a lonely road from the State penitentiary at Raiford to Tavares, county seat of Lakeland county. The shootings occurred en route. There were no witnesses.

McCall was "exonorated" by a local coroner's jury, after Gov. Fuller Warren conferred with the killer in a Miami hotel. McCall was not even relieved of duty during the "investigation."

Climax of the lawlessness occurred Christmas night when explosives were planted under the home of Harry T. Moore, coordinator of Florida's NAACP branches. The blast which killed the outspoken fighter for Negro rights was apparently caused by nitroglycerine or other chemical even stronger than dynamite.

The killing of Moore followed by only one day the attempted bombing of the Hialeah-Miami Springs Jewish center. A day previously another attempted bombing of Miami's Saints Peter and Paul Catholic church had been intercepted.

Florida thus in 1951 proved to be even more brutal and callous in its treatment of Negroes than any of the other States of the South, not excepting South Carolina, where, their lawmakers boast, 'they know how to deal with their Negroes" and reject "outside interference" from "ignorant" northerners or the Federal government.

SC Persecutes Minister Who Fought Bias

COLUMBIA, South Carolina—Because he served as chairman of a Negro parents' committee which initiated the historic challenge of the segregated school system in Clarendon County, the Rev. J. A. Delaine has:

1. Seen his home burned to the ground;
2. Has been dismissed by white officials from his job as a school teacher;
3. Forced to leave the town of Summerton and the church which he had pastored;
4. Subjected to a $4500 judgment and a second law suit which would tie up property which he had held;
5. Had his life threatened;
6. Seen members of his family, his friends and fellow-members of the Committee also dismissed from their jobs.

In October of this year, while his home was being destroyed by fire, Summerton firemen looked on without taking any steps to save the house. The sheriff of the county didn't investigate because he said "no one asked me to."

Rev. Delaine was fired by white officials from his job two days after the court suit was filed. His wife, two sisters and a niece were among eleven other Negro men and women who were immediately dismissed from their jobs shortly after announcement of the Jim Crow school challenge.

The Negro minister was also sued for "slander" by a white school official. The only witnesses against him were the white officials of the Clarendon County School Board who were named as defendants in the Negro parents' suit. The court found Rev. Delaine guilty and placed a judgment against him for $4500.

African Negroes, Indians Plan Civil Disobedience

NEW YORK—Taking a leaf out of Ghandi's book, Negroes and East Indians in the Union of South Africa have set April 6 as the date for the launching of a civil disobedience demonstration.

On that day members of the two heretofore antagonistic groups will deliberately violate the country's new drastic jim-crow laws. The laws place rigid restrictions on "natives," that is, dark-skinned Negroes, and also on "coloreds" who previously were permitted some measure of freedom.

Under the new regulations natives are prohibited from any except unskilled jobs and are hemmed in by a host of new repressions.

The united revolt will protest "300 years of oppression by Europeans," according to the African National Council, which is organizing the demonstration.

The joint action will be the first time the two groups have united since Negroes and Indians clashed in riots several years ago.

Governors Want Facts on Segregation

NEW YORK—The governors of five of the eight states who were told last week that the larger part of the tax burden of southern segregated education is being carried by northern states, have written NAACP Secretary Walter White, expressing interest in the situation.

White, in identical letters to the governors of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Ohio, Illinois and Massachusetts, noted that those states paid more than 50 per cent of the federal tax revenue during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1951, whereas ten Southern states carried only 9 per cent. "The cost of federal housing, school and other programs could be materially reduced if the South did not require dual expenditures because of its policies of segregation," Mr. White explained. The governors were asked to urge their states' delegations to support language forbidding expenditure of federal funds for segregated facilities.

One of the five governors responding asked for further factual data in detail, to be presented to organizations like chambers of commerce with a view to adding "some economy-minded support to your contention."

Truman Asked For Conference On Civil Rights

NEW YORK — President Truman will be asked to receive a delegation during the civil rights meeting in Washington, Feb. 17-18, to discuss ways and means of implementing the civil rights proposals which he has advocated.

The Washington assembly, called by the NAACP, will be attended by representatives of the leading church, labor, civic, minority group, and fraternal organizations interested in securing full and free enjoyment of civil rights by all Americans.

Attention will be focused on efforts to secure revision of Senate Rule 22, which now is an effective roadblock to enactment of civil rights legislation. Revision of this rule to permit cloture by majority vote is necessary to passage of FEPC, anti-lynching, anti-poll tax, and other civil rights bills, Walter White, NAACP executive secretary, asserts.

States Supreme Court in the alleged raping of a 17-year-old white girl.

The sheriff said the two sought to escape and he was exonerated by a coroner's jury. "This technically is not considered a lynching," the report concluded.

Near Brundige, Ala., June 21 when a mob moved in on the home of Forrest Jones, 35-year-old Negro farmer accused of "kidnapping a white woman." The county police verified his claim that he merely had given the missing woman a ride.

At Colonial Beach, Va., Sept. 2 when Charles White, a town policeman and another officer were "saved by other police from a mob" of 500 persons incensed about "alleged mistreatment of a prisoner."

At Washington, N. C., on Nov. 22 when Lafayette Miller, Negro parolee, was removed to an eastern state prison because "he probably would have been lynched," after being charged with slaying a young white farmer and abducting the victim's wife in the trunk of a stolen automobile.

More About Palm Springs

Springs is the fact that for the past year the city has refused to issue building permits in the area occupied by Negroes.

The city council last week took note of the plight of colored residents Wednesday when it passed a motion declaring in effect that a moratorium be called on five pending evictions due to lack of alternate dwellings available to the occupants.

San Diego Race Relations Society Has Xmas Party

SAN DIEGO—With much gaiety and exchanges of gifts 200 members and friends of the San Diego Race Relations Society enjoyed their 27th annual Christmas party on Thursday evening.

Dennis V. Allen, president of the society, presided over the program which was held at the Church of Christian Fellowship. Attending the affair were County Supervisors James Robins and Dan Rossi; Capt. Charles Rogers, County Chief Probation officer; Fred Boyer, president of county Board of Education; and Robert Dent, member of the city Board of Education. They all gave short expressions of yuletide sentiment.

The Spence Sister Trio entertained with instrumental music and Joseph Taylor furnished incidental music throughout the evening. Refreshments were served and a contribution of $28 was collected for the relief fund for the recent Tijuana fire victims.

Ray Smith Gets S. F. Assignments

Ray Smith, popular government employee, was one of the lucky workers at the General Service Administration Federal Supply. Smith was selected out of a number of other storekeepers to go to San Francisco to put the supply office there in working condition.

Smith will spend 12 days in the San Francisco warehouse. He is considered one of the best and is one of the few Negroes with a plus-rating as a Government supply storekeeper. His San Francisco assignment is a feather in his cap for his fine efficiency on his present job.

HOMEWARD BOUND—After three years of service in Yokohama, Master Sergeant Walter Gomes and his wife Florence are shown aboard the USNS General H. B. Freeman shortly before their departure from Yokohama for the United States. Florence Gagnet Gomes is a native of Los Angeles. A graduate of Chapman College, she is well-known in local social circles. She served as a Special Services director during her stay in Japan. Sergeant Gomes, a native of Waterbury, Conn., gained a reputation as one of the best football coaches and athletic directors in the Yokohama area.

Three Accused in Florida Bombing

on the alert, on the lookout for new provocations, possibly more killings.

From all over the country, telegrams of sympathy were pouring in to members of Moore's family and to the Association.

Other telegrams of protest and demand for Federal action were flooding Washington. The thousand NAACP branches throughout the nation were scheduling protest meetings on Sunday, were sending telegrams and letters to President Truman, Atty. Gen. J. Howard McGrath, and the FBI.

The CIO wired to the President, Sen. Robert A. Taft, and three other senators and representatives demanding Congressional action to bring Moore's murderers to justice and to pass Federal civil rights legislation to see to it that Florida Negroes henceforth come within the protection of the law.

AFL unions joined in demands for Federal action, as did numerous other organizations, including the Anti-Defamation League of the B'nai B'rith.

Earned Enmity

White, in making his accusations to the FBI, stated that Moore had earned the enmity of the racial bigots because of his appeal to Gov. Fuller Warren to intercede on behalf of the Groveland "rape" case prisoners and assign trusted men to escort them from the state penitentiary at Raiford to Lakeland county seat at Tavares.

Fuller ignored the request. Sheriff Willis McCall drove the prisoners, and killed one en route and wounded the other. When this happened, Moore, as head of the Florida NAACP, accused the officials of criminal laxity.

Moore had also been one of the prime movers in an attempt to get Florida Negroes to register and vote in defense of their rights.

Reward Offered

Moore was killed Christmas night while asleep in his home here. Explosives planted under his bedroom blasted a hole in the house after the NAACP leader and his wife had retired.

Moore died a few hours later en route to the hospital. Mrs. Moore, although badly injured, survived.

The NAACP has offered a reward of $5,000 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the murderer or murderers. It also asked the Department of Justice to move into the Florida situation.

Votes Contribution

In an emergency meeting the Association's committee on administration voted a contribution to the family for restoration of the home and other expenses. An appeal was sent out to 1,000 NAACP branches throughout the country asking for contributions, calling upon them to hold memorial services for Moore on Sunday, Jan. 6, and urging that they request action by Attorney General McGrath.

White reiterated his charge that Governor Warren "has consistently refused to take any steps to uphold law and order in Florida," and scored the Florida governor's denial of the charge.

"He [Governor Warren] cites the 'investigations' he ordered in the killing of Sampuel Shepherd . . . and the Miami bombings," White said. "For this slaying, McCall was not even suspended for a single day and the Governor's investigator vindicated the killing on evidence that would not stand up in any court of justice. Shepherd's killer walks the streets of Tavares a free man today.

No Action

"Nor has the Governor's investigation halted the Miami bombings, which have been going on for months. Just as Governor Warren defied the United States Senate by refusing to appear before its investigating committee, he has defied world opinion by failing to act vigorously and promptly to suppress lawlessness in his state."

White also noted that the Federal government has not thus far "taken effective action to bring the perpetrators of these crimes to justice."

Ever since the Shepherd-Irvin shooting on election night, Moore had been spearheading a campaign throughout Florida to bring about the indictment and prosecution of Sheriff McCall for murder. He spoke at meetings sponsored by NAACP branches throughout the state and circulated pettiions calling for justice in the case.

Coast Groups Urged to Act In Dynamiting

SAN FRANCISCO—Franklin H. Williams, regional director, West Coast Office, NAACP, Monday called upon all NAACP branches in the seven Western states and other groups, organizations and individuals, to express their outrage concerning the brutal murder of Harry T. Moore, state coordinator of NAACP branches in Florida at Mims, on Christmas night.

Williams, who was the attorney in the original Groveland, Fla. trial which set off a wave of mob violence in Lake County, Fla., stated that the bombing of the NAACP staff worker is part and parcel of a campaign of terror directed against Florida Negroes which began with the killings of Ernest Thomas, one of the four Negro youths charged with alleged assault upon Norma L. Patgett of Groveland in 1949.

Williams urged that meetings memorializing the name of Harry T. Moore be held in every West Coast community. "Harry Moore, like other valiant men before him, has given his life in the struggle for liberty and justice," he stated.

"His name must be remembered by all who believe in justice and equality. Those, who under cover of darkness, on the night commemorating the birth of Jesus Christ, perpetrated this brutal crime, must be brought before the bar of justice and subjected to the full penalty of the law, or America must hang its head in shame before the eyes of the people of the world."

Williams is scheduled to address a giant mass meeting in Los Angeles on Sunday, January 20th, at the Second Baptist Church, 24th and Griffith, at 11 a.m. under the auspices of the Los Angeles Branch.

Randolph Asks President to Act

NEW YORK—A. Philip Randolph, international president of Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, last Friday telegraphed President Truman, vacationing in Independence, Mo., demanding Federal action in the race-hate murder of NAACP leader Harry T. Moore.

Randolph wired:

"Respectfully implore you to promptly appoint a Presidential commission of distinguished citizens to comprehensively investigate the lynching by bombing of Negro leader Harry T. Moore of Mims, Florida, on Christmas night. Such a commission should be charged with the responsibility of exhaustively studying the present reign of terror in Florida against Negroes and Jews.

"My belief is a Presidential statement by you at this time of setting up such a commission and expressing your determination to rid our country of this blot and disgrace upon its life and good name will have far-reaching effect in deterring future lawlessness and terrorism."

Bullet Found by FBI May Break Sheriff's Case

MIAMI, Fla.—A bullet dug up by FBI investigators may prove to be a bombshell that will blast wideopen Sheriff Willis McCall's pretense of "self-defense" in his shooting of the two manacled Groveland rape case prisoners as he was escorting them to trial Nov. 6.

McCall swore that the two prisoners "jumped" him, and that he shot at them from a crouched position and solely to save his own life. McCall was exonerated.

The bullet was dug up from beneath 10 inches of sand. Its position when discovered gives strong indication that it was fired straight downward.

McCall, while taking the prisoners to Tavares, Fla., in connection with the new trial ordered by the U. S. Supreme Court, shot and killed Samuel Shepherd and severly injured Walter Lee Irvin. Irvin was rescued while still alive and revealed what had happened on the lonely road where the shooting occurred.

Santa Claus Visits Holmes Ave. Council

For five consecutive years Santa Claus has visited the children of Holmes Avenue Extended Day Care School bringing them entertainment and party activities. The annual project was the outgrowth of a hobby started by Mrs. Juanita Macklin, head teacher of Holmes day care school.

The party which took place in the school auditorium last week was organized by Mrs. Macklin, her staff and a group of parents who planned the holiday program. Interested members of the community took part in furnishfood, gifts and other donations.

Mrs. Maybelle Allen, club mother, acted as hostess. Local supervisor, Mrs. Irene Kline, with area supervisor Mrs. E. Bench were present. The event began with community singing led by Charles McAllister, accompanied by his wife, Mrs. McAllister. Wyona Kerry, contralto, was the guest soloist.

During intermission, Assemblyman and Mrs. Augustus Hawkins greeted the children. Others joining the merriment were Mrs. Effie Know, president of Oaklette club, Mrs. Nancy Cooper, head teacher of Hooper Avenue Center; Mrs. J. Sanford, head instructor at Fortuna Nursery; Professor and Mrs. Charles Graham. Graham appeared on the program offering several violin selections.

Success of the party was due, Mrs. Macklin says, to the cooperation she received from the parents and her staff. Especially is she appreciative of the help offered her by the Echo Barber Shop, Mrs. Inez Reed, Miss Earline Custer, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Collier, Mrs. Minnie Saunders, Mr. and Mrs. Cornell Ridley, Mrs. Ida Palmer, the Oklette Club, Mr. L. D. Johnson, trustee board of the Elks Club, Mr. Allen Rogers of Allen Shoe Shop, Mrs. Louise Hill, Mr. Clyde Malone, Mrs. Louise Mitchell, Mr. Travis Lott, Mr. Milton Griffin, the Pierce Grocery Store and many other community organizations.

The president of Holmes Ave., E. D. C. Parent Council, Alice Brown, is extremely happy with the way the annual visit of Old St. Nicholas was handled. "Without this event," she points out, "many children might never have experienced the spirit of the Christ Child."

LINCOLN UNIVERSITY, Pa.—A check for $10,000 representing a bequest from the late Dr. John Thomas Standford, Philadelphia physician and alumnus, has been received by Lincoln University, it was announced this week by Dr. Horace Mann Bond, president of the university.

Four Win $400 Judgment Against El Centro Cafe

A $400 judgement was won last week against a cafe in El Centro for refusal to serve Negro customers.

Mr. and Mrs. Zebediah Walker and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Troupe were the winners of the court's verdict.

The two couples entered the 4 Korners Cafe on January 27, 1951, for a meal. A waitress approached them and informed them that they could not be served in there, but they would be served if they went into the kitchen. The couples got up and left.

Judge L. J. Mouser of the Superior Court of Imperial County refused to accept the defense of the owners that the waitress acted contrary to their instructions and awarded each plaintiff $100 damages.

Ward Greets New Year With Service

The New Year was greeted with traditional Watch Night Services at Ward A. M. E. Church, West 25th and Magnolia, where Dr. Frederick D. Jordan is the minister. The Rev. H. C. Patterson of Pueblo, Colorado, delivered a sermon challenging the worshipers to "seek divine guidance upon their journey since they had not passed this way before."

Dr. Jordan announced that the early communion service from 8 until 9 o'clock on each First Sunday morning, which proved so popular during the past year, will be contined this year. Barnett Thornton, popular gospel singer, will lead the Ward Gospel Choir in furnishing the music for thi sservice Sunday morning.

At the 10:45 a.m. service, Dr. Jordan will begin a series of sermons which he will develop during the month of January entitled "What Would You Oo?" Discussing the theme of the series, he stated that the interpretation of the Christian ethic against the background of tradition and practice in various world cultures is of great importance to Americans today because our position of world-leadership places upon the American citizen the responsibility of evaluating the policies in distant parts of the world which our government either supports or opposes.

Incidentally, Rev. Jordan believes that to a lesser degree, perhaps, and in more subtle ways, these same conflicts are to be seen in the contact of the serious Christian with our own secular community. Miss Cecile Buchanan will be soloist for the morning service, and special service, and special music will be furnished by the Ward Senior Choir under the direction of Mrs. Blanche Woods.

Newcomer to Hold Revival At Good Will

Receiving citywide recognition for his improvement of the church he is now pastoring is Rev. M. M. Jones who will conduct a revival at Good Will Baptist Church, 1614 E. 41st street, from January 6 to 18.

Rev. Jones arrived in Los Angeles in April of last year to tender pulpit duties at First Baptist Church of Venice. There he found church membership very small in comparison to the number of residents of Venice. Also the financial status of the church was in poor condition.

Immediately Rev. Jones campaigned for new members. Shortly following the membership drive, the congregation increased more than 100 per cent. The staunch minister then raised in a short period of time $7000 to cut down the church's indebtedness.

Rev. Jones, with the assistance of Rev. T. T. Turner, pastor of Good Will, will bring an important message in relation to the outlook on Christianity in the world today.

Church to Get Pulpit Items

In a special ceremony this Sunday morning the Pastor's Aid at the Church of Christian Fellowship, 3125 W. Adams, will present to the church a pulpit lamp and pulpit Bible. The chairman of the Aid, Mrs. Mamie Duffy, will make a brief talk during the presentation.

Christian Fellowship's pastor, Rev. Harold M. Kingsley, will preach on the subject, "1951—Amen," during the morning services. One Sunday later, he will address the same gathering on the subject, "Taking Sides in 1952."

As I would not be a slave, so I would not be a master. This expresses my idea of democracy.—Abraham Lincoln.

Church Founded by Prophet Crowdy In Convocation

The Church of God and Saints of Christ, founded by the late Prophet William Saunders Crowdy in the year of 1896, will celebrate and honor the 47th Annual Holy Convocation (The Celebrated Days of Atonement) commencing January3 at sunset, through January 10, sundown, inclusive.

Services will convene at the Tabernacle, 1412 E. 89th street, near Compton avenue. This festive season will reach its zenith January 10, with the observance of the "Great Feast in the Wilderness." Services will begin each day at 10 a.m., except on the 10th. On that date services will start at 7 a.m. in the morning and last until sundown.

Everybody is cordially invited to attend these spiritual days of worship.

The church is non-bias, non-sectarian, non-profit, interracial.

Catholic Groups Fight Jim Crow

The first in a series of Catholic institutes, designed to halt white supremacy theories, were held recently in three South Carolina cities.

Priests and pastors met in three cities from all parts of South Carolina to hear the Most Rev. Waurice V. Shean of Rock Hill, S.C., discuss ways and means of bringing Christian standards of racial justice and social truth to the south. The meetings were held in Greenville, Columbia and Charleston.

Father Shean, general chairman of the Catholic committee of the South, told them that despite all the good people of the region, the "so-called Christian tradition of the South" was "decidedly influenced by paganism."

German Kids Sing Negro Spirituals

In the cold war between East and West Berlin, U.S. Negro spirituals have become a part of the propaganda designed to win over the Western Zone. The campaign started when 41-year-old, ex-Hall Johnson Choir singer Parker Watkins was asked to stay on in Berlin to teach German youngsters U.S. music.

He stayed, but had only 12 pupils at his first lesson. That has changed now and he can count a full chorus of youths who sing many of the standard spirituals. Phrasing their songs in Southern-accented English, they present the spirituals in German orphanages and hospitals.

SEMINARIANS MEET—Dr. Nelson Glueck, president of the Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion, America's only seminary of Reform Judaism, welcomes Dean Rembert E. Stokes and students from Payne Theological Seminary of Wilberforce University, Wilberforce, O., to the campus of the Cincinnati school. The Christian seminarians toured the campus this month, visiting classes, lunching with rabbinic students in the dormitory and inspecting the Library, Museum and research center, American Jewish Archives. Standing, left to right, Dean Stokes and Dr. Glueck.

Reed College Opens Term

The winter term of the Reed College of Religion will begin Monday, January 7. Enrollment for the term began January 2, and will close Monday, January 21. The following courses will be taught during the term: Christian Education Department: Missionary education, Church School administration, Histroy of the Christian Church, Life of Christ, Study in the Book of John and English.

Ministerial Department: Old Testament Introduction, History of Christianity, Harmony of the New Testament, Homelitics, Systematic Theology, Pastoral Theology, Pastoral Ministry, English and Greek.

The school meets in the Mount Bethel Baptist Church, 5425 South Main street. For further information you may call at the office or phone AD. 3-8624 or AD. 3-4778.

"The Star of Peace" Held at Bethel AME

One of the most outstanding treats of the season was a Christmas cantata, "THE STAR OF PEACE," featuring as a narrator, John Hargrave. It was an unusual program background with beautiful scenery. This program was presented Sunday, December 23, by the Gospel choir of Bethel A.M.E. church, 1311 W. 36th street, under the direction of Mrs. Minerva Clark Henry, who is also the organist. Rev. T. L. Scott is pastor.

Pope Requests World Freedom For Catholics

Pope Pius XII called last week for complete religious and educational freedom of the Catholic Church around the world.

He said no nation, regardless of its history, political and geographic position and social structure, "has anything to fear for its authority or prosperity . . . from the application of the principles of Christian life to individuals and society."

He added:

"Rather, each state will gain in moral prestige, and in will to resist the dissolving forces which seek to imperil its very foundations."

The Pope spoke in receiving the credentials of Chile's new ambassador to the Holy See.

'Quo Vadis' Attracts Attention at Second

Second Baptist church and its pastor, Dr. J. Raymond Henderson are inviting everyone to church on Sunday were the minister will speak on "Qu Vadis". This will be his New Year's message and will be based on MGM's classic film on faith and courage.

All roads should lead to Second Baptist located at 24th and Griffith to hear this message expounded by an outstanding clergyman.

FOR SUNDAY SCHOOLERS

THE TWELVE DISCIPLES

When Jesus was living in this world, He chose 12 men to be His disciples.

It was hard for them to learn to be kind when people treated them unkindly. But Jesus was patient with them, and taught them the same lessons over and over.

It was almost time for Jesus to go away and leave His disciples. So He had a supper for them. After supper He prayed for them, and they sang a song together.

After He had gone, they remembered all the good things He had taught them. Then they began to teach others.

Bible Society in Annual Celebration

A gathering of many races and denominations marked the 142nd Anniversary celebration of the New York Bible Society at Concord Baptist Church in Brooklyn recently.

Highlights of the event were the presenting of the 1951 Achievement Award to City Council President Rudolph Halley for his work as Chief Counsel of the Kefauver Senate Crime Investigating Committee, and the sermon by Rev. Charles E. England, rector of St. Augustine P. E. Church.

Mr. Harold Protlove, president of the NYBS, in presenting the award, termed the accomplishments of Halley in his work against organized crime, as miraculous.

The honoree, in accepting, termed it an honor that shall inspire him to strive to be a good servant of the people of New York. He warned that citizens should not develop cynacism toward corruption, but fight hard for good government.

Rev. England traced the history of the Bible and said that it was the most powerful instrument in an age of rationalizing. Others who spoke of the valuable service being done by the society in distributing free Bibles were the Rev. Gardner C. Taylor, Rev. J. Henry Carpenter, Rev. Ercel Webb, Charles E. Lumpp, Melvin G. Wistner, Mrs. Ruby Alston and the Rev. C. L. Franklin.

Also appearing on the program were the Rev. Walter Pinn, Rev. Ramsey Bridges, and Rev. James Jessamy. Music was furnished by the Interdenominational Choir of 200 voices directed by D. K. Bridges.

Grace Memorial Reflects Strength of Potent, Alert Direction and Planning

By MARIAM CHRISTIAN, Church Editor

A church is as strong as its leader, an old saying holds. Proof that there is a great deal of truth in the belief is to be found at Greater Grace Memorial Church of God in Christ, where Rev. William J. Taylor has been guiding activities since 1941. Grace Memorial has, through a potent religious program, attracted one of the largest and most-devoted congregations in the community. The religious program at the church centers around Rev. Taylor, a confident, energetic and inspiring leader.

Rev. Taylor has been chiefly responsible for the most important advancements at Grace Memorial in recent years. It was his keen sense of vision that led to the launching of a overall building program at the church some two years ago. At the time, there were no funds in the church's treasure to support a construction plan. But Rev. Taylor, full of faith in the idea, stepped out front in a drive to see it fulfilled. His confidence and astute direction payed off. For a modern, three-section structure was soon erected for the church at its present location at 4526 Compton.

Rev. William J. Taylor

Impressive Edifice

Grace Memorial is an impressive edifice with its green front and spacious interior. Its weekly chapel seats 500 or more people, is used for Sunday School. On the second floor, the church is equipped with an up-to-date kitchen and dining room. Here also is the pastor's private study and bath. The main sanctuary has a seating capacity on the ground floor of about 1500, in the horseshoe balcony of some 500.

Planning at Grace Memorial is never at a standstill. A short while ago, Rev. Taylor purchased for the church a lot just across the street from its building to afford its members a convenient place to park their cars.

Rev. Taylor is to be found behind practically every new step undertaken at Grace Memorial. Back in 1949, he led his congregation on a television program over local station KTLA that was unique for several reasons. It was the first religious telecast of an hour's length in the community; it was the first time a full gospel preacher had evangelized to a television audience and it was the first interracial religious effort ever televised in this area. The whole idea of the television program, as devised by Rev. Taylor, was the first such attempt by an Negro minister on the West Coast. He had the support of his combined choirs of 170 voices.

Radio Programs

Before television, Rev. Taylor had established radio broadcasts as standard features at Grace Memorial. The church is now on the airlanes regularly on two stations. From Monday to Friday each week, the church beams its "Showers of Blessing" at 6:45 p.m. over KGER. Its "Old Time Religious Hour" is heard Sundays from 11 to 12 a.m. over KXLA.

The man who directs activities at Grace Memorial is well prepared for the task. Born in Beaumont, Texas some 36 years ago, Rev. Taylor later received his public school education in Phoenix, Arizona where he was graduated from Phoenix High. He went on to attend El Centro Junior College in Los Angeles for one year before pursuing religious courses in a number of clerical institutions. Among the latter are included L.I.F.E. Bible College, Los Angeles Baptist Theological Seminary, Providence Baptist Theological Seminary, Temple Hall College and Theological Seminary in Chicago. Such a background of training has equipped Rev. Taylor to best fulfill his purpose.

Mrs. Flossie C. Taylor

Rev. Taylor is now rounding out 16 years in a pastorate capacity. Beginning in the service at Blythe, California, he directed and supervised the building of the church where he first preached. A year later in 1936, he pastored in El Centro, California. There too he directed the building of a place of worship for his congregation. Rev. Taylor has been in Los Angeles since 1941, the year he accepted the appointment to pastor the Church of God is Christ which later in September 1943 became Grace Memorial Church of God in Christ, Inc. All debts of the old church body were liquidated before the change in names was made.

Full Support

Members of Grace Memorial fully support Rev. Taylor in his constructive planning for the church. But no one among the congregation is more ardent in backing the minister in his religious efforts than his wife, the former Miss Flossie C. Payton. Wed in 1936 in Phoenix, the Taylors now are parents of four children: Rudolph Wayne, Gwendolyn Yvonne, Kathleen Patricia and Jacquelyn Cynthia.

Rev. Taylor is an active religious leader. Currently he is president of the Board of Christian Mission, member of the Board of Elders of Southern California and superintendent of the San Diego district of the elders' board. In the promotion of good citizenship, he has a steady booster. He has encouraged participation in city, county, state and national elections as well as support of lesser civic activities. There perhaps is no more zealous a worker for civic improvement in the community than Rev. Taylor.

Under Rev. Taylor, Grace Memorial was incorporated in 1943 with all existing debts dissolved. That was a great accomplishment, for just two years before, Rev. Taylor had accepted the call to pastor at the church.

Doctrine

Grace Memorial is founded on the doctrine of the trinity of Father, Son and Holy Spirit. By the church's code, Jesus Christ was and is the son of God, co-equal in wisdom, power and holiness with the Father. The church believes that "man, by nature, is sinful and unholy. Being born in sin, he needs to be born again, sanctified and cleansed from all sins by the blood of Jesus."

Top officers at Grace Memorial include beside Rev. Taylor, the church secretary, Bernice Hubbard; church controller, Ruby Woods, church treasurer, Sister Catherine Wilburn; financial secretary, Sister Elnora Booker and publicity chairman, Sister Joe Sidney Lowery.

IMPORTANT MEMBERS — Greater Grace Memorial Church of God in Christ has strived to produce religious organizations which will offer good fellowship as well as sources for Christian achievements. Pictured above are a group of strong supporters of one of the most active organizations in the church.

STRONG RELIGIOUS DOCTRINE—Greater Grace members are led in prayer by Rev. W. J. Taylor. The church's doctrines are founded on the trinity of Father, Son and Holy Spirit. The church is one of the largest holiness bodies in the world. Official heads of the denomination are the Chief Apostle, General Superintendent and State Overseers. The officers are elected from among the ordained elders of the church by the general congregation of assembly.

AIDS PASTOR—The women of Greater Grace attempt in every way to make the duties and obligations of their pastor, Rev. Taylor, as light as possible. Some of those who assist are Bernice Hubbard, church secretary, Ruby Woods, church controller; Catherine Wilburn, treasurer; Ida Brown, Martha Dunnon, Church mother and Grace Smart, BPWW.

YOUTH CHOIR—As one enters Greater Grace, he is impressed by the large number of children gathered in rooms or corners of the church. One may also detect very easily the relaxed manner in which the children go about their Christian studies and duties. Parents bring their children when they are quite young to learn what the church represents at Greater Grace. For that reason, the youth are not strange in the holy atmosphere while participating in religious activities.

THE RAMBLING TANK YOUNGER—Star fullback of the L.A. Rams will be rambling for the National Conference All-Stars in the big Pro-Bowl game against the American Conference eleven in the Coliseum Jan. 12.

THE WEST'S VICTORY ON THE BENCH

A tragedy happen over the weekend at San Francisco's Kezar stadium, two All-Americans became bench warmers. . . . While two others namely Ollie Matson, of USF and Les Richter, the Cal line—backer became goats. . . . The millions of TV viewers I'm sure will back me up on this statement. . . . The two All-Americans that were virtually bench warmers for the West team were Washington's Hustling Hugh McElhenny and Drake's jarring Johnny Bright. . . . Matson, the over-rated back in the history of football literally fumbled or lost yardage every time he carried the mail. . . . And I will not try and describe the miserable show he put on in the blocking and faking departments. . . . Richter put on as poor an exhibition of defensive chores as "Bird Leg Bertha."

BERMAN

Red Sanders, the great UCLA mentor, I understand, was on the coaching staff of the West team, and I know that he's a great McElhenny booster and I can not believe that he was satisfied with the idea of Matson playing in front of Hugh, probable one of the greatest backs in all-times.

An AP reporter wrote that Bright and McElhenny were disappointed because they did not get to play more. . . . Pray tell me who woundn't have. . . . I think it would be very fitting and appropriate for it to go in the record books, that "the West's victory was on the bench, in two of the country's greatest backs, Hugh McElhenny and Johnny Bright.

THE TAYLOR SPRINTERS

Walter Taylor, of San Diego High, kid brother of Jeff's outstanding '50 century sprint king Gerald Taylor is being groomed to give Leamon King, the Delano High ninth grade sensation, quite a battle for the state titles. . . . Walter comes from a family of fine sprinters. . . . His older brother, known as Billy, was an outstanding sprinter in his days at Carver Jr. High. . . . The only lad to beat him was the "Flash in a Dash" Guy Blackburn. . . . Incidentally Blackburn and Thelton Henderson, ex-All-city halfback of Jefferson are spending the holidays at home. . . . Guy is a star sprinter for Cal and Henderson is an likewise football. . . . Lang Stanley picked up some Xmas change at the P.O. on his holiday trek to the city.

BERMAN CITY'S NO. 1 SPORTSMAN

My nominee for the city's No. 1 sportsman and clothier of the finest threads in the world is Irving "King of Style" Berman, the entrepreneur of the popular Berman's Men Store at 114 W. 9th Street in downtown L.A. . . . Irving, who is the town's top manufactor of the greatest varieties of Men and Women sport clothing, is a rabid sports backer. . . . The King is an energetic fight fan, besides being a ardent fan Berman handles a number of the southland's top ring men. . . . One of King Irving's prize pupils is the up and coming top-flight featherweight Kenney Teran. . . . He has a number of amateur fighters who fight out of the popular South Gate Arena.

"WHIZ KIDS" PLAY FRIDAY IN MUNI BASKETBALL LEAGUE

The Whiz Kids basketball team, sponsored by the Medical Pharmacy at Jefferson and Western, will try to start off the new year right in the Major Municipal Triple-A basketball when they meet Mirror Glaze Friday evening at 8:30 at Hollywood High.

Headed by Captain Charles Reed, the Medical Pharmacy Whiz Kids will field a veteran team of collegiate and fraternal stars, and figure to give every team in the league a tough run for the Muni title.

Members of the team beside Reed are: Douglas Shaw, Rufus Johnson, the Hill twins, Kenneth and Hugo; Mac Taylor, Vernon Melton, Simon Peters, Norman Ward, Ernest Kilgore, and Robert Reutter.

Action switches to New Lincoln Park Clubhouse, 3600 Mission Road, next Monday and Wednesday, January 7 and 8, with Cutshall playing Helms Bakeries at 7 and the Fears five tangling with the U.A.W. No. 887 Props at 8:30. A single game is carded at Lincoln Park Wednesday night at 8:30 between the U.S. Tungsten Corporation and the Young Russian Christian Association.

Winding up the week's activities will be a gala triple-header Friday night (Jan. 11) pitting Helms against YRCA at 6:45, Props against Mirror Glaze at 8, and Tom Fears' All-Americans against the "Whiz Kids" at 9.

All-American Don Coleman Visits L.A.

By BRAD PYE, JR.

Don Coleman, the great All-American tackle from Michigan State, who recently starred in the East-West game, informed this writer in an interview yesterday that he plans to play pro ball come September '52. He states his No. 1 choice is the fabulous Cleveland Browns.

The likeable Don, who spent the holiday season at 1473 E. 21st street, with his grandmother, Mrs. Amanda Battle, is headed for Honolulu for the Pineapple Bowl game and the Hula game. Don will be a teammate of All-American Ollie Matson and Drake's Johnny Bright.

Don, who was named on everybody's All-American team, plans to pick up his sheepskin in June.

When asked if he hoped to graduate in June, the stellar All-American bounced right back and said: "Think? I'm going to graduate." A lad with that much determination is bound to be a success in anything he undertakes.

The remarkable All-American who was described by Notre Dame's famed coach Frank Leahy as one of the greatest tackles that he has ever seen is destined to become an all-time pro great.

SANTA ANITA—Big Noise was the big noise for Harry James and his famous wife, Betty Grable, last Saturday, at Beautiful Santa Anita, when the son of imported Khaled-Guard Ship captured the California Breeders Champion Stakes. Mr. and Mrs. James bred Big Noise and that made the victory greater. He also won the Del Mar Futurity last September. Jockey Ralph Neves, the San Francisco pepper pot, who lost a close finish in the Palos Verdes Handicap, had revenge in his heart and threw caution to the winds in the sloppy going, and shot Big Noise hard after the pacemaking Rustaway, the San Ysidro-bred contender of Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Wilson, yielded at the far turn and Big Noise drew out in front and stood off a challenge by Challtack and held a half-length margin at the wire.

Over the fast-closing Arroz, Quick Wink, the even-money favorite, had to be content with third place. This Saturday the feature will be the Malibu Sequet at seven furlongs and carries an added value of $25,000.

Beautiful new Caliente had its gala reopening and 3,141 hardy racing fans braved the torrential downpours and underwater highways for the occasion. In the feature race of the day, the New Year Handicap, Bossy Reigh, the mud-running daughter of Bull Reigh-Royal Lupe, made favorite by the public, scored by three lengths, with Miss Cross second and High Hurry third. The winner paid $6.60.

In the secondary event, "The Feliz Ano Nuevo," Pasquinelli came through on the rail and got up in the last jump to win by a nose over Neno's Boy, who also came from far back to be a fast-closing second. Chardon, the early pacemaker, finished third. The winner paid $10.00.

Many early-comers wondered if the races would be called off, the rain was so menacing. There were several small floods across the roads on the way to the track and in front of the Tijuana bridge. The new daily-double and quiniela machines and the opening of the future-book on the Santa Anita Handicap was one of the big attractions of the day.

About noon the fans started arriving and the races went off on time. Counterpoint, the horse of the year, was made favorite for the hundred-grander. Walter C. Marty, managing director and price maker, installed him 4 to 1. Hill Prince second choice at 9 to 2, and Bryan G. third choice at 7 to 1.

Joe Louis, Rhodes L.A. Open Hopefuls

Joe Louis, ex-heavyweight champion of the world, stated this week to an EAGLE reporter that he wants to keep fighting.

Joe is in town for the L. A. Open Golf Tourney for which he hopes to qualify for this Friday along with several other outstanding Negro performers, namely Ted Rhodes, National Negro Champ, Bill Spiller, Irving Cooper, Charles Siffard, Eural Clark and comedian Leonard Reed.

When Joe was asked who he thought would be the next champ he stated: "The first man who fights Jersey Joe Walcott.

Published Every Thursday

The Eagle stands for complete integration of Negroes into every phase of American life through the democratic processes.

We favor:

1. FEPC on local, state and national levels.
2. Decent housing for all Americans.
3. The President's Civil Rights Program.
4. Adequate old age pensions and social security.
5. Collective bargaining rights for all workmen.
6. Development and encouragement of Negro business.

We oppose:

1. Jim Crow in all forms.
2. Communists and all other enemies of democracy.

Federal Government Must Act

The murder of the state secretary of the Florida NAACP climaxes a long and determined fight to deny Florida Negroes their civil and political rights.

Two years ago the White Supremacists of that state stirred up racial antagonism in an effort to defeat Senator Pepper who had indicated a mild support of civil rights legislation in Congress. Pepper was defeated in a wild binge of racism that outdid even Eugene Talmadge.

At the same time, the gamblers moved in and took over the state government to such an extent that the Kefauver Committee took the almost unheard of step of attempting to subpoena Governor Fuller Warren. The Committee had uncovered a trail of corruption that led directly to his door. The governor refused to testify and, significantly enough, took refuge behind the classic cry of "states rights."

In 1949 four Negroes were accused of the rape of a young white woman in Groveland. A mob, deputized as a posse by Sheriff Willis McCall, killed one of the accused men. The next day members of that same mob burned the Negro section of the city.

The remaining three defendants were tried in such an atmosphere of violence and terror that the United States Supreme Court reversed the convictions of the two who appealed and Justice Jackson scored the trial as "one of the best examples of one of the worst menaces to American justice."

Last month Sheriff Willis McCall started to take the two defendants back to court for the new trial ordered by the Supreme Court. Instead, he took them to a lonely road and shot them both. One died. The other lived to detail a story of cold blooded murder. When that survivor appeared in court, NAACP attorneys were denied the right to represent him.

Meanwhile Miami terrorists had been bombing synagogues in that city. They planted a bomb which afiled to explode on the steps of a Catholic church. They bombed and burned a Negro housing project.

Governor Fuller Warren has done nothing. In fact, he has done less than nothing. He appointed an "investigator" who promptly whitewashed the sheriff. He has conducted phony "investigations" of the bombings and his final act was the offer of rewards for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the bombers. Thus he shifts to civilians the job of catching law violators that belongs to law enforcement officers.

Repeated pleas to Attorney General Howard McGrath for federal protection of Florida citizens have been met with the promises and claims that "investigations" are being made.

It is time to take some positive steps. Tepid investigations and wrist slappings won't stop this Florida orgy of murder and bombings. That can be done only through vigorous and effective federal action.

President Truman can demonstrate that he means what he has been saying about the duty of the federals government to protect the rights of American citizens by moving in on this situation and throwing the full resources of the federal government behind a genuine effort to arrest and convict those responsible for this complete breakdown of law and order.

Attempted Land Grab

A little band of eight willful men in City Council has succeeded in plunging the housing controversy into the courts. Months, perhaps years, of legal wrangling will result. The taxpayers will be the goats. Behind the councils' action is an attempted land grab.

The City Council had all of the facts about that housing before it when it acted in 1949 and entered into a contract with the federal government. Los Angeles needed the housing in 1949 and it needs it now.

Since 1949 the real estate lobby has been working on plans to halt the program. It waited until the land had been secured by the Housing Authority and most of the dwellings had been cleared off. Why?

The answer is plain. Real estate lobbyists and speculators want to secure that land for private housing projects. Suggestions have been made in the council that the sale of the housing sites is the city's best way out of the muddle into which it has been plunged by these selfish men.

These speculators could never have assembled this land because they didn't have the power of eminent domain which the Housing Authority used to compel the sales. If the public housing isn't built those who were compelled to sell their land will certainly sue the city for the damages they have suffered because of forced sale. The speculators don't care about that. The taxpayers will have to shoulder the burden. More than that, the city will have to repay the federal government the twelve to fifteen millions of dollars it has expended. The speculators don't care about that, either. Thats' another burden for the taxpayers.

If the real estate lobbyists do finally succeed in getting their hands on the housing sites, at the cost of millions to the taxpayers, they won't build low cost housing. They will erect dwellings out of reach of the low paid worker. And if the past is any guide, Negroes, and members of other minority groups, will be barred from either purchase or rental of the dwellings except in restricted areas. Jim Crow will rule the roost. The Housing Authority's no-discrimination, no-segregation rule will be thrown out of the window.

The only hope, and it is by no means a slim one, is that the courts will undo the mischief that the eight councilmen have attempted and will rule that the city must observe its contract and go ahead with the building program.

Any way you look at it, the real estate speculators have done the people of this city a grave disservice. They have succeeded in delaying the construction of homes that are needed now. They have compelled the expenditure of money and effort that the city needs in other directions.

It is apparent that these eight councilmen won't listen to reason. They are committed to their course and won't turn back. The only thing that the people can do is to mark their names down and retire them to private life at the next municipal election.

It's the Same Old South

Tuskegee Institute reports that the United States had only one lynching in 1951. But it hastens to add that thats' only one side of the story. It points to Florida violence in the celebrated Groveland case as "a glaring instance where an officer of the law seems unnecessarily to have killed a prisoner."

Lynching was always a device to "keep the Negro in his place." Only cooperation of law enforcement officers made it possible for mobs to seize and kill prisoners or persons accused of crime.

In recent years the threat of federal anti-lynching legislation has served to slow down mob action. Southerners knew that if they didn't curb mobs the federal government would step in. Hence the decrease in old style lynchings. But the need to "keep the Negro in his place" still exists in the minds of those who believe in and support the Jim Crow system. Such people still believe that only violence can achieve that end.

The result is that murder by law enforcement authorities has replaced murder by mobs. There are many advantages in that course of action. It eliminates the threat of federal anti-mob legislation. It can be camouflaged as something done in the line of duty to maintain law and order. Thus a Florida sheriff can wantonly murder a handcuffed prisoner and seriously wound the man to whom he was handcuffed. A Louisiana sheriff can kill a Negro who had the temerity to file a suit against voting discrimination.

In the words of a once popular song "Its the Same Old South," the technique is new but the killing goes on.

Editorial

Roy Wilkins'

The Watch Tower

It is hard to write calmly of the bombing and killing of Harry T. Moore on Christmas night in his home in the little town of Mims, Florida. Moore died on his way to a hospital in Sanford, Fla., because that was the nearest town with a hospital which takes Negro patients. Mrs. Moore was seriously injured, but at this writing was expected to recover.

A bomb was placed under their cottage, directly under the bedroom. Mr. and Mrs. Moore had retired for the night and when the explosion came about 10:30 o'clock, it blew both of them to the ceiling of the room, with fatal injuries to Moore.

What had Harry T. Moore done to be murdered? What were his "crimes?" Well, he was a state official of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. In Florida, apparently, it is a crime to work for the advancement of Negroes. In his official capacity Harry Moore had been busily engaged in getting the vote for Negro Floridians. He had spoken throughout the state urging his people to register and vote. He had held meetings in every county. He had conferred with county and state officials and had headed up protest committees when registration was denied. He was active as head of the Florida Progressive Voters League which was organized by the state conference of NAACP branches.

In the last weeks Harry Moore had been busy trying to get action against Sheriff Willis McCall who shot and killed handcuffed Samuel Shepherd to death on November 6. Moore, like millions of other Americans, thought the Shepherd killing was murder and he wanted something done about it.

In short, Moore was a good American. He believed in the Constitution of the United States. He thought it meant what it said when it declared that men shall not be denied the right to vote because of color. He believed the Declaration of Independence and the phrases about equality before the law. For this he was murdered in his bed by a cowardly assassin who tossed a bomb.

Moore's murder is the latest link in the chain of evil that has proceeded from the Groveland, Florida, case in which a white woman of no reputation told an unbelievable tale of rape by four Negroes which was never proved in court. One colored man was killed by a posse (really a lynching mob) in the violence before the trial was held. Two men, Irvin and Shepherd, were given death sentences, and one boy of 16 got life in prison. Shepherd was killed by the sheriff and only by a miracle did Irvin survive, as he, like Shepherd, was shot three times. Now Moore is dead.

The Groveland mess of lies, race hatred, terror and murder proves that Florida has a rotten core of meanness and bigotry unmatched, perhaps, by any other southern state. Local law enforcement officers have done nothing. Governor Warren has done nothing. The courts have continued to hand down their foul verdicts. The U. S. government has done nothing but "investigate."

In effect, Florida has seceded from the Union and has declared the Constitution of the United States to be a scrap of paper. The U. S. Supreme Court said Irvin and Shepherd had not had a fair trial within the meaning of the Constitution and ordered a new one. So a Florida sheriff killed Shepherd and tried his best to kill Irvin. The U. S. Constitution says Harry T. Moore had the right to fight for the improvement of his people as citizens and help them to gain their rights. Florida lets his life be taken, his wife injured, and his home blown down by a bomb in the night.

Why should not the Federal government move in strength on Florida and bring it back to civilized decency and Americanism by force? And if the Federal government does not do something to uphold what we call the American way of life, why should Negroes believe in that way and work for its extension to other people? Why, indeed? Harry Moore believed, and look what he got.

Battle Axe & Bread

From all over the United States, political actionists are looking toward California to follow with serious concern the "Freedom of Choice" initiative proposed by America Plus, Inc. Nor is that concern restricted to observers who like to consider their political views as "liberal." A great many rugged conservatives are worried about the possible effects upon American community life if the California initiative should be successful — should suddenly be lifted out of the "screwball" class by a short-sighted response from ill-informed voters.

America Plus, Inc. is a pretty disreputable kind of an organization. This is to be expected from its sponsors' careful selection of a name. A chap who calls himself "a hundred per cent, plus, American" is almost certain to be a phony — just as the auto dealer who calls himself "Honest Mike" can usually be counted on to steal the eyeballs out of a customer's sockets, given half a chance. The more an organization or individual wraps himself (or itself) in the American flag when appealing for support, the more certain the public can be that some scoundrelly plan is getting under way.

This particular bunch of flag-wrappers, headed by a shoddy state senator from Los Angeles, is out to collect $75,000 in support of a plan "to restore to the individual businessman and private property owner his right to choose his own guests, patrons, tenants, neighbors and employees." The proposed initiative would amend the State Constitution to outlaw fair employment laws in California, permit restrictive property covenants and otherwise set back the clock of interracial progress in the chief state of the Far West.

The proposal specifies that all public facilities and tax supported institutions would be open to all persons regardless of race, religion or national origin. It further provides that Negroes, Jews, Mexicans and other "minorities" shall have the same right as the "majority group" to discriminate against objects of their disfavor. This provision is like assuring relief families that they have the same right as those of higher income status to buy Cadillacs and install swimming pools in their grounds. Nevertheless, the America Plus boys point to this provision as being proof of the complete absence of any racial bias in their proposition.

Given the hasty once-over, this whole idea seems so outrageous as not to deserve any serious consideration from a public with its mind on such problems as a possible Third World War. But it is precisely this preoccupation with such nerve-wracking problems that is apt to make many voters fall for the freedom-of-choice proposition. People who are as scared as many Americans are — deep down inside their bones — are not really normal. Frightened of nameless dangers, they look around for an object of their terrified hates. They seize scapegoats, preferably familiar and defenseless ones. That is why poor and oppressed groups strike out at other poor and oppressed groups. It is why unpopular minorities are even more unpopular in times of fear and stress.

If the America Plus plan should come anywhere near succeeding in California, this will be encouragement for the forces of hate to use similar exploitation elsewhere in the country. And the freedom-of-choice motion is a handy little gimmick that not only appeals to the fearful and weak-minded, but also can be used again and again, against any disfavored group, any time, any place. What wouldn't Gerald L. K. Smith, "Hummon" Talmadge and the other merchants of hate do with such a gimmick? They could make the Ku Klux Klan look like very small stuff indeed.

And that's why conservatives who love their country are just as much concerned as their fellows of liberal persuasion over this gross attempt to divide and confuse the American people with this kind of proposal at such a time as this. If the top leaders in the State of California have one-half the good sense of their pioneering predecessors, they will move quickly to scotch this snake before it produces its hateful progeny throughout the State and country.

The People Say—

The Eagle is glad to publish your letters. Say anything you want to say, whether it is critical of our policies or in approval of them. We'll print what you have to say if you will keep your letters as short as you can. And you'll help us if you'll type your letters. If you can't type them, please write legibly on one side of the paper. Thanks.

Walker Mix-up

Dear Sir:

Some two or three months ago your paper carried a letter, over the signature of the local head of the NAACP to the effect that the NAACP was no longer interested in the Walker case. Now your paper comes out with a story to the effect that the NAACP is all for Walker. If you expect your readers to accept this switch without some explanation then you think your readers are fools. Especially when you print notice to the effect that Walker has denounced or to put it your way — "revoked the right of any other organization to act for him." I cannot believe that Walker was given the true facts when he was approached for such a statement. He couldn't have been.

No man in his right mind would bluntly reject the support of people who have been carrying on his fight. How the NAACP can be involved in such slimy tactics is beyond me. If your paper is what you say it is you will call this flip-flop to the attention of your readers and encourage the little groups that have stood by Walker when the officials of the NAACP were trying to make their peace with the people who tried to railroad Walker to continue. There is no reason why the NAACP or any other group should have an "exclusive" on this case. Further Walker should know the truth.

Sincerely yours,
WALTER HICKMAN

Let Reader Hickman control his temper. The facts are that the Los Angeles branch of the NAACP is no longer backing the Walker case. The Riverside branch is furthering his appeal. NAACP branches are autonomous. Each may do what it likes in matters of this kind. Hence both stories that appeared in the Eagle are true. The Riverside NAACP is backing Walker; the Los Angeles NAACP is not.

The Dubois Verdict'

Dear Sir:

Now that Dr. Dubois is freed from any subversive charges, I am wondering how the Negro publications feel who suggested leniency toward him for his historic background and his contribution to Negro History in America.

My opinion from the first was that he was being railroaded for political reasons. My contention was that Dr. Dubois did not register as a foreign agent, because he was not and is not a foreign agent, as charged by the government.

Now then, if he had been frightened into committing himself, he would have automatically convicted himself. The thing I am driving at is this: The supposed Negro publications throughout the country that should have supported him, only stood in the background doubting his innocence.

Now, of course, they will come to the front with "I told you so." This is like closing the gate after the horse is out. Too bad. But thanks to our God, there are still a few fearless Americans left to guide the destiny of its future that is in jeopardy.

Now, as little as one might think of the outcome of this case, it will tend to show to the outside world, there is still a form of active justice in force in America. This is the only method that will show the world that America means to rid itself of KKKism as well as Communism.

Appraisers Meet

Dear Sir:

Thanks for the space which you devoted to the meeting of the Society of Residential Appraisers, in which Bill McKinney and I participated. I think you will be interested to know that I have asked Belden Morgan to develop a manuscript on his report for publication in the journal of the National Society, "Review." As soon as I obtain a copy of it, I will send it to you for your review. I consider the presentation of this subject to such an important group as the Appraisers to be historic and very significant. It is my hope that a large number of reprints may be obtained by the New York State Committee on Discrimination in Housing for wide distribution.

JO BAKER SUES WALTER WINCHELL FOR $400,000

So You Want To Be a Writer? (Part Twelve of a Series)

By the Theatrical Editor

"My name is Frank Greenwood. I am a Negro writer. As a writer, as a Negro writer, I believe I should write about what I know. Every writer should write about what he knows. Being a Negro, my plays reflect Negro life — because that's my environment.

"That creates a special problem — to get the things I write produced. There are very few theatre groups to begin with and the number of Negro threatres is infinitesimal.

Frank Greenwood

I first started writing out of a shock reaction at the terrible plays presented for Negro groups to do. I was working in Chicago with Langston Hughes' "Sky Loft Players" and when he left Chicago, I reorganized the group. In looking for plays to do, I read over thousands of them and was shocked and dismayed with what I found. Almost all were written about white life.

Plays Should Say Something

"I believe plays should say something. Not boy meets girl — loses girl and gets girl. There's far more to life than that. So anyhow — I though I could do better and that's how I started.

"My first play, 'Cafe Panorama,' won second place in a Chicago playwriting contest. It took 17 months of writing and rewriting. It was well-received in Chicago and ran about three weeks. Then, as part of a drama course at De Paul University, I wrote a one-acter, 'One Is Dead.' The Sky Loft Players did it after I left Chicago for Los Angeles.

"So far in my work (and I am 29 years old) I have written 14 plays, two long three-act plays and 12 short one-acters. Five have been done by small theatre groups — one by a television company. None have brought me any money . . . but I feel that I'm a better writer through constant writing. My ambition is to become a professional writer of plays.

"But there is my special problem again. How to get people to produce plays about the life I know and comment upon.

"My favorite playwrights are: Theodore Ward, Arthur Miller, William Branch, Lillian Hellman and G. B. Shaw — and of course, Clifford Odets. If you notice, each of these writers say something.

"Outside of a few Negro theatre groups in New York, Cleveland and Chicago, I have yet to hear of any white groups doing plays by Negro writers. That has been my experience and that is my problem.

"My conclusion, therefore, is that I intend to write fifty per cent of my plays about Negro life and the other half about life in general. Maybe that way I can earn a few dollars.

"Then too, if you look at shows like 'Amos 'n' Andy," you'll find not a single Negro writer on the writing staff.

"There are no Negro writers working in Hollywood. There are many who have proven their ability but they're not offered plush jobs at Metro — writers like Wright, Yerby, Motley and Himes.

"I have never contacted 'Amos 'n' Andy' for a job because I would never write that kind of stuff — I don't think I could.

"As to my future in theatre and with plays, I intend to keep writing. This is a changing world and I feel eventually the Negro writer will come into his own as a writer dealing with Negro life. I mean as a professional writer I'll be able to make a living.

"I would like to see somebody like Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company come forward and put on a Negro-life program. It certainly would be good from all points of view, if done sincerely."

A Letter From Joel Fluellen

Mr. Robert Ellis
California Eagle Newspaper
Los Angeles, California
Dear Mr. Ellis:

It has been an extremely interesting experience reading "SO YOU WANT TO BE AN ACTOR?" And I have watched for comments from those who work in and outside of the movie industry for some constructive criticism of those of us who have been privileged to express our opinion in your column.

The vast difference in personalities have always been a challenge to me. And for this reason I feel compelled to write you concerning the articles, and express my viewpoint.

I feel there is a chasm that has to be bridged. By this, I mean, there must be some kind of common meeting ground on which actors themselves must get together in order to exchange ideas and procedure on all major factors and problems that affect the actor and his chances of earning a livelihood. This exchange of ideas would alleviate some of the subjectiveness I found in many of the articles which appeared under "SO YOU WANT TO BE AN ACTOR?" Singularly, we only agitate and aggravate each other. This in itself tends only to defeat whatever purpose the actor has in view.

Personally, I find it exhilirating to point out Lena Horne, Hattie McDaniels, Dorothy Dandridge, Billy Eckstine, Louise Beavers, Canada Lee, Rex Ingram, Marietta Canty, Sydney Poitier, Maidie Norman, Bill Walker and many others as personalities of whom I am justly proud. And I challenge the statement that among these actors there aren't potential leaders or representatives. The lack of proper representation is due to lack of assurance by the major portion of actors of some such leaders. We must feel it our responsibility to see that SOME OF THESE PEOPLE are put in positions that work toward the betterment of the Negro actor.

Also there is the question of investments: In any and all businesses the stoekholder is given the privilege of voicing his opinion in regards to policy, that is if his holdings are large enough to become recognzed. In order to be felt or heard we must buy into private concerns and at the same time become more vocal as a group, to the fact that Negroes spend hundreds of thousands of dollars at the movie boxoffice.

Better still is the idea of Negroes producing pictures independently. And this is by no means Nationalism or Defeatism. The producer of the movie "The Well had his beginning in Negro movies, found a lucrative market for them and reaped abundtantly. He later discontinued the making of Negro films. His more recent ventures in the movie industry were "Ten Little Indians," Champagne for Ceasar and "The Well." The evidence of this producer's success stands revealed for itself. IT CAN AND IT HAS BEEN DONE.

Among us are social, religious, political and civic groups. We are known to raise money for all sorts of things, some beneficial, others for our pleasures and ego. Now if we are sufficiently earnest in the future of the Negroes in the movie industry, a challenge can be made in the direction of independent productions. The whole idea of documentary films have proven a picture need

Mayfield Wins Cashbox Award

Cash Box magazine, bible of the juke box industry has awarded Percy Mayfield, runner-up honors as the most popular jazz and blues artist of 1951. An unknown less than three years ago, Mayfield is one of the nation's top rung vocalists today. He soared to overnight fame by virtue of his recording "Two Years of Torture." "Please Send Me Someone to Love" proved another smash hit for the bronze balladeer.

Mayfield and his orchestra are presently filling one nighter and club dates from Canada to Mexico. They recently returned from a boffo tour of the South and Midwest. Not only does Percy warble but he writes all his own numbers as well. He's one of Specialty records ace contract performers.

Possessing a deep throated romantic voice, Mayfield charms the femme fans young and old. He's likewise boasts a vast male following.

Biography on Todd Duncan

TODD DUNCAN appears at Philharmonic auditorium Sunday, Jan. 13 at 2:30 p.m.

Todd Duncan, creator of two memorable roles of the American theater, the crippled goatman "Porgy" and the tragic Pastor Kumalo of "Lost in the Stars," returns to the concert stage Sunday afternoon, January 13, at Philharmonic Auditorium for his exclusive Southern California recital under the joint auspices of Alpha Phi Alpha and W. C. Vinston.

Music will range from the classics—Bach, Schubert, Hugo Wolf, Moussorgsky, and Delius—to the Americans George Gershwin and Kurt Weill, whose works he interpreted on Broadway. A sheaf of spirituals will close his recital.

No "rags-to-riches" hero, Duncan was born of middle class parents in Kentucky and was educated in Indianapolis, graduating from Butler College. He received his M. A. from Columbia University and was recently awarded an honorary Doctorate of Humane Letters from Valparaiso University in Indiana. He began his career as an educator, and was head of public school music in Washington's Howard University when he was cast as "Porgy," a role he has sung 1200 times.

Duncan has concertized in North and South America, Europe, Australia, and New Zealand; has recorded for Decca and Allegro Records; and has sung

Libel Case Filed in U. S. Court; Winchell Attacked Head-On

NEW YORK — Miss Josephine Baker, international entertainer and champion of civil rights, exercised her woman's prerogative Friday and filed a $400,000 libel suit against Walter Winchell, the Hearst Corp., and King Features. She had announced through her counsel, Arthur Garfield Hays, only last week that lawsuits against either Winchell or Stork Club owner Sherman Billingsley were out since "this issue is bigger than a racial difference and must be settled in the court of public opinion."

In a 10-page complaint, covering seven specific Winchell items which Miss Baker considers libelous; the case was filed in U. S. District Court. The case falls under Federal jurisdiction since Miss Baker is a French citizen.

Hays, considered one of this country's foremost civil rights lawyers, said the Hearst Corp. and King Features have been served. Winchell may be served by publication. All are co-defendants in the action.

10-Page Complaint

Broken down, the suit asks $100,000 special damages, $100,000 punitive damages, and $200,000 general damages, together with costs and miscellaneous expenses. Miss Baker contends that she has suffered "irreparable harm to her reputation and good name, fame and credit; her standing in her profession has been seriously impaired, and her earning capacity limited."

The Hearst Corp. was made a defendant because it employes Winchell. King Features was brought in because it syndicates Winchell's column for some 20,000,000 readers.

Hays and Miss Baker said they are prepared to prove in court that certain items in Winchell's column were responsible for the cancellation of bookings, for the inability to secure certain lucrative bookings in the future, and for a good deal of defamation of character.

The attorney stated that it is not likely the case will come to trial before another 12 months. Miss Baker returns to France in early February but will return to prosecute the case.

On References to Record

Much of Miss Baker's case, Hays indicated, will bear on Winchell's item which read, "The reports that Baker helped the Allies in wartime is probably true. . . . But not until after the Vichy-Nazi bunch started losing. Then she turned them in.' Her record shows she always shifts to the winner." It was item number six cited in the complaint filed Friday.

Miss Baker will have the help of Jacques Abtey, her commander in the French resistance movement, who flew here from Casablanca, North Africa, to furnish support. The writer, who collaborated on her memoirs, is also due here from Paris to testify in her behalf. Abtey sat in on a press conference which Miss Baker and Hays held at Willkie Foundation, 20 W. 40th street, Friday evening.

Hays said he was particularly distressed with Winchell, whom he said "took out of its context" statements Hays wrote to the columnist. He said it showed bad faith on Winchell's part.

Gale & Fluellen End Roles in Beatty Jungle

Joel Fluellen and Wesley Gale have just finished eleven days shooting on the Clyde Beatty TV shows being made at General Service Studio.

Georgia Laster Will Appear On City TV Show

Georgia Lester, 1951 Marian Anderson Award winner, will appear as guest soloist on the Los Angeles County sponsored television program, "Your Los Angeles County in Action," (KTLA Channel 5) Tuesday evening, January 8 at ten o'clock. She will sing the aria, "Pace, Pace Mie Dio," from Verdi's opera, La Forza del Destino and the spiritual, "Honor, Honor." Miss Laster will be accompanied by the Los Angeles County orchestra under the direction of Frank Hubbell.

DINAH WASHINGTON— Enroute to the coast for one nighters and night club engagements, Dinah Washington, acknowledged Queen of the Juke Boxes will appear at the Elks ballroom next Sunday night. She'll be accompanied by Bootie Williams and his famed orchestra. Always a click in these parts, Dinah is riding the crest of popularity with her newest Mercury release "Cold, Cold Heart," backed by "Mixed Emotions."

Bidding Wide Open On New Pine-Thomas

Bidding is hot and heavy among local actors and actresses for the top Negro roles in Pine-Thomas' pirate picture due to start early in February.

James Edwards supposedly will do the chief supporting role alongside of John Payne, but this might be in doubt. Meanwhile many othres have been interviewed and a few tested for women's roles. Company will go to Trinidad for ten weeks.

ALPHA FORMAL—During the "formal" portion of the Alpha Phi Alpha formal at the ocean-front Chase hotel in Santa Monica, Nathaniel A. Murray, one of the national fraternity's founders, was photographed with the Alpha "queen," Shirley Higginbotham, and Maceo Smith, general president. Picture at left shows one of the many tables occupied by the many happy guests. Here you see Johnnie Scarborough, Marjorie Pugh, Rachel Lee, Dr. Damon Lee Jr., Lovella Hill, Dr. Julian Hill, Maidie Norman, Freddye Henderson (president of the National Association of Fashion and Accessories Designers, Inc.) and Mrs. Isaac Isreal.

GAIETY CLUB—New Year's Eve., they and their guests had quite a time. Agnes Le Doux, treasurer; Maidie Norman, business manager; Leah Tate, publicity chairman; Nedra Taylor, Lillian Evans, Fern Peinperton, Ida Mae Smith, Ruth Waddy, vice president, Marcy Turner, corresponding secretary; Mildred Hurt, president; Constance Young, Sarah Williams, Eloise Rogers, Goldie Spiller, parliamentarian; Arnetta Welch, secretary.

DONATIONS—So many friends donated canned goods to the Frances P. Williams School for retarded children. Money, toys, books, records and even the Christmas tree were given to this establishment which teaches children whose low IQ's often bar them from public schools. Pictured here are some of the donations from the Medical Auxiliary, Sea Scout Ship Dolphin, Child Guidance and Welfare League, Southernite Alumni club, Silver Slipper Supper club, Zeta Phi Beta sorority. In the photo: Atty. Pauline Epstein, Paul Talavera, Mayme Maxwell, Mrs. Frances P. Williams, who is founder and executive directo; and, front, Yolanda Molena and Arthur Neal. A bazaar will be held at the school, 1086 W. 34th street on February 9 and 10. Mrs. Juanita Macklin will be in charge. The public is invited. Your support is urgently needed.

CHRISTMAS AT HOLMES AVENUE Santa emptied his generous pack when he spied the scores of youngsters who awaited him at the Holmes avenue Extended Day Care party. Among the grown-ups who greeted him were, left to right: Mrs. Charles McCallister, Mrs. Augustus Hawkins, Cornell Ridley (Santa himself), Milton Griffin, Mrs. Juanita Macklin, head teacher; Mrs. Maybelle Allen, club mother; Mrs. Genevieve P. Crawford, assistant head teacher; Mrs. Mary Cooper, Mrs. Josephine Ladd, and Mrs. Dorothy Mae Blair. Lower pictures show the children's delight with the bewhiskered gentleman and his welcome gifts.

ARLEIGH MADDOX and William T. Woods announced their engagement at a wonderful party New Year's eve at 1052 S. Serrano.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Flowers announced the engagement of their daughter, Harriette Flowers, to Harold Jordan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Walker, at a Christmas luncheon last Thursday in the home of the bride-elect's parents.

The engagement was revealed by a giant Santa Claus holding two hearts inscribed with the couple's names, and a Christmas tree decorated with engagement rings and wedding bells. Luncheon favors were matchbooks also inscribed with the couple's names.

The bride-elect is a senior at UCLA, and is serving her second year as president of Pi Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority. She is also a member of the Junior League of Allied Arts, and an active worker at People's Independent Church.

Harold Jordan is a sergeant in the United States Air Force and is stationed in Savannah Georgia. He is home for the Christmas holidays. No date has been set for the wedding.

More Fun!!

Saw everybody every place during the mad, mad whirl. Atty and Mrs. Ed Maddox, ditto and Mrs. Morris Johnson, Dunbar and Eleanor Hunt, Eleanor Lee, Johnny Dial, Euvalde Morris, Laura Slayton, Sandy and Sydney Jackson, Calme Russ, that fabulous florist "Cherie", Katherine Schaffer, Libby Clark, Ethel January, Danny Grammer, Johnny Laine, (with them were two pretty gals whom I remember only as Dorothy and Dolores), Grace (Simons) and Frank Glass, Tommy and Marian Jackson, Juanita Marshall, Herbert and Corinne Gleed, Merritt Cohen, Emily Woody, Charles Hill, Frederick and Marianne Moten, Atty Ted Schaffer, (he's T. Milton, now), Mary Ellen Britt, John and Blanche Merrill, Laura Brewer, Bob and Raymie Ellis, Bobby Sherwood, Maidie and MacHenry Norman, Goldie and Bill Spiller, Terry and Walter Hutcherson and the guy with whom I fell madly in love (forget his name, but he squired Ethel January to the several places I saw her.)

The Andersons

Those Anderson brothers, with the rest of the NAACP Labof Comittee, gave a uch, uch party at the Alpha Bowling club. So enjoyable was it that this sassiety editor didn't get to the Sammy Franklins. They invited a lot of us to New Year's Day food—you know what.

E Pluribus Unum, the Gaieties, the Doll League, Chi Eta Phi, Alpha Phi Alpha — just everybody did THINGS during the past weeks. Would love to tell each member of every group what a wonderful time it was. Wish we could name all the 5000 (more or less) names of the guys and gals who contributed to so many people's holiday happiness.

Thanks

Gotta thank official Eagle photographer Bob Douglas for dragging me around while my poor spouse, Julius, worked through both "big" days — and Charles Williams who did his bit, also. While we're with the photographers there's "Smitty" of — if you'll pardon the expression — another newspaper, Blair — he's with Sheffield. Both these guys stood ready to pinch hit for Bob one night when I was scared he wasn't going to show. (He did, though.)

Doghouse

Mad at Helen Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Murray, Jimmy Goodrich, Edna Cohen and about 10 others who didn't come onna my house when I told 'em to. Guess 30 people were enough anyway, so nyah, nyah youse guys.

Gotta go now. Late, you know.

Girls, take note and I don't mean maybe. It's LEAP year. Time to bait your hoks, and cast your lines. Here's a hint: William Wynne is throwing a stag party Saturday nite. So you can take it from there.

Some girls are already on the beam, how about Maxine Carter? Hear that you have big Donald Madison well under tow. Not so, thought, with Veola Hamilton. She's dropped Melvin Teneato. On the loose again is Eugene Lemonds. It's rumored that Beverly Coleman has big eyes for Alva Joseph of City College.

Mr. and Mrs. oBbbie Welch are proud to announce the birth of a 7-lb. baby boy born on Christmas Day. Congratulations, kids. . . . Also in line for congrats is Dorothy Watson. Come June she will change her name to Mrs. Otis Smith. Flash! Jack Vertha Jacquel and Sally Hazel Smith are seen frequently together. Could be love!

What's happening? Where's the party? I don't know if you caught them or not, but there were sure a lots of big doings last weekend. For instance, Music Town Lamo jumped last Saturday night. How about that Dickie Vonne and Bob Sanders? I'll bet Oren Golff was glad to be home from Korea, specially when his best girls, Ruth Clay, threw that Welcome Home party. It seems as though Lillie Mae Jones' party turned out well. Everyone was there. After Lillie's party everyone ended up at Mary Walker's to end the night with a bank.

The old Elks really wailed Christmas night with young and old alike. Seen were Welton Pitts and Lonnie Watson. Who were the new girls, guys? Making a cute couple were Edwin Starr and Bonnie Jean Cobz. They are seen often nowadays. Falling in, in a big way, was Mable Franklyn. Nice dress, kid. Roy Banks and Harold Cowens were strictly stag (or so they say). Richard Richerson and Helen Watts found it nice that night. Dessie Lewis and Thomas Bush had a way out time but ended too soon.

John Freightman has been wounded in Korea. He lost one of his feet. I hope you'll be home soon, John. Among the soldiers reported captured were none other than Leroy Stouting here and Charlie Commings. Hope to see you guys home soon. William Arnold will soon come home and Anita Hall will be happy. Fred Chance and Buddy Buerer are stationed at Camp Stoneman, but not so with Nathaniel Jackson, sweating it out in Virginia.

The Climbers Club of Hiawatha Temple No. 91 was host to the members of Golden West Lodge No. 86, and Hiawatha Temple No. 91 on December 29.

P-TA's Olympia Council To Meet January 7th

"Education for New Responsibility" will be the topic when members of Olympia Council of Parents and Teachers meet Monday, January 7, in the auditorium of Gompers Junior High school, 234 East 112th Street, with Mrs. C. C. Wahlquist presiding.

Mrs. F. B. Walker, program chairman, will introduce Mrs. R. R. Voss, PTA president of the hostess school. Mrs. H. W. Pieper, citizenship and international relations chairman, and Mrs. W. A. Hoppe, juvenile protection chairman, will present their departments to council members.

The pledge of allegiance will be led by Ann Platamone, president of student government. Mrs. V. C. Close, home service chairman, will give the inspirational message.

Musical selections will feature members of the mixed chorus under the direction of Carl Gustafson, the Girl's Glee Club with Miss Rita Carsola as director, and the senior orchestra with Jack Tucker directing.

Mrs. J. L. Kierstead, council parliamentarian, will meet with all unit presidents at 9:30 a.m. when nominations for officers for the coming year will be made. A workshop for unit Founder's Day chairmen will be conducted by Mrs. R. R. Raite at the same hour, prior to the general assembly.

BILL SMALLWOOD
On The Delightful Side

Lillian and Cullen Fentress had her mother up from San Diego as their holiday house-guest. Ruth Towles, back from her Bay area merry-go-around (she had her things parked with the Richmonds in Richmond) and aglow. Della McDonald back from "up Nawth" too. Also Nona Tinsley. Chicago's Alfred Duckett, determined to New-Year's-Eve in LA, didn't let a grounded plane prevent him; he grabbed the Iron Horse, reached town in plenty time. He's at the Watkins, but briefly. He will be here until Sunday. Byron Edwards, discharged after Temple Hospital temporary housing. Doing nicely, what's more.

George Price Jr. capably hosted his teen age set Saturday night at his Venice home. The Stafford Lotts had a few in for pre-Alpha dance cocktails. Dave Caldwell had SF's Prince Woodward as a wekend house guest. Alice Kelly Shannon's place was the scene for the Denver Club's annual Xmas Eve hosts. Nat Gregory, Xmasing in Florida postscripts he misses LA. Santa Claus left a fur jacket in Edna McCormick's stocking. D. C.'s Freedmen's Hospital Superintend Herman Johnson, in SF earlier for the Alpha asembly, flew into action en route east. His mother-in-law, Mariam (Columbus, O.) Clark, flew in here Xmas Eve a.m. for a long stay, incidentally. Seems odd, too, not seeing her at the wheel of her French gray coupe de ville on local boulevards; she left it home in the garage.

Lee Hite: Thank You

Fresno social worker Dorothy Summer and daughter, Sandra Simms, visited the Abel Rosses for a few of the holidays. The former and her hostess (sister) returned not long ago from a plane trip to their LA family home. Joe Makel beat it to Florida to stretch out. Florida? The traitor! Jules Smith, originally due here from El Paso for after Xmas whoopdeedo, is doing just that but in Manhattan. He returns to the Southwest latter via Ohio. Inimitable Ruby Barbee Wilson and her husband gave their annual New Year's Eve party but completely. Ruby's guests always lend so much to her parties. Gilbert Cork took a last midweek Clipper to Honolulu after local visiting two weeks. Bill Eubanks (Harvard Phi Beta Kappa) joined him here via N.Y. but flew on home to Honolulu before Gilbert shoved off. Bill is a member of an old N.Y. family; his sister is a chemist, come to think.

Jo Cooper, at a holiday round-table, leans over and says, "I'm going east this summer. I'll attend the musicians' convention in N. Y. in August." Corrine Adams Simmons, of whom we long ago lost track, lives in Chi now so our Xmas mail reveals. Don't know why we thought she lived in SF! Marie Joe Browne, who never quite got over her longing for LA, writes her standard wishes for another local Xmas like those of distant days. She lives now in Maryland. Mrs. Georgia Tymony was dinner hostess in her Virginia Rd. home Sunday to a group of Wilfandel ladies. Back from an overnight SF trip solely for a pre-Xmas party: Dottie Crozier-Frank Jackson-Eadward Deason. D. C. item: Mrs. Hamilton Martin passed recently.

Joe Louis, enjoying himself at a recent party in the Maylord which had its toothsmoe buffet accented with a delicious and decorative suckling pig. Zeta Phi Beta's open their nominations this month for their traditional Woman of the Year.

Dickerson Due

Due soon: Atty. Earl Dickerson. He'll be at the Biltmore. Bill Graham in the Virginia Islands relaxing while wife Elaine (they're apart, you recall) is packing for a return trip to Paris for Our World magazine. Due in Feb.: Lawrence Winters and Ellabelle Davis. Nice touch of the traditional, the New Year's Day birthdays of Retha Beck, Ursula Murrell and Irene Morris (svelte in black velvet, Xmas Day!) are annually integrated into the 2 a.m. breakfast, given by the O'Reese Corporals. Charlotte Holloman, the femme lead in Shuffle Along, is the daughter of Wilberforce prexy Dr. Charles Wesley. No holiday sign about town of perpetually well-tailored Fred Toney. He's another one we somehow don't see any more moving about.

Rose and Leonard Gray were expected in via air from Chi for their annual fortnight visit. They maintain a home here although living in Chi where they have their business. Jan. Calendar: The Fayard Nicholses wedding-anniversary on the 19; the senior Horace Clarks observe theirs on the 5; Gwen Gordon birthdays on the 19; Jackie Robinson on the 31; Dr. Tom Griffin on the 19; Maurine Browning on the 30; Charles Black on the 21; the Cullen Fentresses mark the 16 as their anniversary; Elsie Foster birthdays on the 27; Bettye and Mickey Jones have an anniversary on the 21, and, by gum, I yet don't don't know the exact dates for the Jan. birthdays of both Betty and Jim Scott.

Luvercha Bray Lapeylerie, bedded with sudden illness Xmas Day, is up and okey again. Todd Duncan, due, usually guests with his voice coach out Beverly Hills way. That book of poems Pearl Bailey is writing will be published in the spring. Jim and Arthur Doram (they once lived here; Art is brother of handsome Tony Doram, another ex-Angeleno) have definite plans to forsake Chi in June and return here. They'll buy. They will be much welcomed back, you bet, for their twin personalities pack a delightful wallop for all who know them.

Arvella Young included fun in Chi before she started home to LA after Kansas City activity. Vernon Dumas, localized here through Xmas via San Antonio, got Santa Anita in his busy schedule. That should be no effort for loot-loaded Vernon; his dark green Chrysler Crown Imperial and his Schnauzer pup helped considerably, too. He left for SF New Year's Day, hoping transcontinental highways will remain open long enough for him to drive through to Detroit. He reminds me strongly of wide shouldered Art Waller, even to the quick smile.

Did you know one of our doctors and his alert wife bid successfully on three pieces of Clark Gable's auctioned furniture? They're placing them in their summer home. Mildred Blount, who keeps in touch with Jeanette Mahoney, tells us Jeanette is wintering on her large wheat producing farm up South Dakota way and sends a fond hullo to old friends here. Mildred's intimate Wellington Rd. apartment has pieces that would delight a connoisseur of French furniture.

Holidayers: Catherine Taylor and fiancee from Fort Worth; Atty. Jack Terry via Dallas; Dora McFadden and daughter from San Diego (visiting the former's sister); Alma and Evelyn Ribb from San Jose; Joe Terry from SF; Velda Wilson from SF; Dr. and Mrs. Perry from Berkeley; Charley Sibley from Vallejo (he's an ex-Angeleno); Capt. E. De Tomson from Camp Cooke whence he's the only Negro surgeon.

Dr. A. R. Tweed Fetes Classmate

Capt. Dr. E. De Tomson of the United States Army Hospital at Camp Cooke was the weekend houseguest of his classmate, Dr. and Mrs. A. R. Tweed, 2410 Virginia Road, last week. Dr. Tomson is the only Negro member of the surgical staff at Camp Cooke.

The Indiana State club held its 11th annual Christmas dinner party at the Phyllis Wheatley Home, 2125 S. Harvard, Sunday eve, December 23.

About 50 members and their friends enjoyed the Yuletide festivities.

SUMMONS
No. D421041

Action brought in the Superior Court of the County of Los Angeles, and Complaint filed in the Office of the Clerk of the Superior Court of said County.

In the Superior Court of the State of California in and for the County of Los Angeles.

Mary O. Moore, Plaintiff, vs. Leonard Moore, Defendant.

The People of the State of California send greetings to: Leonard Moore, Defendant.

You are directed to appear in an action brought against you by the above named plaintiff in the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Los Angeles, and to answer the Divorce Complaint therein within ten days after the service on you of this Summons, if served within the County of Los Angeles, or within thirty days if served elsewhere, and you are notified that unless you appear and answer as above required, the plaintiff will take judgment for any money or damages demanded in the Divorce Complaint, as arising upon contract, or will apply to the Court for any other relief demanded in the Divorce Complaint.

Given under my hand and seal of the Superior Court of the County of Los Angeles, State of California, this 30th day of August, 1951.

The old Judge mounted the bench full of New Year's resolutions, and resolved never to do it again. "Seems like I downed a case," moaned the Judge, "Let's get down to cases."

GOOD SAMARITANS

Benjamin Spears, 140½ Ocean Park Blvd., is a guy with an eye for gams. When he saw 2 fine chicks trilling down the stem, he wanted a closer look at their gems and offered them a ride. They accepted, got out after a few blocks leaving him happy. Happy, that is until he reached for his loot and $140 was missing.

Odney C. Sneed, 3420 Budlong says 3 fellow offered to take him home. When he arrived and refused to go in, they beat him and took his hat. Hmmm.

Manzetta Crowley, 5325 Long Beach was full of the Christmas spirit, Prince of Peace and that and tried to stop a fight. Mary Grandville, 1549 E. 54th street thought she should mind her own business and told her so very pointedly, so pointedly that she bled profusely.

Charles C. Osborne, 1629 W. 36th street felt the same way as Manzetta. He was trying to stop a fight between two women. Harvey L. Allen, 1270 E. 47th place objected as it was better than women wrestlers on television, and inserted a knife in Osborne causing him to cease and desist. Some way John L. Malone, 1248½ E. 48th place also was sliced.

THE POPPY SET

Christmas and New Year's are noted as the time of the "great Hangover". There have been many suggested remedies, but none seem to work. However there is a group of "hep" characters who never worry about a hangover, whiskey, that is. They belong to the smoke, sniff or pop gang. Only thing it is as illegal as whiskey was 10 years ago.

Nabbed while avoiding a hangover with "stuff" necessary for a bang without alcoholic breath over the holidays were: Larry Brown, 1013½ S. Central, Kennis Edward Harris, 14465 E. 15th street, William Harry Petzoff, 2649 E. 110th street, Theo M. Donald, Jr., 1355½ E. 43rd place, Hobert June Burruss, 1451 E. 38th street, James E. Williams, 221 W. 42nd street, Joe Frank Quintanna, 1001 S. Towne, John Lucious Jeffers, 847 E. 20th street, Curtis Cooper Jr., 341 E. 2nd street, Helen Weaver, 3210½ S. Central, and Theodory Burnley, U.S. Army, Camp Roberts.

Mach Henry Greathouse, 916 E. 45th street, felt it was time to let Magaline Carter know who wore the pants in the family. He told her he was going out and she couldn't go with him. She retreated to the house, grabbed up the gun and fired on time, scoring a near miss.

Homer Blair saw his divorced wife Mildred M. Blair, 720 E. 103rd street, walking down the street on 49th near McKinley. The sight of shapely ex-Mrs. Blair brought his love down and it was just more than he could bear. Homer jumped out of the car with a crank, held off his ex-wife's friends, and sped off with his wife to try and woo her back. The cops are trying to woo Homer down to Newton to try on a kidnap charge for size.

Mildred Moore, 1251 E. 21st street went to a party and who should walk in but her ex-husband Jimmy, 811 E. Vernon. He followed her home and when she got out of her "friend's" car, he lovingly beat and kicked her, tore her dress off and tried to run over her with his car. Such violent love!

Tommie Jackson went to the Ganett hotel with Eddie Mae Taylor, 1029 E. 29th, who is a practitioner in the so-called oldest profession. He fell asleep and awoke missiong 410 iron men and yelled bloody murder. "First time she's done that to me," moaned Tommie.

Cornelius Kinloch, 1130 E. Adams says a guy he knows only as "Pigmeat" came up behind him and stabbed him with an icepick in the back and stomach. Needless to say, he bled like a pig.

More About TOD DUNCAN

with the New York, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Los Angeles, NBC, National, and BBC symphony orchestras.

He was the first Negro to sing a "white" role with a major U. S. company, doing Tenio in "cagliacci" with the New York Opera Company in 1945-46. His performance in "Lost in the Stars," seen here in 1950, received the N. Y. Critics and Donaldson Awards.

In 1935 George Gershwin heard an unknown young Negro beratone sing. He chose him to create the role of Porgy in his folk-opera "Porgy and Bess" and he said of him: "Todd Duncan is one of the finest artists ever developed in his race." It is over a decade since Gershwin made that statement. Today three continents have echoed it.

In 1945 Todd Duncan's musical career was highlighted by three important achievements: Music Director Artur Rodzinski of the New York Philharmonic-Symphony Orchestra chose him as soloist for the dramatic cantata "The Prairie"; Columbia Concerts sent him as a trail-blazer on a Latin-American tour. He sang with brilliant success in eleven countries . . . and returned just in time to appear as soloist before enthusiastic thousands at New York's Stadium Concerts.

One month later Todd Duncan was engaged by the New York City Opera Company as the first Negro to sing twelve performances of two important opera roles, Tonio in "Pagliacci" and the Toreador Escamillo in "Carmen." Time Magazine, October 8, listed Todd Duncan's voice among "the best in the U. S. or any country," reported that "sympathetic audiences cheered him long" and that "critics were loud in praise"; noted that "Todd Duncan was the first Negro in U. S. operatic history to sing a white role with a white cast."

In 1945-46 a nationwide concert tour was followed in the summer by a trip to Australia and New Zealand, where he scored one of the greatest triumphs of any American artist.

Lone Robber Hits the 'Spot'

A pack of cigarettes was the ruse used to obtain $150 from the cash register of ex-Cleveland business owner, Clarence W. Foxx, recent purchaser of Spot Liquors, 3004 Crenshaw Blvd.

The still unknown pistol packer was described by Foxx as about 27 years old, Caucasian and of average height and weight. Foxx was alone in his store when the man entered and asked for a pack of cigarettes. As Foxx attempted to comply with the request, he was told that it was a stick up and to hand over all cash.

The bandit then forced Foxx to accompany him out of the to the corner and fled.

More About FLUELLEN

not be filmed inside a movie studio. "The Quiet One" and "Lost Boundaries" are a prime example of what can be done with a camera and good atcors.

After reading Criticism of Hollywood in our newspapers I feel reasonably certain that we know the kind of pictures that we would like to see on the screen. Now in order to sell a commodity one presents a pattern as well as the complete product to those whom they wish to interest. This procedure should not vary in an attempt to present to Hollywood the aims and aspirations of the Negro in regards to its actors in the movie industry.

Now I find it wishful thinking on the part of actors to entertain the thought that Hollywood or the daily newspaper columnists are going to push forward the Negro actor regardless of his artistic merits. The Negro communities themselves must become fully cognizant of the actors' need through the voice of the actors, who themselves must unite as one in order to make themselves powerful.

Best wishes for a happy and successful New eYar.

Very truly yours,
JOEL FLUELLEN,
Chairman, Negro Art Theatre, Los Angeles

Sugar Ray Cops Fighter's Award

NEW YORK—Sugar Ray Robinson, middleweight champ of the world was named by Nat Fleischer, Editor of Ring Magazine, as "Fighter of the Year."

This marks the second time in two years that Sugar Ray has been chosen for fighter of the year laurels.

Fleischer awards it to the boxer who combines boxing proficiency with sportsmanship and contributes to the uplift of the sport.

UCLA'S MOORE, POUNDS FACE INJUNS' TUCKER

WESTWOOD—Freshman Johnny Moore and veteran Bobby Pounds battling Bruin Cagers have the distinction of playing in all of the UCLA five's games thus far.

Pounds and Moore have been outstanding for the defending Southern Division champs. These Bruins will do battle with the mighty Stanford Indians that feature the great Ed Tucker, the ex-Compton comet who has been averaging in the vicinity of 17 points per contest.

Fairchild Realty Co. Building New Homes

The Fairchild Realty Company, under the leadership of Wesley J. Fairchild, well known among business and civic organizations, have added a new phase to their enterprise, that of financing and building new homes for veterans at very low cost. This is only another step to promote and construct homes, not only for people of means, but also for those of lower income brackets. These homes are offered at no down payment, with monthly payments of only $41.50, including principal and interest, for qualified home-seekers.

There are two types of these homes, A and B, explanation of which may be obtained through the FAIRCHILD REALTY COMPANY, located at 3719 S. Western Avenue, Los Angeles 18, California. Telephone REpublic 3-2161, 3-2162. The total cost of either of these types is only $5,490.0, with as much as twenty years to pay, if desired. The financing of these homes is being furnished by local, reputable federal savings and loan institutions.

A number of these homes are under construction in various locations in metropolitan Los Angeles and its suburbs. A more recent addition to these constructions is being erected on Exposition at La Salle Avenue (2 blocks East of South Western Avenue). Representatives will be at this model home daily to discuss plans and financing. Watch the columns of the local papers for further news concerning the date of completion. This home will be completed soon and will be opened for public inspection daily.

Mr. Fairchild states that these homes can be constructed on your lot, whether paid for or not. There are many cases where the owner of a lot has one house on the lot. An additional California Ranch Style home may, also, be placed thereon.

Urban League Plans to Use 'Query' Boxes

The Urban League Volunteer committee of Watts this week launched a "question box" project. Object of the undertaking is to provide an easy way for members of the area to voice their views regarding urgent or needed community improvements.

Problems on which suggestions are sought are those which affect the living and working standards of the people in that section of the city, and should of course be of concern to a fairly large number of people.

Question boxes will be stationed in churches, market places, and other locations frequently visited, for an average period of one month. The following is a list of some of the stations for January:

St. Martin's Episcopal Church, 10015 S. Compton avenue; Tabernacle of Faith, 11328 S. Central avenue; Belleview Community Church, 620 E. 118th street; Bond's Market, 10331 S. Central avenue; Mexican Methodist Church, 1701 Santa Ana boulevard; St. John's Methodist Church, 10009 Wilmington avenue; Frank's Market, 1559 E. 103rd street; Spotlight News, 1570 E. 103rd street.

A scratch pad and pencil will accompany each box, but suggestions may be written on a card, a slip of paper, or in letter form and deposited when you shop or attend church.

Problems submitted not falling within Urban League functions will be channelled by the committee to agencies or organizations handling such problems.

Carver To Be Honored Jan. 5

January 5 has been set aside this year as George Washington Carved Day, honoring the great Negro scientist.

Among the governors who have issued proclamations on Carver Day are Gov. Arthur B. Langlie, of Washington; Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin, of Maryland; Gov. Frederick G. Payne, of Maine; Gov. Okely L. Patterson, of West Virginia; Gov. Elbert N. Carvel, of Delaware; Gov. Sid McMath, of Arkansas; Gov. Dan Thornton, of Colorado; Gov. Johnston Murray, of Oklahoma; and Gov. John Lodge, of Connecticut.

Naval Vessel Plans Visit To Liberia

LITTLE CREEK, NORFOLK, Va.—The attack transport USS Monrovia (APA-31) was assigned this week by the Navy Department to make a courtesy visit to Monrovia, Liberia — both namesakes of the late President James Monroe.

The ship, attached to the Amphibious Force, U.S. Atlantic Fleet, will visit the African republic's capital in connection with scheduled inaugural ceremonies Jan. 10-14 of the Honorable William V. S. Tubman, president-elect. However, the trip is part of the routine employment of Amphibious Force ships of the Atlantic Fleet.

The Monrovia, with an enviable combat record made during World War II, was named for "Monrovia," the family estate and birthplace of President Monroe in Westmoreland County, Va. The African capital city derives its name from the late chief executive.

NAACP Asks Labor for National Protest Strike

Joint Action Urged To Stop Terrorist Killings in Florida

NEW YORK—A nation-wide strike of all workers was called for by the NAACP this week.

Complete stoppage of the wheels of production throughout the country is felt to be the only type of demonstration capable of putting an end to the reign of terror, arson and lynchings ruling Florida.

The appeal is being sent to all labor organizations to form a solid front of protest against the bombing murder of Harry T. Moore, head of Florida's NAACP, and his wife, Mrs. Harriet Moore, which climaxed months of uncontrolled lawlessness aimed at terrifying and intimidating the state's Negro population and its Jewish minority.

Requests Unavailing

The call for strike action came after the flood of protests rose to avalanche proportions following the death last Thursday of Mrs. Moore from injuries suffered in the Christmas night bombing which took the life of her husband.

Repeated requests to the Department of Justice, the FBI, and President Truman to step into the Florida situation to see to it that Negroes were given the protection to which they are entitled have produced nothing but inconclusive investigations.

In its call for bringing the nation's industry to a halt, the NAACP declared that it is evident that something more drastic must be done than sending in communications of protest or holding memorial services.

Appeal to Labor, Churches

The appeal was being sent to the Congress of Industrial Organizations, American Federation of Labor, United Mine Workers, and other labor, church, civic, and fraternal organizations.

The NAACP Board of Directors, on recommendation of the association's annual meeting, which was held Monday, set up a special committee to confer with leaders of unions and other organizations to work out plans for the nationwide strike.

The resolution of the Board of Directors, calling for the work

Protest Against Florida Terror Blankets Nation

Protest against the Christmas night murder of Harry T. Moore in Mims, Fla. is thundering across the nation.

Action is being demanded—an end of Florida's lawlessness, punishment of the murderers, a stoppage of race-hate atrocities.

The cry of alarm has blanketed the country from Massachussets to California, from Minnesota to Alabama. It is not confined to Negro communities, but is welling up likewise from Jewish groups, labor, politicians, and liberals.

Deluge of Letters

It has been voiced by practically every Negro paper in the country, by Jewish and labor press, by national magazines.

Proposals for action range all the way from appeals to President Truman to a call for a nation-wide labor stoppage, and a new march on Washington.

From New York, the NAACP reports that its office has been deluged with an avalanche of letters, telegrams, and telephone calls. In Birmingham, Ala. a demand for a mammoth protest

Delay Negro Vet's Burial Five Weeks

Cemetery Officials Give In

Following a nation-wide storm of protests, the body of a Negro soldier killed in Korea, whose body has laid in a Phoenix mortuary five weeks awaiting clearance on a burial site, was finally buried Tuesday in the veterans' plot at Greenwood Memorial Park.

Pfc. Thomas C. Reed, 19, who died in front-line fighting June 3, is the Korean war hero whose body was returned home November 28 and refused burial by Greenwood Memorial Park officials.

When the case was reported in the nation's press, a storm of protest was registered with the cemetery officials, causing them to hold a meeting of the six trustees and abolish regulations that prevented Reed's interment in the veterans' plot.

H. W. Ragsdale, co-manager of the mortuary, said this week he had not been able to obtain a grave site in the veterans' plot in Greenwood Memorial Park. The cemetery is a private corporation owned by Arizona Lodge No. 2, Free, and Accepted Masons.

Letter Required

Three Negro veterans have been buried in Greenwood, but only after notarized letters of request from veterans organizations have been received. This requirement of the cemetery's directors does not apply to white veterans.

No letters were requested for Private Reed. The veteran's father, George E. Reed, said he would like to have his son buried with other veterans, but he did not think he should have to ask for clearance.

The question of burial rights for non-white veterans of the Korean war was first spotlighted when an American Indian was refused burial in Sioux City, Iowa. At President Truman's insistence, the veteran was buried in Arlington, national military shrine. After that most cemeteries took steps to accommodate non-white veterans.

Fighting Restrictions

A movement to remove the racial restrictions at Greenwood has been under way since September. The Veterans of Foreign Wars and Disabled American Veterans posts have written the cemetery board asking that all

Burglary Ring Broken Up By Alaska Arrests

By EDDIE LEE KING

With the arrest of Alex Moore, 40, and Walter Lee Gibbs, 24, in Anchorage, Alaska this week the burglary detail of the Sheriff's Department was sure that the last members of a $35,000 burglary ring had been captured.

Det. Sgt. F. L. Fahrney told an EAGLE reporter that Herbert Hoover Lister, Alex Moore, Walter Lee Gibbs and John L. Gibbs began their series of service station burglaries, including Gardner-Reynolds in January, 1951 and looted places throughout the county. The four men, who lived in Los Angeles at the time, got rid of their stolen goods through a fence. Ravin, John Gibbs and Lister were arrested and convicted. Gibbs was out on $1000 bail on a dope charge from Superior Court when the Gardner-Reynolds store complained that more than $12,000 worth of tires were stolen. Lee and Moore, knowing that the police would find out about some $4,000 worth of tires taken from Valley Tire Service in San Fernando, $3,000 worth from Castac Junction, $900 worth in Van Nuys, about $600 worth from Bakersfield, $500 from Inglewood, $1000 from Bellflower and others in the County amount

Rats Invade Home, Gnaw Baby's Face

By MIRIAM CHRISTIAN

Piercing screams of an 18-month-old child awakened her sleeping mother who saw the baby bleeding from head and hands last Saturday morning. The child had been attacked by a large gutter rat that had invaded the household as a regular visitor.

Little Wanda McDaniel slept peacefully in her bed shared by two brothers and a sister in a filthy barn-constructed three-room shelter at 11648½ Bandera street. The huge rat crawled in beside her, probably enticed by her milk-drenched undershirt, and gnashed its sharp teeth into her soft flesh. The scurrying of its feet was heard by the mother as it rushed away from its victim, victor of its quest.

Excited by Blood

Mrs. Audrey McDaniel, excited by the sight of blood and slow to gather her wits, ran to a neighbor's home and telephoned the sheriff's office. An ambulance

Henry Scott Convicted of Drunk Driving

One of the two Negro victims of acid spraying by police with fire extinguisher fluid, Henry Scott of 4711½ Stanton street, faced trial last Tuesday for the charge under which he was held at the time of the alleged brutality: driving while under the influence of alcohol. He lost his case, drawing a fine of $150 and being placed on probation for a year.

Appearing before Judge H. Leonard Kaufman, Scott told the story of how he was arrested on the morning of October 20 while driving a Buick convertible on Compton Ave. He was stopped then, he said, by two policemen (Walter H. Foster and William B. Meenks) because the car he was driving did not have 1951 license plates. He denied charges of speeding, reckless driving or

'Bull' Connor Fined for 'Chat'

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — "Bull" Connor, Birmingham's well hated police commissioner, notorious racist, was found guilty of a morals charge here this week.

The judge didn't believe Connor's story, fined him $100 and sentenced him to a 180-day suspended sentence.

"Bull" was accused of unseemly conduct with his secretary in a hotel room. He protested his innocence, declaring he had merely gone to the room to have a "chat" with the young woman.

Detective Henry Darnell, who made the arrest, thought differently. He told the judge that the city's chief law enforcement officer had kept him cooling his heels for 23 minutes outside the door of the room before admitting him.

Property Owners In Fight to Close Bar

Property owners in the vicinity of 51st street and Ascot avenue charged this week that the State Board of Equalization rode roughshod over their efforts to keep closed a wine and beer parlor located on the southeast corner of 51st and Ascot.

The spot, known locally as the "Bucket of Blood," due to the many fights and cuttings that have originated in the bar, was closed last October when the lease ran out on the premises.

When the Board of Equalization posted notice that Earl R. Crozier had applied for a transfer of his liquor license from 5117 Avalon boulevard to 1400 E. 51st street, several property owners in the vicinity under the leadership of Rev. G. Lewis Randolph, II, M. J. McCurthon, and Mattie Dyas, circulated a petition to prevent the reopening of the spot. The group secured 45 signatures, 43 of them property owners in the block where the bar is located.

McCurthon alleges that when Crozier found out about the petition, he contacted some fellows in a nearby pool hall who secured 110 signatures in support of the bar reopening.

McCurthon further charges that only three property owners were signers of Crozier's petition, the rest living out of the neighborhood.

A hearing was held before George K. Bellows, hearing officer of the State Board of Equalization. At the hearing it was established that the bar is located 625 feet from Hooper Avenue School, and that there are some

Negro Baby Causes Demand For Eviction of Tenants

A brownskinned two-month-old baby appeared in court Monday morning to defend his right to live in a house from which landlords sought to evict him. The charges were based on the grounds that the Negro infant was responsible for a lease being broken and would cause reduction in value of the property, if he were allowed to remain as an occupant.

Swearing that they would rather sell their property to Negroes than see the child and its mother on their land, Alfred and Margaret Pizzola brought suit against Mr. and Mrs. William Dietch, employer of the maid who gave birth to the child.

In March of last year Dietch employed Mrs. Elizabeth Eatmon to care for his wife and three small daughters as a maid. At the time, Mrs. Eatmon was pregnant. During the period of employment, the Dietch family and Mrs. Eatmon became devoted to one another.

When little Jonathan Eatmon was born, his mother could find no one to care for him, so she brought him to her residence upon request of the Deitches. That was when the Pizzolas presented the Dietch family with notice to clear out the mother and child or get out themselves.

The landlords argued that William Dietch has leased the studio duplex at 1064 S. Cloverdale under the condition that not more than six persons would occupy the residence at one time. They contended that Jonathan was a seventh occupant and that his presence broke the lease which had six more months to run.

The suit, which provoked legal storms on both sides, was heard by Municipal Judge Joseph Marchetti who took the matter under submission.

Defending the tenants of the eviction suit were Attys. Everette Porter and Milton D. Klein ap-

'Hummon' Is Troubled— TV Upsets South's Morals

ATLANTA, Ga.—Gov. "Hummon" Talmadge is up in arms these days. Not against crime, of course, but against a violation of "good taste."

The honorable guy'nor has done his best to turn the clock back, and has succeeded pretty well, too, when along comes this new fangled television gimmick to upset everyone's morals. Down here, you know, the white folks have to be protected or there's no telling what will happen.

You can ban books, you can censor movies and shows—but what are you goin' to do about this heah TV?

It seems that on Ken Murray's Christmas show over CBS he presented a dance group composed of white and Negro children. Now, the guv'nor is really worried about that one.

Then Clifton Fadiman, also over CBS, showed a Negro performer in "close conversation" with a white woman stage star and, horrible to say, they exchanged jokes and comments "on a purely social, equal basis." Well!

And as if that weren't enough, Arthur Godfrey on another CBS telecast showed "the Mariners," a quartet of two white and two Negro men.

You think it's easy to be guv'nor of this heah state and protect the peepul against this "mixing and mingling?"

Hummon complained about it all in his personal editorial column in his newspaper, The Statesman, last Saturday. He thinks some action should be taken, because although "good taste alone should prevent such a situation," the television producers, alas, do not seem possessed of the guv'nor's refined sensibilities.

O tempora, O mores!

stoppage, stated that the continuing terrorism in Florida, "together with the failure of local, state, and federal authorities to apprehend and prosecute the criminals, requires a more drastic demonstration of the reaction of the American people than the sending of communications of protest or the holding of memorial services."

Mrs. Moore Buried

In Florida, on Tuesday, Mrs. Moore was being buried just one week after the burial of her husband.

It was at first believed that the despondent widow of the murdered martyr would survive, though she herself said she felt there was no need for her to live since her husband was killed, her home destroyed, and her children grown. She said that others would be better able to carry on than she.

Despite her sorrow, however, Mrs. Moore roused herself from her sickbed to view the body of her slain husband. The strain proved too much for her. Heart complications set in following the exertion, and Thursday night Mrs. Moore joined her husband in death.

Honored in Death

Roy Wilkins, administrator of the NAACP, left New York on Monday to attend the funeral.

Moore was honored in death by 600 people, Negro and white, from all over the South and the nation, who journeyed to Mims, Fla., for the funeral services New Year's Day.

Moore, state coordinator of the NAACP for Florida, had returned to his home at Mims for the Christmas holidays. He was joined there by other members of his family.

Explosives Planted

During the night of Dec. 25, while Mr. and Mrs. Moore were asleep, nitroglycerin or other high explosives, which had been deliberately planted under the house, blasted the Moore's bedroom. Moore lost consciousness from his many wounds. Mrs. Moore was seriously injured but was given a 50-50 chance to survive.

The two were rushed to the nearest hospital that would accept Negroes, but Moore died en route.

Asleep in an adjoining room when the explosion occurred were Moore's 71-year-old mother, Mrs. Rosa Moore, and the Moore's daughter, Ann Rose. Neither was injured.

Brother Aided

First to arrive at the scene was Mrs. Moore's brother, M/Sgt. George Simms, who served 14 months in Korea, and who lived only a short distance away.

He said he was awakened by screams and heard someone yell "Come quick!"

When he arrived, he said, the Moore's bedroom was blasted away and Moore was lying on the mattress of his bed in the yard, bleeding badly.

Killed for Courage

Moore was killed for his activity in trying to further the rights of Negroes in Florida. He had made many speeches throughout the state following the Nov. 6 killing of Samuel Shepherd and the wounding of Walter Lee Irvin by Sheriff Willis McCall. He had demanded that the sheriff be brought to trial for his attack on the manacled Groveland rape case prisoners on a lonely road while he was escorting them to a Federally ordered new trial.

Prior to that he had stumped the state and spearheaded the move to get Negroes to register and vote so that they could safeguard their rights.

For these "crimes" he was killed. No one has been arrested in Florida for the widespread terrorism directed primarily against Negroes, but also including as targets the Jewish community and a Catholic church in Miami.

Convict Gets Reprieve for Aiding Sheriff

TALAHASSEE, Fla. — A condemned prisoner who provided the flimsiest of testimony to give some substance to Sheriff Willis McCall's claim that he shot the two Groveland rape case prisoners in "self defense" was granted a reprieve from the electric chair last Saturday by Gov. Fuller Warren.

The prisoner, Merlin James Lieby, said he "overheard" Samuel Shepherd and Walter Lee Irvin plotting their escape while they were in the death house in Raiford state penitentiary.

McCall Intervened

Request for the reprieve came from McCall, who shot Shepherd to death and seriously wounded Irvin Nov. 6.

Irvin, who lived through the ordeal, has flatly denied that he and Shepherd attempted to escape, and has charged that McCall shot them in cold blood.

The shooting occurred on a lonely road while McCall was escorting the two manacled prisoners to a retrial at the county seat at Tavares. The retrial had been ordered by the U. S. Supreme Court. McCall was exonerated by a coroner's jury, and Gov. Warren refused to call for any further investigation.

Attorneys Barred

On Dec. 6, a month after the shooting, when the trial of Irvin was again before the court, Circuit Judge T. J. Futch refused to admit Thurgood Marshall, special counsel for the NAACP, and Jack Greenberg, assistant special counsel, to appear as attorneys for Irvin. The NAACP, said the judge, has "stirred up trouble."

When the case comes up January 14 in Ocala, Marion county, to which the hearings have been transferred, Marshall and Greenberg will again move that the court admit them.

Gov. Warren, in addition to granting Lieby a temporary stay of execution, also set no time for the carrying out of the sentence.

Lieby was slated to die this Monday for the 1949 murder of a Baltimore druggist whose body he had dumped under a bridge on the Tamiami trail in Florida's Everglades.

Gov. Warren signed the death warrant Dec. 28 ordering the execution. This action was taken after a lengthy investigation by the state parole commission.

However, after receiving the request from Sheriff McCll, the governor obligingly granted the stay.

Moore Memorial Fund Proposed

Recommendations made to the NAACP Area Council of Southern California at its last meeting included a proposal to ensure that the bombing murder of Harry T. Moore be the signal for intensifying the work for which Moore was killed Christmas night.

James Anderson, provisional executive secretary, recommended that the Area Council consider initiating a Harry T. Moore fund to assist the Moore family if needed, and to provide money for the State NAACP in Florida to hire additional organizers and staff and personnel to fight for equal rights for Negroes.

Anderson further recommended that the area council submit the name of Harry T. Moore to the national office for receipt of the Spingarn medal posthumously.

meeting sprang from the Negro community, not from its leaders.

Local Meeting

Meetings have been held or planned in 1000 communities over the country. Two are being held in San Francisco; one is slated for Los Angeles.

Other meetings have been scheduled this Sunday at Palm Springs and San Diego, for the following Sunday in San Bernardino.

Among the groups which have alreay protested are the CIO, the National Council of Churches of Christ in America, United Automobile Workers CIO, American Jewish Congress, locals of the International Garment Workers Union AFL, National Maritime Union CIO, National Conference of Christians and Jews, Negro Labor Committee, Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters AFL, National Union of Marine Cooks and Stewards.

Individuals who have called for action include former U. S. Attorney General Francis Biddle, now chairman of Americans for Democratic Action; Rudolph Halley, president of the New York City Council; a score of New York City councilmen, state senators and assemblymen.

Moore a Symbol

The national weekly "The Nation" in a lengthy editorial in its January 5 issue proclaims:

"The bombing murder of Harry T. Moore was part of a clear pattern of open force directed against the struggle of racial minorities to win full rights as citizens. Moore was a symbol of this struggle.

"It was not the crackpots but the Bourbon leaders who voiced the first threats and thereby revived the always present danger of mass violence . . . It is absurd to inveigh against 'racial prejudice' or KKK hoodlums without condeming the elected public officials who incited the violence which, for special reasons, has broken out in Florida but may soon spread throughout the South.

"This is the same phenomenon that came with the organization of the KKK in the Reconstruction period: it is political terror, instigated by Bourbons and applied by Ku Kluxers, to prevent the real emancipation of Negroes in the South."

Happiness is spiritual, born of Truth and Love. It is unselfish; therefore it cannot exist alone, but requires all mankind to share it.—Mary Baker Eddy.

CAB-NURSERY—The taxicab of Benjamin Sims, Jr. (insert), served as the birthplace of a baby boy born to a 24-year-old mother here last Saturday. Sims, who twice before had witnessed emergency births in his cab, was quick in thinking his way out of trouble. On his way to a local hospital, he spotted an ambulance at 9th and San Pedro streets and reported the case. Nurse Bonnie Boundy (above) delivered the baby.

Alpha President Maceo Smith Leads Texas Civil Rights Fight

By WENDELL GREEN

The State of Texas is famous for its size, natural resources, and Texans. Texans generally consider themselves a cross between Hercules and Paul Bunyon. While this is about as true as the myths of Hercules and Paul Bunyon, one man by his Herculean efforts and his Bunyonesque ability to do the impossible, has distinguished himself as a Texan among Texans and a man among men.

A. Maceo Smith has done more to burnish the lone star of Texas, so Texans can walk in the bright light of human dignity, than any other person since Texas "conditionally" joined the Union.

Organizational Genius

An organizational genius and an inspirational leader, A. Maceo Smith was honored with the presidency of Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity at its recent meeting in San Francisco, a fitting tribute to a dynamic and rigorous career that is still in its ascendancy. This is the first time a Westerner has been selected to head such a national organization.

Smith will bring to Alpha a wealth of organizational experience, as he organized and heads almost every important organization in Texas.

A native of Texarkana, Smith attended Fisk University where his gridiron exploits are still remembered. He became a member of Chi chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha in 1923. Upon graduation from Fisk, he attended New York University where he received his Master's Degree in business administration.

Returning to Dallas where he entered business, Smith organized the Dallas Negro Chamber of Commerce, and launched his striking career that parallels the tremendous strides Negroes have made in Texas. The Dallas Negro Chamber of Commerce is devoted to the civic, commercial and industrial development of Dallas and the Southwest. In a short time the organization had spread all over Texas and now has 42 units comprising the Texas Chamber of Commerce, of which Smith is the executive secretary.

Headed Centennial

When the State of Texas was planning its Centennial for 1936, it asked the Texas Chamber of Commerce, under the leadership of Smith, to organize an exposition on Negro life and culture, and it is generally agreed that the exposition in Dallas is the greatest thing that has been done on the Negro.

Political Action

Elections in Dallas were nonpartisan and therefore not restricted. After completing his work for the Centennial, Smith noted the increased Negro population in Dallas and set up the Progressive Voters League in 1937. They registered and got out the vote and became the balance of power that won several elections. Through political action they obtained a new high school, parks, paving and sewage systems, Negro policemen and jobs for Negroes in the city administration.

In 1936 the NAACP had five branches in Texas with less than a thousand members in the state. Smith reorganized the Dallas branch, and as its executive secretary, issued a call for a statewide organization. He was elected executive secretary of the statewide organization, and the membership grew to 178 branches with over 25,000 members.

In 1940, the NAACP under the leadership of A. Maceo Smith, launched a 10-year, three-point program. 1. Break the "white" primary. 2. Achieve complete ed-

Couple Win $25,351 Suit Against Greyhound Bus Co.

BERKELEY—Rev. and Mrs. R. E. Woodard of 1614 Port street, Beaumont, Texas, recently won judgment against the Pacific Greyhound Bus Company for injuries received by Mrs. Woodard in an accident that occurred August 6, 1949 on Highway 99 just south of Bakersfield.

Dr. P. Price Cobb, local physician treated Mrs. Woodard for concussion of the brain and internal injuries. The accident occurred when the Greyhound bus was driven into the rear of a truck. The truck was loaded with 14 tons of nails. As a result of the impact Mrs. Woodard was thrown from her seat and struck her head against another seat in the bus.

The trial, held before Judge Frank Deasy, in Department 18 of the San Francisco Superior Court lasted for five days. After deliberating for approximately three hours the jury returned a verdict of $25,351. Mrs. Woodard is the sister of Mrs. M. C. Compton, 913 East 45th Street, Los Angeles. A motion for a new trial was denied the bus company and settlement of the case is now in process.

Truman Fair Hiring Order Called Big Disappointment

NEW YORK—President Truman's pronouncement on government contract compliance was a "bitter disappointment" to the NAACP and others working for a strong federal fair employment practices commission with enforcement powers, writes Clarence Mitchell, director of the NAACP Washington Bureau, in the January issue of The Crisis, official organ of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

In his article, "President Truman's 'FEPC'," Mr. Mitchell sets forth four basic steps which must be taken if the new committee is to work successfully to combat employment discrimination.

First, says the author, the committee must take a clear cut stand against segregation.

Second, it must establish rules that will convince employers and contracting agencies "that mere volume of colored people on the payroll does not prove that there is no discrimination." The author notes that failure to hire Negro skilled workers qualified for a job is discrimination no matter how many Negro laborers are in a company's employ.

Third, the committee must have a sufficient staff of experts to do its job well.

Fourth, the committee should have an executive director who knows the problem of discrimination in employment.

"Finally," Mr. Mitchell writes, "we must remember that no matter how well the Committee does its job, it will not be a substitute for a legislative FEPC. . . . No long term progress can be made . . . unless there is a permanent FEPC . . . broad enough to reach all industry and labor unions in interstate commerce."

Chef Ray Mills Crew One of Best

Ray Mills, nationally famous chef cook at the Red Hut Broiler, the busy Western avenue eatery, is the big reason why the eatery is so popular as a diner.

Mills, along with Horace Cousey, John Gaines and Bill Crawford, round out four of the best cooks in the business. Their a-la-cartes, and Friday evening special dinners are gaining them widespread popularity.

If you are planning to dine out some evening drop in at the Red Hut and be treated to a more than delightful meal.

Ex-Spy Sues Sen. McCarthy For $100,000

WASHINGTON. — Charles E. Davis, of Pasadena, evicted from Switzerland for spying, filed a $100,000 damage suit against Sen. McCarthy (R), Wis., last week. He charged slander and breach of contract.

The Swiss expelled Davis last October after convicting him of spying on behalf of Sen. McCarthy. The senator, at the time, waived aside the accusations and denied that he had ever had any association with Davis or that he had ever employed him.

Suffered Loss

Davis' suit resulted from this denial. He claims that as a result of McCarthy's action he has "suffered loss of wages and also suffered and will continue to suffer loss of employment because of the notoriety and adverse publicity incident to his detention by the Swiss authorities."

McCarthy commented that the suit was "too ridiculous to require comment" but nonetheless threatened to have Davis ordered by the court to submit to an "adverse examination." If such an "adverse examination" were resorted to—a very rare procedure—Davis would have to prove in advance that he filed the suit in good faith. Failure on Davis' part to satisfy a court commissioner of such good faith would make anyone responsible for his filing the suit liable to contempt.

Davis' petition, filed in U.S. Court here, said he entered into a verbal contract with McCarthy Sept. 25, 1949.

Hudson Put On NAACP Board

Dr. H. Claude Hudson, life member and former president and board member of the local NAACP, was elected to the national executive board of the Association, it was announced in New York this week. Others elected were Norman Cousins, editor of Saturday Review of Literature; the Rev. James Hinton, president of South Carolina NAACP; and Andrew Weinberger, New York lawyer.

Members of the board who were re-elected are Dr. Joseph Berry, Tuskegee, Ala.; Hon. Hubert T. Delaney, New York; Lewis S. Gannett, New York; Hon. William H. Hastie, Philadelphia; Professor S. Ralph Harlow, Northampton, Mass; Mrs. Daisy Lampkin, Pittsburgh; Carl Murphy, Baltimore; Walter Reuther, Detroit; A. Maceo Smith, Dallas; Arthur B. Spingarn, New York; Dr. Channing H. Tobias, New York; and Dr. U. S. Wiggins, Camden, N. J.

The board members were elected by ballots sent in by NAACP branches to be opened and tabulated at the annual meeting.

Dr. Peyton Named On Hospital Staff

Dr. Thomas Roy Peyton, specialist in rectal diseases, has been appointed on the staff of St. Johns Hospital in Santa Monica, it was announced this week. He will practice in the proctology section of the hospital. Dr. Peyton is the author of a book, "Quest for Dignity," which was published last year and which tells his life story.

IF YOU WON'T WANT TO MISS A STOREWIDE INVENTORY SALE YOU WON'T WANT TO MISS • A STOREWIDE INVENTORY SALE YOU WON'T WANT TO MISS

FOR SUNDAY SCHOOLERS

One day a rich young man came running to Jesus. He knelt down and said eagerly, "What must I do to go to Heaven?"

Jesus loved the young man and wanted to help him. He said, "You know the commandments—Do not kill; Do not steal; Do not speak falsely; Honor your father and your mother."

"I have done all these things since I was a little boy," said the young man, "but I know I am not good enough yet. What else must I do?"

Jesus knew that the rich man was very selfish, so He said, "Go sell verything you have, and give the money to the poor people. Then come and follow Me."

The young man hung his head. He had so many lovely things—it was too hard to give them all up!

Sadly he walked away. And Jesus never saw him again.

Christian Fellowship Offers a New Adventure in Brotherhood

PARTAKING OF THE HOLY RITUAL—Each first Sunday of the month Rev. Kingsley leads his congregation in observance of communion. Eating of bread and drinking of wine is first administered to himself and then distribution of the Biblical food is made among the congregation. Christian Fellowship has one of the largest communion observance memberships in the city.

MIRIAM CHRISTIAN, Church Editor

An adventure in brotherhood with men, an experience in worship to God, without class or caste, is the unique code of religion at the Church of Christian Fellowship, a mixed congregation and one of the most influential churches in the community. The code is fulfilled to the letter at the West Adams church where Rev. Harold M. Kingsley, one-time student at Yale University, is pastor. An inclusive church, Christian Fellowship is "open to all men" and recognizes no racial, class or caste bars in the holy worship. Because of those practices, the church poses a challenge to all local congregations to bring up their pace of religion to serve all mankind.

Christian Fellowship, founded

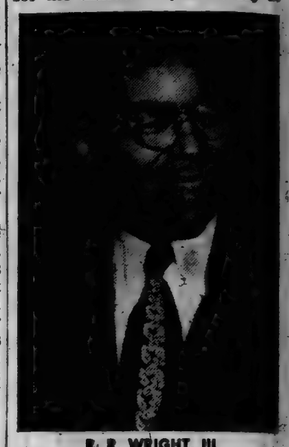
REV. HAROLD M. KINGSLEY

December 8, 1945, is now in its seventh year of service at 3125 W. Adams Blvd. Its leadership during that period has come through a rotating series of intergroup pastorates that finally resulted in the appeaarnce of the church's present pastor, Rev. Kingsley. One of the earlier pastors of the church was white, the Rev. G. Raymond Booth. He was succeeded by a Japanese minister, the Rev. Royden Susumago. The line of pastors at Christian Fellowship also has included Dr. Albert H. Palmer, the eminent Congregatorial divine, and Rev. W. Spiers Middlemass, retired ex-Presbyterian minister of wide note.

Christian Fellowship has three groups of membership: regular, associate and affiliate. One is considered a regular member at the church by confession of faith or by letters from some other church. An associate member is one who retains membership in his own church but who assumes responsibilities and privileges of membership in Christian Fellowship. The person who lives at a distance but who desires to support the church without regular attendance is classified as an affiliate member.

Increase

Active membership at Christian Fellowship now numbers some 181, affiliate membership about 175. Each is increasing rapidly.



The property where Christian Fellowship is currently located on West Adams was purchased along with the white frame building that now serves as the church back in 1946. Considered just a temporary meeting place by the group, they are already looking forward to a new church building to meet the demands of an expanding membership.

Among the members of Christion Fellowship are some of the community's most prominent

Bible College Entertains Local Pastors and Wives

Southern California pastors and their wives will be entertained on the campus of Pacific Bible college, Highway 66 at Citrus avenue in Azusa, Thursday, January 10, starting at 9:00 a.m., Dr. Cornelius P. Haggard, president, announced.

Heading the list of speakers for the occasion is Rev. C. W. Clemming of London, England, traveling lecturer of the Bible Testimony fellowship and authority on the customs of ancient Palestine who will deliver two lectures. At 9:00 a.m., Clemming will speak on the "Colors of the Breastplate." In this appearance he will be dressed in the garments of the high priest of biblical times including the linen coat, the robe of the ephod, the ephod, the breastplate and the mitre.

The lecture will explain the meaning of the three colors of the breastplate such as was worn by ancient high priests, blue, purple and scarlet, explaining the biblical significance of the colors themselves as well as the significance of the order in which they appear. At 1:30 p.m., he will speak on "The Stones of the Breastplate."

At 11:00 a.m., a unique open forum will be conducted when pastors' wives will discuss their problems as they relate to their husbands' professions.

Minister Returns From Eastern Trip

The Rev. George Robert Garner III, distinguished Los Angeles prelate, returned home on Tuesday from an extensive Eastern tour where, as special assistant pastor of Olivet Baptist Church in Chicago, he filled more than 125 preaching engagements.

America's leading pastors have acclaimed Garner's ministry. His spring and summer schedule is rapidly being filled by requests from pastors around the nation who want tim to appear as guest minister in their churches.

A race relations authority, Rev. Garner has given Los Angeles annually the greatest interracial program in the nation. Southern California awaits the announcement of the annual program for the Brotherhood Month, one of his pet projects.

Rev. Hayden Conducts Revival at Rose Hill

Rev. C. H. Hayden of Las Vegas, Nevada, nationally known evangelist, is conducting a revival at Rose Hill Baptist church, 2116 Trinity street, Los Angeles, closing Sunday, January 13, 3 p.m. His motto is "Get results." Rev. Hayden may be contacted at the Dunbar hotel. Rev. Van Davis is pastor of Rose Hill church.

Triangular Observes Pastor's Anniversary

The Triangular Church of Truth, founded by its present pastor, Rev. Pearl C. Wood, will observe 20 years of service to God and the community for a

REV. H. M. COLLINS
Guest Speaker

two week period, commencing next Sunday, January 13.

This church, which broadcast each Sunday night, station KGER at 10:30, has made unusual progress under the inspired leadership of its founder-pastor, Mother Wood.

In addition to the out of town ministers and friends from Detroit, St. Louis, Chicago and Kansas City, the following local ministers and churches will be at Triangular, 8 o'clock each evening, starting next Monday, January 14: Rev. H. Mansfield Collins and Neighborhood Community church; Rev. T. Leslie Scott and Bethel AME church; Wednesday night a special religious movie "The Life of Joseph" will be shown in addition to the worship services.

On Thursday evening the "Musical-Pantomime" will be presented by the combined senior choir and youth choir, under the direction of Elise D. Miller and Friday Rev. M. F. Mitchell, assisted by Rev. S. Heylizer, and membership of Cosmopolitan Christian church will have charge of the services. A highlight of the anniversary will be the choir's Third Sunday Musical program, Sunday, January 20. R. L. Knowles, nationally known gospel singer will direct the choir in this program.

Triangular church is located at the corner of 52nd and Wadsworth avenue and Rev. Wood invites "the public to all services and activities, especially during the two weeks of the 20th anniversary."

Christian Science Study Sacrament

The earnest and consistent effort to worship God spiritually and to follow the example of Christ Jesus in daily life brings rich rewards declares the Bible lesson on "Sacrament" in all Christian Science churches Sunday.

The Golden Text is from the Psalms (24:3, 4): "Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord? or shall stand in his holy place? He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart."

In a Bible selection Peter writes (I Pet. 3:12, 13, 15), "The eyes of the Lord are over the righteous, and his ears are open unto their prayers: . . . And who is he that will harm you, if ye be followers of that which is good? . . . But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts: and be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear."

Pageant Climaxes School Celebration

NASHVILLE — Celebration of Founder's Day at the National Baptist Missionary Training School here was climaxed recently with a pageant, titled "Thanksgiving in Her Heart." The pageant was exhibited by the senior class.

Guest speaker at the special Founder's Day exercise was the noted civic and religious leader of Memphis and Humboldt, Tennessee, Mrs. D. S. Vance.

National Baptist Missionary Training School was founded in 1936 by the National Baptist Convention, U.S.A., Inc., as a school for the training of missionaries and religious workers. The school's current president is Miss Julia B. Foreman.

First Baptist Observes 30th Anniversary

The First Baptist Church of Central Gardens, 94th Street and Zamora Avenue, will begin the observance of its 30th anniversary exercises next Sunday morning, January 13, and continue through the following Sunday, January 20th. Each night during the week a local pastor and his congregation will be featured on the special anniversary program.

To inaugurate the stellar series the services of Dr. Charles Satchell Morris II, chairman of the ministerial group at the Zion Hill Baptist church have been secured.

Rev. A. Moten, pastor of the church, will preside and introduce Dr. Morris. He has been pastor of several local churches and has been particularly successful and blessed during the period that he has served at First Baptist. Currently the edifice is being enlarged and beautified and a large addition is being constructed at the rear.

Immediate plans for expansion call for the purchase of property in the immediate neighborhood of the church. A new parking lot will be set up in the near future while additional improvements will be made. The First Baptist church now has a total membership of more than 500 persons and is one of the most active and progressive congregations in the city. A Sunday evening broadcast is one of the vital features of the church's community activities.

We are all of us fellow-passengers on the same planet and we are all of us equally responsible for the happiness and the well-being of the world in which we happen to live.—Hendrik W. van Loon.

Laymen Dinner Huge Success

The second annual Christmas dinner of the Laymen of the A.M.E. Southern California Conference was held recently at the Second A.M.E. Church here where Dr. Jesse L. Glover is pastor. A five-course turkey dinner preceded a short, well-planned program. Mrs. Cora Johnson of St. James A.M.E. Church acted as mistress of ceremonies.

The program was opened with an appropriate song, "What's a Fellowship." Dr. A. K. Quinn then led the session in prayer. The history of the Laymens was given by Ralph Jones of Santa Ana.

Presiding Elder B. C. Allen was guest speaker at the dinner. It was closed with several encouraging remarks by the minsters present, the singing of group's song, "The More We Are Together" and it New Year's greeting for 1952.

True happiness renders men kind and sensible; and true happiness is always shared with others.—Charles Montesquieu.

CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP OFFERS BROTHERHOOD

names. Included are J. A. Somerville, police commissioner; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mills (he of the famed Mills Brothers quartet); Mrs. Minnie Lomax, newspaper columnist; Mrs. Floy Debaum, musician and Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Van Gundy, World Federalists.

Under Rev. Kingsley, Christian Fellowship has expanded its budget for 1952 to $9,200, a rather sizeable figure for such a small congregation. But the church is planning to cope with its growth. Already it has begun to spread into many different activities, among them the frequent exchanges with other churches of its pulpit, Young Adult and community works. There are special clubs for men and women in the church. It also supports a school which is under the direction of Mrs. Harold J. Kingsley, the pastor's wife, and Elizabeth Wood.

Every activity at Christian Fellowship is aimed at a fulfillment of the church's code: fraternity among men. The members are deeply endowed with the spirit of the purpose.

Outstanding promoter of brotherhood at the Church of Christian Fellowship is naturally Rev. Harold M. Kingsley, who has always believed that there should be a spiritual, fraternal expression among Christians. Kingsley has a rich background in social, community and interracial work. He was founder of the Parkway Community Center in Chicago, set up a meal station in his Windy City church (following the bank crash of 1929) which distributed some 20,000 free meals and offered free employment, clothing and shelter for the needy until social service agencies could take over the burden.

For a time during World War II Kingsley was the executive of Pilgrim House here. The settlement was spotted in the heart of the city's racial tensoin areas during the war, an area overcrowded, under-privileged and steeped in the juvenile deliquency of minority youngsters.

Kingsley has performed unusually valuable work in the field of interracial relations. As special investigator in 1919 for the Home Missions Council of the Negro Migration North, he conducted a study of the movement of southern Negroes to 40 northern cities from Woburn, Mass., to Milwaukee, Wis. He served as special investigator also for the Congregational Home Board in the last Detroit race riot. In several other organizations promoting interracial goodwill like the Illinois Interracial Commission, Southern Interracal Commission and the Race Relations Department of the Federal Council of Churches, he holds important membership.

—Subscribe Now—

Kingsley is active in many services to the community but fundamentally he is a man of religion. An industrious leader, he built and administered churches in Detroit, Cleveland and Chicago before coming to Los Angeles. He works hard at his calling. Now he is charter member and participant in the work of the Congregational Social Service Commission, member of faculties at 46 Young People's Camps, staff man of the Congregational Boards for 32 years and vice-moderator of the Congregational National Council.

As the pastor of the Church of Christian Fellowship, Rev. Kingsley has served for four years. His congregation is interracial.

Kingsley's important and varied activity in the U. S. has earned him yearly listing in "Who's Who in America," beginning more than 20 years ago.

White Nurse Africa Bound

The long cherished dream of a young white girl of Abilene, Texas to become a missionary worker in Africa came true recently and she will be leaving the U.S. soon for Jeinkrama, Nigeria, British West Africa where she will serve for three years as a nurse in a hospital.

She is Miss Aletha Fuller, appointed to her post by the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist convention. Her work will be financed by the congregation of the Norview Baptist church of Norflok, Va. The Rev. Junius E. Fester Jr., pastor of the church, said it would cost $2000 to support Miss Fuller in Nigeria for one year.

Prior to her departure by steamship from New York early in January the young missionary will acquaint Baptists with her plans and the need for more support for mission work in Nigeria.

She will travel from New York to Port Harcourt, Nigeria, continue by English ferry 70 miles, and then by the Orashi river to Jeinkrama.

Miss Fuller will be the only white nurse in a 30-bed hospital at Jeinkrama and the third white person at the mission which serves four native villages. An interpreter will aid Miss Fuller in understanding the 30 different languages spoken in the settlement.

A registered nurse, the new missionary studied at the Southwestern Baptist Theological seminary, and spent 10 years in preparation for her new task.

Artists Concert Draws Acclaim

The sixth annual Future Artists concert was acclaimed "best yet" by many who have followed the project from year to year. Five piano teachers presented 12 pupils between the ages of 3 and 11, inclusive. The concert was under the auspices of the church school of Bowen Memorial Church and was again held at the church.

Crusaders' Club Hosts Founder

The Crusaders' club of the First A.M.E. church, Eighth and Towne, entertained its founder, Rev. John B. St. Felix Isaacs, at a coffee hour Friday evening, January 4, at the home of Crusader Philip M. Robinson.

James Derry

Organized in October, 1933, two of the original twelve members, Alvin Pulliam and Carl L. Lawson, were present to greet the founder. Pulliam, the club's first president, no longer a member, spoke on the group's early efforts to establish a different kind of church club.

Dr. Isaacs, now Dean of the Chapel at Paul Quinn college,

REV. ALVIA SHAW

Waco, Texas, inspired the club members with his remarks about the club and about his work at Paul Quinn. Comments were made by other members of the club and by Rev. Alvia A. Shaw, present pastor at Eighth and Towne.

James Derry, president of the Crusaders, stated that the event has inspired the club to continue its efforts to present programs of value and interest to the general public. Those present included Thomas Person, N. C. Duncan, E. E. Franklin, Tyree R. Hollaway, George J. Hooker, Leo Williams, and Howard L. Johnson.

Fisk Choir Sings On Radio Series

Fisk University's widely famed chorus will be heard on the year's final broadcast of the United Negro College Fund's annual choir series this Sunday over the ABC network. The series, now at the end of two years on the airlanes, is heard over more than 176 radio stations of the chain throughout the U. S. and in Canada. It is heard locally on KECA at 1:30 p.m.

Bishop Sees Need For Independence

At least one major Negro church leader is convinced that there is still a need for independent Negro churches. He is capable Bishop S. L. Greene, secretary of the Bishops Council of the AME church, who figures that the Negro people need to maintain independency in their church organizations so that they may demonstrate to the world that they can operate such churches, colleges and mission programs which are sponsored on the theory that others respect only that which they see of themselves in others. The bishop expressed his views in a recent statement made in Atlanta.

He pointed out that in his capacity as vice president of the World Council of Churches, officer of the Christian Education Council and Secretary of the Bishops Council of the AME church that had it not been for the fact that we have independent Negro churches, the Negro would not likely have official position in the international and national world church organization.

If I remember correctly he pointed up that he was the first representative of representatives of 32 denominations to sign an important world church document, because the name of the denomination he represented stood alphabetically at the top of the list, where the denominations with minority Negro membership are invariably represented in high places by a white man. That statement reminded me of the statement, "If you don't get a chance to come to the bat, you can never get on first base" and the other one to the effect that "since the biggest job before the Negro is selling himself, it is vitally important that more and more capable, adaptable and responsible black faces be seen and heard in high places so that they may make the greatest possible contribution in the most attractive and effective manner possible."

Bishop Greene feels that socially responsible white people of Georgia will avail themselves of the opportunity to give a large portion of the additional $100,000 needed to enable Morris Brown College to carry on as a class "A" college whose majoremphasis is in the area of the spiritual and moral development of its students, the majority of whom go into the highways and byways of Georgia as teachers and community leadefs.

To those who are watching Georgia, where it has been alledged that many carry pistols for their fellow churchmen and where the situation has been so tense that you could feel it with your hands, the leadership of Bishop S. L. Greene and his most charming wife, who heads up the AME State Missionary Program, is causing order, unity and progress to be achieved out of a state of confusoin. Bishop Greene now believes that Georgia is definitely going forward.

MINISTER MAKES PLEA FOR AFRICAN FREEDOM IN UN

Sounding a plea for the freedom of subjected people all over the world, tall, thin Rev. Michael Scott recently asked the UN General Assembly in Paris to hear tribal chiefs of the Herero Nama and Berg Gamara tribes in Southeast Africa.

These chieftains, he said, are not allowed to leave Africa because the "white supremacy" nation, the Union of South Africa, will not give them visas. The territories ruled by these African leaders, are under the trusteeship of South Africa, under terms originally established by the defunct League of Nations.

Rev. Scott said that these African leaders do not want to have their lands incorporated as part of South Africa because of that nation's apartheid, absolute segregation, racial policy.

Wearing his black clerical garb, the Anglican minister spoke slowly and distinctly as he told how the chiefs have tried in vain to reach the UN and tell their story.

One chief, Hosea Kutako, he said, is more than 80 years old. This chief traveled hundreds of miles to reach the city of Windhoek, but still is awaiting permission to come to Africa. This leader, the minister said, is lame and is losing his sight, but considers a trip to Paris the last service he could give to his people.

Only action proposed so far against South Africa is a resolution proposed by American delegate Francis B. Sayre, who calls for the condemning of the Union for its treatment of the natives of Southwest Africa.

Top AMEZ Official Found Dead in South

Death wrote finis to the career of Dr. G. F. Hall, 58, financial secretary of the A. M. E. Zion Church, a career which many had believed would be climaxed by his elevation to a bishopric at the A. M. E. Z. General Conference next May. Dr. Hall was found dead in bed in Greensboro, N. C., recently by members of his family.

Born in Alabama, Dr. Hall came to North Carolina as a student at Livingstone College, Salisbury, N. C., and after his graduation entered the ministry, making an enviable record which finally took him to the highest financial post in his denomination. He was successively a pastor, presiding elder and general officer.

Funeral services were scheduled to be held this week from Trinity A. M. E. Z. Church, with all of the ranking officials of the A. M. E. Z. Church attending. He had conducted his church business from A. M. E. Z. headquarters at Charlotte, N. C., where he maintained his office. In Charlotte, Bishops Buford F. Gordon and Walter L. Slade expressed shocked grief over the death of their comrade. Dr. Hall had succeeded Bishop Slade as financial secretary upon Slade's elevation to Bishop.

Round Table Panels Role of Churches

Beautiful church buildings are just as significant to a person's religious beliefs as is the "internal beauty within man's soul" argued panel members of the "Lincoln University on the Air" in a recent broadcast over a Philadelphia radio station.

Participating in the round table discussion on "What a Church Should Be" were:

The Rev. Henry T. McCrary, Sr., pastor of the Tucker Street Baptist Church, and a Lincoln University (Pa.) alumnus; James B. McRae, dean of students at Lincoln University, and Roland Jones, a student at Lincoln.

Both Dean MacRae and Rev. McCrary felt that an eminent building was man's chief means of expressing this devout conception and respect for God, while oJnes contended, if an individual is posessed with a clean heart and spirit, the appearance of the place of worship is of little importance.

Dean MasRae stated that the church has had a long and justifiable reputation as being a welder of community life and as a social institution for people with common interest.

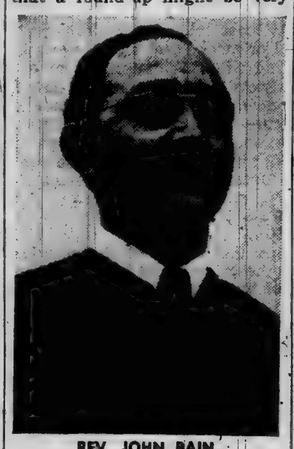
church, is well qualified by experience to speak for and to the laymen of his church. Educated at Wilberforce university and at Ohio State university, where he received a master's degree in business administration, Wright has managed the A.M.E. Book Concern and taught at Edward Waters college.

He was cashier of the Tri-State bank of Memphis, Tennessee, purchasing agent and professor of economics and business administration at Wilberforce, and business manager of Morris Brown college, Atlanta, Georgia.



Since last September, Wright has been general manager of Broadway Federal Savings and Loan association of Los Angeles, of which Dr. H. Claude Hudson is president and Paul R. Williams, a vice-president. Wright lives here with his wife, Neva Gilmore Wright, a member of the Delta Sigma Theta sorority, and their two sons, Richard IV, and Phillip Gilmore.

According to W. Thomas Person, president of the Laymen's League of First church, the entire day will be under the direction of laymen of the church.

At 3:30 p.m., a special afternoon program will feature the Simmons-Akers Gospel singers, radio and recording artists with a large local following. Joseph Ellis, program chairman, promises an unusual evening program to round out the day.

'Old Timers' Stage Get-Together Fete

Most people agree that it is swell when old acquaintances come together. Thus, it occurred to a few of the "Old Timers" that a round-up might be very much in order at the beginning of this new year—1952.

REV. JOHN BAIN

What has happened to the old families of Furlong Tract? Where are the young men and women who made up the membership of the original Southern California Alumni Association and the Lyceum?

While others may serve as good subjects to aid in answering such questions and completing this round-up, Rev. John C. Bain, minister of the Bowen Memorial Methodist Church, at East 36th and Trinity street, has been chosen for the job.

"Johnnie" as he shall be called from now on, not only grew up in those yesterdays, but he now represents in force, character and vitality in the improvement program of this fast growing Los Angeles church.

Set for the day, date and hour for a banquetmeeting — Thursday, January 17 at 8 p.m. The banquet will proceed under the form of a 10 channel television program with oustanding guest artist and surprise numbers. We have assumed full responsibility for your evening's enjoyment with the hope that you and your guest will make a generous donation toward the church's building fund have been assumed by the organization.

Far beyond the monetary benefits to come from such an evening are the opportunities for renewed acquaintance, touched by spiritual significance, to aid individually for the days which lie ahead.

Quickly jot this date and hour and let us hear from you immediately. It means new times among old friends, but reservations must be made. Call church parsonage for further information—AD. 1-9718. Phil McGee, general chairman; Porter J. Wooten, secretary, and Mrs. Irene Salsbury Shannon, program chairman.

Minister Consulted At 'Y' Conference

Some 400 youth attended the three-day "Y" Leadership Institute which met at Prairie View College recently in Prairie View, View.

Theme of the meeting was "Stabilizing Home, School and Community Life." Dr. J. L. Brown, director of extramural services at the college, was in charge of the institute.

Chief consultant for the conference was the Rev. William Harvey III, pastor, Calvary Baptist Church, Oklahoma City, Okla.

Other speakers besides Rev. Harvey included:

Dr. John E. Eubanks, president of Jarvis Christian College; Dr. Ina Bolton, dean of students at Texas Southern University, and three local leaders, the Rev. L. C. Phillip, Dr. D. S. Yarbrough and Miss Ann Campbell.

As we are now living in an eternity, the time to be happy is today.—Grenville Kleiser.

Prying Pye in Prep Sportdom

By BRAD PYE, JR.

DR. FORDE HONORS JEFF GRID CHAMPS

Dr. Wells Forde, with offices located on 43rd and Avalon Blvd., one of the city's prominent physicians, is without a doubt Jefferson High School's greatest backer—and loyal supporter, both financially and physically. . . . At least this was the consensus of opinion among the two hundred or more guest and honor athletes that were on hand Friday night at the beautiful Golden State Life Insurance Company's cafeteria, the scene of the gigantic Testimonial banquet given by the fabulous Dr. Forde, honoring the great uncrowned city grid champs of Jefferson High and their famed coach, Mike Morienthal, erstwhile UCLA All-Coaster and his stellar aide Joe Barry, former USC trackster.

PYE

TOWLER, TALIAFERRO, YOUNGER, BANQUET GUESTS

Dr. Forde, also the owner of the popular service station at the corner of 47th and Avalon Blvd., had three of the world's famous pro-footballers on hand in the person of Deacon Dan Towler, George Taliaferro, big brother of the Rose Bowl champ's Claude Taliaferro, and the Rams' great Paul "Tank" Younger, to offer the honored Jefferson footballers an added incentive to continue on to college.

The "Forde" who was instrumental in getting "Fly" Guy Blackburn, and all-city halfback Thelton Henderson scholarships to Cal and Lewis "Hustler" Williams like wise to UCLA, has proven time and time again he's definitely interested in the athletes of Jefferson and their future after they depart. . . . If there were more helpful Dr. Wells Fordes that were interested in the students of Jefferson, there is no reason in the world why a greater number of athletes could not be influenced to the fact, the real value of a college education.

JEFF DEMOCRATIC WITH AWARDS

In giving awards to the players of the title winning Jefferson team which was voted on by the players and coaches the honors, were split very democratically. The most valuable lineman award usually given to one player, went to the great All-City tackle James Carey, all-league guard Alfred Burruss, and third All-City tackle Henry Webb. . . . The Most Improved Player award also went to three fellows, all-league qb Tom Davis, guard and unsung hero James Lawson. . . . The "Most Valuable Player" award was no contest, with hands down the jumping two-time All-City halfback Jerry Drew was named for this award. . . . Booming Gordon Chappell, all-city fullback was awarded a gold watch chain by Police Officer James Polk for most inspirational player. . . . Members of the daily press and local weeklies were all on hand for the stellar affair. . . . Principal Arthur Farnham, publicist Wallace Buck, M.C. John Childress, all of Jeff; George Dickerson, UCLA line coach; Ike Blotter, Golden State representative, and John Curtis, were some of the prominent guests.

I'm sure everyone concerned, as we do, laud Jeff's No. 1 backer and supporter, Dr. Wells Forde for his outstanding contribution to Jefferson High athletes. Forde can never be paid in nickles and dimes for his outstanding service to the school but to him working and mingling with the Democrats athletes is a joyous kick . . . and to me knowing a swellegant guy that is one of those things money can't buy."

ORCHIDS TO MIRROR'S MAXWELL STYLES

Orchids to Mirror columnist Maxwell Styles for his top-flight articles on the PGA and its ban on Negro golfers in Monday's paper. . . . Styles, in my opinion, is the most fair-minded of all the daily sports writers. In his column he states Horton Smith, newly elected national PGA prexy, declares that he will bring before the next national meeting of the PGA a constitutional amendment that, if passed, would remove the PGA ban against the Negro and bids this decision on to the host club. . . . Styles who has written a couple of articles on this major subject, is doing some worthwhile exploring and I hope for the sake of such fine golfers such as Ted Rhodes and Bill Spiller, Eural Clark and Henry Barbia, some of whom made a fair showing in the recent L.A. Open, it leads to the PGA dropping its ban against race.

BOXERS TESTIMONIAL

My good friend, Herman Hill, top-flight publicity, public relations man, is doing a fine job in publicizing the "Boxers" Testimonial" slated for the newly re-created Club Alabam Jan. 31. . . . I understand the event is scheduled to honor the sepia pugilist of yester-years such as former featherweight champ of the world Chalky Wright, John Thomas, Jackie Wilson and the others it will take until the night of the affair to name. . . . If it's a Herman Hill staged event you can bet it will be tops.

All-Pro Tank Top Bowl Star

Some of the greatest Negro pro-footballers in the world will be on hand when Paul Brown's American conference All-Stars collide with Joe Stydahar's National conference eleven in the annual pro bowl game in the Coliseum Saturday.

George Taliaferro, the versatile New York Yank halfback, Ram's Taul "Tank" Younger, and Deacon Dan Towler, Bill Willis, Len Ford, of the Browns and Giant's Emlon Tunnell.

The American Conference, coached by Paul Brown last year, won over Stydahar's lads 28-27 in a thriller, And this year's contest has all the earmarks of a dead ringer for last winter's meeting.

Brown and the members of his Cleveland Browns will be revenge minded because Stydahar's Rams beat them out of the world pro-championship here in the Coliseum a couple of weeks back.

HURLER SAD SAM INJUNS FLAG HOPES

CLEVELAND — The Cleveland Indians are expected to have the best group of starting hurlers in the majors if Sad Sam Jones, ex-San Diego pitcher, and currently the hottest thing down in the Cuban League lives up to expectations.

Old time managers around the town states that this Sad Sam Jones is quite a pitcher, fully able to walk out and hold his own with Garcia, Lemon, Wynn, Feller, and others who pitch for Lopez, Greenberg and Company.

"He'll win just as many games —or nearly as many—as any of the other Cleveland hurlers will win," declares the veterans. "He has his share of stuff and he knows how to use it. And he'll be in shape when the season starts."

Globetrotters Heading West

CHICAGO—While their owner, Abe Saperstein, is jumping about from one European capital to the other this week, completing plans for their third annual summer junket to the Continent and Africa, the Harlem Globetrotters will be heading for the West Coast.

On the way westward, the famous magicians of the hardwood will play seven games in eight days. By the time they reach the Gold Coast they probably will have racked up their 100th win of the season.

Meantime, Saperstein will be in Europe arranging for the big European tour which will get underway the first of May, following a month-long April jaunt through South America.

Last year the Globetrotters played to more than a half-million people on their invasion of England, Europe and North Africa. Playing the College All-Americans, they won 66 games and lost but one to the brilliant campus heroes, who represented schools from coast to coast.

The games were played in such famous cities as Lisbon, Paris, Geneva, London, Antwerp, Nice, Casablanca, Algiers, Oran, Milan, Berlin and Munich.

The Globetrotters will follow the same route this year, but many more cities will be added to the schedule. Before leaving for Europe this week, Saperstein said:

"We played such good basketball and won so many friends last year, we can't fulfill all the requests from promoters in Europe and Africa. It's quite possible that a million fans will see us play there this summer."

Meantime, on the way west this week the Trotters will play the following schedule: Jan. 10, Kansas City, Mo.; 11, Wichita, Kan.; 12, Colorado Springs, Colo.; 13, Denver, Colo.; 15, Salt Lake City, Utah; 16, Provo, Utah, and in Ogden, Utah, on the 17th.

MOORE, TUCKER HOT IN SPLIT EDGE TILT

WESTWOOD — The UCLA Bruins and the Stanford Indians split a double-bill cagefest here over the weekend to throw the Southern Division into a four-way tie.

Stanford's great forward, Ed Tucker, had to take back seat to the Bruins Freshman sensation Johnny Moore in the first game. The rangy freshman was a demon on defensive and hit the bucket for eight important digits. Moore drew praise from the Injun's coach Bob Burnett, who said he did the best job of guarding done on big all-league Jim Ramstead this year.

However Tucker got revenge in the second fracas he registered 16 points as the Injuns nipped the Bruins 73-71.

Bruin Bobby Pounds, veteran forward, scored 8 and 3 points respectively in each contest. Bouncing Bobby also stood out as play maker.

Table Tennis Tournament to Start Monday

Play in the 1952 Boys' and Girls' Playground Table Tennis Championships will begin Monday, January 14, at municipal recreation centers in every part of Los Angeles, the City Recreation and Park Department announced yesterday.

Opening with neighborhood playground tournaments which will be played January 14 through January 23, the annual event will end with city-wide finals at Normandie Playground Saturday, January 26, at 10:30 a.m., according to Ralph Borrelli, the Recreation and Park Department's director of special events.

The tourney will be run off in two divisions, junior for boys and girls 15 years and under, and senior for youngsters 16 and 17 years old.

Neighborhood playground winners will receive Recreation and Park Department ribbons and city-wide champions and runners-up will be awarded trophies, Borrelli reported.

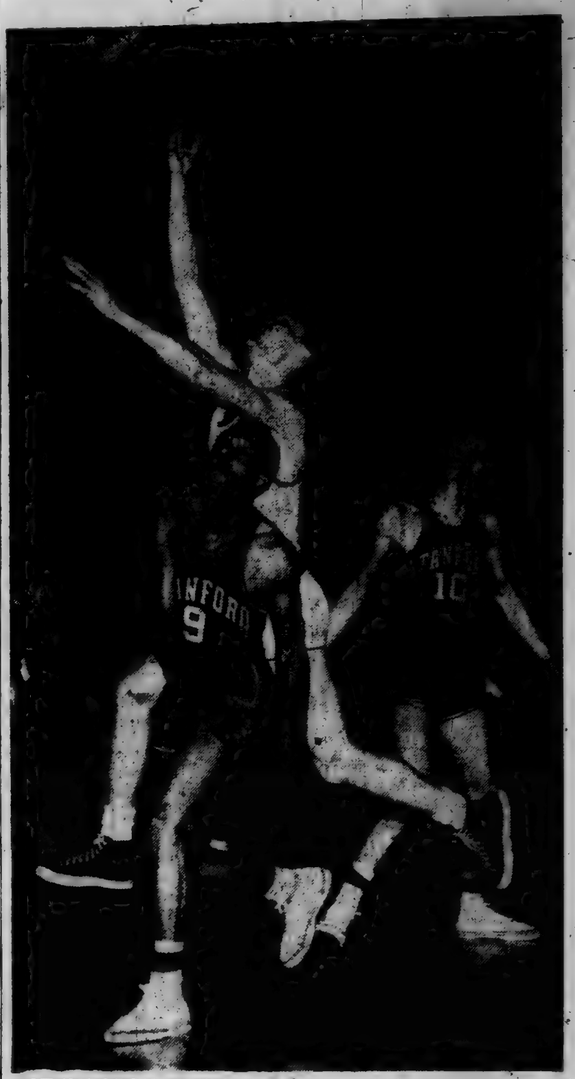
JORDAN FAVORITE IN CITY PREP-PLAY-OFF

By BRAD PYE JR.

The first three teams in each of the six leagues in the town will square off in the first round of the city play-off at Hollywood High Saturday night.

Larry Hanson's Jefferson High Democrats, the defending city champs, will put their title on the block. Jefferson is somewhat of a darkhorse. Jordan, paced by the great Earl Battey, currently the top scorer in the metropolis, and L. A. High sparked by Harold Brooks are two early tourney favorites.

Fremont and Manual which in all probability will be the other two Southern loop representatives, are two clubs that bare close scrutiny. Fremont, which banks on Ralph Kellum, while the Manual Art Toilers count on veteran center Larry Dugan, should not be counted out of the title scrap.



Hanson's Democrats which haven't missed a city tournament since he has been headman at the Hooper Avenue School, will be spearheaded by Forward Ray Anderson, Walter Lawrence and Center Forsha.

The first time a Hanson coached team played in the tourney, it was downed by the great Washington High team of Don Eby, Chet Noe and Bill Cline in the final game for the title. Last year the Democrats with a team that surpassed the fabulous Washington High team broke eight of nine city marks and waltzed away with the city crown. This team was sparked by All-City aces J. C. Gipson, Mas Taylor, Algin Sutton, Dean Johnson, and Charles Hill.

As long as Larry Hanson is around I'm picking the Demos to defend their title successfully.

BARKSDALE REINSTATED

BALTIMORE—Don Barksdale, the ex-UCLA basketball great who was suspended by the Baltimore Bullets, was reinstated this week by the team with both sides keeping mum on what happen.

STANFORD'S FIRST—Negro athlete Ed Tucker in the history of the university (9) is shown in action in the Bruin and Injun cage fest. The Injuns and Bruin split a double-bill.

SANTA ANITA—Phil D., who won the Malibu Sequet Stakes last Saturday by a nose and paid $25.30, earned $19,150 for his owner, W. C. Martin. This brought his lifetime earning to $115,190. Phil D. is one of the best bargains in years. He cost his owner about $1500 as a yearling and has now earned nearly one hundred times his cost. The way he came from behind in the stretch to catch Black Douglas and Intent stamp him as a great colt. Walter C. Marty holds him at 15 to 1 to win the Hundred Grander (The Santa Anita Handicap.) Jockey Ted Atkinson, who fell with Grey Tower in the San Vicente, was not hurt.

— Ramsey

The crowd was estimated at 40,000 and they sent through the mutuels $2,315,781 on the eight-race card. The feature event for this Saturday will be the Santa Catalina Handicap for four-year-olds and upwards foaled in California, at one and one eighth mile. It carries an added value of $25,000. The co-feature will be the Santa Maria Handicap at one mile. It's for fillies and mares, three-years-olds and upwards, and has an added value of $20,000.

NEW CALIENTE IN OLD MEXICO—So La Ci, now 6 years old, came from far behind to score in the featured attraction billed as the Tucson at one mile and seventy yards. Union Flag was second and He Kuene finished third. So La Ci had to be much the best to win, leaving the gate he was next to last, but soon the son of Reigh Count-Kindergarten and his fondness for the mud was fourth in the stretch and at that point jockey M. Volzke shot him to the outside where he mowed down his field to win in the last sixteenth to pay in the mutuels $8.20.

The Yuma Combination was won by Kay Em Count. Taking the lead at the head of the stretch, he won by three lengths over the longshot, Union Flag, and He Kuene, as second choice in the betting, paid $8.00.

The daily double from Pomise the favorite in the fourth race, and Bonner Reigh, also the public choice in the fifth, paid his backers $15.60. The Quniela backers of Stag Night, the favorite, and Cee Bar, a field horse, got the biggest thrill of the day when it paid $438.20. The winner paid straight $6.00. Cee Bar paid $8.80 place. Two features will support the 10-race program this Sunday. Feature will be the Laguna at six furlongs. Secondary, the Palomar, also at six furlongs. Post time: noon.

SALE CENTER—A mammoth profit-sharing sale is now in progress at Times Furniture Co., 5800 S. Vermont that offers to buyers some bang-up bargains on a large selection of topgrade household furnishings. Everything for the house, including chairs, tables, lamps, sofas and dinnerware, is available for purchase in the sale. The store of long and reliable service in the community is open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., Sundays from 10 to 5.

Times Furniture In Profit-Sharing Sale

Times Furniture, the store with a million friends, at 5800 South Vermont, corner of Slauson, is one store that is always coming up with new money-saving surprises for its customers. Times—recognized as the West's leading Home Outfit specialists—is now saying "Thanks" to the people of Southern California for the most successful year in its history, by offering a colossal Profit-Sharing Sale, which promises to be an unequalled bang-up bargain event.

A "Whale of a Sale"

Thousands of miracle values in the finest quality furniture, home furnishings, appliances, bedding, mattress, rugs, carpets, and many others are now on sale at savings as high as 78%. For instance, a complete 3-room outfit, containing 171 pieces, formerly $365, is now only $159. Or you can buy a smart floral print 2-piece bed divan, which usually sells for $128, for only $59.10. Other unusual offerings may be found in the Times Furniture advertisement on the back page of this paper.

Highest Quality—Lowest Prices

The Profit-Sharing Sale at Times is a continuation of its well-known, long-standing policy of offering the lowest prices on finest quality, famous-make merchandise. For many years this store has boasted—and guaranteed—that it "will never be undersold." That it has lived up to its claim, Sam Barbas, store owner, points out, can be found in the testimonials of countless satisfied customers who have continuously traded with the store through the years—and have recommended their friends and relatives.

Every Convenience Afforded

Despite the rock-bottom prices now being offered, Times will continue to provide its famous friendly "extra" service—such as free delivery anywhere in Southern California, free storage in its warehouse for 90 days, easy time payment plan, no carrying charges on all 30, 60 and 90 day accounts, and many other unusual advantages to its customers.

This store, which features the largest single-floor furniture display in Southern California—remains open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily, and from 10 a.m.m to 5 p.m. Sundays for the added convenience of its customers.

L. A. Republicans Go to GOP Meet

Among prominent Angelenos who will attend the Republican National Committee meeting in San Francisco January 17 to 19 are Fred M. Roberts, Louis V. Cole, Leon M. Giles and Carl J. Johnson.

All are members of the 62nd Assembly district Republican committee, which has gone on record in favor of the presidential candidacy of Gov. Earl Warren. The Los Angeles County committee, however, is uncommitted.

In San Francisco while the national committeemen are in session will also be a group of California Republicans opposed to the governor. This group is sponsoring a dinner Monday night, Jan. 14, at the Palace hotel.

Four Boys Hurt Playing With Gun

LOS ANGELES — Four small Watts boys were recovering Monday afte ra distastrous experience with a BB gun and a high velocity rifle cartridge.

As his playmates watched, Herman Scott, Jr., 11, of 11584 Croesus avenue, placed a .300 caliber catrridge in the muzzle of the B Bgun and aimed it into the air.

When he pulled the trigger, the BB pellet exploded the cartridge and the gun barrel, showering the four with fragments.

Treated at Georgia Street Receiving oHspital with Herman were James Horace, 12, and his brother, Charles, 10, both of 11566 Croesus avenue, and Wilbur Tillman, 10, of 11558 Croesus avenue.

BILL'S HOUSE PURCHASED WITH NO MONEY DOWN

"Bill's House" strikes a familiar chord with busy house hunters throughout the city. The house with the catchy name is a model of a group of homes constructed by Fairchild Realty company to offer anyone a house to be purchased with no money down.

During the time when the high cost of living calls for high costs in property purchases, it is difficult to imagine that anxious home seekers can buy a complete house with no money down. But the background idea behind the enterprising project was revealed by Wesley J. Fairchild.

Fairchild knew that a great number of people were in need of low priced homes. Usually the homes of this type are located in subdivisions which are large tracts of land divided for such building purposes. Since such huge lots are available only on the outskirts of the city, many avoid buying due to location.

Major Study

With concentration and major study on the problem, Fairchild developed a plan wherein property and homes could be purchased in popular districts for the convenience of the prospective purchasers.

These comfortable homes definitely required no down payment.

Use the model "Bill's House" for example. Located at 3770 La Salle street on the corner of Exposition, it lends availability to several schools, growing shopping districts and transportation spots. It is sited on a level lot. Upon purchasing, a front lawn will be planted with nine full grown shrubberies included.

The exterior is constructed of stucco and painted in rich colors. Of modern style, it follows a hungalow design which is the demand in building trends of today. Placed in districts where nice homes are abundant, it stands out as one of distinctive style and taste.

Two Bedrooms

The large interior is composed of four spacious rooms. Shining asset is two bedrooms, gayly painted and located in parts of the house where sunlight can enter. Closet space more than compensates a family's practical needs.

An extra large living room invites ample space for dining facilities. Tile kitchen and bath attract any housekeeper's attention. The home is ideal for small families desiring their own private property. Monthly payments run as low as $41.50 a month.

Under construction are 32 homes which are near completion. Showings of Bill's House may be made by phoning Fairchild's office, REpublic 3-2161 or visiting him at 3719 S. Western. Complete details, including loan financing, are available during regular office hours.

Boy Scout Council Plans Annual Dinner

Local Scouters and their wives were extended an invitation this week to attend the annual dinner meeting of the Los Angeles Area Boy Scout Council by Judge E. L. Jefferson, district chairman of the Council's Mckinley district, which includes this community. The dinner is scheduled for Monday, Jan. 28, in the Ambassador's Hotel, Cocoanut Grove and will be climaxed by presentation of Silver Beaver awards, highest council recognition, to 13 scouters whose service to boyhood has been exceptional.

Judge Jefferson said the meeting will include election and installation of council officers for 1952, and a program of entertainment and pageantry, plus an outstanding speaker. He stated that Council President Walter H. Rolapp has named George Harger, board member, as annual meeting chairman.

Harger will work with a committee which includes Actor George Murphy as program chairman; Judge B. Scheinman, Silver Beaver awards; Stanley T. Olafson, arrangements; Flay W. Forker, reception; Robert Byrns, attendance; and Philip Chandler, James F. Buehner, M. H. Waldron, David Saloti Alfred Hopkins.

ROI OTTLEY

love for Los Angeles, on this his first visit.

Loves L. A.

"I'm in love with the place," said Ottley with a hearty laugh. "I love the architecture and the great living space people enjoy in Los Angeles. I'm going to make this my home if I can find some place to live and something to do.

Another evidence of Ottley's cosmopolitan awareness is his latest book, "No Green Pastures," a best seller, moving at a faster rate than his first book "New World A-Coming, which projected him into national fame in 1943.

Ottley was born in New York City in 1906. He was educated at St. Bonaventure's College and the University of Michigan. He began his writing career as a reporter on the N. Y. Amsterdam Star-News and spent seven years there as editor and columnist. Later he did free-lance work for Liberty magazine, the New York Times Magazine Section, the New Republic and others. After serving as publicity director for the National CIO War Relief Committee, Ottley went abroad for three years as foreign correspondant for Liberty and P.M. From 1944 until 1948 Ottley covered the entire European scene, interviewing statesmen and reporting the European picture as a foreign correspondant, not as a Negro foreign correspondant. He was given the job on the basis of his ability as a trained observer and a crack reporter and his reports field, compared with the best of the experienced world reporters.

European Utopia

Ottley leaned back with a slightly cynical smile and observed, "American embassy officials give you every consideration. You wouldn't know that he ever entertained one thought of prejudice. We ate and socialized together, and never once was the question of race raised in even the most subtle manner. You were Americans together in a foreign land, and he was hell-bent to see that you enjoyed all the benefits of the prestige that rich America has abroad.

Keen-minded Ottley further opined, "They didn't have the pressure of their neighbors on them. They could be free and easy with you without fear of social reprisal. The same fellow you ate and danced with in a foreign hotel, would cut you dead on Fifth Avenue.

While Ottley was observing the ways of white folks for Liberty and P.M., as the first Negro foreign correspondant in Europe, he was also observing the social and cultural conditions of his colored brother who is native to Europe.

These observations are the gist of his book "No Green Pastures."

No Green Pastures

His publishers say on the jacket blurb, "No Green Pastures deals with a subject that has never before been examined throughly—the situation of the Negro in Europe today. Moving from England to France and Italy, into Germany and then through the Balkins to Greece, Egypt and Israel, it gives a clear unbiased picture of how the principal European nations treat their Negro population and their colonial possessions. It discusses the attitude of the whites, the prejudices, and the opportunities available for the Negro; it is filled with fascinating information not to be found anywhere else."

Ottley carefully points out that his book deals with the indigenous European Negro. "When the American Negro tourist goes abroad they roll out the red carpet for him. After all, he is coming with American dollars, and there is nothing they love more than American dollars. Prejudice is so subtle in Europe, that an American Negro can travel the length and breath of Europe, and never be consciously discriminated against.

If they have given in to the white American's insistance that Negroes are personna non grata, when a Negro comes up for accommodations, they make him feel like the greatest person in the world, 'but if you had just been five minutes earlier. It is a subtle sort of discrimination, not the rough, obvious treatment accorded Negroes in America.

Beautiful Negroes

"In addition to the desire for American dollars and American prestige that causes Europeans to give American tourists first class treatment, Negroes are glamorous and exotic to Europeans, because they consider Negro features and skin tones beautiful. Fair-skinned Negroes with straight hair get ordinary treatment, but heavy-featured, dark hued Negroes are the toast of European society."

The reason for this in Ottley's opinion is that European artists have gone back to African primative art and made it basic to their modern efforts. "They see skin tones and beauty in features that American Negroes often consider ugly, as the American beauty ideal comes from magazine covers."

Ottley points out that Negro American tourist is not looking for a job or a living in Europe, and is no economic threat to the average European, therefore there is no need to segregate or discriminate him. But his European dark brother, that's an entirely different question, and that is the fascinating subject that "No Green Pastures" deals with.

In 1948 Ottley published Black Odyssey, a history of the Negro in the United States. He is currently doing free dance writing and working on a new book, and expects to remain in Los Angeles for several weeks.

Want to End All Bias?—Here's New Cure All

Eugene Purnell, self confessed promoter of a plan to end "the last vestige of discrimination" in the country, this week issued a call for a conference to launch a "Negro League for Human Rights. "Only those considered as negro" (the lack of capitalization is Purnell's) may attend the conference slated for Jan. 19 and 20 at Masonic Hall, 5904 So. Broadway.

The organization as no connection with the Communist party or any other existing organization, Purnell said. All Negroes, regardless of religious or political beliefs are invited to attend, he said.

nl Kentucky, many private colleges as well as state schools are accepting Negro students.

UN Asks So. Africa Suspend Jim Crow

PARIS—South Africa took another mild slap in the face over its total racial segregation policy when a special United Nations Committee asked it to suspend enforcement of its Jim Crow laws and urged appointment of an international commission to look into the entire matter.

Although the United States voted for the resolution it abstained from voting on a motion to ask South Africa to suspend the so-called Group Areas act. That act requires Africans to live in special segregated sections of the country.

The final vote in favor of the resolution was 41 to 2, with only South Africa and Australia in the opposition.

The Political Committee of the General Assembly adopted a resolution critical of the Apartheid (segregation) policy of the Government and Prime Minister Daniel F. Malaga. Thirteen countries, including France, Britain and Canada, abstained.

The resolution now goes for formal approval to the plenary Assembly which has the membership as the Special Political Committee. The overwhelming support of the committee apparently assumed the resolution—sponsored by Burma, India, Indonesia, Iran and Iraq—passage by the Assembly itself.

The committee decision was a special triumph for India which for five years has been carrying her fight against South Africa discrimination to the United Nations. South Africa, which had contended that the issue was strictly one for domestic jurisdiction, remained silent during the current debate.

Earlier Steps Recalled

Several paragraphs in the joint resolution express criticism of the South African Government for its racial segregation program. The resolution said that apartheid was "necessarily based on doctrines of racial discrimination" and recalled earlier resolutions of the Assembly critical of the policy. It also noted that the Union Government had ignored Assembly criticism and had gone ahead with the implementation of its Group Areas Act setting aside special sectors for the colored inhabitants of the country.

On a vote on the section asking that the Group Areas Act be set aside for the time being, the United States abstained. But the section was adopted by a vote of 31 to 9, with 17 abstentions. It called upon the Union Government to "suspend the provisions of the Group Areas Act pending the conclusion" of the negotiations of the three-member commission.

Tobias Visits Pope

PARIS — Dr. Channing H. Tobias, member of the American delegation to the United Nations General Assembly, has returned to Paris following a holiday visit to Italy and Vatican City.

Dr. Tobias was granted a private audience with Pope Pius with whom he agreed that spiritual factors are of prime importance in providing a basis for peace.

Suicide Leaves Money to Friend

Hearing on the petition for probate of the will of Willie Mae Harris, who was adjudged a suicide following her death by a gunshot wound last Dec. 13th, has been set for Jan. 15.

Atty. Walter L. Gordon, in whose law office the will made by Miss Harris was drawn up in 1950, was named executor of the estate, believed to have a value of upwards of $20,000. The will named Roger Leal the sole heir.

Post Office To Reopen Old Loyalty Cases

WASHINGTON — Two important announcements were made this week by the National Alliance of Postal Employees. The first affects thousands of postal workers now holding probational appointments in the Custodial Service and the Vehicle Service under Civil Service.

The second warns of the reopening of 565 "loyalty" cases for U.S. employes and the possible prostitution of the President's Loyalty Order against militant Negro workers.

Assistant Posmtaster General Walter Myers has advised The NAPE that employes may now make their applications for permanent status as postal employes. This means that post office custodians, truck drivers and other vehicle operators are eligible to get out of their "temporary status by making proper application. Such applications should be made to postal official in local areas, and the NAPE stands ready to aid its members in facilitating their wishes in this field.

Rechecking of 565 old loyalty cases of U.S. employes under the new Government policy that "a reasonable doubt" of loyalty is sufficient to bar employment, as announced by the Civil Service Commission, has caused the National Alliance of Postal Employees to issue new "alerts" to its members.

NAPE members and officers are warned to use every precaution to guard against the use of the new policy as an instrument to "get rid of" Negro employes who have been militant in the fight against racial discrimination in the postal service, as was the case in some of the cases filed against NAPE men two years ago.

Pair Injured In Car Crash

Two men were seriously injured and a third was booked on suspicion of drunk driving felony early Friday as the result of an auto collision at Main street and Adams boulevard.

Cab driver Carl A. Johnson of 1230 E. 48th street, received a fractured rib and his passenger, Fred Coleman, 20, of 870 E. 53rd street, received a possible broken back when the cab was struck by another car.

The driver of the other car, Stewart Jenson, 31, of 6534½ Santa eF avenue, Huntington Park, received minor injuries. The three men were treated at Georgia Street Receiving Hospital and Coleman was transferred to General Hospital. Jenson was booked after taking an intoximeter test.

There are now Negro members on a number of civic boards in various Southern cities.

THE DELTAS — One of the most beautiful of the Christmas-New Year invitational dances was the formal ball sponsored by Delta Sigma Theta sorority at the Elks ballroom between the two holidays. Just a few of the charmers who belong to that outstanding organization are pictured here. They are Janet Lawson, Pauline James, Eula Dean Roby, Helen Wright, Bernice Lawson, Cristabel Armstrong, Jean Watkins and Anna Lois Schooler.

Holiday Echoes

Ralphe Porter is THE EAGLE'S GUEST

Even while we sing, he smiles his last and leaves our sphere behind. The good old year is with the past. Oh! be the new as kind.

This Christmas-New Year season has been one of retrospection for me. It's amusing to contrast all the lavish parties of this period with the parties of yesteryear's Los Angeles.

I know I'm not the only one who can remember when a "fine deal" was the punch in an enameled pan camouflaged in gay crepe paper and the house decorated in streamers, loops and bows of the same crepe paper.

But the town's coming of age!

Witness these recent festivities where no one wore sport shoes with formals nor white ties with tuxedos. (That actually did happen here not too many years ago.)

At the beginning of the week, the jolly 12 Matrons, an Eastern Star group, held their annual Christmas Party. Conscientious Frankie Bowdoin, president of the club and past matron in OES, was pleased because the guests were. Same goes for LaFuilia Shaw, secretary, Mrs. O. L. Harrison, reporter. Among the honored guests were Arthur L. Crosby, Masonic grand patron; Geraldine O'Connor, grand associate matron; Mary L. Firm, grand secretary; J. Ellis, grand associate conductress (Pasadena); Beatrice McCarroll, past grand matron; Ellen Weber, past deputy grand lecturer, and Herbert L. Lampkins, past grand patron.

Afternoon's highlights were the exchange of gifts, the revelation of secret palships, a sumptuous seven-course dinner, carol singing and, of course, the Christmas spirit.

The Joneses

Samuel and Willetta Jones of West Jefferson boulevard, had some 50 guests to a lavish buffet dinner at their home.

The Dueces, an organization of young society couples with Hugh McBeth Jr. as prexy, entertained at least 100 guests, including the Jesse Huttons, Dr. John Carneys, Dr. Arthur Mitchells, Dr. Walter Davises, Dr. George McLeods, Leslie Shaws, Homer Garrotts, Curtis Watts, Lloyd Herbs.

Some of the Dueces are the George Smiths, Sanford Smiths, Rudy Martins, Lantz Balthazars, Roland Bells, Capt. and Mrs. Booker Carter, the Irvin Fosters, Fred Griffins, Leonard Spencers and Warren Browns.

At Laura Slayton's

The ever-active Doll League installed its officers Sunday night at Laura Slayton's really beautiful S. Harvard boulevard home, Euvalde Morris took office as president. (Only reason for skimping on this item is that I know you had pictures, names and details. Vi, in last week's edition of the Eagle.)

The Pal o' Mine club, with Gertrude Hilburn as president, had a fabulous party, too. Among their guests were Alma Fain, Leo Davis, the Gilbert Lindseys, Noble Crouch, James Batistes, Frank Braxtons, Everett Walshes and many others.

Catherine Ingram was hostess to an eggnog party at her 11th Avenue residence Christmas morning.

Chi Eta Phi, a sorority of graduate nurses, celebrated the eve of New Year's Eve with a host of friends. Wonderful gang of gals, those! Included in this chapter (Delta) of the national sorority are Fay O. Wilson, basileus; Rubye Wiggins, antibasileus; Millicent Walcott, corresponding secretary; Ruth Davis, recording secretary; Clyde McCollum, treasurer; Irma Holmes, historian; Symantha White Thorne, financial secretary; Georgia Hardiman, chaplain.

Committee in charge of the annual Christmas party was made up of Jessie McDaniel, Catherine Norris, Euvalde Morris, and Evelyn Henderson.

The sorority boasts two newlywed couples; Mr. and Mrs. James Patton (Bernice Batchelor) and Mr. and Mrs. Wonderful Smith (Gertrude Thames). The latter pair were wed here on Thanksgiving day by the Rev. Browning Allen.

More about Chi Eta Phi — the Elilay chapter was organized in 1939. Membership is open to all registered nurses. There's a six-week pledge period and next initiation is in March. Among

Season's Final Reports

EDITOR'S NOTE: Still the accounts of gay holiday events pour into The Eagle's office. We are happy to continue (in print and pictures) the friendliest, gayest, happiest, most hospitable season of all. Wish it could go on all year . . . vmb.

The Regional Practical Nurses Association of Los Angeles met at the Grace Sanitarium for the Aged on Imperial boulevard in Los Angeles Christmas Day and served a full course turkey dinner including ice cream and cake to 42 residents of the institution.

Prayer was said by Mrs. Rosa Brown, chaplain of the organization. Patients who were not able to come to table were fed in their beds and gifts of wash cloths and soap were distributed as well as candy and fruits.

Members present to make this day a lasting memory for these elder citizens were President Mrs. Edith McKinney; Vice-President Mrs. Blanch Bell; Chaplain Mrs. Brown; Financial Secretary Mrs. Naomi Carr; Ex-Business Manager Mrs. Jean Riley, and Mrs. Emma Taylor and Mrs. Lozerture Hayden.

This is only one of the many charitable acts this organization is planning for the in-coming year. It is also launching a membership drive for all practical nurses. Meetings are held the third Sunday of each month at Ross Snyder Playground, 1501 E. 41st street from 4 to 6 p.m. All interested nurses are invited to attend.

The members of the Executive Board of Carver Junior High School P-TA were guests in the beautiful home of Mrs. Ellis Dickerson on Friday, December 20, for their annual Christmas party. Each person brought a gaily wrapped gift for exchange. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wardle were presented with a gift from the board for a new arrival expected shortly in their family. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Purdy were given a box of cookies made by Mrs.

Omega Men On Flight To Havana

A group of outstanding leaders is concluding sessions of the Omega Psi Phi fraternity in Miami with a New Year's visit to Havana.

Ninety-five members of the fraternity flew to the Cuban capital December 30 by Pan Amrican World Airways and its Cuban affiliate, Compania Cubana de Aviacion.

Fifty-five members of the tour party left Miami Sunday at 7:30 p.m. and 40 others departed an hour later.

The two groups returned on flights arriving in Miami Tuesday (January 1) at 11 and 11:45 a.m.—in time to attend the Orange Bowl football game that afternoon.

The educators and civic leaders had as their convention theme "Seeking World Peace Through Strengthening Democracy."

GREETING ROI OTTLEY—Socially prominent Helen Garrott (back to camera) greets world-renowned author Roi Ottley during last Sunday afternoon's reception in his honor. Members of the League of Allied Arts were hostesses to many of the city's elite who heard Ottley speak about his newest book "No Green Pastures." Left to right are Mabel Hurd, Mae Myers, Ottley and Mrs. Ottley. The Westchester place home of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Hurd was the scene of the event.

YOU RESTING?

Only the hardiest seemed still to go gallivanting until all hours this "week-end after."

Lotsa afternoon stuff, though. Saturday saw a group of newspaper and publicity people gathered at the downtown office of St. Augustine-Westview hospital Fund. Willa Booker, handling public relations for the fund-raising campaign; Marie Castile, volunteer worker; Jesse Robinson, on loan from the Post Office department to do an important coordinating and public speaking job for the project, and Pete Hurley, in charge of the entire drive, were hostesses and hosts.

Party and meeting combined, the get-together provided — in more than one way for some of us — a stimulating afternoon. Present were Ethel January, Laura Slayton, Wini Orr, "Pat Alexander, Cora Ball Moten, Delbert Murray and Harry Brooks. Brooks, too, was among the hosts and is an active "wheel" in the campaign for the much-needed community hospital.

One outcome of the conference was the decision to invite any and all community clubs to send representatives to a meeting at St. Augustine-Westview offices, (1151 S. Broadway, Rm. 705) next Monday, January 14.

Top figures in the drive will answer any questions put to them about the past, present and future of the project and clubs will be told how they can participate.

Incidentally, I'd wager very few in the community know that a basement area already has been constructed on the hospital site.

MEETING ROI OTTLEY

League of Allied Arts members really did the town a favor when they presented Roi Ottley at a Sunday afternoon invitational reception at the beautiful Westchester place home of Mabel Hurd.

Ottley (his latest best-seller is "No Green Pastures") was informative and witty in both a short talk and the question period which followed it.

His attractive wife captured the admiring attention of the guests with her poise and charm.

Theme of "No Green Pastures," as you probably know, is that life abroad is not nearly as race prejudice-free as most HANDSOME COUPLE—Pretty Rosemary Goode exchanged marriage vows with popular Lewis Hudson at the home of her mother, Mrs. Gussie Merritt, 2242 W. 25th street, last Sunday evening. Rev. L. L. White officiated the rites in the presence of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Hudson, parents of the groom. Members of both families and close friends were entertained by the couple after the quiet impressive ceremony took place.

City Employe Party Helps Hospital Funds

Arthur Randis, city employe, 3224 Verdugo road, was given a television set at the party.

Clifford L. Davis, chairman of the sponsoring group, the Los Angeles City Custodians (day group) at the City Hall for St. Augustine-West View hospital, reported that 90 per cent of the employes in the City Hall responded to the drive.

Others participating included Albert Ishman, vice-chairman; Mrs. Lillian Gaines, secretary; Raymond Farthing, treasurer, and Adolph Gates, a member. Mrs. Goldie Young was chairman of the committee on arrangements.

On The Delightful Side

Haroldine Browning, beloved by just about everybody everywhere surely, followed through on Santa's Christmas gift cue (he left a magnificent ring in her stocking, you know) with the traditional pass-the-candy gesture of all happy engaged folk; she chose the Saturday night meeting of her sorority to do so. The lad of her life is likeable Bobby Bruington, with whom she's been cheek-to-cheeking for, lo, these many, many long months and more. Nothing definite at this date, although it's pretty safe to say it doubtless will be a quiet Easter marriage with a reception following. And, her devoted aunt, Margaret Ann Browning of Kansas City, and her godmother, Mrs. Leota Lackey of Wilberforce, no doubt will be on hand. And, too, another happy person at it all is Jo Baker, who has known Haroldine all her life; La Baker didn't hear the news until she reached town just now. If she's in the country, then, and free, she will, I'm sure, hasten here for the wedding.

A Wedding

Rosemary Goode exchanged vows Sunday evening at her W. 25th street home with Louis Hudson. The bridegroom's sister and brother-in-law, the Harvey Brookses, stood with them. Rev. L. L. White officiated. Intimate friends came in for a toast, later. Bee DeVaughn, among those Angelenos who whooped things up a bit in the Bay area over the holidays. Newlyweds Alma and C. G. Price plan a Mexico City trip of a month or so. No Europe. Homeward bound after SF, Philly's Dr. Walter Jerrick, stopping over here, continued East Wednesday. He stopped with Rev. and Mrs. Isaacs. Dr. Jerrick's sister-in-law, Ruth Scott, summered here, taking some work at SC. Other house guests at the Isaacs were Dr. A. Wayman Ward of Chi (he's the AME bishop candidate) and Ward, Jr., and J. C. Gibson of Waco, Tex. Rev. Isaacs, who is dean of the Theological Seminary at Paul Quinn College in Texas, returned to his duties Saturday. The Wards, incidentally, were in SF.

Reggie Fenderson, pretty badly shaken up in that Ohio car smash. The Dooley Wilsons, also in it, escaped serious injury fortunately. Reggie's mother, Mrs. Ernest Whitman, keeping in daily touch with him by phone. Atlanta school marm Freddye Henderson (she and her three kids were in SF with her husband, who drove out for the Alphas) came through here en route home to Dixie.

Noted Designer

As head of the tremendously successful National Association of Fashion and Accessories Designers, Inc., she presided over an informal assembly Wednesday of local artisans with the idea of forming a local chapter. The group met at Mildred Blount's; she was made chairman. At a later date this nucleus will become active, etc. The Hendersons hit the highway home Thursday.

Carl Jones returned to town on the 4th for a few days. Wife Doris is visiting his mother in Sacramento. The Maceo Smiths of Dallas, and Dr. Lewis Mitchell of Austin, Tex., got off home okay after holidaying hereabouts. Talk is Dr. Ben Walker may join the duo soon of the John Johnsons of Chi (Mrs. J. is sister to Ben) and fly to Mexico City with them for a short vacation. Emily Woody, they tell me, had one of the nicest Yule parties in town. Before Louis Arreaga started back to Korea he and his wife, Margery, were good cause for the party given by the Johnny Aters. Inez Davis dashed up to Richmond for that matchless New Year's Eve champagne party given by that town's top drawer, Dr. and Mrs. Rickmond. Also there: Dr. Andrew Rose of Dayton. Later, he spent a few days here at the Hill street Clark Hotel. Clara Patterson, who flew out from N.Y. to bury her brother, will stay on awhile. She has been in Santa Rosa.

Tempestuous Hazel Shumate debating returning to the real estate field. The Bay area Links, headed by Lorraine Rickmond, have a whole slough of projects afoot and folk up that way really know they're present. Amazing woman, Mrs. R. She follows a rigorous program while keeping house for her medico husband, who is the senior practicing physician in the Bay area. Ex-Bostonians Dr. and Mrs. Ted McCurdy (Talulu) rang the welkin, too, with a downright elegant holiday breakfast in that lovely home of theirs in the Berkeley hills. That's Dorothy Razaf at the wheel of that new chartreuse car. Chi's Al Duckett at Nat Cole's party says, "I'm flying to St. Louis on the 12th to talk with Duke Ellington. He's being presented a plaque then and the guy who started that mud slinging at him in the press will be on hand. Hey now!"

Club Tells of Holiday Giving

Dorothy Bridgewater was hostess to the Puente Hostesses Social club for the annual Christmas party and disclosure of secret pals. Gifts were exchanged. Mrs. Bridgewater was also sweepstakes winner for the final quarter of 1951 in bridge scores.

Plans were completed for the club's charity project of the year. Two needy families were given baskets of food and clothing. The children, of which there were ten in the two families combined, were each given gifts by the ten club girls. Food for the baskets was bought by the club from Mrs. Mary Smith, a member, who gave the benefit of her wholesale prices enabling the club to purchase much more for the money spent.

On New Year's Eve at the spacious home of Mrs. Grace Williams, the club girls and their invited guests greeted the new year.

Merry making continued until the wee hours of the morning. Refreshments were prepared and served by Dorothy Bridgewater and her committee. Games were conducted by Mrs. Mabel Troy and committee. All other members worked at odd jobs to make the party a huge success.

Next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Carl B. Foreman on Sunday, January 13.

Personable Myrtle Brown Plans Civic Improvement

One woman almost always in the forefront of local planning for civic betterment is Mrs. Myrtle Brown, a personable and energetic pioneer of 30 years in the community. Mrs. Brown works for civic good mostly through clubs with which she is exceptionally active as leader and member. A naturally aggressive person, she is currently serving as a member of the board of directors of East Side Settlement Club and as president of the Ladies Civic and Charity of 42 Club, a post she has held for some 9 years now. She holds memberships in several other organizations, including the YWCA, NAACP, Ward Chapel and Avalon Community Center. For years she has campaigned in support of the Community Chest.

Mrs. Brown has many wholesome interests. She finds great pleasure in the theater and outings and is an ardent sports fan. A proud local resident, she likes Los Angeles better than any other city anywhere. She has reared two daughters as a widow and is now the proud grandmother of two girls, Myrtle Jean and Gretta Joy Terrell.

Always active in work to make the community a better place to live, Mrs. Brown has planned something new that should please the local citizenry. She is opening her spacious and comfortable home at 2103, S. Hobart to churches, lodges, sororities, clubs and individuals for weddings, teas, receptions, banquets, parties and other social and civic events.

Fees will be reasonable, for some occasions as low as $10. Arrangements for rental of the Brown house can be made by phoning PArkway 3885.

INTRODUCTORY TEA — Members of the Industrial Club welcomed the yuletide season with an Introductory Tea recently at the YWCA, Woodlawn branch. Amid a Yuletide setting the introductions were made by Mrs. Kathryn Kinney, branch executive director. A very timely reading was presented by Valerie Middlebrook, club member. Tea was served and an informal social period constituted the remainder of the evening. Shown in photo from left to right: Mrs. C. M. Stewart, Valerie Middlebrook, Elizabeth Ricardo. Ida Elliott, Ena Titus, Jewell E. Davis, Young Adult Program Director, Misses Marie Bowden, chairman, and Jackie Clack.

Club Chatter

The Musolit Club enjoyed its 13th annual Yuletide party Thursday eve, December 27, at the home of Mrs. Letitia Hoard, on East 50th Street.

Mrs. Gladys Allen is president of the Club. Mrs. Elmer Trigg, friend of the adviser R. C. Jackson, was a pleasant guest.

An Ode

Through bloodshot eyes we watched the clock,
At twelve we heard the bell.
We balled and brawled 'till half past five,
And now we feel like "heck."

Each year we resolve to do some things,
We know just can't be done,
Like coming in each night 'fore twelve
Yet we enter with the sun.

Like studying hard, or driving slow,
Or trying to stay at home.
But only an imbecile thinks that way,
As Nero, when he burned down Rome.

Enough for nonsense as we conclude
'Cause the primary thing we seek,
Is to know of all the happenings going on
So we can write this column every week.

—Les Hounds

Even trying to mention every party or every person we greeted during the past week or so would be impossible but let no one feel slighted because we're going to try.

One of the finest in the long string of parties we attended over the weekend was at the home of Janice Williams given in honor of Alberta Henderson, Lytamarie Coleman, and Anna King who just got in from Frisco. Through the haze of the high and cigarette smoke, we noticed Reggie Boyd, Pete O'Garro, Peggie Terry, Betty Normand, Bud Conner, Geneva Fields, Wanda Govan and Seletha Huff dancing on the clouds. Those confined to seats were Sherril Luke, Ann Allen, Connie McCallister, Bobby White, and Wilson Robinson who thought it best to sit rather than be stampeeded by a thundering herd of drunken dancers. Enough of this.

This weeks A.K.A. affair was a soiree given by the Sigma chapter, for A.K.A.'s only behind closed doors. Through a clever bit of espionage on our part, we succeeded in smuggling out the names of Anita Bowen, Peggi Beasley and Lou Robinson, Christmas carols were sung and the afternoon was climaxed by a solo from Patricia Dickerson, a former student of Carver.

Next Carver P-TA will be meeting on Tuesday, January 15, at 2 p.m. in the school library. Parents will be taken on a tour of the home-making departments, electrical shop, and woodshop. Refreshments served will be prepared by the students. Everyone is invited.

Serving as a colorful Christmas setting was the Kappa Kastle for the Kappa Mothers' annual Yuletide party.

Mrs. Tabitha Walton, president, inspired the collection of ladies by telling the traditional Christmas story of the birth of Jesus Christ.

A number of gay piano selections were played by Mrs. Murel Brewer. Various members told interesting tales about their first knowledge of Christmas and Santa Claus.

Christmas carols were sung by members of Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity.

Editorial

The Mayor Is Right

Mayor Fletcher Bowron's courageous disapproval of the city council's resolution rescinding the contract for ten thousand low cost housing units should rally the citizens of Los Angeles around the City Housing Authority which is trying to salvage the program.

The mayor points out quite correctly that the low cost housing program is no threat at all to private industry. He underscores what Senator Robert Taft—surely no friend of socialism—said some time ago to the effect that private industry never has and never can afford to build homes for people on the lower income brackets.

Mr. Bowron is also on sound ground when he points out that the city will lose millions of dollars if it abandons the program now. It will have to repay about fifteen millions of dollars to the government and will get nothing at all for that sum. It will get less than nothing because it will doom ten thousand families to the slums. And the city will have to pay the cost of sickness, disease, crime and juvenile delinquency that slum existence breeds.

In addition, the city's abrogation of its contract will serve to give it a black eye and spread the impression that Los Angeles doesn't keep its word or observe its agreements.

The yarn that there was fraud or misrepresentation when the council unanimously approved the agreement with the federal government was also exploded by the mayor. He points out that Los Angeles has had a long experience with public housing and that it has thirteen thousand such low cost housing units in operation right now. They were in operation in 1949. Of course, the council knew what they were about when they approved the contract. There wasn't any fraud. There wasn't any misrepresentation.

What has happened since 1949 is that selfish real estate groups have decided that they can grab the land the city has cleared for the housing sites and that they can make money by building private developments. They're determined to do just that. And if they do, the housing projects they build will rent for too much and sell for too much to be of any benefit to lower income groups. And, as we've said before, such developments will be closed to Negroes and members of other minority groups except in a few instances.

We've disagreed with the mayor many times. We'll probably do so again. But here is one instance in which he is so clearly correct that he deserves the active commendation and support of every citizen. If he gets the kind of support he deserves, Los Angeles can yet save its housing program from a little band of selfish men who are seeking profits at the cost of human suffering.

A Monument for Moore

Florida Sheriff Willis McCall, who murdered one prisoner and seriously wounded another, pulled a neat stunt last week when he came up with a "confession" from a convict who claims to have heard McCall's victims plotting to attack the sheriff.

The prisoner who "overheard" the plot saved his neck by his timely revelation. He was in the death house and obliging Governor Fuller Warren, the pal of gamblers and racketeers, has given him an indefinite reprieve at McCall's request.

The confession story is just about as clumsy as McCalls' story that he had to shoot the prisoners because they "jumped" him. The prisoners, it will be remembered, were handcuffed toegther at the time they are supposed to have attacked the sheriff. They were unarmed. They were shot on a lonely road. The survivor tells a convincing story of how he was shot by both the sheriff and the closely following deputy.

The confession story is false on its face. Nobody can believe that two men who were planning to attack a sheriff would have discussed their plans in such loud voices that a prisoner in another cell could have overheard their plans. And it is significant that the murderer who "overheard" the plot told it at the very last minute, just in time to escape execution.

It isn't hard to figure out why McCall came up with the confession at this late hour. The FBI is hot on his trail. Evidence that wasn't produced at the farcial 'investigation" ordered by Florida's governor shows that the bullets which were fired into the handcuffed prisoners ranged downward, thus bearing out the testimony of the survivor who insists that he and the murdered man were shot after they had fallen. One of those bullets was dug up out of the ground. McCall is afraid of federal prosecution and he needs the phony confession to bolster his "defense" story.

The clamor for federal action has grown louder, too, with the death of Mrs. Harry Moore who was seriously injured when her house was bombed and her husband killed Christmas night. Moore, who was state secretary of the NAACP, had been one of the leaders in the movement to prosecute McCall.

Nothing that anybody can do can restore the lives of Harry Moore and his wife. We're sure that Moore, who had dedicated his life to the job of protecting the rights of Negroes in his native state, would agree that the best monument that could be erected to him would be the prosecution and jailing of Willis McCall—not for the purpose of wreaking vengeance on the sadistic sheriff but to serve notice on him and his ilk everywhere that America is no longer a safe place for officers who use their position to murder unarmed prisoners.

No Safety in Retreat

We don't suppose that many people will be attracted to the conference proposed by Eugene Purnell to form a new organization to be composed only of Negroes "to wipe out the last vestige of discrimination."

We're only commenting on it because we think that Purnell reflects a kind of frustration that afflicts us all at times. Consistent denial of constitutional rights, the rise of the Ku Klux Klan, the Florida bombings, the rantings of Talmadge and similar incidents understandably give rise to resentment against those who are responsible. And when in every instance those responsible are white persons, it is all too easy to jump to the conclusion, as Purnell woes, that the only salvation for the Negroes lies in banding together on a racial basis.

The truth of the matter is that Negroes can't hope for solution of their problems by isolating themselves from their fellow Americans. We are one-tenth of the population. We lack economic and political power by ourselves. We need allies. We need help. Those allies and that help must come from white Americans who have foresight enough to see that the preseravtion of the democratic system demands raising the Negro to the status of first class citizenship.

Hurt as Negroes are by the injustice done them, frustrated as they are by the complacency of all too many Americans, they cannot hope for salvation by a retreat into the blind alley of Jim Crow.

Stassens on Wrong Track

Ever-hopeful Harold Stassen who would like to be President, took to the air last week to announce his platform. He didn't say a word on the subject of civil rights but he did make a bow in the direction of Negroes by saying that he would consult Ralph Bunche on colonial problems.

In the next breath he said that he would depend on Democrats like Virginia's Jim Crow minded Harry Byrd for consultation on domestic problems. We can't think of a worse choice than Byrd who has been on the wrong side of every issue that has faced the nation for the past twenty years and who wants to turn race relations back to the pattern of the nineteenth century.

If Stassen ever had any Negro supporters, we're sure that they've given up on him after last week's speech.

Roy Wilkins'

The Watch Tower

Harold G. Stassen, president of the University of Pennsylvania, who, as everyone knows, has been trying to become President of the United States for these many years, has finally come out with his announcement, surprising no one.

Senator Robert A. Taft, who also wants the Republican nomination for President, has already made himself clear on the Negro question. He stated flatly in North Carolina that he did not think the Federal government should make the South do away with the Jim Crow school system. The damage of this statement was so immediate that Senator Taft tried to "correct" it the next day by calling in the reporter for a big Negro weekly and saying that he only meant that the States should be the ones to change the school system, not the Federal government. Now, everyone, including Senator Taft, knows that the states have not abolished Jim Crow schools and will not do so unless the Federal government acts. Taft is stuck with his statement.

Mr. Stassen, in asking the voters to choose him as the Republican candidate, did not get as far out on a limb as Mr. Taft, but he got out there with a vague statement about demagogues "stirring up group against group . . . minorities against minorities, and by making each group feel that its special interest would be served in the extreme." Stassen says he rejects that approach and would work for cooperation between groups.

He says not a word further on minorities, but goes into a long speech on labor and capital. It is a fair assumption that he thinks minorities are raising too much hell, that politicians are paying too much attention to them, and that for the peace and welfare of the country minorities should submerge their grievances for the benefit of the country as a whole.

Five or six years ago Mr. Stassen spoke at a dinner in a Washington hotel given by groups who were demanding an FEPC law. Mr. Stassen was against prejudice, just as every good man is against sin, but far down in his speech was a paragraph which said, in effect, that minority groups must earn the rights which they demand.

This is a cheap, dangerous, and wholly inaccurate statement insofar as it applies to basic citizenship rights in a democracy. Negroes do not have to earn the right to be safe from mobs and assassins, or to vote, or have decent housing, or to get equal opportunity in employment, or non-discriminatory education. They do not have to earn the right to a fair trial in the courts. These things are part and parcel of American democracy. If Mr. Stassen or anyone else believes that these things belong to some Americans but must be earned by others, then Stassen does not believe in American democracy.

We may not understand Stassen correctly. He may clarify his meaning later and may or may not jump into still hotter water, like Senator Taft. But his opening statement for the Presidency holds little encouragement for the several millions of Negro voters.

Lester B. Granger's

Battle Axe & Bread

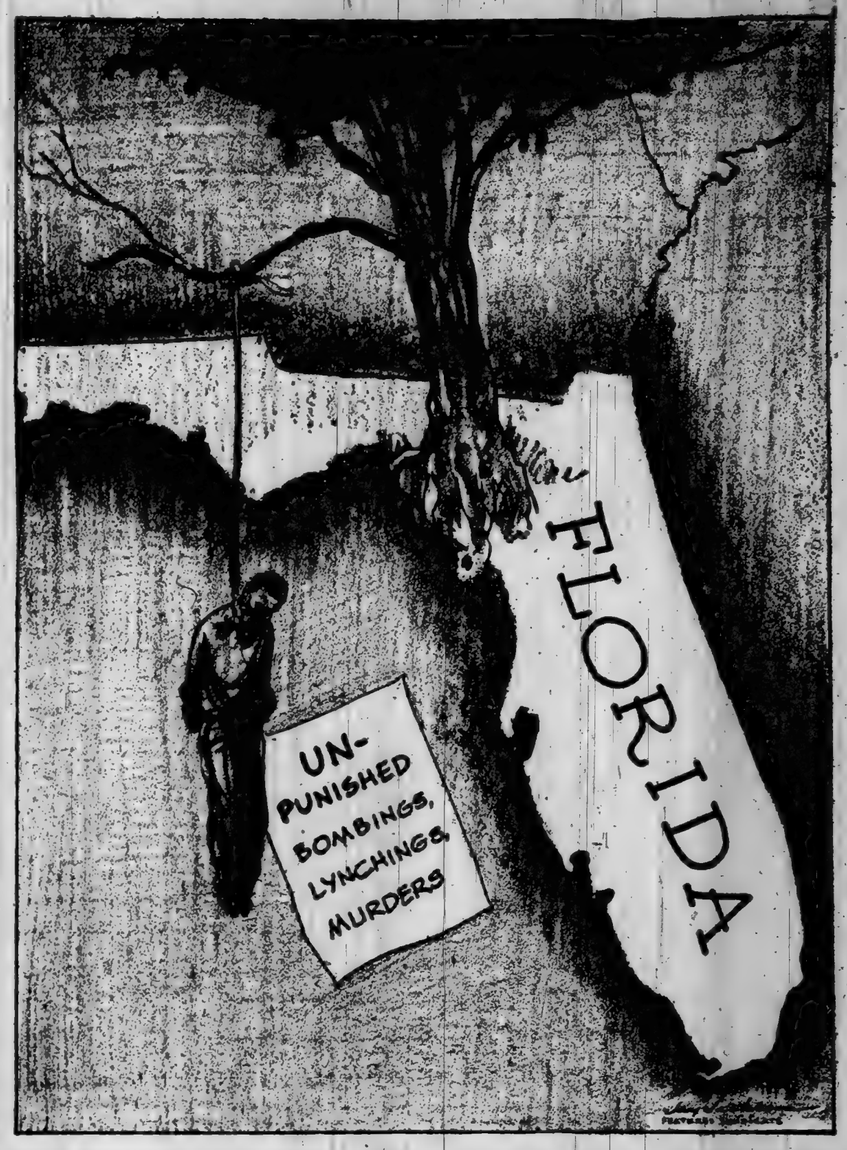
As this column is written it appears that President Truman may have successfully turned the tables on at least part of his opposition in the matter of tax collection scandals. Mr. Truman, no slouch in the matter of political strategy, is completely aware of the great damage to his administration that has been done by the discovery of gross corruption and petty knavery at one of the points most directly affecting the citizens' pocketbook nerve. If the Democratic Party is defeated in next fall's elections, it is apt to be on account of this issue even more than that of foreign policy and alleged communist infiltration of government agencies.

When the President's attempt to coax Judge Murphy to head an investigation of corruption in government fizzled out (with no serious loss to the public interest), it seemed as if here was one spot to which the Democrats were firmly struck. For the Murphy refusal would make it twice as difficult to get some other "name" investigator to take on the job. Jubilation of the Republican opposition went to a new high.

But the opposition failed to take into account the political skillfulness of the Truman organization. The President went on the offensive once more with a proposal for a sweeping reorganization of the Bureau of Internal Revenue that will be, if carried through, far more drastic and far-reaching than any mere investigation to discover "who done it and how." In brief, the Truman plan calls for wiping out the 64 politically-appointed Collectors of Internal Revenue and replacing them with 25 district commissioners who will be Civil Service employees holding no jobs but their Federal posts.

This is a commonsense and statesmanlike proposal which has plenty on the record to recommend it, including the report of the commission on government reorganization that was headed by former President Herbert Hoover. The reaction of the general public was immediately favorable, as was that of the press throughout the country. This in itself was a gain for the Administration. But then the opposition promptly provided an extra dividend. Indignant yelps came from Congress, from the very quarters which had been sniping at the Administration's morals. North Carolina's contribution to the House, Chairman Robert Doughton of the Ways and Means Committee darkly predicted "much opposition" to the President's plan. Georgia's Senator Russell advised "go slow." Back of the scenes the opposition was expressed much less politely.

Why the opposition—from Republicans as well as Democrats? Because the President's proposal threatened to take away some fat political patronage possessed by members of Congress. They have regularly had a big hand in the selection of Collectors of Internal Revenue. They have used it as a chance to pay off favors and hold on to their faithful supporters. And though they know very well that this is the central cause of corruption in the Bureau, they would rather keep bribery and petty thievery than give up their cherished patronage.



The opposition is just that simply defined, for the most part. And President Truman's maneuver has delineated it in bold relief. If Congress accepts his plan, he will get credit for a bold executive action. If Congress turns him down, he can say, "Well, I tried to clean things up, but those boys over on Capitol Hill wouldn't let me."

All of which is to say, Eisenhower or no Eisenhower, don't count H. S. T. out o fthe running next fall, too soon. He may go down—in fact, right now the odds have swung sharply against him—but there are a lot of tricks in the old dog yet (meaning no disrespect) and his opponents will do well to remember it.

More Federal Judges Urged

NEW YORK—The "conspicuous failure of the administration to consider qualified Negroes for the numerous federal judiciary posts," is viewed by the NAACP "as a serious manifestation of racial discrimination in a very important area," a resolution passed by the Association's national board of directors asserts.

An American Tragedy

The People Say—

The Eagle is glad to publish your letters. Say anything you want to say, whether it is critical of our policies or in approval of them. We'll print what you have to say if you will keep your letters as short as you can. And you'll help us if you'll type your letters. If you can't type them, please write legibly on one side of the paper. Thanks.

Dear Sir:

May we solicit the aid of your readers who have been shocked by the Christmas Night bomb murders of Harry T. Moore and Mrs. Moore at Mims, Florida. Death came within a few hours to Mr. Moore, a quiet, brave man. Fatally injured, his wife lingered for another nine days. They were assassinated because they had advocated the right of Negroes to vote, to receive equal education with white children, to receive trials free of prejudice when accused of crime, and to enjoy the other privileges of democracy.

Life cannot be restored to the Moores. But others—white as well as Negro, Gentile as well as Jew, Protestant as well as Catholic—may suffer their fate unless the present wave of terror by cowardly assassins is stopped.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People was first on the scene. Its investigators unearthed clues and evidence which have been turned over to the FBI. It is continuing its effective appeals to the courts within the framework of democracy to secure justice for all Americans irrespective of color. It will vigorously continue to work to abolish the imperfections of our democratic society to the end that democracy itself will not be destroyed.

But such a fight costs a great deal of money which the NAACP does not have. In addition to assistance to the Moore family and the payment of hospital and funeral bills and restoration of the destroyed home, it has offered a reward of $5,000 for the arrest and conviction of the Christmas Night bombings. It is continuing its investigations and taking other steps not only in the Moore tragedy but aiding to check the present dangerous wave of terrorism ranging from Mims, Fla. to Cicero, Ill.

We will be deeply grateful if any of your readers who wish to assist will send as generous checks as possible to Allan Knight Chalmers, Treasurer, 20 West 40th Street, New York 18, N.Y.

Sincerely,
LOUIS T. WRIGHT
Chairman of the Board of Directors, NAACP.

Dear Sir:

May we solicit your cooperation in our intensive registration and get-out-the-vote campaign to be conducted during the months of January, February and March, 1952?

We think the need for awakening the community to the realization of its civic duty has never been greater than now. By giving publicity to the efforts of the American Council on Human Rights and the progress of the campaign, your paper will be rendering a good service to the community, and doing a great favor to the Council.

Thank you.

Yours very truly,
MRS. FLORENCE ANDERSON
Chairman, Committee on Registration.

Dear Sir:

On January 9th a bill will be introduced into Congress, which, if passed, will make military training compulsory for all male youth. If passed, all boys who are considered physically fit, at the age of 18 or at the finish of high school will be inducted for a 6-months training period, a two-year service period and after this will automatically be in the reserve for a period of 8 years.

We as a young adult group and concerned with the problems of young people are strongly opposed to this dictatorial method which can only help to maintain our war economy. Young people should be taught a constructive way of life and the love of mankind and not the killing and mass destruction of epople.

Hitler thought he could appease the people by indueting all youth into the army and thereby supplying jobs for the older people, but it did not work in Germany and it will not work here.

We must and can work for a planned economy based on peace.

Sincerely,
TOM PAINE CLUB,
Young Adult Group of

Civil Rights Confab Slated

NEW YORK—Response to the NAACP call for a Civil Rights Mobilization in Washington early in 1952 have been "gratifying," Walter White, executive secretary, said today.

Church groups, labor unions, fraternal orders, professional and business associations, and state and local NAACP units are among organizations which have indicated they would participate in the Mobilization, tentatively set for Lincoln anniversary period, February 10-12, which will also be the 43rd anniversary of the issuing of the call in 1909 which led to the organization of the NAACP.

The Mobilization is being organized in response to a resolution of the Association's 42nd annual convention in Atlanta last June. The convention resolved that the NAACP "shall initiate, spearhead and organize a pre-election mass mobilization early in 1952."

THEATRE

By THE THEATRICAL EDITOR

A fighting, thrilling, smashing, heartening move forward was made at the first Television Authority (TvA) convention held in New York City two weeks—a surge forward that, if carried out, could be the Emancipation Proclamation of Show Business in America.

Sparked by a fighting committee of Negro Television performers, TvA (covering all live television performers in the country) unanimously passed resolutions in behalf of Negro performers and further voted to set up a committee to implement the resolutions here reprinted:

BE IT HEREBY RESOLVED: That in any constitution covering television, a provision shall be made to the effect that there shall be no discrimination in the hiring of performers by reason of race, color or creed, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That it be made one of the bargaining points in the coming negotiations.

First of eight objections we will pursue: we will contact writers everywhere we can, urging them to write parts for Negroes.

Two, to contact casting directors, urging them to cast Negroes wherever they can.

Three, to contact directors, urging them not to employ Negro performers when the script spefically calls for them, but in some of the many parts that require qualified artists, regardless of color.

Four, to contact choreographers, urging that qualified Negroes be integrated in new dance groups when they are formed, and asking them to consider qualified Negro dancers when vacancies occur in existing groups.

Five, to contact contractors of singing groups to do the same.

Six, to urge producers to instruct their own writers, directors, etc., to follow these fair employment practices.

Seven, to contact those stars among our membership, who as their own package producers, can implement fair employment practices.

Eight, to reach the television advertiser and his representatives, pointing out that 15 million Negroes represent a purchasing power of more than 10 billion dollars annually; that these people are consumers and citizens and their needs should not be overlooked; that the advertiser together with the networks have the responsibility of seeing that their requirements and desires are not ignored; and that if they do recognize their responsibility, only good will result, not only to them, but to our members, and to all Americans everywhere.

These then are the principal objectives of the committee. They will no doubt be augmented with other ideas and recommendations.

We must recognize, however, that this is a tremendous undertaking and cannot be accomplished over-night. But with the understanding and cooperation of our membership, the Networks and Sponsors, these objectives will be realized.

The Negro entertainers who comprised the union committee were: Frances Williams, Los Angeles actress, Leon Bibb, of Chorus Equity in New York, Frederick O'Neal, actor, John Bubbles (of "Buck and Bubbles" fame), John Marriot, actor, Muriel Bahn, singer, Eugene Francis, actor, and actor Frank Silvera.

Highlight of the three-day convention, attended by 147 delegates was an extemperaneous speech in support of the "No discrimination" resolution by Frank Silvera. In twenty tense minutes, Silvera traced the history of the Negro performer in America, showing how white entertainers had robbed from the Negro continually without permitting him free access to stage, movies, radio or television.

Silvera's fighting speech (excerpts reprinted in the column on actors) was a direct appeal to his fellow union members to "be decent and courageous—to fight side by side with the Negro struggling to work in freedom."

Joe Adams Sponsors "All-Star" Show

Joe Adams, radio station KOWL disc-jockey, and the Santa Monica Chamber of Commerce have announced co-sponsorship of an "All-Star" musical program for the 1952 March of Dimes campaign. The show will be held Monday evening, January 14, at the Santa Monica High School Auditorium.

New Club Alabam Show Features T-Bone Walker

T. Bone Walker, the undisputed King of the Blues, comes back again after a short tour, to play a limited engagement at the new Club Alabam.

Headlining the present show and backed musically by the band of Calvin Boze, "Bone" gives out with his good old stand-bys like "Stormy Monday," "Baby Let Me Hold Your Hand," "Evening," "I Want to Walk With You" and many others that keep the capacity filled house yelling for more as he goes down in a split playing his guitar to the blues lovers' delight.

Also appearing on the show, Bobby Johnson, talented dancer, Bootie Green, comedian whose new dance "The Bootie Green" is catching on like mad, and of course the recently increased beautiful Alabam Chorines. Remember this show is in for a limited time only and you won't want to miss it.

Amos Milburn in City After Successful Tour

Amos Milburn, the original "Chicken Shack Boogie" man and his famed little band, returned to the city last week from a highly successful tour of the Northern cities.

Milburn, who first skyrocketed to fame with his recording of "Bad Bad Whiskey," shattered all box office records on his recent tour of Portland, San Francisco, Seattle and other cities.

Baker in Town

(As Josephine Baker arrived in Los Angeles to start her Paramount Theatre engagement Thursday morning, New York columnists and big-names began a campaign in support of her suit against Winchell.)

CNS — The stage is being set gradually but surely to give veteran name calling Walter Winchell at least a taste of the lambasting he gave star, Josephine Baker. There is developing an anti-Winchell camp, composed of equally influential columnists and newspapermen and they are daring to bring forth the facts on Mr. Winchell as have never been printed.

One of the first to come forth was Columnist Leonard Lyons, of the New York Post, liberal New York newspaper. (Lyons was incidentally the first to side with Miss Baker in her denunciation of the Stork Club for the way it treated her on October 16th. Lyons immediately stated he would eat elsewhere as Sardi's) Lyons resigned his job of Vice President of the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund, the Winchell pet charity and made it plain that he was tired of Winchell's attacks on people. Seems that Josephine Baker is by no means the first Winchell has attacked with distortion of facts. He insinuated in his column that President Truman was tipsy when he wrote his insulting letter to the Washington Post's music critic, Paul Hume. "I knew this was untrue," said Lyons, "because I lunched with the Presdient a few hours after he wrote the letter and I know personally that he had not been drinking."

Then last week, columnist Ed Sullivan of the New York Daily News, let it be known how long he has feuded with Walter Winchell though his paper would never print it, feeling it was publicity for Winchell. In a radio program on N.Y.'s WMCA, Sullivan cried out: "I despise Walter Winchell for what he has done to Josephine Baker." Long before Senator McCarthy came into the character assassination racket, Winchell was one of the originators. This small-time vaudeville hoofer who never got to the Palace . . . has developed into a small time Hitler.

Sullivan pointed out that Winchell "has the audacity to give out stage opinions on foreign policy," has never set foot in any European country, "never

Todd Duncan In Sunday Concert Treat

Todd Duncan, distinguished baritone star of the musical and dramatic theatre, concerts, recordings, and radio, will give his first West Coast recital in several seasons, this Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Philharmonic auditorium. The artist's fraternity, Alpha Phi Alpha, will honor him at a reception in the fraternity house, 2116 South Western avenue, immediately following the concert. Taking a route from Bach to Broadway, Duncan's program will include German lieder, Russian and English art songs, Creole and Haitian folk melodies, and a sheaf of spirituals.

Who Remembers 'Bricktop'? Famed Performer in Rome

ROME—A molasses-sweet voice singing nostalgic songs reaches way back—way back to the Paris of 1924 when a half-dozen young American writers were beginning to make their names famous.

They hung around "Bricktop's."

F. Scott Fitzgerald, whose nostalgic books of the prohibition era are winning a new posthumous popularity, once lamented Bricktop's passing from Paris.

Bricktop, otherwise Ada Smith du Conge, has opened another spot in Rome. Between songs the Negro entertainer said, "I remember all those darlings."

"There was Scott and his wife Zelda—she was nice. There was Hemingway, too—already famous. And Louis Bromfield . . . and John Steinbeck . . . Steinbeck, he's my darling of all my

Clarence Muse, Ezzard Anderson, and Rosalind Hayes have bee nsigned to top roles so far.

So You Want To Be An Actor? (Part Thirteen of a Series)

By THE THEATRICAL EDITOR

The 147 delegates at the Television Authority Union convention who stood and cheered the extemperaneous remarks of Negro actor Frank Silvera not only passed the history-making resolution that lays the groundwork for democracy in television performance but they also filed repeated requests for publication of the Silvera speech. Actors Equity Union, in their official magazine, are now preparing to publish Silvera's address.

FRANK SILVERS
In White Make-up as Irish Sailor

This reporter prints herewith the written statements of Frank Silvera from which his speech was taken. Quotations are from a previous appeal to members of the television profession and an address given in London, England, during the touring run of "Anna Lucasta." (Silvera played the father, "Joe Lucasta".)

Delivered by Frank Silvera at Television Forum, Sunday, Dec. 18:

To my fellow actors—the writers, the directors, the technicians, the producers of television programs—I wish to make an appeal.

I appeal to you to help release the Negro artist from the restrictions of "type" and "category" and to allow him to make a significant contribution to the art and culture of our time.

To the writer I appeal: stop drawing your portrayals of Negro characters as convenient devices based on the stereotypes. Look around you and find the ennobling truth.

To the director I appeal: to employ the Negro actor on the basis of his ability and not to categorize him.

To the technicians I appeal: reach out your hand and greet the Negro craftsman who not only has a rightful place before the camera but beside you as well.

A thorough understanding of the problems of the Negro in contemporary entertainment demands, among other things, a careful consideration of the many forces at work in present-day life.

America's 14,000,000 Negroes comprise a vast cultural reservoir walled in by massive, granite blocks of racial and social prejudice and economic injustice. In spite of this, they have given to the world many rich and lasting gifts in music, dance, art, and literature; and to the Negroes of the world, a cultural heritage of which they need not be ashamed. But the Negro entertainer is yet an infant in swaddling clothes, for it has only been during the past three decades that the Negro has been engaged to any extent in the commercial theater fields.

The Negro artist in America for the past two decades has been trying to break away from the stereotypes established in his earlier efforts in the theater: the minstrels and the musicals that followed through the early twenties (In "Dahomey," "Shuffle Along," "Blackbirds," and "Showboat"), when the formula called for crapshooting, razor-toting, happy-go-lucky buffoonery, and obsequious "Uncle-Tomming."

Eugene O'Neill, given to experiments in the drama form, afforded the opening wedge, and Charles Gilpin drove it home with his performance in "The Emperor Jones." "Porgy" and a few other plays from the pens of white dramatists, during the late

Roy Milton Plays Apollo

NEW YORK—Roy Milton and the Solid Senders are set for a week at the Apollo Theater beginning Jan. 18. They then move into the Howard Theater in Washington, D. C., and follow this stint with a fortnight's engagement at Gleason's Musical Bar in Cleveland.

Maestro Milton and his crew journey south to Atlanta for a fortnight's stay at the Royal Peacock cafe before returning to Los Angeles on March 9.

"Best Wishes," Milton's recording hit continues to gain in popularity everywhere. According to Cash Box magazine ratings last week, the tune was tops in Los Angeles, Houston, Chicago, Oakland, Opelousas, La., and Dallas.

Paradise Takes First Steps in Price Drop

There comes a time when cocktail lounge owners realize that a drop in prices is just as important to them as to any other kind of business. The owner who made this decision to change his prices is Al Austin. His lavish bar and lounge will now carry drinks at a cost which all customers can afford.

First off the bat is the reduced highball. Using the same ingredients as before the reduction took place, Austin now offers his patrons and new customers the drink served for 35 cents. Considering the high cost of good liquors—that is quite a bargain.

Austin, who has been planning the new measure for several months reveals that his new slogan is the basis for the policy, "Where your dollars have more cents" is the theme to which Austin will maintain future drastic cuts in prices.

The Paradise itself is considered one of the swankiest lounges in the city, patronized by prominent figures and celebrities. Recently the entire lounge was remodeled. The new look maintained by the Paradise includes a unique bar, smart booths and tables. Muralled walls denote the latest trends in artistic paintings. In such pleasant surroundings, with such low priced drinks of all varieties, it is rather hard to beat the Paradise any place in the city. —Advt.

More About Henry Scott

that he was under the influence of alcohol at the time of the arrest.

The arresting police, Scott claimed, charged him with being drunk from home brew. An empty beer bottle was found in the back seat of the car, Scott admitted, but he says he told the officers some one else had put it there. No sobriety test was given to him at the scene, Scott swore. He claims, however, that one of the policemen struck him.

Police testimony, as presented at the trial by William B. Meenks, was the exact opposite of Scott's story. The officer testified that Scott was halted for reckless driving, speeding at 75 miles an hour and drunkedness. A sobriety test was administered to Scott at the time of his arrest, the policemen argued in rebuttal to the defendant's claim that it had not.

The only eye-witness to the arrest, Peter Francis, a mechanic, was not able to corrobrate the officer's statement.

Meenks, one of five officers charged with a part in the recent fire extinguisher incident, was fired shortly thereafter by Sheriff Biscailuz for neglect of duty but late reinstated by the civil service commission.

Scott and Ruben Smith of 1348 E. 22nd street claimed last October 20 that they were sprayed with a fire extinguisher by five sheriff's deputies while being held prisoners at the Firestone station. The deputies were later cleared of the charges by the civil service commission.

Scott has the court's permission to pay off his fine at the rate of $15 a month. He was defended by Attorney William S. Palmese.

Trial of Reuben Smith who was with Scott in the automobile and also given the acid treatment, was continued to January 29.

It was also established that there are two off-sale licenses at the same intersection, but there is no on-sale license within 1000 feet of the premises.

pupils and that he estimated that one-third of these pupils pass the premises going to and from school. He further testified that from time to time in the past he has received complaints from parents of the activities of persons in and around the premises, and that he feels that the premises in the past has not been a desirable place and that to relicense it would be a detriment to the community.

G. Lewis Randolph, II, pastor of the Bethlehem Baptist church, M. J. McCurthon, who resides and operates a barber shop three doors away from the premises, and Mattie Dyas, who resides across the street from the premises, testified as to the very disreputable crowd that gathered in and around the bar, cursing, fighting, and in general creating a public nuisance.

A Los Angeles police sergeant, who for 1½ years prior to September, 1951, supervised the patrol cars in the area, testified to the many complaints and the numerous arrests made in the immediate vicinity of the bar.

Earl R. Crozier testified that he felt he was qualified to conduct a reputable place of business. He stated that he has gone to considerable expense to install a new kitchen and completely recondition the premises. Crozier said that he feels the new atmosphere and appearance of the premises has so changed, that the type of patron who formerly frequented the premises would not patronize it now.

Crozier also produced a witness who testified that he conducted a very fine place of business at their former location.

At the conclusion of the meeting, Bellows recommended to the Sacramento office that the protests of the property owners be overruled. Sacramento acted according to the recommendation of Bellows.

McCurthon, spokesman for the property owners, was particularly bitter. "The property owners in the community, the decent citizens who save their money, pay taxes, and try to be decent citizens, just are not appreciated by the Board of Equalization. We have tried to eliminate this eyesore from our wives and children for years, and when we have a chance, we are turned down in favor of the winos, loose women and toughs who have frequented the place in the past, and will do so in the future."

YOUNGER LANDS BERTH ON A.P. ALL-PRO TEAM

RAMDOM — Paul "Tank" Younger, star fullback of the L. A. Rams' "Bull Moose" backfield, was named on the AP all-pro first defensive team.

Len Ford, Cleveland Browns' end, Emlen Tunnell, New York Giants' halfback also landed berths on the defensive first team.

Honorable mention went to Deacon Dan Towler of the Rams, Claude Buddy Young, Yank back, and Packers' Bob Mann.

Lee and Moore tried to join the Civilian Intelligence Corps of the U. S. Army while in Anchorage. The Army checked with the F. B. Gibbs will still have to face trial for dope and theft, and Moore for theft. Both of them will have to face fugitive charges.

Silvera's Speech

twenties served further to establish the Negro as a dramatic artist in the commercial theater.

In the wake of the storm of depression that ushered in the thirties, came a wave of liberal thought in government and the establishment of the Federal Theater, which resulted in five years of unprecedented progress for the Negro in the theater in America. Theater groups were subsidized by the government in many large cities, utilizing unemployed actors and technicians, enabling them to discard the commercial formula (although it was retained in the commercial theater with "Green Pastures.") Negroes performed Shakespeare, Moliere, Ibsen, and Shaw. Negro playwrights, Langston Hughes, Theodore Ward, Theodore Brown, and several others, saw their plays produced professionally for the first time. Rex Ingram, Canada Lee, Alvin Childress, Edna Thomas, and scores of other Negro actors developed their art doing roles that Broadway would not offer. (Orson Welles' production of a Negro "Macbeth" set in Haiti was a sensation.)

Negro actors were earning respect and recognition as artists, and a vast new audience was being indoctrinated in the conception of the Negro as a person not different from other human beings. In 1939 with the resurgence of the reactionary element, goaded on by the vested interests, came the sad demise of the Federal Theater.

Along Came Wright

The problem then became one of how to consolidate in the commercial theater the gains that the Negro had made under a subsidized theater. Richard Wright came to the fore with a dramatization of his novel, "Native Son," and once again an important advance was realized.

In a makeshift theater in the basement of a Harlem library, a group of Negro actors in 1944 produced a play written about a Polish family. For three years it was a smash hit on Broadway and then broke box office records throughout the country, "Anna Lucasta" has given the lie to the old formula more decisively than any single work in the American theater. "Deep Are the Roots" followed. Their productions had far-reaching repercussions of great benefit to the Negro actor. In an article entitled "Negro," which appeared in a recent edition of "Stage," the writer stated: "The Negro actors in 'Anna Lucasta' and 'Deep Are the Roots' prove that Negro players can hold their own with actors of any color or creed . . ."

Thus, there is no further question of the competence, versatility or adaptability of Negro artists, and the strangeness in the initial contributions is giving way to a demand for unqualified repreesntation in the drama, which will inevitably solve the problem of vehicles and allow far greater employment opportunities.

. . . On this basis, therefore, I appeal to you to help release the Negro artist from the restrictions of type and category. I appeal to you as fellow artists, hoping that you will see how this affects us all. I appeal to you because there is little evidence that would lead one to expect fair treatment or consideration from many of those who sponsor television programs or from many of the agencies or from many of the networks. On the contrary, there is evidence that would lead us to expect—from many of them—a treatment similar to the attitude, "It's all right now and then to toss a bone for the poor dog to gnaw on."

Certainly the purchases of 15,000,000 Negroes have helped to build and to maintain the networks and the agencies. And yet are we not excluded from positions of respect and dignity in all branches of the industry, even at the desks and in the offices?

It is not enough to say these injustices do exist and to pass the onus onto the sponsors. Then the prospects in television for the Negro actor would remain hopeless and dismal.

The struggle of the Negro actor to find an artistic outlet with dignity and purpose in television is part of the struggle of all creative artists to raise the industry from a "rat race" to a medium of culture and genuine creativeness.

To all I appeal: to recognize the Negro as an ally in the struggle for a better industry and to realize fully the prospects that are in television.

darlings, except of course Cole Porter. He's my favorite in all the world."

It was Porter, way back in 1925, who asked Bricktop—then slim and red-headed — if she could dance.

"I sure can," she said.

Paris Learns Charleston

Porter was crazy about the Charleston then and for a while Bricktop's work was cut out teaching it to Paris. From there it spread all over Europe.

Bricktop now is 57. Some of the red has gone from her hair, but her freckles are big and bright as ever. The name Bricktop has stuck ever since she was born at Alderson, W. Va.

She had a reason for coming to Rome.

"Ever since I became a Catholic in 1943 I wanted to come here," she said. "When Franklin Hughes, New York decorator, invited me to spend some time at his Capri Villa, I grabbed it. Now I never want to leave Rome.

Old Paris Is Gone

"Paris was marvelous," she said, "but there will never be a Paris again like in 1924 to 1930."

The girl who taught Parisians to Charleston a quarter-century ago is now teaching Romans the mambo. She has the help of its creator, Ruben Calzado, here from Paris with his orchestra.

"I think they'll go for it," said Bricktop. "It's something two people really can dance."

even crossed the ocean. . . . A dangerously ill-informed man of tremendous egotism and great power unaccompanied by greatness or nobility of thinking."

Now this week powerful Time Magazine, which has reported extremely fair in the Josephine Baker incident, tells more gossip on the Winchell fauxpas. Close behind Time Magazine, is a series of feature stories in the N. Y. Post, which promise to reveal the whole truth and nothing but the truth and it will none to pretty for Winchell. The Post is doing a tremendous advertising and promotion on its series beforehand.

Thus the anti-Winchell camp, not daring to emerge publicly before the Josephine Baker incident, is now snowballing into a mound of protest against the tactics, ethics and even morals of Winchell. At the rate it is going, it will be pretty vociferous by the time La Baker's suit against Winchell reaches trial and should help her no end.

Last Thursday night South Park's quintet downed the Slauson five in a very exciting basketball game by a score of 65 to 58. Raymond Anderson contributed 21 points to the winning score.

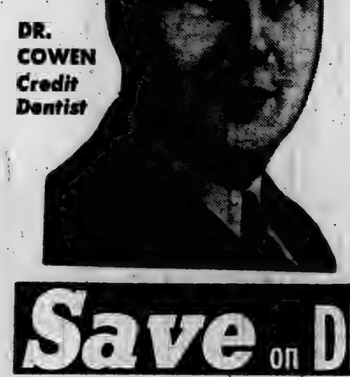
Broadway Federal Holds Open House

Broadway Federal Savings and Loan Association will hold open house Sunday, January 20 at 4329 South Broadway in celebration of its fifth anniversary.

Plans for the gala event which will hold away during the appointed hours of 2 and 6 p.m. were completed early this week and invitations are already in the mail to hundreds of clients as well as to the Governor, mayor and other city and banking officials.

Wives of the directors and employes of the concern will assist with the official hostessing chores.



Widely heralded as the institution of "friendly service to saver and borrower" during the past five years Broadway Federal financially paved the way for some 800 prospective home owners and paid its stockholders in the excess of $231,000 in dividends.

The institution maintains a trained staff of eight highly capable people to insure its clientle courteous, efficient, prompt service. At the helm of these employees is Richard R. Wright III, who holds the position of manager at Broadway Federal.

Directors and officers include Dr. H. Claude Hudson, president; Paul R. Williams, vice president; Albert Maddox, vice president; Zella M. Taylor, secretary; Dr. J. P. Taylor, treasurer; Flora Grant, assistant secretary; Helen Gahagan Douglas, director; Thomas L. Griffith, director and Edward C. Atkinson, director. Richard Fitzpatrick and Thomas L. Griffith, Jr. are the Attorneys and Leo Rosen, auditor.

In extending to the public a most cordial invitation to be present, Dr. Hudson said it is both fitting and proper to ask those who have made our Association a successful, thriving enterprise to share with us this fifth anniversary. Those attending will be given first-hand knowledge of the functions of our institution and the numerous financial services available at Broadway Federal, he added.

Rats Swarm Over Home, Bite Baby

was called and Wanda was transported to Tweedy Industrial Hospital. Treatment was administered for puncture wounds to the forehead, palm of right hand, and back of left hand.

The condition of the three room which the McDaniels consider home is one of unbelievably dirty circumstances. Sanitary inspections of the deplorable environment have neglected showing results or any improvement.

A small kitchen serves as dining room, bathing quarters, laundering space and only source of heat for the entire unit. Upon a table, large cans of flour, corn meal, sugar, rice, and other dry foods set uncovered. The middle room is bare, except for the tricycle of Mrs. McDaniel's 7-year-old son, James. The end room holds a bed, where the entire family sleeps. A crib, broken from heavy use, stands in one corner.

Covering every piece of broken furniture and every 12 corners are dirt and trash.

Match-Box Court

The exterior is worse. Two rain-wooded frames stand on a slab of cement block, forming two structures of units. A narrow strip between the sheds serves as a walkway. This match-box court holds six units occupied with families who have the same problems as the McDaniels, that of large families and no place to shelter them due to inadequate housing facilities. Mrs. McDaniels, only 25 years old, misfigured by childbirth and hard work, cries constantly over the condition in which her children must be reared. She wants to find a clean house with adequate space for storage of goods and bathroom for toilet care.

Her children play without knowledge that their possible destruction is placed in the hands of negligent housing authorities who refuse to provide a home for them. A neighbor said: "The chance that future criminal acts may continue the salaries of juvenile law enforcement bodies is of no consequence to the county of Los Angeles."

And so the tots play. Sandra, bright 5-year-old, stands on a rickety chair, over the dirty hot stove, and pretends to help her mother cook, hoping to lessen the weary woman's chore.

Lawrence, quiet but quick, eyes his sisters' and brother's activities, waiting for the right moment to join in without causing annoyance. James holds a book, discussing the life of a healthy farm boy who is pictured in clean clothes on the porch of an impressive colonial-style house.

Little Wanda, the rat's prey, stands quietly, clutching a doll whose clothing is invisible. Her tiny, round hands display brown pock-marked scabs which seal the rat's saliva now penetrated into the bloodstream of her body.

Since the attack, Wanda has been given injections two or three at a time between intervals. She must be taken to General Hospital for treatment which is difficult to manage due to transportation problems and necessary attendance of Sandra and James at school.

The owner of the property, whom Mrs. McDaniel says has never attempted to offer any assistance or suggestions, is Rev. G. J. Dickson, who lives at 1371 E. 94th street. Mrs. McDaniel says that she has reported the infestation of rats to the owner but never received any response. She pointed to a large iron sprung trap from which she claims she captured and killed more than 50 of the disease-carrying rodents. She says that she has been bitten once herself and Wanda's attacks now number two.

Organizer Maceo Smith

Lead over fist in Prairie View. Sectional equality. 3. Outlaw Jim Crow.

In April, 1944, the fight against the "white" primary was successful. So Smith, through the Dallas Progressive Voters League, set up a statewide organization, and Negroes became effective in Texas Democratic politics. Point One of the three-point program had been won.

A series of cases filed through the NAACP equalized teachers' salaries, and the organization instituted 10 suits at the elementary level to equalize physical facilities. These suits were won on the theory of the Gaines case, "separate and equal."

Hollow Victories

"We looked around and discovered we were winning hollow victories," said Smith. "We were getting quantitative equality, but were not getting qualitative equality, a thing that was impossible under the Jim Crow theory of the Gaines case. Thus point two depended on point three. In 1946 we filed the famous Sweatt case for elimination of Jim Crow in the school system, as opposed to the "separate but equal" theory.

"The Sweatt case had a tremendous and dramatic effect in Texas. Immediately upon filing of the case to force admission of Sweatt to the University of Texas Law School, the Texas Legislature passed an appropriation of 10 million dollars to organize Texas State University. A Jim Crow school was set up in the basement of University of Texas where the students would have access to the University of Texas law library, and another one was set up in the basement of a building in Houston, until the new University could be built.

"The NAACP issued a boycott of the schools and picketed them. They forced the one in Houston to fold in six months from lack of students and the authorities hired two students to attend the one at the University in Austin. They were given the titles secretary custodian and assistant secretary custodian, and were placed on the state payroll while attending school.

"The first building of the new 15 million dollar university completed was the law school, and only then did the state finally manage to get Negro students to attend. In the meantime Sweatt made an agreement with the NAACP to stay out of all Jim Crow schools until the completion of the trial.

Jim Crow Broken

"We won the Sweatt case in 1950," said Smith with a proud smile. "Most people don't realize the strong language and far reaching implications of the opinion. The court did everything but say in plain words that they overruled Plessy vs. Ferguson, the first "separate but equal" opinion. If they had said that, it would have outlawed Jim Crow, and we would have completely won our three-point program. As it was, we broke the back of Jim Crow. Nine students are now enrolled in the University of Texas Law School and 91 students are in various graduate schools of the University.

"They haven't given up. They are rapidly completing the 15-million dollar Texas State University, and are pouring money hand over fist in Prairie View. Maybe our next attack will be to fight to admit white students to those schools.

Smith shifted his perennial cigar, took a long puff and took a long hard view of the future.

Five Year Program

"We now have a five-year program to mop up the educational cases and eliminate all phases of enforced segregation. Educationally the attack now is on the under-graduate level. We won a case on the Junior College level in the district court. In Amarillo and Big Springs, the school boards have voluntarily admitted Negro students. We already have a case on the elementary level in Texarkana, and in San Antonio this month will file a case on the high school level. We also intend to file a case on the college level sometime this year.

"In the first phase of our battle against enforced segregation, we are now attacking Jim Crow travel."

In 1946 Smith organized the Texas Council of Negro Organizations, of which he is president. It is a federation of all statewide organizations for Negroes. It coordinates the action programs of the organizations behind one program. This organization is primarily concerning itself with the problem of economic equality. One of its first victories was to break the restrictions in the Postal service. They paved the way for Negro clerks and carriers in post offices all over the state.

Smith's everyday job is a housing official in the Federal Housing Administration in the Southwest zone. His work covers the states of Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, New Mexico, Kansas, Missouri and Arkansas.

He is a member of the National Board of the NAACP, co-founder and consultant to the National Association of Real Estate Brokers, member of the executive committee of the National Negro Business League, co-founder of the Circle Beach Development corporation, co-founder and board member of the Dallas Star-Post newspaper, a Mason, a Baptist and a member of Alpha Sigma Lambda chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha in Dallas. He still makes his home and headquarters in Dallas, where he sometimes finds time for the simple pleasures with his handsome wife, Fannie.

Smith has great plans for carrying forward the great civic program of Alpha Phi Alpha, as well as a strong program to strengthen the organization internally. For a man the caliber of A. Maceo Smith, the job should be a cinch.

pointed by the NAACP as friends of the court. When Mrs. Eatmon assumed her position in the household, it was as an employee and not as a tenant, they said. Only when the baby was brought into the Wilshire district bungalow did the occupants number six.

Dietch testified that Pizzola showed the property to Negroes in compliance with the threat. Pizzola, however, denied any prejudice, saying that he knew the Dietches had a Negro maid when they rented the property.

Judge Marchetti told both parties: "We should live together in harmony and attempt to understand one another's problems."

The lawyers agreed an additional amount of $20 was to be paid for any number residing in the house exceeding six. The rental paid by the family is $150 a month. Dietch told the judge that he would find some place to live where his family, Mrs. Eatmon and Jonathan could stay together. The case will be held up and final arrangements will be made at a later date.

Jonathan, unaware of the legal furore he had innocently created, laid in the arms of his sobbing mother, offering slight whimpers, and with only a gurgle during the defense proceedings.

More About Cemetery

Negro veterans be buried at the request of next of kin.

A motion for a similar letter from the Luke-Greenway Post of the American Legion was tabled on the grounds that it would be undue interference in the cemetery's affairs.

A spokesmen for the cemetery said: "There is no discrimination against the Negro race out there. We have got a place for all races and creeds. The soil is the same in one part as it is in another."

The problem of burial privileges for members of minority groups was brought into sharp focus in Los Angeles last October when a Filipino was denied burial in Valhalla. The ceremonies were halted just prior to lowering the casket into the ground. After this disgraceful act was exposed by the Eagle, authorities at Valhalla apologized to the Philippine Consul and removed racial restrictions from their by-laws.

Subsequent investigation by the Eagle revealed that only four cemeteries out of 30 in Los Angeles were absolutely free from race restrictions or segregation. More than half absolutely refuse to accept Negro burials under any conditions.

At the present time, legislation to correct this outrageous situation is being formulated, and several tests through the courts are in the planning stage.

EAGLE SALUTES
Officer of the Week

JOHN THOMAS

Officer John Thomas, working out of the Los Angeles Police Dept's. traffic detail is the one reason why the heavy Olympic and Alameda traffic flows so smoothly.

One of City's Busiest

Motorists traveling this route daily have a keen sense of appreciation for the veteran officer's cool ability to keep traffic moving in all directions at a steady and safe pace.

Admired and Respected

Thomas became an officer little more than six years ago and his fine character has won for him throughout Southern California the reputation of one of our most respected and highly efficient officers.

Happily Married

The California Eagle takes pleasure in honoring Jovial John, whose likeable wife, Marie, is coincidentally, one of the city's finest feminine officers.

ORDER FOR PUBLICATION FOR SUMMONS
No. D421041

In the Superior Court of the State of California in and for the County of Los Angeles.

Mary O. Moore, Plaintiff, vs. Leonard Moore, Defendant.

Upon reading and filing the affidavit of Mary O. Moore and it satisfactorily appearing therefrom to me that the Defendant Leonard Moore cannot after due diligence be found within the State of California, and it also appearing from the Divorce Complaint that a good cause of action exists in this action, in favor of the Plaintiff therein and against the said Defendant and that the said Defendant Leonard Moore is necessary and proper party defendant thereto; and it further appearing that a Summons has been duly issued out of said Court in this action, and that personal service of the same cannot be made upon said Defendant Leonard Moore for the reason hereinbefore contained, and by said affidavit made to appear; on motion of James N. Reese, Esq., attorney for the Plaintiff, it is ordered that the service of the Summons in this action be made upon the Defendant Leonard Moore by publication thereof in The California Eagle, a newspaper published at Los Angeles, California, hereby designated as the newspaper most likely to give notice to said defendant; that said publication be made at least once a week for 3 weeks.

Done this 9th day of November, 1951.

SUMMONS
No. D421041

Action brought in the Superior Court of the County of Los Angeles, and Complaint filed in the Office of the Clerk of the Superior Court of said County.

In the Superior Court of the State of California in and for the County of Los Angeles.

Mary O. Moore, Plaintiff, vs. Leonard Moore, Defendant.

The People of the State of California send greetings to: Leonard Moore, Defendant.

You are directed to appear in an action brought against you by the above named plaintiff in the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Los Angeles, and to answer the Divorce Complaint therein within ten days after the service on you of this Summons, if served within the County of Los Angeles, or within thirty days if served elsewhere, and you are notified that unless you appear and answer as above required, the plaintiff will take judgment for any money or damages demanded in the Divorce Complaint, as arising upon contract, or will apply to the Court for any other relief demanded in the Divorce Complaint.

Given under my hand and seal of the Superior Court of the County of Los Angeles, State of California, this 30th day of August, 1951.

The Eagle's Guest

the "too numerous to mention" folks there were Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Fairs, Atty. and Mrs. Herbert Simmons, Sammy and Vera Franklin (she's past prexy of the sorority).

For The "Sisters"

Phi Beta Sigma fraternity entertained their sister-sorority, Zeta Phi Beta, Monday night. Arthur Houston is chairman of the entertainment committee with Bryce Wisner as assistant. Other men of the frat include Horace Clark, E. W. Hardiman, Joe Oliver Sr., Earl Brody, Al Maddox, John Nelson, Louis V. Cole, and—of course— "Mr. Sigma", Dr. C. W. Hill.

Among the Zetas are Mildred Conyers, Ferroll Bobo Connor, Clara Fentress, Arna Louise Griffith.

More Parties

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Webb invited some 150 friends to celebrate both the New Year and the popular couple's fourth wedding anniversary.

No need trying to name 150, but here are some: Elsie Foster, Annabelle Cleveland, the Crowders of Pasadena, the Al Wilsons, Mae Smith, Dr. and Mrs. J. Cooper, Janie Giles, R. J. Landry, Walter Hughes, Capitola Traylor, Clifton Davis, Don Dean of Oakland, Margaret Mosby of Baltimore, the Marcy Austins of Pasadena, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Freen, Ida McMillan, the Ellis Brattons, Hazel Gray, Dorothy Brockman of St. Louis, Blinky Edwards and frau, Pat Simms, Mr. and Mrs. George Tolson, Dorothy Carter, Dorothy Price, Alma Edens, Arturo Tyle, Dr. and Mrs. Whittingham, M. and M. Charles King, Leonard Warren, Catherine Garcia, the J. Piersons, Phil Thomas, J. Louis Johnson, Dr. W. H. Fearonce, Luther Hudson.

Outta Town

Mary Starks, mother of the glamorous Thelma and Johnetta, is back home in Dallas for holiday visits that will last until February. She reports an enjoyable time. We hear there are parties aglore being given in her honor.

The Twilight Bridge club had a cocktail party Sunday night. Names to mention are Messrs. and Mmes. Rueben Richardson, Willie Bells, Joe Fawcett, Dr. and Mrs. O. C. Booker, Atty. Everette Porter and more and more and more.

Flashback

Hey, Vi! A couple of paragraphs ago I should have told that Donald Dean is houseguest of the Byron Webbs and their party celebrated his birthday, too.

Ida Tolson gave a cocktail party Sunday night. At least 50 people there. I'll just take space to mention Margaret Mosby, Dorothy Carter and Herman Barnetta.

Other holiday hosts and hostesses were Annabelle Cleveland New Year's night and the Wallace Burneses with a Christmas party in their beautifully appointed home.

That's not all, of course, but how long can this go on?

The old Judge leaned back reading the headlines. McGrath Cracks Down on Rackets. Nationwide Dope Roundup, Federal Grand Juries To Investigate. "Well," said the Judge to Billie the Bailiff. "Looks like business is going to pick up." "I don't know about that Judge," opiner Billie, "From the way the bookies are operating on the Avenue. I'm inclined to think it is a strip of land not under Federal jurisdiction. For that matter city or county jurisdiction." "I think you'd better pass the word along the stem Billie, that just because the boys claim they just enjoy second class citizenship doesn't mean that they are going to get second class sentences when the G moves in, and believe me, he is moving in," said the Judge. "Until the big fry is caught, let's deal with this weeks small fry. Who got caught in our own small-time dope roundup."

THE DOPES

Chester Herbert Freeman, 912 E. 43rd place; Donald Orvis Davis, 877 E. 43rd place; James Reese (Nooo) 1104 E. 47th place; Lottie Coffin, 1009 E. 25th street; Jessie A. Blinks, 517 Gladys; Willie Jenkins, 1036 E. 29th street; Harold Rand, 800 E. Adams; Horace J. Norman, 1270 E. 87th street; Daniel Rivera, Jr., 341 Paseo Los Altos; and Cerel Hollis, 526 E. 6th street were nabbed with various assortments of "pot," "horse" and "charley." "Will coke and heroin mixed give you a 'charley-horse,' guffawed Billie the Bailiff while the Judge toyed with the idea of rapping the gravel on his noggin.

JAM SESSION

Rosa M. Session, 925 E. 50th street, is a jazzophile (two bit word for hep kitty), and after the Jam Session she invited some of the boys over to her pad to spin a few hot platters. She put her purse on the bed, and later put it under the bed, not that she didn't trust the fellows. The gang played some real hot records, but none of them were as hot as Rosa when she found her purse on the kitchen table minus 20 dead presidents. She fingered Lorenzo Chevez, James Chevez and two fellows she only knew as Slim and Don.

HOUSING SHORTAGE?

Spencer J. Houston went to sleep in the restroom at 4225 S. Central and had his pockets picked to $15.00. "No comment."

Joanne Williams, 4319 Wadsworth says she was choked and beaten by Chorenthus Johnson when she refused to put away her tips. He just got tired of looking at all that filthy loot.

Cora M. Perkins, 5400 Long Beach is a very blithe spirit. When she fell into the pad the other a.m. after staying out all night, she lightly told hubby Percy that the car broke down and delayed her return. Percy is not such a blithe spirit and applied a broom handle to her torso in a most vigerous manner.

Cutting Kibizer

James Patterson, 1107 E. 106th street was playing cards and Robert Burns, 1348½ E. 77th street, was standing over his shoulder kititzing. Patterson's luck was running a little bad, so he urged Burns to sit down. Burns refused so Pat got up and proceeded to back up his request with swinging fist. Burns didn't take this standing up, he reached, snapped, and the first thing you knew Patterson was donating blood all over the place.

"He may be your man, but he comes to see me sometime," is a song that Helen Humes can really rock a joint with. Mabel Thomas, 3826 S. Wall was really rocked to her socks when she visited her husband at his place of business at 4021 S. Avalon, and Katherine Bowie, 804 E. 74th street hove on the scene with gat in hand and threatened poor wifie. "Maybe she figured that when he left home, he was her private stock."

Mary Shaffer, 1161½ E. 25th street, says she was visiting friends at 917 Kohler when John Talbot offered her a dollar to iron a shirt for him. After she ironed the shirt, John had other ideas, threw her down on the bed and violently tried to make violent love to her. She managed to fight him off and remain pure. "What did he expect for just one buck?"

Cross and Crown Club (Independent Church) Saturday at her W. 30th street place. Due: Maurice Ellis, Mrs. Ralph Bunche was recently made an honorary member of Hadassah. Yep, that was Cal Bailey on hand from start to finish of the golf tournament. Gadabout Joe Makel romped with brother Omegas at their Miami session. Pivot: The better to inspect ever-suave, tailored (and barbered) well, and imperturbable Roi Ottley. His Allied Arts presence was, of course, successful. Corks popped prettily at that New Year's Eve hoedown over at Coral and Art Thomas's place, did I say? They're fun-lovers who enjoy chums enjoying themselves.

Infectious smile: Poised, ever active and superbly talented Robert V. Edwards. She unfailingly lends much to informal gatherings. Esterline Powell, planning a trip East this summer. Phi Beta Sigmas planning their annual dance. That merry party put on at the Alpha Bowling Club by members of the deactivated Minnesota Club proved so gay that they've decided now to round up the original group and become active again. They met Saturday to lay groundwork for the inspired idea. There are many ex-Minnesotans in these parts. They're royal party-givers, too. Congratulations are in order over at the Leon Smiths! Bernice is expecting a new member of the family. Her mother, Bessi, and her grandmother, are beaming, too.

WANTED: Men and women of all ages. Go-getters can make easy and extra money in the Eagle's Home Delivery Drive. Call Wynne CEntury 20161 TODAY!

The Undercover Hounds

Stanley Reberson, Howard Morehead and other A.K.A.'s.

Incidently the twelve "Sophisticated" ladies gave a thriller a couple of three weeks back which deserves honorable mention. Also Headliners dance on the 29th was a great success due to the work of two of its ambitious members, Bob Moore, and Mervin Dymally.

Bricks Breakup Ball

Everyone was having a swell time when out of the night flew a rain of bricks, blasting through one window and otu another leaving the wounded and dying laying on the floor. The loud creams and groans were heard from such wonderful personalities as Shirley Johnson, Mary Ann Baumann, Sandra Simms, Ralph Johnson and Camille Roane, who was hurt on the play and won't be n the scene until next week.

A wolf pack of nine young hoodalums who were refused admittance because of the slight technecality of not being invited bombarded the home of Sandra Shields where the Anchorettes held their annual Xmas party. But even though there are these type of persons in the world the party was a great success.

Saw the sweetest one of them all, Myrtle Davenport dancing with her love, Kelly Williams. And Nolan Johnson, Joan Arnold, Angie Nicholas, Rhae Tate, Jimmy Moody and Lestrita Nichols were on hand to keep it going.

In the Line of Formals

Two prominent Greek organizations gave formals during this week of merriment. The Sorors of Delta Sigma Theta and the frat brothers of Alpha Phi Omega. On the scene at the Alphas Chase Hotel afafir were thousands of lovelies with their respective escorts (ugh). It was so packed that after being there two hours we couldn't penetrate any more than twenty-five feet into the dance floor. Those we noticed in the mob of merry makers were Wallace Price and Leatrice Dodd, Lydge De Green and Joyce Overr, Bernadine and Lee Coleman, Joan Moore, Wardell Moss and Nira Harden, Orville Diggs and Cornie Davis, Maxine Cannady, Vivian Jones and Robert Armstrong, Arthur Lewis and gobs of others.

Surprise?

And she really was when she was eight hungry loking faces and heard the clammering of noisy stomaches at a surprise dinner in honor of her birthday. By the way it was for none other than Percy McIntyre and given by her mother. Friends enjoying the "scoff" were Joyce Smith, Bev Winston, Joyce Grayson, Peggy Terry, Jane Miller, Susie Moore, and Murial Thompson.

Lovely Gwen Westfield was one year older last Friday, and because of this her folks feted her with a dinner party, for a pleasant pasttime and to feed her hungry friends. Her guest list included celebraties plus, namely, Guy Blackburn, Thersa Preleau, Deloras Flemming, James Morris, Mildred Mann, Paul Westfield, Frank Jackson, Barbara Smith, and Carl Clay who was nipping on distilled apricots. Those noticed feeding their faces on the buffet style hors d'houvres and relishes were Marsha Owens, Joan and Mary Spaulding, Marlene Landry, Robert Gordon, and Horace Manure.

All Roads Lead to Yuma

Whailing across the highways on their way to Yuma was that long time couple of Edward Flowers and Betty Ross. They had every intention of marrying and they did.

Sunday, an elaborate reception took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Winston where the friends and families of both families met and celebrated. The couple really has a great start if judged by the gifts. The entire den was filled to the brim.

THANKS TO YOU!

Yes, we're saying THANKS to all you people of California in the way you'll like best—BY SHARING OUR PROFITS WITH YOU! We're happy to say that we had the greatest year in our history—sold more merchandise than ever—made more friends than ever! You showed that you recognize real values—you scooped up our bargains again and again—and sent your friends and relatives to the Times. You've made us the leading furniture store in the West! It's been a heart-warming response, and to show our appreciation we're ending the year with a bang-up bargain event that will be the talk of the nation! We're out to make hundreds of new friends through these miracle values! EVERY ITEM IN THE STORE HAS BEEN SLASHED TO THE BONE! Drop everything! Rush in at once! These bargains may NEVER be equalled again!

TIMES Year-End PROFIT-SHARING SALE!

Forced to Give Cash To Thugs

An attractive young housewife was kidnapped at gun point last Wednesday as she left the Security-First National Bank at Vernon and Avalon, was forced to ride around town for several hours, and then compelled to withdraw $300 from her savings account, while two men stood behind her at the teller's window with guns pressed to her back.

Viola C. Crosby, 30, 247 Westlake avenue, reported to police that when she left the bank at Vernon and Avalon, a young man approached her and asked her if she knew a good lawyer. As another man approached, he asked her if she had seen him pick up a pocketbook.

When she replied "no," a dark Mercury with a Texas license plate drove up, the men pointed guns they had in their pockets at her, and ordered her into the car.

They searched her purse, and finding nothing told her: "We know you've got some money, and we'll kill you if you don't give it to us." When she protested that she had no money they told her: "If you want to live, you'd better get it from somewhere."

Terrorized, she finally consented to go to a bank at Seventh and Broadway, where she had a savings account, and withdrew some funds. The men told her not to speak to anyone, and to get the money in three $100 bills.

Two of the men followed her into the bank and stayed right behind her while she was making the withdrawal with their hands on the guns concealed in their pockets.

The kidnapers then returned to the East side, putting her out of the car near where they picked her up.

Local Boxing Trainer Dies

Leo Pope, outstanding trainer and coach in local fighting circles died in his home, 4305½ S. Hooper street, last Thursday night. The coroner said that 50-year-old Pope's death was due to natural causes.

A well-known figure in local boxing circles, Pope was formerly vice-president of the Southern California Amateur Coaches Association.

He helped develop many local fighters while they were amateurs. He coached the Times Golden Gloves boxing teams since 1948, and in 1950 his team won the title at the national tournament.

DRESS CAUSES DEATH—June Richardson, 4½ years old, died early Tuesday morning as a result of burns.

Gas Flames Cause Death of Small Child

Her clothes blazing with fire, June Richardson ran screaming into the arms of her mother, unable alone to put out the flames that were scorching her skin. Eight days later, 4½-year-old June died at General Hospital, never at any time recovering from her tragic accident.

Reports from the coroner's office gave burns as the cause of her death. She died in her sleep early Tuesday morning before 6 o'clock. When the accident first took place, June's hysterical mother carried her to Georgia Street Receiving Hospital where her condition was pronounced grave. From there she was rushed to the tiny bed at General where she lay in severe pain until her death.

Little June, who lived at 725 S. Central with her family, had just finished her evening meal that unforgetable night of Jan. 7. She had been dressed in her new Christmas outfit which Santa Claus had provided for being "such a good little girl." Her Cinderella-style dress was of knit material, with its skirt trimmed in lace set out in a hoop.

As she played in the bedroom, full of toys and gifts, June brushed a gas stove whose flames sought her out and claimed her. Frightened, she ran to her mother, Mrs. Rosa P. Smith, who put out the fire, but could do nothing about the human damage which had taken place.

June's family includes three sisters and four brothers, one brother serving in the armed forces.

Loren Miller On Television Sunday

Loren Miller, publisher of the CALIFORNIA EAGLE, will speak over television on Sunday on the need for California schools to accept Federal aid.

Miller will appear on Freeman Lusk's program, "Teleforum," at 9:15 p.m. over TV channel 13, station KLAC. He will speak in favor of Federal aid.

Board of Education Pres. Paul Burke will appear on the same program in opposition to such aid to public schools.

Prisoner Runs Amok; Makes Escape Attempt

SAN QUENTIN — Handsome Eugene Burwell, wielding a two-edged ax and a 12-inch scissors blade, waylaid two prison guards and stabbed them to death here Monday night. Two other guards were injured.

Burwell, convicted Los Angeles robber, had as accomplice a fellow prisoner, James Alonzo Rogers, serving a term for attempted murder.

During the melee, Burwell was stabbed in the lung.

Blew His Top

He told Warden Harley O. Teets that he "blew his top" and planned to kill Wiget, one of the slain guards, for "discriminating" against him.

Prison authorities reported that Burwell and Rogers were plotting their escape. In addition to the ax and scissors, they were armed with a six-inch knife.

Killed were Guards Charles D. Wiget and Vern A. Mackin. Injured were Guards Ralph E. Dascombs and Virgil F. Stewart.

Burwell was sentenced in Los Angeles to San Quentin in 1948 for armed robbery. His term was five years to life.

According to the Los Angeles police records, he was implicated in several armed robberies. He sometimes worked with a Negro partner, and other times with a white sidekick. When arrested he had several thousand dollars worth of loot in his possession.

Burwell had previously been sentenced to McNeil Island for transporting a stolen automobile across the state line.

He had a keen interest in flying, and possessed a commercial pilot's license. He had attended Xavier University in New Orleans for approximately two years. Officers who had contact with him stated that he was very intelligent, but dangerous because of his emotional instability.

Started in Library

The convicts' battle for liberty started in the prison library. The desperate men bound librarian-inmate Joseph E. Wolfe. Then Rogers climbed onto a library table and pretended he was ill.

When Wiget came in to investigate, Burwell stabbed and

Trial of Deputy Houtz Continues

Charged with the brutal use of a fire extinguisher to spray acid on two Negroes, Deputy Sheriff Edward Houtz is now on trial for this offense. The case, which is being heard by Judge W. Ambrose in Division 42, Hall of Justice, will continue Friday at 9 a.m.

Deputy Houtz is on leave pending outcome of the trial. He was one of five officers involved in the incident who were fired by Sheriff Biscailuz but who were later reinstated by the civil service commission.

Join NAACP in Protest Meeting

AN EDITORIAL

Nobody has been arrested for the Christmas night murder of Harry Moore, NAACP official, and his wife in Mims, Florida.

Nobody has been arrested for the bombing of Jewish synagogues and the burning of a Negro housing project in Miami, Florida.

Nobody has been arrested for the attempted dynamiting of a Catholic church in Florida.

Law enforcement in Florida doesn't run to indicting, arresting, and convicting of goons who trample on civil rights of minority groups or who murder Negroes or bomb Jewish synagogues or try to dynamite Catholic churches.

Willis McCall is an excellent example of the manner in which backwoods Florida sheriffs discharge their duties. He's the sheriff who murdered a handcuffed Negro prisoner and seriously wounded another who was handcuffed to the murdered man.

McCall is still on the job as sheriff of Lake county. He has been whitewashed by a coroner's jury in his home county. He got another coat of whitewash from an "investigator" appointed by Governor Fuller Warren whose campaign was bankrolled by notorious gamblers and dope peddlers and who wouldn't appear before the Kefauver Committee when it wanted to question him about graft and vice in his state.

Unless the federal government acts, the McCalls are going to keep on terrorizing Negroes. Murderers and

NAACP Sponsors Fla. Protest Rally

The Los Angeles branch of the NAACP is expecting a tremendous outpouring of people this Sunday, Jan. 20, when it holds a mass protest meeting against Florida outrages.

The meeting is scheduled for 11 a.m. at the Second Baptist Church, 24th street and Griffith avenue. Franklin H. Williams, West Coast regional director, will be the speaker. His subject: "The Gospel of Justice." The Rev. J. Raymond Henderson, pastor of the church, has turned over his pulpit to Williams for the occasion.

Sunday's meeting comes as outcries over Florida's lawlessness continued to mount, the FBI intensified its hunt for the killers of Harry T. Moore and his wife, Harriet—and the Ku Klux Klan continued to swagger in defiance.

Rally Planned

Local union organizations have set in motion plans looking for the holding of a giant rally of labor and other interested groups in the near future.

In the western section of the city, 150 residents, including ministers, rabbis, and other prominent citizens, voiced their indignation in a telegram to President Truman.

Elsewhere in the country, individuals and groups are also joining in the demand for action. Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan condemned the "inhuman and despicable acts of violence" which have afflicted Florida in recent months.

Large FBI Force

In the midst of the terror-ridden state, hurling a mighty defy at the murderers and thugs and Klansmen, representatives of all Southern branches of the NAACP were planning to meet in Jacksonville, Fla., also on Jan. 20.

The FBI, meanwhile, has sent a large force of G-men into Florida to hunt down the night riders who murdered the Moores and terrorized Miami and the rest of the state.

Agents of J. Edgar Hoover's staff were rushed in to bolster the state's FBI, it was announced in Washington last Saturday. They were given "complete and unlimited authority" to use the

Florida Trial Set for Feb. 11

NEW YORK—Retrial of Walter Lee Irvin, surviving defendant in the Groveland "rape" case of 1949, has been postponed again and is now scheduled to take place in Ocala, Fla., starting Feb. 11.

Pre-trial motions to be argued in the Marion County Circuit Court on Saturday, February 9, include a motion to re-admit NAACP Special Counsel Thurgood Marshall and Assistant Special Counsel Jack Greenberg to the case. The two NAACP lawyers were barred from the trial by Circuit Judge T. J. Futch, who accused the Association of stirring up trouble in the community.

Tennessee Opens University To Negro Student

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — Twenty-two-year-old Gene Mitchell Gray made history this week as he formally enrolled in the graduate school at the University of Tennessee to pursue studies for a master's degree in biochemistry. While he's not studying he will continue to hop bells at a local hotel.

Gray is one of four Negro students that the university told the United States Supreme Court would be admitted to its graduate and professional schools.

The university capitulated in the Supreme Court last Thursday to climax a two year battle to evade admittance of Negroes. The case was before the high court after two lower federal courts had failed to order admission of the applicants.

The case was closed Thursday after John J. Hooker, representing trustees of the University of Tennessee, rose in the Supreme Court following argument by NAACP Assistant Special Counsel Robert L. Carter, to say that university trustees had agreed to admit Gray and Jack Alexander to the graduate school, and Lincoln A. Blakeney and Joseph H. Patterson to the law school, this month. Later, Hooker and K. Dodson, who also represented the university, told reporters that this meant that all qualified Negroes will be admitted to "similar courses."

Flood Forces Family to Flee Rat Filled Home

Floodwaters which swept into basements and homes in the East Compton area on Tuesday and early Wednesday forced Mrs. Audrey McDaniel and her four small children to flee their rat-ridden home on Bandera street.

Last week 18-month-old Wanda was awakened from her sleep when a vicious rat crawled over her body and gnawed the soft flesh of her baby face and hands. Blood gushed from the raw wounds.

This Wednesday morning little Wanda, her mother, her sisters, Jane, 7, and Sandra, 5, and her brother Lawrence, 3, were rescued from their filthy, barn-like home at 11648½ Bandera street because of the rising flood waters. They were taken to Firestone police station where they were hoping for Red Cross aid.

The Los Angeles river, swollen from the three inches of rain that pelted the city all day and night Tuesday, threatened washouts at the Compton boulevard bridge, Olive street bridge and others in the East Compton area. A number of homes were flooded and many streets were well-nigh impassable.

Accepts 'Special' Invitation

Joe Louis crawled on his hands and knees before the lily-white Professional Golfers Association to play in the $10,000 San Diego Open Golf Tournament this week, leaving in a lurch professional Bill Spiller, who qualified, but still was not permitted to play.

Big Joe Louis, 37 years a man, the fightingest champion of them all, a name that struck terror in the hearts of men who lived by their fists, chickened out on his golfing buddies who have been trying to crack the PGA for years with the abject excuse, "You've got to crawl before you can walk."

Double-Talk

Horton Smith, president of the PGA, in the neatest bit of double-talk this year, said, "Spiller cannot become a member of the PGA under its present rules. Louis as an amateur can enter any open tourment as long as he is invited by the sponsoring organization and his entry is approved by the PGA."

Louis' surrender to the PGA, as long as he is allowed to play, was complete when in response to a question concerning the suit he threatened against the PGA he replied, "I have no fight with them now."

When the PGA informed the San Diego Open committee that Louis, Spiller, and Leonard Reed would not be permitted to play in the tournament due to a "Caucasion only" clause, the local metropolitan press broke out in strong protests over such bad sportsmanship.

With the PGA on the hook, Smith did an about-face granting Louis permission to play. When Louis agreed to play, deserting the pros who have been fighting to play in PGA-sponsored tournaments, he let the PGA off the hook.

Spiller, Reed, and Eural Clarke journeyed to San Diego to play qualifying rounds. Spiller was the only one to qualify, firing scores of 77-75—152.

Louis said that the San Diego incident was the first time he ever had experienced racial discrimination in sports.

Abie Robinson, Eagle sports editor, stated: "Louis should know that fighting discrimination is just like fighting in the ring. You don't do a tank job, but stay in there swinging. Ask Jackie Robinson, or better yet, Josephine Baker, who is still trading punches with blabbermouth Winchell."

Jury Frees Man Held For Narcotics

After less than two hours of deliberation, a jury this week freed 33-year-old Adolphus Hightower of charges of possession of narcotics. Last July, officers from the narcotic squad raided the Hightower home at 5406 Long Beach and found a quantit yof heroin in an electri ron.

Attorney Earl C. Broady, who represented Hightower, charged that the whole thing was a frameup perpetrated by a suitor of Hightower's attractive wife, Margaret, to get Hightower "out of the way."

Broady also brought out during the trial, which was heard before Judge Jesse Frampton, that an alleged confession made by Hightower, was done to prevent officers from taking his wife and ten-year-old daughter to jail at the time of his arrest.

Upon cross-examination, defense counsel Broady compelled the arresting officers to admit that someone had called the narcotics bureau and told them they would find an electric iron in Hightower's home containing narcotics. Officers admitted that they asked to see the electric iron when they were admitted by Mrs. Hightower, and unscrewed it, finding the dope cache.

Mrs. Hightower testified that the iron had been brought to her home by a man who is apparently infatuated with her, and who has been warned by Hightower to stay away from her.

Hightower testified that he was surprised and shocked when the officers found the narcotic. His daughter was scared and hysterical when officers threatened to "take them all down." "I'll take the blame. I don't want my wife and child to go to jail," Hightower told arresting officers.

In a very forceful argument to the jury, Broady pointed out the elements of the frame-up and the conditional nature of Hightower's alleged confession, convincing the jury of Hightower's innocence.

Palm Springs Negroes in All-Out Battle for Housing

PALM SPRINGS—Palm Springs Negroes opened a full scale battle to end a serious housing shortage facing minority groups this week as their attorneys filed a suit demanding admittance of Negroes to the city's two housing developments and the local NAACP prepared to carry a plea for additional housing direct to Washington.

In the suit filed in the Riverside County Superior Court, A. C. Lilly and 12 other residents of Palm Springs charged that they are barred from living in the existing housing developments solely because of their race. There are 42 vacancies in the Herbert Lineau development, they charged in the suit, which was prepared by Attorney Everette M. Porter.

James M. Anderson, executive secretary of the NAACP area council, was presented with a $500 check at a meeting of the association's executive committee Sunday night. He was directed to appeal directly to Secretary of Interior Chapman if that step is necessary to ask the Bureau of Indian Affairs to grant 25-year leases on land in the Indian reservation for housing construction.

Active in raising the funds were a number of interested individuals including Frank Groves, Rev. A. J. Johnson, Myrtle Bennett and A. C. Little. Also active in the efforts were Herbert Lawrence, president of the local NAACP branch, and Mrs. Dorothy Elmo, secretary.

Palm Springs is a study in contrasts. On one side of the main highway are the lush hotels, complete with swimming pools, colorful garden furniture, inviting landscaping; expensive homes; luxury shops.

arsonists are going to keep on killing Negroes and burning their homes.

The federal government has begun an investigation but the question of how effective that investigation will be depends on public sentiment.

The NAACP is spark plugging the drive to see to it that Attorney General Howard McGrath and the FBI don't let Florida off the hook.

The NAACP is you, and you and you. The NAACP is as as effective and powerful as you make it—with your dollars and your support.

Sunday, January 20, Franklin Williams, regional secretary of the NAACP, and one of the lawyers who defended the Groveland defendants, will speak at Second Baptist Church and tell the story of Florida's outrageous violations of the Constitution. His is a first-hand report, an eye-witness story of the murder and pillage that is sweeping over Florida and that may blanket the nation unless it is stopped.

Walter White, executive secretary of the NAACP, will be here in a few days after that to bring us all up to date on what's happening in Florida and what we should do, and must do.

It's up to us who live here to go out and hear Williams and White and, more than that, to pitch in and help the NAACP do the job it has undertaken. We won't be safe right here in California very long unless we see to it that every Negro everywhere is safe—safe against murder, safe from law enforcement officers like Willis McCall, safe when he's in his own home.

More About L.A. Protest

resources of the Federal government in their hunt.

Extraordinary Action

Following the killing of the Moores, the situation was considered so critical that the FBI took extraordinary action. Normally, the FBI determines first whether the Federal government has jurisdiction. In extreme cases, such as the present one, the agency moves in first and settles the question of jurisdiction later.

In a memorandum to Hoover, Atty. Gen. McGrath stated: "The whole country is greatly disturbed at events that are taking place in Florida that challenge the civil rights of many groups —their right to assemble, their right to worship, the right to the security of their own home."

Klansmen Mock

But Klansmen, experts in hate, brazenly continued to flaunt their banners in mockery of justice and decency. On Saturday night, Jan. 5, in Woodville, Fla., a few miles from Tallahassee, a throng of hooded and robed members of the Klan gathered for a meeting and demonstration. A 15-foot fiery cross was burned, lighting the whole countryside with its sinister threat. Florida Grand Dragon Bill Hendrix, dressed in blue official robes of the Klan, red cross on his breast, presided.

Women, robed and hooded like their husbands, joined the eerie spectacle.

The meeting was well advertised in advance. Applications for membership were handed out. Another meeting was scheduled in Madison, Fla., the following week.

The first bombing in the current wave of terrorism occurred in September when an explosion damaged an apartment unit in Miami's Carver Village, Negro housing project. Two other explosions have occurred there. Five Jewish synagogues and a Roman Catholic church have also been bombing targets.

It was against this background that on November 6 Sheriff Willis McCall shot and killed Groveland rape case prisoner Samuel Shepherd and seriously wounded a second prisoner, Walter Lee Irvin. The Christmas night murder of the Moores climaxed the wave of terror.

killed him. In the scuffle, Burwell was wounded in the chest.

Guards Dascombe and Stewart entered the darkened library to investigate. Both were set upon, beaten and slashed in the face.

Burwell and Rogers then ran into the mess hall, where a basketball game was being played. They told Mackin they wanted some records from the motion picture projection booth.

Mackin, not knowing what had just happened ,took them into the booth which overhangs the mess hall. The berserk prisoners attacked him and stabbed him three times. He died in the booth.

Other guards then closed in on the two prisoners and managed to subdue them.

Cal. Cities Hold Protest Rallies On Fla. Bombing

A number of meetings protesting the murder of Harry T. Moore and the other outrages that have terrorized Florida have already been held in the Southland and in other Western states.

Sunday afternoon, about 150 people, a third of whom were white, voiced their anger over the lawlessness that is permitted to continue there, at the Francis Stevens High school in Palm Springs.

Speakers at the meeting were Rabbi I. Lebowitz, Father Columbus, City Manager Russell Rink and NAACP area council representative James Anderson.

On the same day, Franklin H. Williams, West Coast regional director, who was the main speaker at a public meeting in San Diego. Ray Frazier, president of the NAACP branch there, reported that feeling is running high in the border city, and that the large meeting reflected this reaction.

A week previously, Williams spoke in Las Vegas, Nev.

He is scheduled to speak in Los Angeles next Sunday, Jan. 20.

Noah Griffin to Give Spot News Of Fla. Events

SAN FRANCISCO — Noah W. Griffin, who organized the West Coast regional office of the NAACP in San Francisco in 1944 and who is now field secretary working out of the San Francisco office, was leaving this week for a month's trip which will take him to Florida, trouble-spot of the nation.

The West Coast regional office will receive on-the-spot news from Griffin as to progress of efforts to apprehend the murderers of Harry T. Moore and his wife, Harriet, on Christmas night.

Griffin is a native of Florida and was formerly president of the Jacksonville NAACP branch. He worked closely with Moore.

Like Moore, Griffin was active in the fight of Florida's Negro teachers to secure equal salaries with white teachers. In recognition of his work, the Negro people of Florida proclaimed a Noah Griffin Day in April, 1948. Highlight of the day was a meeting in the municipal auditorium in Tampa. Moore was one of those who helped arrange the meeting.

On his trip Griffin will be accompanied by his wife and their two sons, Noah Jr. and Gilbert.

The Consolidated Realty Board of Southern California, Incorporated, will present as guest speaker at its third annual Installation of Officers banquet, Mr. W. D. Morison, president, Morison Realty and Investment Company, Detroit, Michigan.

A unique dinner dance will be given at the Forum Starlite Roof, 4050 W. Pico Boulevard, on January 25, 1951, at 7:30 p.m. Invitations to the affair are already at a premium.

Bethune College Alerted Against Terrorist Bombers

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla.—Famous Bethune-Cookman college, established here in 1904, has been alerted against possible violence, following the Christmas night bombing murder of NAACP State Coordinator Harry T. Moore and his wife.

Rumors have reached college authorities that the terrorism that has run rampant over Florida during the past year may soon be directed against the institution.

The college has added sentries and guards to its staff to keep a constant day and night vigil against possible bombing attempts.

Jewish Groups Condemn Florida Law Breakdown

The Valley Jewish News, published in North Hollywood, in its January 2 issue carried a top front page editorial called "The Shame of a Nation" dealing with Florida lawlessness.

In a story on the same subject, the paper points out that Valley civic and religious leaders have added their voices to the mounting volume of independent protest.

In addition to the joint protest, Rabbi Elobor Weiss, Sun Valley Jewish Community Center, sent an individual telegram to President Truman in which he said in part:

"We cannot express loudly enough our disgust. Silence in place of action make us as guilty as the perpetrators of these violences."

The group telegram called for an end of routine investigation and urged Federal action to end the hoodlum attacks.

The telegram was signed by a large group including Rabbi Morton A. Bauman, Assemblyman Everett Burkhalter, Rabbi Jed Cohen, Rev. J. C. Gandy.

Joe Johnson in Bid for Post in Marine Cooks

SAN FRANCISCO—The general council of the National Union of Marine Cooks and Stewards voted unanimously this week to recommend to the membership that a Negro member be elected to the post of secretary-treasurer.

Eddie Tangen, outgoing secretary-treasurer, who is not running for re-election, recommended the selection of Wilmington port agent Joe Johnson.

Tangen said that he was nominating and supporting Johnson not only because he is a Negro, but because as "rank and filer, patrolman and port agent." Johnson has been a "tower of strength" in the union.

Bombs Won't Halt NAACP White Says

NEW YORK — "In no recent year have Negro Americans had to fight so hard to hold on to their faith in democracy as in 1951," declared Walter White, executive secretary of the NAACP in a message delivered here on Monday before the Association's annual meeting at the Willkie Memorial Building, 20 West 40th Street.

"At times during 1951," White told members of the NAACP from 16 states and the District of Columbia, who assembled to hear departmental reports of the Association's activities for the past year, "it almost appeared as though American bigots were on Stalin's payroll to supply a steady stream of material to turn the colored peoples of the world away from the democracies and towards communism."

"We are fully aware of the fact that it is this growing political, economic and moral strength which causes trigger-happy sheriffs and resentful politicians whose power hitherto has been based on 'keeping the Negro in his place' to resort . . . to violence and chicanery," Mr. White asserted. "We accept their challenge. We are not afraid. We shall fight all the harder. Neither nitroglycerine bombs nor State filibusters can stop our upward climb."

$150,000 Suit Filed Against Express Company

The Railway Express Agency, last week, was made a defendant in a $150,000 civil action filed by the offices of Attorney Vince Monroe Townsend, Jr., on behalf of Mrs. Elizabeth Williams, by Alice Brakefield, through her Power of Attorney. The case is an action for wrongful death. It arose out of the death of Riley Williams, of 765 East 50th street, who died on November 28th, as a result of having been run down by a Railway Express Agency Truck, in a cross-walk on November 15th, at the intersection of 4th Street and South Alameda Avenue.

According to the complaint, on the 15th day of November, about 5:20 p.m., the deceased, Riley Williams, was walking in a cross-walk, in a westerly direction across Alameda on 4th street. Paul A. Bress, driver of the Railway Express Agency Truck, was driving south on Alameda, at an excessive rate of speed, and ran him down, causing fatal injuries. The deceased lived approximately two weeks after the accident, having died in the General Hospital on the morning of November 28.

Scouts Plan Week of Celebration

Boy Scout Week—February 6 to 12—will be celebrated by Green Meadows District Boy Scouts in a number of ways, according to Rayfield Lundy, Area District Commissioner, who said that extensive plans have been made by local Scouts to celebrate the 42nd anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America.

Highlight of the week will be the actual birthday of the organization, February 8, and on that day all Scouts will wear their uniforms to school. At the same time, throughout greater Los Angeles, Scouts of 1,200 units belonging to the Los Angeles Area Boy Scout Council will be in uniform in a display of Scouting strength.

At nine o'clock that night, over television station KTTV, a mass birthday celebration will take place with civic officials and Scout executives taking part. Highlight of the program will be the rededication of the Council's 44,000 Scouts and leaders to the principles of the Scout Oath and Law, led by Arnold C. Sorenson, Council Scout Executive. Plans are being made for a party as a part of the celebration.

Scouts have been urged to attend the church of their own choice, in uniform; on either Scout Sabbath (February 9) or Scout Sunday (February 10).

On Saturday the 9th Scouts of all ages will attend the big May Company Jamboree, annual talent-filled show for local Scouts and including the official Boy Scout Week coast-to-coast broadcast at 1:00 p.m. over NBC, at the Shrine Auditorium.

Arraignment Set For Officials in Cicero Riot

CHICAGO—Four Cicero officials and three policemen, including Police Chief Erwin Konovsky and Town President Henry J. Sandusky, are slated to appear before Federal Judge Walter Labuy Feb. 7 for arraignment.

All seven are charged with conspiring to keep Negroes out of Chicago's lily-white suburb and with being responsible for failure to prevent and put down last July's ugly race riot.

Leo F. Tierney, special assistant U. S. attorney, announced that trial dates probably will be set when the accused men are arraigned.

The Federal government stepped in after the Cook County grand jury failed to bring in indictments against any of those responsible for the riot and instead levelled charges against the NAACP attorney who was defending Harvey E. Clark, innocent cause of the three-day mob action.

Local officials had failed to put down the riot. State Troopers were forced to step in.

Clark rented an apartment in the all-white suburb. When he and his family attempted to move in, mobsters, without hindrance from the police, overran the building, hurled the Clark's furniture from the window, partially wrecked the apartment house, and set fire to Clark's belongings.

Traffic Improvement

To provide the greatest amount of safety to motorists using San Pedro and Main Streets in the vicinity of Vernon avenue, a new traffic dividing lane is to be installed at the intersection of Vernon Avenue, San Pedro Place and Woodlawn Avenue.

There is a six-way intersection at this location. Work should begin about February 1.

GUEST SINGER—Georgia Laster, winner of awards from the National Association of Negro Musicians, Marion Anderson scholarship, and Atwater Kent Foundation, was guest singer on Supervisor Leonard Roach's TV program over KTLA last Friday, which he donated to the polio drive.

GOP Dreams Of Breaking Solid South

ATLANTA — Hoping to realize their long standing dream of splitting the Solid South, Republicans are hard at work trying to widen differences between President Truman and Dixiecrats on the civil rights issue. A few optimistic GOP leaders are convinced that their party can carry some southern states in this fall's presidential election.

The Republican party's National Executive Committee has formulated a "Dixie drive" to crack the Democratic party's hitherto solid front. A seven-member committee was designated to help Republican organizations prepare a vigorous second-party challenge.

National leaders have urged that every possible Republican figure make at least two speeches in the South in 1952. As an example of Republican "earnestness," the G.O.P. leaders in North Carolina note that next month they will hold a fund-raising dinner which they believe will be the first $100-a-plate Republican dinner in the South.

Republican leaders in general are hopeful that "anti-Truman" sentiment will prove strong enough to "splinter" the region politically and attract the electoral votes of several Southern states to any G.O.P. Presidential candidate. Some Republicans have proposed a coalition.

Republican factional leaders have been lining up voting strength among delegates to the G.O.P. convention in Chicago next June. Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, an avowed candidate for the nomination, has completed two speech-making swings that took him into six key Southern states. His supporters have expressed confidence that he will receive solid backing from the Dixie delegates.

Recent political surveys indicate that Senator Taft's candidacy has a fairly strong edge among Southern Republican organizations. Many have said that General Eisenhower as a Republican nominee would have strong appeal throughout the South, and several have suggested the names of Senators Byrd and Richard B. Russell of Georgia as Democratic Presidential nominees who would be "satisfactory" to the South.

Watts Council In First Meet

The Watts Co-Ordinating Council will hold its first meeting for the new year at the Will Rogers Park Auditorium at 103rd and Success Avenue, beginning at 10 a.m. Friday, January 18.

Special guests will be Jesse Robinson and Pete Hurley, co-directors of the St. Augustine-West View Hospital Fund.

The Council is comprised of leaders of all clubs and organizations concerned with the Watts area. Rev. J. J. Hicks is executive chairman.

Driver Jailed As She Strikes Traffic Officer

A 61-year-old woman motorist was arrested Saturday on a charge of being drunk in an automobile after her car struck and injured Police Officer Walter Giles, as he was directing traffic at Fifth and Main streets.

"I saw the officer, but I don't think I hit him," Mrs. Clara Belle Daley, of 2845 Lynwoodland, told police when she was booked at city jail on suspicion of being drunk in the car.

Giles, who has been directing traffic at the same intersection for nearly 12 years, was treated at Georgia Street Receiving Hospital for a possible fractured leg.

way are the tumbled - down shacks where live the Negroes, Mexicans and Indians, who perform the service jobs for those "on the other side." Here the roads are of dirt. Improvements are largely absent. Buildings are sorely in need of repair. In addition, they are badly overcrowded.

It is the hope of the Negro community that a modern, clean housing project can be erected here. The land is owned by the Indian Affairs office. The city fathers apparently are unwilling to have a project located here, which is a logical place for such an undertaking, since it is easily accessible, close to the shopping area and to the area where the people work.

The authorities have suggested instead that such a project, if embarked upon, should be situated on land some eight miles or so away from the center of the city.

Critical Shortage

The situation has become critical because of the lack of homes available to members of the minority groups. Some of the houses now occupied by Negroes have been condemned as unfit for habitation, but eviction proceedings have been withheld because there is no place into which the Negroes can move. The situation is further aggravated by the fact that Lineau Village, veterans' housing project built by the State of California, refuses to rent to Negroes even if they are veterans.

ZONING VARIANCE DENIED

The county zoning board last week recommended that a property exception be denied for expansion of a plating shop in the Willowbrook-Enterprise District.

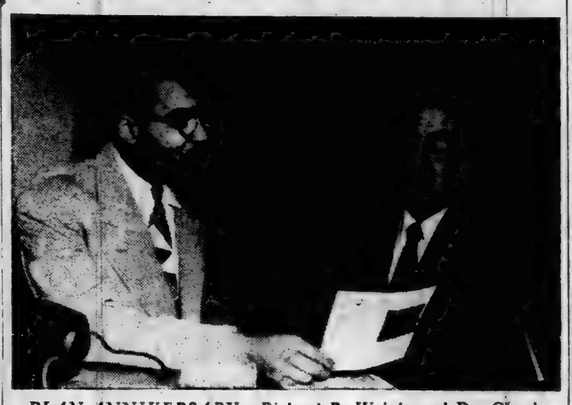
Broadway Federal Savings to Celebrate Fifth Anniversary



The public at large has been extended a cordial invitation to participate in the gala fifth anniversary celebration of Broadway Federal Savings and Loan Association on Sunday commencing at 2 p.m.

Locale for the mammoth "open house' festivities will be the institution's newly renovated headquarters" at 4329 So. Broadway. A new unit inclusive of a directors' room, enlarged working quarters for the clerical staff and private consultation booths were completed in time for public inspection on Sunday.

"This first successful milestone in Broadway Federal's history can truly be attributed to public interest and support, Dr. H. Claude Hudson, president of the concern, told this publication We have been able to financially assist over eight hundred prospective home owners during this five-year period, besides paying lucrative dividends to the association's stockholders. We sincerely feel our institution has been a definite asset to the community."

Personalities from all walks of life have been invited to share in the celebration and it is expected that Gov. Earl Warren, Mayor Fletcher Bowron, Josephine Baker, Roi Ottley and other notables will be on hand for the proceedings.

Richard R. Wright III, member of the famous Philadelphia banking family, is general manager of Broadway Federal. Dr. E. Claude Hudson is president and Paul R. Williams, vice president.

PLAN ANNIVERSARY—Richard R. Wright and Dr. Claude Hudson look over a five year financial statement of the Broadway Federal Savings and Loan company in preparation for the house to celebrate the founding of the organization.

Student Elected to College Council

Rayshon Wilson, 2161 W. 35th Place, is the Food Department's representative to the Trades Council, student governing organization for the Los Angeles Trade-Technical Junior college, 1646 S. Olive St.

Students are represented at Trade-Technical by department delegates who have been selected by class members.

Wilson is from Moones High school in Texas where he was vice-president of the Science club and a member of the football team. He spent one year at the Paul Quinn college in Texas prior to entering Trade-Technical.

College Groups Open Drive to Register Voters

Register to Vote!

This and similar phrases will be kept before the public for the next three months in an intensive registration and get-out-to vote campaign sponsored by the American Council on Human Rights.

The American Council on Human Rights is a cooperative program composed of Alpha Kappa Alpha, Delta Sigma Theta, Sigma Gamma Rho and Zeta Phi Beta sororities, and Alpha Phi Alpha, Kappa Alpha Psi and Phi Beta Sigma fraternities.

It seeks to organize and direct the abilities and energies of nearly 100,000 college graduates and students in the great American struggle against racial discrimination and inequality. The council gives an effective voice to its members in their insistent demands for equality of treatment and opportunity to all.

18 Men Nabbed In Gambling Raid

By EDDIE LEE KING

A long list of men were arrested Sunday night for illegal gambling at 1137 East 90th street.

The gamblers were Willie Woods, 39, 9515 Parmelee Avenue; Johnnie Mack Brown, 29, 1961 East 97th street; Eugene Thompson Patterson, 47, 2222 East 98th street; Edward Curtis Hall, 33, 2924 Harvard street; Oscie B. King, 30, 9620½ Croesus street; Tom Penegar, 23, 10177 Croesus street; John Terry 53, 5722 Morgan avenue; Robert Lee Jones, 31, 1137 East 90th street; Willie David Cain, 27, 10177 Croesus street; Fred Merrion Penigar, 29, 9516 Croesus street; Sullivan Snell, 58, 927 East 20th street; Andrew Dalton Peters, 32, 9014 South Holmes avenue; Floyd Meeks, 41, 906 Lanzio avenue; Cecil Adams, 33, 2924 Harvard Blvd.; Eddie Williams, 28, 11521 Grape street; Fosion Byas, 48, 9814 Pandora street; Wallace Walker, 41, 4426 Honduras street, and Bill Will Thomas, 44, 1416 East 59th place.

When Sheriff's Deputies J. Dargan and E. A. Raby of the Firestone Park sub-station arrived and made inquiries of a woman occupant of the rooming house, as to anyone being hurt or in danger, they heard loud voices and cursing in a rear room and were told that was where assistance was needed.

Upon investigation they found the above named 18 men standing around a long table which was covered with a gray woolen blanket and they were in the process of shooting dice.

Robert Lee Jones, who lives at the location, was stripped to the waist. Upon seeing the deputies, Jones immediately told Deputy Dargan to take $100 and forget that he saw anything. All of the men were placed under arrest and taken to Firestone station.

Two pairs of dice, a leather dice cup, $17 in currency and the gray blanket were confiscated by the deputies and taken to the station and tagged, being held for evidence.

Cecial Adams was found to have six pawn tickets in his possession, also an interest receipt, a traffic citation and a traffic citation warrant issued January 29, 1951. Upon questioning, Adams told conflicting stories, as to the pawn tickets and was booked on the additional charge of burglary.

Dice Cheat

Eddie Williams was found to have small strips of sandpaper in an aspirin box, salves and oils on his person; these items being used in dice and card games for the purpose of cheating — were confiscated, tagged and placed in evidence locker.

The deputies stated that they were called to the gambling house regarding a possible cutting, by an excited citizen who heard the loud cursing.

Logan Says Decline In Bias Surprising

PARIS—Dr. Rayford Logan of Howard University told a French audience of governors of overseas territories, senators and Negro leaders last week that rapid progress in recent years toward elimination of racial discrimination and segregation in the United States "has surprised many of the most competent students of social change."

Truman Names Two Negroes To New FEPC

WASHINGTON — Oliver Hill, former Richmond, Va. city councilman and member of the NAACP legal committee was one of two Negroes among five persons named by President Truman for the new Committee on Government Contract Compliance which will seek to end discrimination in defense employment.

Also named was Dowdal Davis, editor of the Kansas City Call. Dwight Palmer, head of General Cable Corporation, was named chairman. The five persons named by the president will team up with heads of government agencies in the fight against racial and religious bias.

James Carey, Secretary-treasurer of the CIO and president of the IUE-CIO; Irving Engel, chairman of the executive committee of the American Jewish Committee; and George Meany, secretary-treasurer of the AFL, are the other members.

Walter White had expressed the NAACP's disappointment that the President did not appoint a fair employment practice commission with full enforcement powers, and had stated that the chance of effectiveness of the contract compliance committee would depend upon the caliber of the men chosen to be members.

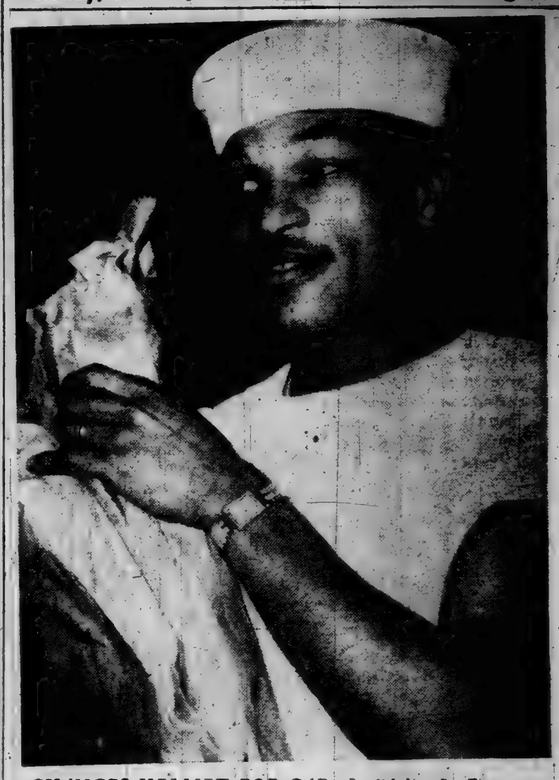
Dope Dealer Sentenced



A 36-year-old man, found guilty of possession and sale of narcotics to women prostitutes, was sentenced to state prison for men at Chino this week by Superior Judge Nye for a term of from one to five years.

James "Fats" Garrett, who was arrested in a raid by police vice squadders in a room at 711½ E. Fifth street, Oct. 4, was convicted in a trial without a jury.

Two of the three women in the room with Garrett were found to have newly-made hypodermic injection marks on their arms. They testified that Garrett had sold narcotics to them. Ten bundles of heroin were seized as evidence against Garrett.

Dewey Seeks New Teeth in Bias Law

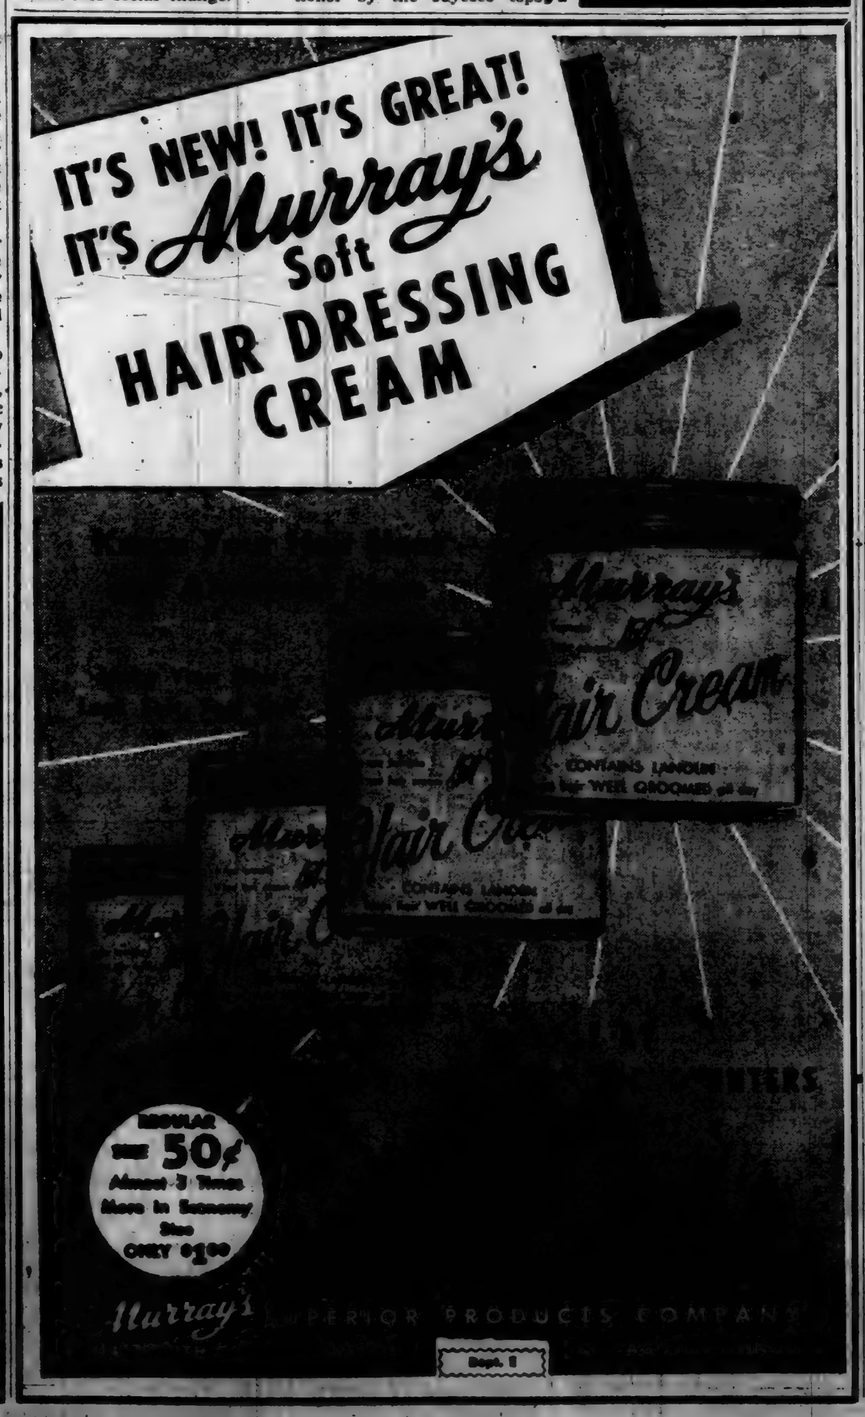
ALBANY, N. Y. (GLOBAL)—Governor Thomas E. Dewey, the first state chief executive to sign into law a measure to prevent discrimination in employment on account of race, color, creed, or national origin, in his annual message to the Legislature this week, asked the lawmakers to expand the power of the State Commission Against Discrimination to give it jurisdiction to act in cases regarding admission to hotels, restaurants, night clubs, theatres, bars, recreation and resort facilities and other places of public accommodation. Under the present law, it is restricted to discrimination in employment.

CHANGES HELMET FOR CAP—It didn't take Rams star player Bob Boyd long to learn the correct angle to wear a Navy man's cap. Bob, sporting his new headgear, is now exercising for Uncle at San Diego Naval base. During past football season, Boyd was selected by sports experts as one of the most versatile players of the year.

Junior Chamber of Commerce Honors Publisher of Ebony

TULSA, OKLA.—John H. Johnson, editor and publisher of Ebony, Tan Confessions, Jet and Negro Digest, was named this week as one of the ten outstanding young men of the country for the year 1951 by the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce. He is the first Negro businessman to receive this honor.

Johnson, with the other nine young men who have achieved outstanding success in various fields of endeavor—science, business, broadcasting, medicine, military, magazine, etc.—will be honored at the Jaycees' annual banquet in Dayton, Ohio on Jan. 19. Each of them will be presented with a gold and ruby Distinguished Service Award Key and a scroll of honor.



Johnson was cited "for developing publications that record and describe the progress of the Negro in America and serve as inspiration to all Negroes."

For the young editor and publisher—he will be 34 on the same day he receives the Jaycee award, January 19—this national honor by the Jaycees tops a spectacular success in journalism.

Influx of out-of-state cars into California continued its phenomenal increase during 1951 when an all-time high of 1,369,983 automobiles, carrying 3,645,241 persons entered the state.

Baptist Association Set for Second Quarterly Session

The Los Angeles Baptist District Association of the Western Baptist State Convention of California will hold its second quarterly session at the Victory Baptist Church, 48th and McKinley streets, beginning Tuesday, January 22. The session will last for four days and will be under the progressive leadership of Dr. Arthur A. Peters, its moderator. Theme of the forthcoming quarterly session is "Living Our Faith in a Time of World Crisis."

Special programs have been planned for the run of the session. On Tuesday night, a musical that promises to be outstanding will feature choirs of the district. The musical is called "Gospel Melody Lane." It will be directed by Prof. C. E. Jones.

The Pastor's Conference assembles on Wednesday, Jan. 23, at 2 p.m. with timely discussions on pastoral work the order of the day. Rev. Manuel Scott will preside over the conference.

Wednesday evening is Laymen Hour and will highlight a key message by Dr. John L. Branham and music by his Echoes of Eden Choir. Presiding at the service will be Mr. John S. Grigsby.

On Thursday morning, Jan. 24, a woman's department will be presided over by Mrs. Maple Gordon. At 2 p.m. the same day, a missionary sermon will be delivered by Rev. Frank James, state missionary. Later the session will hear a special address by the state president, Mrs. Blanche N. Carter and a key message by Dr. Horace N. Mays, director of Christian Education.

Closing day of the session is Friday, Jan. 25. At 2:30 p.m., Dr. J. L. Caston, minister of Trinity Baptist Church, will deliver at doctrinal message. The closing message will come from Rev. T. P. Moss, minister of the New Zion Baptist Church.

APPRECIATION WEEK AT MORNING STAR CHURCH

In appreciation of the outstanding service rendered by Rev. P. J. Ellis and his wife to their church and community, Morning Star Baptist Church of 1334 E. 41st street has set aside a week of appreciation. The week covers the dates January 20-27 inclusively.

It was in the year 1948, that Rev. Ellis was called to the Pastorate of this great church. Since that time, the membership has not only been increased, but the attendance of the Sunday Services, as well as the Mid-Week have shown a large increase.

The Organizations of the Church have been strengthened and filled with enthusiasm and zeal.

The membership of Morning Star has planned great things for this occasion.

On Sunday, Jan. 20 services are as follows: the "Union Baptist Church" will be in charge. Minister, Rev. M. Marshall will bring the message. Service begins at 3 p.m.

Monday night, Jan. 21, The Greater 1st, Baptist Church, Rev. R. R. Williams, Minister.

Tuesday night, Jan. 22, The Metropolitan Baptist Church, Rev. J. E. Evans, Minister.

Wednesday night, Jan. 23, The Strangers' Rest Baptist Church Church, Rev. E. Burns, Minister.

Thursday night, Jan. 24, The Paradise Baptist Church, Dr. A. J. Iverson, Minister.

Friday night, Jan. 25, The St. John Baptist Church, Rev. J. A. Brooks, Minister.

Sunday, Jan. 27, at 3 p.m. Victory Baptist Church, and McCoy Memorial Baptist Church, with Dr. A. A. Peters and Rev. E. A. Anderson, Ministers. The Anniversary sermon will be delivered by Dr. A. A. Peters.

Laymen Plan Annual Day

Services on this Sunday at the First A.M.E. Church, Eighth and Towne, will be under the direction of the Laymen's League of that church assisted by lay representatives of the Southern California District of the A. M. E. Church.

A large Sunday morning attendance is expected to hear Mr. Richard R. Wright III, prominent businessman, layman, and son of Bishop R. R. Wright Jr. of the A.M.E. Church, deliver the morning message. Assisting in the morning service will be the elected Lay Delegates from Southern California to the General Conference of the A.M.E. Church in Chicago in May. These include Benjamin Ingraham, St. Paul A.M.E. Church, San Bernardino; Moses Webb, Second A.M.E. Church, Los Angeles; Arthur Prince, El Centro; Henry Pettigrew, Walker Temple, Los Angeles; Ralph Jones, Santa Ana; and Philip Robinson, Eighth and Towne, leader of the delegation.

In a special program at 3:30 p.m. the nationally known radio and recording artists, the Simmons-Akers Gospel Singers, will appear. President W. Thomas Person, head of the laymen of Eighth and Towne, points out that both the afternoon and evening programs offer a real musical treat for all who attend.

At 7:00 p.m., the David Star Jordan Junior High School a cappella choir under the direction of Mrs. Thelma Banks will bring a program of classical, sacred and folk music. The day was arranged through the work of the program committee under the chairmanship of Joseph Ellis, with Miss Barbara Bradley, Mrs. Mary Person, Philip M. Robinson, A. A. Thomas and Paul Greenway.

School of Christ is Unique in Teaching Religious Doctrine

FOUNDER—Dean Ellie H. Matthews organized School of Christ in 1932. Possessing a rich background in religious and spiritual work, she has built the school into one of the most unique of its kind.

By MIRIAM CHRISTIAN, Church Editor

One of the most unique religious institutions in the city is the School of Christ S.P.G. (Society for the Propogation of the Gospel), a training center fully dedicated to the preparation of students for better service in Christianity. Organized along non-sectarian lines by its founder, Dean Ellie H. Matthews, back in 1932, the school is open to any person who desires to ready himself for important work in holy activities.

The School of Christ, located at 4075 S. Main street, is not for the service of any particular sect or race. Its doors are open to students of all faiths and racial origins. The official emblem of the institution is a pyramid that is aimed to depict the same absolute indivisibility of humans inherent in God's purpose.

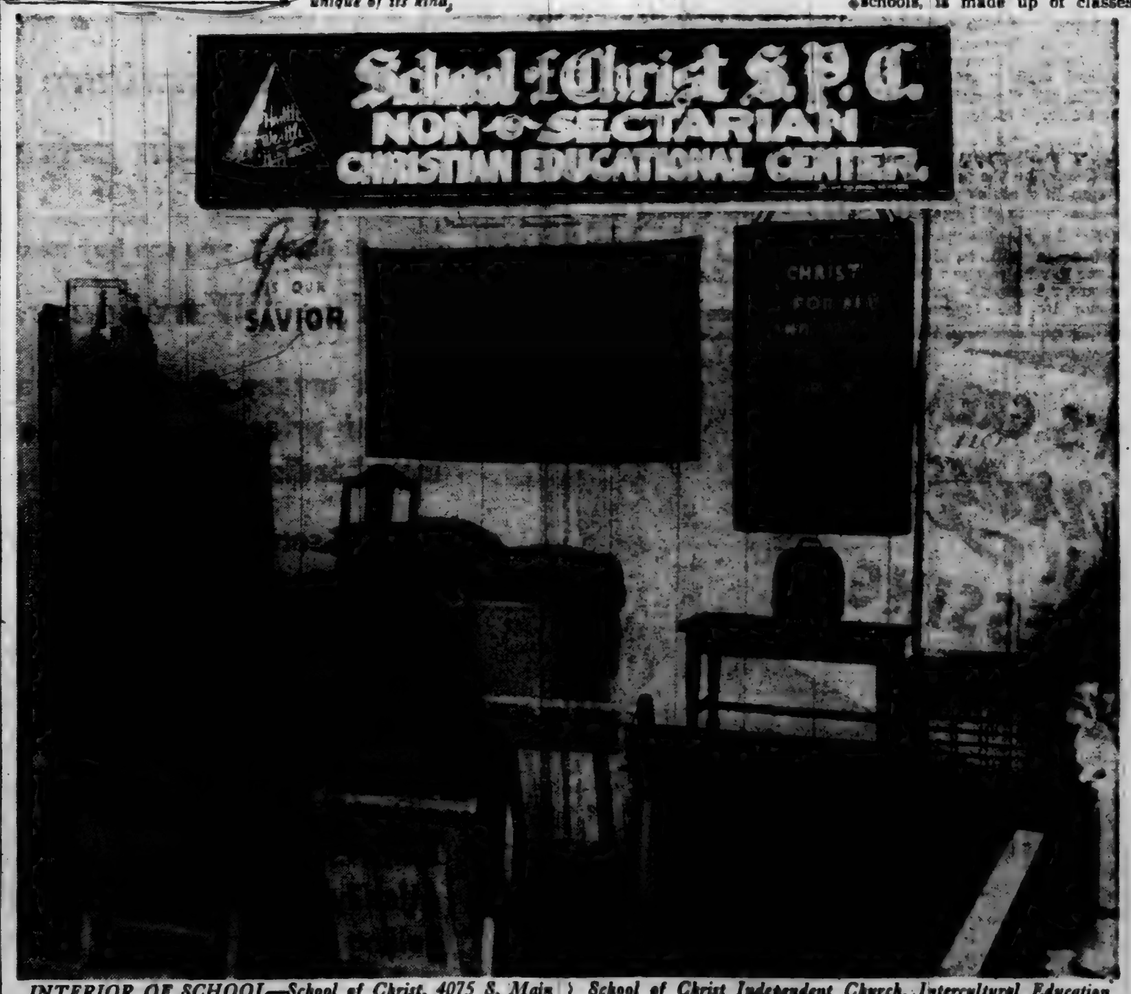
School's Code

Prevailing belief at the School of Christ holds that "God is Father of All" and that "as many as doeth righteous of every nation is acceptable to Him." By the school's code, the church is looked upon as the leader in the conquest of the world for truth and justice and thereby should be open to all without respect to race, creed or national origin.

The School of Christ has been incorporated under the state laws of California since 1945 and is completely recognized and accredited as an exclusively religious institution. It, like most schools, is made up of classes and operates by a system of grades. A student may progress through the school until he has had conferred upon him a certificate, diploma or degree.

Leadership

The curriculum at the School of Christ is specially designed to give the greatest possible training in religion to the undergraduate student or community worker. Completion of the course, the school claims, adequately prepares one for leadership in religious work. The curriculum includes a study of Christian life, religious doctrine and the Bible (old and new Testament).



Guiding influence behind the School of Christ is its industrious organizer, Dean Matthews, who is also known to many of her admirers and friends as "Sister Matthews." A onetime resident of Berkeley and Oakland, she has lived in Los Angeles for some 20 years now. She possesses a rich background in religious and spiritual work, having been a member of the church family from her teenage.

Began As Child

Early in life, the Texas-born Sister Matthews became convinced of the universal good in the work of God and set out to promote it among all nationalities and creeds. She has always wanted to be a leader in the work. As a little girl in the frequent playing of church in her family's front yard, she invariably wanted to portray the part of a preacher. She has since been able to realize her ambition several times in real life.

In many of the leading churches of the city, she has pastored. She at one time was attached to the ministerial staff of Peoples Independent Church, later served as director of Christian Education of the Church of INTERIOR OF SCHOOL—School of Christ, 4075 S. Main provides an extensive program of study which is administered through subsidiary departments. These departments include the School of Christ Independent Church, Intercultural Education Project, Leadership Training Institute and Christian Ministries.

Indian Student Guest Speaker

Guest speaker at last Sunday's meeting of the Allen Christian Endeavor League of First A.M.E. Church was an Indian student, Miss Jessica Samuels who is now doing graduate study at the University of Southern California. She is president of the St. Christopher Teachers Training College for Women in Madras, India.

In her talk, Miss Samuels described the Christian Home Movement of India as well as giving other interesting details about her native land. Among the other guests at the League's meeting was another Indian, Mr. R. Baylhoudhury, also a student at USC. He will address the League at a later meeting.

Miss Elfleda Jackson, a teacher in the local public school system, is president of the League.

First Negro Church on New Network Telecast

First Negro church to televise a service in the new NBC program, "Frontiers of Faith," was the Siloam Presbyterian Church of Brooklyn which appeared on the telecast last Sunday morning. The program is seen locally over station KFMB-TV (channel 8) at 11 a.m.

Siloam's pastor, Rev. Milton A. Galamison, has appeared on television many times during the last two years in a DuMont network studio program called "Morning Chapel." The NBC program was telecast from the church's sanctuary and the full choir and congregation of the group participated. Galamison is regarded by video people as one of the most successful ministers in the New York area in his mastery of the television technique.

Siloam has a distinguished record which made its recognition by NBC for television appropriate. Founded more than one hundred years ago, Siloam is the third oldest Negro Presbyterian church in continuous service in the U. S. and the oldest in the New York area. The church has grown until it is the second largest Negro Presbyterian church in the nation.

Minister Dies In Kentucky

The minister who for 52 years was rector of St. Clements Episcopal Church in Henderson, Ky., Rev. Jackson M. Mundy, died a few days ago of an undisclosed illness at the age of 84. He died in the home of his son, Verner, in Paducah, Ky.

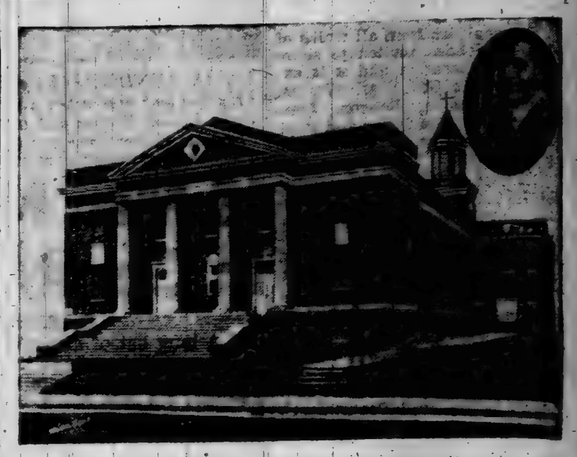
ALONE IN THE GARDEN



On a mountain outside the city of Jerusalem there was a lovely garden. There were so many olive trees on the mountainside that it was called the Mount of Olives, and the garden was called Gethsemane.

After working all day in the hot sun, often Jesus went out into the cool garden to rest and pray in the evening; and sometimes He stayed all night, talking to His Father in Heaven.

One night, Jesus chose three of His disciples—Peter, James, and John—to go with Him to the garden to pray.

They were so tired that they went to sleep, and Jesus prayed alone for a whole hour. Then He went to them and said, "Could you not help Me pray, even for one hour?"

He went back to them again and again, but each time He found them asleep. How sorry they were, later, that they did not stay awake to help Jesus pray!

Membership Grows at Elder Wise's Church

One of the leading churches in Palm Springs is Bethlehem Church of God in Christ pastored by Elder Richard Wise. Recently Elder Wise conducted his congregation in a revival which caused a great increase in membership.

Services are held at the usual hours at Bethlehem. Elder Wise places emphasis on his Sunday evening worship which boasts the largest attendance of the churches.

the community. The pioneer relief organization that was founded and is headed by Dr. David D. Thomas carried baskets of food and toys to the homes of the needy and made specific cash donations to others.

In order that they could be tain who would be the proper recipients of their charitable distributions, the organization procured an official list of needy families from the Bureau of Public Assistance of Los Angeles County, with whom they enjoy the fullest and closest cooperation all the year round. This fine cooperation is continous because the organization has long since been officially approved by the State Department of Social Welfare. The Headquarters of the organization is located at 1020 West 45th Street, with their mailing address being P.O. Box 14832, Cimarron Station, Los Angeles 18, California.

Rev. Thomas is the president of the organization, and is most ably assisted by a group of sincerely interested citizens who give unceasingly of their time and energies toward the growth and progress of their program and charitable work.

This fine organization is holding a special public meeting at the Neighborhood Community Church, pastored by the Rev. H. Mansfield Collins, located at 47th Place and San Pedro Street, Thursday night January 24th at 8:00 o'clock. The public is invited. It is the ardent desire of this group for the whole community to become better aquainted with them and their great work. To this end they are having several outstanding speakers to address the meeting, some being specialists from the Social Service Department.

God in Christ, Southern California.

Four churches in the community have been organized and dedicated by Dean Matthews. Each of them is still in service.

Dean Matthews has been untiring in her work to further the religious cause. For some 20 years, she has been at the service of local people who were sick or unfortunate. She now has delegated herself to another community service: to perfect the structure of the School of Christ and pilot it into its own institutional home.

Prepared

Dean Matthews is well prepared for the task at hand. Trained first in the elementary and high schools of Houston, Texas before moving with her family to California, she continued her studies in high schools in Oakland and Berkeley. She later enrolled at the University of California to pursue a major in sociology but a severe illness forced her to drop out of school before she could complete the goal.

Public Speaker

After recovering from the sickness, through what she calls "Divine Healing," she decided to enter the ministry. Her preparation for the profession began with studies at the Pacific Coast School of Religion in Berkeley, was later augmented with courses in public speaking and effective speech at the Jeter Davis School of Elocution in Oakland and the Ethel Cotton Studio of Expression in San Francisco. She also has to her credit a course in business administration from the Whitaker Business College of Berkeley.

The program of study at the School of Christ is administered through subsidiary departments. These departments include the School of Christ Independent Church, Intercultural Education Project, Leadership Training Institute and Christian Ministries.

Capable Curator

Each department is personally supervised by Dean Matthews. She is, however, ably assisted by a staff of very capable curators. Rev. Frank Roddy, formerly of Chicago, has recently been confirmed as the pastor of the church. L. B. Lacy is superintendent of Sunday School. Mrs. B. Roddy is president of Missions. Mrs. I. D. Clack is curator over the youth project with the assistance of Miss Hattie Harris who doubles as publicity director. Secretary and program director is Miss Christine Story. D. J. Hogan is chairman of the Board of Elders.

The School of Christ is governed by a board of directors of which Dean Matthews is president. Mrs. Rose A. Smith is secretary and L. B. Lacy is treasurer.

Registration is now open for courses in Christian Ministries and Leadership Development. Classes for the Spring term begin February 18. All classes are held at the school.

Dean Matthews is open for appointments at the school between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. from Tuesday to Friday each week. Every day around the clock, she is available for sick and hospital calls, personal consultations, funerals, weddings and ministerial services.

Wesley Honors Pastor's 15th Year of Service

A stalwart religious leader is being honored by the church he pastors, Wesley Methodist church, 112 W. 52nd street, in a

REV. E. W. RAKESTRAW

15th anniversary of his services. Rev. E. W. Rakestraw, has not only given valuable service to his church, but is also well known for his unselfish promotion of community improvement.

On Sunday evening, January 20, at 7 p.m., Wesley has designated Business Institutions night. At that time representatives of business and professions will deliver brief greetings in paying tribute to Rev. Rakestraw.

Talent Night at McCoy Baptist

Talent Night will be the order of business at McCoy Memorial Baptist Church on this Sunday evening in a special program sponsored by the Trail Blazers Group. Mrs. Clara Mae Bell is president of the group.

Among the performers scheduled to appear on the program are William H. Luke, dramatic reader; the Simmon-Akers Singers; Mrs. Juanita James, soloist; Miss Ann High, artist; and Mrs. Thompson, soloist.

The public is invited to attend the program which begins at 8 p.m. Special invitations are extended to those persons born in March, January, and February. For them, the Trail Blazers promise something good.

Rev. E. A. Anderson is pastor at McCoy.

Funeral Rites for Veteran Churchman

One of Los Angeles' earliest residents, Charles W. Jones of 1122 E. 50th street, was buried in Paradise Memorial Park here recently. He died suddenly at his home on last December 20. His wife found him on the service porch of their home. He was 81 years old at the time of his death.

Funeral services for Jones was held at Second Baptist Church where he had held steady membership since 1914. Two years before he had arrived in Los Angeles. He had lived in the city for 39 consecutive years up to his death.

Jones was known as a faithful member of the church, choir and Sunday School at Second Baptist. The church payed him due respects in his funeral services. Delivering the obituary in the ceremony was Dr. J. Raymond Henderson, pastor at Second Baptist. Complimentary remarks were voiced by three other ministers: Rev. Ernest S. Redd, Dr. Harold M. Kingsley and Rev. Herbert Foster.

Honorary pallbearers for the Jones funeral included members of his Sunday School class and friends. The active pallbearers were members of the choir and deacons.

Conner-Johnson Mortuary handled the servicing of the funeral.

Memphis Gets New Church

Newest and one of the most distinguished church structures in Memphis, Tenn., is the Metropolitan Baptist Church, constructed at a cost of $250,000 and recently dedicated to the city by the church's pastor, Dr. S. A. Owen. The new Metropolitan is constructed in Georgian style, houses numerous recreation and uniform rooms as well as meeting rooms for various activities.

The church's pastor, Rev. Owens, is also president of the Tennessee State Baptist M.E. Conventions, Inc., which three years ago purchased a former Catholic school for $500,000. He is married to the former Miss Mary J. Hoods of Alexandria, Va., a graduate of Hartshorn Memorial College. They have one son, S. A. Owen, Jr., a graduate of Morehouse College.

Pope Sees Need for Tight Catholic Unity

Noting that Christian civilization faces a steadily growing crisis, Pope Pius II called for a "tight union of all Catholic forces" in its defense in a statement from Vatican City earlier this week.

Making his traditional New Year address to the Roman aristocracy, the Pope urged them to set an example to others in defense of marriage and family life.

He said they must keep an active interest in all public affairs despite the fact that the Italian constitution deprives them of special social status.

For the Roman aristocracy to take an attitude of "abstentionism," the Pope said, "would be equivalent to desertion because, whatever may happen and whatever it may cost, it is necessary above all to maintain, against the danger of even a small split, a tight union of all Catholic forces."

Instead of abstaining from public affairs, the Roman aristocracy can serve both church and state by taking part in parliamentary and administrative life, the arts, sciences, and other professions, the Pope said.

"In the interest and for the love of the common welfare and to save Christian civilization in the crisis which rather than diminishing appears rather to increase, you must remain firm in the breach, the first lines of defense," the Pope said.

Zion Hill Ends Drive With Banquet, Recital

REV. TIMOTHY CHAMBERS

RACHEL LATTIMORE

A financial drive was sponsored by Zion Hill Baptist church to raise funds for enlarging and beautifying of the church at a cost of more than $100,000. Dr. Timothy M. Chambers led the women of the church, with his wife, Mrs. Hazel Thomas Chambers heading the men's division.

First lady of the church, Mrs. Chambers, won the campaign, but the pastor was permitted to preside during the evening of banquet and present his special guests.

Dr. B. E. Howell, of Good Street Baptist church, Dallas, Texas, attended the banquet which marked the end of the competition as special guest. He was accompanied by his wife. Dr. Howell is now chairman of the joint boards of Good street and recently was chosen "layman of the year" by the National Baptist Convention, Inc.

His message urged "Christian laymen to assume their full responsibility in advancing the kindgom of God." Dr. E. L. Robinson, president of the local branch of the NAACP and chairman of trustee board of Second Baptist church spoke briefly.

When Rev. Chambers was pastor of the Dallas church of which Dr. Howell is a member. Dr. Howell once advanced the church $18,000. At other times upon request, he advanced large sums at intervals.

During the festivities, Rachel Lattimore, member of First Presbyterian church in Hollywood, sang a number of grand opera popular songs and Negro spirituals. Miss Lattimore dedicated an unusual song to Dr. Howell. Miss Lattimore recently gave up the entertainment world to give her talents to the Church. Zion Hill has made plans to feature her in a recital very soon. First Presbyterian is pastored by internationally known college preacher, Dr. Louis H. Evans.

Following Miss Lattimore's program, Mrs. Howell presented a few remarks in appreciation of the church's hospitality. Dr. Charles Satchell Morris II delivered a short address to the guests in behalf of the church. Dr. Morris declared that "it is far better to deserve honor and not to get than to get and not deserve it.

Marvin Hayes Sponsored in Annual Crusader's Concert

Organzied in 1933 under the pastorate of Rev. J. B. St. Felix Isaacs, The Crusaders Club of the First A.M.E. Church, Eighth and Towne, have established a tradition of presenting a program of general public interest each year during February, the birth month of Richard Allen, founder of the African Methodist Episcopal Church.

During recent years the club has embarked on a program to present young artists who have shown great promise as they start upon their professional careers. Some of those who have been presented include Sir Jules Heyward, now director of music at Wesley M. E. Church; Buel Thomas, well-known tenor; the popular Sallie Martin Singers and the Corbett Singers from Racine, Wisconsin.

This year's program will present Marvin Hayes, in a concert February 12 at 8:50 p.m. at Eighth and Towne. Hayes is rapidly winning recognition in musical circles. The First A.M.E. Church is well known for its excellent acoustics.

Minister Returns From St. Louis

Rev. S. H. Marion, pastor of the First A.M.E. Zion Church, at Pico and Paloma streets, returns to his pulpit Sunday after a brief absence from the city. He was away in St. Louis for 10 days attending the Bishops' Council.

On Sunday, Rev. Marion will preach at the morning and evening services. The following Sunday he will request that each member of the congregation contribute a day of his pay to the church. He figures it will be a special New Year's gift to the church.

St. Louis Parishes Now Interracial

Catholic parishes numbering 30 in the St. Louis area currently have mixed congregations of Negro and white families, states a report by the Catholic Interracial Council. The report also states that most of the Catholic elementary and high schools are open to both races. This marks a definite step forward interracially for the church in the area.

Just 11 years ago there were only six Catholic churches and six parochial grade schools open to Negroes in the community. Now there are 30 Catholic elementary schools and all the diocesan high schools where Negro students can attend classes with whites.

Prayer Meetings Attracting Youths

By Mrs. Camille Leftridge

Organized several years ago to aid the youth of this community, the Neighborhood prayerband meetings are now strong features with local kids. The meetings, which begin each Monday morning in the Conner-Johnson Mortuary, are closed on Saturdays in some home. Leader of the meetings is tiny Irene Mannings, a 6-year-old.

During the last Christmas, the prayerband organization held a Yuletide party in the Conner-Johnson Mortuary, furnishing its own refreshments for the kiddies. Organizers of the meetings hope that their idea will spread throughout the community.

Allen C. Woodard Jr. Interred at Lincoln

Funeral services were held Monday at Conner-Johnson Funeral home for Allen C. Woodard, Jr., father of Mrs. Izora Woodard Taylor, Laurancel E. Woodard, and Allen C. Woodard, 3rd.

While on a return visit here, Mr. Woodard suffered a cerebral hemorrhage and died at the home of his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Taylor, 4117 Wall street.

Mr. Woodard was a Jamaican by birth, but spent most of his life in Houston, Texas. He was a resident of this city, intermittently, for the past ten years and was a member of Trinity Baptist church.

Officiating at the funeral service was Rev. Jonathan Lyle Caston, pastor of Trinity Baptist church. Interment followed at Lincoln cemetery.

In addition to his children, Mr. Woodard is survived by a granddaughter, Lauran Woodard; two brothers, Robert and Frank Woodard; and a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Woodard DuPree.

Harlem Congregation Tops in Membership

Largest Episcopal membership of any church in the United States belongs to a Harlem congregation. It is, according to the Episcopal Yearbook, the St. Philip's Episcopal Church.

Editor of the yearbook, Dr. Clifford P. Morehouse, claims that the membership of the Harlem church exceeds that of impressive St. Bartholomew's on Park avenue in New York City.

YOUTH SCORES AS CONCERT VOCALIST

A rapidly rising young singer, basso Marvin Hayes, won wide audience acclaim last Friday when he sang as assisting artist at the University of Southern California School of Music Senior Recital. He sang in German and French. His accompanist was Miss Ethel Zimmerman, student of Gwendolyn Williams.

TRIANGULAR CHURCH IN ANNIVERSARY PROGRAM

Last Saturday, as part of the 20th anniversary activities at Triangular Church of Truth, the church's combined senior choir and youth choir presented a musical pantomime called "The Stage of Life." It featured a large cast in the program offered in the church's auditorium.

This Friday night, Cosmopolitan Christian Church, with its widely known pastor, Dr. M. F. Mitchell, and the assistance of Rev. Heliger, will be in charge of the services at Triangular. Next Sunday evening the regular third Sunday musical program will be highlighted in the anniversary.

The following week's services and programs at Triangular will be held each night at 8 o'clock in the church's auditorium, 52nd and Wadsworth streets. Appearing on programs during that period will be the Simmons-Akers Singers, Branch Singers, Gospel Echoes, Rev. Arthur A. Smith and his group and R. L. Knowles. Also, Rev. Friar and the congregation of Belmont Avenue Baptist Church, Rev. S. H. Marion, choirs and congregation of First A.M.E. Zion Church and Dr. Lucy Johnson and membership of the June Cobb Institute. Closing ser-

KOREAN WAR PRISONERS GET RELIGIOUS DOCTRINE

KOREA—Working among 170,000 or so prisoners of war and civilian internees of Koje Island off the south Korean coast are today a group of Christian missionaries of all faiths. They report some converts.

Up to 7000 attend Sunday religious services at 20 different locations on the island. As many as 1000 attend week-day Bible classes, but one missionary said 500 is about average.

The Rev. Bruce A. Cummings, who spent 11 years in Korea before World War II, estimated that "not more than 1 percent were Christians to begin with and now (the total) is about 5 percent."

Cummings, a native of Baltimore, said converts must show reasonable evidence of personal conviction for six months. Then they are given an examination and become catechumens (probationers). After another six months they are eligible for baptism.

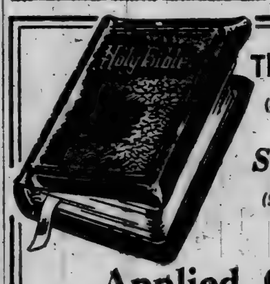
Says Cummings, "They could put many of our own church people at home to shame with their knowledge and practice of Christian principles.

"It would be foolish to suggest that every person who professes Christianity has become a new person completely."

'GOD IS LIFE' IS CHURCHES' TOPIC

A growth understanding that God is Life eternal increases longevity, according to the Sunday Bible Lesson on "Life" in all Christian Science churches.

"Understanding is a wellspring of life unto him that hath it," declares one of the Proverbs of Solomon (16:22) which is used as the Golden Text.



A Bible passage also from Proverbs (4:20-22) counsels, "My son, attend to my words; incline thine ear unto my sayings. Let them not depart from thine eyes; keep them in the midst of thine heart. For they are life unto those that find them, and health to all their flesh."

"We all must learn that Life is God," declares Mary Baker Eddy in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." She continues, "Ask yourself: Am I living the life that approaches the supreme good? Am I demonstrating the healing power of Truth and Love? If so, then the way will grow brighter 'unto the perfect day.' Your fruits will prove what the understanding of God brings to man."

MISSION PREPARES ANNUAL SERVICES

The 68th annual organizational service of the Sarah Allen Women's Missionary Society of the First A.M.E. Church is currently being planned for January 27 at 7 p.m. The service will be held at the First A.M.E. Church, Eighth and Towne streets.

According to the society's president, Mrs. Winnie M. Lumpkin, the service will have the theme of "Stewardship." It will be a special program honoring those women who have given years of service to the society.

Applied Christianity

Will Rogers, the beloved humorist, was once asked about the philosophy of life that endeared him to so many people. "It's simple," he said, "I never met a man I didn't like."

That's practical Christianity: to treat others as we would treat Our Lord—to treat others as Our Lord treats us. That is applied Christianity!

Can't we take Will Rogers' principle for our very own?—

Prying Pye in Prep Sportdom

By BRAD PYE, JR.

JOE MISSES THE BOAT

Joe Louis, the most universally admired and respected athlete of the race, is missing the boat if he's willing to go along with the PGA and be permitted to play in the San Diego Open while a member of his race, Bill Spiller, who has already qualified for the event, be barred.

PYE

Joe states that he will play in the tournament without Spiller. . . . "You crawl before you walk," he commented. . . . To this I say, divided we fall, together we stand. . . . Joe cited the case of local boy Jackie Robinson in baseball. . . . I'd like to refresh the ex-champ's memory to the Jackie Robinson story. . . . When Jackie was signed by the Dodgers it opened the field to all the members of the race that could make the grade . . . and not just Jackie Robinson.

PGA BROKE ITS PROMISE

Pray tell me what does the ex-champ hope to gain for the race or himself by playing in the San Diego Open under this condition. . . . There was a case against the PGA sometime ago because of its ban against the race. It was dropped because the PGA promised to abolish its lily-white policy . . . but the PGA broke its promise. . . . Now that Louis has a chance to do something real constructive he is taking the stand of a three-year-old.

I just wonder why the PGA has a silly, stupid clause in its laws that prohibits the race from its co-sponsored golf tournaments. . . . Is golf more complicated than other sports? . . . There is no body contact like football. . . . A sport that is considered to be in the minor class such as golf should welcome anyone no matter if he's green, red, or pink.

Horton Smith, PGA's newly elected prexy, in trying to evade the issue of its non-Caucasian rule, declares that Bill Spiller has not yet been approved as a professional by the PGA and that whether he would be allowed to play was "uncertain." . . . I'm under the impression that amateurs as well as pros of the Caucasian race are permitted to play. . . . If Spiller can't be approved by the PGA as a pro he can not be anything else but an amateur, so what's the point? . . . I guess Spiller is a very unfortunate colored man, with the wrong paint job and without the prominence of Joe Louis.

HERE AND YONDER

The Cleveland Indians will in all probability have a a pair of potential 20-game winners in sepia hurlers Sad Sam Jones, ex-San Diego fireballer, and Jose Santiago, of Wilkes-Barre fame. . . . Jim Beckstrom, ex-All-city sprinter and basketball star for Poly High the last two years, is currently starring for the Chapman College five. Willie Naulls, the great San Pedro basketballer, is reported ticketed for UCLA. . . . If he isn't nabbed by a pro baseball club first.

FUTURE LOOKS BRIGHT FOR BARBIAN

Henry Barbian, East Los Angeles Junior College student that was sponsored in the recent L. A. Open by the prominent Vernondale Women's Golf Club, is one of the most promising youngsters of the race. . . . Henry, who holds his own in the local tournaments, showed great promise in the Los Angeles tourney. . . . His poise and coolness was a thing of beauty. . . . Mrs. Mae Crowder, prexy of the Vernondale Women's Golf Club and entrepreneur of the popular Mae Crowder Women's Apparel Shop at 2053 W. Jefferson St., and Mrs. Mary Woodyard, supervisor of the tournament committee, and all the other club members are in line for felicitations from this column conductor for such a worthy cause.

JEFF HAS NOTHING TO BE ASHAMED OF

It's very fitting and appropriate, I think, to congratulate Larry Hanson and his hustling Democrat basketballers, on their stellar show in the All-City cage tourney. . . . Fellows Fred Thompson, John Thomas, Ray Anderson, Harold Forshe, Walter Lawrence, you first-stringers have nothing in the world to be ashamed of. You were a scrappy bunch of well-coached lads, but the odds were too great. . . . I predict as you read this Morris Taft, a fine college prospect if I have ever seen one, will have led the Poly boys into the championship tilt. . . . Other outstanding college prospect in my book are Earl Battey, of Jordan, Poly's Leonard Pollard, and San Pedro's Sam Johnson.

BOXERS' BANQUET

Charles Neal, stellar first baseman for Manuel Arts and LACC a couple of years back, will report to the Brooklyn Dodgers' spring training camp in Florida. . . . If he doesn't make the grade he will be farmed out for seasoning. . . . The Neal lad is quite a heavy hitter and a flashy baseman.

If you are a sports lover you won't want to miss the "First Annual Boxers' Testimonial" honoring ring greats of yesterday and today at the Club Alabam, 4215 S. Central Ave., Thursday, January 31, 9:30 p.m. . . . Honor guest of the gigantic affair will be the greatest hero of the ring, Joe Louis. . . . My man Herman Hill, versatile publicity man, states that the affair has all the earmarks of being the most fabulous of its kind. . . . Reservations for the star-studded attraction may be secured by phoning MI. 9681. . . . Others that will be honored are Long John Thomas, Chalky Wright, Jackie Wilson, and Henry Armstrong . . . and thousands of others. . . . As of now this is 25 and 5.

GLOBETROTTERS TO PLAY SHRINE AUDITORIUM

Abe Saperstein's celebrated Harlem Globetrotters, who are coming to the Shrine Auditorium on Friday, Feb. 1, to headline the huge doubleheader program against the Philadelphia Sphas, have proved their class against the toughest of opposition by their victories two straight years over the College All-Americans in the World Series of Basketball.

The classy Negro sagers, in fact, scored decisive series triumphs over the pick of the collegiate crop in the first two transcontinental 9,130-mile tour embracing 17 cities (two games were played in Los Angeles). A total of 181,634 fans saw the games.

Last season saw the dazzling Trotters return victors 14 times in 18 games, played before 216,270 fans in 18 cities, including an American basketball record turnout of 31,648 in the Pasadena (Calif.) Rose Bowl. That mark, incidentally, was eclipsed by the Trotters several times on their subsequent tours of South America, Europe and Africa with the top assemblage an estimated 75,000 in Berlin's Olympic Stadium last August.

SPORTS Eagle

Most Valuable Player

MIGHTY DEACON DAN TOWLER—The hard running of Deacon Dan Towler was a deciding factor in the National Conference 33 to 10 victory over the American Conference in the annual Pro Bowl game. Towler's play was so outstanding that he was selected the most valuable player in the game.

Jones Likely Injun Starter

NEW YORK—Al Lopez, manager of the Cleveland Indians, can hardly wait until the '52 season starts so that he can get a look at his top rookie pitchers Sam Jones and Jose Santiago.

Santiago, posted a 21-5 record at Wilkes-Barre last season. Appearing in 28 games, Jose allowed 149 hits and whiffed 130 in 186 innings. He walked only 64 and twirled three shutouts. During one stretch he reeled off seven straight wins, capped by a streak of 35 consecutive scoreless innings.

Sad Sam, who made his major league debut with the Indians last year in the final game, losing to Detroit 2-1. He yielded only four hits in 8 frames but wildness beat him. His curve has lots of spin and his fast ball is very much alive.

With sixth place San Diego last year Jones posted a 16-13 record but led the Pacific Coast League with 21 complete games, 267 innings pitched and 246 strikeouts. He had a 3.76 run average.

Basketball League At 28th Street 'Y'

The lid on basketball was lifted at the 28th Street YMCA, Saturday morning. The "C" and "D" teams entered in the Southwest YMCA Basketball League suffered defeats at the hands of two fast-breaking and sharp-shooting teams from Long Beach YMCA; the "C" team losing 59 to 41 and the "D" team losing 40 to 35.

The "D" game was nip and tuck all the way with the score tied 33 to 33, with two minutes to play. Long Beach scored two quick baskets and three free throws to win the very exciting contest. C. Clark, stellar forward for the 28th Street team, was the leading scorer for the day with 22 points.

The 28th Street "C" team played well and shows a lot of promise and will give good account of themselves before the season is over. The "C" and "D" teams will play again this Saturday, January 19, when strong teams from Santa Monica invade the 28th Street gym.

Saturday night, January 19, the Pasadena Crusader Club will play the varsity "Y" team known as the "Hoopsters." The main game is called for 8:30 p.m. Teams wishing to book games with the "Hoopsters" (18-19 year olds), may contact Mr. Norman Ward, Physical Education instructor at the 28th Street YMCA, ADams 7193.

Gavilan Wins Cuba's Award

HAVANA—Kid Gavilan, world welterweight champion, this week was voted Cuba's "outstanding" professional athlete of '51.

In a poll of Cuban sports writers, the Kid beat out Orestes Minoso, star outfielder of the Chicago White Sox 29-16.

Rafael Fortun, Cuba's ace sprinter, was voted "outstanding amateur athlete of '51."

POLY-SAN PEDRO PICKED IN CITY PREP BASKETBALL FINALS

HOLLYWOOD HIGH — Poly High, paced by Morris Taft and Leonard Pollard and San Pedro led by city and tourney top scorer Willie Naull and Sam Johnson are virtually sure bets to battle for the city cage crown.

As we go to press the results of the Poly-Jordan and the San Pedro-University games are not final but this writer picks Poly and Pedro in these tilts.

If these two teams come out victorious they will square off Saturday night for the city title. In this one I will have to pick Poly, because of the brilliant Morris Taft.

Taft scored 29 points to set a new city record for a guard in a tourney conest against L. A. His last minute basket defeated Larry Hanson's Jefferson High, defending city champions, Tuesday night 63-61.

During the week a number of tourney standouts were L. A.'s Harold Brooks, Billy Davis and Billy Wilson, Ralph Kellum of Fremont, Poly's Victor Churchill, and Arthur Glover, Jordan's Lee Potts and Ezra Hill.

USE Eyes Hawthorne Pasadena C C Back

PASADENA—Addison Hawthorne, the great Pasadena CC halfback is reported to be headed for USC.

The reports have it that USC's headman, Jess Hill, is all for it. All for him to sit on the bench like a great number of other fine players that for some unknown reason or other do not get to play.

Addison, my boy, these fellows I speak of have the right paint jobs and if they sit on the bench it doesn't take a Philadelphia lawyer to figure out what your chances will be.

It's well and good that you have been approached to attend the University of Southern Cal and it's also high time for that institution to let its hair down and get in line. Last year Ed Tucker became the first athlete of the race to make a Stanford U. athletic team and if you go to USC and make the squad you will be the first of the race to make a Trojan team since All-American Guard Brice Taylor and Bert Richie.

Notre Dame got on the boat this season with two stellar cagers and maybe USC is trying to take a pattern after the Irish or maybe they are trying to get you over at their house so you can not do them any harm for Red Sanders' battling Bruins.

It's your career Addison but as I see it the grass grows much greener out Westwood Way.

Army Nabs Dodger's Big Don Newcombe

NEW YORK—Despite all of the dickering Don Newcombe, the Dodgers' 20-game winner of last year, is now in the Army.

Don's loss to the Bums is certain to have a serious effect upon their '52 flag hopes.

Newcombe, 25 years old last June, won 46 games and lost 28 in his three years with the Dodgers. He wound up with a 20-9 mark last season and had a 3.28 earned-run percentage. Don has been married six years and is childless.

GEORGE RAMSEY

SANTA ANITA—Lion, overlooked as the lightweight and longshot in the field of nine charged throughout the sea of slop to capture the Santa Catalina Handicap before 34,000 lover of the sport of kings. Lion A. Rangy, son of Thumbs Up Jungle Cat, was moved from far back steadily through his field by Jockey Bill Cook. (This is Cook's first riding season in California) and wore down Moonrush in the last sixteenth after Moonrush had disposed the pacemaking Gold capitol. The best race that the winner had run previous to the Santa Catalina was in the Longacres Derby at Seattle which he won.

Ramsey

He won only three races last year in 30 starts. Lion is an eligible for the $200.00 maturity stakes to be run next month. He was claimed for $10.000 by Himelhoch at Hollywood Park last summer. The Santa Catalina was worth $28,650. He paid in the Mutuels $60.18.30.5.90. Across the board for a two dollar ticket.

There will be three features this week. On Wednesday the Los Feliz stakes for colts and Geldings three-year-olds. On Saturday the feature attraction will be the San Carlos Handicap which carries as added value of $25,000. The co-feature will be the San Fernando stakes. For four-year-olds. It has an added value of $20,000. The distance is one mile and one-sixteenth. San Carlos is at seven furlongs.

New Caliente in Old Mexico—Finding a track that she dearly loves Aloose Sloopy going Toubo Queen fairly flew through the drizzling rain to win the feature event at Caliente last Sunday. The four year old daughter of Toubo Queen Toke made it a wire to wire win over the favored So. La Ci. It was no contest for the little queen as she scored by 11 lengths.

Caliente has had rainy squalls for the last three Sundays or ever since its re-opening. The Queen opened on the morning line and 7-2 but paid in the Mutuels $17.80. Over the saturated course she ran the mile and a sixteenth in 1:51 1/5. My Standard a longshot captured the co-feature by 4 lengths. The Daily-Double combination of Georgia Moon winner of the fourth race and Vain Nut Victor of the fifth paid $72.60. The Quiniela backers of Cee Bar and Siete Leguas who finished in that order received $61.80 Jockey L. Jones suffered a broken colarbone when his mount Testaceous skidded through the outside fence.

Good Morning Judge

RADIO BLUES

Theria Tubbs, 3771½ S. Wall turned on the radio and was catching a mad blues and rhythm record show. Neighbor Calvin Wilkins, 3771 S. Wall also was mad, but mad for less noise. He knocked on Theria's door and when she opened it, requested that she turn off the radio. And to prove he meant it, he kept a 38 revolver pointed at her head while making his polite request.

Aidy Campbell, 1449 E. 25th street also knows what it feels like to look down the barrel of a 38 revolver held in anger. Boy friend Will Lacy, 1240 E. 69th street threatened her in the morning and showed up in the evening waving the gun to prove his point. What you bet he did.

Barnetta Finney, 1520 E. 14th street was walking down an alley when she saw a man and woman belaboring each other like crazy. Barnetta watched in amused silence for a few moments. She turned to leave and was on the receiving end of a bottle hurled by one of the combatants. She rubbed her aching head not so amused or silent.

TIME OF ESSENCE

Florida Glover, 3200 Calloway drive has been separated from husband Edward Glover, 1130 E. 58th drive for six months. One day last week she called him up to tell him she was pregnant and to get ready for a blessed event. Brother Glover sorta blessed her out, casting all kinds of aspersions as to her undercover activity since she left his bed and board. In fact he got so worked up that he dashed over to her house, kicked the door in and assaulted her. Florida was ready with milk bottle swinging, and Eddie was contemplating parenthood from the Greybar hotel.

Judy Williams, and Walker Ford Jones, both of 803½ S. Central, entered the Smart and Final store at 1234 E. 8th street. While Walker asked for change, Judy slipped a 25 cent box of mints under her coat. Sharp eyed clerks noticed the fast deal and had them arrested for shoplifting. "You're not so smart, and that's final," roared the Judge as he wafted the book for a slow inside curve.

Roy Willie Taylor, 204 E. Santa Barbara, says Thelma Caddell (Mr.) 317 E. 49th street hit him over the head with a phone, and for no good reason. Now boys, let's not scratch eyes out.

Mrs. Ida Lee Willis, 638 E. 35th street has lost all faith in mankind. She left a bag of groceries on her porch for just five minutes, and guess what. That's right, someone else had pork chops galore for dinner.

The active bunco men got Willie Rogers Jr., 1533 E. 54th streets for 60 bucks, and Robert Henry Dillion, 1530 E. 23rd street for 37 dead presidents.

Loretta Williams, 233½ E. Vernon, got in argument with neighbor Nathaniel Dickson, 235½ E. Vernon, about a phone call she made. Nat got a little peeved, ripped a lew off of the coffee table and proceeded to play 3 cushion billards with her head.

Lila Mackillian, 839 E. 23rd street reported to Newton in bad shape. Seems that hubby Walter bit her on her cheek, applied his foot with vigor to her other cheeks, and on top of that beat her.

PARTING SHOT

Jimmy Hawkins, 1108 E. 3nd street shot Herman Shanklin 1042 E. 49th street in the shank during an argument over payment for a beer.

Ousts Tenants Who Hit Bias

NEW YORK—"With the service of warrants of eviction 19 Stuyvesant Town families face the loss of their homes for the crime of working to end racial discrimination in the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company's project," Rev. John Paul Jones, chairman of the New York Civil Liberties Union and Algernon D. Black, chairman of the New York State Committee on Discrimination in Housing declared last week in releasing a statement urging the Metropolitan to reconsider its action.

"This statement," they asserted, "subscribed to by 16 religious, labor, civic and veterans organizations represents the organized conscience of hundreds of thousands of New Yorkers who are in agreement that Stuyvesant Town shall not again become a world wide symbol of America's failure to live up to its democratic promise." Stuyvesant Town, said to be the country's largest publicly assisted project, was made possible through a grant by New York City of a 50 million dollar tax exemption together with the use of the City's power of eminent domain and the conveyance of municipally owned streets.

Hahn Would Test L.A. Civil Defense

"Los Angeles should have a complete and full test of Civil Defense equipment and organization," said Councilman Kenneth Hahn in a speech on the Council floor this week. Hahn said it has been nearly a year since we have set up the Civil Defense organization in this city and that in the best interests of protecting the people in this area a complete Civil Defense test should be held in order to determine how well the city is prepared for an attack and how efficient and well trained are the emergency services and block wardens in our city.

Woman Expert at Fur Remodeling

The woman with the worry of an old fur that needs restyling is very fortunate to have at her service here Mrs. Mable Johnson, an expert at the trade who operates here own business at 4805 S. Central. Mrs. Johnson, for 25 years in the fur business, has been of great help in the community to women with fur problems down through the years.

Always she has been willing to offer her advice where it will aid. She is constantly reminding local women that it takes only a little remodeling to make an old fur look like new.

Mrs. Johnson's shop is equipped to repair, restyle, clean and store furs.

Tobias Urges Land Reforms In UN Address

PARIS—Dr. Channing H. Tobias carried America's initiative last week when he told the economic committee of the United Nations General Assembly that land reform is of transcendant importance because it affects the daily lives of three quarters of the world's population who depend upon land for their livelihood.

Brazil, Thailand, Pakistan and the United States are sponsoring the land reform resolution for which Dr. Tobias opened debate. He declared that "unless the land is held through a system of ownership which best reflects the needs of the people, and unless the land is cultivated by methods best calculated to get the maximum results, the economy of the entire world will suffer."

Ad Agency Organized

What is reputed to be one of the first advertising agencies owned and directed by Negroes was recently organized in Los Angeles by Charles, Williams, president of the Charles Williams Enterprises. The new firm will be unique as advertising counsellors inasmuch as it will be operated in conjunction with other branches of Mr. Williams' enterprises which indirectly play a part in an advertising program. Those divisions include the California Institute of Graphic Arts which has developed some of the leading photographers on the Pacific Coast and the Charles Williams Charm Center, a training school for young ladies who desire a career in modeling and advancement in personality and culture.

In his announcement Mr. Williams stated, "Although we will specialize in Food, Women's Wear and Cosmetic accounts, we feel that because of our background, our connections with Hollywood, the motion picture, television and style center, and primarily because of our inherent knowledge of the buying habits and desires of the Negro, we are in a better position to offer advertising counsel and merchandising ideas to the manufacturer of any type product than the average agency."

The firm, located at 701 E. Jefferson Street, Los Angeles, occupies a two-story building. Associated with Williams in the management of the company are Burton Bold, executive vice-president, Vanlester Jackson, vice-president and treasurer, and James Gordon Rogers, vice-president and secretary.

Plans are being formulated to open offices in New York, Chicago, and Detroit in the near future.

JIM CROW POLICY OF DANCE STUDIO BROKEN

Veloz and Yolanda Dance Studio, at 3500 Wilshire Boulevard, opened its doors to MRS. DOROTHY CRUDUP after having first refused to give her dance instructions because of her race.

On December 1, 1951, Mrs. Crudup applied for lessons at the studio in response to radio and newspaper advertisements. She was told that they had no Negro instructors at the studio and that it was not their policy to instruct Negroes. Mrs. Crudup immediately contacted Attorney EDWARD CARTER MADDOX of the local NAACP legal staff. The studio apologized to Attorney Maddox and stated that the matter was due to a misunderstanding by an employee and that the employee had been discharged.

DOROTHY CRUDUP

Mrs. Crudup returned to the studio on January 4, 1952, and received her dance instructions with every courtesy extended by management and instructors. Mrs. Crudup stated that she preferred to settle the matter by correcting the discriminatory practice rather than by seeking a money judgment in a lawsuit.

Veloz and Yolanda Dance Studio on Crenshaw boulevard paid out a substantial sum last year in settlement of a lawsuit filed against them by Attorney Maddox in behalf of Negroes who suffered discrimination there.

Second Set of Triplets Makes Medical History

NEW ORLEANS—"We'll manage somehow," plucky 32-year-old Mrs. Annie Smart beamed here last week as she looked lovingly on the three little faces of triplets that made medical history.

Her husband she said "would be tickled to death. I guess if I told him I had six he wouldn't care."

Triplets are no novelty for Mrs. Smart—nor twins, either. Her eleven children, nine of whom are under five years old, include another set of triplets and a pair of twins. Doctors said there are no medical records showing two sets of triplets and one of twins born to the same mother.

Mrs. Smart said all she wanted was for her husband, Andrew, to see the babies and then get a job to buy groceries for the growing brood.

Golden State Honors Five Pace Setters

At the end of 1951, five Los Angeles representatives of Golden State Mutual Life Insurance company were cited for excellence of performance as "monarchs" among 15 of the company's top field men.

The pace-setters from the Los Angeles area are: Edward Speights of the Westside division; Foster Thomas, Edwin Sneed and Donald Session of the Central office, and Sammy Reed of the South Los Angeles office.

Edward Speights of the firm's Westside office, supervised by Nolan Payton, was the outstanding salesman of the year for the Los Angeles area. He not only qualified for the "monarch" award, but added the additional title of "torchbearer" to his name. The "monarch" award is gained by rendering outstanding life and disability insurance services to policyowners in this area. The "torchbearer" designation is given field men who sell more than $50,000 worth of ordinary life insurance. Speights topped that figure by $10,500 making a total of $60,500 in sales.

The honored field men received the various awards including cash bonuses at a company assembly during the holiday season. Two of the firm's top officers, George A. Beavers, Jr., Board chairman-treasurer, and Edgar J. Johnson, vice president-secretary, were present to make the awards. President Norman O. Houston was at a similar celebration in Oakland presenting the coveted president's trophy to the Oakland division. Runner-up for the trophy was the Berkeley division. Los Angeles was winner of the prize in 1950.

Power Bureau Fetes Birthday

Two major committees today were planning civic programs and events to observe the 50th anniversary of the establishment of the Department of Water and Power, Los Angeles, dating back to Feb. 6, 1902.

Speakers, it was said, will describe that date as the one on which the first board of water commissioners was appointed. They also will recall the acquisition 50 years ago of the privately owned domestic water system then serving the city.

By this action the city resumed municipal distribution of water after a lapse of 34 years under private operation. The purchase paved the way for great construction projects including the Los Angeles Owens River Aqueduct from the High Sierras and power developments which led to construction of Hoover Dam.

Church Woman Buries Husband

A local church woman, Mrs. Rassar Lee Freeman, traveled to High Point, North Carolina recently to bury her husband who died of a heart attack on January 2. He was Charles Freeman.

Accompanying Mrs. Freeman on the trip to the South was her sister, Mrs. Alice Herdon. The deceased was survived by a sister, Mrs. Mary Love, and other relatives in High Point.

1201 EAST WASHINGTON BLVD AT CENTRAL AVE

READY FOR OCCUPANCY—Immediate occupancy is assured veterans at Broadmoor Homes, where they can purchase three-bedroom homes with low down payments and on terms of $48.60 for principal and interest. The dwelling above is representative of the many exteriors in the new community, located on the east side of Central avenue, south of Rosecrans avenue in Compton. Furnished model homes are on display daily and Sunday.

Broadmoor Homes Fully Completed

Every dwelling at Broadmoor Homes is now completed and ready for occupancy, it was announced this week by Cletus H. J. Jollie, general contractor for the new community of 89 homes in Compton, located on the east side of Central avenue just south of Rosecrans avenue.

More than 60 homes have been sold to date and approximately 30 families will have moved into Broadmoor Homes by the end of this week, it was noted.

Veterans may purchase three-bedroom homes with down payments from $550, plus closing costs, while monthly terms are $48.60 for principal and interest. Four per cent G. I. loans prevail.

Continuing on display every day of the week are three model homes, with one furnished and decorated by Harry Karmes, of the Karmes Furniture Co., Hollywood.

Features in the three-bedroom homes include garbage disposers, dishwashers, garages, hardwood floors, double sinks, weather-stripping, floor furnaces, lawns with shrubs, incinerators and clotheslines. All of the homes also include dinettes, wardrobe closets, and tile stall showers and baths.

Community improvements on the property include sewers, asphalt driveways, sidewalks, curbs, gutters and landscaping.

Broadmoor Homes is close to schools, churches, shopping centers, major employment areas, public transportation and recreational facilities.

Negro Fights Extradition Second Time

Rudell Skelton, 36-year-old father of two children, who last week was victor in a hard-to-win battle against extradition to Tennessee, faces the task of having to win his case again Friday before Federal authorities.

The case against Skelton was dismissed last Thursday by Judge Thomas J. Cunningham, despite the fact that an extradition warrant had been granted by Gov. Earl Warren.

But hardly had the verdict been rendered when the FBI slapped a "hold" on Skelton, as a fugitive from Tennessee.

Convinced Judge

Any person sought on extradition charges is presumed to be guilty, not innocent. His is the burden of proving beyond a reasonable doubt that he did not commit the crime of which he is accused.

This Skelton was able to do before Judge Cunningham.

But he is in jail this week, due to his failure to raise the $1000 bail set by U.S. Commissioner Howard V. Calverly following the FBI's action.

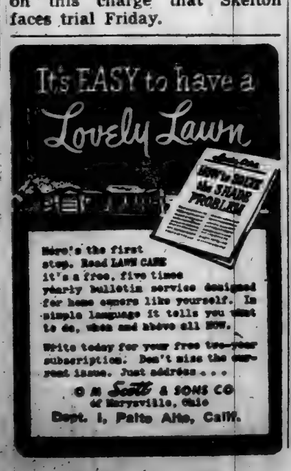
Skelton was accused of robbing a store in his home town of Erin, Tenn., of $125 on Jan. 10, 1948.



Basis of the accusation is the assertion of the small town sheriff that he saw Skelton riding in an automobile near the small town of Erin the day the store was held up. The sheriff has taken his stand in the case, and refuses to budge.

Atty. Al Matthews, one of Skelton's attorneys, expressed the opinion that if the accused man is forced to return to Tennessee he will face a sentence of not less than 15 years in jail.

Mass of Evidence

Skelton amassed voluminous evidence to prove that he wasn't in Erin when the sheriff says he saw him, but was here in Los Angeles, has in fact been here since 1944, and hasn't left the city since that time. His wife corroborated his statement. Various receipts confirmed his assertions. Walter Skaggs, of 3107 S. San Pedro, a friend, testified that on the day of the robbery, he and Skelton were on a hunting trip. He was positive of the date.

Normally, according to Matthews, the case would have been dropped after Judge Cunningham's decision. But the FBI charge that he is a fugitive, a federal offense, still stands. It is on this charge that Skelton faces trial Friday.

CIO Head Raps 'Negro Council' Calls It Red

NEW YORK — "The so-called National Negro Council was convened by individuals whose political and social philosophy has been rejected by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, by the Urban League, by the CIO, and by all the American people," James B. Carey, chairman of the CIO Committee to Abolish Discrimination, said today.

Carey, who is CIO Secretary-Treasurer and President of the CIO Electrical Workers, criticized the NNC on two main grounds. These were (1) that it seeks "to use our fellow American Negroes to further the foreign policy of the USSR," and (2) "the CIO is opposed to segregated, Jim Crow organizations of any sort."

Washington St. Suggested for New Hospital

In the City Council this week Councilman Kenneth Hahn suggested that the new Receiving Hospital for the city should be constructed on the large tract of land near the intersection of Washington and Hill Streets where the circuses are generally held every year.

He pointed out that if the Receiving Hospital were placed in this vicinity the property would be immediately available for construction. No buildings, homes or industries would have to be condemned or moved in order to construct the hospital.

Hahn stated we should be economical and thrifty in selecting a proper site for a hospital and should not buy extremely valuable property in a location which would not serve the best interests of the city. The Washington and Hill street site, he said, is out of the Civic Center area, yet close enough to be easily available in from the Civic Center and also from such traffic arteries as Figueroa, Flower, Grand, and the other streets leading to the south part of the city.

"Pole stubbers" at work: Inspection has revealed a pole which shows damage at the ground line. Now, reinforced with a short length, it will be strong as new, and we'll have saved much of the cost of a new pole.

LINE PATROL | How we stop telephone trouble—before it starts!

"Will it work when I want it?"—that's perhaps the most important thing you want to know about your telephone. That's what we want to be sure of, too. And that's why repairmen, testers, inspectors and many other telephone specialists are constantly at work to make sure your calls go through. The term we use is preventive maintenance. And it simply means testing and inspecting thousands of miles of lines and cables, and checking switching equipment constantly—on foot, in trucks and electronically—to find and fix any part of our complex system which might cause future trouble.

"Trouble detective": If our electronic testing equipment spots possible line trouble, his testing devices locate the difficulty—and a repair crew is dispatched to stop the trouble before it can interrupt your service. All over our system, we are alert, 'round the clock, to make sure you'll have the world's most dependable telephone service.

Your telephone is one of today's best bargains

Few of the things you use in your daily life have gone up less, in these inflationary times, than the rates for telephone service. Even though our costs of providing service have skyrocketed, your telephone calls remain one of today's best buys.

Banquet Installs Woodmen

The Green Cross Nurse Corps, the Happy Heart Social and Charity Club and Los Angeles Camps No. 1, 2, 8 and 10 of the American Woodmen held their installation banquet last Saturday evening at Ralph Porter's beautiful Casa Rafael on South Western Ave. Despite the inclement weather, well over 100 persons were on hand to felicitate the new officers and enjoy the five-course turkey dinner. Supervisor of the work in Los Angeles is Mrs. Odell M. Rhodes.

L. H. Lightner, Supreme Commander of the home office in Denver, wired his regrets at not being able to attend due to urgent business.

During the installation, Commander L. N. Ross paid glowing tribute to Mrs. Odell M. Rhodes who has done such a grand job of Supervisor since 1949. Under her leadership this district has had finer and more outstanding programs than ever before. The American Woodmen is 50 years old, having celebrated its Golden Jubilee last April. The company operates in 21 states and the District of Columbia.

Assisting Mrs. Rhodes is the very capable clerk, Mrs. Opal Moore. Both ladies were stunning in white gowns with corsages of red and white carnations tied with blue ribbons, the organization's colors. Solos were rendered by Mrs. Anna Pearl Jackson and Frankie James, accompanied by Henry P. Markham, director of the Gospel choir of Trinity Baptist church. Oliver Higgs gave a reading. Mrs. Rosa Hill presented her guests, Louise Beavers, the screen and TV star, and Mrs. Mildred Thomas, president of Alpha Phi chapter of Iota Phi Lambda sorority. Mrs. Frances Hoxie was in charge of the clever little majorettes who acted as escorts for the installing officer, Peter Thompson, who is also a member of the organization.

Other officers of the A. W. include Commanders L. M. Ross, Rosa H. Hill, Anna D. Gardner and Ophelia Smith and Clerks Cora Cormea and Opal Moore.

HUMAN RIGHTS COUNCIL INSTALLS OFFICERS—Samuel De Bose, Joseph Walker, Mary Lou Tolbert, Dr. D. O. Gray, Floyd Covington, Lucille Bonnett, Edw. W. Mehren, Emily Woody, Lessie Crosland, Edna Mae Moore, and Cora Hylton.

Matron of Guiding Star Fetes Leaders

The newly elected Worthy Matron of Guiding Star Chapter No. 50 O.E.S. Prince Hall Affiliation, Mrs. Arie Lee Clark, entertained her 1952 staff of officers with a buffet luncheon at the palatial home of Mrs. Lillian Brown 1165 E. 48th street, Saturday, January 5.

Plans for the ensuing year were the topic of discussion. Much of her program will be devoted to honoring the Past Matrons and Patrons, those who have laid the foundation for the success of the Chapter.

Guiding Star Chapter was instituted 4/29/48 under the auspices of Guardian Lodge No. 50, Prince Hall Masons, under the administration of Archie W. Herbert, most worshipful master. Mrs. Vallie M. Kyle is the organizer of the Chapter. Since that time, Vallie Kyle, Lucille B. Bell, Marjorie Herbert, and Sylvia Nunez have served as worthy matrons, and Archie Herbert and Ira Bell have been patrons.

The new elected officers of the chapter are Arie Lee Clark, Archie Herbert, Ruby Shelby, Ira Bell, Minnie M. Smith, Clara Bell Smith, Anna Bell Ducker, and Inell Dilton. The appointed officers are Emma Wartell, E. D. Walker, Corine Nickles, Ocie Mae Crowder, Lillian Brown, Roberta Hydes, Fannie Golatt, Emma Knight, Georgia Robinson, Jeanne Miller, Effie McAdams and Viola Ross.

Bridging It From Club Pacifico

Over at the W.C.F. Club Room, 107 East Santa Barbara, home of the newest charter member of the American Bridge Association, big and better things are going on. In order to bring better bridge, and better players for better pleasure to Los Angeles bridge world, this young (bridgely speaking) and determined group is presenting none other than that world renowned bridge expert, Robert Lee Johnson, in person, each Sunday afternoon at three o'clock.

Club Pacifico is making a drive for new members to help them succeed in accomplishing the many wonderful things they have in view, for all members and friends, and at the same time do its share toward the many charities in Los Angeles, killing two, or a flock of birds with one stone. This is your opportunity to see and hear how the expert does it, and at the same time learn the most modern technique of bidding, etc. Whether you play for points or pleasure; prizes or trophies; it is our aim to help you acquire more of each, and to improve your game.

GERALDINE FARMAR—Outstanding lyric soprano of San Francisco, will make her Southern California debut in the Manual Arts High School Auditorium Saturday evening, February 9. The concert will be a benefit sponsored by the Helping Hand Educational Club.

Origineaux Give Brunch

Glimpsed taking their turn "pouring" at the Origineuax's annual elaborate brunch and "sip" were guests Berneice Lawson, Helen Broyles Smith, Zerish Eberhart, Sarah Collier. Las Casitas del Arroyo, located in the picturesque Pasadena hills, was the scene of this affair. A mixture of the Crown City's and the Angel City's inhabitants makes this winter event a social "must" of great interest. Members of the Origineaux Club carried out the holiday season motif by wearing unique corsages of holly berries.

Human Rights Council Clarifies Year's Aims

Alpha Phi Alpha served as host to the American Council on Human Rights, Thursday night, Jan. 10, at their House, 2116 S. Western when officers were installed. ACHR is a national organization fighting for effective legislation and is composed of seven national fraternities and sororities.

Popular Lucille Bonnett was reinstated as president; Emily Woody, 1st vice president; Dr. D. O. Gray, 2nd vice president; Edna Mae Moore, recording secretary; Lessie Crosland, corresponding secretary, and Joseph Walker, treasurer.

Installation ceremonies, with Cora Hylton serving as Mistress of Ceremonies, were brief and significant. A musical number was presented by Jean Keele; council highlights by Mary Lou Tolbert; introduction of speaker Mehren by Floyd Covington.

Principal speaker Edw. W. Mehren, chairman of L. A. Council on Community Relations, in pre-installation remarks, commended the council for its efforts and discussed the moral significance of the name Human Rights, paraphrasing them as 'God-given Rights.' Deploring the necessity for such an organization, he beseeched members to continue the fight, challenging the new officers to demonstrate the type of leadership that will promote sound thinking throughout the community.

Refreshments followed. More than 100 guests and members socialized, enjoying the charm and gracious sincerity of Mrs. Edward Mehren and other distinguished guests.

The current project of the American Council on Human Rights is to insure the registration of every eligible voter in the community. Are you registered?

CONFERENCE—Victor Nix, W. R. Anderson, Neitha Williams, Ed Turly, J. Terry and S. C. Jefferson, local business agents, confer with Mrs. Williams to determine ways and means of assisting her to bring successful residential placement in Richmond, Calif. Mrs. Williams is a real estate broker who fights for decent housing in Richmond. She was effective in keeping the city fathers from using unfit areas for public housing.

AMERICAN WOODMEN—Last Saturday evening at Ralph Porter's, installed were officers of the Green Cross Nurse Corps, the Happy Heart Social and Charity Club and L. A. Camps numbers 1, 2, 8, and 10. Pictured above are some of the officers and guests. Seated, left to right: Rosa H. Hill, commander of camp No. 2; Odell M. Rhodes, clerk and supervisor of the Los Angeles district; Opal Moore, clerk, and Mildred Thomas, president of Iota Phi Lambda sorority. Standing, Ophelia Smith, commander of Los Angeles camp No. 10; L. N. Ross, commander of camp No. 1; Louise Beavers, Howard Avant, clerk; Cora Cormea, Willie Williams and commander of camp No. 8, Anna D. Gardner.

CARIBBEAN CLUB—Members of the Caribbean club formulate plans for their Mardi Gras Masquerade scheduled for Thursday night, Feb. 21, at El Sombrero, 127 W. 18th street. Two bands will play. A "King" and "Queen" will be crowned at midnight. Three prizes will be given for the most beautiful ($50 bond), most original ($25 bond) and next most original (gift). In the picture are seated, Vera Boyden, Cerial McCree, Sylvia Wainwright, Lorraine Nelson, president; Yvonne Hilibert, recording secretary; Mayde Rozario, Sylvia Crompton, Vera Dorsey. Back row, Alfred Nelson, Daphne Williams, Canute Rozario, Thomas Hilibert, sergeant-at-arms; Rose Hilibert, Harry B. Ford, Dr. Harris N. Dorsey, parliamentarian; Irene Brown, financial secretary and Charles Brown, vice-president. Not pictured are Rosalite Crawford and Luther McCree.

INTERESTING!

Replacing the "pure fun" parties of the last several weeks, "parties with a purpose" seem to have come into their own.

Principal figure at several recent events was visiting author Rio Ottley. This city's Pan-Hellenic council featured him at its 11th anniversary celebration last Sunday. Saturday night the Loren Millers had him and Mrs. O., and other distinguished personages as dinner guests.

Met up with the Ottleys again at the luncheon for Mary Pickford at Metaphysicist George Heyliger's manse. Decided to go all the way and name practically all the guests there—so here goes:

Frances Groves, Marie H. Merrick, Dorothy London, John D. Patterson, Grace Cruinara, Ted Sackett, Evelyn Byrd, Sidney Schallmann, Herda Ballbusch, Peter Ballfusch, Evelyn O. Lewis, Helen Sides, Lita Rey Chaplin, Chillie Jarvis, Lorraine Armstrong, Murray M. Nelson, Cora Ball Moten, George E. Armstrong, Louise Bradshaw, Libby Clark, Virginia Elliott, Jeanne Shepard, Pegga Hawkins, Almon Health, Rev. and Mrs. Frederick Mitchell, "Pat" Alexander, Bob Douglas, T. J. Simpson, Ruth Holloway, N. K. Fletcher, Katherine Alexander, Laura Slayton, Mary Alice Johnson and Leontyne King.

Tireless Ethel January had a hand in conducting the party and pert Mary Pickford exhibited a surprisingly warm radiance of which we hadn't suspected her.

Furthering the study of Negro history was the purpose of last Saturday's press luncheon at the Sojourner Truth home. Chief local sponsor of Negro History Week is Our Authors Study Club headed by Vassie Wright. Plan-

BILL SMALLWOOD

The daughter of the Dexter Gordons, born here New Year's Day, will be christened Robin. Grandmother Gwen Gordon is happy about it all, you bet. Dr. Cliff Gordon, incidentally, is a paternal grand-uncle of Robin's. In town: Rev. George Garner via Chi. In Chi via a hurried plane trip from N.Y., Rev. Walter Bryant, who hastened to his ill mother's bedside. She is vastly improved. She wintered here several years back, you may recall. Carl Jones gets into town via the Northwest around the 4th of Feb. He'll be here a few days before flying back East. He's Europe-bound later. So is Angeleno Cliff Holland. Tall, rugged Richard Jackson, missing from the local scene, is en route to Korea via a Virginia camp. Due next month: William Warfield, who practically commutes between Coasts.

Separation

Music arranger Fred Norman, known here, has separated from his veddy social wife, Lucille, back East. Ethel Sissle, amused at the report she was supposedly Yuletiding in N.Y., surmises she must have a double back there since a Big Town columnist obviously mistook the latter for statuesque Ethel. Alphas had a reception for Todd Duncan at their S. Western ave. house after his recital. Due in June: Cliff Bennett and his wife, Atty. David Williams and his exotic Ouida and their two sons will take the luxury air route to Mexico in April for a vacation. The Williamses originally had thought of going to Europe but Mexico won out. Also going to Mexico in April is Joe Bradfield, who is devoted to the place after his first trip. He may even get back there again in August. Seems to me, too, someone said Frank Jackson and Edward Deason (they are Mexico devotees, too) plan a return trip that way this year.

Allied Arts really started their 1952 activities with a determinedly perched feather in their collective hats what with the Ottley gathering. Now they've done it again with the Sunday assembly at Betty and Ralph Vaughan's for the British writer C. L. R. James. I've been following with interest the four-month travel study of American journalism of Henry B. Cole, editor of the Daily Echo, Accra, Gold Coast, Africa. He is also founder and editor of the Liberian Review, illustrated quarterly concerning Liberian affairs, and is secretary of the Gold Coast Press Association. He'll also visit Fisk, Morgan, Howard, Tuskegee, as well as our locale. Doubtless the alert, busy lady Allied Arters will have other alert souls gathered informally about his chair, too, when he arrives. Chicagoan Carroll Ellis (he's the No. 1 man in Windy City's National News Co. distributors) struggling into his topcoat in the Clark Hotel lounge, says, "I love California and wish I could divide my time between here and Chicago."

Whips Flu

Bertl Hathaway's attractive teen-age daughter, Tania, okey again after a week's tussle with ole debbil intestinal flu. Coralee Trawich, who birthdayed on Jan. 6, spent that gay day at the Val Verde place of her likeable sis, Lillian, and her fun-loving family. Coralee and Lillian are members of surely one of the largest families in town; they have numerous nephews, nieces, in-laws, etc., and all remain closely allied whether in California or 3,000 miles distant. They truly are a family to marvel at in these parlous times. Someone asks if Maceo Birch is still in town. I don't know, truthfully, not having seen him since one of Jenette Paront's parties some

Lucky Few Officers Are Seated

The Lucky Few Rod and Gun Club will hold its fourth annual installation breakfast as usual at the Clark Hotel located on Central Ave. at Washington Blvd. 9:30 a.m. Sunday, Jan. 20.

Annual Trophy and Awards will be given to the 1951 champions among the members. Guests and prospective members will be present.

Psychiatric Info For Parents at Friday Lecture

Dr. Ralph Greenson, prominent Los Angeles psychiatrist, psychoanalyst and lecturer will open the lecture series on children's development, sponsored by the School for Nursery Years.

Dr. Greenson, who is a training analyst and instructor at the Los Angeles Institute, is also president of the Psychoanalyst Society and has had numerous papers published.

The lectures will be given at the Beverly Hills Women's Club, 1700 Chevy Chase Dr., Beverly Hills at 8 o'clock beginning Friday, January 18.

Future speakers include Dr. Emmy Sylvester of San Francisco, Dr. Elizabeth Woods, international educator and David Dingilian, educational advisor.

Debutante Assembly Is Planned

Crown City Tabernacle No. 38, Knights and Daughters of Tabor, met on Saturday at the 56th St. residence of A. C. Harris-Bilbrew to formulate plans for a lavish Debutante assembly to be held Thursday, February 21, in the Gold Room of Pasadena Civic Auditorium.

Debutantes between the ages of 17 and 21 are eligible and both parents and organizations are invited to sponsor a girl for their choosing.

General information and details for prospective sponsors may be obtained from Mrs. P. L. Williams, president of the group, who resides at 530 West Claremont street.

Functioning with Mrs. Williams as the committee on arrangements are Mesdames Sara Flewellen Birks, vice president; Louise Jones, secretary; Ruth B. Jones, assistant secretary; Eva R. White, treasurer, and Virginia Mance. Cora Sweeney will head a special committee in charge of refreshments.

The entire proceedings will be directed by A. C. Harris-Bilbrew, nationally known choral director and dramatic artist.

four months back. Due at the Watkins: Detroit's Gotham Hotel co-owner John White. He lived in San Diego once, did you know? Charm radiation: Effective-looking Gladys Ottley, who looks the role of the ideal smartly dressed, coiffured and conversant wife of a successful career man. Wesleen Foster back in N.Y. Add N.Y. items: Well-known Dr. Shag Hogans recuperating nicely from that auto crash. The Chuck Williamses, there, (he's an in-law to the Jackie Robinsons) expect twins. Harlem hostess Mary Sweetwin bedded after a bad fall.

Fraters and Sorors

With the lone exception of the Omegas, all the frats and sororities gathered in Cleveland on Christmas. Now that was one hoedown,' golly, yet! Horace Clark, Sr., reminiscing over their recent South American trip, says at our Clark Hotel lounge table the other p.m., "Oh, we'll probably be off on another trip after I get some building done around here." His wife, Betty, wrapped in that fabulous silverblue mink of hers, says in the lobby, "I had a letter from my brother (Mal Whitfield) in N.Y. He travels more than we do!"

Diane Dickerson, daughter of Atty. Earl and Catherine Dickerson of Chi, will be presented to Windy City society in June. It doubtless will be that proverbial very last word in elegant everything. The Dickersons have ties out here, too, you well know. N.Y. "station wagon set" columnist Betty Granger's daughter, Betty, Jr., will have a June debut, too. She enters Bryn Mawr in the fall. Wonderful gesture, that of busier-on-Sunday La Baker who found time to throw some sable around her shoulders, semi-circle Pershing Square and join the Todd Duncan audience. She enjoyed some four or five numbers, then slipped backstage to chat briefly with Todd before rushing back to her own backstage across the way.

Later That Day

Gaily wonderful, much later the same day, was that late-hour party given by fun-loving, tireless and sparkling Dorothy and Bob Allen for Bob's brother, Bill, who is accompanist for Todd Duncan. The Allen apartment atop Manhattan Place, so right for those little Sunday night gatherings folk prefer and welcome, was crowded with interesting people; Dorothy and Bob attract personalities like that. In fact, the last of their hate-to-go-home chums straggled out at 4 a.m., by golly. (Seems to me we protested, too!) Great, seeing both Bill and Todd again after so long a time; the latter popped in for some of the fun, of course. They left for Northern California early Wednesday. Todd told us his wife, Gladys, at home in Dee Cee, hasn't been so well of late, by the way. Add Dorothy and Bob: they move soon into a home of their own.

Mary Ross cracked her shoulder bone in that nasty auto accident last rain-swept Saturday night. Palm Springs Sunday visitors: James Anderson (NAACP secretary) and Abie Robinson on business.

Omegas Plan District Meet

Lambda and Lambda Omicron chapters of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc., are busy planning for the 12th District conference which will convene in Los Angeles, February 22, 23 and 24.

Llewellyn A. Mazique has been appointed District Marshall and elaborate plans are underway which will include the annual Starlight Formal, the Q-ettes cocktail party, an installation dinner, public meeting and numerous social affairs honoring the visiting brothers and their wives.

A large number of delegates will be here from northern California, Arizona, Washington and Oregon and in addition some of the national officers will be in attendance.

The 12th District conference of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity is headed by Dr. Walter I. Murray, eminent scholar and educator of Phoenix, who will arrive for the conference with a large contingent of Omegas from the desert city. Delegates will be present from as far north as Portland and Seattle.

Most of the vast number of social affairs and business meetings will be held at the Omega House, 2069 S. Oxford.

'P-J Top' Dance At Park View

The beautiful Park View Manor was chosen to be the site for the much talked about "Pajama Top" dance which is given annually by the Pyramid Pledges of Delta Sigma Theta. The date for the affair will be Friday, February 8. The fun will start around 10 p.m. and won't stop until early in the morning. This is the first activity on the calendar for the pledges for the year. There will be all kinds of surprises and fun.

Satellites to Hold Party

Satellites Social and Charity club will hold its informal party at the Elks Hall Saturday night, January 26. Invitations are being placed in the mail by members. Mrs. Russell Albans will be the hostess at the next meeting. Mrs. Horace Milan is reporter.

HONORED—Mary Pickford was honored for her philanthropic work at a luncheon given by Dr. George Heyliager in his palatial home on January 7. Fifty guests witnessed the presentation of a beautiful ceramic likeness of the famous actress whose family had befriended Dr. Heyliager 30 years ago. An exquisit diamond and ruby ring was given the Metaphysical Center, 1015 S. Manhattan place, of which Dr. Heyliager is the head and founder, by Miss Pickford to be used in highlighting the financial drive for the foundation.

Hal Miller and Kerry Jackson

There comes a time when most students try to make up for their mistakes and wrong doings of the semester, or otherwise. And this is the time when there is much studying for those much dreaded finals. If not finals, weather and love have kept most socially minded college folks off the scene.

NEWS?

It seems that the marriage of Calvin and Lovie Spann has hit rough waters and may be doomed to sink. . . . Also that Mary Ann Vandange and Lawrence Winston are still seeing eye to eye. . . . Obviously Ernie Lindo has recuperated quite well from his recent put down, and has made some wonderful HITS on two gorgeous lovelies, namely Pat Anderson and Delores Robers. Keep up the good work, Ernie.

Locals Gwen Lott and Don Cue are contemplating walking down the center aisle soon. . . . Also Hughie Davenport made a switch which surprised everyone except THE HOUNDS, he's dating Camille Roane with mucho gusto. . . . Heard that popular basketball star Harold Brooks, can have his pick of any gal in the school and he chose one named Barbara. . . . Wondering if Hazel Terry and Tweedy Williams are going to make it a twosome.

GOOD NEWS?

Joan Arnold is seeing Bud Conner these weekends. . . . Frank Braxton, who has frequently made the statement that he is smarter than Uncle Sam proved his point when he was released from military duty after serving less than 2 months. . . . Rumors have it that Uly Griggs has an admirer in Yvonne Moore. . . . John Waller is still making headway with Yvonne La Chappell. . . . Dorothy Cain has been seen out bowling and balling with newcomer, Herkimer T. Sundovall. . . . Reggie Boyd is contemplating moving out of the Avalon Mortuary. Reason, "too noisy." . . . Popular man about town Horace Manure has signed a ten thousand dollar contract with the Durd and Unger fertilizer Co. . . . Wondering why that common face playboy, Clarence Kennady, has completely disappeared from the social scene. . . . Judging from the Madonna-like smile of Bonnie Keyser, it leads one to think that she is expecting a little Lou-Lou. . . . It seems quite evident that Beverly Winston, Louise Terrill and Joyce Overr are vying for the affection of one Don Benjamin. From reports Bev is ahead.

BEARS CHEER TEAM ON

Wouldn't have missed the USC-UCLA game for all the Cadillacs at the Red Hut, especially the way we viewed it via TV. We picked out Pete O'Garro, Cozy Eubanks, Preston Johnson and George Brown in the crowd. Didn't see but heard that Pat Ross, Newton Harris, Zoe Wise, Bill Thayer, Nira Hardon and Wardell Moss were there pulling for their respective favorites.

SCHOLARLY AFFAIR

Richard Jenkins, who recently returned from a Japanese university and is continuing his studies at Southern Cal, played host to a group of young college students and graduates Sat. nite at his home. After enjoying the delicate canapes and other eats the set danced as usual. But some discussed a possible forming of Junior N.A.A.C.P. group in this area. Those joining in the discussion of this project were Mankel and Irene Campbell, Bill Jones, Ida Moore, Ramona Locke, George Walker, Blanche Fletcher, Willie Johnson, Paul Puckett, James Gipson, Maude Thomas, and Monterey Barksdale.

LORD HEADS

The prominent name of the LORDS is even becoming more so judging from the contented looks on the faces of their guests. The gig was given at Lord Rodger Freeman's pad. Club Prexy Sammy Lewis stated that the aim of the organization was to promote better feelings between male and females (profound statement).

Helping to carry out these wishes was Robert Draper, Howard Young, Marlene Landry, Shirley Jones, Eleanor Anderson, Dan Ethel Christian and Don Wilson. One male, Maurice Greene, made it a point to dance with all of the delicate things, namely Gwenn Lott, Gwen Westfield, Joan Spaulding, Shirley Lumas, Brenda Maxwell and Mary Spaulding. Standing in the corner digging the proceedings were Alvin Ball, Jeff Jones, Monroe McAfee, Howard Young, and Henry Foster.

ANOTHER ONE

Jovial Jimmy Rideau hosted an affair last weekend at his home which was literally torn apart by the merry guests. The guest list included Tony Madrid, Rhee Tate, Terry Allen, Audry Bordenave and Kermit Taylor. Some say that the majority of the guests were slightly inebriated, but we can't go along with that statement.

Goodbye—Les Hounds

Mable Norman Prince Is

THE EAGLE'S GUEST

The holiday season has come and gone and left in its wake many tragic memories — much sadness—and, by the same token, a great amount of happiness for some.

It has been a few seasons since World War II ended. Yet, how fresh are the memories attending the close of that terrible conflict.

The haunting stillness of the battlefields, the broken bodies of living men, the hysterical madness of the Armistice celebration and the sigh of relief that peace had come.

Again, we could go on making plans for the future and readjusting our lives, making, therefore, this a better America in which to live.

As I See It

Society, as I see it, in all of its splendor, isn't what it was in pre-war days. Parties were like a big family gathering and every body greeted you with a warm, friendly smile which made you feel you were one of them.

One of the outstanding affairs of the season was the well-appointed dinner party given by the Jolly 13 Bridge Club of Santa Monica, made up of 13 lovely ladies of the Bay Area. Covers were laid for 40. A four-course dinner was served. The tables were beautifully decorated with Christmas holly and a small Santa Claus—making a beautiful setting for the holiday season.

Artistic and enjoyable was the affair given by the Westside Married Women's Club Thursday evening, December 27—a buffet dinner which included some of the most delicious viands of the art cuisine with roast turkey as the piece de resistance. The tablecloth was an exquisite hand made with cut-out design. A snow-imbedded reindeer set on a mirror formed the centerpiece.

The president of the club introduced each hostess who, in turn, introduced her guests and presented them with lovely gifts.

Cutting another notch in the festivities of the gay '400," was the Alphas elaborate formal New Year's Eve at the Chase Hotel overlooking the Great Pacific. Bedecked in an array of California's choicest blooms, the vari-colored room was a beautiful setting for the festive occasion. Then, the many after parties.

Visitors

Among the many visitors to the Angel City were the prominent Stepp family of Fontnell, Wyo.; the William Webbs of Minneapolis; Mrs. Fladys Turner of Tenack, N. J., and Mrs. Ruth Steward of Salt Lake City.

Next outstanding event is tomorrow night's great Pacific Town Club's formal which will attract the cream of the crop. P.T. is rated one of the most outstanding mens clubs in the country. The club is doing much for the betterment of housing conditions here in our city. We should like to commend this club for the great and noble stand it has taken. We need more clubs like Pacific Town. We understand that their elaborate apartments will be renting in the near future. Members of the club are among some of the most prominent and professional and business men of the city.

On Christmas Day, the entire family for a delicious turkey dinner, a huge Christmas tree reaching the ceiling—beautifully decorated and laden with gifts—a real fireplace with a crackling fire, gifts for everyone.

A Christmas so real one could almost hear the sleigh bells in the snow—such was the case at the home of the socially prominent Mrs. Frank M. Prince of Pasadena.

Each year, the family, wherever each member is, finds its way to this home at Christmas. After dinner, everyone repairs to the spacious living room to sing "Silent Night" and exchange the gifts.

We extend our congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Prince who celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary last summer and who have contributed so much to their family, their friends and the community in which they live.

Two Majorettes In Rose Bowl Parade Line-up

Wanda Claudine Stasher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Stasher, and Patrick Ann Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith, participated in the Pasadena Tournament of Roses Parade on January 1. The two majorettes are pupils of Miss Marilyn Watson, the Junior State Baton Champion. All three Marilyn, Wanda, and Patrick are pupils of the Willie Covan Dance Studio. The majorettes costumes were made and designed by Mrs. Ida Verdugo.

All-Greek Council in Anniversary

Sunday, January 13, marked the 11th Anniversary of the National Pan-Hellenic Council. The Los Angeles Chapter observed it by having as their main speaker Roi Ottley, recently returned from a trip abroad.

Setting for the observance was Pig 'n' Whistle restaurant, on Wilshire Blvd.

Mrs. Gaynell Miles, chairman of the Pan-Hellenic council responded to Ottley's talk with thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Ottley, and the guests for their presence. She introduced members of the council and representives of the press. Presidents of Greek Letter organizations were introduced also.

Observed among those having books autographed were Dr. Stovall and Mrs. Georgia McCollough, president of the Phys Art Litmor Club. Among the audience ewere Eddie Addison, West Coast Regional Director of Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity; Ralph Davis, president of the Langston College Club of Los Angeles and Mrs. O'Farrell, president of the National Congress of Negro Women.

Comradettes

The Comradette Club held its installation of officers.

New officers include Mrs. Hortense Love, president; Mrs. Evelyn Mischell, vice-president; Miss Eloise Lewis, secretary; Mrs. Audree Brown, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Betsy Green, treasurer; Mrs. Consuelo Harper, parliamentarian, and Miss Frances Drye, reporter.

ON HER BIRTHDAY—Mrs. Maggie Lee Mandy cuts the cake which formed the center of decorative attraction at her birthday party in her home, 936 W. 51st place, last week. Guests were Messrs. and Mmes. Ernest Henry, Henry Cason, Gilbert Brown, I. L. Reed, C. D. Palmer, Elmer Ray and sons, Mmes. Evelyn Nelson, Stella Hernon, Wilma Shelton, A. V. Martin, Naomi Charles and daughter, Miss Vernena Jonet and Messrs. Ira Richardson, Joe Smith, Gilbert Brown.

Campus Capers

January 19 is the date set for the Mid-Winter Prom at Compton College. The big affair is sponsored by Beta Phi. It promises to be a lavish one with music by Chuck Cobet's real crazy, way-out group. Next week will be the election of officers for the coming semester and also the end-of-the-semester parties. Lest we ferget! Into each life some rain must fall. Come the college final exams, it will be storming in our life.

David Chipper is on his way to Korea, but before he left Raychell Shivers really came up with a way-out party for him. With a leap year kick the party ended much too soon. Among the many guests were Raychell Shivers, Sgt. David Clypper, Silvice Smith, John Thomas, Louise Scott, Archie Clipper, Harriet Wilson, Lawrence Newsome, Betty Huclson, Richard Huclson.

Published Every Thursday

The Eagle stands for complete integration of Negroes into every phase of American life through the democratic processes.

We favor:

1. FEPC on local, state and national levels.
2. Decent housing for all Americans.
3. The President's Civil Rights Program.
4. Adequate old age pensions and social security.
5. Collective bargaining rights for all workmen.
6. Development and encouragement of Negro business.

We oppose:

1. Jim Crow in all forms.
2. Communists and all other enemies of democracy.

Rats and Public Housing

There isn't any immediate connection between the story of the Watts baby whose face was gnawed by rats while she lay in her crib and the City Council's vote to kill public housing.

On the other hand, the low-cost housing program was designed to take people out of the kind of housing in which this baby lived and to put them into decent homes where they'll have a chance to lead decent lives.

The program has been endangered by selfish real estate speculators who can't forego the chance to make a fast buck even if that opportunity does doom little children to living in rat-infested hovels.

One of the most amazing things about the Council's action is that it has stirred so little opposition in this community. Statistics show that Negroes occupy public housing units out of proportion to the general population. The reasons are that Negroes have been doomed to slum areas because of racial prejudices in many instances and that all too many of them are confined to lower income brackets through discriminatory hiring practices in industry. Since the Housing Authority allocates dwellings on the basis of need and without reference to race or color, the result has been that a large number of Negroes have been eligible for, and have been housed in, public projects.

The need for housing still continues among Negroes. In the face of that need, councilmen such as Charles Navarro, Ed Davenport, Harold Harby, and George Cronk, in all of whose districts Negro voters hold the balance of power, have teamed up with the anti-housing bloc. We have the feeling that their action has not drawn any sustained protest from this community. Negroes are always laggard in letting their public officials know how they feel on public issues, and this case is no exception thus far.

If this don't-care attitude continues, Negroes can expect their councilmen, congressmen, and other "representatives" to keep right on ignoring their wants and needs. We think that day has come when responsible citizens and organizations took a good look at the housing issue and if they do we're sure that they'll be moved to call these anti-housing councilmen to book.

Housing is one of the most critical issues facing the Negroes of Los Angeles. It is time to do something about it.

Thorough Probe Needed

We hope that Atty. Gen. Howard McGrath's widely heralded directive to the FBI to search out the Florida murderers of Harry Moore will bring more results than a similar FBI investigation into the wanton murder of two Georgians a few years ago.

The two Georgians were shot down in cold blood on a country road in a rural county and it was common talk everywhere that nearly everybody in the county knew just who killed the men. The FBI was never able to dig up sufficient evidence to warrant an indictment or prosecution.

Rumors have it that the killers of Harry Moore and his wife are well known. Mrs. Moore said before her death that she knew who planted the dynamite and Walter White has been quoted as saying that he has been furnished the names of the culprits.

One of the reasons for the persistent killing of Negroes by Southern bigots is that their crimes go unpunished in almost every instance.

There is a big hue and cry for a few weeks. Leading newspapers publish editorials (like this one), outraged citizens (northerners for the most part) send wires, letters, and telegrams. And then the whole matter is dropped. The killers, whom everybody knows, are rarely arrested, and almost never punished.

Part of the difficulty lies in the Supreme Court's emasculation of Federal legislation that was passed in the Reconstruction period to curb this very kind of lawlessness. It must be admitted that under those decisions the Federal government can't do very much. Another difficulty is that both investigation and prosecution in these cases is all too often left to Southern Federal officials. They're reluctant to fly in the face of prejudice and in most cases don't press for indictments and convictions with the same zeal that they show in other law enforcement matters.

If the Florida killers are to be caught and punished, Mr. McGrath will have to do much more than conduct the namby-pamby kind of investigations that have flopped so miserably in the past. He'll either have to take charge of the matter himself or send some of his Washington staff to do the job. Southern district attorneys will follow their past practice of letting the case fade out of public view.

The Real Culprit

There is little possibility that Congress will heed President Truman's request to take a vote on civil rights legislation at this session.

The reason is that the Southerners know that if this legislation is ever brought out on the floor it will get a majority of votes in both the Senate and the House.

The nation lacks the vital civil rights legislation that it needs because Dixiecrat filibusterers won't let it come to a vote. They dare not risk a test.

The cure for this state of affairs won't be found by pious requests to the hard-shell Southern legislators to please take a vote, as Mr. Truman should know by this time. The only chance for a ballot on the question is to make a change in Senate rules to curb debate after everybody has been given an adequate chance to be heard.

Neither Republicans nor Democrats have really made any serious efforts to secure the needed changes. There are a few sincere Republicans and a handful of northern Democrats who believe in the democratic system and who want to take a vote but they are in the minority and can't do much.

While we can understand that Mr. Truman must respect the legislative branch of the government and that he can't impose his will on senators and congressmen, we think that the matter is of sufficient importance to warrant him to tell the people just why civil rights legislation is stymied and who is doing the dirty work. Such action will be far more effective than a carefully buried request in his state of the union speech.

Connors and Public Morals

For years, Eugene (Bull) Connors has terrorized Negroes as Birmingham's police commissioner. He has been especially vigilant in seeing to it that the morals of his fair city are never, never corrupted by the association of whites and Negroes in places of public accommodation.

Last week, "Bull" was in the same police court to which he and his stooges have hauled so many Negroes.

The reason? Why "Bull" was caught in a hotel room with his beautiful young secretary. Just talking about the weather and such, he said. "Bull" insists that he wasn't doing anything naughty.

That's not what the keyhole cop who arrested him had to say at all. His version of the story is that Connors was just doing what comes naturally when middle-aged men take young secretaries to hotel rooms.

The judge believed the cop and thus found in essence that "Bull" was just plain lying when he testified from the witness stand. Perjury, the lawyers call it.

We hope this marks the end of Connors. He has been a disgrace to America for years and he should have been arrested many times over for his total disregard of and violation of the civil rights of Alabama Negroes.

Roy Wilkins'

The Watch Tower

One has to feel sorry for Governor Herman Talmadge of Georgia in his blast against Negroes on television programs. "Hummon" just does not like the programs to show Negroes and whites together. He says this offends the customs and beliefs of the South. He does not like, especially, the Mariners Quartet on the Arthur Godfrey show because it is composed of two whites and two Negroes. He does not like other scenes which have shown Negro performers talking to whites, particularly white women performers. He does not like the implied air of equality, of mutual esteem. In short, he does not approve of any television program which shows the Negro as a human being fit to associate with other human beings.

The times are catching up with Governor Talmadge and his like, and they do not know what to do about it except to repeat what their forefathers said in 1852. It is pathetic to observe the bankruptcy of the Southern politician of the stripe of Talmadge. With the seas of progress beating upon the beaches and threatening to engulf their islands of ignorance, bigotry, and hatred. They stand impotently defiant and shout simply that it shall not be.

For generations they have taught their people that Negroes are sub-humans, all right in "their places." They were inferior beings who should be permitted to live in their own inferior world with their contacts with superior white people limited to serving the needs of the latter.

But somehow or other, Negroes continued to spoil this theory. They, who had sense enough only to work with their muscles, managed to work with their minds. Given the chances (many of which they, themselves, made through their own skill and determination) they did as well as the next man, ofttimes better. Both inside and outside the Jim Crow Belt they continued to make liars out of the Talmadge breed. It is hard for Talmadge to make his point of inferiority stick when only a few blocks from his office in the State capitol in Atlanta are the offices of the Atlanta Life Insurance Company, complicated, successfully-managed financial operation running into the millions of dollars. A mile or so from his office is Atlanta University whose president, and faculty members have won recognition in learned societies composed of whites and Negroes, and many of whose graduates have made contributions of distinction to the nation of the world.

In other parts of the nation Negro judges, chemists, engineers, college professors, business men, legislators, architects, technicians, skilled mechanics, civil servants, merchandisers, and clerical workers all make a fool out of Talmadge. Negroes in the entertainment world have reached new pinnacles of achievement.

Outside the United States the world is moving on. All Asia is in rebellion against the Talmadge white superiority theory. The Middle East is defying the British version of Talmadgism. One of the greatest snags to the entire American foreign policy in the area of combatting Communism is Talmadgism.

The forces are closing in. Talmadge, a shrewd operator, has been hoping to keep the knowledge and the implications of this great trend away from the masses of whites in his own state. But along comes this infernal invention of the television bringing into the homes of white Georgians pictures of white and Negro kids playing together! So "Hummon" felt he had to holler, and holler he did. His yelling was drowned in a chorus of scornful laughter from the rest of the nation. This is 1952 and not 1852 and Talmadgism, stubborn and defiant though it may be, is on the way out.

Battle Axe & Bread

In the tragic death of Dr. William H. Dean, the United Nations lost the leading American economist on Africa. The United States lost a brilliant scholar who had a successful career behind him and an even more impressive one ahead of him. His family and a host of friends and professional associates lost the companionship and intellectual stimulation of a personality as sensitive as he was brilliant—as concerned with the welfare of his fellowmen as he was oblivious to his own health and well-being while he drove himself to complete an assigned task.

Here is a case where the solid fact of a man's character and purpose is far more important than the dramatic aspects of the manner of his passing. The sensationalists — the cheap thrill-seekers—will make much of the fact that William Dean's death was self-inflicted. The more perceptive who have the intelligence and the standards by which to measure a man's worth will realize that it was that sensitivity and deep concern for mankind that caused the death of this public servant. They will understand that he was a casualty of the "phony peace" in exactly the same way that young men in Korea are casualties of brutal, senseless warfare.

The fact is that on this last mission for the United Nations, Bill Dean drove himself as no man can pay another man to drive himself—to the last ounce of his reserves, and tragically beyond that. He was impelled by a sense of urgency, by a conviction that the sands of the world's hour glass of destiny were quickly running out. He, who hated colonialism in all its forms, must have burned with a hot rage while he studied the economic resources of Italian Somaliland in Africa and witnessed the daily evidences of mindless and brutal exploitation of that country by the Italian government.

He was absent for four months on this mission, living under the most primitive conditions frequently, fighting for the most simple kind of information in a country where modern statistic-keeping is unknown. He dealt with avarice, stupidity, cruelty, dishonesty and ignorance — all the grand or petty vices that are found in a colonial situation. When he returned, two days before Christmas, his family and friends were shocked at his appearance and deeply disturbed over his mental condition. He was sunk in a profound depression from which neither his family, friends nor medical advisors could shake him. He had driven himself past the point of no return.

Many will ask how a man so singularly gifted — so blessed with family, friends and career opportunities — could take his own life merely because his distorted emotions caused him to feel that his mission had been a failure. Why did he reject reassurance on this score as well as urgings that he receive psychiatric attention? Only the student of psychology can explain and very few of the lay public will understand the explanation. But those of us who worked with him—as teacher, government official, Urban League staff member or United Nations representative—understood two qualities in him; he was a perfectionist and he cared very deeply about people. Nothing but complete success satisfied his creative efforts; he took injustice toward others as an outrage upon himself.

Those who sneer at public servants as "do-gooders," who reserve their admiration for the financially successful regardless of how success is achieved—these will never understand the Dean story. They can only read headlines and sniff avidly for sensation. They cannot conceive that a man can literally knock himself out on a job that pays no overtime, nor that a United States citizen can really worry about African natives of Somaliland. Rejecting these possibilities, such cynics as these will insist that there must be "an angle."

There is an angle. It is an angle that only the perceptive will see. It is this: a brilliant man saw too far ahead; he cared too deeply about the people he served. He cared so deeply that his heart broke; and so he died.

RAPS FLORIDA

Dear Sir,

We feel that the people of Florida should know that the religious, civic and humanitarian feelings of many Americans are deeply shocked by the atmosphere of terrorism under which the Negro people suffer in their State, and by the crimes inflicted upon members of the colored race.

We refer to the brutal murder of Harry T. Moore on Christmas night of all times, and the subsequent death of his wife from injuries received in the same dastardly bombing; the almost incredibly cold-blooded shooting of two helpless, manacled prisoners last Nov. 6; the bombings of a Negro housing project in spite of the fact that the sensibilities of Southern whites had been catered to by the building of a high wall between white and colored units; two years ago, the lynching of Ernest Thomas, while officers of the law stood by.

These happenings bring no credit to the state of Florida; they induce a feeling of bewilderment and amazement; how can such things be in the middle of the Twentieth Century, in the world's leading nation, and after nearly two thousand years of Christianity? It is a feeble excuse to say that no harm will befall a Negro if he "keeps his place." For in actual practice, this means that he will be called upon to endure the worst kind of exploitation and degradation. If a man is not free to seek by lawful means, the social, political and economic improvement of his lot, and to work for the amelioration of the conditions under which his children must grow up, then he is to all intents and purposes, a slave. This is the yardstick we apply to other nations: we can apply no less to our own.

It is not only the Negro people who suffer by these inhumanities: the dominant social group that allows such affronts to common decency, cannot in turn but become debased by them. Goodness, mercy, brotherhood and compassion, all the virtues that were preached by the Galileean, cannot be kept in a segregated compartment marked "for whites only"; either we practice Christian ethics and live by democratic principles, in our dealings with ALL men, or eventually such virtues become atrophied and we practice them towards none. When that time comes, we shall have returned to the level of the beasts.

Dear Sir:

The Los Angeles Post Office has completed another year of progress as evidenced by postal receipts of $39,806,367.71 for 1951. The volume of holiday mail handled was the greatest in our history, yet we were able to handle it smoothly.

A great deal of credit for the successful movement of this tremendous volume of mail must be given to the patrons of the Los Angeles Post Office for their wholehearted support in "Mailing Early" and "Zoning Mail" and otherwise cooperating with our department.

I want to thank you and give full recognition to the contribution of your organization made in assisting us to acquaint the public with our problems and soliciting their cooperation thru your publication.

With hearty good wishes for a happy and successful New Year, I am

Sincerely,
MICHAEL D. FANNING,

Induct Lanier As President

HOUSTON, Texas — Dr. R. O'Hara Lanier was installed as first President of Texas Southern University, Sunday as 130 representatives of universities and colleges marched in the processional. The colleges and universities represented ranged in age from Harvard University (1636) to The University of Houston (1934). The university was built to equalize educational facilities for Negroes.

Attorney General Price Daniel, inaugural speaker said that "The establishment of this institution marks an important chapter in the educational history of the state of Texas." He reviewed the life of Dr. Lanier and praised him for creating and maintaining good will among the people of Texas.

HELD OVER—Dexter Gordan, outstanding saxophonist, is one of the many stars held over to appear in a jam-session and dance at Music Town, Friday afternoon.

I Hear Music

Los Angeles is proving to be a musical center by reason of its musical artists population. David Frisina, violinist, a local resident, was soloist with the Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra on the January 10-11 pair of concerts. He holds the chair of concert master with this orchestra and gave the appreciative audience an opportunity to enjoy his comprehensive technical skill. He chose the Respighi Concerto Gregoriano as the vehicle on which to enter the solo artist capacity. This Gregoriano concerto refers to that important collection of Catholic church music, assembled in the fourth, fifth and sixth centuries, which bears the name of St. Gregory the Great, Pope from 590-604.

Thoughtfulness and delicate perceptiveness is required for the contemplative and quietly subdued poetry of this magnificent work. Frisina supplied abundantly the demands of the composer. His tone was invariably ingratiating.—By Netta Paullyn Garner.

Hollywood Teacher Opens Instruction

An interesting class in vocal instruction patterned after classes conducted in European national conservatories is now being sponsored by Mme. Genevieve Vehroff, Hollywood singing teacher.

The idea sprang from a desire by Mme. Vehroff to give opportunity to interracial groups, possessing a wealth of talent which is often lost through lack of finances required for private instruction.

Classes are conducted weekly with individual attention given each student plus the advantage of hearing criticism given other members of the class.

Among her pupils is the soprano, Dorothy Speights.

TV Attacks Talmadge

Top network television execs indicated this week they will take no notice of Georgia's Gov. Herman Talmadge's squawks that several network programs violate the spirit of the south's segregation laws, despite a veiled threat by Talmadge that he might call for a mass boycott in the south of products sold by sponsors of such shows. Consensus among the network brass was they would continue to select talent without regard to their race, creed or color.

CBS-TV prez J. L. Van Volkenburg summed up his reaction with the succinct statement that "we will continue to select our performers solely on the basis of their talent." ABC-TV programming veepee Alexander (Sandy) Stronach, Jr., said that Talmadge's statement "does not take into account the majority opinion of the nation's TV audience." He declared the American public is TV's "severest and most competent critic," adding that "the most incisive criticism of TV today and in the days to come is the flick of the dial that turns off any one or group of programs." NBC-TV execs declined comment.

Talmadge's statement, appearing in a personal editorial in his political newspaper, The Statesman, objected to the intermingling of Negro and white performers on the same show as 'representing a "complete abolition of segregation customs in these shows which are beamed to states of the south." His beef touched off the first such racial problem for network TV, a problem which has consistently plagued the film industry via the number of local and state censor boards throughout the south.

It's believed that TV is in no danger of any such censorship, since the entire broadcasting industry operates under the laws of interstate commerce, via the Federal Communications Commission, which would supersede any local or state laws. That was proved, in fact, several years ago in Philadelphia, when the courts nixed an attempt of the Pennsylvania state board of censors to pass on film shows emanating from TV networks in N. Y.

Talmadge, in his article, voiced objection to Negro entertainers dancing with "scantily clad white females," Negro and white children dancing together and Negroes and white talking to each other "on a purely equal social basis." The governor, however, put his stamp of approval on programs featuring Negro groups appearing together "and not mixed with white performers."

Talmadge said TV shows should not offer programs offensive to any large group in the nation. He opined: ". . . Television is just about equivalent to visiting somebody in his home." The governor suggested that southern congressmen and Dixie newspapers should use their influence to "clean up television now before the situation grows much more offensive." He added:

"Good taste alone should prevent such a situation. "But, if the television executives and producers do not have this good taste, then the great millions of people in the southern states can turn their own resentment, individually, toward the products which sponsor such shows."

As an example of what he had in mind, Gov. Talmadge singled out the Mariners, a mixed singing group on Arthur Godfrey's program.

The United Press contacted Godfrey and told him of the Talmadge criticism. Godfrey rebutted as follows:

"As long as I am on the show, the Mariners are going to stay. "The Mariners served together on a Coast Guard ship during the war. That's where I found them. We also have some colored boys fighting in Korea. I wonder if the governor knows that!"

Sarah Vaughan Tops Day, Shore, Lee, in Nation's Polls

Sarah Vaughan has for the fifth consecutive year been elected the nation's No. 1 girl singer in the annual polls conducted by both "Down Beat" and "Metronome," leading music trade journals.

The gone gal with the "Magic Voice" added still another laurel to her impressive list of poll triumphs with the announcement this week that she had been voted the most popular female vocalist in a poll conducted by the student body of Upsala College of East Orange, N. J. Piling up 626 points, Sarah was tops in the balloting of the approximately 1000 votes cast in the Upsala poll, overwhelming second place winner Doris Day and Patti Page, who finished third.

Sarah will be crowned Upsala's Queen of Song at the school's Pi Delta Phi-Alpha Sigma Upsilon dance on January 18 at the Terrace Room, Newark.

The magic-voiced song stylist's five consecutive triumphs in the "Down Beat" and "Metronome" voting were the most impressive wins in the history of both polls. Sarah literally ran away from her closest rivals, who included such established female singing names as Doris Day, Margaret Whiting, Patti Page, Dinah Shore, Peggy Lee, Jo Stafford, Ella Fitzgerald, Fran Warren, June Christy and Kay Starr.

William Greaves to Star in 16mm. Movie

William Greaves, the stage, screen, radio and TV actor who was starred in "Lost Boundaries" and "Souls of Sin," has been given the leading part in Crusader Films' motion picture "America's No. 1 Mission Responsibility." This is a 16mm motion picture depicting the work of the Josephite Fathers among the Negroes, which will be directed by Charles V. Martignoni of Catholic Visual Education, Inc.

A product of Harlem's sidewalks, and son of strict, religious West Indian parents, he has climbed steadily up to fame since he embarked on a theatrical career in 1945 in the American Negro Theatre's production of "Anna Lucasta."

Eckstine Tours Dixie With Count Basie Band

Billy Eckstine starts his first southern tour next month. With the record and picture star will be Count Basie with a reorganized large band, his first in two years.

"Can't Duel Hamp" - Stan

Stan Kenton is nothing short of amazed at reports that he, or his associates, ever even considered that his band and Lionel Hampton's would be teamed up in a package to barnstorm the country in a "Battle of Bands" package.

"Hamp has been talking about this thing for years," stated Stan, "but we always thought he was joking. We even talked once about doing it in Madison Square Garden, but it was always just a gag for me.

"Hamp's great, and we love him, but if he started this story I'm sure it was just a gag with him, too. Who could fall for such a fantastic idea? After all, as soon as he and his gang tore into "Flyin' Home" there'd be nothing left for us to do except pack up and get out—and we know it!"

Baker Is Still Baker!

Josephine Baker is the same smash hit in repeat performance! Her warmth, her ability, her songs, her costume—still reach out and engulf the listener. And her opening day was jam-packed. Los Angeles, like the rest of America, loves her.

I do not use the word "Empress" with my tongue in my cheek, for even in a seven-ninety-eight chenille robe (and that is what she had on) there is a regal air about Josephine Baker that makes a drafty dressing room with a cement floor—a throne room.

Josephine Baker

Waiting to talk with Jo Baker backstage at the Paramount Theater, I thought I was the type of person more easily impressed by a good book than I am by flounces of tulle or velvet but Baker's gowns demand a hearing. She wears the most colorful and dramatic scenery of any artist today. The green velvet dripping with tear-drop gems, half hidden by a platinum fox cape-stole is the work of Christian Dior, as is a creation of white lace with hand-sewn seed pearls and sequins with tulle train. There was the empress gown, crusted with gems and furs, a black velvet trimmed with white ermine and a white ensemble, dotted with small gold pompoms with tight fitting metal satin jacket trimmed in mink. She gives full credit to the world's fashion experts, Balenciaga of Spain, Dior, Balmain and Griffe of Paris.

"Do you tell your designers what you want in a gown?" I asked?

"Merci no! After each tour I give away my wardrobe. I tell each designer the number of gowns I need, then I allow them full opportunity to express their own creative ability.

I questioned her about Roi Ottley's newest book, "No Green Pastures." "Is it true, as Mr. Ottley says that distinguished Negroes are graciously received in London and Paris, but that Liverpool or Marseilles can teach Mississippi something in their treatment of the common Negro?"

Miss Baker bristled. "Ottley is wrong — very wrong. Ask any tourist, any soldier who has spent some time on the continent —they will tell you the same as I. But even if Mr. Ottley were right, is that any reason why we should not speak out against intolerance and injustice wherever we see it?

"I would like to know, Miss Baker, what started you on this crusade for the American Negro. You have certainly picked yourself a thankless task. Many people doubt your sincerity. They think it's a gimmick—a pose to attract attention to yourself.

She looked at me a long time before she answered. A minute of silence is a long time—an awkward time so I continued the questioning. "Was there any one single incident that stands out in your mind? Some people come to a certain time for a certain work. There was the South African incident that changed Ghandi from an Oxford Beau Brummel to the loin-clad defender of the Indian untouchable.

"I am honored that you put me in such illustrious company." There was a quietness in her voice that spoke of an inward searching. "No, it wasn't any big incident. It is something that I have lived with for a long time."

"I have traveled all over the world, and always I have seen the poor, the very poor—and I have tried to help wherever I could. I am sure that every brush with poverty and the disposed of the world crystalized my future actions. In North Africa I was very sick. It was during this illness that prayer took on meaning for me. I prayed earnestly to God to spare my life. I told Him if He permitted me to regain my health I would help not only my own race but any minority group wherever I saw the need. That promise I have tried to keep."

Stork Club

When asked about the Stork Club incident she was quick to defend her action. "I am not doing it for myself. If I win the case I have already instructed by lawyers to set up a trust fund that will award scholarships to any deserving student of any nationality. I am not super-sensitive and I didn't need that publicity. You writers have been more than generous. I resent Winchell's statements and I believe the New York courts will be a fair proving ground. The state is a pioneer in civil rights." La Baker is suing Walter Winchell and the Stork Club for $400,000.

Asked if she has noticed any difference in her audiences since the incident, Baker said no. She opened to a capacity house at the local Paramount. There were many more things we wanted to ask Miss Baker but a good-looking Tony Dexter type stage manager came up to tell her she had five minutes to get into her scenery.

The trial of Josephine Baker against Walter Winchell et al promises to be full of fireworks. French generals, highups in the French Secret Service, big brass of the Foreign Legion are all coming over to see that justice is done and to testify in her behalf if need be. Incidentally, Josephine is taxed by both the French government and the United States. Not only will she open her own night club in New York but she will be seen next season on Broadway as the ill-fated queen of a musical extravaganza built around the lost continent of Atlantis.—Ruby Berkely Goodwin.

Crowds Cheer Todd Duncan Concert

JIMMY WITHERSPOON . . . is the magnet drawing the crowd to Joe Morris and Clarence Moore's new show at the Club Alabam. Playing a limited engagement only, Witherspoon is expected to have all of his large following on hand.

The season's outstanding musical treat was in the offering for a responsive audience in Philharmonic auditorium last Sunday afternoon when talented baritone artist Todd Duncan appeared in his first West Coast recital in recent seasons. Presenting a five-part program that ranged from German lieder and English art songs to Haitian folk melodies and Negro spirituals, the famed star of theater, concerts, recordings and radio completely captivated his listeners with a vocal exhibition that was truly dramatic in tone, flawless in speech and phrasing. He sang some 22 scheduled selections plus encores. Accompanying him in his efforts was able pianist William Allen.

Duncan, who recently scored a smash hit in the Broadway musical version of "Lost in the Stars," proved clearly in his performance Sunday why critics the world over are so outspoken in praise of his vocal talents. Rich-voiced, soundly prepared and poised, he is the ideal concert artist. No other performer has greater audience appeal than he as was explicitly demonstrated for everyone at the recital Sunday.

Duncan's offerings in the concert included several difficult compositions by composers like Bach, Rachmaninoff, Kurt Weill and Schubert. The baritone delivered seven songs from Schubert's "Die Schone Mullerin" without interruption. From the musical, "Lost in the Stars," he sang "Soliloquy" or prayer.

The recital impressed many observers with the fact that Duncan is prepared to perform in almost any major musical role. He has long been rated by astute music judges as the one Negro singer most eligible for grand opera and he has had some offers. Back in 1947, while he was doing a concert tour of Europe, he was sought for work in operas in France, Italy and Germany. But he turned them all down. He can now qualify in two opera roles: Tanio from Pagliacci and Escamillo from Carmen. The latter role was sung by him with an all-white opera company in 1946 at the New York City Civic Center.

The Duncan concert was sponsored by the W. C. Vinson Enterprises under the auspices of Alphi Phi Alpha fraternity, an organization with which the distinguished artist holds membership. Duncan was honored by his fraternity brothers following the concert in a special reception at the group's house on south Western avenue.

Marietta Canty to Do Feature Role for Fox

Marietta Canty, distinguished Negro stage, screen and radio actress, yesterday was signed to a top feature role in 20th Century-Fox's "Dream Boat." Miss Canty, who recently appeared in "The I Don't Care Girl," "The Valentino Story" and "Belle La Grande," joins a comedy cast headed by Clifton Webb, Ginger Rogers, Anne Francis and Jeffrey Hunter.

Educator Cited for Excellent Service

WASHINGTON, D. C.—An eminent Negro educator, Dr. David D. Jones was cited Monday night for his 25 years of service as president of Bennett college at Greensboro, N. C.

A framed citation, awarded by Christian Education magazine, was presented to Dr. Jones at the annual meeting of the National Association of Schools and Colleges of the Methodist church. Dr. J. Earl Moreland, president of Randolph-Macon college, Ashland, Va., and vice president of the association, made the presentation.

"Dr. Jones at all times and in many situations has been a champion of better understanding and more harmonious relationships among men of all races and religions, and in his local community of Greensboro he has made a record of excellent citizenship high-lighted by an ative interest in all civic agencies and efforts," the citation stated.

The presentation was made at a banquet at American University, attended by presidents and administrators of 10 Methodist seminaries and 125 church-related colleges and universities, staff members of the denomination's board of education, and other officials of the church.

Dr. R. Franklin Thompson, the president of the College of Puget Sound, Tacoma, Wash., is president of the association.

NAACP ATTACKS GOLF JIM CROW

CHARLOTTE, N.C.—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People this week asked the city government and the Park and Recreation Commission to open Charlotte's only municipal golf course to Negro citizens.

In a petition on behalf of sixteen Negroes who were turned away from the Bonnie Brae (municipal) course solely because of their race, the NAACP charges that the city's policy of denying Negroes admission to the golf course violates the 14th Amendment of the U. S. Constitution. In a letter accompanying the petition, Thomas H. Wyche, chairman of the legal redress committee of the Charlotte NAACP branch, and Spottswood W. Robinson III, NAACP regional special counsel, stated that unless a response was received within fifteen days, it would be assumed that the requests and demands of the petition were denied.

Park Superintendent R. Foster Blaisdell said that the petition would undoubtedly be studied by the Park Board at its next scheduled meeting.

Louis Reveals Future Plans

NEW YORK—Joe Louis insisted today that "right now I can defeat Jersey Joe Walcott . . . who I am positive is even older than I am." Writing in the new issue of Quick magazine, the former heavyweight champ says "If I had been given the opportunity, shortly after I lost to Ezzard Charles, I'm confident I could have defeated him in a return match; probably knocked him out."

Louis writes that "there is nothing in sports right now that I love more than playing golf. That's what I'd like to do, and if I sharpen up a bit on my game I feel sure I could be a tournament player."

Joe also writes in Quick that "If I ever decide to box again, I think boxing commissions around the country would be doing the nice thing to me to wait until I applied for a license, give me a thorough examination, then make their decision." This is an obvious reference to the Illinois State boxing commission which recently banned Louis from fighting in that state although Louis had filed no intention of fighting there at the time.

The Brown Bomber has other plans, according to his article in Quick. He says there's a possibility he'll become a TV disc jockey, and he plans to continue as a director of the International Boxing Club at $15,000 a year.

British Train African Youth For Leadership

LONDON—Thousands of Africans are now being trained as scientists, doctors and teachers of the new Africa.

In the British dependencies of Africa, which total 56 million people—equal to a third of the population of the United States—a swelling stream of Africans are passing through courses in academic or technical instruction which will qualify them as key men and women of their countries. The next step after self-government is self-development. So territories such as the Gold Coast and Nigeria which have almost attained autonomy, are now being taught how to use their vast resources of talent, raw materials and water power.

Buildings are rising in four centers where skilled technicians will be trained for work in the fifteen British African dependencies. In the higher levels of education stress has, up till now, been placed on the academic rather than the technical. This is now being reversed.

For example, at Kumasi, on the Gold Coast, the new College of Arts, Science and Technology is nearing completion. When ready this will hold 2,000 students. A wide range of courses is offered, including building, engineering, accounting, agriculture, science and commerce. Next year will see the beginning of courses in banking and general science, forestry, and veterinary science, and other specialized subjects.

In the engineering department a number of African lecturers will be appointed. It is expected that as this and other African colleges develop steadily they will become self-staffing, with graduates going out into the world to acquire and then returning to the teaching staff. At first, however, most of the teachers will be drawn from overseas, particularly Britain.

Golden State Men Attend Meeting on Management Tasks

"Function of Management in a Free Society," as discussed by Corporation set the tone of the Curtis H. Gager of General Foods American Management Association meetings attended by several officers of Golden State Mutual at the Biltmore Hotel this week.

Eleven representatives of Golden State Mutual Life Insurance company, led by president Norman O. Houston, George A. Beavers, Jr., chairman of the board-treasurer and Edgar J. Johnson, vice-president and secretary, are attending the AMA sessions. On Tuesday Mrs. Helen Batiste, comptroller, Robert Smith, auditor, Arthur J. Williams, superintendent of agencies and his assistant, Mercer Z. Ray, attended the afternoon sessions and heard James D. Wise, chairman of the mid-winter meeting, speak on "Adjusting to Changing Economic and Social Trends." In his talk Wise pointed out that competition is beginning to cause cut-backs in costs since emergence from the era of shortages is at hand.

Those slated to attend today's (Thursday's) meetings, in addition to the company's three top officers, are Mrs. Verna B. Hickman, a junior officer, and three administrative assistants: Norman B. Houston, Ike Blocker and Ivan Houston. The Thursday sessions will revolve around latest developments in management training and various allied subjects including an analysis of "The Chief Executive—His Job and His Staff," "Business Research as a Tool of Management," and "A Current Appraisal of the Quality of Management."

Two Killed by Poison Gas

Two workers died last Wednesday from poison gas from a reactor tank.

George Jumper, 50, of 1700 E. 43rd street, descended 15 feet underground through a manhole to clean the tank, and was overcome by fumes.

George Williams, 40, 11501 Eastwood avenue, attempted to rescue Jumper, but he too was overcome.

Both men worked for the Miners Mining and Manufacturing Co. plant at 19201 S. Vermont avenue. Efforts to revive the men proved unavailing.

LOIS RAY FEATURED ON NEW NBC SHOW

CHICAGO, Ill.—Lois Ray, outstanding young Negro mezzo-soprano; popular baritone Bill Snary; and Joseph Gallicchio and his orchestra are featured on a new musical program, "America's Music," which started last week on the NBC Radio network from Chicago.

The Sunday night program will present popular folk and concert selections that are typically American in spirit and origin, with narrator Henry Cooke telling the stories of the many familiar melodies.

Miss Ray placed second in the annual "Harvest Moon Festival" singing contest held recently in Chicago. This year the 22-year-old artist was a first prize winner in the Marian Anderson Scholarship Awards. Snary has appeared on several NBC Chicago radio and television programs. "America's Music" will be directed by Ralph Knowles with scripts written by Bob Pierron.

'Black' Jews in 'Sitdown' in Israel

NEW YORK—"Black" Jews, 150 strong, staged a sitdown strike on the pavement in front of the Jewish Agency headquarters in Tel Aviv, Israel, recently.

Natives of India, they claimed they would continue their strike until they were returned to their native land. They claimed the "white" Jews had refused them all but manual labor, and had also refused to give them white bread. Black bread, they reportedly claimed, was for "black"

DEACON DAN SPARKS NATIONAL ALL-STARS

The Deacon Hop.

Yes, the Deacon Dan Towler hopped all over the American Conference All-Stars in the rain and mud here Saturday afternoon in putting on one of his best exhibitions of the year, in leading Joe Stydahar's National All-Stars to a whacking 30-13 win.

However, the Deacon didn't hog all the glory. The "Tank," that is the great Paul Younger, was the first down man. Towler would make six or five and the next play the ball was given to Younger and you know the rest—an automatic first down.

Elmen Tunnell returned a punt some 40 yards for the top run of the day. George Taliaferro, Len Forde, Bill Willis, stood out for their respective sides.

Local Man Stationed In Germany Promoted

HEIDELBERG, Germany.—Robert Reeves, son of Mrs. Levada Coons, 354 East 104th street, Los Angeles, has been promoted to the rank of sergeant first class, second highest enlisted grade, on Heidelberg Military Post in the U. S. Zone of Germany.

The sergeant is motor sergeant for headquarters company of the 28th Transportation Truck battalion stationed at Mannheim, near Heidelberg.

Reeves entered military service in March, 1944. He served with an infantry regiment in the Pacific theater of operations and returned to the States in March, 1946. Prior to his assignment to the European Command in August, 1949, he was stationed at Fort MacArthur, Calif.

Aged Usher Cited for Long Church Service

Sixty-one years of continuous service as an usher in the A.M.E. Church was celebrated at a banquet tendered Allen A. Anderson at the First A.M.E. Church, Eighth and Towne, recently.

Anderson completed 41 years on the Usher Board No. 1 at Eighth and Towne having joined the board in 1910 under Rev. Peck. Previous to coming to Los Angeles, he had served for twenty years, first in Wilmington, Delaware and later in Boston, Massachusetts.

Attending were representatives from usher boards throughout the city and State. The festivities were presided over by Mrs. C. E. McCalpin, president emeritus of the Usher Board Union of California and vice-chairman of the National Board of Directors of the United Ushers of America.

The banquet was served by Usher Board No. 1 of the host church, Leo Williams, president. Mrs. Snody Lewis was chairman of the banquet committee, and Hugh Welch, chairman of Ways and Means.

The Rev. Alvia A. Shaw, minister at Eighth and Towne, inspired those present with stirring remarks.

Virgin Islands Protest Naming Of Business Man

NEW YORK—The appointment of Gordon Skeoch, an avowed opponent of anti-discrimination legislation, as president of the Virgin Islands Corporation "can undermine the confidence of . . . many people in the purposes and attitude of our government in the handling of the affairs of dependent areas," it was charged in a statement of policy opposing the appointment.

The statement, inspired by residents of the Island, was transmitted recently to Oscar Chapman, Secretary of the Interior, whose department has jurisdiction over the islands. Skeoch, the statement asserts, is a member of a snobbish planter set on the Island of St. Croix which is trying to develop on that island a "new community, white and gentile." As a member of the Virgin Island Legislature, "he vigorously opposed legislation to prohibit racial and religious discrimination in public places, employing the familiar sophistry that such legislation was unnecessary."

Detroit Broker Speaks at Realty Board Installation

Using the theme of the installation banquet program: "What the Future Holds For Real Estate," W. D. Morison, Jr., founder of the National Association of Real Estate Brokers, will deliver the principal address.

W. D. MORISON

W. D. Morison, president of the Morison Investment and Realty company of Detroit, has gained a national reputation for the formation of the National Association of Real Estate Brokers, of which he was president its first four years.

Active in civic affairs for Wayne County, Mich., Morison has held the post of deputy sheriff and member of the county board of supervisors. At present he is treasurer of Living Endowment Association for Southwestern Christian college of Terrell, Texas. Member of the Board of Directors of Victory Loan and Investment Company and member of the Board of Directors of Parkside Hospital are other positions maintained by him.

This year's banquet will be held at Forum Starlite Roof. Included on the program are: City Councilman George P. Cronk, Attorney Loren Miller, Myron Griffen from the Division of Real Estate, and Judge Stanly Mosk, installing officer.

Master of ceremonies for the evening will be Dr. Claude Hudson, new president of the Broadway Federal Savings and Loan Association. Evening will be topped with dancing by the music of Sammy Franklin's sextet.

The new officers and board of directors who are to be installed are: Wesley J. Fairchild, president, Lorenzo V. Spencer, vice-president, Bryce D. Wisner, secretary, Cluese Reid, treasurer, Emily A. Johnson, parliamentarian, Clarence O. English, Robert Newman, Andre Vaughn, and David S. Wolf, are members of the board of directors.

Richards Features Futuristic Design

Nationally famous designer De Marco has released his latest style in the form of custom quality all-wool suits now being sold by Richards, 540 S. Broadway. The store, which carries exclusive clothes for men, is the first of tailoring experts to offer advanced new styles requested by men.

Recently, Richards store made a survey to gather the likes and dislikes in clothing by men who are discerning in their clothing tastes. Those employed in all types of business were questioned. In the survey, height, weight, and personality of the man was taken into consideration.

Blending answers, suggestions and favorite styles into an unusual design, Richards placed on the market the suit it is now featuring. First attraction, and probably most important, is the material from which the suit is made. Only finest imported and domestic fabrics were used.

For modern design, the coat follows a futuristic pattern. It has athletic tailored shoulders and tapers to the waist. One button closes the coat, giving it a sleek, streamline fit. A glance at the back of the coat detects short splits on left and right sides.

Matching pants follow in exact detail the design of coat. Fine quality of material is molded into flattering draped pants which are heralded by men with esquire tastes as the present-day vogue. Richards guarantees a perfect fit with every purchase.

If the suit is desired for immediate purchase, credit can be established while the customer waits. While the shopper is looking around, Richards is certain he will see many other buys in shirts and slacks to accompany the featured suit.

Jim Crow Dies Hard, Look Says

NEW YORK, Jan. 2—Carl T. Rowan was a "green, small-town Negro youngster" when he left his native Tennessee in 1942 to join the U. S. Navy. When he returned, nine years later, a great deal of water had flowed under the bridge. He had earned a degree from Oberlin College and had become a well-known writer for a big mid-west newspaper, the Minneapolis Morning Tribune. Now, a college graduate and journalist, Rowan has written the story of his trip "back home to the land of Jim Crow" for the current issue of Look magazine.

The American Negro has made greater strides toward true freedom in the past nine years than in any other nine years in his history, Rowan declares in his Look article. But despite talk of a "New South," complete equality of educational, social and economic opportunity is still far away.

Dismal Conditions

Although he knew he would find the Negro better off in some big and some small ways, he found in his home town and elsewhere the same dismal living conditions he had known as a child, he says. He saw little or no improvement in housing or employment conditions. In his home town, he found that Negro teachers still had to bring books out of the public library if their pupils wanted them.

Rowan credits the Federal Courts and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People with many of the victories against segregation in the South. He points to the Universities of Arkansas and Oklahoma, which have opened their doors to Negro students, and where the races now study together in harmony. He also found many white Southerners who were against segregation and who wanted a "New South," but who told him they were afraid to speak out.

"I felt that the fight for freedom could and would be won, but it would mean work and more work," Rowan states at the conclusion of his article in Look. "Black or white, America is one. We face a common destiny. That, to me, is the great hope—both for the Negro and democracy."

Booker T. Washington Hotel, San Francisco

Smart and modern decor characterized the recent Grand Opening of one of San Francisco's finest hostelries, The BOOKER T. WASHINGTON HOTEL, at 1540 Ellis Street. The $100,000 venture includes The EMPEROR Cocktail Lounge, quiet, cozy and fireproof—and The EMPRESS Dining Room, a gourmet's dream in chartreuse. The Emperor opens daily at 10:00 a. m., and the Empress opens daily at 7:00 a. m. Both close at 2:00 a. m.

The New Empress Dining Room is already creating a sensation, unusually colorful and furnished in the finest taste. The walls are lined with chartreuse drapes, the floor carpet is maroon with silver scroll. Punch and silver dicod mirrors trim the serving counter.

The Booker T. Washington prop furnishes rooms for banquets and parties.

Already popular with the public as an ideal rendezvous, especially for after-theatre people, the new Emperor Cocktail Lounge conveniently joins the fluorescent-lighted reception alcove on the ground floor. The quiet beauty of the Emperor Cocktail Lounge is very impressive. It has four convenient exits, one of them leading to the well appointed, air-conditioned rest rooms.

The elevator structure is air-conditioned throughout by the York system. Its blowers and heaters automatically maintain a temperature of 72 degrees, regardless of outside weather conditions.

Rates for the 250 rooms' listing from $2.00 up, per day. Free radios are in every room, and television sets are being installed in the suites. Accommodations include modern, new furniture for your way

AN EYE FULL

Caught views of a few lovelies ON THE SCENE this week—Vivian Roberson, Gladys Hoffman, Martha Gomes, and Pearl Dixon radiant beaming and fair in the wind and rain of January—everywhere. Yes, they made quite an eyeful.

HIC, HIKE AND HUG

Sadie and David Brewer of 4121 Zamora street invited guests ON THE SCENE to share in a party recently that was superb. Leuvinia and James C. Brewer danced the whole night through. Alice and Robert Williams were thrilled to a peak. Charles and Ethel Lentz came all the way from North Hollywood to join in. Hazel Reed said this is the best in many a moon. Jessie and Joseph Woods blushed with delight. Aneice King sat with modest ripples playing over her face. Matilda and James Parker went home singing about it.

The affair was a tremendous success and positively one of the best as are all things given by the Brewers.

CINCINNATI BREEZE

Sitting in the breeze and cool by the side of the stream and the pool. . . . ON THE SCENE this week in Cincinnati were Carl and Annie Pearl Hicks while falling snow played havoc on all sides. Their daughter, Elenor, who is celebrating her ninth birthday soon, just watched from the window, said, "'Tis so good to be young again."

College Fund Exceeds Goal

A total of $1,304,700 was raised by the United Negro College Fund in its 1951 campaign, it was announced this week in a final, year-end report by William J. Trent, Jr., executive director of the fund.

The 1951 amount exceeded last year's campaign results by some $95,000 and is the largest sum obtained in any one year by the fund since it was established in 1944.

National campaign leadership for 1951 included Thomas I. Parkinson, president of the Equitable Life Assurance Society who served as chairman, and Truman K. Gibson, Sr., president of Supreme Liberty Life Insurance Co.

The money will be distributed among 32 private, accredited colleges and universities located, with the exception of Lincoln University in Pennsylvania, in 11 Southern states and having a total enrollment of 26,000 students.

U. S. Has Majority Of Telephones

World telephones neared the appropriate total of 75 million at the beginning of 1951, the seventy-fifth anniversary of Bell's invention. This is revealed in the new issue of "Telephone Statistics of the World, released by the American Telephone and Telegraph company, according to F. L. Staves, manager of The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company.

The January, 1951, world total of 74,800,000 instruments represents an increase of four and a half million over the previous year.

Kappas Plan Constructive '52 Program

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—"Replace hell-raising with constructive efforts," was the message directed to members and chapters of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity by its Grand Chapter which closed its 41st annual meeting here Saturday, after reelecting Atty. Frank M. Summers, East St. Louis, Ill., as grand polemarch.

"Something more than hell-raising" was a definite tone of the deliberations. This sentiment was later formulated for the gathering by Dr. Martin D. Jenkins, president, Morgan State College, Baltimore, who contrastingly examined the practices and objectives of Greek-letter chapters against the programs and objectives of an educational institution.

The fraternity passed a number of resolutions of public interest, including a demand on President Truman to use the federal power to protect the lives and property of Negro and Jewish-Americans being violated in Florida, through bombings and killings. Affiliation with the American Council on Human Rights was voted.

On the social side, the conclave made its bow on Dec. 26, with the annual open formal dance; a Pan-Hellenic complimentary formal followed Thursday evening; the closed banquet and a cabaret party Friday, and the closed prom Saturday.

EAGLE SALUTES
A Leader in Business

LESLIE ARMSTRONG

Suave, intelligent and extremely popular Leslie Armstrong owns and operates one of the most outstanding and "plush package parlors" in the northern bay area.

Leslie Armstrong's PLANTATION COCKTAIL LOUNGE at 1428 Post Street, San Francisco, California, is definitely the center of cosmopolitancy and inter-racial fellowship.

Civic Minded Gentleman

Always the first to support any significant undertaking, "Les," as he is affectionately known by his thousands of friends, is constantly befriending deserving individuals and his great love for sports of all types has made him a keen observer of "champions," with a keen sense of spotting "phonies" at a far distance.

Inspired by a wonderful wife, blissfully resplendent kid, is fortunately married to the personable Peggy, whose confidante and sincerity of purpose have proved an invincible inspiration.

North Carolina Wins

LAWRENCEVILLE, Va. — Ernest "Hands" Warlick, co-captain of North Carolina College's basketball team, scored 25 points here against St. Paul Polytechnic Institute last Saturday night to lead the Eagles in a 108-53 victory over the Virginians.

The Eagles have amassed a total of 208 points in two games against 87 for their opponents.

Germans Like Negro Soldiers, Writer Says

CHICAGO, Ill.—The Negro GI is still as popuplar as ever with the Germans without depending on the chocolate bars and nylons to buy friendships, according to a survey made by EBONY magazine.

In its current issue, EBONY reports: "Despite anti-Negro propaganda spread by some white Americans in Germany and the undemocratic example set by the U. S. Army in delaying the integration of troops in Germany, the Negro soldier has retained his high position in the eyes of the women and children and is rapidly winning over all but the diehard Nazis among the men."

Labor Unity Demanded by Butcher Workers' Paper

A demand for an end of the split in the ranks of organized labor was contained in a lengthy article in the January issue of the Butcher Workman.

The magazine, published monthly by the Butcher Workmen Educational and Benevolent Association, Inc., an affiliate of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of North America, AFL, says:

"Every member of organized labor with a spark of decency in his breast yearns for unity in the labor movement. Yet there is no unity. . . ."

Likening the disunity to a thief in the night which robs both organized and unorganized workers, and declaring that it is a question of unity or ruin, the article concludes:

"It is a challenge to the leadership of both the AFL and the CIO. If the sixteen million workers in the ranks want unity, then it is up to the leaders of both those groups to give that unity to the organized toilers of our nation."

Krantz Enters 25th Year of Selling Clothes

Head of Golden State Department Store, Sam Krantz, is now entering his 28th year at the same address. In expressing his thanks to the public for appreciation of his merchandise he said today why he will remain at his present address, 210 S. Broadway.

"We realize," Krantz stated, "that perhaps the entire public is not intrigued with our shopping location, perhaps it is out of the so-called high rent district, yet, we feel that by maintaining this location, we are able to offer terms and values that the average man and the average family can afford."

Krantz then added, "Comments from our customers and the public are always appreciated and we will never leave anything undone to make this the finest shopping center in Southern California.

Monterey Elects NAACP Officers

SAN FRANCISCO — Captain Stephen Ross was installed as president of the Monterey NAACP Branch Wednesday night, Jan. 9, at the Friendship Baptist Church. Other officers elected were vice president, Mrs. Wellington Smith; secretary, Mrs. Ruby Frazier, and treasurer, Ira Beverly.

Former president, Rev. E. H. Harris, presided, and Salinas president Ignatius Cooper installed the new officers.

Clinton A. White, acting executive secretary of the Northern California area conference, was guest speaker, outlining plans for cooperation of branches in a scheduled mass meeting memorializing NAACP's Florida Coordinator Harry T. Moore, victim in the Florida bombing on Christmas night.

Wet Weather Forces Gold's to Clear Stock

This week, when the weather took a quick reverse, many men found themselves digging in closets to find topcoats for wear during the rainy season. Most of them were probably disappointed when the coats they finally dug out were over-worn, torn, and out of style.

Gold's anticipated the woes of these unprepared men and placed in stock a topcoat priced at $29.95. There is not enough space to hold the coats until next season. Therefore the latest in fine styling is presented for the customer's advantage at Gold's loss. Colors run rampant with checks included. They are also in all sizes from the smallest to largest. Gold's guarantees a perfect fit for any man.

Answering the demand for men's sport shirts, Gold's has placed on clearance shirts regularly priced from $8.95 to $10.95. All sizes and patterns are included and now cost only $5.95. For $1.95, usually marked $6.95 dress shirts are placed in late-season reductions. To wear with the shirts is a selection of men's gabardine slacks now only $10.95. To make the men's shopping complete, Gold's has placed almost as a gift to the males, well-tailored pajamas of cotton broadcloth, and flannel material.

To meet everyone's demand for them, the store is open every night until 9 o'clock. A large lot is provided for free parking.

At the same time Gold's is clearing stock, it is increasing its furniture and household equipment. Receiving comments from national designers and manufacturers on their latest additions, Gold's is displaying some of its pieces to the public.

For many years, Gold's has attempted to give service to the community as a family store and has met with much success. Starting in the years when furniture of good quality was difficult to obtain, Gold's brought their customers the kind of goods which increased the value of patrons' dollars. The company still carries accounts of its earliest customers, thus Gold's feels it is an example of its satisfaction to buyers.

Rally to Protest Bombings

In one of the most dramatic actions ever undertaken in Southern California, the powerful labor movement of Los Angeles this week swung solidly behind the Negro community in plans for an all-out, area-wide mass meeting of workers, Negroes, Jews and other groups to protest murder in Florida.

Seven thousand people from San Diego to San Luis Obispo are expected to attend the demonstration, scheduled for the Shrine auditorium, Thursday evening, Feb. 21.

Walter White, NAACP national secretary, will be the principal speaker. He will tell, from first hand knowledge, of the terror that rules Florida, that took the lives of NAACP leader Harry T. Moore, his wife, Harriet Moore, Groveland prisoner Samuel Shepherd; of the bombings that intimidated Negroes, Jews, Catholics; the floggings; the hooded, cross-burning night-riders.

To End Murders

The meeting is being held in memory of Harry Moore. Funds collected will be earmarked for a Moore Memorial Fund, dedicated to the prevention of mob murders in Florida.

Call for the demonstration came from the NAACP. It is being co-sponsored by the CIO, by the AFL, by numerous other groups present at the NAACP office Monday afternoon when plans were crystallized.

Demand Widespread

Demands for an impressive show of solidarity with the Negro people have been cropping up for more than a week. The demands have come from workers, from Jews, from members of organizations all over the city who were asking for an opportunity to voice their anger at the challenge to all freedom, all rights that has been hurled by the hoodlums, the thugs, the Klans-

Man Hurt In Explosion

Arthur Herbert, 42, of 5860 Compton Ave. is in a critical condition at Maywood Hospital from burns suffered in a gas explosion.

Herbert suffered first, second and third degree burns of legs, hands and chest. The force of the explosion blew out both sides of a room and broke three windows.

Sheriff's deputies reported the explosion occurred when Herbert struck a match to light a gas heater.

An accumulation of gas was said to have caused the blast.

Windows were also broken in an adjoining cafe and cleaning establishment.

Many Weep At Meeting on Bomb Terror

By GRACE E. SIMONS

The hushed, responsive crowd, which packed the Second Baptist Church here last Sunday morning, heard Franklin Williams, NAACP West Coast regional director, portray the terrifying conditions which were the backdrop to the Christmas night bombing murder of Harry T. Moore in Mims, Fla.

Hundreds in the audience—men as well as women—wept unashamedly as the slender, dynamic attorney told of the situation as he found it there during his defense of the Groveland rape case prisoners. He depicted the pattern of lawlessness that rules unchecked throughout the state, protest against which resulted in Moore's death.

The more than 2000 people, who filled the main auditorium, the balcony, the anti-rooms of the church, were visibly moved by Williams' report. They reached in their pockets for their handkerchiefs—and also for their pocketbooks.

Jo Baker Present

They gave generously, a total of $960, to carry on the struggle for fair treatment for Negroes and others in Florida and the rest of the South.

Among those who made large donations were Josephine Baker, who won the affection of the crowd by her appearance at the meeting; and the United Steel Workers, which turned over $50 collected among its members.

Williams, the main speaker of the Moore memorial meeting, was introduced by Loren Miller, publisher of the California Eagle, who has long been identified with the fight of the Negro people for equality.

Sent Regrets

Rev. J. Raymond Henderson, pastor of the church, had dedicated the meeting to the NAACP and its struggle for justice for all people. Dr. E. L. Robinson, president of the local chapter of the association, presided.

During his introductory remarks, Dr. Robinson pointedly stated that the mayor of the city had been asked to attend, but

Victims Show Scars At Torture Trial

Deputy to Take Stand in Acid Burning Case

By Miriam Christian

Proof that carbon monoxide may result in burns when sprayed upon human skin was established by a professor during the trial of sheriff's deputy Edward Houtz yesterday. Houtz is being charged with felonious assault against two Negroes for spraying them with acid from a fire extinguisher last October 20.

In the latest development Dr. Alexander Gebtz said that in an experiment which he made on January 15, it was proved that acid sprayed into a pocket causes the acid to compress and the residue formed will result in burning.

Henry Scott and Ruben Smith charge that Houtz sprayed acid under their clothing after they had been beaten at Firestone sheriff's station.

Dr. Gebtz used a model of a thin film of plastic called polyethelene in his experiment which

Jury Acquits Woman Who Slew Husband

After five days of listening to one of the most dramatic murder trials heard recently, and four tense hours of deliberation, a jury acquitted Reber Willard of the charge that she murdered her common-law husband Augustus "Fats" Johnson as the aftermath of an all-day drinking party.

Johnson was killed last September as he charged into the bedroom of their home at 1664 E. 109th street, where his wife had barricaded herself to escape from a domestic quarrel.

Under the skillful guidance of defense attorney Earl C. Broady, Mrs. Willard testified that Johnson had kicked, beat and abused her so many times, causing her such painful bruises, that she shot in self-defense when he charged into the bedroom with clenched fists. Attorney Broady also produced witnesses that corroborated her testimony of the many painful beatings.

Dr. C. Gordon Dies After Short Illness

Dr. Clifford M. Gordon, prominant local physician, died Tuesday morning at 7:00 o'clock after a short illness. His sudden death came as a shock to his many friends and fellow professional men.

Dr. Gordon was well known locally, and participated actively in the civic and social affairs of the community.

Services will be held Friday morning at 10:00 from Fisher Mortuary.

Dr. Gordon was born in Fargo, North Dakota, March 19, 1900. He attended school in Williston, North Dakota, and then came to California to attend the University of Southern California, where he received his pre-medical training.

While attending USC, Dr. Gordon was a star end on Gloomy Gus Henderson's mighty Trojan teams. He was the smallest varsity end in USC history.

Upon completion of his studies at USC, Dr. Gordon enrolled in Howard Medical School. He received his M.D. in 1927 and served his internship at Freedman Hospital in Washington, D. C.

He practiced medicine in Patterson, N. J. until 1938 when he came to Los Angeles to take over the practice of his brother, the late Dr. Frank Gordon.

He served as an examining

'Spoon' to File for $100,000 Damages

Jimmy Witherspoon, blues singer who "spooned" his way from coast to coast, magnet who sits on top of the nation's night club satellites, early Wednesday morning was handcuffed, dragged, kicked and beaten by Los Angeles police, he told the Eagle.

Witherspoon, through his lawyer, Atty. James N. Reese, will fight the arrest charge before a jury, and then file a $100,000 damage suit against the two arresting officers.

According to police records, the arresting officers were Wesley Crawford and Jack Ruggles.

The "Spoon," disc famous in a million homes, told his story to the Eagle immediately upon his release on bail.

Limping as he walked from a painful and stiff knee, wrist bandaged to cover flesh wounds and swelling, a cut on his lip, Witherspoon pointed to his dirt-streaked collar, his soiled shirt. "The dirt," he said, "is from the officer's boot when he kicked me in the neck, in the stomach."

The singing idol was arrested outside his home at 915 E. 83rd street, about 3:30 a.m. Wednesday, charged with drunk driving, taken to 77th street police station and kept the rest of the night.

"Give me a sobriety test," he told arresting officers, but was denied a test, he asserted. At the station again, in the presence of the lieutenant he asked for a sobriety test. Witherspoon told the Eagle that when he made his request, the lieutenant in charge just laughed, refused to see if he was drunk or sober.

Witherspoon admitted he was speeding as he came down Central avenue from Watts after taking one of the musicians home from the Club Alabam, where he is the current hit. Police followed, him to his home, nabbed him there.

The "Spoon" said arresting officers questioned him about the Cadillac he was driving, seemed to doubt it was his. He said when they refused to give him a drunk test, they handcuffed him, his hands behind his back, jerked

Push Fight to Save City Housing Plan

Plans for an all-out campaign to save the city's 10,000 unit low cost housing program were laid by community leaders this week as the Board of Supervisors ordered the controversial issue put on the June 3 ballot. Approximately three thousand units would be located in the South Los Angeles and Central Avenue areas.

"No group in the city has a larger stake in seeing to it that the public housing program is completed than the Negroes of Los Angeles," Wesley Brazier, Urban League secretary told the EAGLE. "The Housing Authority's non-discrimination, non-segregation policy means that the many thousands of Negro workers in low-income brackets will get their fair share of the houses they need so badly." Brazier's sentiments were echoed by Dr. E. I. Robinson, president of the local branch of the NAACP who pointed out the private developers insist on racial segregation and have failed to meet housing needs of Negroes and other minority groups.

Specifically the voters will be asked whether or not they approve building "a low rent housing project, consisting of approximately 10,000 dwelling units selected by the Housing Authority of the City of Los Angeles?" Among the projects planned for the Watts area are: Imperial & Compton, 1100 units; Imperial Courts, 498 units; Jordan Downs, 699 units. Approximately 270 units would be added to Pueblo Del Rio at 55th and Long Beach streets.

City Council approved the 10,000 unit program in 1949 but voted to drop it in December by an eight to seven vote after a long and bitter fight. Pending in California Supreme Court is a suit by the Housing Authority to compel the city to honor its 1949 contract. If that suit is decided favorably to the Authority the June 3 vote will have no effect, the city attorney ruled.

Top Negro Golfers Organize Jim Crow Auxilliary to PGA

By WENDELL GREEN

Stung into action by the storm of protest, ridicule, and abuse heaped on the Professional Golfers' Association by sports writers and commentators all over the nation when the PGA granted amateur Joe Louis permission to play in the San Diego Open and denied the same privilege to professional Bill Spiller, Horton Smith, president of the PGA, slightly parted the PGA's "white curtain" to allow several Negro golfers an opportunity to sneak into the $10,000 Phoenix Open this weekend.

Wiley Horton Smith, fighting a strong rearguard action like a seasoned campaigner against full integration of Negro golfers into the money end of the sport, reached back into antiquity for the hoary device of a Jim Crow auxiliary, and Joe Louis, Leonard Reed, Bill Spiller, and Eural Clark went for it hook, slice, and divot.

Roadblock

Realizing that under the tremendous pressure of public opinion something had to give, Smith, with an acute awareness of tried and true roadblocks to a complete victory, decided to yield a little, give a little, and direct the attack of the Negro golfers desiring to play for pay, against someone else.

In a meeting with Louis and Reed, Smith agreed to waive the "white only" clause of the PGA in PGA-sponsored tournaments, if the co-sponsoring club invited Negro golfers to participate. To completely spike the guns of the opposition, the PGA set up a "special screening committee" to function as a Jim Crow auxil-

Eastern Frat Defies Rules; Initiates Negro as Member

MIDDLETOWN, Conn.—Wesleyan University's Delta Upsilon fraternity Saturday risked possible expulsion from its national organization Saturday night by initiating a Negro student as a full-fledged member.

Edgar F. Beckham, 18 years old, former "boy Governor" of Connecticut and mayor pro tem of Hartford's junior City Council, was among seven pledges taken into full membership in the chapter.

The action, a chapter official said, defied a national rule that allows any alumni member to bar a prospective candidate. An alumnus did vote against the candidate.

"We're going on our own house policy," said Joseph M. Proud of Williamstown, Mass., who is chapter president. "That is to initiate on the basis of character and personality alone."

Young Beckham, holder of two major scholarship awards, was a high school honor student and elected "boy Governor" of Connecticut at the 'American Legion Boys' State in 1950.

that he had sent his regrets; that the chief of police had been asked to attend, and that he had sent his regrets; that the sheriff had also been asked and that he likewise had sent his regrets.

Only member of the Board of Supervisors to respond to the invitation was Supervisor Leonard Roach, who was given a place of honor on the platform, as was also Josephine Baker.

Spoke Eloquently

Representatives of various unions and of the City Housing Authority were also present.

Williams, who knows the situation in Florida from the intensive investigation he conducted there during his handling of the Groveland rape case, made his audience feel and understand the terror that grips Negroes in that section of the country.

"We have given of our bodies and minds to build a great nation," he said eloquently, and then, after recounting the facts as he had found them, the breakdown of law, the killing of defenseless Negroes, he added:

Deaths Ignored

"Their deaths meant nothing except to you and me. McCall is still sheriff of Lake County."

McCall is the sheriff who last Nov. 6 shot and killed Samuel Shepherd and shot and thought he killed Walter Lee Irvin, two of the handcuffed Groveland rape case prisoners he was escorting to the new trial ordered by the United States Supreme Court.

McCall is the same sheriff who tortured Shepherd and Irving when they were first arrested in 1949. After the killing he was exonerated by a coroner's jury. He was not even relieved of office during the "investigation" that was held.

Graphically, simply and sympathetically, Williams told of the cruelty, the flesh-searing floggings used in an attempt to wring confessions from the four Negro youths to a crime of rape they had never committed.

Special Venom

He told of the special venom reserved for young Samuel Shepherd, who had returned to Florida after spending over three years serving in the Armed Forces of his country in the Far East in World War II. Shepherd's father was considered "uppity" by the local "leaders," for he had committed the unforgiveable sin of wresting a modest living from the soil by his own efforts and had succeeded in building for his family a small, neat home, a refuge against insecurity.

That home was burned to the ground by the night-riders who had a free hand in their bloodthirsty destruction while the State Guards looked the other way, after the false cry of "rape" had inflamed the countryside.

These and oher facts in the Groveland case were brought out by Williams, who won a reversal from the United States Supreme Court for Samuel Shepherd and Walter Lee Irvin of the death sentences handed out to them by the local court.

Orgy of Murders

The killing of Shepherd on Nov. 6, 1951, by Sheriff Willis McCall was the first of the murders in the present orgy that has alarmed the nation.

Moore, Williams pointed out, had protested the killing of Shepherd and had accused Gov. Fuller Warren of partial responsibility. Moore's death silenced forever his protests and his accusations.

men and even the law enforcement officers of Florida.

John Dial, of the CIO council, told Monday's meeting that at least 10 of the unions belonging to the council have passed resolutions calling upon the CIO to take the lead in calling for a demonstration.

The CIO, however, instead of sponsoring a meeting in its own name, decided to support whatever action was undertaken by the NAACP.

Many Sponsors

Jewish groups have also been seeking an outlet for their repugnance to the events in Florida.

Last Sunday morning's NAACP meeting at the Second Baptist church, which was filled to capacity, was a further indication of the deep urge in the Negro community for additional expression of the resentment that engulfs the city.

In addition to the AFL and the CIO, groups represented at Monday's meeting, all of whom pledged full support in co-sponsoring the Feb. 21 demonstration, are: American Council on Human Relations, Jewish Labor Unions, Urban League, United Automobile Workers, Building Service Union, Anti-Defamation League of the B'nai B'rith, County Conference on Community Relations, American Jewish Committee and the Baptist Ministers Union.

To Circulate Petitions

The NAACP will contact other organizations which were not able to send representatives with the expectation that they likewise will sponsor the affair.

Plans for the meeting were outlined by Franklin H. Williams, West Coast regional director. In addition to the meeting itself, arrangements were made to circulate petitions with a view to collecting 20,000 signatures or more to be turned over to Walter White during his visit here so that he in turn can present them to Mr. Truman to let the President see for himself the extent of the protest movement in the Los Angeles area.

groes live in all projects which it operates. Roughly 20 per cent of its present tenants are Negroes.

Opposition to the public housing program in the Council was led by the Los Angeles Realty Board and the Chamber of Commerce and the program was defeated when Councilamn Harold Harby switched his vote after years of support for public housing.

Insiders claim that a part of the opposition to the program stems from the fact that residents in the Rose Hills and West Los Angeles areas opposed those developments because they knew Negroes and members of other minority groups would be permitted to occupy units in them.

Doyle Seeking Congress Seat In 23rd District

Asserting that "Congressional Reapportionment by the State Legislature has made this earlier action advisable so that the public may be informed and the normal official functions of the political parties expedited," Clyde Doyle this week announced his candidacy for Congress from the 23rd district.

"My district, as now constituted, has 568,113 residents. Under the 1951 Reapportionment Act, the Legislature divided this huge population so as to give this general area two Congressmen," he pointed out.

"The area I choose to represent in my fourth term in the National Capital is composed of the 55th, 52nd and the 69th Assembly Districts. The great majority of the people of this district, recently designated as the 23rd, have already given me substantial majorities in four elections," Mr. Doyle said.

NAACP Seeking 300,000 Members

NEW YORK—With the tide of resentment against the upsurge of racial violence during the past year rising steadily, the NAACP this week announced its plans for a nationwide campaign with a goal of 300,000 new members for 1952.

Watts Health Center Meets New Delay

Residents of the Willowbrook area expressed disappointment that the Board of Supervisors by a majority vote of three to two postponed entering into a contract for the building of a Health Center just south of El Segundo on Central Avenue.

Action was delayed another two weeks on motion of Supervisor Leonard Roach, who was supported by Supervisors Legg and Jessup. Supervisors Raymond V. Darby and John Anson Ford were willing and anxious to proceed immediately.

Darby's reason for immediate action was based on the fact that the option for the purchase of the lot on which the building is ot be erected—and which will cost $4500—will expire Thursday night.

The subject matter before the Board was the transference of the option to Charles J. Condon, who, in turn, would exercise the County's option and build thereon a building to cost $26,500. This would be leased by the County for a period of ten years at $v00 per month.

Many local agencies and organizations had worked diligently to bring a contractor as well as a proposed site to nte County of Los Angeles. Dr. Roy Gilbert, County Health Officer, had recommended the location as had the Chief Administrative Officer, Arthur J. Will.

It is hoped that this delay will not mean the doom of the Health Center but that plans be carried forward within the next few weeks so that it may be put into operation by midsummer.

South Changing, Patterson Says

TUSKEGEE INSTITUTE, Ala.—"The South is in the process of change from an economy of scarcity and exploitation to a period that represents an economy of expansion and individual human development," the President of Tuskegee Institute told more than five hundred members of the Career Conference at their closing meeting here Friday afternoon.

"One of the manifestations under this change," Dr. F. D. Patterson said, "is the tremendous and continuing increase in the extension of educational opportunity to all of the South's citizens. And it follows that as the South extends the opportunity for education it must extend the opportunity for employment both vertically and horizontally."

The Conference jointly sponsored by the Institute and the National Urban Leauge, brought 37 consultants from business, industry, government and labor, to the campus to discuss with students and faculty the present occupational outlook, and the manpower needs of the nation.

Terror on Increase As Protests Mount

Bombings, threats, and the brazen challenge of hooded Klansmen continued unabated in the South this past week, even as NAACP representatives from the southern states met in the heart of the lawless empire of Florida.

But while the acts of intimidation went unchecked, the cry of protest spread to ever wider circles.

In Jacksonville, Fla., more than 200 Negroes gathered for an emergency NAACP session to consider what can be done to stem the spreading violence.

At the meeting the NAACP awarded Harry T. Moore, murdered in Mims, Fla., Christmas night, its Jefferson Award posthumously for his "furtherance of the principles of democracy."

Klansmen Prance

In nearby Tallahassee, members of the Ku Klux Klan were prancing around in their sheets and pillow cases, holding a full-dress cross-burning ceremony under the leadership of state leader Bill Hendrix. Hendrix said it was just accidental that the Klan demonstration coincided with the NAACP meeting. The Klan had made its plans in advance, he said.

In Milledgeville, Ga., teenagers followed the example of their elders, garbed themselves in KKK regalia, armed themselves with pistols and shotguns, broke into taverns, waylaid Negro girls. They forced their way into one night spot, lined all Negro patrons against the wall, then shot out the lights. Six of the young hoodlums were arrested, but were later released.

In Oxford, N. C., "unknown" persons dynamited the new home of a well-to-do 55-year-old farmer, Sanford Holding. The sheriff didn't discover who planted the dynamite. No one was hurt. Holding, father of 11 children and the owner of 300 acres of land, said it was lucky for the dynamiters he was not in the house at the time, or they would have been found dead the next morning.

Many Incidents

In Dallas, Tex., an explosion sent tremors through a wide section of the city when a bomb was exploded in a vacant store next to a Negro night club. Police found no suspects or witnesses.

In Pine Bluff, Ark., Negro attorney Harold Flowers received a letter signed "KKK" telling him to get out of the state or face the consequences. He had fought segregation in the city's public schools.

Many other incidents were reported from various parts of the South, from South Carolina to Texas.

Protest Meetings

Meanwhile, however, protest meetings were held in hundreds of cities. In Los Angeles, 2,000 people met at the Second Baptist Church. A huge rally, sponsored by labor, Negro, and Jewish organizations, has been scheduled for Feb. 21.

Likewise, the Los Angeles Democratic County Central Committee unanimously passed a resolution directed to President Truman, Atty. Gen. Howard McGrath, and Gov. Fuller Warren of Florida, stating:

"Every demand must be made to secure Federal protection for the Negro people in Florida in view of the complete breakdown, inability, and unwillingness of all such local agencies to give this protection."

At Trenton, N. J., the House of Assembly passed a resolution memorializing the President of the United States and the attorney general to adopt measures directed against mob violence, destruction of life and property in the State of Florida.

Food Instruction Class Open At Trade-Tech J.C.

"A ready employment field is available for trained people in the food trades," announced Roy A. Fields, food department coordinator at the Los Angeles Trade-Technical Junior College, 1646 South Olive Street.

"With good wages available," Fields explained, "graduates are being placed daily in excellent jobs."

The course of study as arranged by Trade-Tech calls for one year of periodic study in cooking, pantry, pastry, and coffee shop work. If the student desires to continue for one additional year he may specialize in any field.

Graduates enter the food field as advance apprentices and cooks' helpers, and frequently start their own business.

Study is also offered in household service by the food department. This work prepares people to become butlers, maids, cooks, and household workers.

Those interested in entering this well-paid field should apply at the school's registration office.

GOP Assembly Asks Integration In Government

Efforts of reactionary Republicans to block an endorsement of Governor Earl Warren for president because he "had favored FEPC" were blocked in the California Republican Assembly at its state convention last week by Leon Giles, assembly delegate from the 62nd district.

"I don't agree with the governor in every instance," Giles told the delegates, "but he has the endorsement of the people who have regularly elected him and I had rather trust the judgement of the people than of a minority no matter how influential."

Giles was a member of the powerful fact-finding committee of the Assembly and was influential in getting it to take a stand for complete integration of minority groups in the political and economic life of the state.

Private Colleges In South Open Doors to Negro

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—"Concern," youth publication of the Methodist Church, reveals in its current issue that many private colleges in the South are voluntarily opening their doors to Negro students.

The publication points out that this is being done quietly, in contrast to wide publicity given the action that has forced the opening of state controlled institutions to members of the colored race.

"Many of the colleges," states "Concern," "still restrict Negroes to study on the graduate level, but others admit them freely to all departments. The policy on use of dormitory facilities varies. Methodist schools are among those that have made changes in policy."

Following is a list of a few private institutions which were formerly open only to white students:

The Catholic University of America, Washington, D. C.

Dunbarton College of Holy Cross, Washington, D. C.

American University, Washington, D. C.

Saint Louis University, Saint Louis, Mo.

Loyola University, New Orleans.

Local Scribe Has Series in Mirror

Libby Clark, nationally known newspaperwoman, is the author of a series of articles about American Negroes living abroad currently appearing in the Los Angeles Mirror.

The three articles are a summary of the reporters' observations during a recent European tour which she made as press observer with a sightseeing group from the University of Southern California.

LIBBY CLARK

Considered one of the country's most versatile newspaperwomen, Miss Clark attended Columbia University and was on the staff of the Chester Times, leading white daily in Chester, Pa., before taking up residence in Los Angeles.

Although she has made it a policy never to affiliate herself officially with an organization, the young writer has rendered invaluable service on special press and public relations projects for the NAACP, YWCA, YMCA, Community Chest, March of Dimes, Braille Institute and numerous charity and social clubs.

Miss Clark is feature writer and social editor for a national local weekly.

Baby Drinks Liniment From Patent Bottle

One gulp of liniment from a patent medicine bottle was enough to send 3-year-old Chris Jones to Georgia Street Receiving hospital by way of ambulance last Saturday. Chris, who was playing in his home, 1368 E. 43rd street, found the bottle while at play.

After the burning swallow, Chris painfully complained to his mother who called the ambulance. Following medical treatment, Chris was sent home with the warning that not everything in bottles is good to drink.

LOS ANGELES CITY-OWNED DEPARTMENT
WATER AND POWER

YEAR OF Progress

A REPORT TO OUR CITIZEN-OWNERS AND CUSTOMERS

Water and power demands during the fiscal year 1950-51 have increased even more rapidly than the great growth of Los Angeles. Last year the people of Los Angeles consumed 356 million gallons of water per day, and used a total of 3,875 million kilowatt hours of electricity. Your Department of Water and Power met all needs for these services by carrying out one of the largest expansion programs ever required of a municipal utility. Almost $12,000,000 in water works and more than $34,000,000 in power facilities were added to the municipal systems during the past year.

All the water and electricity you need. As a customer of the Department of Water and Power, you are assured of all the dependable, low-cost water and electricity you need, because the Department's long range planning and construction of water and power facilities has consistently kept ahead of the city's growing demands.

A going business, city-owned. Your city-owned and operated utility business last year met all its expenses, financed its tremendous program of construction, and paid all its debts as they fell due. The Power System's total income was $57,571,000. After meeting operating expenses, interest and depreciation, there was $15,400,000 available to retire power revenue bonds, pay part of the cost of the power construction program, and provide $2,659,000 for the general city treasury of Los Angeles. The Water System's total income was $19,490,000. After meeting operating expenses, interest and depreciation, there was $3,145,000 available to retire water revenue bonds, pay part of the cost of the water works construction program, and provide $913,000 for the general city treasury.

Expansion financed by earnings. To help finance the great construction program of water and power facilities for Los Angeles, additional funds were borrowed by issuing $10,000,000 in power revenue bonds and $10,000,000 in water revenue bonds last year. These bonds will be paid off entirely out of the Department's earnings.

Rates remained among the nation's lowest. Los Angeles' exceptionally low water and electric rates continued among the few cost-of-living items that have not gone up. These rates are, in fact, still at pre-war levels or less.

Palm Springs Acts In Housing Crisis

PALM SPRINGS—The critical Negro housing situation here seemed to be heading for an amicable solution this week as a result of action taken by the City Council, following the presentation of a resolution jointly by the Palm Springs Employers Association and the local branch of the NAACP.

The City Council appointed a committee of six, including James F. Reddick, landscape gardening contractor and member of the Palm Springs NAACP executive committee. The six are charged with the responsibility of investigating the sub-standard houses and recommending a solution.

The joint resolution presented to the council Jan. 9 recommended the development of a privately financed housing project for workers in Palm Springs, which would be open for occupancy by all workers without restrictions as to race and color.

Suit May Be Dropped

As a result of this favorable turn in the situation, James H. Anderson, executive secretary of the Southern California Area council, stated this week that it appeared likely that a law suit now pending may be withdrawn.

In the suit filed in Riverside County Superior Court, 13 residents of Palm Springs charged that they are barred from living in the existing housing developments solely because of race. That suit is scheduled to be heard January 25.

The local community, through the NAACP, collected a fund of $500 to appeal to the Secretary of the Interior Oscar Chapman, if necessary, in an attempt to obtain a lease on Indian land for the erection of a non-segregated housing project.

Selected by the City Council for the special committee to study the housing situation were, in addition to Reddick, David M. Benjamin, Russell E. Denney, Clinton E. Fox, Ray E. Hiller and William H. Smith.

Wave of Robberies Hits Eastside

By EDDIE LEE KING

A series of robberies and burglaries stalked the city this week with victims ranging from street car operators to liquor stores.

The Saru Liquor Store of 12739 South Central avenue topped the list with a loss of $5016.01, and a 1940 Ford Coupe.

Lyman Wilton Larson, 36, 12195 Doty, Hawthorne, L. A. Transit Lines street car operator was taken for $62.50 at 116th street and Vermont avenue. A clean get-away was made by the bandits.

Patsey's Liquor Store at 7932 South Central avenue was robbed of $62.00. The robber escaped.

Robert Fountain, 36, of 4627 North Maine avenue, Baldwin Park was lifted of $16.00 with the culprits leaving the scene without a trace.

The Helms Bakery is still on the losing end of a robbery of one of its drivers for $90.25.

Robert Lee Wilson, 25, 247 East 31st street and Robert Lee Fox, 34, 225 East 32nd street were arrested for robbery and a possible murder; however the police have not been able to find a body. Wilson and Fox had a cleaver type knife with blood stains on it in their possession when arrested, at 55th and Central.

Edward Birdett King, 49, 802 East 136th street was arrested at 124th street and Wilmington for robbery and drunkeness and had two sets of identifications on him. The police said that he was in a very intoxicated condition when stopped for questioning.

Miller's Grocery of 1755 East 92nd street was lucky when Harvey Burns of 1662 East 82nd place blew the whistle on a would be "strong arm" robber. The police came and Charles Miller, owner of the store, reported no loss.

BURGLARIES

Cralego Drugs of 1422 East Florence avenue was burglaried and $26.35 in cash was taken.

James Tillman Heckard, 29, 9910 Graham avenue and Daniel Mass were arrested for burglaring and taken cast iron soil pipe valued at $311.70.

Curtis S. Williams, 59, 1647½ East 118th store would like to know who illegally entered his garage at 11801 South Wilmington avenue, Willowbrook, and made-way with his upper cabinet snap-on tool chest and tools, truck radiator core and batteries valued at $363.00. Yep! the police stated that it was burglary.

William Heyden Easton and Phoebe Jane Easton were glad to get their $2000.00 1950 Chevrolet sedan back after the crook had helped himself to several items in the icebox, consumed half of a bottle of port wine, and apparently spent some time at their house and made-off with their car. It was found at 47th and Central. The police state that this has been worked on other people and they wil not rest until the criminal is behind bars.

APPLICATIONS ACCEPTED FOR POSTAGE STAMP DISPENSER JOB

For some industrious, ambitious person with a record of reliability, there is in the offing a rare opportunity to take part in a great public service and, at the same time, realize a substantial income for years to come. The deal is the job of owning and operating a route of U. S. Postage Stamp Dispensing machines in the Los Angeles area and vicinity. Applications for the position are now being accepted at the EAGLE office, Box 54. Men or women are acceptable for the job.

The task of operating a route of U. S. Postage Stamp Dispensers is not a "get-rich-quick" proposition. But it is not a strenuous one, either. The average route can be covered in from four to six hours a week at the start and may be built up to where it will pay as much as $5,000 a year.

An applicant for the job needs not to worry about his physical condition or educational background. Neither is of any importance in selections for the job. An applicant must, however, put up a cash investment of $990, once selected.

In applying for the job through the EAGLE, any interested person is requested to give his age, address and phone number. All applicants with a sincere desire to take on the task will be interviewed by a district representative of the dispensing machine company. Representatives of the company also will assist and make all the arangements necessary to get a person started right on a route. The company is interested in interviewing only people who are able to make a final decision; the "shopper" or "think it over" type is requested not to apply.

Applicants are warned to apply early as the company is planning to close the Los Angeles area very shortly.

New Challenge Hits Jim Crow Schools

SUMTER, S.C. — The fight against the inequalities inherent in a segregated school system moved another step forward in South Carolina this week, as attorneys representing the parents of more than fifty students of the Jim Crow Lincoln Elementary and High School, filed a petition here with city and county officials, charging discrimination against Negro school children.

Noting that the school has insufficient classroom space and that children are forced to attend school in four shifts, from 8 a.m. until 6:00 p.m., the petition charges that these hours "force them to have to go through the streets of the city after dark."

30 Howard Students Listed In Who's Who

Nineteen men and eleven women students at Howard University will be listed in the 1952 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges," it was revealed today by Howard University officials.

From the standpoint of scholarship, student leadership, and participation in extra-curricular activities, the young men and women selected for this honor are the most outstanding students at the university.

case where a woman was tried for murder, piled up the evidence in Mrs. Willard's favor to snatch victory for seemingiy certain defeat.

The prosecution relied on the fact that Johnson was unarmed and they had two witnesses to the killing, and the confession of Mrs. Willard that she fired the fatal shot.

The sharp, probing cross-examination of the defense counsel produced so many discrepancies in their version of what happened, that even the presecution admitted that some of their testimony was inaccurate.

Acted From Terror

Mrs. Willard testified that she loved Johnson dearly, and did not intend to shoot him, much less kill him. She had locked herself in her bedroom to avoid further argument with him. When a friend that was visiting them, Goldie Frere, 1679½ E. 109th street, called to her that she was leaving, she unlocked the door to bid her goodnight. As she opened the door, Johnson swept her aside and rushed into the bedroom.

Mrs. Willard further testified that in terror she ran to the bed and pulled the revolver out from under the mattress, warning him not to come closer. As he advanced with clenched fist, the gun went off and he fell to the floor.

Witnesses testified that when the shot rang out Mrs. Willard cried "Call the police and an ambulance, I think I've killed him.

Attorney Broady, in a forceful argument to the jury, pointed out that the law does not require one to wait and to be killed or suffer great bodily injury before defending onself, but that the person so defending himself need only act as a reasonable person would in view of the circumstances.

When the jury returned to the courtroom of Superior Judge Nye's court with a not guilty verdict, a murmur of approval rose from the many spectators who followed the dramatic trial.

New Storm Drains For Central Avenue

In a resolution in the City Council, storm drains were asked for on Central Avenue, Avalon and San Pedro Streets, south of Manchester by Councilman Kenneth Hahn.

This week on an inspection trip through the district, Councilman Hahn, L. O. Turner, Engineer in charge of the Storm Drain Division, and H. W. Fraim, Assistant Engineer in charge of the Storm Drain Division, with Wm. A. Gallagher, civic leader, inspected the streets in the south side. It was found that storm drains were needed on Manchester and Central, Avalon and San Pedro Streets and Clovis and Century.

METROPOLITAN WON'T EVICT TENANTS WHO FOUGHT BIAS

NEW YORK—Metropolitan Insurance Company Monday decided to drop attempts to evict 19 tenants of its Stuyvesant Town housing project after a conference with Rudolph Halley, president of the City Council. Civic groups charged that the evictions had been pressed because the 19 were leaders in a fight against the company's policy of refusing to rent to Negroes.

As part of the settlement, Mr. and Mrs. Hardine Hendrix and their son, Negroes, who have been living since September, 1949, as "guests" in an apartment leased to Dr. Lee Lorch, will become regular tenants in another apartment. The Lorch apartment will be vacated. Dr. Lorch is at present teaching at Fiske University in Nashville, Tenn. The assignment of another apartment to the Hendrix family was at Mr. Halley's suggestion.

Racial Bias Charged

Efforts by the company to evict the Hendrix family made it the target of charges of racial discrimination. Later it was charged that eviction notices handed to sixty-nine tenants whose leases had expired were given to thirty-nine of them because of their activity in the anti-racial-discrimination campaign. All but nineteen of the original sixty-nine tenants served with eviction notices moved voluntarily.

Those with whom Halley conferred in reaching a settlement of the dispute were Churchill Riggers, general counsel for the company; Irving L. Kalish, also representing the company; and Paul L. Ross, chairman of the tenants' committee.

Paul Ross, who was for several years an aide to former Mayor O'Dwyer, declared that the agreement to drop eviction proceedings against the nineteen tenants was a vindication of the committee's activities.

Metropolitan carried its fight for the right to refuse to rent to Negroes to the United States Supreme Court which declined to upset a New York decision to the effect that company had the right to discriminate if it chose to do so.

Civil Rights Confab Hits Senate Rules

WASHINGTON—Delegates from 50 national organizations will be in attendance at the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights here February 17-18, according to the Steering Committee, which met at the Washington Bureau office of the NAACP.

The Conference, spearheaded by the NAACP, will seek a change in the Senate fillbuster rule to permit cloture by a majority vote, and will ask for action on civil rights legislation.

The opening public meeting of the Conference will be held Sunday, Feb. 17. State delegations will confer with Congressmen and Senators on February 18.

Pioneer City Employe Dies

Funeral rites according to the Baptist communion were held here Wednesday morning over the remains of the late Johnie J. Robinson. The deceased, a native of La Grange, Texas, died Saturday, January 19th. He resided with his widow, Mrs. Geneva Robinson at 4501 Staunton Avenue.

Mr. Robinson had been an employe of the city Recreational and Park Department for more than 20 years. Besides his widow, he leaves a stepson, Frederick Thompson and family of 640 Hatchway street, Compton. The latter is a postal employe and member of the Jeep Smith orchestra.

Following the funeral services, the body was interred in Evergreen cemetery. The body was prepared for burial by the Smith and Williams Mortuary company. The sermon was preached by the Rev. F. W. Ferrell, pastor of the Tabernacle Faith Baptist Church.

Tiny Baby Girl Burned to Death

Little Consuelo Broadnax, four, 2126½ West Jefferson Blvd. died in General Hospital Saturday from second and third degree burns received that morning while she was standing by an open gas heater.

Mrs. Fannie Broadnax stated that her daughter was standing near the open heater when her clothing caught fire.

Consuelo was taken to Georgia Street Receiving Hospital and treated for burns of the chest, abdomen and extremities. Later she was transfered to General Hospital where she died at 11:45 a.m.

Funeral services were conducted by Roberts Mortuary Monday afternoon.

Family Care Homes Sought

Additional Family Care boarding homes throughout the state, including the Los Angeles County area, are needed by the State of California, Department of Mental Hygiene. The Department has, for 14 years successfully operated a Family Care program for patients who are well enough to leave the various state hospitals for the Mentally ill and Mentally deficient.

Through this program these patients can complete their recovery in a home-like atmosphere. At the present time there are many patients in the hospitals who could leave the institution if more family care homes were available. Many of them do not have families to whom they may go.

Information regarding the Family Care program and the approval of a home for use may be secured from Mrs. Katherine Leach, State Department of Mental Hygiene, 315 So. Broadway, MAdison 6-1515, Extension 861.

Negroes Ask Right To Use City Pools

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—The issue of the Negro's right to unrestricted use of publicly-owned swimming pools in this city has been placed before the United States District Court here in a case argued on behalf of Mrs. Esther Williams, Miss Lena P. Smith and Joseph N. Moore, prominent Negroes of Kansas City.

Judge Albert L. Ridge, before whom the case was tried on Jan. 15, reserved decision pending the filing of briefs by both sides. Representing the complainants in the case were NAACP attorneys Carl R. Johnson and Almer T. Adair of Kansas City and Thurgood Marshall, special counsel, and Robert L. Carter, assistant special counsel, of the national office legal staff. An attempt to bar Marshall from participation in this case was ruled out last summer by Judge Ridge.

The City of Kansas City and its Board of Park Commissioners maintained they had a right to segregate the races under the "separate but equal" doctrine.

A TALK AT NIGHT

One night a rich man came to talk to Jesus. His name was Nicodemus. "What is the kingdom of Heaven, and where does it come from?" he asked.

"The kingdom of Heaven comes just like the wind: no one knows where it comes from, but you know it is there, because you can feel it," answered Jesus.

Nicodemus thought this was very strange; he could not understand it at all. "How can that be?" he asked.

"You are a teacher, and yet you cannot understand?" asked Jesus in surprise.

He told Nicodemus that he would have to be made all over new, to belong to the kingdom of Heaven. He told him about the serpent Moses made, which cured the people who had been bitten by snakes. He said He could cure people's sins, just as the brass serpent had cured those people long ago. Nicodemus never forgot what Jesus said.

Church Federation Acts as Agency for Common Expression of Real Fellowship

By MIRIAM CHRISTIAN
Church Editor

An important agency of all Protestant churches in the community for the common expression of real fellowship among Christians is the Church Federation of Los Angeles, an extremely effective organization with a practical religious program that embraces all races.

The one major goal in the Federation's plan of things is aimed at bringing about a United Protestantism. But the accomplishment of that alone requires the full operation of several departments. There are no less than nine different departments functioning regularly under the Federation: Evangelism, Christian Education, Planning and Survey, Welfare, Radio and Television, Music, Institutional Ministry, Social Education and Action and Ecumenical Relations (the associations of local churches to national and world Protestant cooperation).

Leads Observances

The department of Evangelism is principally concerned with leading the community in the observance of special days and occasions such as Holy Week, Good Friday, Worldwide Communion Sunday and Thanksgiving. It also operates to lead churches in setting up community fellowship missions, preaching missions and visitation campaigns.

Perhaps the most important departmental function is that of Christian education which serves through 7 active committees. The department provides a clearing house for all Leadership Training Schools and furnishes leadership for them. The youth activities, audio-visuals and workshops for Sunday School workers and other field contacts center here.

Besides, the department is charged with the direction and supervision of the Weekday (Released Time) program for the public schools and conducts three annual in-training institutes. The curriculum, "Our Bible and Our Lives," which is used widely in the state and six other states, is prepared by the department. This year some 7,128 pupils are being taught under the system at the cost of $5 per pupil per year.

Conducts Schools

The Christian Education department sponsors and conducts Vacation Christian Education Institutes and Laboratory Schools where last year more than 2000 adult workers were registered. It also prepares a yearly Vacation Church School manual.

Total staff of the Christian Education department consists of two secretaries, a part-time field worker for youths, six supervisors, 26 weekday teachers and the director.

REV. FORREST C. WEIR

Of increasing importance to the community is the work of the Welfare department. It affiliates 34 Protestant health and welfare agencies to carry on a program of direct welfare services. Primarily the department serves ministers through the Information and Referral Division. When a minister searches for community resources to supplement his own contribution to the welfare of the many people who turn to him for comfort, the Division interprets and helps to see that the troubled individual needed help.

Counseling

A total of 2,792 such requests were handled by that Division in 1950. The Case Work Division, a counseling service for Protestant boys and girls, 12 to 19 years, gave case work service to 488 individuals and interpreted case work to 21 church groups. The Group Work Division provides a consultation and leadership training service for churches in the development of group work and recreational programs. In a year it serves 130 groups with a total attendance of more than 125,000.

The Federation is active in many ways to offer religious service to the public. It provides, through its radio and television department, regular religious news broadcasts over local station KFAC each Monday at 8:30 a.m. and special events for different radio and television programs such as Good Friday and "Messiah" during Lent. In addition, it serves stations as a standardizing agency for Protestant broadcasting, sponsors locally national broadcasts from Protestant Radio Commission and offers institutes for training of religious broadcasters.

Each December, the Federation arranges for neighborhood presentations of the "Messiah." Two years ago, its plan brought together 30 denominations, 275 choirs and 137 soloists with 24,266 people attending the performance of the great musical work.

CHECK-UP—Church Federation of Los Angeles provides medical examinations for children in homes and institutions maintained by the state. Other benefits are provided for the children under the extensive program planned in annual budgets of the Federation.

The Church Federation of Los Angeles is located at 3330 West Adams Blvd. in a spacious home built in 1913 by the late department store founder, John J. Haggarty. The building closely follows on the design of Castle York in Haggarty's boyhood home neighborhood in Ireland. It cost $175,000 and was built by civil engineers rather than by architects.

3000 Churches

Through special donations and the help of others, the estate was purchased for taxes in 1942. It was rehabilitated at a total cost of $25,000, then gifted to the Church Federation. Now the buildings and grounds serve effectively as the focal point for the United Protestantism, representing a dozen denominations and more than 300 Protestant churches of the Los Angeles area.

The Church Federation has as president now Dr. Frank B. Fagerburg, pastor of the First Baptist Church. He is ably assisted by a staff that includes Rev. Forrest C. Weir, Ph.D., who was recently elected as Executive Secretary of the organization.

Pastoral Background

Dr. Weir was formerly the executive secretary of the Southeastern Inter-Council of Churches in Atlanta. Before his call to Atlanta, he had served as pastor for five years of Miami's historic Plymouth Congregational Church which is widely known as the "Church in the Garden."

Bishop Draws Assignment to South America from Council

The Council of Bishops of the AME church, in a special meeting in Cincinnati a few days ago, voted to transfer Bishop R. R. Wright to the 16th Episcopal district of the church which covers the West Indies and South America. The announcement was made through a church report.

The bishops voted at a meeting at the Brown Chapel AME church to transfer Bishop Wright out of the country and to bring Bishop William R. Wilkes to the 12th district which embraces Arkansas and Oklahoma over which Bishop Wright had been presiding.

Bishop John A. Gregg, president of the council, presided over the special session held here. Bishop S. L. Greene of Georgia served as secretary.

The transfer of Bishop Wright is a part of the two-year-old controversy which began when Bishop Wright criticized Dr. W. A. Fountain Jr.'s handling of funds of the Morris Brown college in Atlanta. Dr. Fountain, son of Bishop Fountain, was removed as president of the school and out of the controversy which developed Bishop Wright was transferred to the Arkansas district.

In Little Rock, headquarters of the 12th district, Bishop Wright's troubles did not cease. A group of ministers and presiding elders filed charges against the bishop and the bishop's council ordered him not to preside over his conferences in Oklahoma and Arkansas and sent Bishop Wilkes into the 12th district to hold the conferences. Later the charges were dropped and Bishop Wright resumed his position as presiding bishop of the 12th district.

The latest action in voting to send Bishop Wright to South America was made reportedly "to insure peace and harmony in the AME church."

The AME general conference which meets in Chicago in May of this year is expected to take up the controversy. The bishops' council is scheduled to hold another meeting in Charleston, S.C., February 20-22.

Bishops participating in the Cincinnati meeting were: Bishops W. A. Fountain Sr., R. C. Ransom, R. R. Wright, D. Ward Nichols, Frank M. Reid, A. J. Allen, G. W. Baber, John H. Clayborn, L. H. Hemmingway, D. O. Walker, I. H. Bonner, W. R. Wilkes, and by proxy, Bishops M. H. Davis, Noah W. Williams, Joseph Gomez and C. A. Gibbs.

Nuns Assume Medical Roles

The Medical Mission Sisters, a group of Catholic nuns, gave medical care to 181,536 patients in 11 centers in Asia, Africa and the U.S. during 1950, states a report from the organization's headquarters in Philadelphia. Births in mission hospitals numbered 4,625, operations more than 5,000 (1,227 of them major ones).

This was reported by Mother Anna Dengel, M.D., Superior General of the Society, whose headquarters are here.

Two lay missionary doctors, Dr. Leon and Dr. Madeline Adcock of St. Paul, Minn., joined the staff within the past year, thus making it possible to expand the work. A letter expressing the gratitude of the African chief, the queen mother and the elders of the Ashauti District was received by Mother Dengel shortly after the arrival of the missionary doctors.

Ministry Serves Migrant Workers

Traveling by jeep station wagons with church and recreational equipment, harvesters carried the ministry of 23 Protestant denominations to 120,000 migrant workers last year. The Division of Home Missions of the National Council in a recent report estimates the number of seasonal workers at more than a million.

The migrant ministry covered over 200,000 miles in an attempt to follow the people who follow the crops with the service of the church. In 25 states from Florida to Oregon permanent staff members were assisted by summer workers, including college girls and ministerial students.

A new demonstration school near Utica, N.Y., taught southern migrant children who had fallen behind in their studies because of crowded schools and working in the fields themselves. In the educational program of the Division of Home Missions more than 3,500 migrants, old and young, attended classes.

Laymen of First AME Score Third Triumph

The third annual Laymen's Day Services at First A. M. E. church, Eighth and Towne, held Sunday, was proclaimed by members and friends as an inspirational triumph.

With the entire day under the direction of the laymen of the church, headed by W. Thomas Person, many persons came to the 6:00 a.m. prayer service and stayed until the end of the evening hour which featured the singing of the David Starr Jordan High School Junior A Cappella choir.

During the day the Sunday school was led by guest superintendent William Perry, while at the morning service, the guest speaker was prominent layman Richard R. Wright III. Lay delegates from the Southern California conference to the church's general conference in Chicago next May, assisted in the service.

A service in song was rendered by the popular Simmons-Akers Gospel Singers for the afternoon program. These local radio and recording artists sang songs, many of them original compositions.

A special feature of the day was the free dinner served to all on Laymen's Day. Joseph Ellis, program chairman, in thanking all who participated on the program and in the audiences, pointed out that "the day would serve as a starting place for greater works by lay members of Eighth and Towne for the months ahead."

Louisiana Youth Heads a United Christian Mission

Never in his 19 years had Andrew J. Young, Jr., of New Orleans ever dreamed of himself as a young man with a mission. Yet now he has one. It is a Christian mission in Hartford, Conn.

Andy is one of 32 college-age young people giving six months of volunteer service as a field worker for The Call to United Christian Youth Action, a project planned and promoted by young people. He is the only Negro among the 32 volunteers.

The call is a challenge to the nation's youth to put their Christian beliefs to work through projects of action in their communities. Andy's job is to inspire at least 26,000 young people of Connecticut and Rhode Island to answer The Call by reaffirming their faith in God and the church and then to put this faith to work through actual community service.

Indiana Trained

"Attempt no small task," Andy was told along with other field workers during a 15-day training session last summer at Camp Mack near Milford, Ind.

"In this job," Andy says, "there is no small task."

On a travel, food, and lodging budget, he cuts expenses wherever he can by staying at private homes in the cities where he may be conducting meetings in the morning, early afternoon, late afternoon, and evening. In this way he has met many wonderful new friends.

On one occasion it meant a new enthusiast for The Call—a Connecticut minister who invited Andy and two other field workers in the area to spend Thanksgiving in his home.

The son of a New Orleans dentist, Andy had planned to study medicine after getting his bachelor's degree from Howard university last June. His work with The Call, however, influenced him in favor of the ministry. He is now enrolled as a part time student at Hartford (Conn.) Theological seminary.

Often called a modern missionary, Andy has been cordially received wherever he goes Andy presents The Call whenever he can—before ministerial groups, adult leaders of youth, women's clubs, social and civic groups, church young people's organizations.

Cited by Youth

Supporting The Call are the 38 Protestant denominations represented in the United Christian Youth Movement, youth organization of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A.

Youth directors and ministers of these denominations have termed The Call "realistic, imaginative, heartwarming," and "one of the most practical and inspiring programs ever undertaken by Christian young people."

Miss L. Victoria Lucas of Chicago, who coordinates and directs publicity for The Call, paid this tribute to Andy:

"Christian youth's call to united action has the support of official Protestantism, but full credit for the success of the program must go to the scores of active Christian young people across the nation—young people like Andy Young."

DELEGATES PONDER NEW CHURCH LAWS

At the Ashbury Community Center in Washington, D.C., recently delegates-elect to the forthcoming General and Jurisdictional Conferences of the Methodist Church met to discuss proposals which will come before the conferences on new laws next April. Bishop A. P. Shaw, resident bishop of the Baltimore Area of the denomination, called the meeting.

The Rev. Dr. Leon S. Moore, of Philadelphia, Pa., was elected chairman of the meeting, and the Rev. C. Anderson Davis, of Bluefield, W. Va., secretary. The delegates represented the four conferences in the area, the Delaware, East Tennessee, North Carolina, and Washington Conferences.

The group unanimously voted to support the recent action of the Baltimore Area Council to memorialize the General Conference which is to meet in San Francisco next April to abolish the jurisdictional system in the denomination. The leaders did not request "special consideration" for themselves as Negroes, and therefore did not specify the elimination of the much debated Central (All-Negro) Jurisdiction specifically. They agreed, with the Area Council, that the entire jurisdictional system is "expensive, unnecessary, tending to sectionalize the denomination in five geographical and one racial parts, thus destroying primal Methodist unity."

To Combine

The delegates favored continuance of the Central Christian Advocate as the "voice of Negro Methodism." Recommendation will go to the General Conference for merging of this organ with the Christian Advocate, Chicago, which serves the entire communion. The delegates agreed that a combined organ would hardly give enough space to Negro news, and probably would not be "vigorous" enough in its editorial expression on racial matters.

On suggestion of Dr. Edgar A. Love, New York, the group decided to request two additional Negro bishops and areas to give supervision in the Central Jurisdiction. There are now four Negro Episcopal areas, with headquarters in New Orleans, St. Louis, Baltimore and Atlanta. A fifth bishop serves in Liberia, Africa, and is elected by the Central Jurisdictional Conference.

The delegates made it clear that this request does not give endorsement to the principle of the Central ("racial") Jurisdiction, nor does it indicate "but desire" for its continuance. Pointing out that the jurisdiction could not be abolished within four or possibly eight or more years, since it is a constitutional provision of the church, the request notes the tremendous territory (three-fourths of the country) covered by the jurisdiction, and the impossibility of four bishops to cultivate it.

HUGHES PRESENTS POETRY AT FESTIVAL

A renowned poet, a distinguished young pianist and a promising baritone will join forces to present an all-Negro program of poetry and music for the Annual Folk Festival of the Phillis Wheatley Association at the Metropolitan Theater in Cleveland on Friday, February 8. The poet is Langston Hughes, the pianist Margaret Bonds, the baritone Dan Andrews.

Mr. Hughes will act as narrator and read from his own poems. Miss Bonds wil play her compositions as well as those of Coleridge-Taylor and other colored composers. Mr. Andrews wil sing a group of folk melodies and two groups of songs by contemporary Negro musicians, including the recent Howard Swanson settings of lyrics by Mr. Hughes.

Southeast Health Council Plans First Aid Classes

At a recent meeting of the Southeast District Health Council, the members unanimously agreed that the council's program for 1952 be concerned with an environmental sanitation program and the furthering of civil defense and first aid preparedness in the district. Rev. V. J. Waldron, chairman of the Health Council announced this week.

"A Health department survey revealed that living conditions in certain sections of the area needed much improvement," he said, adding that the council will soon start an intensive educational program to acquaint residents in the community with the Health Department standards in environmental sanitation.

"The southeast community, in spite of overcrowdedness and certain substandard housing conditions, can compare favorably with other districts," Rev. Waldron declared.

Mrs. Estella Blodgett, first aid supervisor for Southeast, announced at the meeting the opening of first aid classes. According to Mrs. Blodgett, at beginners or standard class with start at Brown Temple, 1201 East 43rd street, Monday, January 28, and meet every Monday and Thursday following from 7 to 10 p.m. until 22 hours have been completed. Mrs. Dolores Frazier will be the instructor.

"Those who have finished any standard class may want to enroll in the advanced first aid classes starting Tuesday evening, January 29, at 7 p.m. at the Southeast District Health center, with Carrie Williams, instructor, or at the Avalon Community center, with Mrs. Agnes Wilson, instructor," Mrs. Blodgett said.

"We are making every effort to train thousands of residents in southeast in first said," she continued. "It is our goal some day to have at least one person in every family trained in first aid," Mrs. Blodgett concluded.

First aid training is free and anyone interested may call Mrs. Blodgett at CE. 2-2859, or the Southeast Health center, CE. 2-9081, for further information.

Neighborhood Features Radio Gospel Artist

Frank Cheshire, who was guest soloist last Sunday at Neighborhood church, 47th Place and San Pedro streets, will be featured next Sunday evening at 7:30 when Neighborhood choir presents an evening of music. Cheshire, a worker at the First Presbyterian Church of Hollywood has sung over the Columbia and NBC networks. He will be remembered for his original style in playing and singing the old standard hymns of the church.

Neighborhood church was filled last Sunday morning when Cheshire sang to an overflow gathering as it is expected next Sunday evening when he is presented by the choir.

Rev. Gamaliel Mansfield Collins, minister of music, has arranged several beautiful spiritual numbers to be presented by the choir.

Mrs. Essie Mae Robertson is president of the Senior Choir. Mrs. Juanita L. Blake, organist, and Miss Sarah E. Collins, pianist.

Sermon subject for 11 a.m. next Sunday will be "He Walked on the Water" by Rev. H. Mansfield Collins, pastor.

BISHOP WALKER ATTENDS PENTAGON CONFERENCE

Bishop D. Ormonde Walker, presiding prelate of the Fifth Episcopal district of the African Methodist Episcopal church was among the 88 religious leaders representing all faiths and from all parts of the nation who were invited by Secretary of Defense Robert A. Lovett and attended an orientation conference for religious leaders at the Pentagon in Washington, D.C., Jan. 15th through the 17th. Bishop Walker was housed along with the other churchmen at the Mayflower hotel.

The purpose of the conference was to familiarize church representatives with the status and problems of the military establishment, its purpose, operations, and progress in defense mobilization. Specific religious and moral programs of the military services, Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Air Force were discussed by service officials.

Welcome Address

The series of meetings began at 9 a.m. Tuesday with a welcoming address by Secretary Lovett following which was a review of the current military and political situations throughout the world. At the luncheon meeting Major Andrew L. Johnson of the staff of the Chief of Chaplains, an A.M.E. and former minister of Alliance, Ohio, said a very beautiful grace. Major Johnson has served in World War II in the Far Eastern and Pacific theatres.

One of the outstanding highlights of the meeting was the presenting of the Vice President of the United States as the guest speaker at the dinner, held at the Mayflower, which closed the conference. Vice President Barkley spoke in place of President Truman, who was originally scheduled to close the meetings. Bishop Walker had the pleasure of speaking personally with the V.P. and exchanged a few jovial tidbits with him.

The Bishop learned much of the religious and moral problems of personnel in the armed forces and the existing programs designed to meet these problems. One particularly significant development was pointed out by General Ginsburgh, of the Staff of the Secretary of Defense. The Brigadier General informed the group that as a result of the rewarding experience in the Korean war with the integration of American and Korean soldiers the fighting units have also integrated Negroes with white troops with equal success and this will be the future policy of the armed forces. A situation we long have sought.

Bishop Walker's observations led him to believe "that our country is indeed in safe hands. The men who run our government, both state and foreign, are men of sound judgment and an intense interest in human values."

The greatest fault of a penetrating wit is to go beyond the mark.—Francis Duc De La Rochefoucauld.

Fiesta to Feature Favorite Musicians

In support of the annual Mid-Winter Fiesta of the Ward African Methodist Episcopal Church Senior Choir, the committee sponsoring the event will present some of Los Angeles' favorite musicians in a concert on Sunday evening, January 27. The program will be presented at Ward. Dr. Frederick D. Jordan is minister of the church.

Members of the committee stated that a rare musical treat is in store for the community. Featured on the program will be two of the musicians who contributed largely to the success of Dr. Jordan's worship services during the 12 years of his ministry here in Los Angeles. Dr. George Robert Garner, renowned international tenor and choral director who has recently returned from an extensive tour in the east, has consented to serve as Master of Ceremonies for the Fiesta.

Organ Selections

Dr. Garner was director of the famous senior choir of 8th & Towne during the first years of Dr. Jordan ministry there. Miss Robert V. Edwards who is now organist-director of the famous Senior Choir at 8th & Towne came to the Church as organist i nMay 1942 at the request of Dr. Jordan; subsequently her responsibility was broadened and she became organist-director and has continued in that capacity until the present. Miss Edwards will play a group of organ selections Sunday evening.

Other guests include: Lillian Avery, and Margaret Chapman, sopranos; George Comfort, baritone; Elihu Sloane, tenor, and Mrs. Ann Davis of Colorado Springs, Colorado, contralto. A feature of the program sure to bring much enjoyment will be a trumpet solo by Mr. Wilburt Buchanan.

Mrs. Blanche Woods, organist-director of the Ward Choir, said: "Selections by the choir will include Schubert's Ave Maria, with Mr. and Mrs. Alious Griffin, soloists; Noble Cain's masterpiece, Make a Joyful Sound; and the 150th Psalm by Randegger, with Mrs. Lucille Griffin n the soprano solo." Mrs. Ida Countee, recently elected presdent of the chor sad n speakng of the comng concert that the choir has been strengthened in recent months by a number of splendid aiccesons, and now numbers more than seventy-five voces. "Ths year's Fiesta," sad Mrs. Countee, "is beng presented as a tributie to our director, Mrs. Blanche Woods, and in recognition of the approaching departure of our minster, Dr. Frederick D. Jordan, to the General Conferenc in Chicago where it s the prayer of the Church that he will be elected one of the Bishops.

Stamp to Honor Church Founder

Richard Allen, founder of the AME church, oldest Negro organization in the U. S., was honored in Washington recently with the issuance of a stamp to commemorate his deed.

Designed by the General Conference Commission of the church, the seal heralds the 1952 conference to be held in Chicago, May 7-21.

Allen, a free man of color, founded the AME church in Philadelphia in 1783 after a group of Negro worshipers had been ejected from a white Methodist church where they went to worship. The original church was located at Sixth and Lombard streets in Philadelphia, the site of the present edifice, Mother Bethel AME church.

In honoring Allen with the commemorative seal, known as the "Richard Allen Stamp," Bishop D. Ward Nichols, chairman of the General Conference Commission, stated that the seals would be distributed throughout the entire church connection.

The project will be handled by the commission and the office of Dr. A. S. Jackson, chairman of the finance department of the AME church, Washington, D. C.

Holy Name Union Holds Breakfast

More than 3,000 officials and members of 251 Holy Name parish societies from four Southland counties, Santa Barbara, Ventura, Los Angeles and Orange, representing the 140,000 members of the Holy Name Union of the Catholic Archdiocese of Los Angeles will participate in the 16th annual Holy Name Mass and Communion Breakfast, to be held Sunday, January 27, in St. Vibiana Cathedral and the Biltmore hotel.

Members of the Holy Name Union who are pledged to reverence the name of God, will offer their communions at the mass for the welfare of the boys fighting in Korea.

Archbishop J. Francis A. McIntyre will celebrate the mass at 8:00 a.m. in the cathedral. Breakfast will follow immediately after mass in the Biltmore Bowl, where the Archbishop and Judge Louis H. Burke, recently appointed to the Superior Court, will be the principal speakers. Their theme will be "The Holy Name Man—His Opportunity and His Obligations."

Benno M. Brink, president of the Union, will preside. Others participating in the program, which will be broadcast by KFI at 11:00 a.m. include Rev. Thomas F. McNicholas, archdiocesan director; Rt. Rev. Msgr. Fidencio Esparza, director of the Mexican section; J. Carroll Naish, who will recite the Holy Name Pledge and William F. Maloney, breakfast chairman. The Los Angeles Police Band, directed by J. Edmund Burr will furnish music at the breakfast; and a male choir will assist at the Mass.

Negro Has Unique Job at Large Interracial Church

Rev. Maurice A. Dawkins, as minister of education and administration at the huge nonsectarian Community Church of New York City, is the first Negro to hold such a significant and responsible post in the nation's largest interracial church. He is now in his second anniversary on the job at the church made famous by John Haynes Holmes, minister emeritus.

In a recent interview, Rev. Dawkins explained that his post makes him chief associate to Rev. Donald Harrington, a white cleric.

Dawkins, as director of the church school, has 17 Sunday School teachers and other workers to supervise. The Columbia and Union Theological seminary trained young man also directs the use of Community's building by outside church groups. It is his full responsibility to hire and counsel the church staff.

Rev. Dawkins has traveled extensively in the U. S. and Europe and is a member of several important organizations. It is his hope that he can continue to serve humanity and make this a happier world to live in day by day.

A published sermon by Rev. Dawkins, "The Failure and Faith of Brotherhood Month," created great discussion and hot debate in local church circles. The philosophy of his sermon held that it is necessary to re-examine one's theology, psychology and method of treating one's neighbor on the same street in order to help men live together at peace as brothers in one world.

The Greater Value

St. John, whose feast is commemorated at next Sunday's Mass, was called the "Golden Mouthed" because of his matchless eloquence. Here, for instance, is an inspiring comment of his on the value of a human soul:

"Giving immense treasures to the poor does not approach the CHARITY of a man who gives salvation to one soul. This alms is preferable to distributing ten thousand talents. It is far more valuable than the wealth of the entire world.

One man's soul is more precious than the whole physical universe."

Prying Pye in Prep Sportdom

By BRAD PYE, JR.

It appears to this writer, that the Professional Golf Association turned on its semi-segregation policy this week when it passed the law granting members of the race to compete in its co-sponsored tournaments.

The way I understand it, a supplemental list of players—primarily Negroes—will be permitted to play in PGA co-sponsored events providing the local sponsor and the host club agree to such additional players. . . . Providing they meet the approval of a five-man committee of Negroes namely Joe Louis, co-chairman, professionals Bill Spiller and Ted Rhodes and Amateur Eural Clark, all residents of the town and Howard Wheeler of Pittsburgh, also a pro. . . . I'm of the contention that the move eased the bars against the race, but I can not go along with the idea that the doors are wide open. . . . Will the clubs in the deep south go along with this. . . . No No No No. . . .

PYE

Leonard Reed, Louis's secretary declares that we will not try to play in these events. . . . Leonard, my man. I'm surprised at you. . . . Chum when the Dodgers have their spring training camp in Florida (they tell me it's in the south) Jackie and the rest of the sepia guys play. . . . And Leonard my boy Giles Miller, youthful textile tycoon of Dallas, Texas (they say it's in the south too) is contemplating buying the New York Yanks. Pro Football club and moving it to Dallas and he states that Buddy Young, Sherman Howard and George Taliaferro will not be sold and that sounds to me like they will be doing a lot of footballnig in the Lone Star state with a mixed team.

Please tell me what's sacred about this game of golf that a member of the race virtually has to be a Rhodes scholar in every respect to be able to play it. . . . In trying to sum the whole case up as I see it this PGA ("appeasement") law is just the first step and many moons away from the second move. . . .

HERE AND YONDER

Earl Battey, flashy forward of the Eastern-Marine Loop Jordan High championship five is a junior and will again be on the scene next campaign for the Bulldogs. . . Battey averaged better than 21 points per game this season. . . . Willie Naulls, the stellar San Pedro High center is the cousin of another great Pirate H. (Continued from Page 1)

iary to the PGA screening committee, consisting of the Negro golfers most vociferous in their demands to be allowed to play in PGA-sponsored tournaments. This committee is "to pass on the qualifications" of Negro golfers who might be invited to play in such tournaments.

Must Be Invited

Thus, if the sponsoring club invites several Negro golfers to compete, and Joe Louis and company agree that they are qualified, then the PGA will part its "white curtain" and allow them to play.

In one full sweep Smith retained the sacred "Caucasion only" requirement for PGA membership, and directed the attack of Negro golfers away from the PGA to the sponsoring clubs.

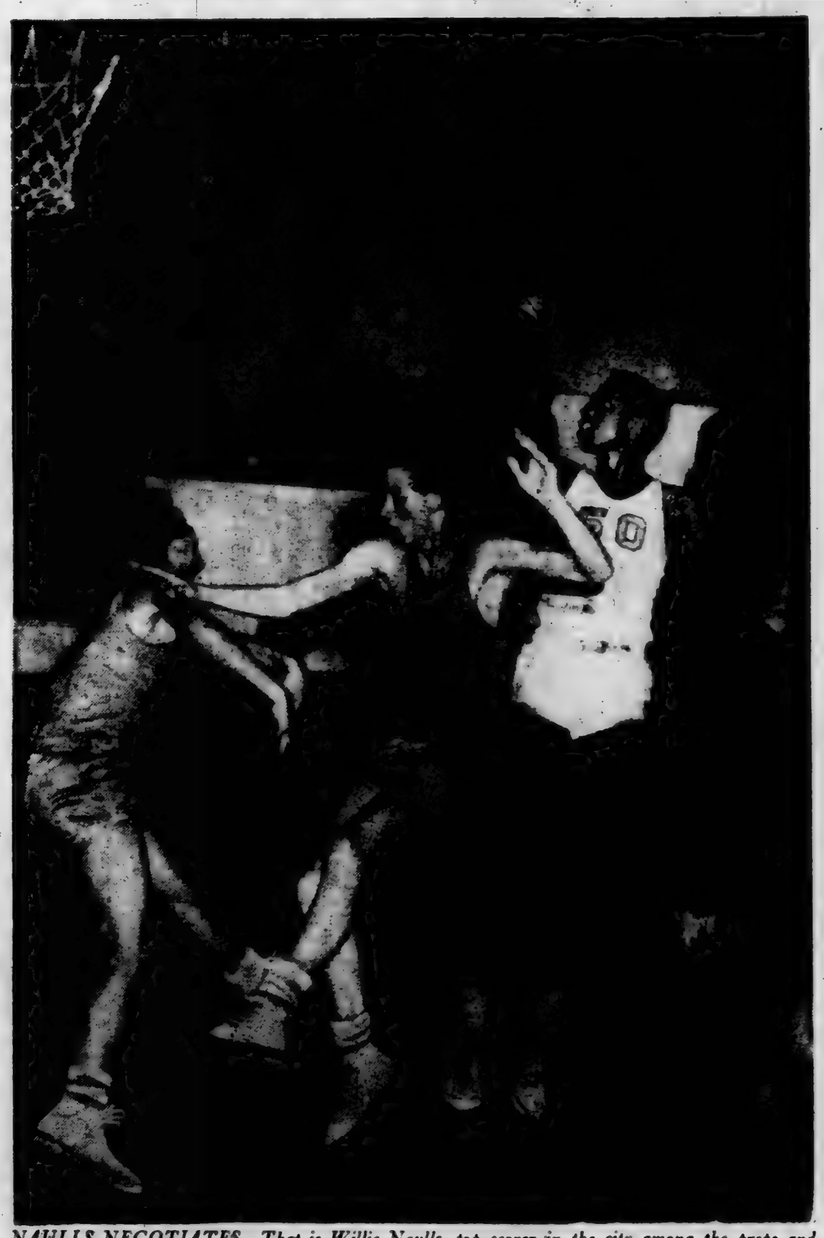
Membership of the "special screening committee" consists of Joe Louis and Ted Rhodes as co-chairmen, Bill Spiller, Eural Clark and Howard Wheeler as members. With the exception of Louis, the group represents the top Negro pros in the country.

Unable to contact Louis or Spiller for comments as they had left for Phoenix, the Eagle contacted Alyce Key, who has worked closely with Joe on the golf situation. Miss Key defended stoutly Louis's playing in the San Diego Open without Bill Spiller. "Champ went down there to play in the tournament, and he did. He knew that if he walked 18 holes with Horton Smith, Smith would change his attitude. Out of it came the entrance of about six Negro players in the Phoenix Open."

When questioned as to the Jim Crow set-up agreed on by Louis and Smith, Miss Key replied, "It is only a temporary measure until the PGA committee can meet in November and abolish the 'Caucasion only' clause in their constitution." Miss Key was emphatic in her belief that the PGA will abolish their racial clause and admit Negroes to membership.

"Champ is proving his true greatness. He is going about this thing the best way he knows how and isn't concerned about what is said about him for doing what he thinks is right."

Lawyers Agree



Leading legal authorities in the city seem to be unanimous in their opinion that the PGA doesn't have a leg to stand on. One prominent lawyer said: "Under the Boilermakers decision in California, the PGA cannot have a closed union and a closed shop. They cannot legally bar Negroes from membership and also bar them from playing in tournaments. I'm almost certain that the Federal courts will uphold this principle."

Abie Robinson, Eagle sports editor, said: "It seems to me to be a hollow victory for Louis and the Negro pros. Now they have to fight to get invitations to golf tournaments. Make no mistake about it, the PGA will pressure the clubs not to invite Negro players. As to the promise that they will drop the color bar at their next meeting, that is what they promised Spiller three years ago when they persuaded him to drop his suit against them in Richmond.

"I could go along with a compromise, if compromise is necessary, but in this situation no compromise means victory."

GEORGE RAMSEY

SANTA ANITA — This writer must take off his hat to the great Counterpoint, he showed why he was the great horse of 1951. Making his first start since his layoff on November 4th, the son of Count Fleet-Jabot thrilled the 45,000 fans by his great stretch run and duel with Phil D. Few in the vast crowd that greeted Santa Anita's first rainless day of the week thought that the son of Count Fleet had hung a very short nose of Phil D. It was one of the closest finishes seen at the beautiful Santa Anita. Even his most avid supporters thought Counterpoint's strong drive from the middle of the pack had fallen short of victory. Only a few feet from the charmed circle the great Counterpoint appeared beaten by a neck, but it was a Herculean final leap that gave Jockey Dave Gorman the victory by a lip. He had Counterpoint's head straighter than Jockey Ray York had Phil D.'s.

Ramsey

The fans sent the Whitney colt to the post as an odds-on favorite and he rewarded his backers $3.30. The track was still muddy from the rains and the time for the mile and one sixteenth was 1:45 1-5.

To Market, owned by Sam Mason, scored another excitingly close victory in the co-feature, the $29,450 San Carlos handicap. This horse will bear watching in the hundred grander. He defeated Bryan G in the seven furlong handicap by a half length and ran the distance in 1:24 flat.

Two more stakes will be run this week. On Wednesday, the 23rd, the Santa Barbara Stakes for three-year-old fillies foaled in California, at seven furlongs, carries an added value of $15,000. And on Saturday the first of the big stakes will be the feature atraction. It's the $50,000 added Santa Margarita Handicap for fillies and mares 3-year-olds and up at one mile and a furlong. The 45,000 fans sent 02,668,814 through the mutuels. Idle two days this week because of flooded highways, Santa Anita became the mecca for eager players. Only two favorites scored out of the eight race program. They were To Market at $6.30; Counterpoint $3.30.

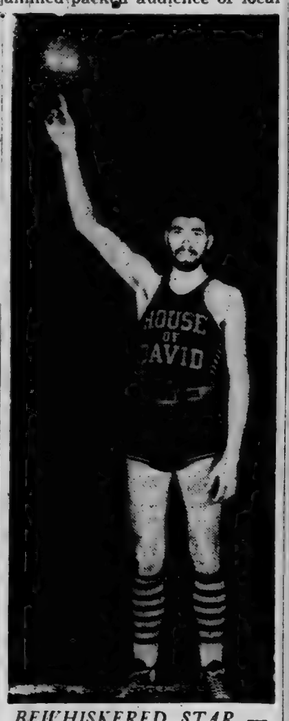
Harlem Clowns to Play Here Sunday



Those mirthful magicians of the basketball court, the hilarious Harlem Clowns, are coming to town Sunday to display their sleight-of-hand ball handling, lightning like passing and laugh provoking antics to an expected jammed packed audience of local hoop fans.

Led by Al "Runt" Pullins, all-time all-star Harlem Globetrotters selection, the Harlem Clowns have one of the really remarkable touring basketball teams in the United States.

They will play the equally famous House of David team Sunday afternoon at the Loyola High school gym, Normandie and Venice. As an added treat, the Pharmaceutical "Whiz Kids" with such stars as the Hill Twins, Ernest Kilgore, Douglas Shaw and Charles Reed, will play the U.S. Tungsten All-Stars. The preliminary game starts at 1:30 p.m.

On the road since the season 1934-35, the Clowns have averaged over 90 per cent victories in schedules ranging from 100 to 150 games each season. Their jaunts have taken them all over the eastern and western United States and this season into Hawaii and Alaska.

Playing seven nights a week, the clowns spend their evenings in gymnasiums — then a quick jump into bed for a night's sleep, and the daytime riding in an automobile to the next game.

BEWHISKERED STAR — Harry McLaughlin, one of the stars of the House of David team that will tangle with the famed Harlem Clowns Sunday afternoon at the Loyola High School gym.

L.A. Rams Nabs All-American Carey

NEW YORK—Three of the nation's top sepia footballers, USF's All-American Ollie Matson, Drake's great Johnny Bright, and All-American Bob Carey, of Michigan State, were top draft choices of the Chicago Cardinals, Philadelphia Eagles, and the World Champion L. A. Rams, respectively.

Olympic aspirant Eddie Macon, the College of Pacific halfback, was drafted by the Detroit Lions. Tom Johnson, the stellar Big Ten lineman from the University of Michigan, was nabbed by the Green Bay Packers.

The Chicago Cardinals probably got the top lineman in the country in the draft when they picked everybody's All-American tackle, the great Don Coleman.

SHAMUS McCRAY IN 10-ROUNDER

Johnny Gray's smooth punching welterweight Shamus McCray goes against veteran Charlie Salas Friday night at Tucson, Ariz. in the 10-round main event.

McCray is working his way up the fistic step ladder and if he is able to gain an impressive win he is a likely candidate for the Hollywood Legion.

In the semi-windup Bobcat Terrance is pitted with Joe Lopez which may turn into a pier six-brawl.

Church League Starts Second Round Play

With eight teen-age teams participating, the church-sponsored Boys' Christian League opened its second basketball season this week.

The League is divided into two age groups—Class A for high school boys and Class B for junior high youngsters—and both divisions got into action Monday night (Jan. 14).

Three games were played at Ward Chapel A.M.E. Church, 1177 W. 25th St. In Class A, Bethel A.M.E. defeated Korean Presbyterian 41 to 36, while Ward Chapel A.M.E. beat West Adams Presbyterian 72 to 17. Class B McCarty Memorial Christian won over Bethel A.M.E. 47 to 26.

The Boys' Christian League was organized last year with the cooperation of the Church Welfare Bureau of the Church Federation of Los Angeles as a step toward better relations between different racial groups and denominations.

Ministers and adult leaders of the cooperating churches are behind the plan to encourage youngsters of different groups to know each other better by playing together.

The Church Welfare Bureau is a Red Feather Service of the Community Chest of Los Angeles.

Lincoln U. Glee Club In National Broadcast

A half-hour concert by the Lincoln University Glee Club will be aired in a coast-to-coast hook-up over some 500 stations of the Mutual Broadcasting Co. network on Sunday afternoon (Jan. 27).

The program from 3:00 to 3:00 p.m., which will originate from Philadelphia, is one of a series of concerts by specially selected college musical organizations throughout the country.

Athletes Galore at Sports Testimonial

A quartet of Joe Louis' former ring foes in the persons of Max and Buddy Baer, Lou Nova and Lee Ramage have been invited to the big sports testimonial at Club Alabam on Thursday, Jan. 31. Boxing greats of today and yesteryears will be honored and Joe Louis will be guest of honor.

Nova is now a sports columnist in nearby Encino, Max and Buddy Baer are actors of some prominence and Ramage is a successful real estate operator in San Diego. All have indicated they will make every effort to take bows at the Alabam that night.

Abe Saperstein and his fabulous Harlem Globetroters are are scheduled to play here Feb. 1, and according to a communication received from Saperstein, his casaba magicians will be present at the testimonial, if they arrive in the city in time.

Members of the Rams National League championship team including Tank Younger, Deacon Dan Towler, Bob Waterfield, Tom Fears, Woodley Lewis and line coach Ray Richards have already reserved a table.

Reservations can be made by calling MI. 9681.

NO SUPPORT SO WIFE RAILROADS HUBBY TO JAIL

When her husband refused to work and support their three children, his wife "railroaded" him to county jail road camp so she could draw $2 a day while he served a sentence of 180 days, according to testimony this week in Superior Court.

"I get more money out of him in jail than when he's out on the street, declared 21-year-old Inez Yarborrough, of 1244½ East 43rd st., When she admitted to an investigator for the public defender's office that she "planted" a marijuana cigarette under her husband's mattress November 8, then called police.

The amazing story unfolded and Superior Judge Charles W. Fricke dismissed a charge of possession of narcotics after hearing a report from Newell Martin, Deputy Public Defender.

William Curtis Yarborrough, the 23-year-old husband, had served 60 days in county jail for failing to support his wife and three children. He had been placed on three years probation by Municipal Judge Harry R. Simon.

When Yarborrough was arrested on the possession of narcotics charge, Judge Simon ordered probation revoked and sentenced Yarborrough to 180 days in the county jail road camp.

Mrs. Yarborough immediately began drawing the $2 per day regularly alloted to an inmate's wife.

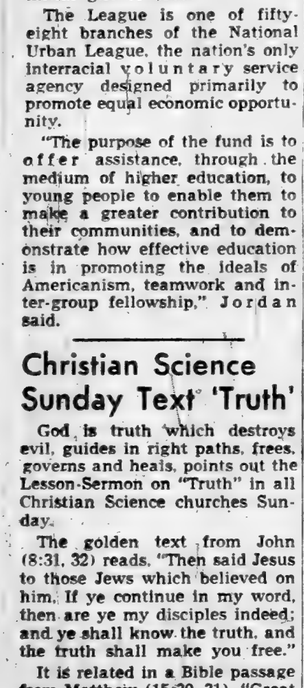
After dismissal of the possession charge, Martin announced he would appear before the parole board to seek Yarborrough's release.

Jordan Helps Arizona Students

PHOENIX—The establishment of the Louis Jordan Student Loan Fund available to high school graduates of Arizona, regardless of sex, race, religion or national origin, was announced recently by the Phoenix Urban League. The noted band leader, a supporter of the League's program, and who maintains a residence in Phoenix during the winter, started the fund to be administered by the League with his initial gift of $500.

The League is one of fifty-eight branches of the National Urban League, the nation's only interracial voluntary service agency designed primarily to promote equal economic opportunity.

"The purpose of the fund is to offer assistance, through the medium of higher education, to young people to enable them to make a greater contribution to their communities, and to demonstrate how effective education is in promoting the ideals of Americanism, teamwork and inter-group fellowship," Jordan said.



Christian Science Sunday Text 'Truth'

God is truth which destroys evil, guides in right paths, frees, governs and heals, points out the Lesson-Sermon on "Truth" in all Christian Science churches Sunday.

The golden text from John (8:31, 32) reads, "Then said Jesus to those Jews which believed on him, If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed; and ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free."

It is related in a Bible passage from Matthew (15:30, 31), "Great multitudes came unto him, having with them those that were lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others and cast them down at Jesus' feet; and he healed them: . . . and they gloried the God of Israel."

Mary Baker Eddy writes in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures: "Jesus demonstrated the power of Christian Science to heal mortal minds and bodies. But this power was lost sight of, and must again be spiritually discerned, taught, and demonstrated according to Christ's command, with 'signs following.' Its Science must be apprehended by as many as believe on Christ and spiritually understand Truth."

McClain Would Bar Gift of Public Funds

Increasing support of the California Institute of Social Welfare's drive to prohibit the giving of county tax funds to private organizations to influence legislation was reported today by George McLain, chairman.

As endorsements of the campaign mounted, petitions of the California Institute hit the streets of all cities and communities of California seeking necessary signatures to qualify an an initiative measure barring public support of private organizations engaged in lobbying activities.

On record as endorsing McLain's drive were such groups as the state Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, whose California legislative board approved the proposal, and numerous councils of the American Federation of Labor in California.

In a recent weekly news-letter the powerful California State Federation of Labor said this attempt to stop the diversion of public funds by private organizations recognizes a principle long advocated by organized labor in California.

McLain's proposed measure, which requires 303,687 signatures to qualify for the ballot, would amend the state constitution to "prohibit appropriation or expenditure of public money to the California State Chamber of Commerce, any local Chamber of Commerce, County Supervisors Association or any other private organization which attempts to influence legislation."

Daughter Elks Compiling Golden Jubilee Year Book

The greatest single project ever undertaken by the Daughter Elks will be the compiling and publishing of their history at the conclusion of fifty years of organizational growth. 1952 marks the fiftieth anniversary of this widely organized fraternal order and it will be marked, among other events, with the issuance of their Golden Jubilee Souvenir Year Book. This historic document will contain a running account of the beginnings of the organization to the present day as seen through the activities of the Grand Temple, the local Temples, special units and outstanding individuals.

The section "ROLL CALL OF THE MEMBERS" will list the individual Daughter Elks by states and Temples. Included will be picturesque descriptions of the work of the Daughter Elks in foreign countries, including Canada and the West Indian Islands. A poetry contest open to the membership is another feature of the Golden Jubilee Souvenir Year Book. The theme is "Fifty Years." Poems may be in any form, blank verse, a sonnet or rhymed verses. Money prizes will be awarded the first three winners.

Another unusual feature of the book will be letters of greeting from distinguished women in this country and foreign lands. A special section will contain pictures and a description of the work of the Grand Exalted Ruler, Dr. J. Finley Wilson and his cabinet. All Officers, Executive Board Members, Grand Directresses, Assistant Grand Directresses, Deputies, Senior Mothers, Past Grand Officers, Life Members, Junior Guardians, etc. will also be featured.

The Year Book will be dedicated to the Founder and Mother, Daughter Emma V. Kelley and will be presented to the Grand Temple in elaborate ceremony of dedication to be held on Friday night, August 29th in Atlantic City, N.J., where the annual convention will be held.

In issuing the proclamation concerning this project, the Grand Daughter Ruler, Mrs. Nettie Carter Jackson, of West New Brighton, Staten Island, N.Y., commented: "Women and men, too, can take pride in the achievements of the Daughter Elks over the past fifty years. Founded by our sainted leader, Emma V. Kelley on the principles of Charity, Justice, Sisterly Love and Fidelity, thousands of women from every walk of life have labored together to improve their communities. They have found strength and courage because they were joined together by high ideals. The Golden Jubilee Souvenir Year Book is our story of fifty years—fifty years of building to make a great dream come true. Every Daughter Elk has a contribution to make to this historic document."

The State Presidents are Associate Editors and the Editor-in-Chief is Mrs. Vivian C. Mason.

South African Newspaper Banned

NEW YORK (CAA)—The threat of the Malanist South African government to suppress by ministerial decree the fifteen year old Cape Town weekly, The Guardian, because of its championship of African advancement, has drawn protests in many quarters.

Broadest sections in South Africa, including newspapers, Members of Parliament, city officials, high churchmen, and leading public figures have condemned this latest move as a flagrant attack upon freedom of the press. Even Die Burger, chief Nationalist Party daily, has voiced its dislike of the way in which this move is being carried out.

Adult Choruses to Drill for Broadcast

On Monday, January 28, hundreds of adult singers from all parts of the community will gather for the first combined rehearsal of Bach's "St. Matthew Passion." The work will later be sung by the Los Angeles Bureau of Music's combined adult civic choruses over a nationwide network broadcast. The date is Good Friday, April 11.

Monday night's rehearsal will start at 7:30 p.m. and be held in the auditorium of Berendo Junior High School, corner of 12th and Catalina Streets, three blocks west of Vermont Avenue and one block north of Pico Blvd.

This first combined rehearsal by the Bureau's 13 adult civic choruses will be open to not only regular adult civic chorus members but all Los Angeles singers who are interested in participating in the broadcast of this great work, and the ensuing music festival.

Those not yet officially affiliated with any of the Bureau's adult choruses will be assigned to rehearse weekly with a group which meets near their home. By attending this rehearsal they will have an opportunity to meet all of the chorus directors and conductor Carlton W. Martin, and to immediately integrate themselves with the plans drawn up to cover both the broadcast and public performances. Music will be supplied without charge by the Bureau, and as with all city-sponsored chorus projects there is no charge for participation.

The adult choruses regularly meet for rehearsals at 7:30 p.m. Choruses are meeting at South Central — Carver Junior High School, 885 East 45th St. on Monday, and at Westside—37th St. School, 3750 Raymond Ave. on Tuesdays.

YWCA Member Drive Opened

Mrs. Beatrice Cassell, active member of the Trinity Baptist Church will provide the inspiration at the Membership Drive Kick-off Desert meeting at the YWCA-Woodlawn Branch on Tuesday, Jan. 29 at 8:00 o'clock p.m.

Mrs. Cassell led the winning team in the 1949 effort and was chairman of the very successful 1950 campaign.

The entire public is invited to attend and bring new and renewal memberships to help the committee reach its goal of 1,000 members by the close of the fiscal year 1952.

An informative and entertaining program has been planned by the committee under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Buckner, Membership Chairman.

RE-ELECT HUDSON PRESIDENT OF LOAN COMPANY

Dr. H. Claude Hudson, prominent Los Angeles dentist and nationally known NAACP official was elected president of the Broadway Federal Savings and Loan Association for the third consecutive year at the institution's annual meeting, Wednesday at 4329 S. Broadway.

Also retaining their offices for another year in various capacities were Paul R. Williams, architect, vice president; Albert Maddox, vice president; Zella M. Taylor, secretary; Dr. J. P. Taylor, treasurer; Atty. Thomas Griffith Jr. and Edward C. Atkinson, Sr.

Occupying seats this year as new directors will be J. Allen Reese, Venice, Calif., retired federal employee and Supreme Lecturer, Supreme Lodge, Knights of Phythias and H. W. Sanders, vice president and treasurer, Union Oil Company, and a Director of Union Bank and Trust Company.

Paul R. Williams was re-elected as a director for another three year term. Continuing as attorneys for the Association are Thomas L. Griffith Jr. and Richard Fitz Patrick.

Richard R. Wright III is manager of the Association which listed its assets as $3,242,733.16 for the fiscal period ending December 13, 1951.

'Q's Plan Dance and Area Meet

With formal dance time nearing for Omega Psi Phi fraternity, the combined chapters will make it a double header with their district meeting slated to climax activities starting Feb. 22 through 24.

Jeep Smith and his orchestra will furnish music for the dance, scheduled for the recently remodeled Zenda ballroom, Feb. 22 between the hours of 10 and 2.

Formal committee co-chairman Harry Penn and Edward Shields, announce that bids are limited to 900, due to the Zenda floor capacity which "comfortably" accommodates 1800. All financial brothers will have an equal number of bids.

Working in conjunction with the "Que's" big week-end of activities, will be several well known personalities, contacted for speaking appearance during various work-shops of the district meet.

Loren Miller, local attorney of "Convenant Housing" fame, and publisher of the California Eagle, will talk on "Civil Rights Thru Legal Action."

Others on the symposium's panel discusion will include Miss Nita Blackwell, manager of the Relocation Division of L. A.'s Housing Authority, and Dr. Henry W. Cooke, professor of history in the graduate division at Claremont College.

Other members of the committee on arrangements for the formal are A. C. Kitchens, Carl Earls, Lawrence Palmer, and Weldon Atkins, graduate representatives. Undergraduate members include Joe Harris, Hilbert Thomas, and John Long.

Herman Harvey, W. L. Thomas, and Ted Daniels are responsible for the dance site, while Joe Harris and Ted Daniels are accepting applications for queen candidates.

Llewllyn Mazique, grand marshal of the district meetings, has made arrangements for the district banquet at Wilshire Blvd.'s Pig 'n' Whistle restaurant, where John Potts, National First Vice Basileus is scheduled for appearance. Another ranking officer is W. I. Murray, district representative, who will attend the luncheon meeting.

Announcements of appearance at district meet of James Roosevelt, are pending, awaiting confirmation of Allen C. Woodard III, grad chapter Vice Basileus, who has contacted the late president's son. Likewise is the mention of "Que" radio broadcasts being withheld until a final word is received.

Bids to the formal dance will be in the mail around the 2nd or 3rd week of February. Admittance will be by bid only.

The public library in Louisville, Kentucky, and public libraries in several Southern cities are now open to citizens regardless of color.

Arrests by Communists Give Note to Jehovah's Witnesses

With the mass arrest in the Soviet zone of East Germany of many members of the Jehovah's Witnesses in 1950, the aims and aspirations of one of the influential religious sects of the world first became widely known.

The Communists arrested about 222 members of the sect and sentenced them collectively to 1,679 years in prison. That brought world attention to the unorthodox group. According to "The Watchtower," official organ of the sect, the Witnesses captured were charged with being American spies and instigators against peace and democracy.

Organized 1872

Organized in Pittsburgh around 1872, the Jehovah's Witnesses drew its original members from among the Russellites, Millenial Dawnites and Ruthermordites sects. Charles T. Russell is credited with having founded them. After his death, Judge Rutherford became the leader and under him they took the name of Jehovah's Witnesses.

They took their name from a passage in the Bible which says: "Ye are my witnesses saith Jehovah."

Many of their ideas on the church, members, preachers, support and saluting the flag are discussed in two recently published books, "Let God Be True," and "This Means Life Everlasting."

In discussing the Jehovah Witness church, the book, "Let God Be True," said:

Church Is Agent

"The church means a congregation called out from the world for God's purpose, and the doctrine concerning the church was for a long time a great mystery. The church is the agency by and through which the Almighty God has purposed to vindicate his name and bring blessings to obedient men. The church is not an earthly organization but it is God's own Theocratic organization, into which he brings faithful ones from among men."

That passage explains the reason why the Jehovah's Witnesses do not have any church buildings. In the place of them they have meeting halls.

Those brought into the church are selected or chosen by God, through Jesus Christ the First chosen, according to Let God Be True. They do not gain entrance to the church of their own accord or desire.

Family Membership

Membership in the church is restricted to some 144,000 members who must remain loyal to death. Commenting on church membership, 'Let God Be True' said:

"Today there yet remains upon the earth some who are in line for association with Christ in the Heavenly Church but they must finish the earthly course faithful to the death. The Heavenly Church will be 144,000 according to God's decree."

The commission to preach concerning God's Kingdom revolves upon all members of the church, according to Let God Be True.

Speaking of church ritual, "This Means Life Everlasting," said:

"The inspired scriptures give no description of instructions concerning any ordination. So all the lengthy pompous, formalistic ritualistic ceremonies of ordination in Christendom's religious systems are mere inventions of men, human traditions and unscriptural. They are not theocratic and so are not recognized by God."

Literature

Many persons have wondered how the church gets money for its work. Some of it comes from the selling of literature on street corners, and other from donations. Commenting on the selling of literature, "This Means Life Everlasting," said:

"Although the literature distributed by the Jehovah's Witnesses cost more to print and distribute than the sum of contribution received, the organization is maintained by voluntary donations of Jehovah's Witnesses and people of good will.

"The part-time minister contributes to the society the cost of the literature he distributes and he receives contributions to help defray the expense of distribution, and also help him to provide necessities to sustain himself.

Special Work

"Additionally, full-time ministers doing special missionary work as Jehovah's Witnesses may call upon the society each month for a nominal expense allowance to sustain them in their special work."

Victims Show Jury Acid Burn Scars

reacts the same under certain conditions as human skin. By spraying carbon monoxide under the clothing of Smith and Scott, a substance similar to snow formed which resulted in their serious burning.

The weird-looking fire extinguisher which deputy sheriff Edward Houtz grabbed in a fit of anger to spray acid over the bodies of two Negroes was exhibited during his trial last Monday. The torture weapon, having a red cylinder about 15 inches in length and an attachment of a 12-inch black hose, was supposedly manipulated by Houtz last October 20 at the Firestone Sheriff's Station onScottand Smith as a "way t make niggers talk."

The case is being tried in Superior Court, Department 42, under Judge Thomas Ambrose. His attorney is Robert Ford. The prosecuting attorney is Asst. Dist. Atty. Joseph Carr.

At press time, the case was in its third day. It is being heard by an all-white jury of four men and eight women.

When the trial opened Jan. 18, first witness to testify against Houtz was Henry Scott. He told the court that he was stopped by a police car at 52nd street and Compton avenue. At that time he was driving a Buick convertible with the top down. As the police car drew up beside him he heard one of the officers say, "That car has a 1950 license."

Ruben Smith, who was sitting beside him, was told to get out, too. When Scott attempted to show the arresting officers the papers he held for the car in his wallet, one of the policemen struck him across the face, Scott said.

He was handcuffed and taken to Firestone station, at Manchester and Firestone, where he was beaten and sprayed by a fire extinguisher. After his testimony, Scott was told by prosecutor Joseph Carr to remove his clothes and show the jury the bruises and burns he sustained in the orgy.

During cross-examination by Goutz's attorney, Robert Ford, Scott was asked:

Q: Didn't you ask some people who were standing around at the time of arrest to "get some help, they're picking on me because I am black"?

A: No.

Q: Didn't you tell the officers, "Keep your white filthy hands off of me"?

A: No.

Q: When the officers were taking you to the station, and a car passed with two colored women in it, didn't you say to them, "We would like to lay you"?

A: No.

Q: or, "Hello, pretty face"?

A: No.

Ford lost his temper several times. Houtz sat very quiet during the questioning. At one time he became excited when Scott made a slight error in naming the number of officers who questioned him when he was imprisoned in county jail. At that time a large smile crossed his face and he turned to look at his wife who has attended each session.

Houtz is medium height, stocky built with ash blond stringy hair. As he listened to Scott's questioning, he wrote on slips of paper and passed them to his attorney, who was possibly accepting his questions and throwing them at Scott.

Struck in Face

In describing how he was burned, Scott said that while he was in the front office at Firestone, he was struck in the face and socked in the stomach until he could stand the pain no longer and fell to the floor. He was then dragged into a side room and kicked in back of the head. He received a punctured eardrum from those continuous brutal blows.

One officer pounded him in the chest with his feet, Scott related, causing several broken ribs. Scott added that just when he thought his attackers had relented, he felt a hose touching the calf of his leg. Immediately a strong burning was felt, Scott explained. When the officers left him lying on the floor, he says he examined his leg and saw "white foam running down it." He said he must have laid there for a long time for when he became conscious about eight hours later, he was in the same cell where Smith had been thrown.

Witness Called

Next person called to the witness stand was Edgar Ordway, assistant registrar and custodian of records at General Hospital. He read Smith's file which verified his admittance to the hospital. With it were X-ray films which were marked for exhibit.

After recess, sheriff deputy S. Kerney testified that he found a fire extinguisher in the bottom of the gun locker at Firestone station two or three days after the incident occurred. He did not know how it got there, but said it was the first time he had ever seen one in that particular place.

Also called to the stand was deputy Fred L. Stadler, who said that he saw a fire extinguisher in the hands of Houtz on the day Scott and Smith were burned. Further cross-examination revealed that the fire extinguishers are part of squad car emergency equipment and were returned to the station for refilling.

Smith was then sworn in and, upon questioning, his testimony was similar to Scott's. He bared the top part of his body and showed ugly marks still in evidence upon his neck, back, and sides. Occasionally he brought laughs from the court as he described the gay midnight ride before his arrest.

Attorney Ford told the court that the two men had filed suit against the County of Los Angeles.

In breaking down the suit, Ford said that Scott had filed for $102,000 and Smith for $102,700. He questioned Smith as to who was present when the papers were signed; to which Smith answered, two others besides himself.

At one time, prosecutor Carr showed disgust with Ford when the defense attorney referred to Smith's attending physician as being a veterinarian. Ford criticized the grammar of Smith, by writing the word Smith had been mispronouncing on the board to correct him. The word was "semi" and was used by Smith in reference to his condition of semi-consciousness after the acid spraying incident.

Bethune s Life Outlined In Digest Article

PLEASANTVILLE, N.Y.—Mary MacLeod Bethune, "through faith in God and in herself," rose from humble beginnings as a cotton picker to her present eminence as founder and head of Bethune-Cookman College at Daytona Beach, Fla. The story of Mrs. Bethune's life is told by Dorothy Walworth in the February Reader's Digest.

Mary Bethune's own education and later her founding and development of the college were accomplished with the utmost difficulty. She had no money, and on every hand she met opposition and indifference on the part of whites and blacks alike. In the early days of the college she got ink by squeezing the juice from wild elderberries, made pencils of charred wood, combed dump heaps for anything that could be turned into furniture.

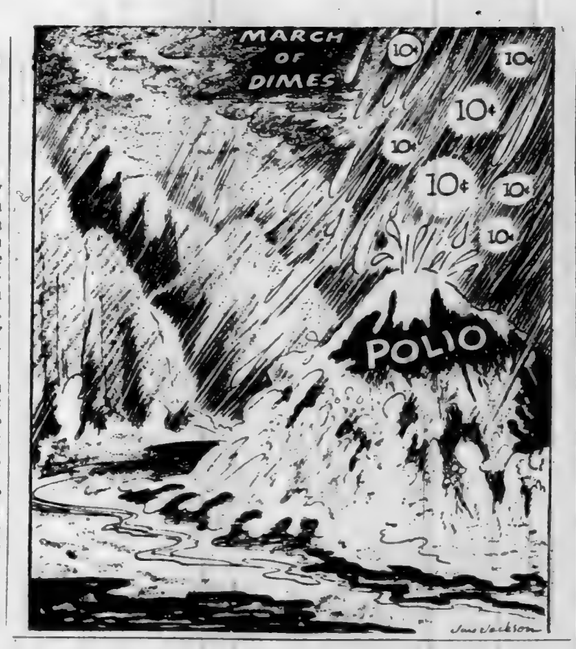
She persisted despite such handicaps, however, and gradually the college grew. Financial assistance was eventually received from two men, James N. Gamble of Procter and Gamble, and Thomas H. White of the White Sewing Machine Co. By the late '20s Mrs. Bethune was becoming widely known as an educator; in one year she spoke at some 500 meetings in 40 states. President Hoover, in 1930, invited her to his White House Conference on Child Health. Later, during Roosevelt's administration, she was head of the Negro division of the National Youth Administration. In 1935 she was awarded the Spingarn Medal, given yearly "for the highest and noblest achievement by an American Negro."

Mrs. Bethune strongly influenced President Roosevelt to create the Federal Committee on Fair Employment Practice, outlawing discrimination in defense industry. In 1945 Roosevelt asked Mrs. Bethune to be a delegate to the San Francisco Conference of the United Nations.

Today, at the age of 77, Mrs. Bethune is president emeritus of her college, which now has 1,025 students and 27 buildings.

Sadie Alexander History Week Speaker Here

Dr. Sadie T. M. Alexander, first Negro woman to be admitted to the bar in Pennsylvania and distinguished leader in civic affairs, is to be presented by the University of California at Los Angeles and the local Negro History Week Committee as principal speaker in a program at Royce Hall on the campus, Feb. 12, during Negro History Week. She served as a member of the presidental committee in civil rights.



Famed tenor Arthur Lee Simpkins will also appear on the program in what promises to be one of the outstanding events of the week-long series of observances in the city representing the work of the Negro History Week Committee headed by Mrs. Vassie Wright of the Author's Study Club and University officials.

Arthur MacBeth, law student at UCLA, will speak for students. Norman O. Houston, President of Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company and chairman of the combined general planning committee, will be master of ceremonies.

The Royce Hall program is to be public, beginning at 8 p.m., with admission by ticket only due to the limited seating capacity of the auditorium. Tickets are obtainable in the lobby of Golden State Mutual, Western and Adams Blvds., and other sources to be named.

Dr. Alexander's most recent accomplishment was appearance on the coast-to-coast radio program Town Hall from New York when she made such a forceful plea in behalf of the Negro College Fund of which she is member of the National Council.

Witherspoon Claims Police Beat Him him brutally until the metal rubbed and cut into his flesh, then threw him into the police car and started to "work him over."

"They kept pounding me in the stomach, pounding my knee—they really give it to you," he said.

At the police station, Witherspoon continued, "the officer kicked me in the stomach—and the lieutenant laughed."

"Didn't they know who you were?" he was asked.

"No. Not at first. But it doesn't matter who I am. They shouldn't treat anyone that way."

Witherspoon left the Eagle office to go to see his doctor and his lawyer.

The "Spoon," as he is known to his thousands of admirers, is a "local boy who made good." A graduate of Manuel Arts High School, he came into prominence during World War II with his smashing renditions of Tommie Southern's "Cain River."

He's been on top ever since, and is currently knockin' them over with his "Good Rockin'," "Big Time Gal," "No Rollin' Blues," and "Ain't Nobody's Business."

He's known far and wide for his appearances at Gene Norman's blues concerts at the Shrine, the annual Blues Awards given him by Variety, and his frequent appearances from coast to coast.

New York Pastor Denies Excess Expense Charges

NEW YORK—Charges recently brought against the Rev. Connie Stamps, pastor of the Metropolitan Baptist Church in New York City, that he had increased the church's expenses have been denied by him.

Mrs. Emily Lewis, Mrs. Martha Chase and George Fleidhman, church members, filed an affidavit in court charging the pastor with increasing the church expenditures from $2,000 to $9,000 since he took over pastorate of the church on June 8 of this year.

Rev. Stamps denied the charge and many others, and following a Sunday church service, he called a church meeting.

No church meeting can be called unless a two-week notice is given the members, according to church members. They also say that no meeting can be held on Sunday, which makes the meeting illegal.

The purpose of the meeting, it was said, was to get church members to back him and refute the three who brought the charges against him, in time for the court hearing this week.

Also accused in the action were: David Hunt, chairman of the deacon board; Thomas Harley, deacon; Clarence Thompson, trustee; William Carter, treasurer of the church, and Isaac Brandon, chairman of the board of trustees.

Other charges against the pastor include:

His attempts to publicize himself through the radio; his demand of 10 per cent of each member's income; his demand for $877.75 for moving expense from Kansas City, Mo., where he was formerly pastor of the Highland Baptist Church for 14 years.

The three persons named plaintiffs against Rev. Stamps want the court to set aside the resolution authorizing the radio program. They charge the minister with having used "steamroller" tactics to get his resolutions passed.

GROUP PLANS CONVOCATION

At the recent meeting of the African Methodist Episcopal Ministers here, Dr. Alfred K. Quinn, presiding elder of the Pasadena-San Diego district and president of the presiding elder's council of the Fifth Episcopal district, announced that Bishop D. Ormonde Walker is calling an educational convocation. It will be for ministers and lay representatives from the churches of the three Pacific Coast Conferences and will meet on the coming Tuesday at Ward Church, 1177 West 25th street, where Dr. Frederick D. Jordan is pastor.

Dr. Quinn stated that in conference with Presiding Elders B. C. Allen, of the Los Angeles District, and I. H. Hunt of the San Francisco District, details of the program were being completed. Considerable time will be devoted, during the convocation, to a consideration of the current Public Housing controversy in Los Angeles.

A feature of the meeting also will be the first apearance on the Pacific Coast of Bishop I. H. Bonner, who for the past four years has been supervising the work of the A.M.E. Church in South Africa. Bishop Bonner will address a Mass Meeting under the auspicies of the Conference Missionary Society at Ward on Monday night, and will be associated with Bishop Walker in the Educational Convocation the following day.

Church Council Sees More Racial Unity in Churches of Nation

There are hopeful signs that the U. S. is moving forward toward greater "unity in race relations," a special message issued today from New York by the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. declared.

Prepared for Race Relations Sunday to be observed February 10, the message entitled, "Of One Blood," called on the churches "to hasten" the day when all people will not only tolerate one another, but love each other."

"A revolution in race relations has been taking place in America in the last decade," the message asserted, "old fetters are breaking and a new spirit of reconciliatio is abroad in the land."

In connection with the message, Dr. J. Oscar Lee, executive director of the Department of Racial and Cultural Relations of the National Council announced a series of positive actions taken by the churches to further interracial understanding.

He said that churches, either individually or in groups, have pressed for the elimination of segregation, supported legislation to wipe out lynching and mob violence and worked with employer groups, professional organizations and unions to establish employment practices based on skill and character rather than race, color, or national origin.

Other measures taken by the churches, Dr. Lee said, are efforts to ban restricted housing covenants, support for decent housing conditions for all people, and a careful scrutiny of their own racial attitudes and practices.

But despite these encouraging trends, the Race Relations message declared, "the vague fact of color and "the vaguer theories of race" often win out over the "deeper fact" of the brotherhood of all men.

Drawing attention to the fact that the Christian faith "condemns all racial divisions," the message noted that the churches themselves have "succumbed largely to racial lines."

"The findings of science and the ideals of democracy agree with Christian faith in proclaiming the unity and essential quality of all men," the message stated.

"But Christian faith goes deeper and bases its teachings on foundations that can never be shaken. It affirms that men are not only equal under God but also brothers."

The message apealed to the churches to carry on the "unfinished work of emancipation," started by Abraham Lincoln, noting:

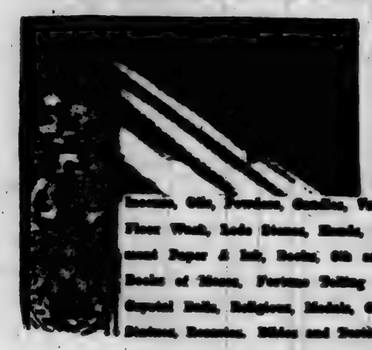
"The struggle for racial equality is a central aspect of the current conflict among the nations, and tyranny can hardly be defeated in one sphere unless it is rejected in every form, everywhere."

"The whole world watches every denial of human brotherhood," the message said. "The issue of race has become crucial in a time when men must learn to live as brothers if they are to live at all."

Noting that the "non-white" people of Asia and Africa are pushing rapidly toward "equal status in the world," the message warned that these aspirations are now being "thwarted by newer, subtler forms of tyranny."

"A time of testing has come," the message concluded, "for that greater faith which the centuries have not obscured: the assurance that we live and move and have our own true being in God the Father, whose ofspring we are and whose redemptive love enables us to treasure all men as brothers."

In another message for Relations Sunday, issued by the Commission on Justice and Peace of the Central Conference of American Rabbis, Rabbi Roland B. Gittlesohn, chairman of the Commission, warned against the "risk of racial disunity during this period of perpetual crisis."



"The racial issue," he said, "is vested with global implications and must be placed within the context of today's major ideological struggles that will determine the very destiny of our civilization."

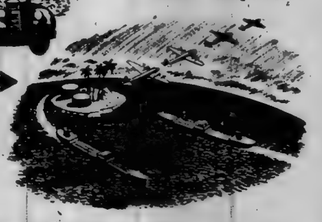
"What does it take from an oil company to run an airlift?"

Ever since mid-summer of 1950, military activity in Korea has called for heavy transpacific air traffic by civilian cargo planes. Over one of their routes they fly a round trip of 13,450 miles—some twenty-six times the length of the famous airlift into Berlin. Hundreds of companies help supply this operation. Maybe you'd like to know what it takes from an oil company to run an airlift.

Standard's part in the Pacific airlift shows that it's a big help to have large companies on hand when the going gets rough. Our work is focused mainly at Wake Island, that pinpoint some 4000 miles from the U. S. West Coast. After World War II, Wake was a refueling stop for commercial airliners en route to the Orient. But then came the struggle at the 38th parallel—

Before trouble kindled in Korea, only 20 planes a week refueled at Wake. Then that number multiplied many times. We'd been supplying gas to the island; when the U. S. asked us to step up deliveries, we were able to do it. As a big, integrated company, we called on our own tanker fleet.



As air activity stepped up even more, Wake needed larger ground crews. Again, Standard's bigness helped. Using facilities in Honolulu, we quickly trained men, tripled our Wake manpower.

To secure the special loading equipment needed by the ground crews, a Standard ship picked up the nearest available—at far-off Canton Island. And at U. S. request, we helped build new storage facilities along Wake's runways.

To keep Wake and the airlift supplied on a regular basis, Standard drew once more on its tanker fleet. We now operate a shuttle service to Wake from the Pacific Coast. Again, being big and having our own facilities helps us serve.

Of course, the transpacific airlift starts in America, and at home on this end of the route Standard keeps some 10 airlines supplied with aviation gasoline. It would take a stack of drums a mile high to hold our increased daily output for this use. At the same time, we're also supplying military needs... and our usual volume for motorists.

OES Club Banquets New Staff

At their annual installation banquet the Matrons and Patrons of the Golden Poppy Grand Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, AF and AM affiliation, were guests at the home of Mrs. Mamie Griffin, 1214 E. 65th street.

Devotional singing was led by Mrs. Louise Ingram, grand organist of the chapter. Mrs. Maude Brown, past president and president-elect as well as senior past worthy grand matron, gave brief remarks.

Attentive ears were turned to the speeches of Mrs. Ola Mai Norman, worthy grand matron, and the Rev. C. B. Torrance, grand master of the Most Worshiful Hiram of Tyre Grand Lodge, AF and AM of California.

Officers Named

Rev. Torrance installed the following officers: Mrs. Maude Brown, president; Mrs. Nettie Moore Jones, vice-president; Mrs. Bernice Beach, treasurer; Mrs. Louise Williams, secretary; Mrs. Sammie Anderson, assistant secretary; Mrs. Bertha Scott, chaplain; Mrs. Georgia Robinson, marshal; Mrs. Rosa McDaniels, senior usher; Mrs. Maggie Rush, junior usher; Mrs. Lannell Hicks, inner guard, and Franklin Thompson and Rev. Torrance advisors.

Committee responsible for the colorful affair was composed of Mmes. Maggie Rush, Georgia Robinson and Bertha Scott. Aiding were Mmes. Jeannette Dyer Madison, Fannie Mae Harris, A. Beatrice Brown and Amy Stennis.

A delicious seven-course turkey dinner was served. Secret pals were revealed and gifts exchanged. Guests included Mrs. Mayomay Hale, grand lecturer, and husbands and wives of the past and present worthy matrons and patrons.

Hotelman is Visitor of Eagle Staff

C. R. Lane, popular young hotel manager in San Francisco, visited Los Angeles last week. He was here on business which included the signing of a long-time contract with band leader Ben Webster and his trio. The popular music group will be featured in his swank Booker T. Washington Hotel's Empress Room.

Included in the band are guitarist Ervin Ashby, formerly of the Nat "King" Cole Trio; Joe Comfort, bass; Charlie (Tears Flow Like Wine) Lawrence; and the famed tenor sax of Ben Webster.

Tick-Tockers

The Tick-Tockers opened their 1952 activities with a gala house party for members and their guests. With equal zest the group brought cheer and usefulness in gifts for residents of a local aged home.

Active committee members and officers participating were Margaret Black, president; Ellynore Adams, vice-president; Lela McLinn, business manager; Maudestean Davis, reporter; Eugenia Weideman, Phylis McArthur and Ada Richardson.

Next meeting will be held Saturday at 2803 Montclair avenue with Berneyce Jones as hostess.

Vi's Column

Fashion-conscious or not, you just had to notice some of the absolutely stunning gowns which showed up at the Pacific Town club's fabulous formal.

Positively princess-like was Ed Maddox's Marian in a dream gown of softest, richest rosy hue. Cute and daisy-fresh was Libby Clark in blue with delicate ruffles. (Yep! she's the gal reporter whose series on Negroes in Europe started in yesterday's Mirror).

Never failing in chic, Edith Bailey chose a black gown with glittering, beaded bodice. The other Edith (Houston, that is) was lovely in a two-toned pastel that she's labeled her "mother-in-law dress" on accounta it's the one she wore when her son got spliced.

'Course, nobody ever looks prettier than Betty Howard, has more gamin-like beauty than Camille Cannady, or is svelter than Ethel Gordon.

A fashion-plate from head to toe, "Cherie" Turner's arrangement of her gleaming black tresses drew more raves than she even knew.

Add charmers: Alma Ribbs Price, Bettye Lee, Hazel Cloyd and her daughter, Audrey, Thelma Houston, Irma Fairs, Clara Webb and—

OOPS!

Speaking of Clara Webb—she's full of enthusiasm for the Valentine Cocktail party being planned by the Silhouettes. She's president of this club of Kappa wives, y'know, and keeps extracting promises from me to attend our meetings. Since all these promises have come to naught recently I'll have to pick up time, date and place from prexy Clara for next week's Eagle.

BACK TO THE DANCE

The men at the PT formal? Come now, what do men wear? So that's that. Anyhoo, there was fun in quick chats with Chiropractors Andy King and Jay Moss, Physicians William E. Bailey, L. L. Holloman and George Seeley, Dentist George McLeod, Pharmacists George Hayes and Fred Griffin, Attorneys Ted Schaffer, David Lee.

One of the many select before-gatherings was the cocktail party given by Mr. and Mrs. Theophilus G. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Robinson for their dance guests. Entertained at the Smith home were Messrs. and Mmes. O. Lawrence Swain, Joseph Lewis, Vernon Strange, Lonnie Eberhardt and Carl Earls.

THE SORORITIES

Sallye Jones was "first of the year" hostess to Sigma chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha. The gals plan a surprise affair for February 29.

Harriette Flowers said Joyce Overr, presidents of Pi and Upsilon chapters of Delta Sigma Theta, announce the "Sweetheart Ball" for Feb. 16. Working on various committees are Florelle Pierson, Geneva Waller, Gloria Person, Dorothy Jenkins, Elsie Ledet, La Rosa, Lumpkin, Louis Banks, Alma Torance and Jackie Rambo.

Looks like the college set—all dressed up—is in for fun at this one.

FILIAL DEVOTION

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Hicks of 4424 Fountain avenue held a dinner party to honor her father, Henderson Brown, visiting here from Wichita Falls, Texas. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Chester Feliz, Ed and Helen Fer-

Two Clubs Plan Joint Charity Ball

For the past several months, the Athenian and Alpha Bowling Social clubs have been busy discussing plans for a charity dance in order to help those who are less fortunate than others. At their meeting, which was held last Sunday, it was decided to present their Charity Dance on Friday, February 1, at the Alpha Bowling Club, located at 2914 South Western avenue.

Members of both the Athenians and Alpha Bowling club wish to extend to their many friends an invitation to help someone who is in need.

A Phi A Sets 'Roundup' for Friday Nite

Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity will conduct its annual Alpha Round-Up Friday, January 25, at 8 p.m. at the Alpha House, 2116 S. Western Ave.

This dinner meeting, a tradition with Alpha men in this area, will draw Alphas from all over Southern California. Three hundred local Alpha men are expected to gather to renew old acquaintances and to rededicate themselves to the cause of their fraternity. Since the January meeting begins the fiscal year for the fraternity, many Alphas are expected to join the ranks at this time.

Samuel P. DeBose, popular Los Angeles teacher and civic leader elected for another term as president of the local graduate chapter, will present the year's program and name committee chairmen.

WIVES MEET

The Wives Auxiliary of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity met Monday, January 14, at the Alpha House in the first meeting since the election of officers. New officers. New officers for 1952 are: Mrs. John H. Talbert, president; Mrs. Gaynelle Miles, vice-president; Mrs. Theodore Lumpkin, recording secretary; Mrs. H. Connell Ward, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Julius Hibler, chaplain; Mrs. James Shifflett, treasurer; Mrs. Maceo G. Tolbert, parliamentarian; Mrs. Marcus Sheppard, sgt.-at-arms and Mrs. Morris D. Hampton, reporter.

Delatantes

The Delatants Bridge Club met with Mrs. Netta P. Garner at her home at 440 North Westmorland avenue Saturday, January 19. The members are Mesdames Thomas Griffith, Lloyd Griffith, Maceo Tolbert, Jack Lindell, Bertram Tucker, Allen Woodard, Leroy Thomas, William Chester, Bernice Jones, and Miss Alma Thomas. Guests were Mesdames Claude Hudgins, Charles Green, Bertha Lewis, Meredith Hatches and Francis Henderson.

BILL SMALLWOOD

On The Delightful Side

Due soon: Billy Strayhorn. He always bunks 'n' boards at Evelyn Jolet's. She straightaway gets into plans for some kind of gay shindig once he crosses the mountains. Also due: Freda De-Knight is immaculately tailored and golf-bug-bitten mate Rene with the Delta Rhythm Boys. They get in town about Feb. 4, will be around awhile for a local engagement. Emily Woody's lustrous mink coat was left in her Xmas morn stocking, did you know? Carny Stewart has been on the sick list. Girl Friends met Monday at president Lena Tucker's. House hunting: Doris Jones of the lovely smile; Atty. Earl Dickerson was due to arrive Sunday for a brief stay; he stays at the Biltmore as usual. Reconciled: Edith and Harry White. They're expecting, too. Although he now calls Chi home, Rev. George Garner will be in town for an indefinite stay.

Jo Baker at P.T.

La Baker enjoyed herself immensely at the Pacific Town Club dance; she was with the Ivan Harold Brownings. She goes directly to N.Y. from here. Her husband joins her there sometime soon. Cosby Turner, whom you just don't see these busy days, was at the Town Club affair, too. The Roy Spencers had friends in before the dance. Two of the Day, Dawn and Dusk trio (they were in Las Vegas) were in town en route to N. Y. last week. Third member Gus Simon (he went direct to N. Y.) after all these fabulous years is definitely leaving this internationally known group. Gus is a legend all by himself. Well again: Betty Jones. Renfro Montegomery off soon to the east on business, is up from his sick bed. Philly item: Atty. Councilman Raymond Pace Alexander back in the States from Nassau. His wife, Sadie, gave him the trip as an Xmas gift.

Cleveland Chosen

Cleveland this Xmas coming up will be a merrie if crowded encampment site what with all the frats (excepting Omega) and sororities due to meet there for what seems to me surely will be the first time in Yuletide conclaves history. Truly that will be a splendid chance for mass cornering of folk you haven't seen since Grant sacked Richmond. Helen Garrot tells us Malcolm Thurburn lives now in Jamaica. Golly, when have I seen Ann and Julius Moseley? The Links plan a warm weather large-order gathering here. At a recent Sunday night party: Freda and Juan Ray, lending that sparkle of theirs. They really enjoy life and each other.

DeeCee's stunning Alice Christopher-Lyons (she visited here several summers ago) arrives in June for a brief stay. Her sister, Mercedes Rector Horne, was here not too long ago with husband Frank. She is due back here this summer. Lena Horne is her niece by marriage. Mercedes has that vivid white streak in her hair, the birthmark so strikingly present in her family. Her two sons have it also. It's not too predominant in Alice's dark brown tresses, as I recall.

For a drink and pleasantries with Bill Allen last mid-week: To Jenadora and affable Sterling Waggoner's pleasantly dramatic and thoroughly livable apartment on Ardmore. They've some imported Chinese pieces in their living room which put to decisive shame many genuine pieces I've seen elsewhere. Their place well matches Jenadora's charm and hostess graciousness; it makes a fine background for her flair for the distinctive. Her patrician mother and father joined us as did her handsome brother Bud.

With Brother Bob

Mentioning Bill Allen, he stayed here with his brother Bob and the latter's chic wife Dottie before going to Berkeley whence he's happily visiting his sister, Nellie Allen Beaty, until tomorrow (Friday). Then he and Todd Duncan continue on into the

'Old Grads' at Realty School Dinner Party

Thirty-two real estate school students will be addressed Saturday, January 26, at 7 p.m. in the Clark Hotel's Blue Room at the school's second annual dinner party by four graduates who now are licensed salesmen. Speakers will be Mmes. Ella Lee Morgan, Lee Esther Conwell, Mabel Lee Wyatt, and Corine Elizabeth Fishter.

Sponsors are the staff of the William Mells Watson Realty Co. Plans for business reforms for this year will be discussed.

winter-swept Northwest. Bill annually anticipates L. A. for it affords him fond reunion with numerous friends, many of whom he knew years back in Portland, Seattle and the Bay area. The guy, what's more, miraculously never forgets a name or face. Ever does he astound me with that awesome accomplishment.

Reggie Fenderson okay again after the auto accident which also involved the Dooley Wilsons. Ex-Angeleno (he left here Thanksgiving) Charles Leyprolerie died in N'Orleans on Jan. 3, we just learned. Hasty pivot: the better to glimpse always svelte Willa Smallwood riding by in her green Ford. She and husband Kizer maintain three cars around the calendar. Mentioning Willa brings to mind my query anent the Antique Arts Club; they used to give those tremendously enjoyable affairs some seasons back but somehow of late I never hear of them as a group. Willa, Velma Orendoff, Ursula Hirschwitz, Lela Walsh and Gladys Hampton were among the members. And, gosh, how those gals would dress! Gladys I never see any more on my travels. Somehow band business and collecting mink and incredible diamonds and assorted "fishtails" got in the way somewhere for seemingly few of us anywhere get to see Mrs. Hampton whether she's here or in N. Y. or between. But, at that, we all agree we DO remember her well, indeed.

Ash - blonde Cecily Barbour, stubbing her cigarete in a Watkins Hotel ash tray while waiting on husband Earl so they could catch the first at Santa Anita, asks whatever became of Omaha's junior John Singleton. John and his wife Carol now live in France; he's a cinematographer. His Dad, the dentist, lives now in the Virgin Isles. The latter was the first Negro member of the Nebraska State Legislature. Tee Smith, I hear, rejoined the Merchant Marine the other morning. Baltimore's well-known Naomi Morsell is engaged. She was planning a trip this way this year. Wonderful, wonderful gesture, that of the Girl Friends! Tuesday they presented a check for fifty dollars to the March of Dimes fund. Always do I doff my one hat to such clubs who invest thusly in humanity rather than swell their treasury simply to give costly dances.

GW Bridgers Tell Result of Recent Play

Golden West Bridge Association, of which Mae Denton is president, featured its weekly Tuesday night play at the clubrooms at 1054 East 54th St.

Instructions in duplicate bridge play were presented by tournament director, Robert O. Andrews and Ellis Voils. These instructions are becoming more and more interesting each week. The public is invited to participate.

Eight tables were featured at the regular Friday night play. First honors went to Clyde Maddox and Timothy Buress. Second honors went to Gertrude Settles and Robert O. Andrews.

On February 16 and 17 the Regional Open Teams of Four Play will be featured at the clubrooms. All bridge enthusiasts are urged to bring their partners and join GWBA in an enjoyable evening.

Rainbow Club

When Maxine S. Reed presides at the first business meeting of the new year, in the home of hostess Henerietta Capers, she will discuss aims, ambitions and plans for a forthcoming charity benefit to be given by the Rainbow Bridge and Charity Club.

Golden West Realty Installation Banquet

Golden West Real Estate Board, Inc., last week elected officers for the ensuing year and at the same time arranged to hold its annual installation banquet at Wilfandel Clubhouse.

James Hely, nationally known in the legal profession and advisor on title insurance will be the principal speaker.

The board of directors is composed of Mrs. Pauline Stokley, Mrs. Emma Morris, Mrs. Lobelia Dingee, Mrs. Billie Lynthecom, G. A. Ward, James A. Johnson, Bernard C. Herndon, Allan C. Woodard III and H. A. Howard.

Newly elected officers are: H. A. Howard, president; Emma Morris, 1st vice president; G. A. Ward, 2nd vice president; Feldon Ed Mead, secretary; Lobelia Dingee, financial secretary; Bernard C. Herndon, treasurer, and Allan C. Woodard, parliamentarian and chairman of committee on banquet arrangements.

Edgar Johnson, secretary of the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company, master of ceremonies, and Bernard Jefferson, attorney, will install the officers and directors.

The banquet will take place January 30 at 7:3 0p.m. at 3425 West Adams Blvd.

Regular deadline for all social news is Tuesday of each week at 1 p.m. Pictures and articles must be in the office of the Eagle by 1 o'clock

Mrs. Walton Again Leads Kappa Moms

At the helm of the Kappa Mothers Club for a second term by a unanimous vote is Mrs. Tabitha Walton, well - known leader in religious and social circles.

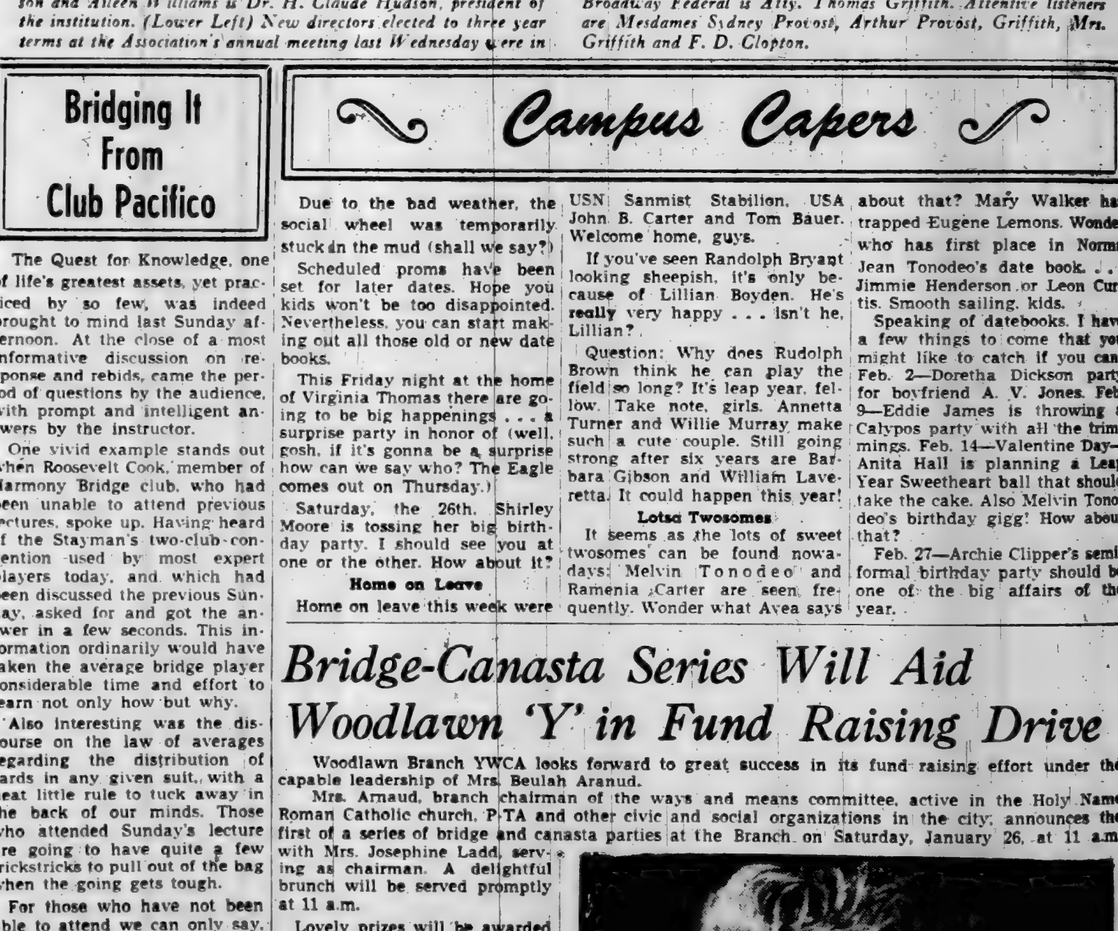
At the home of Mrs. Willie B. Davis, the mothers, who meet once a month, elected also Mrs. Ella Traylor, 1st vice president; Mrs. El Rae Griggs, 2nd vice president; Mrs. Stella Peterson, recording secretary; Mrs. Everill Harwell, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Minnie Boring, treasurer; Mrs. Eldora Jefferson, and Mrs. M. E. Windsor, historian and chaplain, respectively.

Hostesses assisting Mrs. Davis included Mrs. Octavia Green, Mrs. Lucille Coleman, and Mrs. Everill Harwell.

Installation of officers and observance of Frederick Douglass will be on the agenda of the club's February meeting at the home of Mrs. Stella Peterson, at 1918 South Harvard boulevard.

In March, the Mothers will celebrate 22 years of leadership in the city's clubdom.

Members are mothers of men of Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity.



Their chief aim is to create a spirit of friendship among the mothers and help advance the interests of the Kappa men.

Cavalrette Inc.

Closing last year, the Cavalretts, Inc., club held a swank dinner party at the home of Sally Hayes. Mrs. Esther T. Greenly, adviser, acted as Santa Claus and distributed presents from the beautifully decorated tree.

Officers elected in a previous meeting at the home of Jean McNeal will be installed January 31 at the home of Mrs. Kyle with the club president acting as hostess.

Officers to be installed by Mrs. Greenly are Jackie Moore, president; Delphine Elliod, vice-president; Irma Jones, recording secretary; Sally Hayes, corresponding and financial secretary; Benester Fisher, treasurer; Jean McNeal, business manager; Pauline Williams.

Extending a warm welcome to Broadway Federal's open house celebration to Liberty Savings and Loan Association employees Yvonne Johnson and Aileen Williams is Dr. H. Claude Hudson, president of the institution. (Lower Left) New directors elected to three year terms at the Association's annual meeting last Wednesday were in attendance on Sunday. They are, l. to r., H. W. Sanders, vice-president and treasurer Union Oil company, and a director of Union Bank and Trust company; J. Allen Reese, Venice, Calif., and Architect Paul R. Williams (Top Left). Above briefing this personable group of ladies on the functions and services offered at Broadway Federal is Atty. Thomas Griffith. Attentive listeners are Mesdames Sydney Provost, Arthur Provost, Griffith, Mrs. Griffith and F. D. Clopton.

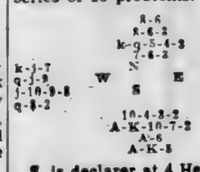
The Quest for Knowledge, one of life's greatest assets, yet practiced by so few, was indeed brought to mind last Sunday afternoon. At the close of a most informative discussion on response and rebids, came the period of questions by the audience, with prompt and intelligent answers by the instructor.



One vivid example stands out when Roosevelt Cook, member of Harmony Bridge club, who had been unable to attend previous lectures, spoke up. Having heard of the Stayman's two-club convention used by most expert players today, and which had been discussed the previous Sunday, asked for and got the answer in a few seconds. This information ordinarily would have taken the average bridge player considerable time and effort to learn not only how but why.

Also interesting was the discourse on the law of averages regarding the distribution of cards in any given suit, with a neat little rule to tuck away in the back of our minds. Those who attended Sunday's lecture are going to have quite a few trickstricks to pull out of the bag when the going gets tough.

For those who have not been able to attend we can only say, if you love the game (and who doesn't) you cannot afford to miss this opportunity to learn the art of playing good bridge, whether beginner or expert.

Club Pacifico invites you to attend these lectures each Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m. at their club room, 107 East Santa Barbara Ave. to hear Robert Lee Johnson, world authority on the game of bridge.

In the meantime: Here is your Hand of the Week. No. 2 of a series of 10 problems.

S. is declarer at 4 Hearts—Jack of Diamonds is led.

NOTE: For the greatest percentage of correct solutions to the problems appearing in this column, you can win $10.00 in cash. No. 1 hand appeared in last week's paper.

Pyramid Club

As a tradition, prizes will be given away at the annual Pyramid Pajama Top Dance which will be held on Friday, February 8, at Park View Manor.

Campus Capers

Due to the bad weather, the social wheel was temporarily stuck in the mud (shall we say?)

Scheduled proms have been set for later dates. Hope you kids won't be too disappointed. Nevertheless, you can start making out all those old or new date books.

This Friday night at the home of Virginia Thomas there are going to be big happenings . . . a surprise party in honor of (well, gosh, if it's gonna be a surprise how can we say who? The Eagle comes out on Thursday.)

Saturday, the 26th. Shirley Moore is tossing her big birthday party. I should see you at one or the other. How about it?

Home on Leave

Home on leave this week were USN Sanmist Stabilion, USA John B. Carter and Tom Bauer. Welcome home, guys.

If you've seen Randolph Bryant looking sheepish, it's only because of Lillian Boyden. He's really very happy . . . isn't he, Lillian?

Question: Why does Rudolph Brown think he can play the field so long? It's leap year, fellow. Take note, girls. Annetta Turner and Willie Murray make such a cute couple. Still going strong after six years are Barbara Gibson and William Laveretta. It could happen this year!

Lotsa Twosomes

It seems as the lots of sweet twosomes can be found nowadays. Melvin Tonodeo and Ramenia Carter are seen frequently. Wonder what Avea says about that? Mary Walker has trapped Eugene Lemons. Wonder who has first place in Norma Jean Tonodeo's date book. . . . Jimmie Henderson or Leon Curtis. Smooth sailing, kids.

Speaking of datebooks. I have a few things to come that you might like to catch if you can: Feb. 2—Doretha Dickson party for boyfriend A. V. Jones. Feb. 9—Eddie James is throwing a Calypos party with all the trimmings. Feb. 14—Valentine Day—Anita Hall is planning a Leap Year Sweetheart ball that should take the cake. Also Melvin Tonodeo's birthday gigg! How about that?

Feb. 27—Archie Clipper's semi-formal birthday party should be one of the big affairs of the year.

Bridge-Canasta Series Will Aid Woodlawn 'Y' in Fund Raising Drive

Woodlawn Branch YWCA looks forward to great success in its fund raising effort under the capable leadership of Mrs. Beulah Aranud.

Mrs. Arnaud, branch chairman of the ways and means committee, active in the Holy Name Roman Catholic church, P.TA and other civic and social organizations in the city, announces the first of a series of bridge and canasta parties at the Branch on Saturday, January 26, at 11 a.m. with Mrs. Josephine Ladd, serving as chairman. A delightful brunch will be served promptly at 11 a.m.

Lovely prizes will be awarded winners in both bridge and canasta. A grand prize trophy donated by the Fentress Press, operated by Mr and Mrs. J. Cullen Fentress, will be awarded to the individual holding the highest score at the end of the series, on February 8 at 8 p.m.

Last two of the series will be held Friday, February 1, and 8, at 8 p.m. Both men and women are invited to participate in this tournament.

For further information please call the office, ADams 1-4103.

Doll League

With the new President, Euvalda Morris, in the chair, the Doll League Charity Club, Inc., outlined and completed the entire schedule of activities for 1952. The enthusiastic members are elated with the mammoth plans for the first affair of the season, which will be the Spring cocktail party — Mrs. Evelyn Royal, chairman, AX. 3-0397.

A delicious supper was served following the business meeting by the hostess, Mrs. Bernice Gilbert. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Sydney Jackson, Sunday, Jan. 27, at 4 p.m.

Send the California Eagle every week to your loved one in the Armed Services. Give him the news from home.

COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN Beulah Arnaud

AT DINNER last week at the Penthouse Club, the Los Angeles Sales Club heard John W. Ernest, instructor of merchandising at Los Angeles City College, talk on "Merchandising and Business Trends of 1952." The fast growing organization, composed of salesmen, public relations and advertising representatives, was framed last year to help develop salesmanship, create bigger job opportunities and to assist major firms in exploring the multi-million-dollar Negro Market here in Southern California. Daniel V. Sawyer, district manager of Universal Life Insurance Company, installed the newly elected officers. Pictured above, reading clockwise, left to right—Willa Booker, Marjorie Greene, Mrs. Lynson Edwards, Odessa Gaskill, executive committee member; Mattie L. Brooks, recording secretary; Ethel January, Marjorie G. Giles, corresponding secretary. Standing—B. Lane Ashmore, Carl Haley, Frank Terry, executive committee member; Ike Adams, executive committee member; John W. Ernst, principal speaker; Leon H. Hardwick, president; David Washington, sergeant-at-arms; Bob Strather, treasurer; Michael Ellington, vice president; A. Murray, Daniel Sawyer and Crlan Staten.

California Eagle

Published Every Thursday

The Eagle stands for complete integration of Negroes into every phase of American life through the democratic processes.

We favor:

1. FEPC on local, state and national levels.
2. Decent housing for all Americans.
3. The President's Civil Rights Program.
4. Adequate old age pensions and social security.
5. Collective bargaining rights for all workmen.
6. Development and encouragement of Negro business.

We oppose:

1. Jim Crow in all forms.
2. Communists and all other enemies of democracy.

Editorial

Look at the Issue

Unless the Supreme Court holds that the city can't back out on its contract to build 10,000 low-cost housing units, the voters of Los Angeles are going to get a chance to uphold or disapprove the program next June 3.

Frankly, we're a little concerned about the outcome of that vote. We've been through too many campaigns in which worthy measures were buried beneath an avalanche of dollar-bought lies to feel any glow of optimism about the outcome.

The people who are opposed to this low-rent housing plan are the same persons who opposed FEPC, to take an example, when that measure was on the ballot. They had millions of dollars to spend and they bought billboard and newspaper space, radio time with which they succeeded in so confusing the issue that FEPC was slaughtered at the polls. On that dishonor roll were the various Chambers of Commerce, the Realty Boards, the Merchants and Manufacturers Association, and every other special-interest clique and claque in the state.

The stakes are high in this housing fight. The city has accumulated housing sites all over the city. Somebody is going to build dwellings on those sites. The private interests are fairly drooling at the mouth at the spectacle of the money they can make if they can lay hands on the land the city has bought.

There's more than money in the deal, too. The private real estate interests still believe in residential segregation. They know full well that if the City Housing Authority builds on these sites there won't be any segregation or discrimination and that every citizen will be judged on the basis of his needs, without reference to his skin color or the place of his national origin.

On the other hand, segregation is the rule in private housing developments with the exception of those built at the edge of existing Negro communities. If the private developers get the housing sites they will insist on segregation.

What it all adds up to is the fact that no group in Los Angeles has a larger stake in defeating the proposal to abandon the public housing program than Negro voters. The task is going to be that of getting to these people and of cutting through the tissue of untruths and half-truths that will be trotted out to befuddle them.

Long experience with facts, not theories, has demonstrated to Negroes a thousand times over that private industry can't and won't answer their housing needs. And that is true whether the problem is viewed from the standpoint of need for dwellings or whether the issue of segregation is taken into account. If Negro voters will just keep those two items in mind they will defeat all attempts to force the city to back out of the 10,000-unit program on which it has embarked.

Where Do You Stand, Ike?

Now that Five-Star General Eisenhower is an avowed candidate for President he ought to clear up his stand on issues that concern the American people.

One of the things we would like to know from the general is just where he stands on the controversial civil rights question. He hasn't said much about the matter one way or another but the only time he touched on it he stuck his foot in his mouth.

That was the time he appeared before a Senate committee and was questioned on the matter of integration of Negroes in the armed forces. What came out was something of a hybrid position in which the general seemed to say that he was for segregation up to the platoon level.

One of the reasons he assigned for his stand was the proposition that unless there was a measure of Jim Crow, Negro soldiers wouldn't stand a chance of reaching the rank of officers. That, it seems to us, betrayed the fact that the general isn't yet ready to accept Negro officers as superiors of white troops. The general finally wound up with a feeble defense of the outworn dogma that the time isn't yet ripe for according Negroes that full measure of citizenship to which they are entitled under the constitution.

Another circumstance that makes us less than ready to parade through the streets for the Eisenhower candidacy is the fact that the South seems so willing to accept him with open arms. The southerners, we're told in every newspaper we read, are all for the general as president. Whether that's due to some secret commitment on his part or whether it's traceable to the theory that any man who has risen through the Army's old rigid segregation system is safe for Jim Crow, we don't know. We do know that it makes us a little leery.

In any event we are fairly certain that Negro voters aren't going to flock to the Eisenhower standard unless he makes it plain that he understands that securing democracy here at home is as important as defeating the enemies of democracy in western Europe.

The Quicker the Better

We're all for the proposal to recall Board of Education members Olin Darby and J. Paul Elliott. Of course, if they are found guilty of the sins of omission or commission which each is charged in Superior Court, the problem will be solved. They'll both be out.

The tragedy of the matter is that Mr. Darby and Mr. Elliott have both chosen to cling to their posts in the face of circumstances that would have led more sensitive public servants to bow out. We think that neither of them has any business on the board and that both of them ought to quit. If they won't quit and if they're able to wriggle out of the charges lodged against them in their pending court hearings, we think the recall should be pushed and pushed vigorously.

We're not as keen on the proposal to recall Paul Burke, president of the Board. After all, he was only elected last summer and even if he isn't living up to what some of his supporters had hoped, it seems to us that he ought to be permitted to serve out his term, unless of course he betrays the trust reposed in him.

The recall is a powerful weapon in the hands of the voters but it is one that shouldn't be abused. No public official should be subject to a recall every time he makes a mistake, or does something that some group of voters thinks is a mistake.

We're at odds with Mr. Burke on his stand on federal aid to education and either he has been badly misquoted in daily newspapers or he isn't very astute but we don't think that his mistaken stand is going to stay the wheels of progress or that he ought to be retired from public life because of it. Nor are we enamored of his views that Board members should be permitted to make contracts with the Board or represent others who do. We think the present rule forbidding all such transactions is a salutary cannon of conduct but again we don't think that his position is such that Mr. Burke ought to be recalled.

A recall election should be directed against Darby and Elliott, if they don't quit or aren't forced out, and we're ready to do what we can to see that they are kicked off the Board.

Roy Wilkins'

The Watch Tower

The sensitive white South is upset by Carl Rowan's article in LOOK magazine for January 15 entitled, "The South—How Far From Slavery?" Mr. Rowan, who is colored, is a staff reporter on the Minneapolis, Minn., (daily) Tribune, owned by the Cowles publishing firm which also owns LOOK.

The shortest description of Mr. Rowan's findings after a trip through the South is in the magazine sub-caption which reads: "A Negro Goes Back South and Finds Jim Crow Going But Not Gone." Rowan found that while upper-level progress has been made, and court decisions have afirmed new rights, not much progress has seeped down to the Negro masses.

Nearly all the old insults are still there. Nearly all the limitations upon opportunity remain. Poverty and ignorance and white supremacy are all about. Here and there an improvement, here and there a gleam of hope, now and again some enlightened white people trying to do better, but, by and large the Negro masses having the same old struggle.

John Temple Graves, well-known columnist for the Birmingham, Ala., Post, is infuriated by the LOOK article. He calls it "wanton and vicious misrepresentation." He says the story is a "falsehood" and that LOOK has libeled a whole region. He says southern Negroes have made progress, but that now the outsiders who have helped them, but who now misrepresent the picture, are threatening the progress by planting race hatred.

This would by funny if it were not so tragic. The South still employs terror and murder against Negroes, and John Temple Graves knows it. Policemen still shoot Negroes down on the slightest pretext, and one of the worst police forces in the entire South, if not the entire nation, is in Birmingham, Ala., where John Temple Graves writes his daily column. The upturned earth is still fresh on the new graves of Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Moore in Florida, blown to death by a bomb on Christmas night. At the moment the eyes of the nation are upon the bombings in Florida, but we Negroes do not forget that Birmingham has had a longer and more vicious series of home bombings than any city in the South.

Graves complains that Rowan was like Ray Sprigle, the white reporter for a Pittsburgh, Pa., daily, who "passed for colored" and made a trip through the South. Graves says they both saw what they intended to see.

Well, John Temple Graves cannot possibly judge the findings of these men. There is no way in God's world for him to understand what a Negro has to undergo, how a Negro feels, in the white world of Dixie, U.S.A. No matter how much sympathy a white man may have, he cannot help but view things from the white side of the fence.

Rowan and the others have told the truth, the truth as only a Negro living in white Dixie could know it. The outward adjustment that Negroes have made to an intolerably inhuman situation has deceived Graves and all the other apologists. In the resignation of the Negro they see "racial peace and harmony." In Negro laughter they see contentment. In the easy double-talk of Negroes they see satisfaction with the status quo. They are so wrong, and but for a sort of tuning in with the Infinite, Negroes long ago would have killed themselves (and a good many white folks) in a nation-wide blood bath.

Lester B. Granger's

Battle Axe & Bread

It doesn't take very long for disaster to become commonplace, when the physical results can be kept out of sight. There was a time when the American public was revolted by news of Hitler's mass murder of five million Jews within the space of six years—a record for murderous speed that has been approached only by the Soviet Union, under Lenin and Stalin. For a time our daily press bled anguishedly over the sufferings that resulted from Nazi pogroms in Germany, Poland and other parts of Middle Europe under the dictator's heel. In the war's wake there were gruesome stories of life in the displaced persons' camps; appeals weer made for the world to assume responsibility for these victims of Hitlerism. Then the public's senseof shock wore off; the excitement died down; today there is a half-scornful connotation in the phrase, "displaced person," as if a DP somehow should be a bit ashamed of himself.

I was reminded of this ability-to-forget when I visited Kansas City a couple of weeks ago. Perhaps I should say, the Kansas Citys, for my friends, Mr. and Mrs. Dowdal Davis, drove my wife and myself around both Kansas City, Missouri, and Kansas City, Kansas, to show us the results that could still be observed of the tremendous flood that devastated several square miles of both cities. I had been in Kansas City, Missouri, for two days and had heard only casual reference to the recent flood except in the Urban League's offices. The flooded areas along the river bank were out of sight from the business and residential areas frequented by most visitors. There was absolutely nothing about the city to make anyone think that a gigantic disaster had struck it, not even in the columns of the Kansas City Star.

And yet, only a few weeks earlier the flood waters had swirled up from the river, overran its banks and come charging through the streets and stockyards and residential blocks ner the river. The water level had reached the second floor of business buildings. The stockyard pens had been inundated; thousands of animals were swept to their death ,to float away, bloated and stinking. Uncountable tons of silt had been carried by the water inside the building and, as the waters receded, remained behind to become black masses of mud five feet deep, left on first and second floors to be dug out. The flood's progress can still be followed with ease—by the mud, the remains of buildings, split by the rush of waters and piled haphazardly like kindling wood left by an idiot child. Or by the signs that are posted on the houses remaining, "Condemned," as unsafe for further living—a minimum safeguard to prevent ignorant or callous attempts to reconvert the shattered hulks into places of residence.

There is no visible record of the human suffering, the anguish caused by Nature's successful foray against feeble Man. There were the newspaper stories of deaths and injuries, of courageous and self-sacrificing acts, of homelessness and exposure, of loss of savings and resultant despair. The Red Cross is still being commended as having done a magnificent job, "regardless of race, color or creed." But one has to look at those homes leaning crazily off-balance, and lying squashed flat like crushed insects—one has to drive by and peer at the hard-caked mud in upper-story rooms that were once familyl bed-rooms, or look at pathetic curtains re-hung at the windows of the few houses that are still useable, to get even a glimmering of understanding of what happened to the thousands of families whose whole way of life was suddenly twisted when the flood waters rose.

And in many cases, permanently twisted. For a considerable proportion of the "displaced persons" 'are too old, or too defeated, ever to recover from the shock of losing everything they owned. Some of them, I am told, are still numbed by thei rexperience — are suffering from "flood-shock" that shows no sign o fabatement. From the emergency services of the Red Cross, they have been turned over to the welfare authorities; some of them will remain public charges for the rest of their lives.

And meanwhile, their plight, like the rest of the disaster, grows more commonplace each day to the rest of the city. After a while, if we are not careful, they, too, will become conscious of a half-scornful connotation in the phrase, "flood victims."

Why Not Throw The Right Joe?

"FOR WHITES ONLY"

HOUSTON, Texas—Some white people offend without intent.

This column is meant for those whites who would not deliberately insult you and me, but do so when they refer to us as something that falls somewhere between "Negro" and "n——r." It sometimes amounst to "Negra" or "Negre" or thereabouts.

Whites who have to deal with Negroes should know that anything short of "Negro" is definitely offensive to us, and if for some reason the term is difficult to reach, "colored" is an easy substitute. It is likely that too many whites have always used the term "n——r" in reference to us.

Further, there are certainly those who have come out of environments which have provided no other usage of this racial designation than that which we detest. A vast lot of these, I am sure, would not elect to offend, if they only knew.

Regardless of the causes for this misuse of our tag, those whites who wish to sell us cars, ideas, programs for community betterment, must learn that once they flat the word "Negro" into "Negra" or "Negre" we lose the sales point, while we wait the coming of "n——r."

I have seen as much happen on too many occasions. Only the other day, I listened to a report by a school administrator —it was a good report, issued in all sincerity, to be sure. But, unfortunately, the reporter did not or could not say "Negro." His pronunciation was in the in-between.

And so was his audience.

Awhile back, I had a hand in a tribute to the first president of the Republic of Liberia. A now former governor of the Commonwealth of Virginia had set aside a day in honor of Joseph Jenkins Roberts, the first president of Liberia.

When a national network offered airtime for a program in conjunction with Virginia's tribute to Liberia, this governor graciously accepted a role on the broadcast. His address exemplified his pride of participation. He was happy to have been a party to a state honor to the first president of Liberia.

No other state could claim the first chief executive of two newly founded republics — Virginia could in George Washington, first president of the United States, and Joseph Jenkins Roberts, first president of the Republic of Liberia.

The governor liked his assignment and his quite scholarly manuscript showed that he had spared no pains in seeing that he had a good presentation for that Joseph Jenkins Roberts Day broadcast. But he lost his audience—gradually through twelve minutes he slipped from Negro down, down and almost to "n——r."

Very few persons in the studio audience, of the Negroes present, nor the Virginia State College choir, which occupied the studio with the governor, got the real import of that excellent address. It was reflected in the singing of that wonderful choir. The kids lost spirit. The studio audience faded.

I suggested to the governor's secretary that he spell it . . . NEGROW.

While on the subject, Negroes feel that the word "Negro" deserves a big "n" and that their names should have handles. In many instances, members of your race who must deal with whites never use their first names. Instead, they use initials. So if he's Sam A. Jones, he will likely use S. A. Jones. You get it.

I have written this not for you, but if you wish to pass it on to someone who needs it—you have my blessings.

THE APE IN OUR HOUSE
By Cathy Hayes

Viki, a chimpanzee, was three days old when she was taken in by the Hayes family to be raised just as a human child should be. It was part of a psychological study in chimp intelligence. But Viki soon became as much a personality as an experiment to her foster "parents," as Mrs. Hayes charmingly relates in her sympathetic description of the first three years of life with Viki. Neither a pet nor a substitute child, the baby chimp emerges as an individual in her own right, intelligent, mischievous, eager to learn, and eternally endearing.

THE SERPENT-WREATHERED STAFF
By Alice Tisdale Hobart

Through two doctor brothers, opposing in modern medicine are mirrored in the latest novel of this very popular writer. Alan is the exponent of preventive medicine, flat fees, and, in a general way, socialized medicine. His brother Sam hold firmly to the prerogatives of medicine as a private career. Perhaps the author loads the dice too much in Alan's favor—his adventurous clinic work contrasts with Sam's selfishness and arogance. Still, the book is an interesting study of a burning problem in the modern world.

Want To Be An Actor?

(Last of a Series)

Marietta Canty is a most unsual young woman on three counts. She has a minimum of frustrations, she does not think the world owes her a living and she began her acting career by playing the mother of a man who was actually twice her age.

No, Marietta does not look at the world through rose-colored glasses. Years of little theatre, summer stock and a few turns on Broadway and Marietta discarded the rose-colored specks and started looking the world dead in the eye."

MARIETTA CANTY

"How has Hollywood treated you, Miss Canty?" This dull and uninspired question began our interview.

"I can't kick too much. I came to Los Angeles in 1939 with "Kiss the Boys Goodbye." In 1941, Francis Lederer sent for me to come to San Francisco to play in "No Time for Comedy." After the close of the play he advised me to try Hollywood, gave me the name and a letter of introduction to an agent (and incidentally I still have the same one) and literally pushed me down toward Hollywood."

"Then you are satisfied with the roles you've had in Hollywood?"

"Satisfied? Maybe that word covers too much territory. I am grateful for the many roles that have come my way. Since 1941 I have averaged from four to six pictures a year with contracts that called for from three to six weeks' work in each picture. There was only one year when I had any financial worry at all and that was from 1949 to 1950. Last year smoothed out again for me."

She paused and a slight frown puckered her forehead. "That word 'satisfied' bothers me. You see, I have been cast in character roles, mostly maids, governesses and the like. I'd like a dramatic role in pictures like the one I did in 'Florence' for the Negro Art Theater. I'd like to do the story of the young Mary McLeod Bethune when she was struggling to found her college at Daytona Beach, or I'd even settle for the story of the midwife who became the subject of an article in Life a few months ago.

"You stagnate when you become too satisfied. Struggle is the law of survival and I hope to be around for a long time; so while I have my eyes peeled for a juicy dramatic role, I don't discount the many roles I have had that have enabled me to help my family in Hartford, give my nieces music lessons, put an oil furnace in our family home, and give my mother a trip to Hollywood.

"There are many things I'd like to see Hollywood do. I'd like a picture showing a Negro family living next door to a white family—a common situation in many parts of the country. I'd like to see a Negro traffic cop or an intergration of office workers such as you see in our own state and federal buildings.

"There are many things that we in pictures can do ourselves to bring dignity to our characterizations. I remember when I was making 'Johnny Comes Flying Home,' the director insisted on dialect. I didn't argue with him. I asked him a question. I asked him the setting and the time of the story. He said it was after World War II, the locale could be Chicago or any city in the Middle West. If this were a period picture you would be right in insisting on dialect, I told him, but a young woman of today in that locality wouldn't speak with a dialect. She would have had to go to school until at least the eighth grade. She would speak ordinary everyday Middle Western English. I won my point."

Marietta came from a family of five children. Her father, Henry Carl Canty, was head custodian at the Municipal Building in Hartford, Conn., Marietta's birthplace. After high school, Marietta went into Lincoln Hospital for training but gave it up to follow her brother, James, into little theater. Holley Reynolds came to Hartford from the New York stage and organized the Charles Gilpin Dramatic Club. James, one of its most enthusiastic members, finally gave up acting to become a lawyer, but not before Marietta had fallen in love with the footlights.

As a member of the Hall Johnson Choir her first Broadway show was "Run Little Chillun." She played the role of Bessie Ola Hicks. In summer stock she played Berkshire, White Plains, all over the New England states with such Broadway stars as Ilka Chase, Ruth Gordon, Betty Field, Ezra Stone, Gene Tierney, Paul McGrath, and June Walker. Every year except the year of 1948 she has played the season at La Jolla with such stage and screen notables as Gregory Peck, Joseph Cotton, Mel Ferrer, Jennifer Jones, and Dorothy McGuire.

In Miami she became the first Negro ever to perform on the same stage with white actors. This was at the Gant Gaither Theater. The play was "No Time for Comedy." The star—Francis Lederer.

In between pictures Marietta enters into community life. She has citations for work with the Red Cross and the Community Chest, is superintendent of her Sunday school and is secretary for Sojourner Truth Home.

She has played in numerous folk dramas — "In Abraham's Bosom" and "Emperor Jones." In "Rain" she played Ameena, the Polynesian wife of Joe Horn. Among her best pictures are "Sunday Dinner for a Soldier," "The Lady Is Willing," "Lady in the Dark," "Heavenly Body," "The Valentino Story," "Father of the Bride," "Father's Little Dividend" and "Dear Ruth." She is currently working in "Dream Boat."

If Marietta Canty has run up against a stone wall in Hollywood you can bet your last dime she hasn't used it to wail against. With each performance she has tried to enlarge her circle of friends and while she is working she is hoping that some writer will write a story that will allow her to use her vast experience to do a moving, dramatic story of a Negro woman.

Margaret Bonds, Young Pianist In Town Hall Debut

NEW YORK—Margaret Bonds, noted young Pianist and Composer whose concerts have attracted the attention of some of the major music critics of the United States and Canada in recent months will be presented in her first Town Hall recital here on Thursday evening, February 7th. Immediately following her concert she will fly direct to Cleveland, Ohio for a Negro History Week recital in cooperation with Poet, Langston Hughes and Baritone, Dan Andrews under the auspices of the Phyllis Wheatley Association.

Miss Bonds received her education at Northwestern University where she obtained both the bachelors and masters degrees in piano and composition. She has continued her study privately with Djane Lavoie Herz in Piano, and Roy Harris in composition. Henry Levine is her coach.

She has been the recipient of a Rosenwald Fellowship, Rodman Wanamaker National Prize, Chicago Musical College Fellowship, Northwestern Conservatory Fellowship, and two awards from her sorority, Alpha Kappa Alpha.

THE DEEPS

The Deep River Boys, internationally famous singing group, who just returned home earlier this month from a triumphant six-months tour of England and the British Isles, already have a solid lineup of overseas bookings for 1952, it was announced by W. T. (Ed) Kirkeby, their personal manager.

Witherspoon Heads Fast-Moving Club Alabam Show

The new Club Alabam, the hottest spot in town, presents a fast moving floor show this week for its many fun-loving patrons. Headed by Jimmy Witherspoon, the show presents the tops in nite club entertainment in the city.

Backed by Calvin Boze's band, and a high stepping chorus of lovely brownskin beauties, the show gets off to a fast start and never lets down until the 'Spoon crys his last note.

The girls of the ensemble, Donna Jean, Fannie Buford, Peggy Melton, Francis Neely, and Harriet Simpson, present some spectacular routines. Johnny Nelson is a novelty tap dancer par excellance, and Iona Wade, the little girl with the big voice, sets the patrons right in the mood for rocking blues of Witherspoon.

The 'Spoon really breaks it up, several old favorites and some new ones.

The versatile band of Calvin Boze gives a solid backing to the high-class show, and entertains with several novelty numbers. Between shows the band plays some very danceable music.

Nat Cole Wins New York Poll

NEW YORK—Nat "King" Cole, leader of the famed King Cole trio, has been named winner in the 1951 Harlem popularity poll conducted by Schenley Distributors, Inc., during August in 400 Brooklyn and Harlem taverns. He drew 38,354 votes.

K. H. Seidel, brand advertising manager for Schenley, announced the final standings after an independent research organization had double-checked the more than 112,000 ballots cast. Unexpected heavy voting during the last week of the contest delayed announcement of the official results.

Tom Harrington, Schenley's metropolitan New York sales manager, presented Cole with a check for $2,500. Under the contest rules, the winner was to select his favorite charity as recipient of the gift. Cole decided that he would split his prize evenly between the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund and the W. C. Handy Foundation for the Blind.

In addition to the $2,500 check, Schenley gave Cole a solid gold watch, suitably inscribed, as his personal token of victory.

The popular musician won out over a field of eight contestants that included Dusty Fletcher, Cab Calloway, Willie Bryant, Illinois Jacquet, Buddy Johnson, Lucky Millinder and Louis Jordan.

Singer on NBC Talent Show

NEW YORK CITY—A recent participant on the National Broadcasting Company's radio talent-testing program, "Live Like a Millionaire" was Negro singer Ollie Jackson of Tyler, Texas. Jackson was introduced to program emcee Jack McCoy by his "talent sprout" daughter, and although he did not win top honors succeeded in captivating his audience.

Jackson was sent to New York to further his musical career by his Tyler neighbors who collected funds to finance the venture. He made a hit with the studio audience after the broadcast by distributing among them 25 dozen roses, which were flown up from Tyler for the occasion.

The program is designed to give adults an opportunity to display their talents. Parents are introduced by the offspring and the participant topping the applause meter becomes grand prize winner of the week. Prizes include an RCA Victor television set, a week long vacation for the winner and his family, jewelry and a week's interest on $1,000,000.

Good Luck, Bob Ellis

The Eagle Theatrical Editor, Bob Ellis, has realized the dream of all theatrical writers. He has signed a long term contract with RKO studios as a writer. By the terms of his contract, Ellis cannot write for other publications. We will miss his brilliant interviews and militant articles on the problems of Negroes in Show Business.

Good luck Bob, and may the green pastures stay greener.

THAT MARRIED LOOK — Mr. and Mrs. Louis Jordan relax in a New York night club following the famous bandleader's recent decision to take a long rest. Jordan married the former Florence Hayes Johnson of Chicago in Providence, R. I., Nov. 14. They met in Detroit several years ago. She is a former dancer.

SAX-SATIONAL — Sonny Criss, alto sax star, will play many moving interpretations of modern jazz this Friday night at Music Town, Jefferson and Normandie. Other musical satelites will be featured with "BLISS" CRISS.

Louis Jordan Guest On NBC Television

Louis Jordan and his entire aggregation of top drawer musicians joined the star-studded cast of the NBC Texaco Star Theater last week. Televiewers were treated to one of Louis' smooth instrumentals and one of the saxophonist's latest novelty tunes, "A Woman Is a Three-Handed Thing."

Other guests on the full-hour show, which stars Milton "Mr. Television" Berle, included Vivian Blaine of the Broadway hit "Guys and Dolls" and columnist Dorothy Kilgallen.

Lyric Soprano in So. Calif. Debut

Geraldine Farmer, lyric soprano of San Francisco, who is making her Southern California debut in the Manual Arts High School auditorium February 9 will be assisted by the distinguished pianist, Stephanie Shehatovich.

Miss Shehatovich was introduced to the public at the age of eleven playing Rimsky-Korsakoff's piano concerto with the Rochester Symphony Orchestra. She attracted the attention of George Eastman, and through his generosity was sent to New York to study with Leopold Geodowsky.

Concert engagements followed, and after a successful California tour the interest taken in her unusual gifts by a group of sponsors headed by the late Albert Bender made possible extensive studies in Europe. In Paris she studied under Alfred Cortot; in Vienna with Emile Von Sauer.

Following numerous appearances throughout the continent —Vienna, Dresden, Berlin, and Paris Miss Shehatovich returned to America for a triumphant performance with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

In addition to accompanying Miss Farmar the audience will hear Miss Shehatovich in two solo numbers. She will play Chopin's Etude, Opus 10, No. 3 and The Three Mary Stars by Villa-Lobos.

Send the California Eagle every week to your loved one in the Armed Services. Give him the news from home.

KING ENROUTE HOME—Jimmy McCracklin, piano playing blues singer, and his Blues Blasters are enroute to California and home at Richmond, with the highly coveted diadem symbolic of supremacy in the blues world of Texas. The Richmond, California crew unseated the current king, Clarence "Gatemouth" Brown, in a hectic battle at Houston's Municipal Auditorium last week. Jimmy is officially acclaimed by Texans as "King of the Blues." Brown won the title a year ago in a battle with the nationally famous recording artist, T-Bone Walker.

Sepia Cinderella Set For Bill Robinson

"Sepia Cinderella," an all-Negro filmusical coming soon to the Bill Robinson Theater, is one of those rare combinations of good tunes, good story and outstanding performances.

The musical score is by Charlie Shavers, featured trumpeter with the Tommy Dorsey band, and several fine tunes are smoothly handled by John Kirby and his All-Star Band which features such top men as "Big Sid" Catlett and Charlie Shavers.

The romantic interest is handled by Billy Daniels and Sheila Guyse.

Also seen are Tondaleyo, Apus and Estellita, Deek Watson and his Brown Dots, Leonard and Zolo and many other top flight performers.

Sepia Cinderella is scheduled at the Bill for one week starting Wednesday, January 30th. Second half of program will be "Another Man's Poison" with Bette Davis.

Jo Baker Enjoys Chitterling Feed

Josephine Baker, the toast of three continents, and one of the most fabulous women in the world today, is really a home girl at heart. At a special invitation from Julius "Stuff" Gordon, La Baker visited the Turban Room and had dinner with Crouch. Succulent chitterlings was the special treat Crouch had prepared specially for Baker, and did she love them. Oooh, la la! "Nothing in France can touch them," cried Baker happily between mouthfuls.

Rahn Returns To Broadway In New Show

NEW YORK—Muriel Rahn, concert and opera star, returned to Broadway on Wednesday with the new music-drama "Come of Age" starring the great American actress, Judith Anderson. The show, which opened its pre-Broadway run in Hartford, Conn., is playing at the New York City Center of Music and Drama, under the aegis of one of Broadway's greatest producing directors, Guthrie McClintic.

Miss Rahn's last fling at Broadway was in November, 1950, when she was co-starred with Lawrence Tibbett in "The Barrier," a short-lived modern opera by Langston Hughes and Jan Meyerowitz. In her new vehicle she is a supporting player to Judith Anderson and is completely integrated on a social level into the play without reference to race.

Speaking of her role in "Come of Age" this week, she said to a reporter, "It is not a heavy role as such, but it is the kind of thing that would make Talmadge pull his hair out if he ever saw it."

Music As I Hear It

By NETTA PAULLYN GARNER

The ballet, for many seasons a cultural expression for the most sophisticated musical tastes, has become an accepted fixture in our musical life. The first Negro classic ballet, founded about four years ago by Joseph Rickard, who created all the choreography, has done much to cultivate our interest in this art. The first ballet will give performances at the San Gabriel Mission Playhouse starting January 24 throughout Thursday, Friday and Saturday, under the auspices of this Community Theatre. We have grown to know Bernice Harrison, Yvonne Mille, Graham Johnson and Theodore Crum for their constant study, serious efforts and pleasing results.

Janet Collins, our local danseuse, who has soared to unbelievable heights in this medium of the ballet, has proven a stimulus for this and all balletists to come.

Speaking of the newer fields of musical culture, Margery Tucker, oneof our better known piano teachers and accordionist of marked ability, has been chosen a member of the staff of one of the permanent TV studios in Hollywood. She is included in the screen presentations as well as building continuity programs. Her musical preparation has fitted her for this resourceful position.

The harpischord, unfamiliar by reason of the scarcity of these instruments on the west coast, was played by one of the world's most distinguished harpischordists, Dr. Alice Ehlers. She is a professor of music at the University of Southern California and a pioneer in this particular field of musical expression. Her meticulous playing has contributed in a very large measure to the cultivation of the public taste for music by Bach and other 18th Century composers.

This week she played the harpischord solo part of the "Petite Symphonie Concertante," written by Frank Martin, a Swiss composer for harp, harpischord, piano and two string orchestras with Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra. To disrupt the physical plan of this large orchestra is a bold procedure, but the convincing rightness of this presentation made the physical reorganization a rewarding adventure for this contemporary work. This piece is designed after the 18th century concerto grosso model but the pattern has been varied so successfully that it is almost never reminiscent of that era and cannot easily be compared to music of any other composer. Sibley Boyes at the piano, Stanley Chaloupka at the harp, and Alfred Wallenstein conducting, turned in a brilliant performance.

Ray Dudley, a young pianist from Toronto, made his West Coast debut in recital in the Wilshire Ebell Theater this week. He is representative of the younger generation of talent and gives every indication of becoming a successful public performer. His flair for tone color is comparable with that of the Valdimar Horowitz of some seasons back. This writer heard the latter in successful concerts in the different musical centers of Europe with very little programmatic variation in his recitals but every concert was an improvement in tone color and a more firmly knit presentation, perfect was the result.

Dudley at the present stage gives every indication of a musician of serious intent by his forthright playing of Beethoven. In the Wallenstein sonata he courageously held to the text, with little of his own interpretation. He was at his best in the smaller works by Beckwith and Barber's "Four Excursions."

Naulls, Johnson Lead Pedro to City Cage Title

By BRAD PYE, JR.

HOLLYWOOD HIGH—All of Poly's hopes for winning the All-City cage championship that weren't washed away by last week's deluge were virtually washed out by San Pedro's one-two punch of the great Willie Naulls and dynamic little Sam Johnson, here Tuesday night as the two led the Pirates to their first city title in the history of the school by a 50-43 margin.

Willie, the top scorer in the town and also top point-getter in the tourney, was the high-point man for Pedro with 22. Johnson hit the mark for 14.

Naulls, the well over six-footer, was cool under fire. In the words of Jeff's great "B" football mentor Bert Watson, "That boy Naulls is the best player that I saw in the tournament. He was as loose as a goose."

In the early stages of the game, when Poly placed two men on Naulls, versatile little Sammy Johnson kept the Pirates in the money. In picking a hero of the game this writer will make it a toss-up between the two.

Larry Hanson's remarkably great Jefferson high "B" team put on a great show in the preliminary game in downing Hamilton, 97-35, for the "B" city title, establishing a new city scoring record.

Had Hanson chosen to play the first club of Johnnie Thomas, Remejio Alvarez, Bruce Tate, Lawrence Williams, and Henry Hariston, more, the count would have even been greater. The other Democrats that helped in the onslaught were Henry Howard, Virgil Patterson, Robert LeGrand, Thomas Gilcrest, Karl Robinson, Maurice Robinson, and Robert Stafford. Thomas, Alvarez, Hariston should be great aids for the varsity club come next year.

Poly's Morris Taft, All-Northern League "Player of the Year," Leonard, Pollard, and Arthur Glover, were stellar even in defeat. Each contributed 13, 11, and 3 points, respectively.

SLOW BOUT—Lightweight Champ Jimmy Carter swaps blows with Mario Trigo of Los Angeles (right) in their 10-round bout in Philadelphia for an unpopular decision.

THREE CHAMPIONS—Three boxing champions who will be on hand at the Sports Testimonial, January cvst at the Club Alabam are John Thomas, Joe Louis and Chalky Wright. A host of star performers in the athletic world will be on hand to enjoy the festivities.

Battey, Dugan, Taft Selected Player of Year

Jordan's great Earl Battey, SSA reporter for the Examiner, Morris Taft, the Poly High upset Kid, and Manual's fine center Larry Dugan were selected "Player of the Year" in their respective leagues by the Scholastic Sports Association this week.

These three lads along with the other award winners will receive scrolls Saturday at a banquet at Helms Hall.

Battey, rated as the greatest cager in the history of Jordan led his team to its first loop crown in 29 years. Dugan was cited for his stellar play in leading the Toilers to the Southern League crown.

Morris Taft, star of the upset Kids of Poly High terrorized all Northern league opponents in establishing a new mark for a guard averaging 17.2 points a game. The Taft lad is the No. 1 factor in the Poly success.

Globetrotters Heading West

They are known as the Harlem Globetrotters, and have made that name famous in all parts of the globe—yet there isn't a single man-jack on the team who hails from, or lives in Harlem.

The Trotters, now in their 25th year as a team, start their local festivities this season at the Shrine Auditorium next Friday—on February 1st, to be exact. They'll play a benefit game for the Mt. Sinai Hospital, a most worthy and deserving institution.

Two days later, they shift their activities to the West Side for a brace of games at the Pan Pacific: one on Sunday afternoon, February 3rd, the other on Monday evening, Feb. 4th.

Rawlings Eyes Title Bout–With Carter

CHICAGO—Luther Rawlings, of Chicago, has great hopes of meeting Lightweight Champ Jimmy Carter in a title bout February 20 after his popular fifth-round t.k.o. over Los Angeles's Enrique Bolanos here Wednesday night.

The Rawlings man is rated No. 1 contender for the lightweight crown.

Army Makes Fly Catch on Mays

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — Willie Mays, outstanding rookie centerfielder for the National League champs, the New York Giants, will be called into the service soon.

Mays was accepted for the armed forces in a second test at the pre-induction center here this week. He was rejected when he failed an aptitude test last October.

The 20-year-old Mays said he hoped to be assigned to the Army to play ball for a service team.

Galleryite's Views On Boxing

By FRANK DONOVAN

It is the anomalous aspects of boxing and not television, that make its promotion a vexatious problem and a hazardous commercial venture.

Obviously, fighters come in two categories, punchers and boxers; but save in rare individual cases, the punchers can't box and the boxers can't punch.

The same abnormal situation prevails in the realm of baseball; some players can field, but can't hit, and vice versa.

This lamentable discrepancy makes fighters, who have in most cases, but a mere smattering of ring lore only about 50 per cent efficient, and when employed, detracts commensurably from their pulling power at the gate, much to the discomfiture of the hapless promoters, who face bankruptcy, because of their charges lack of the requisites, inseparable from the attainment of the coveted commercial objective.

On the other hand, in sharp contrast, the versatile, resourceful fighter, being in a class by himself for general proficiency and commercial value, never fails to impress and wins the exacting captious fight fraternity's unqualified endorsement. The typical, inane performance of all the others, who are like square pegs in round holes, is stamped with inadequacy, mediocrity and inefficiency, much to the cash customers' chagrin and disillusionment.

The ideal fighter, whose efficient services are always in demand, is a hard-hitting counter-puncher who can take it. The aggressive, vulnerable novices, successively, arrayed against him futilely essay, to their detriment, to crowd and vanquish him in the ring; but his poise and masterful dominance prove a formidable deterrent and they'll ignominously succumb to his wily, adroit maneuvering and the astute wizardry of his ring generalship.

These ideal fighters, who are exponents of the scientific aspects of boxing, are truly an admirable and competent aggregation; even excluded from identification with this ring-aristocracy, because of their limited fistic prowess, are certain titleholders, themselves. Greatness is not always associated with the possession of the title. Poor competition has been a factor in the success of some of our ephemeral champions.

There are many forgotten men among boxers. As in all other walks of life, the incompetent among them have a hand in writing their own obituary. The inevitable shortcuts to oblivion are the irreparable defeats encountered through essaying a comeback and while serving in the capacity, as challenger for the title. Fitzy Fitzpatrick and Bob Murphy, erstwhile local favorites, are outstanding examples of this type of woeful ring-frustration, which remorselessly wreaked havoc with their hopes of additional fame and fortune by summarily terminating their respective hectic careers.

It is discernible that since many boxers, being solely irrepressible, club-fighters, utterly devoid of orthodox technique, their success in the domain of pugilism is palpably limited and their fame likewise transitory.

Furthermore, it must not be forgotten, incidentally, that from the Corbett Era to the present time, the colorful renowned boxers, who were wont to perform as astutely for the edification of an entranced, public, have been exponents of brain, not brawn; judging, of course, from their high standard of efficiency, and their lofty conception, passed on to us, of what best constitutes the ultimate, from the standpoint of consummate skill.

BRAGGS BEATS ANDY IN 50-YARD DASH

PHILADELPHIA—Arthur Braggs, of Morgan State NCAA 100-yard dash champion turned in the No. 1 surprise of the Philadelphia Inquirer Games here Friday as he clipped both Eddie Conwell and the celebrated Andy Stanfield in a blazing 5.2s. 50-yard-dash.

Conwell was second and Stanfield copped the show spot. George Rhoden, another great Morgan Stater won the 660-yard run nl 1m. 13s.

Dillard Wins

Harrison Dillard '48 Olympic Games 100-meters champion had the hurdles all to himself as Dick Attlesey turned up lame. Dillard speed to a 6.2s. timing in the 70-yard highs.

UN's Edith Sampson On Lecture Tour of Europe

PARIS—Mrs. Edith S. Sampson paused here recently to renew friendships in the United Nations General Assembly and found time to discuss the six week lecture tour of West Germany which she had just concluded.

A dynamic personality, the Chicago attorney is one of the best known individuals in United Nations circles. She is respected for her work at the last General Assembly where she handled for the United States the question of unreturned war prisoners.

She is traveling under auspices of the U.S. Department of State but hastens to point out that her views are her own. As she puts it: "I speak extemporaneously and I always tell people just what I have in mind. I like also to hear what is bothering them. In that way we have a friendly discussion."

On her German tour Mrs. Sampson gave talks, answered questions and observed the economic rehabilitation of the country.

Mrs. Sampson said that she also discussed repatriation of war prisoners with her audience and told them of the Soviet objections which had to be overcome in order to get the subject on the agenda of the fifth General Assembly.

"The communists contended that the matter was a political issue while we insisted that it was a human problem—these prisoners," she said. Finally when the UN resolution was passed calling on all member governments to report on number and condition of war prisoners held, the attention of the entire world became focused on "the Soviet failure to treat human beings as they should be treated."

In the course of the interview Mrs. Sampson recalled several features of her earlier visit to Austria. She is now visiting the Scandinavian countries.

Home Religious Series Slated for February

The second annual series of the program, "Religion in the Home," will be conducted by the women of the University Religious Conference on four Monday evenings in February. Commencing on February 4 at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Clifford Hine, the women will present a portrayal of traditional customs in an Episcopal home. The following three Monday evenings will be devoted to Catholic, Jewish and Mormon observances and practices.

The Very Reverend John Krumm, Dean of St. Paul's Cathedral, and President of the Los Angeles Church Federation will be the commentator for the evening at the Hine home, 437 No. McCadden Place.

Second of the affairs sponsored by the Women Associates of the URC, will invite the series ticket holders into the home of Rabbi and Mrs. Edgar F. Magnin, 615 Walden Dr. in Beverly Hills, where they will hear an interpretation of the Jewish holidays, and their home observances. Rabbi Magnin of Wilshire Blvd. Temple, and this year's president of the URC, will be the speaker.

A contribution of five dollars for the entire series, will go into the treasury of the Women Associates where it will be disbursed to aid in the maintenance of the new Religious Conference building, adjacent to the University of California at Los Angeles.

The building, completed last May, and dedicated to student religious activities is the headquarters for the twenty-four year old organization, which conducts under the auspices of the official ecclesiastical heads of most of the major religious groups of Southern California — Catholic, Protestant, and Jewish—a program, or many programs of religious education. Support of the work of these many denominations, assisting their pastors, the priests, and rabbis, and providing and maintaining the facilities for their cooperative and inter-faith work, is the self-appointed task of the Women's group.

The final two programs in the series will be hosted by the Catholic and Mormon representatives on the Women's Committee, and their husbands, Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Sullivan, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis K. Sims, respectively. Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan invite their guests to attend a Catholic Dry Mass, at St. Martin of Tours Church, 11967 Sunset Blvd., on February 18, at 8:00 p.m., celebrated by the Reverend Augustine Murray, with explanatory comments by the Reverend Earl M. Jarrett, C.S.P.

And on Monday, the 25th, Mr. and Mrs. Sims will present in their home at 634 So. Rimpau Blvd., an evening descriptive of Latter Day Saint religious practices in the home. Stake President, John M. Russon, Los Angeles Mormon leader, will address the group.

GOOD BROTHERS

William A. Huston, 1314 E. 27th street took Willie Taylor to lodge meeting. On the return, full of the good spirit of brotherly love, they decided to implement it with a half pint of spirits. After a few drinks Willie turned on Willie, stabbed him and bit him on the forearm. Bad, Bad Whiskey, or did Willie suddenly remember something that happened at initiation?

CARPENTERS

L. J. Fleming, 1657 E. 57th street and Ceola Hendricks of the same address were having a high ol d time. Suddenly they got into a beef. Fleming grabbed a screwdriver and tried it on Ceola for size. Ceola grabbed a hammer and raised quite a big sized knot on L. J.'s head. Both were tanked for being tanked, and presumably not having paid up membership in the carpenter's union.

JUNK MAN

John Ella Clark, 1227 E. 52nd street had been separated from hubby Louis, 5535 S. Central for 8 days. Finally Louis could stand it no longer and called John Ella up for a reconciliation. She agreed to talk it over, and he came on a run. She the door to greet him with a smile, he greeted her with a snarl, leaped at her throat and threw her down. No, he didn't want that, he just wanted to beat her. He held a knife to her throat threatening to kill her. She managed to break away and jumped out of the window. He took a hammer and systematically reduced to junk all the furniture and appliances. Maybe his anger was due to the fact he had just got the furniture bill.

SHORTY CUT HIM

Jackie Cooper, 10301 McKinley avenue went to visit his wife at 1244 E. 21st street to talk to her about a present for their child. On the way up the stairs he met Clifton Hill, 5325 Duarte, who was just leaving. Clifton returned shortly and figured htat Cooper had stayed too long. An argument ensued, followed by the usual cutting. Seems that Cliff not only cut Johnny out, but cut him up.

BOSS MAN

Willie Mitchell, 720 E. 42nd place is a man who knows who is boss. He went to visit his estranged wife Ceola, 4320 Honduras. She was getting ready to go out and he told her she couldn't go. She gave him a smart answer about what he could not tell her what to do, and landed on top of the stove from a hard right hand to the head.

FRIENDSHIP, FRIENDSHIP

Herbert Nash, 1417 Griffith avenue, went to visit a girl friend at 303 E. 52nd street. She wasn't home, but called and told him to wait in the next apartment with some of her friends, who were visiting Robert Harris. They had a few beers and made Nash feel so much at home that he took off his shoes and went to sleep. He awoke in an empty apartment, his money and eyeglasses missing. Also 28 bucks he had stashed in his shoe was gone. Harris returned and gave him a buck to call the cops, and then quietly disappeared.

FUNNY BOOK BOP

James C. Boseman, 1542½ E. Adams is a man who really likes funny books. He got in an argument over a funny book with some guy and they got in a fight. Boseman won out and was leaving with the book when he was bopped over the head with a monkey wrench. Wonder if it was about Tarzan.

GONG KICKERS

Thomas King, 237¼ E. 29th street, Augustus Green, 1259½ E. 29th street, Dorothy Jackson, 237¼ E. 29th street, Vera McCoy, 1241 E. 43rd street and James Lewis Griffin, 1241 E. 43rd street all made the joint this week for joints and are no candidates for Hypes Anonymous.

Jordan To Hold Driving Classes

Starting Tuesday, February 5, people in this area will have an opportunity to take a class in Driver Education. According to J. R. Smith, principal of Jordan Adult School, the course will be for adults who are preparing for California Drivers License examination or for licensed drivers who desire to improve their techniques.

It is also for those who wish to obtain a clearer understanding and appreciation of the traffic laws, and for those who want information as to their responsibilities as a driver of a motor vehicle. Topics to be covered include: Highway Road Markings, Traffic Laws and Regulations, State Driving Practices, Courtesy and Sportsmanlike Driving, Responsibilities of Drivers and Pedestrians, Explanations of the Financial Responsibility Law.

The class will be held at Jordan Adult School, 2665 E. 103rd St. on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7:00 -9:30 p.m. For additional information call LOrain 9-6361.

Furniture Swapped While Family Away

Vincent Lemond Fowler, 27, 621 E. 137th street, Willowbrook, is still looking for the person or persons who burglarized his home last week and made off with over $810.00 worth of clothes, jewelry, stove and refrigerator.

Fowler stated that he and Mrs. Fowler left home around ten in the morning and did not return until about eight the next evening to find the kitchen door open. He stated that upon investigation, he observed the O'Keefe & Merritt Gas Range worth $250.00 missing and an old model gas range was left in its place; a Philco refrigerator worth $250.00 missing and a white coolerator, which uses ice in its place, two men's suits, one pair of men's shoes, one Zenith radio worth $50.00, a lady's wedding band and Eugenia rthg valued at $130.00, also a pair of lady's eye glasses worth $45.00.

"Ugly Bumps* On My Face Bothered Me"

*Blackheads

Phyllis Emery, 6331 Eberhart Ave., Chicago, Ill.:

"Ugly bumps (blackheads) on my face bothered me. The itching and smarting always annoyed me. A friend told me about Black and White Ointment. I tried it and sure got wonderful results. I can't say too much about your grand ointment."

So good—over $1 Million packages have been sold!

BROADMOOR HOMES—Above is one of the three-bedroom homes now completed and ready for immediate occupancy at Broadmoor Homes, located on the east side of Central Avenue in Compton, just south of Rosecrans Avenue. Veterans may purchase with low down payments and on terms of $48.60 for principal and interest.

Water and Power Bureau Fetes 50 Years Service

Events in Los Angeles 50 years ago—when the city acquired the old private water works and started the municipal system which grew into the present Department of Water and Power—are due to be recalled Feb. 3-9, which has been proclaimed "Water and Power Week" by Mayor Fletcher Bowron.

The observance is being planned on a citywide basis, said Samuel B. Morris, general chairman. Service and women's clubs are programing special meetings devoted to water and power, he continued, and " open house" with guided tours for visitors will be the rule at many pumping plants, reservoirs and power stations, and other facilities operated by the Department.

The week will observe the department's 50th anniversary, and half century of progress since the first board of water commissioners was appointed Feb. 6, 1902. It also will stress initial steps taken by the city government in 1902 to start Los Angeles toward achievement of its present adequate supplies of water and power.

During the past five decades, the Department has planned and built the 233-mile Los Angeles Owens River aqueduct and a vast network of reservoirs, water trunk lines, distributing mains, steam and hydro-electric power plants, electrical transmission facilities and distribution lines.

There are seven junior colleges operated by the Los Angeles City School System—Los Angeles City College, East Los Angeles Junior College, Los Angeles Valley Junior College, Metropolitan Junior College, Trade-Technical Junior College, Clarence W. Pierce School of Agriculture, and Harbor Junior College.

Atty. Ed Hardwick to Head Jordan Class

With the opening of the Spring school term February 4, a new class in Law for Laymen will be started at Jordan Adult School. According to J. R. Smith, principal, the class leader will be Edward Hardwick, local attorney.

EAGLE SALUTES

A Gentleman of Distinction

WALTER J. MILLER

Walter Joseph Miller, dashing and debonair, initial member of the Consolidated Hotel Chain; whose integrity, experience and tenaciousness has established him as a nationally famous leader in hotel management.

—Member of Pioneer Family—

As the eldest son of the Mrs. Walter J. Miller, Sr., of 1557 East 53rd Street, Walter became a prize product of St. Odilia's Catholic Church, the old William McKinley Junior High (now presently Carver), and Thomas Jefferson High Schools.

—Active Career—

Answering the call to arms, Walter served in the U. S. Navy during World War II and attained the rank of Chief Petty Officer prior to receiving an honorable discharge.

—Experienced Hotelman—

Walter is quite proud of the fact that he has started from the bottom of the ladder, having held every phase of employment within numerous hotels. Starting at the Dunbar Hotel, his work was so outstanding that he was the first member of America's largest minority to be selected by the large Consolidated Hotel Chain and at one time managed five hotels simultaneously. His present management of the Regal Hotel has made it one of the most highly respected in the country.

—A Beau Brummel Bachelor—

Satorially resplendent at all times; modest and unassuming, changing "fishtails" every two years, and immaculately maintaining a spacious all-electric seven room home, Walter is one of the most sought-after young men in this active "leap year."

Broadmoor Has 20 Units For Sale To Vets

Only 20 completed three-bedroom homes, available in a variety of exterior designs, remain on the market at Broadmoor Homes, new Compton community of 89 dwellings on the east side of Central Ave., just south of Rosecrans Ave., it was announced today by Cletus H. J. Jollie, general contractor.

Emphasizing that Broadmoor Homes was among the last of the low down payment deals, Jollie said that veterans may buy the three-bedroom residence with down payments from $550, plus closing costs. Monthly terms are $48.60 for principal and interest on four per cent G.I. loans.

A furnished model home is one of three exhibit dwellings open daily and Sunday. Outfittings are by Harry Karmes, of the Karmes Furniture Co., Hollywood.

Sales offices are at 412 N. Central Ave., Compton.

Bienfaisontes

Les Bienfaisontes Social and Charity club installed officers for the year 1952, Saturday evening, January 19, at the home of Veleter Adams, 181 E. 36th St., with Arwilda Woods installing. New officers are: president, Glenadean Ballard; vice-president, Bernice Delaney; recording secretary, Florence Redix; corresponding secretary, Joyce Lenoir; treasurer, Lillian Lomax; business manager, Ruth Ann Lenoir; parliamentarian, Ruth Ann Lenoir; sergeant-at-arms, Ruth Ann Lenoir; chaplain, Ruth Ann Lenoir; reporter, Ruth Ann Lenoir; historian, Ruth Ann Lenoir; and publicity director, Ruth Ann Lenoir.

Tobias Lashes Back At Soviet Bloc Attack

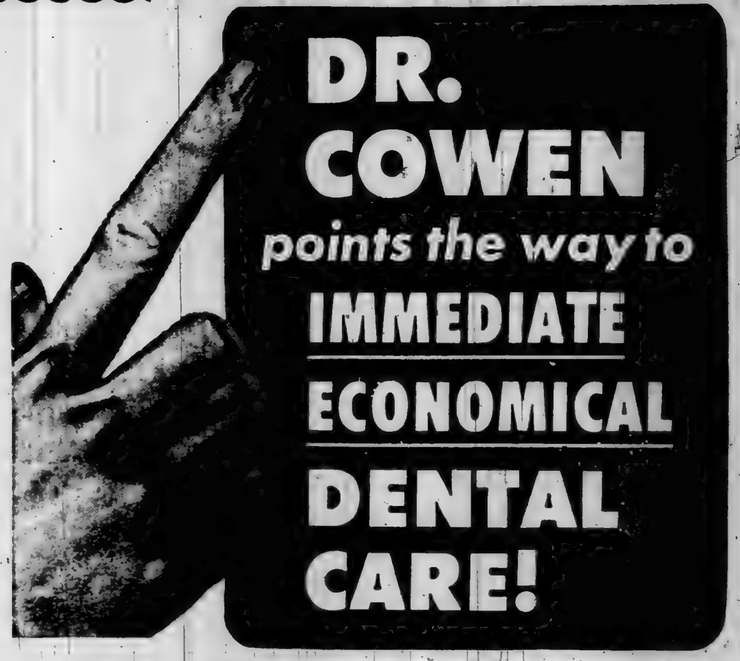
PARIS—Dr. Channing H. Tobias last week met bitter Communist attacks from two quarters on American foreign policy and stated flatly that the health and welfare of all free peoples is an integral part of the United States' defense program. The economic committee of the United Nations General Assembly was the scene of the debate where the statesman answered the Communist detractors.

The first attack was a set of allegations by the delegate from Czechoslovakia involving trade discrimination against the so-called "people's democracies." Dr. Tobias reminded him that the UN command in Korea "has informed the world that many of the arms used by the North Koreans and the Chinese Communists to kill UN troops are manufactured in East Europe."

"Is it surprising therefore," he asked, "that the United States discriminates against that area by refusing to send strategic materials to it?"

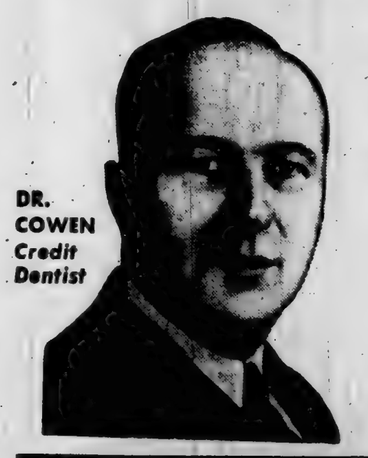
Russia's delegate, G. F. Saksine, launched the second attack when he scorned United States aid given his country during the 1920 famine, and tried to portray it as an American effort to colonize a "new Soviet republic."

He alleged that under the banner of relief the U.S. mission's agents tried to plot and foment civil war, and brought only "rubbish" that could not be sold in the United States.



Dr. Tobias protested the Soviet delegate's effort to hold the United States up "to ridicule for every generous impulse it felt and for every expression of interest in the calamities of others." He said the United States was "a nation with a heart" and its motives are not those which were being imputed to it "by those who always oppose every American motion."

Then noting the Soviet bloc's dismal "picture" of American workers, he turned to the Czech delegate and asked:



"Is it not a fact that in order to buy a suit of clothes at rationed prices the Czech worker must labor 50 hours compared to 25 hours required of workers in the United States; that, in order to buy a pair of shoes at rationed prices he must work over 20 hours compared with six-and one-half hours in America; that to buy a kilogram of cheese he must work 12 and ¾ hours compared with one hour in the United States?"

MAN KILLED OVER WHISKEY DEBT

Customer Shot By Bartender

By EDDIE LEE KING

A row over a $4 liquor bill at Pasadena's Onyx Cafe led to the fatal shooting of 36-year-old Daniel Gillespie, of 876 Lincoln avenue, late Sunday night by Ray Cherry, bartender-owner of the cocktail lounge.

Gillespie, according to witnesses, had ordered a series of drinks for himself and wife and contested the amount of the bill presented by Cherry. An argument ensued.

Witnesses said that during the course of the argument Gillespie told Cherry, "Let's go out and fight if out and if I win I don't pay, if you win I'll be willing to pay for the sloppy drinks." When Cherry ignored his invitation Gillespie called him a vile name. Cherry thought that this was going too far and told Gillespie to get out of his place. At this point Gillespie took off his coat and laid it on the counter and told him to fight it out then and there. Cherry reached underneath the counter and took out his 38-caliber revolver and fired one shot at Gillespie, hitting him between the eyes. Gillespie fell on his back with his feet pointing towards the bar.

Judge Waring, Jim Crow Foe, To Quit Bench

CHARLESTON, N. C.—Federal Judge J. Waties Waring, acclaimed by many for trying to equalize racial rights but shunned by his neighbors here, said Monday that he would retire Feb. 15.

The jurist, who is 72 years old, decided to leave the bench as the Federal Supreme Court returned for further proceedings in South Carolina the segregation case, in which he dissented. At that time he called segregation "inequality in itself."

Judge Waring refused to comment on his retirement announcement, which was issued through Ernest W. Allen, clerk of the district court here. At his age, the judge is entitled to retirement at full pay.

Judge Waring's most important decision, as it affected South Carolina customs, was his 1947 ruling opening the state's Democratic primary to Negro voters. The primary is the decisive election in this one-party state.

Although his opponents warned that "blood would run in the streets" as the result of the mixed voting, the judge said after the 1948 primary that "we had the quietest election I've seen in my life."

The judge from time to time expanded his beliefs on the racial question. Of mixed voting, he said that "it is time for South Carolina to rejoin the union, and hold its elections the American way."

To those who would see a gradual relaxation of the segregation bars, Judge Waring answered that "the only way to meet the issue is to meet it head-on."

Deputy Admits Beating Prisoner

— Torture Instrument —

EXAMINES FIRE EXTINGUISHER—Deputy district attorney Joseph Carr, left, and deputy sheriff Sgt. Paul DeFalle examine red fire extinguisher used by Houtz in torture incident.

Vague on Burning Charge

By Miriam Christian

The courtroom jumped when Edward Houtz demonstrated the cracking blows he used in a supposed attempt to revive a Negro prisoner after he had struck him with a direct punch to the chin.

Using an 8½ inch sap, the deputy sheriff now standing trial for felonious assault against two Negroes, pounded the table of the witness stand with such force that many spectators gasped so loud their voices resounded throughout the courtroom.

Beating, Burning

Houtz is accused of brutally kicking, beating and burning Henry Scott and Ruben Smith on the morning of October 20 at Firestone substation. He is being tried in Superior Court, Department 42 presided over by Judge Thomas Ambrose.

Deputy district attorney Joseph Car is prosecuting the criminal assaults of Houtz. Pleading that Houtz's malicious acts were used in innocence is Attorney Robert Ford.

At press time, the case forced by public demand was entering its eighth day with more than 15 witnesses cross-examined by state and defense.

Houtz on the witness stand admitted striking Scott's feet with an iron filled sap many times. He then testified that he sprayed carbon dioxide from a fire extinguisher upon the upper body of Scott.

When this barbaric treatment was of no avail, he told the court he then dragged Scott into a shower, turned the water full force, and stood back to watch the effects of his brutal handiwork.

Semi-Southern Drawl

His face scrinching as he talked, Houtz found it difficult to remember facts questioned by deputy district attorney Joseph Carr. With a semi-southern Gary Cooper drawl, he recalled things happening, but could never associate a particular person with the questioned events.

His testimony brought out by Carr revealed that he had served as a fireman for the city of Vernon for 5½ years. During that time Houtz said he had seen a fire extinguisher used, knew it contained carbon dioxide, but did not know it would burn.

Never Burned

"I have often held hot ice, similar to carbon dioxide, in my hand, but was never burned by it, the stocky deputy said. He continued that as a child he placed hot ice in a glass of cold water and then drank it.

Proscutor Carr asked him if it

—Terror—

A "SAMPLE"—In Florida last week Arthur Holland was beaten up—just as a "sample" of what awaits other Negroes.

Speed Plans For All-City Protest Rally

Preparations for the largest protest demonstration held in Los Angeles in recent years swept rapidly forward this week as representatives of more than 20 co-sponsoring organizations laid plans for the united mass rally of Negroes, workers, Jews, and liberals at the Shrine Auditorium, Thursday night, Feb. 21.

Even as plans were being prepared, reports of new terrorist actions and acts of intimidation continued to be received. One of the most glaring came from Winter Garden, Fla., where a young man was flogged and beaten as an "example" to other Negroes.

The rally, called by the NAACP to condemn the lawlessness that has run riot in Florida and is sweeping the whole South, is being given full support by the city's labor unions, church and civic organizations and Jewish groups. It is expected that the Shrine Auditorium will be filled to overflowing with a mighty united voice of protest. Walter White, executive secretary of the NAACP, will be the principal speaker.

Co-Chairmen

Co-chairmen of the rally are Dr. E. I. Robinson, president of the Los Angeles branch of the NAACP, and John Dial, president of the association's Southern California Council.

Dr. H. Claude Hudson, well known as one of the driving forces in the association, is to head the steering committee. Serving with him are: Joseph Roos, Jewish Community Relations Committee; Dr. William Lindsay Young, National Conference of Christians and Jews; Susan Adams, American Federation of Labor; John Noblet, CIO; E. J. Franklin, UAW and Franklin Williams, NAACP regional director.

Petitions Circulating

Petitions have already gone out, calling upon individuals to sign their names in protest against the Florida outrages, and make small donations to help carry on the fight for equality. Each individual who signs the protest will be given a ticket to the reserved section at the Shrine for Feb. 21.

Petitions are available at the NAACP office, 4263 S. Central avenue; the Los Angeles County Conference, 3125 W. Adams boulevard; Jewish Community Center, 590 N. Vermont avenue; and at the AFL and CIO buildings.

Flogged and beaten at Winter Gardens, Fla., last Thursday night was 26-year-old Arthur Holland. This is his story:

The Sentinel Opposes FEPC, What Are You Going to Do?

(AN EDITORIAL)

On January 19 the Los Angeles Times ran an editorial entitled "Just What Are Civil Rights?"

On January 24 the Los Angeles Sentinel ran an editorial entitled "Our Freedom of Choice."

Both editorials — yes, both of them — attacked FEPC!

We've reprinted them both on Page 3. We want you to turn to Page 3 and read them. Look at the phrases we've encircled! Notice the fact that both editorials — the one in the Times, the other in the Sentinel—use the same words!

The sentiments of the Times editorial and those of the Sentinel editorial are the age-old, worn-out excuses used over and over again by those who believe in and support the Jim Crow system.

There's nothing surprising about the Times attacking fair employment legislation and civil rights laws.

There is something surprising—even sickening—about the Sentinel attacking FEPC and civil rights.

The Times is the mouthpiece of big business in this city; it has fought, in season and out, against every piece of civil rights legislation that has been proposed in the past fifty years; it opposed FEPC when that proposal was on the ballot in 1946.

The Sentinel was a militant newspaper when Leon H. Washington, Jr. was at its helm before his unfortunate illness of two years ago. It fought for FEPC as vigorously as the Times fought against it.

Leon Washington spent his time and his money and hastened his illness in the fight for FEPC in 1946. Don't blame him for that editorial of January 24.

Put the blame — and the shame — where it be-

YMCA Opens Drive For Funds, Members

Friday, Feb. 8, marks the kick-off date for the 28th Street Branch YMCA as it launches its annual membership and financial campaign for the 1952 season. The theme for this effort will be "America's Youth Is America's Future," and the campaign itself will take the form of a "baseball classic" between the American and National Leagues.

Twenty-eight teams of men and women with a total of 200 solicitors have joined hands with Atty. Marshall Denton and Edward Hawkins, co-chairmen of the YMCA fund-raising effort. These workers will endeavor to solicit throughout the city in an effort to raise $16,000 cash and 2,500 YMCA members.

The American League, which is headed by Eugene Pickett, Jesse Robinson, Wilbur Ashford, J. B. Mathews and Joseph Bryant, has set its sights on 900 members and $5,000 cash. Team captains in the American League are: Woodrow Edmondson, Ernest Bradley, Bill Howell, Herbert James, Paul Aubry, Jr., Fred Pitts, Dr. D. C. Turner, Stack Williams, James Arthur, Bennie Nance, Bud Owens, Lee Lancaster, Norman Nelson, Lee Merriweather, Jacob Saunders and Terry Parks. Each of these team captains have ten workers. Most of the workers in the American League are postal employees.

The National League has a formidable board of strategy including Ethel Cole Bryant, Arthur Patterson, Mrs. Clyde Howell and Gilbert Lindsay. Team captains in the National League are: Rev. M. F. Mitchell, John W. DeVoe, Everett Carr, Emelie Boone, Clara Burlison, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard C. Carter, Melba L. Lee, David Wilson, Jr., Nancy Kennedy, Lorenzo Foster, Matilda Parker, Elizabeth B. Avant, Dora Jean Bacon, Lena Heard, Harold Markham and Ollie Richards. The National League will be shooting for $4,000 and 600 members.

The special gifts division is headed by Lonzie L. Jones. The nucleus for the commissioners' circle will be composed of board members of the 28th Street Branch. Added to this list will be Nolan Payton, Johnny Cochrane, Calvin D. Saunders, William Dailey, George Bryant, Dee Hodge, John L. Thompson, Ivan Johnson, Arthur Houston.

One of the highlights of the membership campaign will be the grand parade which will be held on Sunday, Feb. 10, at 2 p.m. This parade will include many of the finest marching bands in the city as well as a mile-long line of cars which will be sponsored by various business and professional groups in the city of Los Angeles.

Geo. Beavers Flays Housing Opponents

Charges that opponents of public housing are those same groups and interests which promoted Negro ghettoes and fought fiercely to enforce lily-white race restrictive covenants were made this week by George A. Beavers, Jr., in a comprehensive review of the disgraceful performance of the City Council majority in scuttling the city's low-cost housing program.

Beavers, commissioner of the City Housing Authority, pointed out the hypocrisy and falsity of those who oppose the building of the 10,000 Federally financed units. He called attention to the fact that claims that the city would lose large amounts of tax money if the projects are completed are absolutely untrue, that on the contrary the city stands to gain through erection of the projects.

He gave figures to prove his point. Annual payments to the city from the projects are estimated at $340,290 as against taxes actually collected from the sites in 1950 of $69,380. In other words, the city would get five times more from the sites in question than it was getting in the past.

No Discrimination

Beavers also pointed to the absolutely non-discriminatory policy of the authority, which accepts applicants solely on the basis of qualifications, without regard to race or color or the location of the development.

Federal Judges Asked to Ban Arizona's Jim Crow Schools

PHOENIX, Ariz.—Arizona's only Jim Crow high school will be the target next Monday when a three-judge federal court will be asked to enjoin school officials from assigning Negro pupils to the Booker T. Washington High School in Phoenix.

The plaintiffs, headed by Dr. R. B. Phillips, charge that Arizona's school segregation laws violate the equal protection and due process clauses of the Fourteenth Amendment and that their children are being deprived of equal educational facilities. Arizona branches of the NAACP, assisted by the Arizona Council for Civic Unity and a score of other civic organizations, are backing the suit.

Booker T. Washington High School was built 25 years ago under terms of a since-repealed law that gave school districts the power to establish separate high schools. Only Phoenix availed itself of that privilege and Negro students attend regular high schools in every other city and town in the state.

A staff of attorneys, including Loren Miller and A. L. Wirin of Los Angeles, and William Mahoney and H. B. Daniels of Phoenix, filed a lengthy brief for the plaintiffs last month in which they pointed to a series of United States Supreme Court decisions as authorities for their claim that the segregation laws violate the constitution. In addition they advanced the claim

Crosses Burn In Illinois School Row

CAIRO, Ill.—Crosses were burned on the eve of the scheduled admission of Negroes into Cairo's hitherto all-white schools. Negro children presented themselves, but were told transfer papers would have to be processed.

The children returned to their own schools without reported incident. Most were accompanied by parents or other adults. The schools and the National Association for Advancement of Colored People have agreed on the admission of twenty-three Negro pupils to the white schools.

Racial segregation is forbidden in Illinois school systems thru a law authorizing withholding of state grants from violating schools. Schools would be unable to operate without such state aid.

Last night all three crosses were burned in or near Negro quarters.

Supreme Court Ducks Issue On Separate Grade Schools

WASHINGTON—The Supreme Court evaded a direct ruling on the "separate but equal" issue as it affects grade schools when it vacated a ruling made by a South Carolina three-judge federal court and sent the case back to the judge for further findings. Justices Hugo Black and William O. Douglas dissented on the grounds that there were sufficient facts before the court to warrant a decision on the merits.

The delay may put off a decision by the court until the next term, well beyond the national political conventions of July and the ensuing presidential campaigns.

The court acted through a short, unsigned opinion stating that a Federal District Court in South Carolina had not given its views on a report as to whether "substantially equal" educational facilities had been furnished to Negro students.

The Supreme Court held that it should have "the benefit of the views of the district court upon the additional facts brought to the attention of that court in the report." Accordingly, the case was returned to South Carolina for further proceedings.

Justices Hugo L. Black and William O. Douglas held that enough details were available, and that the additional facts of the report "are wholly irrele-

Henry KO's Satterfield

Clarence Henry, local heavyweight, knocked out hard punching Bob Satterfield in 1.41 minutes of the first round in Chicago Wednesday night to retain his ranking as the 3rd best heavyweight in the country.

The action was fast and furious while it lasted. Henry rushed Satterfield, who dumped him to one knee with a hard right to the jaw.

Henry bounced up without taking the count, again rushed to Satterfield and floored him with a tremendous left hook, followed by a right. Satterfield's left eye was split open and blood cascaded down his face as he took the count of eight.

When Satterfield got up again, Henry again floored him, this time for the count of nine. As Satterfield arose again, a tremendous left hook dumped him flat on his back. He just about beat the count when the referee stepped in and raised Henry's hand. This is the sixth bout Henry has won by a knockout in the first round, and makes him a leading contender for a shot at ageing Joe Wolcott's title.

Bunco Man Out of His Life's Savings

Two men who said they doubted that an American Negro could draw money from a bank took $2000 from Roy Maken, 1559 East 43rd St. this week after he proved he could.

Maken told police that the two approached him with the story that they had just gotten off a ship in Wilmington and were looking for a place to room.

Obliging them, Maken said he drove them to a boarding house. After going to the door, one of the suspects returned and said the lady is out for a few minutes.

They asked Maken if he could draw money from a bank. When they doubted that he could, Maken took them to a bank at 25th St. and Central Ave., and drew out $2000.

Back in the car the three men got into a discussion on dice. They asked Maken how the Americans put up their money in a game.

Maken laid the $2000 on the seat. One of the men grabbed it and they fled, he told police.

Trio Hurt in Family Row

Three persons suffered knife wounds in a free for all family quarrel early Wednesday in a home at the rear of 9225 Kalmia St., sheriff's deputies reported.

Suffering cuts on the face and hands were:

Grant Wellmaker, 30, of 2013 Lucien St., Compton; Elvina Wellmaker, 21, of 9225 Kalmia St., and Lizzie Bell Simon, 27, of 1836 East 109th St.

George Wellmaker, of 9225 Kalmia St., was booked at county jail on charge of assault with a deadly weapon. The injured were treated for their knife wounds by a nearby physician.

Police Protect Concert of Marian Anderson in Miami

MIAMI, Fla.—The cost of segregation and intimidation comes high in human lives and suffering—and also in dollars and cents.

The City of Miami, Dade County and the FBI had to pay salaries, transportation and other expenses of 60 plainclothesmen here last Friday night to make sure there would be no bombings or riots when the world's most famous contralto, Marian Anderson, gave a recital before a non-segregated audience.

To be strictly honest, of course, the audience was not exactly non-segregated. Prejudice couldn't quite be overthrown even though the audience was mixed. So the powers that be hit upon the strategy of seating Negroes and whites in alternate rows.

Two thousand people, 40 percent of whom were white, turned out to hear the great singer, and to accord her enthusiastic applause.

Law enforcement officers, remembering the recent dynamiting of Negro homes, Jewish synagogues and a Catholic church, were taking no chances. They gave Miss Anderson the largest protection ever accorded a singer appearing here. The plainclothesmen mingled with the audience, refused to permit unidentified persons backstage.

Miss Anderson sang Wednesday night in Jacksonville, also before a non-segregated audience.

Sheriff's Aide Says He Beat Prisoner

had burned his throat and Houtz said he did not remember. Last week Dr. Gebtz, a physicist-chemist testified that carbon dioxide sprayed into a pocket will produce a residue called snow and will result in severe burns if it touchs to the skin.

The state has accused deputy Houtz of spraying the acid from the fire extinguisher under the clothing of Scott and Smith with deliberate intention of burning the two men.

Just Hanging Around

Houtz explained to the jury the reason why he did not leave the station after his eight hour work period. He claimed he was told by his superior officer to wait until a squad car on duty returned to the substation with prisoners who were resisting arrest. His assistance was needed in quelling the men. About 10 minutes later, he was told his aid was not necessary. About that time, Scott and Smith were brought in.

Prosecutor Carr brought out that he was possibly hanging around for overtime wages paid to officers for after duty services and ended in a crime from which there is no escape.

Blaming as much of the assaults as possible on his buddy officer, Houtz continued to answer incoherently, looking to his attorney Ford for directions. He received no cooperation. His defender kept his face down during the questioning.

Twice in Monday's session, Ford approached the bench for ruling of Judge Ambrose when Carr accused his cross-examination of Houtz as being irregular. Ford was blocked on his effort to prove Houtz's sincere love for Negroes.

On Tuesday, Smith was convicted in a Compton court on charges of drunkenness relevant to the Houtz incident. He was fined only $20. Smith told the jury there that he was bribed by the five officers involved in the incident to drop charges against them. Smith refused and later requested a jury for judgment. After one-hour deliberation, the jury found him guilty but requested no sentence.

Prosecution will prepare to deliver summation Thursday morning. At that time he will ask the full penalty for the criminal assaults of Houtz.

Grant Priority For New Watts Health Center

Word came from the office of City Councilman John S. Gibson (15th District) Wed. that a priority committee for city government buildings has approved the building of a new health center in the Watts district. Recommendation for this needed community health facility was made by the City Council several weeks ago, and referred to the priority committee for further action.

Mr. Gibson, who has been diligent in his fight to improve living conditions in his district, stated that the matter of fund appropriation for the new health center has to be approved by the Finance Committee, after which it will be presented to the City Council for final approval.

Watts District Health Officer, Dr. Robert F. Kolts, stated that the new health center, which will be located on E. 102 Street, between Compton Avenue and Success Avenue, will service a population of 120,000 citizens residing in an area bordered on the east by Alameda Street, west by Van Ness, north by 79th Street, and south by 120th St.

Local Youth to Head Roosevelt Student Body

When the second semester of school at Roosevelt High School opens next Monday, James Barrow, Jr., one of the most popular students at the school, will take on the important task of student body president. He was inaugurated Dec. 16, but will not assume his new duties until next week.

Young Barrow has been active in athletics, social clubs and the ROTC ever since he started Roosevelt three years ago. He will graduate in June.

Barrow is a captain in the ROTC, a member of the school track team for which he has his "letter," and basketball team, a member of RO colonels and the Boys league, and of the Appolins club. He also plays the tuba in the Deputy Auxiliary Police band, and attends the Hamilton Methodist church.

He lives with his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. James Barrow, at 228 E. 90th street. He was born in New Orleans and moved here with his family in 1942.

Barrow is the first Negro to be president of the Student Body in recent years.

Walter White Ill

NEW YORK.—For the second consecutive week, Walter White, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, has been confined to his home under orders of his physician, Dr. Louis T. Cold, Snow, Bias Found in Anchorage

By Grace E. Simons

Snow drifts as far as the eye can see, darkness at noon, fifty-five degrees below zero—that is the thumb-nail picture of Anchorage, Alaska given to the Eagle by Mrs. Janet Howard Stevenson this week.

Mrs. Stevenson—or Janet Howard as she is widely known to friends in Los Angeles—does things in a sweeping manner: an airplane trip from the bleak, bitter cold of Alaska, a rapid week in the City of the Angels, then an airplane ride again back to the wind-swept frontier of the frozen north.

To Sell Eagle

During her brief stay in the southland, Mrs. Stevenson found time to stop in at the Eagle office, arrange to have copies of the paper sent to her weekly, air express, and tell us a little about life in the community that is now her home.

"Air Express?" queried Eagle Circulation Manager Edward "Abie" Anderson, and after some rapid figuring, he totalled the cost per copy of sending the paper. "Do you think you can sell it if it costs that much?"

With her winning smile, Mrs. Stevenson answered sweetly: "I can try."

One of the main reasons Mrs. Stevenson flew to Los Angeles was to see her two children, "Cookie," a little girl of 4, and "Butch," a sturdy boy of 6. She wanted to take the two youngsters back with her, but her mother, Mrs. Alfred Williams, of 1727 S. Hobart avenue, who is taking care of the children, vetoed the idea. Wait until Spring, she cautioned, until the weather warms up. Mrs. Williams will fly with the children to Alaska in April, to enable the youngsters to get used to the severe climate by degrees.

Here One Week

Mrs. Stevenson also had a few other matters to take care of, like telling the Superior Court that it would be difficult for her to serve on the jury in February.

She was here for just one week—arriving a week ago Wednesday and leaving this Wednesday. Back in Anchorage, she wil re-join her husband, Vernon Stevenson, disc jockey for the Alaska Music Co. in Anchorage, over radio station KRQD, and her aunt, Mrs. Alice Swanson, one of the first three Negroes to settle down in Anchorage, where she has lived for the past 52 years. She owns and manages her own cafe there, and of course is one of the best known members of the community.

Life in Anchorage

What's it like in Anchorage—besides being cold, and dark even at noon?

Mrs. Stevenson said that the Negro community in the Alaska city numbers about 1,000 during the long winter months, when unemployment is a serious problem, but that with the coming of the longer and warmer spring days, in April, the colony is swelled by 5,000 who flock there for the well-paid construction jobs at the Army, Air Force, Marine and Navy bases.

These workers, she said, live in bunk houses, with 12 to 24 people housed in one jerry-built shack on double-decker bunks. Cost for one bunk per week ranges from $15 to $25. A bunk, nothing else. In the winter, rates are lower, of course. You can get a bed then for as low as $12.50 a week.

Segregation? Tight and absolute. It wasn't always that way, though. Mrs. Swanson, who remembers way back when, tells of other days when whites and Negroes mingled on terms of equality. The change apparently came at about the same time the Armed forces moved in during World War II.

Now, Mrs. Stevenson says, segregation is the rule. "White only" signs are all over the city. Want ads seeking bus drivers emphasize "white only." So it is, she said, in everything. "We have no doctor," she continued. "If we're sick, we have to go to the hospital, and then they will take care of us. If we're in an accident, we have to call the police and they'll take us to the hospital. I don't know if a doctor would come to our house if we needed one. We never try. Everyone just goes to the hospital."

Like it there? "The people are warm and friendly, and hospitable. They help each other. And my husband is there. I haven't been there long enough not to be lonesome for Los Angeles, but we manage. And in April, when Cookie and Butch arrive. . . ."

Some witnesses stated that during the argument Cherry told Gillespie, "Let's forget it" but that Gillespie insisted on fighting it out.

The witnesses, all of Pasadena, included: Frank Mitchell, 25, Lenwell Hotel, room 29, also a bartender at the Onyx Cafe; Celner Vinson, 30, 76 Palmetto Dr.; James Bartlett, 25, 1100 Manzanita avenue; Frank G. Madena, 25, 650 DelMonte street; and George Kingstro, 23, 14410 Navarra avenue.

The police of Pasadena reported that the bullet went all the way through Gillespie's head and came out just above his neck.

The Los Angeles County coroner set the inquest for Friday, February 1, at 9:30 a.m.

URBAN LEAGUE SPONSORS REAL ESTATE WORKSHOP

The Urban League Home Building and Financing Committee announced this week a real estate workshop to be held Saturday at the Alexandria Hotel.

Headed by B. B. Bratton and Emily Johnson, the committee has planned an extensive program for the benefit of real estate brokers and salesmen. Outstanding speakers have been invited to address the meeting on problems that beset real estate brokers in their everyday dealing with property.

Mrs. Johnson, head of the program planning committee, said: "This is the second annual workshop under the sponsorship of the Urban League and the community brokers. I want to urge everyone interested in the subject to attend. The session on 'Scientific Appraisal' will be a real help to brokers in their work."

Joseph W. Walker, executive of the Urban League, said: "We are really trying to do a job on the housing situation. We want to be as helpful as we can to the brokers who are continually trying to find new homes for our fast-growing population.

Real Estate Appraising, Private Housing Tract Developments, and Real Estate Listing will be the topics explored by the workshop.

The tentative program planned for the second annual Real Estate Workshop follows:—

11:15-11:45 a.m.—Registration.

11:45 a.m.-12:30 p.m.—Luncheon.

12:30-12:40 p.m.—Introductions—B. B. Bratton, CPA.

12:40-12:55 p.m. — Remarks—George A. Beavers, Jr., president Urban League Board of Directors.

FIRST SESSION

12:55-2:00 p.m. — Moderator—B. B. Bratton. Skit on real estate listing presented by the offices of Emily Johnson and L. V. Spencer.

Discussion

2:00-2:10 p.m.—Recess.

SECOND SESSION

2:10-3:30 p.m. — Moderator — Floyd C. Covington, FHA racial relations adviser. Subject: "Problems and Possibilities: Private Housing With an Open Occupancy Practice." Discussants: E. J. Kaltenbacher, assistant chief underwriter, FHA; James Wood, private developer; Herbert Tobin, private developer.

3:30-3:40 p.m.—Recess.

THIRD SESSION

3:40-5:15 p.m. — Moderator — William McKinney, real estate and loan office. Subject: "The Value of Scientific Appraisal to Real Estate Brokers." Speaker: Belden Morgan, private real estate appraiser, UCLA instructor.

Our Freedom of Choice

In his State of the Union Message, which received much publicity mainly on the grounds that it said little and was thoroughly inadequate, President Truman, apparently realizing the urgency of garnering votes for his party during the election year, intoned:

"We need to take action toward the wider enjoyment of civil rights. Freedom is the birthright of every American."

Aside from the fact that we doubt our Chief Executive's sincerity regarding a compulsory FEPC (Didn't he promise to make one a reality when he ran in 1948?), he is not considering the prime point that freedom of CHOICE is part and parcel of that same birthright.

For the life of us, we can't see why employers should lose their right to choose employees by their own standards. Forced association is no cure for antagonism. Freedom of choice, as it were, is a fundamental of our free enterprise system. An employee has the opportunity of setting his standards when he seeks a position. Why then, should the employer not be allowed the same privileges?

We wonder if Mr. President realizes what an open field an FEPC would give a politically minded administration to penalize opponents and play favorites. If the commission were entirely honest and impartial, a heyday could still be declared for petty graft and extortion. Find the labor bosses! They could harass employers to an early grave!

Add to our argument that freedom of choice should work two ways: We don't believe a word of it, Mr. President!

Florida Success Story

Not all the news from Florida, we are pleased to report, is bad. In fact, our attention was recently drawn to the [illegible] county medical society broke a precedent by allowing [illegible] longs: on those who have betrayed what was once a great and fighting newspaper.

And while you're reading, and re-reading, that shameful editorial betrayal of Negroes, pause and reflect that the very words "Freedom of Choice" are lifted bodily from the propaganda of an outfit called America Plus.

America Plus is the organization that is readying an amendment to the California constitution which would repeal this state's civil rights acts, which would forever forbid FEPC laws and which would restore race restrictive covenants.

Read some of the literature put out by America Plus. Notice—and you will be shocked and shamed and saddened as you do—that the Sentinel editorial uses the same words and the same phrases and the same snide arguments that are used by America Plus in its efforts to repeal our civil rights acts, forbid FEPC and restore race restrictive covenants.

Ask yourself, as a Negro or as an American who believes in equal rights and fair play, what you can expect from a newspaper that permits itself to become a mouthpiece for Jim Crow sentiments.

Can you trust it?

Can you respect it?

Can you support it?

Can you permit it to speak for you?

How long will your present civil rights be safe if you extend your support to a "Negro" newspaper that pursues the insane course on which the Sentinel has embarked, since Leon Washington's illness?

Ask yourself these questions whether you're a reader or an advertiser. Ask yourself what you can do about it.

And after you've asked those questions check back over the Eagle since we took it over in May, 1951. Find out where we've stood in that nine months, what we've fought for, what we've advocated.

What kind of a newspaper do you want, Mr. and Mrs. Reader and Mr. and Mrs. Advertiser? Do you want a newspaper like the Sentinel — a newspaper that is against FEPC; a newspaper that hasn't printed a single word—NOT A SINGLE WORD—about the Florida bombings and killings and murders; a newspaper that seizes every opportunity to attack the NAACP; a newspaper that has supported minstrel shows; a newspaper that parrots the sentiments of an outfit like America Plus which would destroy your civil rights?

Do you want that kind of a newspaper?

Or do you want a newspaper like the Eagle which supports FEPC, which backs the fight for civil rights, which upholds the NAACP, which opposes America Plus and which brings you the news about what is happening in Florida and on all the other far-flung fronts on which Negroes are fighting to preserve constitutional rights and liberties.

What kind of a newspaper do YOU want?

You'll get the kind of a newspaper YOU deserve by the support YOU give.

Just What Are Civil Rights?

When the President in his state of the Union message paid casual attention to what he called "civil rights," few of his hearers gave the words much note since if had been generally agreed that the so-called "civil rights" program had little chance of enactment at this session. No one commented, for example, that while "civil rights" were mentioned, the enactment of only one part of the original program was suggested.

He Means an FEPC

That was the part which, to use the President's words, would provide "full equality of opportunity"—in other words, a compulsory Fair Employment Practices Commission. There was no mention of a Federal antilynching law nor of an antipoll tax bill.

However, there was a curious use, or rather misuse of words by the President when he said: "We need to take action toward the wider enjoyment of civil rights. Freedom is the birthright of every American."

This is curious for the reason that FEPC, as proposed by Sen. Humphrey (D) Minn., its principal advocate, would reduce the area of freedom for very many Americans.

What About 'Liberty'?

Employers, for example, would lose their liberty to choose employees by their own standards.

The loss of any part of liberty is serious. Patrick Henry, at least, thought so; and so did Jefferson, Franklin, Adams, Livingston and Sherman when they agreed upon the wording of the Declaration of Independence.

They proclaimed "liberty," an "unalienable right." With "life" and the "pursuit of happiness" they considered it basic.

So, when the President talked of "freedom" as the "birthright of every American," it was inconsistent to mention the "civil rights" program in the same breath. The program is incompatible with freedom. And if liberty is unalienable, what shall be done with something calling itself a "civil right" which is an opposition to it? Can it justly be called a right?

It may or may not be an arguable proposition that discrimination is wrong; most people would say that discrimination should not be. The question would then remain whether compulsion is an appropriate way of getting rid of it.

This compulsion would be applied, remember, in an area which has always been left to private choice. Nothing has been more fundamental in the free enterprise system than this right of free choice — choice of occupation, choice of associates, choice of employees. That the choice by employees of employers and associates has been less free is true but means little; there is at least no compulsion, except economic, in the relationship. There is a constitutional amendment—the 13th—which forbids compulsion. Does not ordinary fairness require that it should hold good in reverse?

The 13th Amendment

The opportunity which FEPC would give a politically minded administration to play favorites, to penalize opponents, is a phase of the matter which deserves more consideration than it has had. Petty graft would be made easy. Extortion possible, even if the operations of the commission were 100% honest and impartial. The harassment of employers who had obtained the dislike of labor bosses would be facilitated.

It is one thing for the government to abolish discrimination in its own employment or agencies, though that it has actually done so seems dubious. It is also possible for the government to insist upon no discrimination, on the part of government contractors, though the taxpayers no doubt pay a price for it. It is quite another for the government to interfere with the freedom, or liberty, of private employment. Any hampering of liberty is extremely likely, indeed almost certain, to do more harm than good.

As for antagonism, that is not cured by forced association. On the contrary, it will inevitably be made worse.

Boy Scouts Plan Television Program for Birthday Party

Joining with citizenry across the nation in celebrating the 42nd birthday of the Boy Scouts of America, this city will observe Boy Scout Week February 6 to 12. Churches, schools, and civic organizations will pay tribute to the scouts and leaders of McKinley District of the Los Angeles Area Boy Scout Council.

According to Judge Edwin Jefferson, district chairman, Friday night, February 8 (actual BSA birthday), a birthday party will be staged at 9:30 over television station KTTV. Local Scout units will hold coinciding parties around television sets and the program will be climaxed by the recital of the Boy Scout Oath by all participants and all Scouts and Scouters watching the show.

On Saturday afternoon, the official nationwide Boy Scout Week broadcast will originate from the annual May Company Jamboree for Scouts in the Shrine Auditorium. Starring Eddie Cantor, Leo Carillo, the Sportsmen, the Mitchell Choirboys, and many sports figures, the broadcast will be heard here at 1 p.m. over NBC and will be followed by an additional half-hour radio show from New York, national Scout headquarters.

Many local Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, and Explorers and their leaders are expected to attend the two sessions of the May Company Jamboree—fun-packed entertainment given each year by the store for the area's Scouts.

Saturday and Sunday, the 9th and 10th, are observed as Boy Scout Sabbath and Boy Scout Sunday. All during the week, Scout units will have displays of Scouting skills, and other subjects in local store windows as part of the annual B'nai B'rith Window Display Contest.

Many Packs, Troops, and Explorer units are holding banquets, reunions, and open house meetings and outdoor demonstrations of Scout activities will be a feature in some localities.

ELAJC Sets Registration

Final registration for day and evening divisions of East Los Angeles Junior College will be conducted on Monday and Tuesday of next week with instruction beginning Wednesday, February 6, the office of admissions disclosed today.

In special instances delayed registration will be accepted up to February 15.

Evening division enrollment will also be processed tonight and Friday until 4 p.m.

ELAJC offerings are designed to meet the needs both of high school graduates and of adults who are employed part or full-time.

Courses at ELAJC give full credit for lower division work in pre-professional preparation, provide basic information leading to upgrading students in their current fields of employment, and remove deficiencies for entrance to four-year colleges and universities.

Water and Power To Hold Open House

All persons wishing to see the inside workings of some of the big electrical and water facilities operated by the City's Department of Water and Power will have their chance Feb. 3-9.

Those dates constitute "Water and Power Week" which celebrates the 50th anniversary of the Department. In token of the occasion many power stations, pumping plants and reservoirs will hold "open house" so Angelenos may see their city-owned water and power services in operation.

Central Ave. C. of C. Elects New Officers

The Central Avenue Chamber of Commerce met on Jan. 23 in a special meeting at the Vernon Avenue Branch of the Los Angeles Library for the election of officers for 1952. Preceding the election President M. M. Salzman asked the well attended meeting to hear Mr. V. J. Hurley and Mr. Jessie Robinson, on the need of Westview Hospital. Mr. Kenneth Morris, executive secretary of the 28th Street Branch of the YMCA, spoke on the challenge to the community regarding its support to the "Y."

The election of officers was as follows:

President, Jack Rosen, Merry-Go-Round Baby Shop; vice president, Dr. S. S. Brown, optometrist; executive secretary, R. Bentley Strather, public relations counsellor; treasurer, Myer Bluestein, Western Department Store.

Board of Directors: Ralph Myers of the Vogue Shop; Kenneth Morris, executive secretary 28th St. Branch YMCA; R. M. Hirson, Rodgers Credit Department Store; Chester Washington, Pacific Coast Edition of the Pittsburg Courier; and Myer Bluestien.

Membership and Advertising Committee: Dora Moore, Los Angeles Sentinel; Sid Hazer, Neighborhood News; Anita Grant, Los Angeles Herald; Wendell Green, California Eagle; and Chester Washington.

Promotion Committee: Nat Diamond, Empire Furniture & Appliance Co.; Gail Holt, Eastern-Columbia; Daniel Urfrig, Shoeland Store; Sid Hazer and Myer Bluestien.

Community Relations Committee: H. Alberger, Helen Jane's Shop; Ruth Tom, National Dollar Store; M. M. Salzman, Fleishman's Department Store; Clarence Soboles, Soboles Department Store, and R. M. Hirson.

Finance Committee: J. C. Massey, Kress Store; Cora Martin, Los Angeles oGspel Music Co., Inc.; Myer Bluestien, Dr. S. S. Brown and Jack Rosen.

Grievance Committee: Bert Worth, Rose Shoppe; Al Alshuler, Smart Shoppe; Sam Ishihara, B & B House of Style.

and bayonets," he said. "It means orders signed by the President and the courts. If you throw the races together by such force and create a status that is right, they will come to accept it and be proud of it."

Judge Waring has been denounced throughout the state and once a cross with K. K. K. scratched on it was burned in front of his home. Again, someone tossed a brick through his window.

The judge presumably will retire before the rehearing of the Charlendon County segregation case.

New Stop Signs

Boulevard stop signs are going to be installed at Wadsworth and 84th Street, announced Councilman Kenneth Hahn.

Because of the request of J. R. Greenwood, 910 East 84th Street, who called this to the attention of Councilman Hahn, the Department of Traffic Engineering approved this request for better safety for the community.

denville with a 13-year-old boy when a group of men in three cars shouted to him to stop. He speeded up his old model taxi, but at the first stop light he heard a gun blast and bullet.

One of the men he said, struck him on the head with a blackjack and put him and the boy in the back seat of one of the cars, face down.

"Lesson"

He said they were driven up a side road and then were ordered out of the car. The white men told them to stay until everyone had left and then go back to the Negro quarters and tell the others "that is just a sample." It was done, Holland reports, "as a lesson to other Negroes."

To date, there have been no arrests for the Christmas night bombing at Mims, Fla., which took the lives of state NAACP leader Harry T. Moore and his wife, Harriet. It was the murder of Moore which focused the eyes of the nation on the terrifying conditions existing in Florida. The murder of the Moores followed by only a few weeks the "legal" killing of Samuel Shepherd, Groveland rape case prisoner, as he was being escorted to a Supreme Court-ordered new trial. He was killed by Sheriff Willis McCall, who was quickly exonerated.

Individuals and organizations throughout the country are joining in the protest against these events and in the demand for corrective action.

More Support

The Urban League has pledged its full support and has called upon all of its chapters to cooperate with the NAACP to rally public opinon behind the demand for action. Others who acted last week are: The Phi Beta Sigma fraternity; students at the University of Chicago; American Federation of Musicians, AFL; New Jersey State CIO; Jewish Labor Committee of New York; Jewish War Veterans; American Jewish Congress; seven national youth organizations; and a host of individual unions and other organizations.

Los Angeles, however, is the first city to stage a city-wide united protest as a means of demonstrating the solidarity of labor, civic, Jewish, and other religious and liberal organizations with the struggle of Negroes against the unchecked terror and intimidation that rules large sections of the South.

Remember the date: February 21. At the Shrine Auditorium.

Civil Defense Radio Program

"Ground Zero," the dramatized story of what a radio news reporter found when he investigated the Civil Defense program in his home town, is the subject of the State Office of Civil Defense state-wide broadcast this week.

The program, heard for the first time this wek, takes the reporter through Civil Defense planning, with emphasis on radiological contamination; school alert drills; a family plan for survival and emergency food supplies, and the necessity of first aid training.

Next week's broadcast, "I Was A-Bombed," is the story of a Los Angeles City College student who was three and one-half miles from ground zero when Hiroshima was bombed.

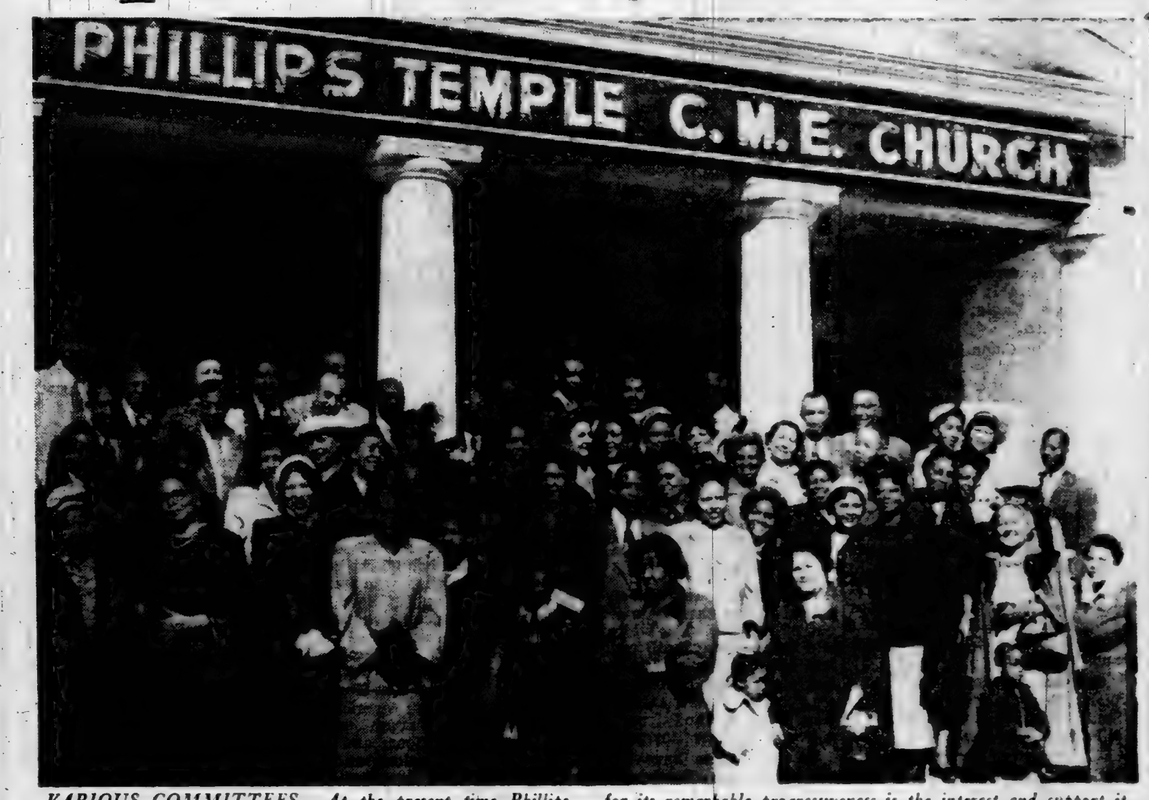
MIRIAM CHRISTIAN, Church Editor



FOR SUNDAY SCHOOLERS

THE OINTMENT

One day Jesus was invited to dinner by a man named Simon. While He was eating, a woman came in with a dainty bottle filled with lovely perfume called ointment.

She knew that she had not been a good woman. She felt so sorry for her sins that she knelt down by Jesus and cried very hard, and her tears fell on His feet. She wiped the tears away with her long hair, and poured the sweet perfume on His feet.

Phillips' Temple Becomes Success Upon Early Faith of Its Pioneers

VARIOUS COMMITTEES—At the present time Phillips Temple C.M.E. church is building one of the biggest campaign funds the city has witnessed recently. Compared to one of its first campaigns dating back to 1909, the church still shows signs of the gallant fight for expanding as it portrayed then. One reason for its remarkable progressiveness is the interest and support it receives from the little tots to the older members as shown in the above picture. Under the leadership of its dynamic pastor, Rev. Curry, the church purchased an $18,000 house next to the church in less than one year.

By MIRIAM CHRISTIAN

The story of how the Colored Methodist Episcopal Church was first set up in California is a stirring saga of the struggles overcome by a determined band of small worshippers to found a church of their cause. Finding themselves away from their homes and original church ties elsewhere in the United States, the little group settled in Los Angeles where church life was practically new but inviting to a budding idea. Out of that unheralded beginning was eventually evolved the First Colored Methodist Episcopal Church, and later Phillips' Temple which now stands at 43rd and Wadsworth streets. It is one of the community's important churches.

One of the pioneers in that early period of the church was a native of South Carolina, W. G. E. Robinson. He was so anxious to see a church of the CME faith established in Los Angeles that he began holding prayer meetings, with his wife, at their home on Hunter street back in 1906.

Set Up

It was at one of those meetings that Robinson got an idea to write the General Church for help in setting up a church. His letter moved one church official to action, the late Bishop Charles Henry Phillips who readily assigned a minister to this mission field. The minister was Rev. J. C. Reece of Texas.

From the Fall of 1906 up to 1908, Reece served as pastor to a congregation that then answered to the name of First Colored Methodist Episcopal Church. The first service of the group was held in the home of the Robinsons. Not counting the hosts and minister, six attended that meeting. They were Mr. E. B. Maxey; Irma Shand, who is now Irma Battish, and her cousin, Ida Howell; Mrs. Letitia Bruce, who was ill at the time and Mr. and Mrs. McElroy, who later moved to another town in California.

Mitchell's Music

The little band of CME's later moved to Roberts Undertakers where they held their meetings until 1907, the year the group was bolstered with some other members like Mrs. Betty Johnson and Mrs. Georgia Mitchell. Mr. Mitchell did not join the church at the same time his wife did but later was converted. Being an excellent musician, he served as minister of music for the congregation for more than seven years. The daughter of the Mitchells, Eunice, was the first child in the church's Sunday School and is now organist for its choirs.

Bishop Phillips made his first visit to their coast in 1907. When he came, he found a small band of faithful workers worshipping in a little hall. To his surprise, the group prepared a banquet in his honor. It was attended by many of the local ministers and their wives.

Special Plea

Bishop Phillips was so impressed with what he saw in Los Angeles that he put in a special plea for the city's group before the West Texas Annual Conference that convened in Ft. Worth, Texas in 1908. Phillips asked for a minister who would be willing to go West and build a church in Los Angeles. The Rev. L. S. Harris answered his call.

Some time in January 1909, Rev. Harris and his wife, Mrs. Mariah Harris, arrived in Los Angeles where they found a little band of workers anxiously awaiting his arrival. He immediately set about to direct the erection of a church building, banking on the promise of Bishop Phillips that he would pay for the lot if the congregation could build its own church.

When the Annual Conference convened in Los Angeles in the Fall of 1909, Bishop Phillips and other church officers were quite astounded to know that they could walk into a little brick church that bore the sign of CME's. The group had built the edifice in less than nine months on a lot at 1406 Newton street. That was the first CME church in Los Angeles. It was named

Youth Plan Program to Honor Allen

The young people of First A. M.E. church, Eighth and Towne, are reported making extensive preparations for a special program Sunday, February 10, at 7 p.m., commemorating the birthday of Richard Allen, founder and first Bishop of the African Methodist Episcopal Church.

According to Mrs. Mary Person, director of the program, the event will feature a pageant of all the living Bishops of the A.M.E. church. Organizations participating in the program include Allen Stars, Sons of Allen, Young Peoples' department of missionary society, Youth choir, and the Sunday school.

Assisting with the training of the young people is Mrs. Willa Mae Curtis, radio and screen celebrity and Junior choir mother. Special music will be rendered by the Junior choir under the direction of Mrs. Laura Smitherman. Mrs. Sarah L. Davis will be at the organ.

St. Martin's Holds Candlemas Service

The second Annual Candlemas service will be held in St. Martin's Episcopal church, 10015 Compton avenue, Sunday evening, February 3 at 7:30 p.m. with the Rev. Lowell McDowell, Vicar, Church of the Holy Communion, Gardena, as special preacher. Candles to be used in the church's service throughout the year will be blessed at this service.

Candlemas is the final feast of the Christmas cycle. In this feast we see Christ still as a little child in the arms of His mother, but we also see Mary already bringing her son to the temple to offer Him as a sacrifice to God. The Choir of St. Martin's will sing a special anthem at this sacred rite.

St. Philip Honors Rector's Pastorate

The rector of one of the city's leading churches will mark 18 years of service to his church and community. Special services will be held Sunday, February 3, honoring the anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. H. Randolph Moore, rector of St. Philip's Episcopal church, 801 E. 28th street. There wil be two services, low mass at 8 a.m. at which Father Moore will celebrate, and another at 11 a.m. at which he will sing the mass and preach. The choir, under the directorship of Phyllis Kelson Holloway, will furnish special music.

When Father Moore came to Los Angeles in 1934 he became "Vicar" of St. Philip, a title given by the Bishop to pastors of dependent churches. However, during the years 1934 to 1944, through paying off a $30,000.00 debt, increasing its property holdings and meeting diocesan requirements, the congregation earned the title Parish for itself and that of Rector for its Vicar.

An interesting measure of the congregation's development, aside from numerical growth, services rendered and influence in the community, may be seen in the fact that in 1934 St. Philip was assessed $182 as annual support of the diocese of Los Angeles and the Episcopal Church in general. The assessment in 1951 was $3,284.00 and St. Philip paid $3,421.50, an excess of $137.50.

The public is cordially invited to share the services Sunday with the congregation in celebration of its Rector's anniversary.

LEADERS IN CHURCH'S ORGANIZATIONS—In any church, certain members outshine others by their many contributions to create a better church home. These members head committees and hold meetings during their free time to offer their services to the church. Often they dig deeper in the pockets than others, for by working on the inside they are aware of the difficult problems every church faces. Pictured are a group of Rev. Curry's aides who assist him in many ways.

WARD CELEBRATES ONE YEAR AT NEW LOCATION

Ward AME church, said Dr. Frederick D. Jordan, its pastor, is at the close of its first year of service to its new community, centering in the near west side this week. In September, 1950 Dr. Jordan was removed from a successful pastorate at First AME church, 8th & Towne avenue. After the change the city rallied to his support.

Sixteen thousand dollars remained to be raised to complete the down payment on the property they now occupy, as well as additional funds to renovate the property and operate the church. At the end of sixteen weeks, Dr. Jordan reported more than $20,000 had been accumulated by the small congregation.

Early in February they acquired possession of one of the most complete church plants occupied by any of our congregations in the city. Approximately $7,500 was spent for renovation and additional furnishings in preparation for entertaining the Bishop's Council of the church which brought nearly 2,500 visitors and delegates to the city.

Services Sunday

Sunday the Communion service from 8 to 9 o'clock in the morning, which Ward has observed throughout Dr. Jordan's administration, will feature a theme of Thanksgiving. Music will be furnished by Ward Gospel choir, Barnett Thornton, soloist and director.

By special request the famous Senior choir of Ward, under the direction of Mrs. Blanche Woods, will repeat at the 10:45 a.m. worship service, selections from the highly successful Mid-winter Fiesta presented to an appreciative audience which overflowed the sanctuary last Sunday night.

Bishop Isaiah H. Bonner

At the Annual Allen Day service next Sunday, Bishop I. H. Bonner of Alabama, who has for the past four years supervised the work of the African Methodist Episcopal Church in South Africa, will deliver the sermon.

Martha Washington Tea at Mt. Zion

A mammoth Martha Washington tea will be staged at Zion Hill Baptist church, 5025 McKinley avenue on February 22, on the night when Walter White is expected to speak to 2200 persons attending the mass rally.

Dr. Charles Satchel Morris will be George Washington and his wife, Mrs. Irene Anita Morris will portray Martha. Mrs. Morris is the personable local businesswoman and Dr. Morris was recently awarded a radio-television for his essay on "What America Means to Me."

All Saints Holds Formal Opening

Announcement of a formal opening of All Saints Spiritual Church of the First Born, located at 3201 W. Pico Blvd. at St. Andrews Pl. was made by its pastor and founder, Madame Rebecca Dena Brooks last Wednesday. The church has planned for her an all-day service in which many outstanding preachers and singers will participate.

Pastor will be assistant pastor, Mother Rev. C. D. Wellingham. At the 11 a.m. service, Dr. David R. Favors will preach. Master of ceremonies will be Dr. George W. Wilson Jr. Playing the piano throughout the day will be Mattie Knoex. A Bishop of the church body will ordain Madame Brooks, with the aid of Rev. Mays who will deliver a short address.

One of the highlights of the impressive ceremony will be anointing rites and giving out of candles to welcome all visitors. A dedication will be made to the pastor in the form of a song called "Prayer Changes Things." Rev. O. Cannon will deliver a few remarks.

Scriptures will be read by evangelist R. Lott. The well-known Christ Brothers quartet are scheduled for appearance. A reception will follow the services to which all persons regardless of demoninations are invited by the pastor.

William Warfield Concert Scheduled at Philharmonic

Part of the proceeds from the concert to be sung by Negro baritone William Warfield in Philharmonic auditorium on Tuesday evening, February 26, will go to the Ward African Methodist Episcopal church, of which Rev. Frederick Jordan is pastor, it was announced today.

Rev. Jordan is in charge of ticket sales for the concert, and all who wish to attend this musical event should contact him at the church office or by telephone at Prospect 7-9755.

William Warfield sprang into prominence from his brilliant singing in the M-G-M film "Show Boat," a chore for which he was highly praised throughout the nation by leading critics from coast to coast.

In "Show Boat" Warfield sang the very popular Jerome Kern song hit "Ole Man River."

On the strength of his "Show Boat" success, William Warfield has been signed and is now at work on the M-G-M film "Huckleberry Finn."

A complete unknown, Warfield stepped onto the stage of New York's Town Hall in March, 1950, and sang a long, varied and taxing program with such artistry that all New York was singing his praise the next day.

"One of the great voices," proclaimed the World-Telegram and Sun, and all the Metropolitan critics agreed. His Philharmonic program will include works by Schubert, Loewe, Verdi, Faure, and Handel. He will also sing a group of spirituals.

Dr. O. A. Meador Invites Speaker

Dr. O. A. Meador, pastor of the Willing Workers Baptist church, 933 East 27th street, announced today that Dr. Charles Satchell Morris II, who succeeded him as chairman of the ministerial staff at the Zion Hill Baptist church, will be the special guest minister at the regular 11 o'clock worship service next Sunday morning, January 27.

Dr. Meador, who came to Los Angeles just two years ago from San Antonio, Texas, has acquired for the church the valuable property at East 27th and Paloma, quickened the spiritual life of the congregation, and increased the membership.

Third Year for Noted Pastor

More than 500 persons packed the Morning Star Baptist church, 1334 E. 41st street, to attend services honoring its pastor, Dr. P. J. Ellis. A series of sermons are inaugurating the third anniversary of the noted minister.

Edmond's Temple Will Edmonds' Temple Will

Rev. Anita L. Edmonds, outstanding evangelist and ordained minister of the Methodist church has recently purchased the corner building at 937 E. Vernon avenue for a church and will open its doors Sunday, Feb. 10, at 11 a.m.

Artists from every church in the city will appear on the program. Rev. Edmonds has served this community and its churches for 19 years.

There will be three services on Sunday, 11 a.m., 3 p.m., and 8 p.m. Gospel singing and preaching will highlight each service. A revival will be conducted for two weeks, beginning Monday, February 11, with outstanding evangelists of the city and out of town preaching.

The Temple plans to be a memorial to the memory of the evangelist's mother, a missionary and Christian servant for 62 years. She died in June of 1951. Plans are being made to organize a home for needy girls and aged women.

Donations of any kind will be appreciated for this worthy cause. Anyone having a piano or chairs to donate may call AD. 7780 and plans will be made for pick-up. Watch the Eagle for further announcements about the opening of Edmond's Gospel Temple.

Final Rites Held For James Salone At Bowen Church

Funeral services for James William Salone, age 44, Golden State Mutual representative for five years, were held on Monday at Bowen Memorial Methodist church with the Rev. John Baines officiating.

Mr. Salone lived at 4178 Zamora street. He was born in Baton Rouge, La., and was a graduate of Dillard University, New Orleans. He is survived by his wife, Gertrude, and two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Coarch of Baton Rouge and Mrs. Laura Walker of Los Angeles.

Active in church circles, Mr. Salone was a Charge Lay Leader and a member of the usher board at Bowen Methodist.

Interment was in Lincoln cemetery with Angelus Funeral home in charge. Mr. Salone died on Thursday, January 24, at General Hospital where he had been confined for nearly a month.

NEW COMMITTEE MEMBERS NAMED

St. Martin's Episcopal church's new Bishop's committee became effective January 10. Rev. Llewellyn Williams is pastor of the church. Those serving are Warden, James Lewis; Treasurer, Orville Mason; Clerk, William Meredith; Assistant Clerk, Charles Gibson. Other members appointed to assist the Bishop's committee are: Messrs. William Bryant, H. B. Walker, Willie Williams and George Hayes. Delegates to the Diocesan convention were Messrs. James Lewis, Orville Mason and David Mahler.

Philips' Temple Has Faith of Founders

Phillips' Temple after the bishop who inspired its founding.

Members soon started joining the church in large numbers under the smart direction of Rev. Harris who served as pastor from 1908 to 1914. Failing health forced him to give up his active schedule and he was thusly assigned as Conference Evangelist at the 1914 Annual Conference in order that he might rest. Rev. Harris then bought acreage near Victorville, Calif., where he and his wife later retired. In May 1915 he became seriously ill. He died on the last day of that month.

Hardships

Phillips' Temple took shape despite many hardships, including a fire that completely destroyed the first church building on Newton street in 1924. The group lost no time in building a new place of worship. Later in the same year of the disaster, they met for the first time in their present church building.

Phillips' Temple has had five ministers since the tenure of Rev. Harris. Presently the pastor is Rev. N. S. Curry of Texas, a highly trained pulpiteer who has served in the capacity since 1949. Under his leadership the church has purchased and paid for the house next door to the church building. He also raised his conference claims for the first quarter of the year and is ready to turn them over to the Presiding Elder.

Presiding Elder

Presiding Elders at the Phillips' Temple Church up to the present include the Revs. A. W. Walker, Fufus Stout, J. W. Seldon, W. B. Butler, N. N. Smith, R. W. Bircher, L. C. Cleaves and W. H. Dandridge, who is currently serving.

Rev. Curry is a young dynamic sort of person who teaches as he preaches. His leadership has undoubtely been of immeasurable worth to the East 43rd street church.

In his drive to put over his religious program, Rev. Curry surely finds great moral support from his energetic wife and daughter, Betsy.

St. Olaf Choir Appears Here

World famed St. Olaf Choir, from Northfield, Minnesota, journeys to this area for concerts, 8:15 p.m., February 6 and 7, in the Shrine and Civic auditoriums in Los Angeles and Pasadena.

The 60-voice a cappella choir, directed by Olaf Christianssen, alternating its tours to Europe and the United States, will be in concert in this country in the major cities during the balance of the school year.

Featured in its two and a half hour program is some of the best known and loved sacred music in existence. Termed by music critics one of the finest a Cappella groups in the world, and singing to sell-out audiences everywhere, music lovers can look forward to a very enjoyable evening.

New AME Zion Bishops Named

Bishop H. T. Medford, Chairman of the Board of Bishops, A.M.E. Zion Church, announced here this week that three bishops had been selected to supervise the six conferences in the state which have been presided over by the late Bishop Buford F. Gordon.

Bishop Medford will have charge of the Central and South Alabama Conferences. Bishop Raymond L. Jones, Salisbury, N. C., wil take over at the West Alabama and the Cahaba Conferences. The Alabama and North Alabama Conferences will be headed by Bishop James Clair Taylor, Memphis, Tenn. This arrangement will obtain until the Central Conference which meets in Brooklyn, N. Y. May 7.

Baltimore Minister Preaches in Oakland

Evangelist Emma Jones, widely known seer and minister, who is visiting in Oakland from Baltimore, will conduct a 10 day nightly series of meetings at the Universal Church of All People, 16th and Center street, starting February 5.

The meetings will be featured with preaching, divine healing, and spiritual advice. Private instruction will be given those desiring it after each service.

DR. J. J. MASTERS

Admissions will be free with voluntary offerings be taken. Evangelist Jones, who says she has been gifted as a minister since a young girl, is making a tour of the West Coast. Dr. J. J. Masters is founder and pastor of the church where she will appear.

Christian Science Study Topic 'Love'

The healing, comforting value of living in obedience to the laws of divine Love will be pointed out in the Bible lesson to be read in Christian Science churches Sunday.

The lesson-sermon, composed of selections from the Holy Bible (King James version) and the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, is entitled "Love."

The Golden Text from I John (4:16) declares: "We have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him."

Luke's Gospel records, "There was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity 18 years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up herself. And when Jesus saw her, he called her to him, and said unto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity. . . . And immediately she was made straight, and glorified God" (13:11-13).

However things may seem, no evil thing is success, and no good thing is failure.

Crusaders Present New Singing Star

Marvin Hayes, bass, a 1950 Atwater Kent auditions winner and a rising star in local musical circles will be presented in concert February 12 at 8:30 p.m. at First A.M.E. church, Eighth and Towne.

Hayes appeared as a soloist with the Highland Park symphony orchestra before going to Canada where he studied on a scholarship. Last summer he studied with John Charles Thomas and also attended a master class conducted by Madame Lotte Lehman, both celebrated opera and concert artists.

During the war Hayes was a member of a choral group selected by U.S.O. camp shows for a European tour which included Italy, France, Belgium, and Germany. This was a rugged life which brought into use every resource a singer could command.

The Crusaders club, a well-known group of men of the First A.M.E. has set as one of its objectives the public presentation, in the month of February, of some promising young artists.

E. E. Franklin, chairman of the program committee, points out that the concert falls both within Negro History Week and during the celebration of the birthday of the founder of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, Bishop Richard Allen. Other members of the program committee include Bennie Patridge, O'Reese Corporal, Edwin Petty, and Clarence Jones.

The Crusades feel that Los Angeles is large enough to support many major programs and urge all persons to attend some public event during Negro History Week. James R. Derry is the present president of the Crusaders club. Rev. Alvia A. Shaw is pastor at the First A.M.E. church.

Dr. Howard Thurman Convocation Speaker

One of the nation's foremost ministers will be guest speaker at the fourth annual Ministers' Convocation at the University of Southern California this week. Dr. Howard Thurman, pastor of the Church for the Fellowship of All Peoples in San Francisco will lecture at the daily convocation.

Dr. Thurman has headed his church since its organization in 1944. The nationally known religious leader came from Howard University, Washington, D. C. where he had been professor of systematic theology and dean of the chapel. He had held the position since 1932.

The prelate has lectured at more than 200 American and Canadian colleges including the Universities of Chicoga, Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan, Ohio State, Pennslyvania, Minnesota, Yale, Harvard, Princeton, Vassar, Smith, Wesleyan, Fisk and Oberli.

His church in the bay area has the largest interracial congregation in the city. Dr. Thurman has worked on many organizations and committees for better human relations and improvemnt of racial conditions. A book, written by his wife, on Negro pioneers, has been published recently.

Angelus Planning to Open New Mortuary in Long Beach

Two months or so from this date, the Angelus Funeral Home on East Jefferson boulevard will double its service to the local public with the opening of a second mortuary in Long Beach. The mortuary, to be located at 718 Anaheim street, is being set up principally to serve a steadily growing Negro population in the bay town and its surrounding area. It will be the first mortuary for Negroes in that locality.

As planned now, the second Angelus funeral home is to be strictly modern but utilitarian. Designs for the remodeling were blueprinted by architect Paul Williams.

The Long Beach addition will be a rare combination in building art, wedding real beauty with absolute practicalness. Limited to a one-story structure, it nonetheless will be adequately furnished for comfort and top service. The mortuary will house a chapel, slumber room, display room, family room, operation room and women's and men's lounges. On its exterior at two sides will be constructed a covered ramp of special weather material under which a procession can move without being exposed to unfavorable climes. In a lot closely adjacent to the mortuary will be located a huge paved area for parking cars.

Angelus' second funeral home will be much like the old place. It will have the services of most of the company's present staff of competent funeral attendants and motor fleet of sleek Cadillac cars. Also it will offer the same thorough funeral service at moderate prices that has long been a trademark with the company.

Angelus maintains a permanent offer to take complete responsibility for the arrangement and conduct of the entire funeral service.

With the opening of its second mortuary, Angelus will be making another big step towards the complete fulfillment of its pledge to the community: "Service for the living, a loving tribute to the departed."

The proposed funeral parlor in Long Beach was conceived on the idea of full service to the public always. Explains the company's farsighted young president, John L. Hill, "We recognize the great need for a mortuary in the local bay area, since people there have to travel all the way to Los Angeles when they want to hire burial service. That shouldn't be. So Angelus is setting about to answer the need. It is in keeping with our regular policy to serve the people everywhere we can."

Angelus, servicing Los Angeles for some 30 years now, will embark upon a new era with the mortuary in Long Beach. Since 1934, the company has come to be best known by its single office building, an attractive, stucco structure at 1030 E. Jefferson blvd. The building is looked upon by many local residents as a landmark of the community where most families turn to for service when they have burial problems.

Missionaries Off War Internee List

The 26 Catholic and Protestant missionaries who have vanished in Korea since the outbreak of the war were missing from a list of foreign civilian internees given the United Nations earlier this week by the Communists.

Among the missing were the two highest Catholics in Korea—Apostolic Delegate Bishop Patrick J. Byrne of Washington, D. C., and Msgr. Patrick Brennan of Chicago.

Bishop Alleyne served as resident Bishop of the area for four years, and has shown a deep interest in the work since that time.

Lincoln Birthday Meeting Slated at Pasadena Church

Dr. Harold C. Case, president of Boston University and former pastor of the Pasadena First Methodist Church, will address a Lincoln's Birthday meeting in the Crown City. His speech will be the featured part of an interracial meeting sponsored by the Carver California Commission on Race Relations and Phi Beta Sigma fraternity.

The meeting, to be held at the First Methodist Church of Pasadena, is being called at the invitation of its pastor, Dr. K. Morgan Edwards, in observance of National Brotherhood Week. Dr. George Robert Garner III is meeting chairman.

Dr. Edwards comments on the meeting: "We are mortunate at First Church to be able to be host at the meeting so that the many friends of President Case will be able to greet him here at home in Pasadena."

Preludes to the Mass Meeting at the church will be in two panels to be held on Sunday afternoon and evening of February 10. The afternoon meeting will be held in the University Methodist Church on the USC campus at 3:30 p.m. The evening session will be held at the First Baptist Church in Pasadena at 8 p.m. Dr. Wendell Miller and Dr. George Hill will be host pastors respectively.

Subject of the two panels to be presented will be "United Mankind in a Divided World." Speakers for the meetings will be Dr. Robert J. Taylor, former dean of the School of Religion at USC; Dr. Frederick Mayer, professor of philosophy at Redlands University; Dr. Frederick D. Jordan, pastor of Ward African Methodist Episcopal Church; Dr. Stewart G. Cole, director of Pacific Coast Council for Cultural Education; Dr. Floyd Ross, professor of theology at USC; attorney Vince Monroe Townsend, counselor at law and associate minister at Ward AME Church; Dr. William Lindsay Young, clergyman and Rev. George Hill, First Baptist Church of Pasadena.

Prof. Albert J. McNeil will be in charge of the afternoon's musical program to be held in University Methodist Church. The McNeil Singers are preparing special music for the occasion.

Prof. Jester Hairston will present the musical program on Sunday evening in the Pasadena First Baptist Church. The Jester Hairston Choral Ensemble, sponsored by the Los Angeles City Bureau of Music, will be directed by Prof. Hairston. The meetings will begin promptly at 3:30 p.m. and 8 p.m. The public is invited.

D. C. Pastor Dies Sunday

Persons from al walks of life crowded into Galbraith A.M.E. Zion Church in Washington, D.C. Thursday to pay the last tribute to Dr. J. L. White who had pastored the church for about 13 years. Dr. White died at his home Sunday to a protracted illness, but one which none of his many followers and friends though serious.

Fellow ministers of the area took part in the services: Revs. Obadiah Goodwin, John Hollis, Jackson A. Browne, Drs. W. A. Stewart, Henry J. Callis, G. M. Edwards and Stephen Gill, Spottswood. The eulogy was delivered by Dr. D. C. Pope, a former pastor of the church, and who will serve as the pastor until the Annual Conference.

Keep Informed

Next month is Catholic Press Month. Whether or not you read only your CALIFORNIA EAGLE, by all means form the habit of likewise reading and supporting the Catholic Press. It is like an immage reflecting current events just as they are, without the least distortion or curvature of any sort. It reports the mind of the Holy Father and our Bishops on trends of the day. It keeps us informed on how current issues stack up in the light of eternal truth. Make sure your home is always supplied with a few up-to-date Catholic Periodicals.

Remember: "Everyone owes it to himself to KEEP INFORMED."

"KEEPING THE FAITH"

There is a professional Code of Ethics which guides all our dealings with people. It is a point of honor with us to put our best efforts forward at all times to use our best skills and to respect any confidence. WE KEEP THE FAITH.

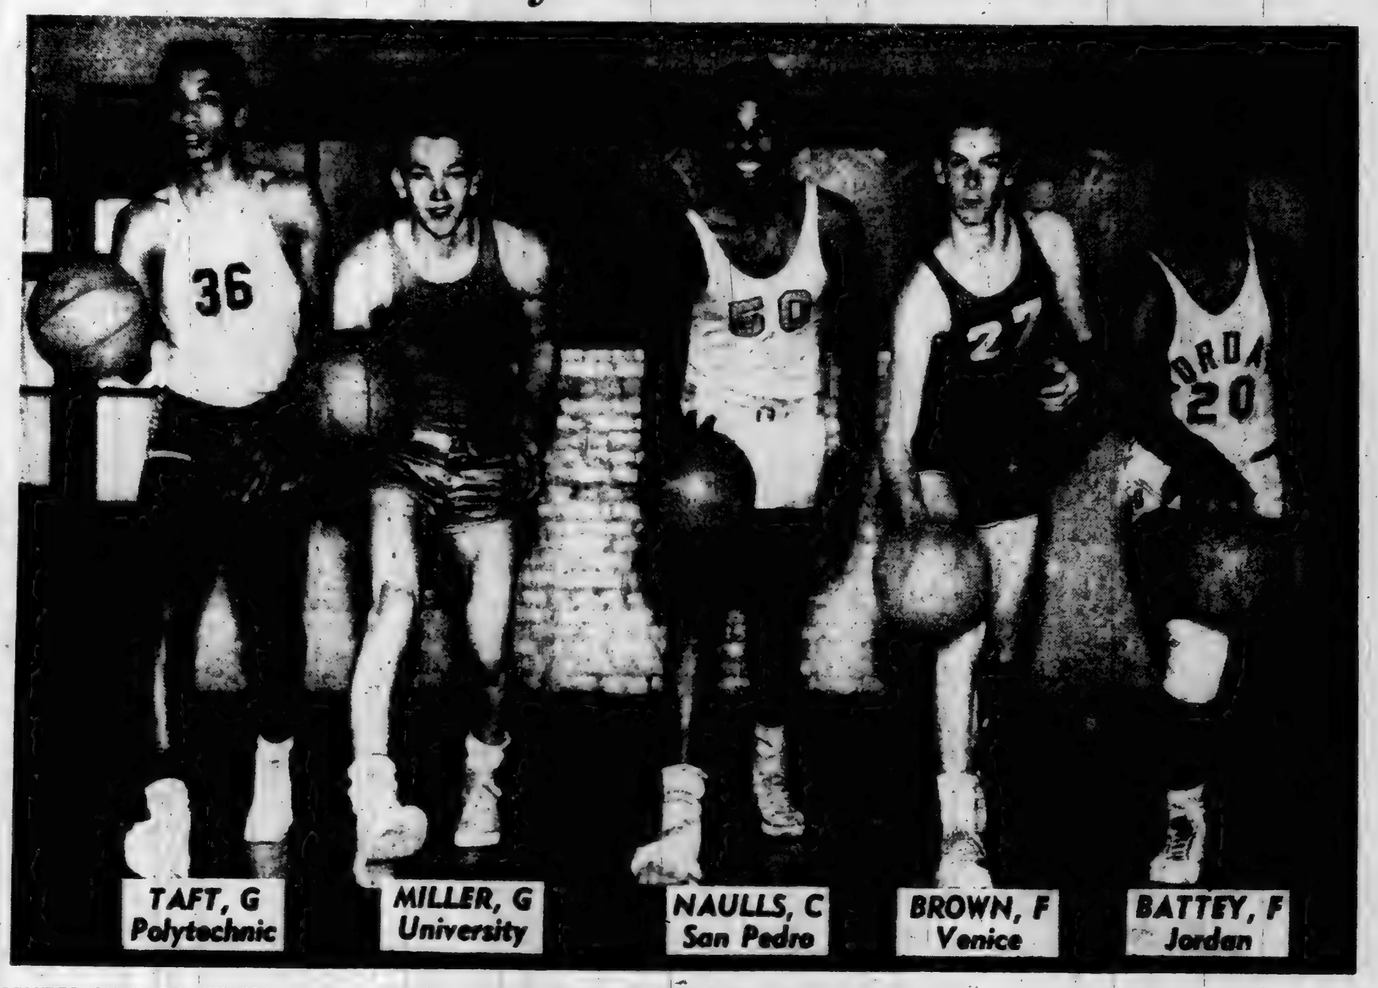
JERRY DREW TO ENTER UCLA

Prep Star To Play Single Wing

Scotching rumors that he was going to enter Stanford, California, and the University of Oklahoma, Jerry Drew, Jefferson High's sensational scatback and 1951 co-player of the year in the city, announced today that he would enroll at UCLA for the spring semester February 18.



Drew, a 5-foot, 9-inch 180-pounder who called signals from his left half berth for the Democrats, was the big gun in Jeff's drive to the mythical title under Mike Marienthal, one-time Bruin tackle.

Red Sanders, UCLA's headman, said of Drew, "We are mighty happy to have Jerry. He's easily one of the best prospects in the State."

Marenthal, who coached Drew the last two seasons in the T formation, added, "Jerry was the most valuable man on our ball club. He's a fine player both offensively and defensively. He is a good team man and should be a good college player."

Running from the T, Drew last season scored 67 points to pace the Jefferson steamroller. A two-time All-City selection, Drew garnered his points in 1951 on 11 touchdowns—three of them on brilliant punt returns—and one conversion.

— All City Basketball Team —

CENTER OF ATTRACTION—In prep cagedom are the five lads above named on the '52 All-City team. San Pedro's Willie Naulls and Jordan's Earl Battey were named co-players of the year. These boys were the city's No. 1 and No. 2 scorers.

Prying Pye in Prep Sportdom

By BRAD PYE, JR.

BASEBALL AND TRACK IS COMING

Baseball is coming, and I hear tell members of the race will be baseballing in the Texas League. . . . Branch Rickey, general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, said this week that he "was not at all surprised" at the recent announcement that Dallas of the Texas Baseball League planned to use Negro players.

PYE

"The day is fast coming when nobody will ask about a player's color any more than they do about his nationality," he said.

I also understand that the Cleveland Indians have some promising Negro baseballers to send to their Dallas farm club. . . . Chum, we are blazing trails in baseball all over the world, but according to the Professional Golf Association the game of golf is too good for us in certain parts of the country. . . . (That is for us.)

HERE AND YONDER

Jessie Raymond, ex-ELAJC cager, and Sammy Owens, All-City performer for Manual Arts last season, are currently members of the Iowa Ghost Pro club, coached by Rip Collins, erstwhile Harlem Globetrotter player. . . . The lads were in town the past week. . . . Jim Powell, All-City Player of the Year for Poly High in '50, is reported playing for the Oakland Bittners. . . . Powers also holds the city scoring record of 28.9. . . . Jim was a member of that great LACC team that won the National JC title in '51 which featured Rollin Hans and Hal Uplinger. . . . Ed Sanders is being heralded as one of the finest young heavyweights developed around these parts. . . . I hear tell Ed was quite an athlete at Jordan High and Compton JC. . . . Gene Smith, k.o. winner over Corky Gonzales in the third round of a 10-round bout in Washington last week, is rated a threat to Sandy Saddler's featherweight crown. He sports a record of 28 wins, 22 via the t.k.o. route.

JEFFERSON'S THIRD ANNUAL CHOW FOR CHAMPS

That is how Morpy Kapp of the Daily News put it and I may add appropriately said. . . . The official name for the grand affair was the Jefferson High Third Annual Semi-Sports Award Banquet. . . . The event honored the coaches and athletes of the cross-country, basketball, and football teams. . . . Several outstanding cross-country runners cited for honors were stellar pole vaulter O. W. Rhodes, Frank Denkins, "Judge" Walker, kid brother of Jeff's great miler of last year Jimmy Walker, and James Burrell, a fine distance prospect. . . . Coach Estel Johnson states that Walker, Denkins, and Burrell are expected to be three of the best milers in the city. . . . Harold Forsha, a sharp little guard, was voted the outstanding varsity basketball player. . . . James Bernard, and "Little Mo" Charlie Johnson were named "most valuable lineman and back," respectively, in the Class "B" division. . . . These boys were the backbone of Bert Watson's championship crew.

I may add the chow for the banquet was prepared by the greatest chefs in the world, that is athletically speaking. . . . Head chef Estel Johnson, track; Larry Hanson, basketball; Richard Bernard, basketball; Brice Taylor, former USC All-American; Henry Falza, Alvin Buck, coordinator of athletics; Veep Henry Dyck, Mike Marienthal, and Bert Watson, "A" and "B" football, should be in line for congratulations for a job well done.

An added attraction for the event was the honoring of the popular Jefferson High all-girl drill team under the direction of former Olympic swimming champion, Miss M. Mallon.

Lawrence Williams racked up 35 points for Hanson's city championship "B" team for a new city record and he and his buddies also wrote seven other new marks in the books.

Arthur Stewart, the fine 880 star for the Democrats, has made plans to join another teammate of yesteryear, Guy Blackburn, at the University of California come next month. . . . Alfred Burruss, the watch-charm guard on Marienthal's "Street Car Eleven Named Desire," will take advantage of his scholarship at Whittier College come next month. . . . Charles Hill and Dean Johnson, all-city performers for that great Jeff varsity cage team of last campaign, will be seen in action here Friday night with Cal Poly against Pepperdine College.

Famous Harlem Globetrotters Play Here Friday, Sunday and Monday

HARLEM GLOBETROTTERS SCHEDULE, 1952
Friday Night, Shrine Auditorium, Feb. 1
Harlem Globetrotters vs. Philadelphia Sphas.
Boston Whirlwinds vs. Toledo Mercurys.
Sunday Afternoon, Pan-Pacific Auditorium, Feb. 3
Harlem Globetrotters vs. Boston Whirlwinds.
Philadelphia Sphas vs. Toledo Mercurys.
Monday Evening, Pan-Pacific Auditorium, Feb. 4
Winners vs. winners, Sunday's game.
Losers vs. losers, Sunday's game.

Biggest basketball event of the year, every year, everywhere, is the annual visit of the Harlem Globetrotters, that phenomenal aggregation of funmakers whose fame and renown has spread to the far corner of the world.

This week, Los Angeles entertains the 'Trotters, and they are certain of a warm reception. They'll play three games on this trip, the first Friday evening, Feb. 1, at the Shrine Auditorium; the other two at the Pan-Pacific, one on Sunday afternoon, 2 p.m., the other on Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

Here, as everywhere, it makes no difference who the 'Trotters face on the hardwood floor. The 'Trotter brand of magic is something far above and beyond imitation. Their football and baseball routines, and all the unscheduled and impromptu stunts and tricks that they pull, beggar description. You've got to see them to believe them.

This is the silver jubilee for the 'Trotters—their 25th year of existence. They were "born" in Chicago in the winter of 1927; from a lowly start, beset with hardships, animosities and difficulties, they have risen to an eminence unequalled in the annals of sports.

Back in '27 they trotted a "globe" that consisted of three Western states, in two rickety, ramshackle automobiles — the "good" one had only 79,000 miles on the speedometer. It was known as the "palace car."

And now, take a glance at last year's itinerary:

They covered 125,000 miles—that's five times the circumference of the globe. They played 340 games, winning 334, losing six. More than two million people paid admission to see them play. They had an audience with Pope Pius XII in Rome; (His Holiness said he had shaken lots of hands, but Reece "Goose" Tatum had the biggest he'd ever gripped). They were wined, dined and feted by celebrities of world renown; in Buenos Aires, down in Argentina, Juan and Evita Peron, the biggest shots in South America, honored them with a cocktail party. Senor Peron presented each of the 'Trotters with a sword-shaped letter-opener, engraved with his name.

Last week, in San Francisco, they won their 4,000th victory. The San Francisco Junior Chamber of Commerce presented Abe Saperstein, the little genius who organized the 'Trotters 25 years ago, with a plaque commemorating the occasion.

There are new faces on the roster this year—former All-Americans who fitted into the unique Globetrotter style of play.

Marques Haynes, the greatest dribbler the game has ever known, is the new captain. Babe Pressley has retired, after 15 long years of honorable and distinctive service; he is now the co-coach.

Of course, the great "Goose" will be on hand—Reece Tatum, in person, the outstanding comedian of sports. And, just incidentally, one of the greatest basketball players in the world. His fadeaway shot — well, if you've never seen it, it's a "MUST."

You don't have to know basketball, or like it, to enjoy the Globetrotters. They're a great show. The "greatest show on earth," in the world of sports. And perhaps in every other world

Texas Make Your Mind Up

TUCSON, Ariz.—Hadie Redd, University of Arizona Negro basketball player, will not be able to play against Texas Tech in Lubbock because of his race, the university announced this week. Redd will be able to play against West Texas State in Canyon, Hardin-Simmons in Abilene, and Texas Western in El Paso. He was Arizona's outstanding player and leading scorer when it defeated Tech in Tucson two weeks ago.

BUFFALO, N. Y.—Branch Rickey, general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, said he "was not at all surprised" at the recent announcement that Dallas of the Texas Baseball League planned to use Negro players.

"The day is fast coming when nobody will ask about a player's color any more than they do now about his nationality," he said this week.

From Cleveland the Indians said they had some "promising" Negro players to send to their Dallas farm team. They did not name them.

Boxer's Banquet At Alabam Tonight

Great names in the realm of fistiani will be honored at the first annual Boxer's Testimonial at Club Alabam Thursday night. Former heavyweight champion Joe Louis is honored guest. Among the fistic immortals who will take bows are Henry Armstrong, Mickey Walker, Gorilla Jones, Bud Taylor, Lou Nova, Baby Arizmendi, Chalky Wright, John Thomas, Jack Root, Enrique Bolanos, Manuel Ortiz, Ceferino Garcia, Turkey Thompson, Harold Dade and Ken Overlin.

There will be a show, guest talent headed by Eddie Rochester Anderson, Joyce Bryant, Arthur Lee Simpkins, Joe Liggins, Lillian Randolph and others plus an impressive awards presentation.

WALCOTT SAYS HE OWES EZ NOTHING

MILWAUKEE — Ex-heavyweight champ Ezzard Charles states that Jersey Joe Walcott has "a moral obligation to give me the first crack at his heavyweight title," the Milwaukee Sentinel says.

The champ's reply to this, "I don't owe Charles anything."

Walcott declared when he was contacted at St. John, New Brunswick, Can., "I'm going to fight the man who will draw the biggest gate, be it Charles, Marciano or Harry Matthews. I'm not going to be pressured into any particular fight."

28th Street Y Meets Hollywood

Thursday night the 28th Street "Y" Varsity, better known as the "Hoopsters," continued their winning ways by defeating Inglewood YMCA 70-52 for their fourth straight victory. Big Dan McAllister was the big gun for the winners with 16 points. This Thursday, January 31, the Hoopsters will play the Hollywood YMCA Varsity at 7:15 p.m. at the 28th Street YMCA.

At last the "D" team at the local YMCA tasted how it feels to enter the win column. They defeated the "D" team from All-Nations Community Center Saturday at the 28th Street gym, the score being 42-30.

C. Clark, stellar forward for the "Y" team, hit for 18 points, while his teammate M. White finished a close second with 17 points.

The "C" team was idle but they will journey to Hollywood on Saturday, February 2 to play the Hollywood "C" team.

SANTA ANITA — They say money follows money. It proved true last Saturday at Santa Anita when young Alf. Vanderbilt, the multi-millionaire horseman who has one of the best stables of thoroughbreds in the world, captured first and second place in the rich Santa Margarita Handicap when Bed o' Roses and Next Move finished in that order. Vanderbilt took down $62,900, also carrying with it the fillies and mares championship of the meeting. The one mile and one furlong Santa Margarita proved a cinch and one of the softest touches for the Vanderbilt matrons as Bed o' Roses rambled in by one length over her illustrious stablemate, Toto, an outsider, was third.

The crowd of 47,000 lovers of the sport of kings sent the entry of Vanderbilt's postward as odds-on favorites. They paid $3.80, $3.20, $2.30 across the board. The crowd was the largest of the year and $2,783,644 was wagered for the eight races.

Wednesday, the San Gabriel Stakes for colts and geldings, 3-year-olds at seven furlongs will be the feature attraction. It carries an added value of $15,000. And on Saturday, February 2, the richest race of its kind will be run. It's the Santa Anita Maturity at 1¼ miles. It has an added value of $100,000 and the winner will take down about $130,000, not bad for a good horse and its owner. My pick is Counterpoint, who this writer thinks is another Man o' War. Watch him fly!

CALIENTE in Old Mexico—Nearly 8,000 fans were on hand for last Sunday's racing in colorful Old Mexico, and the feature event was won by Kay Em Count after a long stretch duel with Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Hurn's Union Flag. It was nip and tuck all the way down the long stretch with Kay Em Count getting the victory by the shortest of noses.

It took a masterful ride by Jockey Arthur Anderson to subdue Jockey Tucker Slender who had the mount on Union Flag. Kay Em Count was brought to Caliente last year by movie star Mickey Rooney but was claimed later by Bob Hall. As second choice in the betting the winner paid a neat $8.80. The Armstrong entry of So La Ci and Bossy Reigh, hot favorites for the race, finished fourth and last. The daily-double combination of Tryst, winner of the fourth race, and Fern's Delight, victor of the fifth, paid $52.00. The quinela backers of Stag Night and Law Review, who finished in that order, received $79.40. Jockey Arthur Anderson was the star of the afternoon. He rode three winners. Another great card next Sunday.

New Jersey CIO to Aid Trenton 'Two'

NEWARK, N. J.—The New Jersey State CIO last week pledged its continued support to the appeal of the life imprisonment sentence of two of the famous Trenton Six.

Continued financial aid and other support was sought by the NAACP, which has joined with the American Civil Liberties Union and the Princeton Committee in an attempt to get the verdict overturned.

The two, Collis English and Ralph Cooper, were singled out by the jury for conviction in a compromise verdict after the longest trial in New Jersey's history ended last June.

Forced Confessions

At the time of the sensational trial, attorneys for the defense claimed that the case against the men was based entirely on "confessions" extorted by cruelty. It was labeled a "grab-bag case" because, according to the defense, the state in the course of three trials had presented nine different versions of the crime.

The six young Negroes were accused of murdering 73-year-old second-hand furniture dealer William Horner in his shop Jan. 27, 1948. In their first trial, all six were sentenced to the electric chair. The verdict was appealed and in 1949 the New Jersey Supreme Court reversed the decision and ordered a new trial. A second trial ended in a mistrial.

Third Trial

It was at the third trial that English and Cooper were sentenced to life in prison.

The other four, tried with them —McKinley Forrest, Jack McKenzie, Horace Wilson and James H. Thorpe—were found not guilty.

All six had lived a considerable slice of their young lives in the shadow of the electric chair. Since their arrest in February, 1948, they spent three and a half years in jail, part of it in the death row.

In the June trial the guilty verdicts against English and Cooper weer accompanied by a recommendation of mercy. This made life imprisonment the maximum sentence allowable.

UCLA Offers Scholarships

Scholarships for nurses attending the special UCLA extension courses in tuberculosis nursing are being offered by the Los Angeles County Tuberculosis and Health Association.

The evening extension classes, open to registered nurses, begin February 19 at the John Dewey School, Long Beach, and Monrovia-Duarte High School, Monrovia. They are being conducted by the UCLA School of Nursing in cooperation with the health organization.

Nurses interested in applying for the scholarships were advised to apply, by mail, to Executive Secretary, Los Angeles County Tuberculosis and Health Association, 1670 Beverly Blvd., L. A. 26.

Boy Scouts—from 12 to 14 years old—have fun camping, hiking, learning specialized skills and enjoying hobbies, becoming self-reliant and dependable as they develop in character through practicing the Scout Oath and Law.

Postal Head Seeks End to Intimidation

WASHINGTON — Uncle Sam's top postal official—Postmaster General Jesse M. Donaldson—last week promised President Ashby B. Carter of the National Alliance of Postal Employees that he would act at once to halt intimidations of a prominent NAPE branch president in a Southern city who has been fighting for the rights of Negro clerks in the post office in his city.

In the top level hour and a half conference the Postmaster General also told Carter that he favored the appointment of Negro post office inspectors—there never have been any—and the appointment of a Negro postal employe to a policy post in the Postal Operations Bureau.

Carter also pressed the Postmaster General for Negro representation in the office of the chief clerk of personnel—which holds the key to all postal employment. Carter pointed out that the director of this department is E. B. Jackson, a Georgian.

The significance of this, Carter pointed out later, lies in the fact that the same Jackson is also chairman of the Post Office department's Loyalty Board as well as the department's FEPC. "Surely there should be Negro representation in this vital bureau." Carter said, "for its importance to the welfare of Negro postal workers cannot be overestimated."

The alliance head also asked Donaldson for a re-examination of the department's policy on appeals and grievances of employes.

Willowbrook School Employees Granted Salary Increases

An across-the-board salary increase was granted to all personnel of the Willowbrook school district at its last regular meeting on January 16. Certificated as well as non-certificated personnel were affected. The salary increase granted by the Board is in line with its policy of increasing efficiency of all personnel and keeping salaries in line with current wage levels.

At the same meeting, receipt of a checkin the sum of $25,759.30 was acknowledged under the Federal Aid to Education program; this was in addition to a check for $10,742.00 previously received. The checks have been deposited in the general funds of the Willowbrook school district to be used in connection with maintenance, operation, and repairs to the existing school plant.

The public is invited to inspect the tremendous building program now going on at all four schools in the District. These projects have afforded many opportunities and jobs in skilled and semi-skilled capacities for residents of the District.

Parents-Teachers Urge Sex Education in Schools

Declaring that more than 90 percent of the parents in Los Angeles favor sex education in the city's schools, the 10th District executive board of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers on Monday urged re-instatement of the program that was withdrawn under pressure.

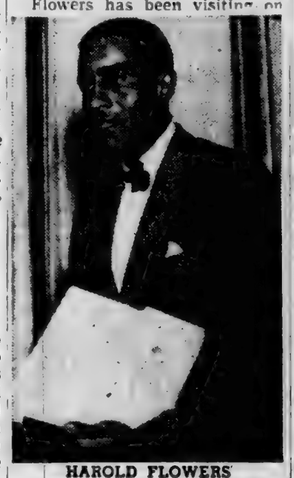
The statement of the PTA to the Board of Education: "We are reaffirming our policy of supporting a program of family life education, including sex education, as an integral part of the curriculum of the Los Angeles City schools at the elementary, junior high, senior high and junior college levels.

"We highly endorse the use of such films as 'Human Beginnings' and 'Human Growth' . . . We feel very strongly that when over 90 per cent of the parents desire this kind of education for their children that the democratic process should operate in the public schools."

The two films referred to were withdrawn from the regular school program when some parents protested. Other protests were received from individuals who based their objections on religious grounds.

Arkansas Lawyer Defies Klan Threat

By MARJORIE GORDON GILES



A courageous Arkansas lawyer's intention to defy the Ku Klux Klan which recently warned him to leave his home in Pine Bluff, Ark., will get under way when he enplanes from the International Airport on the first day of February.

Harold Flowers, well-known Arkansas lawyer and champion of civil rights, will speak Thursday evening at the Holman Methodist Church, 3320 W. Adams Blvd., at 8 o'clock. Pastor is Rev. L. L. White.

The meeting is sponsored by a group of Arkansas citizens now residing in California, and other interested migrants from Southern states.

On the committee are James T. Allen, Wallace Stegall, C. L. Lattimore, Sammie J. Banks, Jesse L. Taylor, J. D. Allen, O'Neil M. Cannon, Alvin D. Thompson, L. A. Mazique, Horace V. Alexander, Rev. Roy Williams, Dr. G. F. Jackson, Atty. Leo Branton, James E. Barnett.

Flowers has been visiting on the West Coast since receiving a warning from the Ku Klux Klan that he leave his home in Pine Bluff by February 1.

HAROLD FLOWERS

Flowers has spearheaded the campaign to wipe out segregation in Arkansas public schools, and will go to trial in the United States District Court on February 18 in the Fordyce and Hughes school cases, both of which are patterned after the celebrated South Carolina school suit.

He is a former president of the Arkansas Conference of Branches of the NAACP and of the Pine Bluff branch, which reached an all-time high of 4,000 members during his administration. He was subsequently ousted from office because of administrative problems with the national office, but is now serving as governor of the Pine Bluff Civic Association, which he organized in 1950.

There are 33,000 boys in greater Los Angeles enjoying the fun of Scouting.

Nadine to Open Charm School in Mid-February

Nadine, the young woman who in 1943 opened the campaign to break racial barriers in Chicago's lucrative fashion modeling field by starting the first interracial model's school there, will launch a similar school here. Her charm course will commence with the mid-year term.

The course will be held evenings over a 10-week period at her school, 1107½ N. Western avenue, at Santa Monica boulevard. Instruction groups will be limited to a maximum of five or six students to each group. Classes will start Feb. 15.

Both Nadine and her mother were already well known as designers and creators in the Chicago fashion industry when Nadine started her crusade. In a seven-year uphill struggle, Nadine broke down racial prejudices, for fashion models through the excellent training she gave her students both in Chicago and in a branch school at Columbus, Ohio.

Individual subjects to be covered in her Charm Course beginning mid-February are Modeling, Figure Analysis, Make-up, Hairstyling, Wardrobe, Speech and Diction, and Social Etiquette.

Special groups will be arranged where members of social or fraternal organizations desire them.

—Salute to the Youth of Los Angeles—

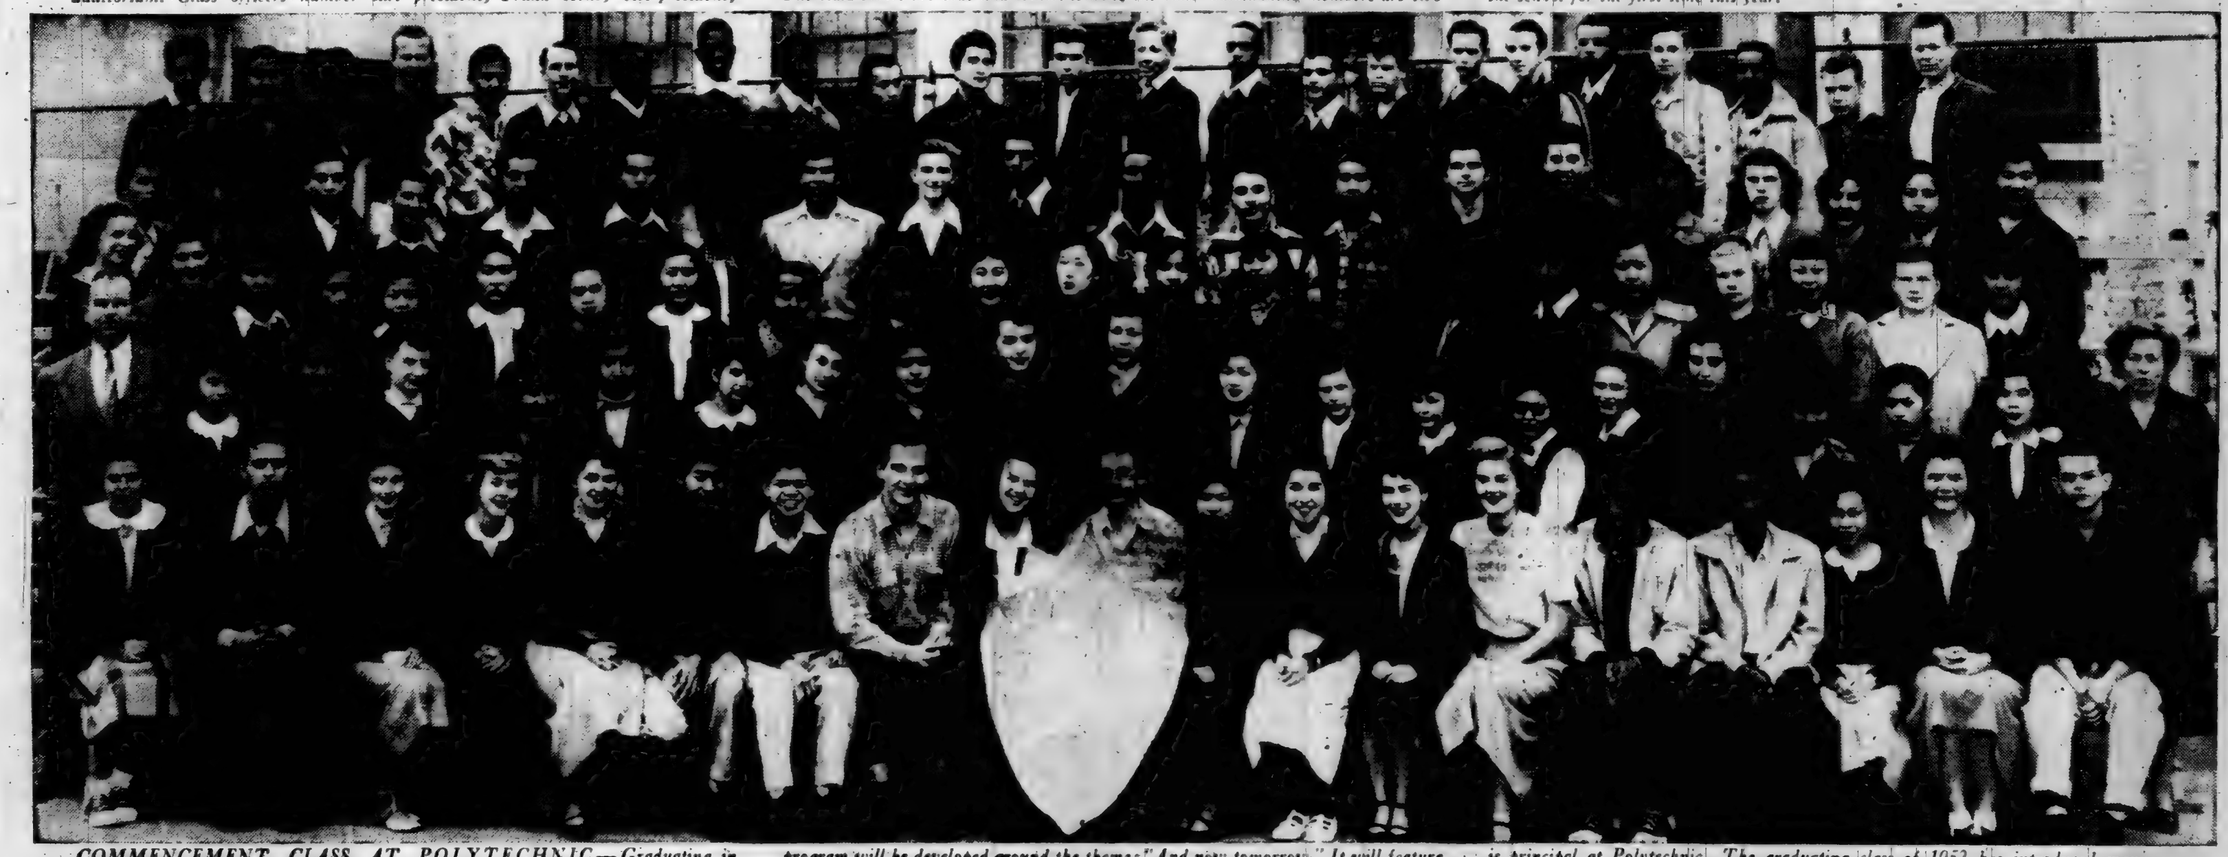
Graduation day is one of the major milestones in life. It is the culmination of many hours, days, years of study and work. It means that a whole phase of effort has been successfully concluded—the end of one important period of growth, the beginning of a new one.

In years to come, the students who are receiving their diplomas this week will look back upon this event as marking a day of achievement. Pictures of the graduating class will be looked at frequently with pride. These pictures will recall a flood of memories of classmates, of friends, of school activities.

COMMUNITY PROUD

The Los Angeles community is proud of the accomplishments of its youth signified by graduation day. The California Eagle reflects that pride and welcomes an opportunity to present the pictures of the graduation classes.

This has been made possible through the cooperation of the Broadway Federal Savings and Loan Association of Los Angeles, 4329 So. Broadway, one of the oldest home-financing institutions in the community, which has sponsored this page, dedicated to the youth of our city.



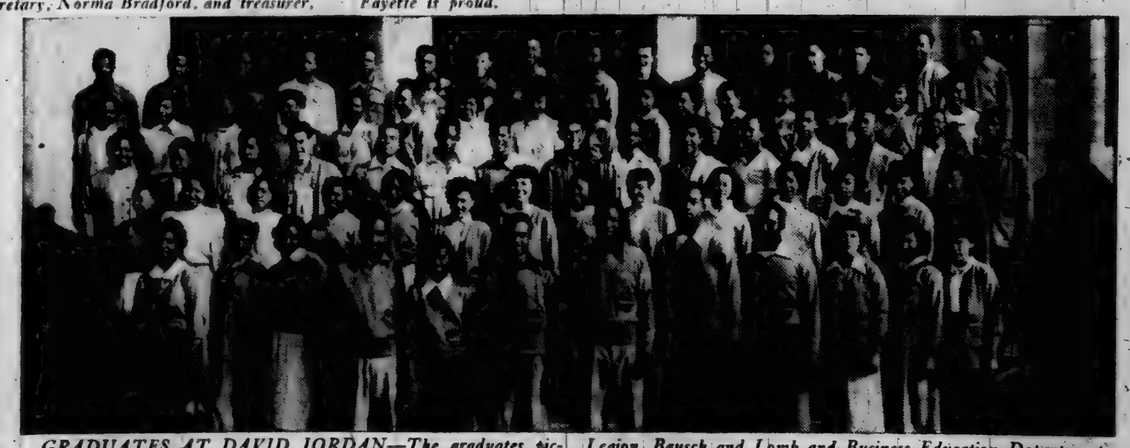
FITTING DEDICATION

It is fitting that this dedication should be made by the Broadway Federal Saivngs and Loan Association of Los Angeles, its president, Dr. H. Claude Hudson, and its manager, Richard R. Wright III. Both men are well known for their devotion to the welfare of the community, for the encouragement given to the city's youth.

Wright, in connection of the association's sponsorship of this page, remarked: "We are happy to do this... We know the importance to the community of these developing young men and women. We want to give them every assistance in an endeavor to help them become responsible members of the city in which they live, taking pride in their surroundings, in their homes, developing the enviable habits of thrift, honesty and integrity. We salute the youth."

MID-YEAR GRADUATES—Shown above are the Excelcians, winter graduates of 1952 at Jefferson High School. Commencement is this Friday in the school's auditorium. Class officers number six: president, Frank Kent; vice-president, Henrietta Peppers; secretary, Callie Coff; treasurer, Thusta Gay; historian and class speaker, Marland Brunner, and alumni secretary, Charlie Lucille Johnson. The class colors are blue and white. Among the class' outstanding members are two football stars, Jerry Drew and Alfred Burris. One hour before the graduating exercises the class will be entertained at a special senior banquet, an innovation at the school for the first time this year.

COMMENCEMENT CLASS AT POLYTECHNIC—Graduating in commencement exercises at Goodsell Auditorium on this Thursday evening are the Martians of John H. Francis Polytechnic High School. The commencement program will be developed around the theme: "And now tomorrow." It will feature the Martian Choir. This year's graduating class has the motto: "Look to the future; the past is behind us." President of the class is Tony Moreno. Dr. J. G. Goodsell is principal at Polytechnic. The graduating class of 1952 has introduced many new ideas and established policies that will become a definite part of all future senior class activities.



LAFAYETTE'S GRADUATING CLASS—The Victors, graduating class for winter, 1952 at LaFayette Junior High School, will be awarded diplomas in commencement ceremonies at the school on this Friday morning. The time is 10:30 a.m. The school is located at 1240 Naomi avenue. Mr. M. E. Herriott is principal at the school. Heading the huge graduating class are four officers: president, Samuel Champion; vice-president, George Hill; secretary, Norma Bradford, and treasurer, Rosella Stier. This graduating class has established one of the highest standings of good citizenry of any departing class. It leaves behind it a record of which LaFayette is proud.

CARVER GRADUATES—At George Washington Carver Junior High School on Friday evening, the above students will receive diplomas of graduation. Guest speaker at the commencement will be Mr. Norman Houston, Sr., president of Golden State Insurance Company. The graduating class' name is "The Leviathans." Its motto is "Climb, though the path be rugged"; its colors are blue and gold and its flower the yellow gladiolus. Officers of the graduating class are: president, Edward Bush; vice-president, Philip Raphael; secretary, Alwilda Moore, and treasurer, Norma Wheeler. Music at the commencement exercises will be furnished by the Carver choir and orchestra. Mr. Robert J. Purdy is principal at Carver.

All Graduates Names on Page 16

GRADUATES AT DAVID JORDAN—The graduates pictured here are rounding out courses of study at David Starr Jordan High School in graduation exercises this Thursday evening. The graduating program will feature speeches, solos and offerings by the class A Cappella Choir. Mr. Herbert E. Morey will award the diplomas. Members of the class will also receive some special class honors and awards, including awards by the American Legion, Bausch and Lomb and Business Education Department. Motto of the class is "Better understanding for a peaceful world." Class officers are: president, Herman Lavon Hicks; first vice-president, Alton Hamilton; second vice-president, Floyd J. Spottsville; third vice-president, Wesley Sanders, Jr.; secretary, Bertha Mae Cato, and treasurer, Theodore O. Miller, Jr.

CONSOLIDATED REALTY BOARD TAKES OVER— The city's social scene was delightfully enlivened by the many events which accompanied the recent convening of that progressive group of real estate brokers, agents and firms. "The Eagle's Guest," Mayme G. Lewis, secretary for the board, gives you many details in the column below. Pictures on this page show— upper left—three of the eight lovely hostesses for Friday night's dance at the Forum Starlite. They are Mayme Lewis, Eve Godfrey and Miriam Christian. Second photo from top, left, shows Willis E. Carson, founder of CRB, presenting the achievement plaque to Bryce D. Weisner during the banquet held earlier Friday evening at the Forum Starlite. Standing at Carson's left is Floyd C. Covington. In the foreground, W. D. Morison Jr., Dr. H. Claude Hudson, W. J. Fairchild Jr., new CRB president, Mrs. and Judge Stanley Mosk.

At right is a group of banquet guests enjoying the hospitality of W. W. Godbolt, of the Godbolt Investment Co., Inc. They are Mr. and Mrs. John Walters, Josie McClunie, Ernest T. Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Riley, Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Toland, Mrs. Marilyn McNeil, W. W. Godbolt, Bernard Herndon, Mrs. Toy Sims, Betty Ayrest and Forrest Ayrest, Walter L. Gordon Jr., and Martha Faulkner. Next photo—left— shows another banquet table at which are seated Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee, Cecil Parks, Deputy Real Estate Commissioner Ralph B. Bell and Mrs. Bell. The centerpiece seen here was won by Bell as one of several prizes given away during the occasion.

Photo at right, in front of the Church of Christ at 4561 South McKinley Ave., shows friends greeting W. D. Morison, (president of Morison Investment Co. of Detroit, and founder of the National Association of Real Estate Brokers), Brother Hogan, minister of the Church of Christ, Mrs. Morison, Willis Carson, Sister Hogan, Morrison and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Godbolt of the Godbolt Investment Co., Inc. Morison spoke at the church's morning service. Final picture shows banqueters Carson, Mrs. Emily A. Johnson, Mrs. W. D. Morison Jr., Morison, Dr. H. Claude Hudson, Gertrude and Robert Newman, Florence Nukes, Andre Vaughn, Mayme Lewis, Weisner, Mrs. Cluese Reid and Reid at Perrino's January 24.

Hi, Vi:

I am very happy to be your guest today. It is indeed a pleasure to sit and chat with you after having such a wonderful week-end here in the Angel City. Although it is almost history, I just wanted to mention what a wonderful time I had at the Pacific Town Club formal at the Royal Palms Ballroom. I believe it was the finest formal I have atended in the three years of my residence here. It reminded me so much of the Ivanhoe Formals in Kansas City, and (you remember) they were really tops in social functions of the year. The atmosphere of a well-selected guest list, making you feel you were among the elite of the city, was most enchanting while dancing with my escort, Bryce D.—Thanks to the Wesley J. Fairchilds for the bid.

I had been wondering where the gold lay in Los Angeles and last Thursday night I found out when I attended a dinner at Perino's in Hollywood. W. D. Morsion Jr. and his tiny, charming wife arrived in the city at 4:30 p.m. as guests of the Consolidated Realty Board. Lorenzo V. Spencer and Cluese Reid had arranged a 9:00 dinner for 22 persons to meet the Morison's at Perino's. What a fabulous place!

The dinner—squab, wild rice—everything from soup to nuts and Bob Newman had the waiters pouring champagne like water. I had to pinch myself several times during the evening and truly I thought I was dreaming when I was told the dinners were $10.00 per person—lucky me for having such a nice escort. Florence Nukes was there with the cutest poodle cut I have seen yet. She was most charming in a black taffeta dress with removable sleeves. Leo Branton was there with the very chic Joe Ann Hill. Vino Spencer was very smart in a lovely black velvet dinner dress with a brooch necklace that made my eyes blink each time I glanced across the table.

Short magazine took pictures of the guests—they are really spotting the "AFFTIRS." Jewell Reid was very charming with her lovely red hair with a black crepe drape dinner dress. Ida Mae Carson, Willis E. Carson's better half, wore a beautiful floral dinner dress with sequins on one pocket. We were introduced to "Joe Martin," (owner of the hotel of that name), who is really Mrs. Robert B. Newman. Now we know what keeps things moving at A.P.O. Emily Johnson was very striking in a lace dinner dress looking every inch of a million dollars and a pretty blue Cadillac. Ernest DeGruy was there with a petite little number. Mrs. Morison, the distinguished guest, was very charming in a lovely black crepe and satin dinner dress.

A private dining room, reserved for the party, included a bar and about seven waiters to take care of the wishes of the guests. The centerpiece was beautiful American Beauty Roses and White Carnations. I felt like Cinderella and was very happy the dinner was over at 12:00 because I was afraid the magic spell would change after midnight.

What makes the wheels roll in L.A.? This question was answered in my eyesight Friday night at the installation banquet

Card Party Series at Y Is Underway

Friday, February 1, at 8 p.m. the second in the series of bridge and canasta parties will be conducted at the YWCA-Woodlawn Branch under the sponsorship of the Teenage Department with Mrs. Etolia Jones officiating as general chairman. A delightful supper will be served promptly at 7 p.m. so that playing might begin at 8:00 p.m.

The grand prize trophy, donated by the Fentress Press, is on display at the branch and was the center of attraction at last week's brunch. The winners of both bridge and canasta received lovely gifts donated by the Broadway Department Store, the May Co., J. J. Newberry, Barris Hardware Co., and Schwabacher-Frey. More beautiful prizes will be given at the climax of the series, Friday, February 8, at 8 p.m. when Mesdames Della McDonald, and Dorothy Howard will serve as chairmen.

These events are open to both men and women.

BILL SMALLWOOD

On The Delightful Side

That sleek "fishtail" with the St. Louis tags parked outside the W.29th St. home of the Bill Powells a few days earlier in the week belonged to wealthy Dr. Leo Comissiong. He was here briefly, plans an early return to invest in real estate holdings around town. Omaha's James W. Owens, houseguesting with cousin Edythe K. Owens and her folks, Jewel Price, okay again after a bout with illness which had her abed. Ex-Angeleno Jules Smith, in N. Y. from El Paso for a short vacation after Xmas, decided to become a permanent fixture there. He put El Paso's Catholic USO Center on the map last year. Paris is his next stop. Southern Univ. Alumni Association met Sunday at the home of Fannye Lee Hollings. Mable Scott glad to be home, will stay in this general neighborhood for a couple of months at least.

Mary Ross, glad as goth-all-get-out, she's soon to shed the shoulder cast she's been wearing since her auto accident. The Jackie Robinson's (he's feuding with the NAACP) are expecting their third child. Cal Bailey, leaving soon for a four-month leisure tour on which he'll do nothing but paint (preparing for his fall show at a Beverly Hills gallery), will wind up in deepest Mexico by midsummer. Paris next year is on his books, too. Marian Clark, who has been visiting here from Columbus, Ohio, since the holidays leaves soon for home. Her son Gene (he wants to be a painter) returns east with her. They've been houseguesting with Betty Matthews and her husband.

Noted Visitor

Militant Atty. Harold Flowers flew in Saturday for a short stay en route back to Ark. whence he made recent headlines when the KKK ordered him away. He'll go onto N. Y. His wife, formerly Ruth Cave of Denver, is a DeeCee high school teacher. As you no doubt know by now, Atty. Sadie Alexander, in town then, will bring greetings to the Deltas when they have their Founder's Day banquet at Bit o' Sweden Feb. 15. Local chapter of the Links, members of the Women's Council to Further Better Community Relations (Nat. Conference of Christians and Jews), are among the sponsors of the intensive program planned Feb. 19 (one til three o'clock in the afternoon) at Bovard Hall, USC campus. A reception follows in the Student Main Lounge.

In Mexico

Kappadom's legendary figure Dr. Stud Green and his wife Gladys are relaxing in Mexico City; they may come through here en route home to DeeCee. Marian Anderson, here usually on her Feb. 27 birthday, will miss that date this season. Feb. Calendar: Lola Beavers birthdays on the 3rd, Paul Williams on the 24th, Mabel Hurd on the 25th, Vye Aldridge Thomas on the 28th, Mrs. R. Fred Cleveland on the 24th, Lil Cumber on the 5th, Dorothy Lee on the 3rd, Stella Lane on the 13th, Juan Ray on the 5th, Mrs. Emmett Mattison on the 8th, Harvey Brooks on the 17th, Harold Browning on the 20th, Bernyce Eblon Smith on the 21st, Stafford Lot on the 5th, Catherine Forister on the 22nd, "Jo" Webster Cooper on the 24.

Rev. Walter J. Bryant has a weekly inspirational program now on a N. Y. radio station. It's called Pages of Life and is attracting favorable comment. Here a week via air from N'Orleans, Dr. Thaddeus Taylor was house guest of his brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Taylor. Friends kept him busy, too. The Taylors entertained him with a Saturday night party at their place. Mrs. Zeno was Monday evening dinner hostess for him. Dr. Claude Hudson took him to lunch Tuesday. Later that same day Dr. and Mrs. Roy Peyton were his dinner hosts. Sunday evening sparkling party-giver Jo Webster Cooper and Esterline Powell had a few in at the Powell address to meet Dr. Taylor.

Cross-section: Marge and Jester Hairston, Dr. and Mrs. Jay Garland, A. C. Bilbrew, Renfro Montgomery, Dr. Gertrude Curtis Thompson (she's off to N. Y. in March) and her husband U. S. Thompson, Harry Gladstone, Fred Matthews, Ruth Towles (dashed by after hearing Arthur Lee Simpkins at the Bar of Music). Quite a houseful of talent, too. A. C. played and sang in that husky-voice style of hers. Mrs. Garland took over and sang and swayed through "Old Fashioned Love." U. S. Thompson perched a hat over one eye and went into a soft shoe routine for three or four choruses. Ruth Towles entertained but inimitably as always. Marge Hairston sang. Dr. J. P. Taylor sang. Jo sang. Jester Hairston recited. Yep, by golly, the night was quite a rondelay! Dr. Taylor left Wednesday for home;

REALTISTS MEET—L. F. Spencer, vice-president of Consolidated Realty Board, talking with W. D. Morison Jr. of Detroit, Mich. In exchanging ideas along the real estate line, Morison was amazed to learn of escrows and other procedures of California's real estate transactions.

Pupils Enjoy Ice-Skating

The Rangers and Rangerettes of Carver Jr. High went ice skating Jan. 26 at the Winter Gardens of Pasadena. Among the students who enjoyed the ice skating were Barbara Ammons, Billy Woodman, Yvonne Sims, Winada Chapman, Delores Washington, Beverly Armelin, Sherman Perryman, Leo Hill, Roger Pinson, Phillip Raphael, Yvonne Shepherd, Marie Shelton, Theodore Neal, Dinty Moore, Harold Jackson, Rachel Burrell, Obie Jesse, Cleo Hill, Randle Jones, Jesse Patterson, Evans Reese, Larry Douglas, Lawrence Hawkins, Connie Moore, Meredith Johnson, Bobbie Delgado.

They were under the supervision of several teachers.

Results of the week-long contest between me and some extra-formidable cold germs (viruses or whatever) have not yet been determined.

The bout goes on and the darned thing has had me down for the count of nine more than once. But do you think my opponent ever retires to a neutral corner? Not for a minute!

Scarlet nose, weeping eyes and hacking cough did nothing to enhance any of the costumes I might have worn to Melba Birch Holley's La Sorelle meeting on S. Victoria last Saturday. So, pleased as I was that she'd asked me to be her guest there, I stuck to pajamas, mentholated goo, limitless cleansing tissues and the bed.

Just think! It was one of those afternoons when all the gals said they had the time of their lives, too!

These We Missed

Other things from which we irritably stayed away included the Chinese dinner prepared by Chef Wong at the Paradise Cocktail lounge Monday night. Hurt like heck to turn down the cordial invitation sent by Al Austin and Theo "Chubby" Johnson.

Tuesday night found us unable to be one of the Woodlawn Branch YWCA's "dessert and coffee" guests. Dorothy O. Buckner, chairman of the membership committee, was responsible for the special program telling the YWCA story.

Anyway, she and Executive Director Kathryn Kinney have our best hopes that the membership drive is off to a propitious start.

While we're mentioning YWCA stuff, might as well tell you that the Willowbrook Junior High school quota of 200 girls as members was realized during a one-day campaign January 24.

European Scholarship

Now that we've eased into the subject of high school, this is a good place to tell of the Wilfandel club's offer of three scholarships to girls graduating in June from high school or any female undergraduate or graduate university student.

First scholarship will provide study in Europe; second, study at any university in the U.S. and, third, study at a local institution.

Applications may be made by telephoning Mrs. Fannie Williams at RE. 5526.

Surprise Marriage

Pasadena residents got a pleasant surprise this week when the month-old secret marriage of Kathren Hortense Ellis of the L.A. school system to Henry James Simmons was disclosed.

Kathren, 515 Palisade street, Pasadena, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sefus Ellis of 112 Clarmount street there. The newlyweds, who eloped to Las Vegas for the ceremony, spent a holiday honeymoon in Chicago. Reception plans are underway. Meanwhile, the bridegroom, a painting contractor, is decorating the Palisade street home where he and his bride will soon take up residence.

Dinner Marks Two 'Turnabout' Events

Last Saturday evening the Turnabout Charity club held its installation dinner in the delightful play room of Mike Taylor's home. The evening also marked the eighth anniversary of the club, one of the city's leading philanthropic organizations.

Artistically executed by Annette Taylor and supervised by Mr. and Mrs. Mike Taylor and Charlie Taylor, the decor was chartreuse and dark green with complimentary red touches added by carnations. Delicious food was prepared by the Taylors.

Mrs. Mary Lou Tolbert, regional director of Delta Sigma Theta sorority, installed the officers. She was introduced by Lou Boswell, mistress of ceremonies.

New officers are Evelyn Christian, president; Betsy Green, vice president; Valerie McCray, recording secretary; Haroldine Browning, corresponding secretary; Ruth Kenner, financial secretary; Jean Watkins, treasurer; Cloretha Gland, sergeant-at-arms; Betty Alston, historical; Lou Boswell, reporter; Sis Russel, charities chairman, and Jane Hannibal, social chairman.

Bridging It From Club Pacifico

Oh, you poor absentees! How sorry we are that you missed the grand, instructive lecture by Robert Lee Johnson last Sunday. His full explanation of opening two, preemptive bids and their responses was thoroughly and unmistakably covered.

These lectures are so enlightening that we believe everyone could gain many pointers, as well as actual knowledge from them.

Club groups and partnership players attending as a whole, could without doubt better their skill at the game. However, we will look for you this Sunday at 3 p.m.

Sunday's game was won by D. E. Taylor and his pretty wife, this making twice they have walked off with the first prize. Incidentally they are members of the Angel City Bridge Club. Also a young addition to the family of A.B.A.ers. Mrs. B. Reeves and husband of the Golden West Bridge Club came in second.

Again we invite those among you who are desirous of becoming members of a nation-wide organization to let us know. Our club room is open daily from 12 noon to 12 p.m. When you are in the mood for a good, strong rubber of bridge, you will find plenty of competition here.

Til then, here is your brain teaser for this week: No. 3 of the series of ten.

	Q-9 6-3 K-8-7 K-J-9-8-7-4
A-7-3	N	8-5-4-2
Q-10-7-5-2	W E	J--9-8-4
J-6	S	Q-10-2
Q-3-2	K-J-10-6 A-K A-9-5-4-3 10-6	A-5

Three no trump is the contract. Played by S. W needs 5 of hearts.

Note: The 2 of spades in last week's problem (held by S) was a misprint; should have been omitted).

For the greatest percentage of correct answers to this series you can win $10.00. Submit answers to Club Pacifico, 107 E. Santa Barbara Ave. or to the editor of these pages, Violet M. Brown, California Eagle, 1050 E. 43rd Place, both L.A. 11.

Violet Edwards Has Birthday

Sorority Welcomes Neophytes

In a two-day whirlwind of activities, members of Zeta Phi Beta sorority welcomed neophytes Regina Mayo, Kitty Wade, Margaret Cox, Frankie Carter, and Dorothea Owens. Xi Alpha, undergraduate chapter, led off with a lavish banquet for the honorees. Z. Vivian Boswell, special invited guest, and Barbara Bradley spoke. Basileus Mayme Maxwelland Anti-Basileus Marian Bone presented to each girl gifts from the sorority, along with many other gifts from friends. Others in attendance were Thomasina Ayers, chapter adviser, Irma Glover, Bernice Garner, Betty Thompson, Pauline Dixon, Joellen Johnson, Althea Lejohn, Clara Westbrooks, and Ramona Locke, banquet chairman.

Debutante Assembly Scheduled

PASADENA — Twelve lovely girls will be formally presented to Pasadena society Thursday evening, Feb. 21, when Crown City Tabernacle No. 38, Knights and Daughters of Tabor presents its mammoth Debutante Assembly in the Gold Room of that city's Civic Auditorium.

According to A. C. Harris Bilbrew, nationally known musician and choral director, each girl will step through a huge flowered heart to greet her public and later occupy the Gold Seat of honor to receive her "coming out insignia," a tiny gold crown from her parents or sponsors. The crown is the official emblem of the Tabernacle.

Norman Beriem, dance instructor of MGM, studios is training the debutantes in proper ballroom decorum.

Long heralded for her unique ideas in producing colorful and mamoth affairs, Mrs. Bilbrew brings to her new venture a wealth of experience and ingenuity.

She returned to Los Angeles late last summer after a successful two years in Philadelphia, Pa., where she directed "Freedom Day" celebrations each spring and conducted her own daily radio show over station WPEN.

Archonians Hold Meet

The Archonian Pledge club, Zeta Phi Beta sorority, had its first meeting of the year at the lovely home of Mitty Lee, 223 East 68th street. Plans were discussed for the rush party, which is tentatively set for February. Dean of Pledges Marian Bone appointed Mozella Thompson as corresponding secretary-reporter. Sorority member Margaret Cox was in attendance at the meetingalong with pledges Barbara Wilson, Mildred Johnson, Mittie Lee, Elizabeth Hill, Leatrice Turner, and Mozella Thompson.

Omegas Plan Selection of Dance Queen

While applications for Omega Formal queen candidates are still being accepted, "Que" formal committee members announce that plans for their three-week distant presentation of their annual formal dance are nearing completion.

Jeep Smith furnishes the music for Omega's annual formal dance slated for presentation at Zenda Ballroom, February 22.

Joe Harris, new "Que" Basileus, states that practically every campus in the city has been represented in the queen contest thus far, and that he hopes to have an equal representation from sororities before queen ballots are cast.

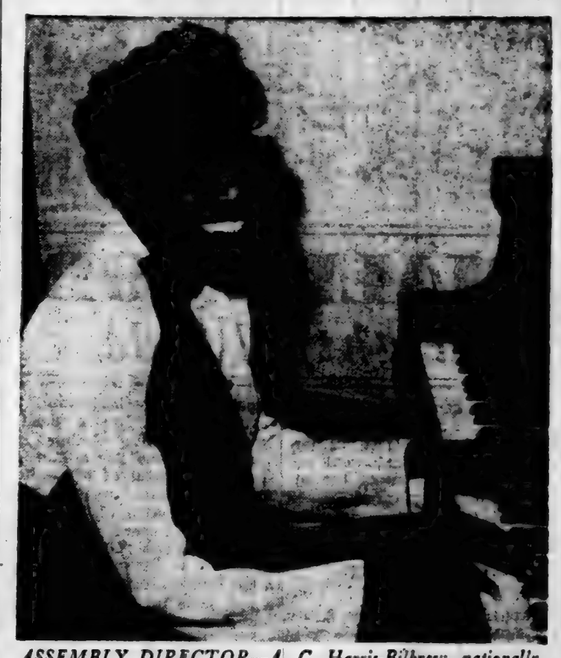
Conducting the activities consummating the selection of the queen and her court is Ted Daniels, who announces that candidates are being accepted thruout next week.

Listed among the candidates who were introduced to the formal committee and members of the fraternity are Pat Prescott, member of the Delta pledge club and an Elementary Ed. Jr. at State College, Joan Southern, CC Education freshman, and Frances Spurlock, UCLA Apparel Design senior and member of Delta Sigma Theta sorority.

Other candidates include Imogene Fatherrie, CC physical education sophomore; Vanola McHatten, SC Pol Sci. Jr.; Saundra Monroe, secretarial science sophomore at CC; Carol Blackwell, phys. ed. sophomore at CC; Gene Brown, CC language freshman; Louise McClure, education Jr. at Pepperdine, and Donzella Coulter, education senior at State college.

From the list of candidates, a queen and four members of her court will be chosen by members of Omega Psi Phi fraternity. Carl Long, member of the formal committee, contends that his unique arrangement for the coronation ceremony will leave the formal guests in "total awe" when the dance queen is presented.

Omega queen will reign over festivities during the formal ball and be present during Omega's District Regional Conclave which gets underway with the dance, and carries over until the following Sunday night, February 24.



Friday, February 1, the Athenian and Alpha Bowling Social clubs are giving a Charity Ball at the beautifully decorated Alpha Bowling Club, 2914 S. Western Ave. Dance time begins at 9 p.m.

OMEGA QUEEN?—No one knows yet which of these lovelies will reign over the impending Omega Psi Phi formal. Judges won't find it easy to choose from among (l. to r.) Louise McClure, Gene Baker, Pat Prescott, Joan Southern, Carol Blackwell, Imogene Fatherrie, Saundra Monroe and Vanola McHatten.

LUCKY FEW—Seen here are officers of the Lucky Few Rod and Gun club who were installed last week. Left to right, E. V. Roberts, treasurer; Clark Arnold, corresponding secretary; Lee Thompson, chaplain; B. L. Dillingham, president; Ellsworth Harris, presenting the Jackson trophy to Sam Arnold; Clifford Green, marksmaster, and R. J. City, publicity chairman.

ASSEMBLY DIRECTOR—A. C. Harris-Bilbrew, nationally known screen and radio artist, will direct the mammoth Debutante Assembly, Crown City Tabernacle No. 38 Knights and Daughters of Tabor will stage on Thursday evening, Feb. 21, in the Gold Room of Pasadena's Civic Auditorium.

Lucky Few and Auxiliary In Installation Breakfast

At the Annual Installation Breakfast of the Lucky Few Rod and Gun Club, 35 sportsmen and about 15 sportswomen and their guests enjoyed a wonderful country breakfast at the Clark Hotel.

After the fine breakfast, the following officers were installed: For the Ladies Auxiliary, Mrs. E. V. Roberts, president; Mrs. Inna Yvonne Saxton, vice president; Mrs. J. A. Green, recording secretary; Mrs. Inez Arnold, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Iretha Foster, treasurer; Mrs. Alice Harris Chaplain.

There is also a Junior Rifle Club of 25 members. This club, as well as having good times, is interested in cutting down juvenile delinquency and helping the program of the government by training men and boys in the proper use of firearms safely.

The awards for the year were presented by the Marksmaster, Clifford Green. The Charles E. Jackson trophy for the Shot Gun Champion was presented by Charles E. Jackson to Sam Arnold.

Awards for the Rifler, 1st place, Ellsworth Harris; 2nd place, Joseph Guest; 3rd place, Barnard L. Dillingham and the Champion 30 caliber, Clifford Green.

For the Lucky Few Rod and Gun Club: Bernard L. Dillingham, president; Clifford Green, vice president; Everett V. Roberts, terasurer; Ellsworth Harris, executive secretary; Clark Arnold, corresponding secretary; Lee Thompson, chaplain; Clifford Green, Marksmaster, and R. J. City, chairman of publicity.

Doing the Town

Diminuitive, perky Berti Hathaway, doing the town over the weekend on the arms of two bachelors, leans over at Chez Leon and says she'll be rushing madly to catch the bus starting next week. She's enrolled in a creative writing class downtown. Berti remains one of those wise young matrons who raise a family and keep a spotless house while still active and perpetually youthful. The gal's a dynamo, no less. It will seem funny not seeing Kelsey Pharr, signalling a cab prior to hastening off miles to have a tardy hello drink with some of the numerous buddies he has here. As you heard, his old singing group (Delta Rhythm Boys) are due any day now for a local job.

A group of us over coffee and records in Hollywood Hills the other a.m. were reminiscing about Bill Grey. Everyone had a pet incident to recall about ole Bill. He really enjoyed life we all agreed. I especially remember the party given for Maurice Rocco at the then-named Clover Club on the Strip. Ivie Anderson was hostess, and, golly, what a time we had that afternoon. Bill played and Monette Moore sang and sang. Time and water under the bridge! Ah, me.

Well known just about everywhere Gerri Dismond Major (her social-itemizing goes back thru the busy years to N. Y. Tattler days!) is planning a Caribbean tour for this month coming up, lucky gal. Tony Hill, back from that magic section, reports seeing many friends from the states also vacationing. Incidentally, superb host Adolph Angelus had an intimate number of close friends in for supper recently accenting mile-covering Tony's return home.

The Undercover Hounds

HAL MILLER and KERRY JACKSON

As a speedy southern bound train chugged away from the Union Station, a sad faced chap waved a goodbye to his harem and many friends. Just three days before he was feted by his colleagues with a surprise party and yet it won't be three days more before he meets up with those beautiful Belles on campus at Xavier U. in New Orleans.

An unexpected surprise came as Gene Ramos walked into his home to find a party in full progress. But this wasn't the reason why he uttered those famous words, "knocked out loaded," and sank to the floor in a stupor. No sooner had his weary head rested against the hardwood floor (with a thud) that a herd of fleetfoot dancers, among them being Alfred Elliot, Sandra Shields, Bob O'Reilly, Ernie Lindo, and Jo Ann Leonard, dented the floor with the imprint of his skull.

Later, after having gained consciousness, Gene was serenaded by all of his old L.A. High alumni with chants, hymns and other antics that added to the spirit of the party. Joining in wholeheartedly were Mary Baumann, Dorothy Cain, Nira Hardon, and Barbara Garrott. . . . We also noticed Sheila Montgomery and Fernandez Goode exchanging smiles in a remote corner. Some of the boys, namely Walker Bruce and his partner in crime, Leon McCarty, couldn't get used to the fact that there were no bears to hit on.

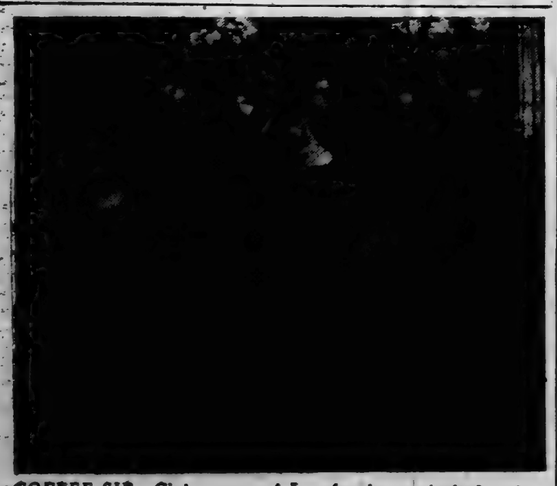
Couldn't help noticing the perpetual smile on Newton Harris' face as he gloated over his newly acquired chick, Theresa Matthews. . . . Frank Braxton and Lorenzo Wallace acted quite reserve during the eve and only sang a few shady ballads. . . . Dan Pullum almost let the cat out of the bag when he saw Gene on the street and asked him who was giving the party on Geer Street (where Gene lives).

James Elkins, Mr. Party himself, turned up with one of Gene's old grammar school buddies, Leon Aldridge. . . . We were also honored by the presence of Py Taylor and Thomas Greene, who "just dropped by to dig what was happenin'" . . . . Saw that flirting Bill Tyree trying to catch the eye of enticing Pat Anderson. . . . As the gig came to an end it was hard to impress upon the minds of Louis Grant, Benny Prescot, Mary Cantrell, Elaine Lindo, Charlotte Johnson, Cleveland Harris, Wanda Harris, and Wilbur Williams that they had to go.

The Barons, a social club comprised of some of the best known eligible and ineligible bachelors sponsored an after prom dance at the Park View Manor, for graduating seniors. It was a "way out" affair with the kids from Jefferson and Manual Arts giving all to make it a success. While drifting through the crowd we saw Tyra Hickman, Imogene Fatherree and Walter Towns, Paul Mitchell and Alma Johnson, Wanda Govan, Dion Marrow, Seletha Huff, and Levenia Day. Bingo playing Earl Burton really had the crowd in an uproar when he let loose with an impromptu solo dedicated to those of African descent.

Really enjoying his performance were Bobby Blake, Elaine De Lavallade and Milton Davis, Jimmie Lewis, Lloyd Smith and Leon Bridges. Incidentally one of the finer after parties was given at the home of Miss Personality plus, Jewel Glass.

The Delta Sorors have completed plans for their colossal "Sweethearts Dance" to be given at the Elks on February 16.



Jay, nearly the last of the Winston brothers, received his greetings from Une Sam a couple of days back, and is leaving soon in family tradition. Another brother, Byron is already in Japan, while brother Lawrence is home on a leave but will soon be journeying across the great waters to join Byron.

Westernettes

The Westernetts Riding Club has resumed activities after vacation and is taking part in all sports.

Their regular meeting was at the home of E. Burnside Sunday morning. Girls had coffee with Leola Reese. They spent two hours roller skating. The afternoon ended with brunch and games at the home of Dorothy Moore and Gussie Morris. A club member, Gwyn Moss, is ill in the hospital. Next meeting with Bradye Dewberry.

All Clubs Invited to Coffee Sip at Zenda Ballroom Sunday, Feb. 10

COFFEE SIP—Club women of Los Angeles are invited to be guests of the Postalettes, pictured above, at a Coffee Sip, Sunday, February 10, from 12 to 2:30 p.m. at the Zenda Ballroom in the interest of St. Augustine-West View Hospital. The sponsors are: seated (l. to r.), Mattie Mae Kennedy, club reporter; Hazel Foster, president; Flora Waide and Marie Armstone, corresponding secretary, and standing (l. to r.), Bernice Williams, treasurer; Norvelle McNeil, recording secretary; Kathryn Greene, parliamentarian; Addie McWashington, business manager, and Elouise Erwin.

Mrs. Hazel Foster, president of the Postalettes, announced this week that a "Coffee Sip" is being given for the members of the Women's Clubs in Los Angeles, Sunday, February 10, from 12 to 2:30 p.m. at the Zenda Ballroom, in behalf of the St. Augustine-West View Hospital Fund Drive.

of the Consolidated Realty board. It can well be said persons present enjoyed a 1500 dollar affair. Each of the 300 persons in attendance for dinner had ½ baked spring chicken with everything to go with it. W. D. Morison of Detroit addressed the group and Wesley J. Fairchild was installed as the new president of the Realty Board.

Glancing over the banquet held at the Forum Starlite Roof I saw Alma Moore, The Harold Powers, Leola Landers, Norman Houstons, The Celestus Kings, Ruth Bothwell, Porter Hudshons, Gene Scanlon, Dr. & Mrs. J. Fowler, The Victor Nickersons, The Lowell Stewards, George and Ivan Cannadys. Many more I could mention but I wanted to tell you how lovely the hostesses were. The leis that Newlins' arranged for them were the prettiest I have ever seen. Norman Brooks' Eboneiers sang and I thought the audience would never stop applauding. At 10:30 the banquet was over and Sammy Franklin's Sextet played until 2 o'clock. All the brokers were there, it seemed. I saw a group dancing the Charleston and what was interesting to see was, P. R. Smallwood dancing with cute little Mollie from Modern Escrow. I never saw so many fabulously wealthy brokers in one place before. Al Maddox with his cigar was looking the crowd over, he is a member of C.R.B.

This week's whirlwind of activities has served to highlight the scope and extent of real estate activity in the community. Realizing these brokers do not let money stand under their feet, instead they exchange value for value making this city a more progressive prosperous and democratic place to live. This week my hat is off to the brokers in L.A.

Regular deadline for all social news is Tuesday of each week at 1 p.m. Pictures and articles must be in the office of the Eagle by 1 o'clock

California Eagle

Published Every Thursday

The Eagle stands for complete integration of Negroes into every phase of American life through the democratic processes.

We favor:

1. FEPC on local, state and national levels.
2. Decent housing for all Americans.
3. The President's Civil Rights Program.
4. Adequate old age pensions and social security.
5. Collective bargaining rights for all workmen.
6. Development and encouragement of Negro business.

We oppose:

1. Jim Crow in all forms.
2. Communists and all other enemies of democracy.

Meet the Florida Menace

The local branch of the NAACP is to be congratulated for taking the leadership in planning a memorial mass meeting for Harry T. Moore, the brave Association official who was murdered by Florida hoodlums on Christmas night. All NAACP branches in the southern part of the state will cooperate and Walter White will be the speaker.

The meeting will serve to call attention to a series of incidents in Florida that have shocked all Americans who are concerned about their country's future.

One of the best aspects of the mass meeting planned for February 21 is that the NAACP has enlisted the active aid and cooperation of both the AF of L and the CIO and of Jewish organizations and other groups that are concerned with the problem of human relations. If these groups can persuade their members to attend the meeting race relations in this city will benefit tremendously.

Too often Negroes have been unable to get the ear of their fellow Americans in situations of this kind. The practical result has been that all too often we have met, told ourselves things that we already knew, and gone home without reaching those who ought to be concerned and whose help is badly needed to meet the evil against which our protests have been leveled.

What has been happening in Florida is more than the work of a few crackpots or bitter-end bigots. It is a pattern that is developing out of the efforts of southern governors of the ilk of Jimmie Byrnes of South Carolina and Gene Talmadge of Georgia to stem the tide of revolt against the southern Jim Crow system. Byrnes and Talmadge, and a host of lesser henchmen, have taken the lead in predicting violence and bloodshed in the event of any lowering of the bars against segregation. In reality, these "predictions" are invitations to lawlessness and there is no room for surprise when those invitations are accepted.

Sporadic and emotional protests against this new southern offensive won't stop it. We need just what the NAACP has been proposing on both national and local scales: a united front on the part of all Americans who believe in and respect our constitution and our traditions.

As a final word, it is well to point out that we won't win this battle without the expenditure of time, energy—and money. All citizens should contribute as much of all three of these necessary ingredients of the fight as they possibly can. What we do to stem lawlessness in Florida will help to stymie the America Plus outfit and other home grown salesmen of racism.

Crumbling Barriers

Those timid souls who predicted fifty-seven different varieties of disaster if Negroes were permitted to play in organized baseball must be red-faced now that the Texas League has decided that Negro players wil be welcome in that circuit.

One of the chief fears voted by the objectors was that there would be race riots, fights, quarrels and such trouble as would disrupt the entire national pasttime. Nothing of the kind happened. The fact that one Negro played on a North Carolina team last year and that Negroes will play in the Texas League next year is proof enough that the fears were ungrounded.

In fact, we incline to the opinion that a great deal of the fear was simulated by those who want to maintain the Jim Crow system and who hid behind the cry of race riots to cover up their fundamental philosophy.

What has happened in organized baseball is a good sample of what happens wherever Negroes are hired and given an honest chance to use their skills. In time, and it's generally a short time, they are accepted by that minority of their fellow employes who had raised initial objections.

Everybody admits now that baseball is a better game for having hired Jackie Robinson, Larry Doby Roy Campanella and Orestes Minoso —to name only a few Negroes. None of the fans would want to go back to the benighted days when men of their stripe were barred because of color. The sooner all industry adopts the rule followed in organized baseball and stops wasting the abilities of Americans who are Negroes the better off the whole country will be.

Register and Vote

You can't vote in the summer primaries or the fall elections this year unless you are a registered voter.

You have to register if you didn't vote in the last general election, or if you have moved since you last voted, or if you have never voted.

Anybody who has reached the age of 21 can vote in California, without the payment of a poll tax or any other kind of a tax.

Most readers of the Eagle know those simple facts.

But there are thousands of people in this city who don't know them and who don't vote because they don't know how to go about registering, or don't know they have to register.

Those of us who know whats' involved in registration and know how important it is for every voter to cast his ballot have the duty of eduacting their neighbors.

Deputy registrars are now on the streets in many sections of the city and any person may register with any of those deputies at any time they're on duty.

If there are no easily available deputy registrars, a call to the Registrar of Voters will bring information as to where the caller may register.

Make up your mind now that you're going to get as many voters as possible to cast their ballots.

You owe it to yourself to vote.

You owe it to your neighbor to persuade him to register and vote.

Good Job Well Done

The Rev. J. Raymond Henderson, pastor of Second Baptist Church, deserves the community's thanks for turning his Sunday morning services over to the NAACP to enable the Association to tell his congregation the story of what's happening in Florida. And in its proper turn the church merits congratulations for backing up its pastor's stand.

What the Rev. Henderson did was in the best tradition of the Negro church. During the turbulent days of the Underground Railroad, Negro churches almost universally served as stations to help slaves escape to Canada.

After the Civil War, the Negro church served as a community house —a place to which Negroes could, and did, go to wrestle with their economic, political, and civic problems. In fact, the NAACP itself was born in a Negro church.

We don't want to discount the church's primary role of offering religious succor for the congregation but we think that in cases of crisis, as the Florida affair, more churches would do well to follow the example set last Sunday by the Rev. Henderson and Second Baptist Church.

Dr. Clifford Gordon

The death of Dr. Clifford Gordon deprived this city of one of its most civic minded and promising medical practitioners.

Dr. Gordon was never too much concerned with his own affairs that he didn't have, or didn't find, time to assist all efforts at community betterment. At the same time he maintained a high standard in his own profession.

The community will miss Dr. Gordon but the things that he did, and the causes that he aided so unselfishly, will stand as monuments to a career whose early ending was a distinct loss to this city.

Roy Wilkins'

The Watch Tower

The state of Florida, or some people in it, have been stung by the nation-wide condemnation of the state for the shooting to death of Samuel Shepherd by Sheriff Willis McCall last November, for the Miami bombings, and for the cowardly murder by explosives of Harry T. Moore and his wife on Christmas night.

A series of radio programs is being carried from Florida over the Liberty Broadcasting system "to acquaint the nation with conditions in Florida and reply to adverse criticism, publicity and advertising now flowing over the nation and into foreign lands."

The speaker last Sunday was the Reverend Lloyd King who is chaplain of the Florida Peace Officers Association. Rev. King complained that much to-do was raised over the killing of Shepherd by McCall, but nothing was said when a 16-year-old Negro boy killed a sheriff.

Chaplain King accused a "racial hate organization" of stirring up trouble in Florida over the McCall murder of Shepherd who was handcuffed at the time to Walter Lee Irvin. Both Irvin and Shepherd were shot three times by McCall allegedly in self-defense. How two men handcuffed together could seriously threaten an armed sheriff, or why it was necessary to shoot them three times each has never been explained. By a miracle, Irvin recovered.

So, through Chaplain King's speech, Florida imitates the people of Cicero, Ill., by blaming the victims for the crime. In Cicero, it will be remembered, a grand jury indicted a lawyer retained by the NAACP, accusing him of inciting to riot, but did indict a single member of the mob that rioted and destroyed an apartment house! Fortunately, the move was so raw that the indictments were quashed in court.

Now comes Florida defending a sheriff who killed a manacled prisoner in cold blood and says a "racial hate organization" is responsible for the trouble. Florida has blood on her hands in this whole sorry affair. First, Ernest Thomas, who had never been identified with the alleged rape in the Groveland case in 1949, was shot and killed by a posse of citizens. Shepherd, Irvin and a 15-year-old boy, Charles Greenlee, were tried and swiftly convicted. Greenlee was given life on account of his age. The NAACP took the cases of Shepherd and Irvin to the U. S. Supreme Court and a new trial was granted them. Shepherd was killed by McCall before he could ever get that new trial. Harry T. Moore, NAACP leader in Florida, protested the Shepherd killing and made speeches around the state asking punishment for McCall. Moore and his wife were murdered. Only Irvin, by an act of God, is still alive.

The record shows that Florida has covered up murder with more murder and yet it has the colossal nerve to say that the NAACP by protesting the murders is "stirring up trouble" and is responsible for the state of afairs in Florida.

What Chaplain King is saying is the same old southern song: If Negroes did not resent the way we treat them there would be no trouble. All indications are that Negroes intend to resent and protest more and more. Florida and the South that thinks like Florida will have to do better. This is 1952 and the philosophy of 1902 wil not furnish the answer to the problem.

Lester B. Granger's

Battle Axe & Bread

The apparent unavailability of President Truman as candidate to succeed himself this fall adds to the already serious perplexities of Negro voters regarding the coming presidential campaign.

There is little doubting the fact that President Truman will actually step down. The very fact that he has made admission of his desire not to run would be a terrific handicap to his chances in the event that he should change his mind and decide to run after all. For he would then be pictured by the opposition's speakers as a "tired old man" who is the captive of his own political bosses and forced to run against his wishes.

This means that serious consideration will have to be given to Senator Kefauver in his bid for the Democratic nomination. Not that Kefauver has any obvious qualifications for the presidency. If he has, these have been pretty thoroughly concealed. He is an eager beaver, yes. He has a great enthusiasm for himself and a lively desire to occupy the White House—but so have thousands of others who demonstrated far more in the way of personal capacity and leadership ability.

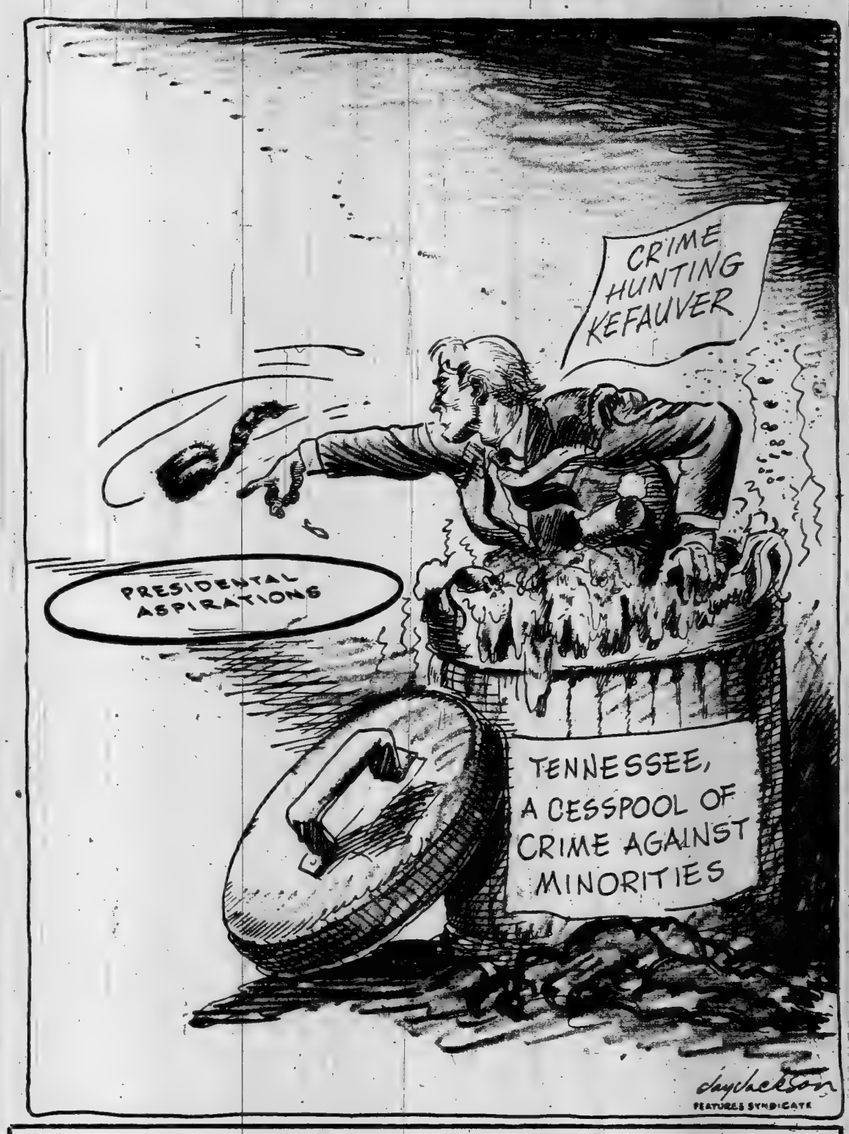
Yet Kefauver must be taken seriously, as long as the voting public is as unpredictable as it sometimes is, with violent fits of enthusiasm for "crime busters," faith healers and other shiny toys. "Crime busters" is put in quotes because no matter how many headlines televised Congressional Committee hearings may draw, there is no evidence that these have seriously affected the crime rate.

Other possibilities that have been discussed for the Democratic nomination include Chief Justice Fred Vinson, U. S. Chief Justice, and Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois. There is no reason why any Negroes should show enthusiasm over a Vinson nomination and some fairly good reasons why any voter of whatever race should look with disfavor upon a Supreme Court Justice dispensing judicial decisions with one hand and grabbing for political office with the other.

This brings us down at the present moment to Governor Stevenson, who during his recent visit to New York declared that he was not interested in the presidential nomination, but who probably would not need a "draft" to induce him to change his mind. There probably isn't a governor in the United States who wouldn't run for the presidency if he could receive the nomination and thought he had a fair chance of being elected.

Governor Stevenson is unquestionably first-rate material. He has shown this during his tenure of office in Illinois, but even before he entered political life he had demonstrated again and again his devotion to the public interest and from all appearances he is solidly right on the race question. What is equally important is that as governor he has shown ability to get along with politicians, while staying out of their clutches.

This ability transferred to the White House would be a reliable guarantee against mink coats, deep-freeze gadgets, and the like. It certainly would not eliminate corruption in politics, but it could screen political corruption away from the center of governmental planning.



All in all, the prospects are for a lively spring and plenty of fireworks at the Democratic Convention.

Similarly the Republican preconvention maneuvering will take on an additional frenzy. Taft's supporters will be encouraged that the Party "does not need Eisenhower" with the big gun of the Democratic Party being wheeled away. On the other hand, it may be that a fresh personality as the Democratic candidate would offer a bigger threat to the stodgy, glamorless Tafe than even Truman, who has gotten a little battle-scarred and tired-looking during the past Administration.

It looks as if we have a hopping-up-and-down good time ahead.

FLORIDA'S NAIVE GOVERNOR

Dear Sir:

Governor Fuller Warren of Florida, conspicuously failed to provide any protection for Samuel Shepherd and Walter Irvin, as prisoners of Sheriff McCall, although Mr. Harry Moore, the martyred head of the NAACP in Florida, repeately asked him to do so. Governor Warren has also done nothing that could be observed from the outside to ferret out and bring to justice those who bombed Mr. Moore and his wife to death.

But to put himself in good odor, he had the Executive Committee of the Civil Rights Congress fed sandwiches at the Governor's Mansion and praised their "moderation" and "Americanism" while "denouncing" the "subversive" NAACP.

Of course, any denouncing from Governor Warren the NAACP, will probably regard as praise, so that need not be taken too seriously.

There are, however, two important facts in this connection for colored Americans to understand. The first is that Governor Waren is too ignorant and uninformed to know that the Civil Rights Congress is a Communist line organization, the legal defense arm of the Communist Party, and on the list of subversive organizations issued by the Department of Justice. The second fact is that this willingness of the Executive Committee of the Civil Rights Congress to sit down to sandwiches with Governor Warren indicates that they are going to try to horn in on the Moore case and the defense of Walter Irvin to try to use them to raise money. They have, in fact, nothing to do with the cases. They are not paying the defense of the case of Walter Irvin nor are they paying the thousand dollars promised initially to the Moore family by the NAACP for funeral and other expenses.

One of the organizations which was amalgamated to form the Civil Rights Congress, namely the former Southern Conference on Human Welfare, tried to do the same thing in connection with the Columbia, Tennessee, riot case. That is, they used the case to raise money, although they did not have charge of the defense nor pay a single penny of the legal expenses of the defense.

Negroes are wise enough to know that Communists frequently use this sleazy method of raising money on the strength of cases which they do not handle, and probably the Civil Rights Congress, in dining with Governor Waren of Florida, is laying the basis for pulling the same trick.

I AM PUZZLED

Dear Sir:

For the past 40 years I have supported the NAACP. On many occasions I have dug down deep into my personal savings to help promote and sponsor many of its movements to combat racial discrimination and to help prevent persecution of my people by the white race.

Last Sunday, January 20th; I had the opportunity to hear our Regional Director Mr. Franklin Williams (Atty.) of our NAACP deliver a masterful address in eloquence and dramatization of the ugly seens of lawlessness that exist in the State of Florida and through-out the deep South. And the sordid story of the murder of Mr. Harry T. Moore and his wife of Mims, Fla. And the murder of Samuel Shepherd by Sheriff McCall of Lake County Fla. As stated the victim, Shepherd, was accused with four other men of the "Artificial Rape Case."

Yes this writer sat in one of the close-up seats at the 2nd Baptist Church to hear the speaker, and near the center of the huge crowd of approximately 2300 people. Yes many of them were deeply moved, and showed outward signs of emotion as they listened to Mr. Wiliams tell the sad story. But in my opinion only a few of them was moved in the right direction.

When I read the report of the small contribution, the paltry sum of $960.00 raised from this huge crowd I was simply stumped, puzzled." Estimating the crowd at 2000 people this amount would be less than 50c per person. It is not a shame that some people are so deeply moved while listening to the story of these horrid incidents but when it comes their chance to do the most good, by giving cash contributions they let you down. From my seat it was easy to observe whether or not small coins or paper money was being dropped into the basket as they filed by the collection table in single file. And as I sat there quietly observing things many thoughts passed through my mind. It is true that some gave generously but, too many gave too little, to such worthy cause.

I was discussnig this prepared meeting the night before at my store with a friend who is a member of the L. A. branch. I asked did he know the seating capacity of the 2nd Baptist Baptist Church, he thought that it was close to 3000. Well I said at that rate the church will most likely be filled to its top capacity. That being the case I hope to see them raise close to $3,500.00. But they let me down, they let you down, they let their race down. Sad, but it is true. Too many of my people have not yet learned the value of freedom. I hope and pray that the day will soon come that my people will learn to stand up and be counted, and help to share their full responsibilities by contributing their fare share of time, money, and wealth to help rid our country of so many of the unnecessary racial evils that exist among us today. Yes I hope to see the people of California stand up and be counted in all matters pertaining to the welfare and progress of my race. And I firmly believe that the day is not too far distant when every American citizen will be able to share equally in all of his constitutional rights.

People & Places

Al Austin and Chubby Johnson, veterans in entertaining the press, held forth last Monday introducing Chef Wong. Needless to say Wong's popularity will grow by leaps and bounds as his Chinese-American dishes are tasty, and prepared with the masterful touch of an expert. It's always nice when Austin and Johnson get the old gang together such as Eddie Burbridge, Chas. Washington, Al Mills, Gertrude Gipson, Rena Ann Marlow, Ricci Byrd, Libby Clark. We all voted that the Paradise has always been the leader in showing their heart warming appreciation for the NEGRO PRESS.

Incidentally Eloise Carlisle, Hazel Simon and eye-appealing Irene Hoking are three waitresses that would bring smiles to any male if they are lucky enough to get them to bring their cocktail in the evening and coffee in the morning. Busy (Red Hut Broiler) Bill Davis will be pasing out Corona Corona soon as his Mrs. is that way now.

Bill Thedford, ex-L.A., now residing in S.F. as Muni Bus Operator is in town trying to woo his pretty wife back. It would be nice. Michael Fanning's Macy & Alameda house of letters and love will have few uncanceled romances. It seemed that a three way afair that's been going on in the city mailing section had their mail routed to the wrong address.

That lovely brownskin that handles the clippers so well at Browne's Barber Shop goes under the name of Lillie Mae Jarmon. Very nice people. Margee Campos, a Salt Lake City lass really put a zip into a pari of California shorts, ask Arthur (MGM) Murray. Her sister Violet Edwards very much married is also refreshing. JOHN THOMAS, CHALKY WRIGHT, HERMAN HILL, big wheels in tonight's First Annual Boxers' Testimonial if you miss this treat to mingle with some of the greatest names in boxing you will be sorry. Call Michigan 9681 for your reservation.

TOMMY LEE SHAW, who we remembered as one of nicest barbers on the avenoo. Drop in his old favorite haunt. Barber Browne's tonsorial parlor the other night. Shaw is now doing his barbering for the Navy Exchange at China Lake, Calif. The NAACP is holding a big rally at the Lake Feb. 12th and Shaw assured us that any Angleo making the trip will be his guest. GLADYS TERRY, cut Red Hut Broiler waitress, had herself a way-out party Saturday night. Lysbeth Roger, Peggy Hyston, a couple of rays of real California sunshine was accompanied by Portland's suave Shelton Ellis, who is in our midst for a few weeks. George Hyman, young Western Ave. "wheel" was on hand for the festivities as was Bill Davis, who brought along the champane. Natch the joint rocked.

JANET STEVENSON HOWARD, who operates a well flourishing business in Alaska with her husband, is home for a few days. Attractive Mrs. Howard, working overtime, tying up business ends. The Howards operates the New Model Cafe, a favorite spot for Army and Navy personnel, who happen to be from "home." You bet the California Eagle is as popular as her bacon and egs.

BABE SIMMON'S West Jefferson Ave. Cresbar is featuring some of the best in foods. They soon will have their liquor license contrary to what was said. Nelson Creswell's magic for attracting people in the show world is doing a good job.

SIGHT-ITEMS — That Virginia Road chick, who pilots that 51 Devile westward every morning about half-after eight, should arise about half-after seven and straighten her wig, even make the Deville look bad.

Officer Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas looking at the '52 Buick, of course we lay even money that John will talk Cadillas. Bus operator W. D. Williams and Homer Blair matching tokens for a free ride out to Western Ave. golf course. D. D. is working himself up as a threat among youn golfers. He's been playing about three months.

HAROLD WASHINGTON making plans to take over one of the several Union Gas Stations offered to him. WESTCOAST CREAMERY, an old 29th and Western Ave. establishment that never encouraged the 90 per cent trade they are getting. We wonder how long it will take the peasants to realize that they are supporting a business that indicates they aren't thinking about hiring a couple of lovely brownskins over that way.

Floyd Dixon Band on Tour

Destined to become a jazz great, Floyd Dixon, wizard of piano and song and his orchestra leave this week for an extended tour of one nighters in the south. Blues stylist Mickey Champion and guitarist Charles Norris are featured artists with Dixon's aggregation.

Dixon has several hit recordings on Alladin and Modern label and boasts of an ever growing following in the bobby sox ranks. He formerly played with Johnny Moore and the Three Blazers before forming his own band.

He's been a positive standout at the recent series of jazz concerts at the Orpheum theater, Embassy and Philharmonic auditoriums.

Williams Agency Signs Jo Baker

Josephine Baker, who needs no introduction to Los Angeles residents, this week signed a contract designating the Charles Williams Advertising agency to act as her agent.

The contract, signed with Charles Williams, president of the agency, authorizes the firm to make arrangements for the use of her name and pictures in connection with the endorsement of nationally advertised products.

James Rogers, account executive, will handle the Josephine Baker account.

RCA RECEIVES EBONY AWARD FOR RACE RELATIONS PROGRESS

The year 1951 was highlighted by the appreciable progress made in the field of Industrial Race Relations by many of the nation's leading businesses. Among the industrial concerns cited by the Negro National Community for having contributed toward this improved relationship is the Radio Corporation of America's RCA Victor Division.

In January 1951, the Ebony Magazine Award for "outstanding industrial race relations" was presented to RCA during the latter's Midwest-Great Lakes roundtable discussion and dinner meeting at Chicago. Ebony publisher John H. Johnson, in making the presentation, said that the award had been especially revived, after a two-year lapse, in recognitio nof RCA's 'unbaised, racial integration."

Johnson pointed out that the corporation, in creating job opportunities for Negroes at highly skilled levels, has "led American industry in improving race relations."

In accepting the honor for RCA's two leading units, RCA Victor and the National Broadcasting Company, Walter A. Buck, Vice President and General Manager of the RCA Victor Division and a member of the RCA. Board of Directors, said:

"It is with great and genuine humility that we accept the clation, feeling as we do that our policies are only those which should guide any enlightened and progressive industrial organization."

During 1951, RCA Victor moved toward effecting a closer rapport with the Negro National Community through a series of regional roundtable discussion meetings. At these conferences the major ambitions of Negroes as regards industry were aired by members of the Negro press and community leaders of that group. It is believed that considerable impetus to the development of a mutual understanding between the corporation and the Negro community stemmed from these conferences.

Throughout the year, the Division, in a move toward fuller participation in the community life of all groups, provided television facilities for the use of delegates and visitors to the national conventions of many prominent Negro organizations. These facilities were made available at the meetings of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, in Atlanta; the National Urban League, in St. Paul; the Elks, in Buffalo; the New Farmers of America, in Atlanta, and the National Council of Negro Women, in Washington.

A television microscope developed by RCA for use in modern scientific research was demonstrated ot delegates at the annual meeting of the National Medical Association, in Philadelphia.

Also in the community relations phase of RCA Victor's operations, RCA Victor was represented at career conferences and industrial forums sponsored by Negro agencies.

Joseph W. Bird, Manager of RCA Victor's College Relations Division, addressed sessions of career conferences on the campuses of leading Negro colleges, including Tuskegee Institute, in Alabama; the Agricultural and Industrial College of Tennessee, in Nashville, and Virginia State College, in Petersburg. These conferences, under the sponsorship of the National Urban League, brought together industry, government and labor leaders to advise students about job opportunities in various fields and the qualifications necessary for those opportunities.

In December, Vice President Buck of RCA Victor, addressed a Communications-Electronics Forum at Morgan State College, Baltimore, which was jointly sponsored by the Baltimore Urban League and the college's Placement Center. In his adrress to Morgan students, representatives of local industries and radio stations, community leaders and members of the press, the RCA Victor head pointed up the "Role of the Manufacturer in Mass Communications," covering responsibility to the consumer and the participation of the communications industry in national defense.

Buck emphasized that "a 20th Century army could not function without modern communications" and held that the United States would be "almost defenseless without them."

He further declared: "The military services are our first line of defense, but right behind them, serving them, supporting them, and essential to them, is nications industry is making a American industry. The commumajor contribution to the national defense—which means it is helping to protect the lives and guard the homes of all of us."

In keeping with RCA's integrated employment practices, three young Negro engineers were among the top ranking graduates of leading U. S. colleges and universitles who started their careers in 1951 under the RCA Victor Division's suecialized training program.

BOB ELLIS IS STILL WITH EAGLE—IN SPIRIT, THAT IS

Dear Bob Ellis:

Publishers often learn things by reading them in their own newspapers. That is my case. I heard that you were about to leave us when I picked up the Eagle last Thursday. Maybe it isn't so. Or at least I hope it is all a mistake. Frankly, we need you around here and our readers are all up in arms and are demanding that I do something about getting you back. Anyhow, what goes? After all, this is your page. You made it.

LOREN MILLER

Dear Loren Miller:

This page and the struggle it has tried to wage —is a part of my brain and heart.

As a fledgling screenwriter, this paper—this community is in my writing fingers. (For example: In my first screenplay I wrote a Negro pilot into the story.)

A man doesn't leave anything unless he changes . . .

A man doesn't "go Hollywood—" unless he wants to . . .

This page to me means integrity.

What manner of man would I be if I turned my back on this page?

There will only be happiness and joy and singing hearts in our country when we all have equal opportunity to work as screenwriters or any other job.

The Eagle Theatrical Page will continue the fight it inaugurated with its first issue—a battler for full and equal participation in show business for all.

Sincerely,,

BOB ELLIS

P.S.: There's a writer who just came to town. Little David is his name, and I want to introduce him to you and you to him. May I? I think he has some things to say that your readers will want to hear. I'll bring him around in a day or two. BOB

Geraldine Farmer Presented By Helping Hand Ed. Club

Plans went into high gear this week to complete all arrangements for the benefit presenting Geraldine Farmar, lyric soprano of San Francisco, in her Los Angeles debut. This concert, which is being sponsored by the Helping Hand Educational Club, is attracting wide interest, and patrons as far away as San Diego are expected to attend, according to Mrs. C. M. Giles, the club's president.

The Manual Arts High School auditorium will become an uptown Philharmonic Saturday evening, February 9. Miss Farmar will be assisted by the distinguished pianist, Stephanie Shehatovich, in her enticing program including works from Scarlatti and Handel to Gershwin and Wolfe.

Tickets are now on sale at moderate prices at Southern California Music Company and all Mutual Agencies. For reservations call CE. 2-0798 between 8 a.m. and 8 p.m. or RY. 1-7835 after 8 p.m. There is a special low rate to students.

Eckstine In Pasadena Saturday

Billy Eckstine will make his final appearance in Southern California before heading East on tour at the Pasadena Civic Auditorium Saturday night, February 2nd. Gene Norman, popular impresario and disc jockey, will present "The Man With the Cashmere Voice," who will be surrounded by an impressive array of top name talent including Helen Humes of "MILLION DOLLAR SECRET" fame, and the JUST JAZZ All-Stars.

The highlight of the JUST JAZZ set will be a battle of the tenor saxophones between two titans of the instrument, Wardell Gray and Dexter Gordon. Rounding out the Jazz group will be Conti Condoli on trumpet, Don Bagley on bass, Chico Hamilton on drums, and Bobby Tucker at the piano.

As an added attraction, Gene Norman will introduce an amazing new star of the Jazz Harmonica, Les Thompson.

Tickets for the Billy Eckstine concert Saturday night, February 2nd at the Pasadena Civic Auditorium are available at Southern California Music Company, all Mutual Agencies, and at the Box Office in Pasadena.

Mabel Scott at Club Alabam

Making her first local appearance after an exciting Eastern tour, that dynamic song thrush, Mabel Scott, opens the new show at the Club Alabam tomorrow night, Friday, Feb. 1. Miss Scott who is noted for her lively jump tunes and bouncy rhythm has really rocked her eastern audiences.

Recalling the days when she appeared at the old Club Alabam, Mabel is more anxious than ever to get back into the club and greet her many fans.

The six lovely Alabam chorines will be on hand in their new eye catching costumes supported by the band of Calvin Boze.

Beavers Blasts Housing Opponents

tion of the situation given by Beavers, we quote extensively from the statement.

"In response to requests for information concerning the present housing controversy in Los Angeles, I feel it my duty to give a true statement regarding the matter. There have been so many false statements, claims and counter claims, and distortion of facts, that I fear that in the confusion our people may not be fully aware of the big stake that we have in this issue.

Reneges on Contract

"Having served for six years as an appointed Commissioner of the Los Angeles City Housing Authority, along with other business, labor and professional men who devote their donated time to serving without fear or favor the best interests of the people, I am in a position to give a true statement. Reduced to the simplest terms, the whole issue may be summed up ni the following question:

"Shall the city council of Los Angeles be permitted to renege on its contract with the Los Angeles City Housing Authority for the execution of a 10,000-dwelling unit slum-clearance and low rent veterans housing program?

"It is well to remember that such action, if permitted to stand, will place a burden upon the taxpayers of Los Angeles of $13,000,000 to repay the Federal Government for amounts already expended and untold millions that may result from damage suits from owners and contractors who will suffer losses in connection with the repudiated contracts.

Legal and Binding

"Said cooperation agreement was executed on Aug. 9, 1949, and the City Attorney ruled on Sept. 20, 1951, that it was legal and binding and could not be rescinded.

"There is still urgent need for providing decent housing to low income groups. The program involves ten slum and/or blighted sites, and one vacant site, selected in accordance with the master plan of the City. Eight of the sites are in the central area of the city and one in San Pedro, one in West Los Angeles and one in Pacoima.

"The entire capital on-site cost of the program, estimated for contract purposes to be $110,000,000 plus interest, is borne by the Federal government over a period of 40 years. Operating expense, excluding amortization but including utilities, repairs, maintenance, replacement, payments in lieu of taxes (10 percent of income) etc., is paid from rental income.

Would Increase Revenue

"According to a survey recently completed for the Housing Authority by the Realty Tax and Service company the total 1950 taxes levied on all the eleven sites for this program was $81,068. Of this amount only $69,380.84 was collected—a delinquency of over 14 percent. This is the actual amount of tax revenue that will come off the local tax roll.

"As a part of this program the Housing Authority has, by contract, agreed to pay 10 percent of the total annual rental income, for 40 years, in lieu of taxes. This amount has been amortized and will be paid, as have all payments in lieu of taxes contracted for the original 10 projects. This annual payment in lieu of taxes is estimated at $340,290 or almost five times the $69,380.84 in taxes collected from all sites prior to acquisition for this program.

Backed Covenants

"These funds were authorized by Congress and would have been spent elsewhere if the City of Los Angeles had not participated in this program. Why should our taxpayers pay to clean up the slums of other cities and still be left to forever subsidize our own?

"It is significant that the foes of the public housing program (The National Real Estate Board, the Home Builders Institute, the Los Angeles Times and other such interests) are the same forces who promoted and encouraged the practice of keeping Negro Americans out of the so-called "white neighborhoods" through the use of the restrictive covenant. They are the same forces who continue their efforts to nullify the efects of the Supreme Court decision on restrictive covenants by using whatever means at their command to maintain racial barriers.

"The Los Angeles City Housing Authority maintains an absolutely democratic policy in providing housing for all eligible families on the basis of need. Applicants are accepted on the basis of their qualifications and are placed in any housing development under the management of the City Housing Authority, without regard to race or color or the location of the development. Applicants are accepted for employment on the basis of their abilities, experience, and character without regard to other considerations. Under the policy of the City Housing Authority no racial discrimination of any kind is tolerated.

"Since this is true and in view of the economic soundness of the housing program, certainly it deserves the full support of all citizens who believe in the democratic and American ideals.

"The citizens of Los Angeles owe a great debt of gratitude to Mayor Bowron and Councilmen Don Allen, Ernest Debs, John Gibson, Kenneth Hahn, Edward Roybal, L. E. Timberlake, and Leland Warburton who have stood firmly for upholding the contract with the Housing Authority and providing for slum clearance and the housing of low income groups."

High Court Ducks Issue

vant" to the constitutional questions presented to the court. They said that the case should be assigned for argument now.

Sought Report

The case arose in Clarendon County, South Carolina, where a group of Negroes started a campaign to equalize school facilities for Negro and white students. The case was tried last spring in Charleston before a special three-judge Federal court.

In a decision June 23, 1951, this court upheld racial segregation, but ordered that the Negro schools must be made equal to those for white children. It commanded school officials to report back within six months on the progress made.

District Judge J. Waties Waring dissented from the majority, composed of Circuit Judge John J. Parker and District Judge George Bell Timmerman.

The parents of the Negro children carried an appeal to the Supreme Court. It was filed before the school officials had given their "progress" report to the South Carolina court, and that tribunal has not released the document. Failure to do this was given by the Supreme Court as the reason for its action.

Judgment Vacated

"This district court," the opinion said, "has not given its views on this report, having entered an order stating that it will withhold further action thereon while the cause is pending in this court on appeal.

"Prior to our consideration of the questions raised on this appeal, we should have the benefit of the views of the District Court upon the additional facts brought to the attention of that court in the report which it ordered.

"This District Court should also be afforded the opportunity to take whatever action it may deem appropriate in the light of that report. In order that this may be done, we vacate the judgment of the District Court and remand the case to that court for further proceedings.

"Another judgment, entered at the conclusion of those proceedings, may provide the basis for any further appeals to this court."

Although the Supreme Court acted on the South Carolina case, it passed unnoticed, at least for the present, a similar situation in Kansas. This controversy involves public schools in Topeka, a special three-judge court having failed to declare segregation unconstitutional.

I will not leave you comfortless: I will come to you.—John 14:18.

The old Judge had been down to Newton visiting with Red Davis, Kenny Harris, Joe Johnson, Osie Walton, and Robert Hudson in the detective bureau. The boys, per usual, were swapping stories and information. Harris and Davis were telling one on Lionel "Cheapie" Alexander, a key witness in one of their cases. Two fellows robbed a liquor store. The proprietor of the store noticed the cylinder fall out of the gun in the thugs hand and grabbed his pistol. After a coupla shots it jammed and the thugs beat him up and took his money and some whiskey.

Lionel was delivering mail about a half a block away when he saw the two fellows run from the store with a bottle of whiskey in their hand. When questioned by Davis and Harris, Lionel couldn't describe the fellows, what they wore or the car they drove away in. "But I can tell you the kind of whisky they were carrying, it was Old Stagg." Can you beat that, groaned Red Davis, he could read the label on the whiskey bottle a block away and doesn't know what the suspects look like."

"I can remember it plainly," said Lionel, "because as I saw them running, I said to myself that anybody who would steal Old Stagg, should go to jail."

Oddly enough it was this bit of evidence that convicted the pair. "I agree with Cheapie," said the Judge. "I wish they had come up in front of me, they would get staggered sentences.

The boys then began discussing the Hill and Hill bandit who has been plaguing the Avenue and giving Leonard McClain's product a lot of free publicity. He enters a liquor store and asks for a pint of Hill and Hill, and then pulls a gun and empties the till. He has hit so many stores that now just to ask for Hill and Hill is to look into the barrell of a gun.

Well, old Hill and Hill struck again Saturday night. He revisited Al Price's store for about the third time. This time there were two officers staked out in the back. One with a shotgun and the other with a revolver. After he got his Hill and Hill and emptied the till, the bandit in a very soft voice told the girl behind the counter, "Don't call the police for twenty minutes," and departed. As he left, one of the officers who had walked around the building shouted halt and opened fire. Old Hill and Hill dropped to one knee, threw three steady shots at the officer, then jumped in a Ford and sped away. The big mystery is what happened to the guy who had the shotgun. Didn't fire a shot.

"Sure glad he was from downtown," chorused the Newton boys in unison. "Guess I'll have to change my brand," sighed the Judge, as he made his way back to his courtly duties.

Richard Thomas, 3313 S. Central got in an argument with wife Anna Bell over domestic matters. She figured one cutting remark deserves another, and inserted a knife in his chest leaving a scar six inches long.

Marshall Simon, 705 E. 9th street got loaded and decided to drop by his landlord's house at 3819 Maple and sleep it off. He woke up minus his watch and sing worth $425. Nobody knows nuttin.

Helen V. Phillips, 1325 E. 23rd street didn't appreciate a crap game that was going on in her house. She probably figured she wasn't getting a cut lick, so she attempted to break it up. Sam Anderson, who also lives there, gave her a lick that really cut when he whacked her across the head with a knife.

Mrs. Ardis Scott, 3614¾ Trinity went out on the town with Walter Davenport Jr., 735 E. 17th. They went to a bar for a few drinks, had dinner, and then Walt dropped by his pad to collect on his investment. Ardis wasn't willing, but Walt figured a debt was a debt and overcame her unwillingness forceable. Needless to say what's going to happen to Walt when Johnny Law catches up with him. He'll be short as pie crust for a long time.

Joe J. Costello, Patricia Carter, Cora Butler and Jerry Carter were having a high old time at 2812½ S. Central. All of a sudden something happened and Jerry caught a fruit jar and a pitcher with his head. He complained so long and loud that the quartette wound up in the drunk tank.

Arlee Dawson, 1628½ E. Vernon and Roxie B. Ready, 1156 E. 47th place decided to engage in a little mutual combat. B. Ready wasn't quite ready enough and was rendered hors de combat by an accurately thrown beer bottle from Arlee.

Willie B. Kelly, 1237 E. 42nd place got in a car with Freddie Payton and they began to talk about a crap game they had been in. As the conversation grew, so did Freddie's suspicions, and suddenly he whipped out a blood-tester and tested Willie's blood count for outcounting him in the game of chance.

Police Officers, the kill joys, dropped in on a little gong kicking session at 126½ E. 36th street. They found Theresa Thompson, 921 E. 103rd street, Leon Duke Green, 156½ E. 35th street, Stanley W. Washington, 126½ E. 36th street; Tessie Baxter Henry, 126½ E. 36th street and Beverly Bryant, 126½ E. 36th street. They naturally got a change of address where the only gong in their lives for a while will be the call to chow line.

Eddie Marie Hurte, 675 E. 53rd street used to go with longshoreman John Williams. He just couldn't forget her endearing charms, and came over the other eve and made violent love to her, and against her wishes yet. Ah, those longshoremen.

Arizona Schools

that the present laws of the state "neither permit, nor authorize, nor require" racial segregation.

The legal issue is complicated by the fact that the last session of the Arizona legislature repealed the laws that permitted separate high schools and required racial segregation in grade schools. The present law says only that "school boards may segregate groups of pupils." County and state attorneys assert that segregation is permissible under that law. Daniels, who is a state legislator and the only Negro lawyer in the state, introduced the bill which repealed the old segregation laws.

The three-judge federal court will be composed of Circuit Judge Clifton Matthews and District Judges David Ling and Frank McCormick. Judge Ling held last year that the Arizona laws do not permit segregation of Mexican children and Judge McCormick was the author of a widely discussed case in which he enjoined California officials from segregating Mexican pupils in 1948.

Phoenix has continued its separate grade school system but after repeal of the old laws many cities, notably Tucson, discontinued segregation and integrated both Negro pupils and teachers in the general school system.

A series of affidavits have been filed in the case in which prominent sociologists from Arizona and other sections of the country have advanced the opinions that sergegation is detrimental to both Negro and white children since it forbids normal association between persons of diverse groups.

Fisk Jubilee Choir Sings For Negro College Fund

The celebrated Fisk Jubilee Singers, the current undergraduate singing group at Fisk University, Nashville, a member of the United Negro College Fund, are being heard in a new Sunday series of broadcasts presented by the National Broadcasting Company in cooperation with the United Negro College Fund, W. J. Trent, Jr., executive director of the Fund, announced this week.

The 16 Jubilee Singers, all student at Fisk, carry on a tradition begun in 1873 when the original Fisk Jubilee Singers toured Europe and America, introducing the spiritual as a new, indigenous American folk music.

Originating Sunday afternoon with WNBC in New York at 12:15 p.m. (EST), the Fisk Jubilee Singers are heard throughout the country over stations of the NBC network. In New York, the new program is heard at 11:45 to 12 midnight, on WNBC.

The new music series is the second to be presented by the Fund running currently on a major network, the other being the choir series, now in its second year, featuring the choirs of the 32 colleges and universities aided by the Fund, and heard each Sunday morning over the network of the American Broadcasting Company.

EAGLE SALUTES

A Technician of Note

PATRICIA SHOOK, D.D.S.

Personable Doctor Patricia Shook, a recent newcomer to Los Angeles, has opened her new spacious, modern, well equipped dental offices on East Vernon Avenue near Central.

OUTSTANDING GRADUATE

A graduate of Fisk university, Meharry School of Dental Hygiene and Meharry Dental School, "Pat" is a member of the Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority.

ALWAYS DOING HER PART

Realizing the overwhelming need for highly qualified technicians; personable Patricia commendably served as a First Lieutenant in the Women's Auxiliary Corps and was honorably discharged in February 1946.

EXTREMELY PROFICIENT

She is one of the few Negro women of her profession now practicing and one of the only ones in this city. Her charming personality and professional ability are a rare combination which is fast making her a vital factor in the community. To such a lovely lady we salute you.

New Down Payment for All Veterans from $550 plus closing costs

$48.60 MONTH for Principal & Interest
4% G.I. loans

3 BEDROOM
BROADMOOR Homes

Convenient to Everything!

Tract Office
412 N. CENTRAL AVENUE
Phone NEvada 6-84

TYPICAL HOME—The above three-bedroom home is representative of the many designs still available in Broadmoor Homes, new Compton community open to veterans on the east side of Central avenue, just south of Rosecrans avenue. Monthly terms are $48.60 for principal and interest. Down payments on the three-bedroom dwellings start at $550, plus closing costs.

Home Sales at Broadmoor Exceed $700,000

More than $700,000 worth of homes have been sold to date at Broadmoor Homes, the new Compton community open to all veterans, according to the general contractor, Cletus H. J. Jollie.

Among the last of the low down-payment deals, Broadmoor Homes is located on the east side of Central avenue, just south of Rosecrans avenue. Every home is now completed and ready for immediate occupancy.

Veterans may purchase three-bedroom dwellings with down payments from $550, plus closing costs, and on monthly terms of $48.60 for principal and interest. Four per cent G.I. loans prevail.

Available in a variety of exteriors, all residences in Broadmoor Homes include dishmasters and garbage disposers, floor furnaces, double sinks, hardwood floors, weatherstripping, lawns with shrubs, tile stall showers and baths, dinettes, wardrobe closets, incinerators and clotheslines.

Community improvements in and paid for include sewers, sidewalks, curbs, gutters, asphalt driveways and landscaping.

Located near the city's major employment and industrial areas, Broadmoor Homes is also close to schools of all grades, churches, shopping centers, public transportation and recreational facilities.

Continuing on display daily and Sunday are three model homes, with one furnished throughout by Harry Karmes of the Karmes Furniture Co., Hollywood.

Sales offices are at 412 N. Central avenue, Compton. In charge are Henriette G. Mallette, real estate broker, and James L. Carter, sales manager.

Burton Motors Car Bargains

Burton Motors is offering the most outstanding buys in cars in the city of L.A. and for No Money Down.

A program geared to please the public with a wide selection of used cars of every make and description.

A good example is a '39 Buick 4 dr. for No Money Down and only $7.23 per month. Another is a '41 Ford 4 dr. for $5.50 per wk. Also a '40 Packard coupe only $9.19 per month. These are only a drop in the bucket for the world's largest "No Money Down" volume dealer.

The 150 or more fresh, clean cars are serviced and ready to drive out today. Burton can, in this way, give you immediate delivery with no red tape as they handle the entire contract.

Centrally located at 2343 So. Figueroa and open till 10 p.m., your inspection is invited and their courteous representative will, with no obligation, gladly discuss your auto program. Phone PR. 5253 for appointment.

Project Eviction Attacked

By GRACE E. SIMONS

Residents of Rodger Young Village Monday night joined in mass protest against wholesale eviction from their homes and the shutting down of the entire housing project.

Earlier on Friday morning panic spread from door to door throughout the village when announcement was made that the city's Recreation and Park Commissioners had refused to renew the lease on the site and that all the 1500 families living there would have to find homes elsewhere.

A Community Emergency Committee was formed hastily and spontaneously. Word went out for Monday's mass demonstration.

Unanimous Protest

Residents crowded into the meeting, unanimously passed a resolution to be presented to the City Council demanding that the lease be extended for another two years. Practically every family in the village was represented.

On Monday also Mayor Bowron, aware of the ferment and anger that the action had caused, issued an official communication declaring that the residents could not be evicted until the City Council determines on the basis of a "finding-in-fact" that a housing emergency no longer exists.

On Tuesday, the question was thrown into the lap of the City Council.

Without warning, last Friday the 1500 veterans families—some 7,000 people—awoke to find their security shattered, their lives disrupted, each of them faced with an acute personal crisis.

Where Can We Go?

"Where will we go? Where can we take our children?"

The quonset huts out on the rim of the city in Griffith Park are not mansions. They are humble dwellings, rows upon rows of them, each one just like the next. But the families who live in them have made them their homes, built trellises for

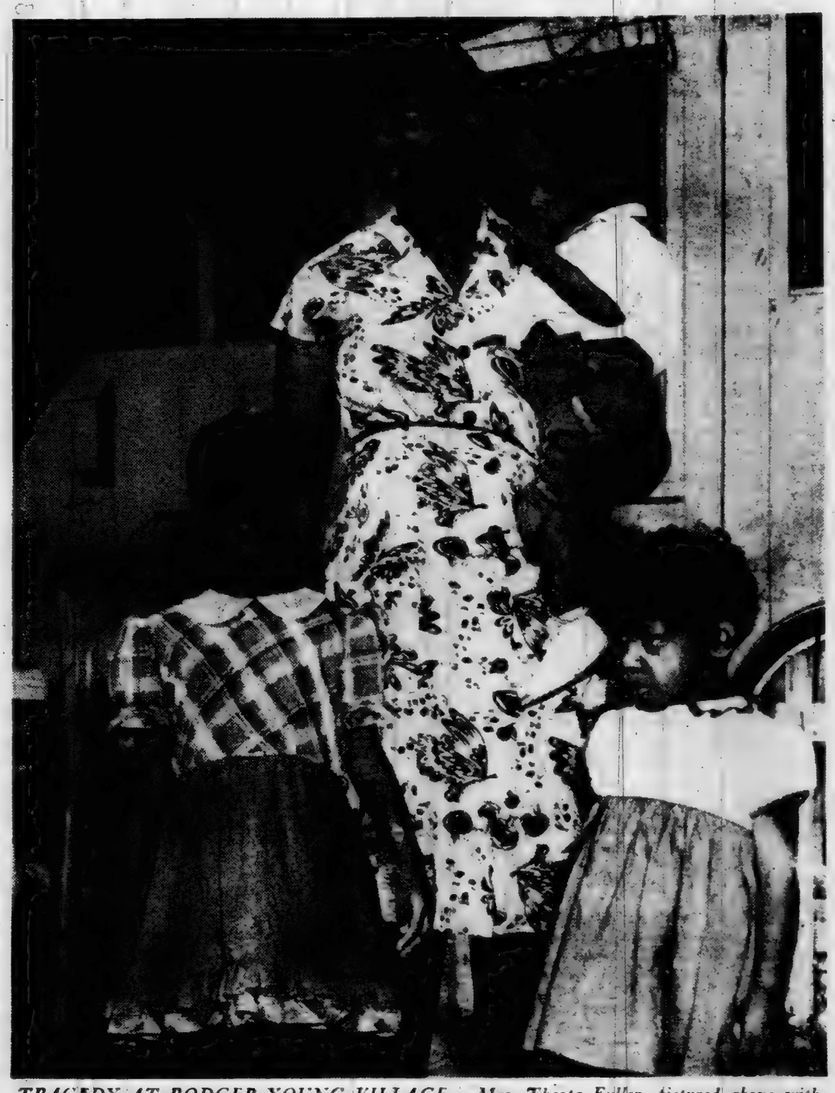
Bomb Home In Illinois Row Over Schools

CAIRO, Ill.—Die hard opponents of abolition of segregation in this city's schools were blamed for the bombing of a Negro physician's home and the shotgun blast at the home of another doctor last week. The bomb exploded at the home of Dr. U. F. Bass and a shotgun charge was fired at the home of Dr. J. C. Wallace. Both were leaders in the fight against Jim Crow.

The public school system of this southern Illinois city faces suspension of $200,000 a year in financial assistance from the state following failure of the school board to eliminate segregation. Assurance that state aid would be cut off was given to Lester Bailey, NAACP field secretary, by Mrs. Lucy T. McPherson, county superintendent of schools, following presentation of 20 affidavits of Negro parents charging discrimination against their children.

The fight to open the "white" schools of this last stronghold of Jim Crow in the State of Illinois has been spearheaded by the Cairo branch of the NAACP.



Transfers had been requested for 84 Negro children after school officials had promised prompt processing of these applications. However, when the children were taken to the schools at the opening of the new term on Monday, January 26, they were sent home and told that their transfers had not been processed and that they should return to their former schools.

WHERE CAN WE FIND A HOME?—With six mouths to feed, John Barnes hasn't been able to find a home outside Rodger Young that he can afford and where they will take children. He works nights. He is shown with his four children, James Lee, Lois Annette, Johnny Mae and John Jr.

Woman Rescued in Box Car Kidnaping

Kidnaped under threat of death, a 22-year-old woman early Tuesday morning was rescued from a boxcar near El Monte, sheriff's deputies reported.

Screams of the young woman, Miss Mary Francis Holmes, of 115 W. 59th place, were heard by railroad men, who rushed to her assistance and released her.

"If you don't come with me, I'll cut you down with this knife!" the kidnaper reportedly threatened her.

Miss Holmes, according to the deputies, identified her abductor as a former suitor, Eddie Lee Grayson. She did not know his address.

Miss Holmes said she was on her way to work when Grayson entered a restaurant where she was having breakfast.

"He sat down by me and whispered 'you are coming with me and if you don't I'll cut you with this knife.'"

Miss Holmes said she had to go to work but that when he displayed the knife, she entered his car.

After driving around for a time, Grayson, she said, locked her in the railroad box car near Lincoln Park.

Despondent, Man Commits Suicide

Despondent over ill health, Aaron Holman, 29, of 421 Michigan avenue, Santa Monica, shot and killed himself early Friday in a shed outside of his house.

Holman, according to police, was to appear in court that day on a traffic warrant.

Police said that the victim got out of bed at 2 a.m. this morning and told his wife and a friend that he was going "to end it all."

Unable to persuade him to change his mind, his wife said she ran for help. Police said that while the victim's wife was running back to the house she heard the shot fired in the shed.

'Fill Shrine!' Call Reaches Thousands

Fill the Shrine Feb. 21—this is the call that was ringing through union halls, Jewish meetings, and civic groups this week as plans for the dramatic united rally against terrorism in Florida were pushed into action.

Hollywood stars will be on hand at the big demonstration to mingle their protest with that of the NAACP and the more than a score of organizations that are co-sponsoring the Shrine meeting. Walter White, executive secretary of the NAACP, will be the principal speaker.

10,000 Leaflets

The United Automobile Workers of America, CIO, is arranging the distribution of 10,000 leaflets to workers at the auto plants starting Friday, calling upon the workers to fill the auditorium "to the rafters" and show in action that "the Negroes are not alone in their struggle."

The International Garment Workers Union, AFL, is bringing out thousands of leaflets to be placed in every shop in the garment center, urging workers to show by their presence at the Shrine Feb. 21 their solidarity in the fight against intimidation.

The Anti-Defamation League of the B'nai B'rith has alerted all of its lodges and chapters, with a membership of approximately 25,000. It has distributed a hundred petition blanks for signa-

Negro History Week Proclaimed by Mayor

Atty. Alexander Will Speak at UCLA Program

Mayor Fletcher Bowron Monday issued a proclamation proclaiming Feb. 10 to Feb. 17 as "Negro History Week."

Negro History Week has been observed nationally for 25 years, the mayor said, and serves to emphasize the achievements of the Negro people in music, education, science and other fields.

Mrs. Vassie D. Wright, president of Our Authors Study Club and the Rev. Baxter C. Duke, chairman of the planning committee for Negro History Week, with Mrs. Retha D. Beck, co-chairman of the week, received the proclamation from the mayor.

Highlighting the week, UCLA will present Dr. Sadie T. M. Alexander, Philadelphia attorney, who will discuss "Changing Patterns in Race Relations" Tuesday.

Dr. Alexander has served on numerous councils and committees, including the president's committee on civil rights, the national defense conference on Negro affairs, and the constitution convention of the National Council of Churches of Christ

The program is open to the public without charge, but admission will be by ticket only because of limited seating capacity.

Tickets may be obtained in the lobby of the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Co., Western Ave. and Adams Blvd. or at the university ticket office.

History Week activities will open with a mass meeting at

TELLS ISSUES IN SCHOOL FIGHT—Carl Sims, Arizona legislator, listens as three of the attorneys in the case explain the legal issues in the suit against Phoenix Jim Crow high school. Left to right: Attorney Loren Miller, Sims, Attorneys H. B. Daniels and A. L. Wirin. Sims, who is a plaintiff in the suit, and Daniels, also a legislator, were the authors of the law repealing compulsory school segregation in Arizona.

One Judge to Hear Phoenix School Suit

PHOENIX, Ariz.—Hearing on the question of whether or not this city has the right to maintain a Jim Crow high school was postponed until Feb. 11 when a special three-judge federal court headed by Circuit Judge Clifton Matthews held that the issue should be tried before Federal District Judge Dave Ling rather than by the full court. Sitting with Judge Matthews were Judge Ling and Judge Paul R. McCormick.

A packed courtroom heard Judge Matthews render that decision last Monday afternoon after the morning had been spent in legal arguments revolving around the meaning of an Arizona law which permits school boards to "segregate groups of pupils."

The Arizona supreme court decided in 1928 that the law permitted racial segregation but Judge Matthews told lawyers that he doubted that any such meaning would be put on it "in 1952 after repeal of other laws which directed segregation in grade schools and permitted it in high schools." Judge Matthews pointed out that unless the law directly directed or permitted segregation, the question was one for a single judge and not for a three-judge panel.

Same Issues

The issues to be decided by Judge Ling are the same as those at stake before the three-judge court, lawyers pointed out. Parents of a half dozen high school pupils charge that segregation of their children deprives them of rights guaranteed under the Fourteenth Amendment and are seeking an injunction forbidding the Phoenix school board from making further assignments to segregated Carver High School which was established about 25 years ago. Lawyers representing the plaintiffs are Loren Miller and A. L. Wirin of Los Angeles; and H. B. Daniels, William P. Mahoney, Jr., Burton Lewkowitz and Stewart Udall of Arizona.

Listed among the plaintiffs are Carl Sims, one of two Negro legislators who was responsible for introducing the measure which repealed compulsory segregation,

Jury Acquits Deputy Houtz In Torture Trial

Acquittal was the verdict of a jury who listened for eight days to felony assault charges of a deputy sheriff who was accused of spraying two prisoners with a fire extinguisher last October 20. Negro History

Right to Testify First Negro Legal Victory in California

By WENDELL GREEN

When California was discovered in 1535 by Cortez he had a Negro guide called Estevancio. A Negro priest was with Coronado working among the Indians with Friar Marco di Mica. Thus since California was discovered by the Western world, Negroes have been a part of its glorious history.

When Capt. John C. Fremont explored California and seized it for the United States, Jacob Dobson, James Duff, Joe McAfee, Charles G. Gains, Billy Gaston and John Grider were in the party.

When the Bear Flag party met in a barn in Sonoma, John Grider mixed the paints for the drawing of the first crude flag of California.

With the advent of American rule, the Negroes' lot in California became hard. When he staked out a claim, if he struck gold, any white men could come along and take it away from him. He worked in the mines for little pay, and couldn't follow the search for gold, because to discover it, usually meant his life. This was not only true of the Negro, but also of Mexicans, Indians, Chinese, and Japanese.

It was almost impossible to own land as it was written in the constitution that a Negro couldn't testify against a white man in court.

To eliminate this gross inequality was the first great fight of Negroes in California, and the Negro newspapers led the way.

The third Negro newspaper in the United States was The Mirror of The Times established in San Francisco in 1855. Later it

Bashes in Head of Victim

"She stabbed me in the head and I ran. She followed me and when I fell down she continued to cut me. I picked up a board and hit her a couple of times. I didn't hurt her bad?" When the arresting officers nodded in affirmative, the crushing knowledge that he had killed his common-law wife, Alberta Payne, last Saturday night when he struck her over the head twice with a two-by-four, put Arthur Harris in a state of shock.

Harris, 37, 1354½ E. 22nd street, was arrested by officers L. L. Hightower, D. F. Cunningham, and F. J. Collins at Georgia Street Emergency Hospital when he showed up shortly after the fight with his wife for treatment of cuts on the head, back and hand.

Wife Jealous

Harris told the police that he and his 35-year-old wife had come from a party in Watts with some other people and she was angry because he danced with other girls at the party; and that as soon as they entered the house she lay down on the bed and suddenly got up, threw his clothes on the floor and told him to get out. As he attempted to place his clothes in a suitcase she stabbed him in the head with a knife wrapped in either a stocking or a rag. He stated that he ran down the stairs. She followed him and he ran into the fence and fell in front of the

Guam GI's Open Fight For Lives

WASHINGTON — Federal defense officials have been given until February 8 to show why two Negro Air Force servicemen sentenced to death by a general court martial should not be released from military custody and turned over to civilian authorities. The rule, handed down by the U.S. District Judge Burnita S. Matthews, was in response to petitions filed on Jan. 31 by NAACP attorneys in behalf of the two men who were convicted in 1949 of the rape and murder of a young white civilian worker on the U.S.-owned island of Guam in the Pacific.

NAACP Attorneys Thurgood Marshall, Robert L. Carter and Frank Reeves filed petitions for the writs on behalf of former Staff Sergeant Robert W. Burns and Private Herman Dennis, Jr., the convicted servicemen.

The crime of which the men were convicted was the rape and murder of Miss Ruth Farnsworth, who died on December 14, 1948, after having been found unconscious the previous day in a secluded spot near where she worked. She never regained consciousness. A number of Negro servicemen stationed on the island were picked up on January 7, 1949, subjected to a lie detector, and questioned in connection with the crime. Herman and Calvin Dennis and Burns were held, beaten and threatened, kept ignorant of their rights, and not allowed to consult counsel or friends. No official charges were made against them until Jan. 17 when they were taken before a civilian magistrate on Guam and charged with the crime. Later they were returned to military authority and faced trial in May, 1949.

Baby Unburied Two Weeks Due To Cemetery Bias

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich.—Civil action proceedings have been instituted by the Grand Rapids branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People on behalf of Mrs. Drucille Rassau, whose two-day-old baby lay unburied for a week because of the discriminatory policies of one of the local cemeteries.

The day after the burial services were read at the child's grave, the mother was informed that the child was not buried because "we do not take colored." The transfer of the child's body to another cemetery was delayed a week and the burial did not take place until the funeral director was informed that the NAACP was about to take action. The funeral home later increased the amount of her bill because burial charges at the cemetery to which the child was transferred are higher than at the one where they originally arranged for burial.

tures to protest the Florida murders and for small donations to help further the efforts of the NAACP in the heart of the terror-ridden South. Another hundred petitions were to be distributed to the Young Adults of the B'nai B'rith tonight (Thursday).

Urge Wide Turnout

The Jewish Labor Committee has urged all branches of the Workmen's Circle to hold meetings publicizing the Shrine demonstration. Three such branch meetings have already been held. Others are scheduled for this week and next.

The Los Angeles County Conference on Community Relations, through its 36 agencies, is doing its utmost to promote the widest possible turnout at the rally.

Speakers have brought the united appeal for support to all AFL unions through the Central Labor Council and to all CIO unions through the CIO Council.

Announcement was made of the rally over the County Conference television show last Sunday night, and will again be featured on TV channel 11, KTTV, this Sunday between 10:30 and 11:00 p.m.

"Negroes Not Alone"

The Feb. 21 demonstration at the Shrine Auditorium was called by the NAACP to protest the murder of Florida leader of the association, Harry T. Moore, and his wife on Christmas night when a bomb exploded under their home in Mims, Fla. The bombing was the culmination of a series of terrorist actions directed widely against Negroes. Jewish synagogues in Miami were also bombed in the wave of lawlessness that has swept the state. An attempt was made to bomb a Catholic church. No arrests have been made for any of these atrocities.

The UAW, in its leaflet, calls for a demonstration that will be heard throughout the land. It points out that, alone and isolated, the Negro people might fail in their struggles, and then adds:

"But the Negro people are not alone. They are backed by the powerful labor movement of America.

"The UAW declares that a blow struck against the Negro people is a blow struck against all the people.

"We dare not be indifferent when the rights of Negroes and Jews are trampled under foot.

Make Protest Heard

"The UAW, by co-sponsoring the Shrine demonstration, by launching an all-out campaign to fill the Shrine, is telling the Negro people of Los Angeles, the Negro people of Florida—and, yes, the racial assassins—that the Negro people are not alone in their struggle. . . .

"Let the voice of protest be heard throughout the land!"

The Los Angeles branch of the NAACP has made it clear that the Feb. 21 meeting at the Shrine is the only meeting which the NAACP is sponsoring regarding the series of outbursts in Florida.

Dr. E. I. Robinson, president of the local branch of the association, is urging all individuals and organizations who have not yet been reached and who want to cooperate to obtain petitions at the NAACP office, 4263 S. Central avenue.

and Robert B. Phillips, president of the Arizona NAACP, which is spearheading the case. Daniels, one of the attorneys for the plaintiffs, is the other Negro legislator who helped push the repeal of the compulsory Jim Crow law.

New Rulings

In their argument Monday, Wirin and Miller pointed out that United States supreme court decisions had curtailed the right of states to impose segregation in the Texas and Oklahoma decisions and insisted that Jim Crow schools are illegal under Arizona laws.

Judge Ling construed the same law last year in a case involving segregation of Mexican pupils in grade schools and held that the phrase "groups of pupils" did not sanction separate schools for them. Attorneys are expected to press the claim that the same ruling must apply to Negro pupils.

Watts Health Center Given City Priority

City Councilman John S. Gibson of the 15th District released information this week regarding building of a new Health Center in the Watts District. Gibson, who has been diligent in his fight to improve living conditions in his district, said the Council's Finance Committee unanimously approved the City Government Building Priority Committee's recommendation that a new Health Center be built in the Watts area.

The new Center will be located on East 102nd street, between Compton avenue and Success avenue and will offer public health services to a population of 120,000 citizens living within an area bordered on the east by Alameda street, west by Van Ness avenue, north by 79th street, and south by 120th street.

Laborer Killed in Industrial Accident

Crushed in an industrial accident at Flintkote industrial plant late Tuesday afternoon, Amos Williams, 39-year-old laborer, died early Wednesday morning.

Williams who lived at 9500 Laurel street, was taken to California Hospital where doctors made a vain effort to save his life.

changed its name to the Pacific Appeal and Philip A. Bell came from New York to aid it in the fight for Negro rights.

The Pacific Appeal led the fight for "The Right of Testimony." Committees were set up in every county in the state and petitions flooded the legislature. The entire fight was brought to focus by the murder of a Negro barber by a white man, who went scot free because a Negro was the only witness, and under the constitution couldn't testify against a white man.

In 1863 a bill was passed amending the constitution, permitting Negroes the right to testify. Indians and Chinese still couldn't testify against a white man.

This is just a little glimpse into the fascinating history of Negro pioneers in California. The long and hard struggle has always been led by the Negro press. For 73 years the California Eagle has carried the torch.

You'll never dry clothes outdoors again

...once you have an automatic GAS CLOTHES DRYER

Ever have to re-wash laundry you've hung up to dry? That never happens when you have an automatic gas clothes dryer. It enables you to dry clothes indoors day or night, rain or shine. You simply toss in rinsed laundry and set the control for bone-dry or ironing-damp, which eliminates sprinkling. In a matter of minutes your laundry is ready to remove because gas dries clothes faster than Southern California sunshine... faster than any other fuel.

Gas costs so little it dries your clothes for only 2¢ to 3¢ per dryerfull. The installed price of an automatic gas clothes dryer is also lower than that of other automatic dryers. See a demonstration at your dealer's.

Project Residents Challenge Evictions

plants, grown a few flowers, shrubs, vines.

The homes are small, especially if there are six children to be housed with their parents in the two-bedroom homes, but to most of the families they are a haven and a shelter, and the residents don't know where to look for homes elsewhere.

Many Negroes

Over half the families living in Rodger Young Village are members of minority groups. Nearly 30 per cent are Negroes. Over 20 per cent are Mexican-Americans. There are Chinese, Japanese, Filipinos, all races.

By Monday morning, when an Eagle reporter went to the village to make an on-the-spot survey, the fear and unrest had risen to near panic proportions.

"We have no place to go," was the lament met on all sides. "They won't take us because we have children," said a number of distraught mothers. "We can't pay the rents they charge," said others. "We'll have to sleep in the street as we did before," said another as she held her children close to her, recalling the time not long ago when her four small children, crying from hunger and cold, clung to her during the chill of night as she tried to comfort them in one of the city's parks.

Pitiful Stories

The tales were pitiful as the people of the village poured out their stories without restraint. Many of the husbands—former veterans, now workers—have "take-home" pay of less than $50 a week, and they have to feed as many as six young children. "We can't afford to pay more rent."

Others, whose incomes are higher, are managing to save a few dollars. "We figured that in eight or 10 months more we'd have paid all our debts and have $500 for down-payment on a home of our own," said one woman sadly.

Bitterness

The panic of these mothers was mixed with bitterness. "They want to put us out so they can build a golf course," said one. "No, they want it for picnic grounds," said another.

A spokesman for the Park and Recreation Commissioners told the Eagle that the Housing Authority, which operates Rodger Young Village, had been advised in plenty of time that the project could not be continued after February 1.

The spokesman stressed that the village was constructed as a temporary emergency measure, and asserted that no emergency exists at the present time. Asked on what this opinion was based, he replied that it was based in part on the fact that the City Council has found that the housing situation in Los Angeles is no longer critical and no longer warranted rent control; and in part on the fact that "anyone can see" that people are no longer sleeping in parks, in automobiles, or on the street.

John Barnes was at home with his four children when the Eagle reporter went to his quonset hut. He works nights. "I haven't missed a day's work in two years," he said, adding simply, "I can't afford to be sick." He has a car, but it isn't paid for. "I had to have a car," he explained. "I work nights, and there are no buses after midnight."

Mrs. Barnes was away, trying to find a house or an apartment. She came home later. The apartment she had looked at in the Central avenue area and which rented for $50 a month, "wouldn't take children."

Mrs. Adel Sanches said with tears in her eyes, "We'll be in the street, like before. We'll be sleeping in the park. We have no place to go." Mrs. Sanches' income is small, but her house and her children were spotless.

What Can We Do?

"I don't know what we can do," said Mrs. Eddie Mae Scott, who was holding six-months-old Patricia Anne in her arms. Jacqueline, 5, the oldest of four children, was helping her grandmother, Mrs. Katie Ford, take care of John Edward and Caroline. It didn't take much figuring to realize that in this family there were seven mouths to feed from the salary of one worker. "No, we don't own a car," said Mrs. Scott. "We couldn't afford it. it takes my husband an hour and a half to go to work by bus. He leaves at six in the morning."

Mrs. Theota Fuller was "just praying for the best." The oldest of her six children is nine, the youngest three. Her husband is in a sanitarium, and isn't likely to return soon. "If the children were old enough," said Mrs. Fuller, "I could get a job."

Saving for Down-Payment

Mrs. Regina Breslin has a job, and so has her husband. They work different shifts. He works days. She goes to work in a cookie factory in the afternoon. She was bathing her three children (Millie, the oldest, is five) when we arrived. The fourth child, the baby, was asleep in the bedroom. Another child is expected in June. "I'll have to stop work before then," she explained, "a month or so before the baby comes."

Mrs. Breslin met her husband in Germany, where he was stationed with the army for four years, after a hitch in the navy. They owed $2000 when she came here in 1948, but they've paid off a lot of their debts now. She figures that in another eight or 10 months they will have paid everything, and, she hopes, have been able to save $500 for down-payment on a house. That's what they're aiming for. If only they don't have to move now—and pay a high rent.

Nowhere to Go

Mrs. Lourdes Benigo came here from Occidental Negros, in the Philippines. She met her husband there. He was in the Army, and is an American citizen. They have three children, and expect a fourth next month. "We have nowhere to go," said Mrs. Benigo. "I don't know what we'll do."

These were some of the people interviewed. Their stories could be multiplied a hundredfold.

"What can we do? Where shall we go? Where can we take our children?"

"They don't need a golf course as much as we need homes for our children."

In his communication Monday, directed to the Board of Recreation and Park Commissioners, the Mayor stated:

"Existence of an acute housing shortage having been found to exist by the City Council on Jan. 23, 1946, and continuing to exist on Jan. 24, 1949, justifying the use of park property for veterans temporary emergency housing, and the expenditure of millions of dollars of public funds having been made on the basis thereof, I feel that prior to the discontinuance of such usage, the same body make a specific finding that the condition no longer exists. This appears to me to be necessary for an additional reason: The fact that this country is now engaged in the Korean war activities and many families of servicemen now in active service are living in housing facilities at Rodger Young Village."

Discount Rent Action

The Mayor declared that the fact that the Council more than a year ago terminated rent control in Los Angeles would have no specific bearing on the Rodger Young Village situation.

Husband Clubs Wife to Death With Plank

yard. She got on top of him and continued to cut him.

Anna Mae Dews, 1350 E. 22nd street, told officers that she woke up about 11:15 Saturday night and heard a man crying. She went to her front door and saw Harris standing on the sidewalk near the gate. He asked his wife if he could have his coat. She said "No, get in that car and go to your mother's." Harris started out of the yard, then ran back to the house. Mrs. Payne shouted, "Don't go back upstairs or you won't be able to see your mother."

Mrs. Dews then heard her say, "You can get a board, tick or plank if you want." The next thing she saw was Mrs. Payne trying to rise and Harris knocked her down again with a blow on top of her head.

Stabbed in Back

Another witness, Viola Searcy, 1348 E. 22nd street, told officers that she heard swearing in the street and looked out and saw Harris' wife standing by the car cursing him. He left the car and started to the yard. She noticed his shirt was half off and there was a large dark spot on the back of his undershirt. She heard her warn him not to go into the house again, and as she approached him, he struck her twice with a board.

When officers arrived on the scene they found Mrs. Payne in a corner of the yard, with a five-inch hunting knife partially concealed in a glove, tightly clasped in her left hand. Near the body was a bottle of Champale.

Coroner's inquest is set for Thursday (today) at 1:30 in the afternoon.

Playing Infant Killed by Wheels Of Moving Car

Muffled cries of a dying baby were heard by its young mother as it was taken to Tweedy Hospital Monday afternoon. Patricia Ann Butler, 13-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Butler, 1515 E. 90th street, died two hours later of crushed ribs and abrasions suffered when the right rear wheel of an automobile passed over the infant's body.

The accident occurred when a young cousin of beautiful Patricia Ann, affectionately called Pat, requested that she be permitted to play outside the house for a short time. Upon the persistent pleas of the youngster, Mrs. Butler agreed for the first time to allow Pat to play alone in the yard.

After dressing the baby in a bright pink dress and elfin white shoes, she kissed her and placed her on the floor. Her attention was distracted by a chore in the kitchen, and she left the room.

Mrs. Butler, who heard the first scream, ran out of the house and saw her baby lying on the ground. She became paralyzed with fear, then began screaming as she saw a puddle of blood forming around Pat's body. A neighbor called an ambulance which carried the mother and injured daughter to near-by hospital.

Following treatment, Pat was taken to General Hospital where she died shortly after arrival.

PATRICIA ANN BUTLER

Charles Tittle stated he was backing south of the driveway after he thought all the children were clear of his vehicle. He said he did not see the child run behind the car. Owner of the death vehicle is James Henry Roberson, 10170 Pace avenue.

Laymen's League Outgrowth of Gallant Local AME Struggle

By MIRIAM CHRISTIAN, Church Editor

One important outgrowth of the gallant fight for African Methodism in California is the present Laymen's League of the Southern California Conference. Serving as an organ for constructive rebuilding, revitalizing and spiritualizing the AME Church, it has reached the heighth of beneficial service to the church and is now recognized as one of its powerful organizations.

The Masadonian request was heard in 1851, two years after the admission of California into the Union as a state. Rev. Charles Stewart, who was the first to establish African Methodism in California, left New York on Dec. 1, 1851, on board the steamer "Brother Jonathan." He was accompanied by his son. Both arrived in San Francisco bay Feb. 11, 1852. Realizing that a union of Christians was as necessary as a union of states, Rev. Stewart started a campaign which manifested the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man.

Unheralded

While the church was in its founding period, active members played unheralded roles in maintaining its continuance. They acted as missionaries within the church, but later broadened their evangelistic services into the less cultivated regions. That stalwart organization is now known as the Laymen's League.

There were four distinct periods of laymanship which are recorded in history. The first conference was a general one of lay delegates and dates its first delegation in 1844. Negroes were permitted to serve in this capacity long before that time when they were slaves and forced to attend church with their owners.

The second era was 1896 when laymen J. R. Hawkins and H. T. Kealing were elected education secretary and the latter editor of the official press organ "Review." In 1908 Prof. Ira T. Bryant was elected secretary-treasurer of the Sunday School Union. Dr. William Sanders was elected president of Wilberforce, serving until 1920. These two men paved the way for today's laymen and made it possible for appointment to high positions of qualified men without necessarily being an ordained minister.

Financial Program

In 1912 John R. Hawkins became the first layman elected financial secretary. Through deligent service Hawkins extended many innovations which are now definite clauses of the financial program.

Today, an exponent of fair play presides the Southern California conference. Coley Wright Stafford, for many years a fighter against the vindictive trend possessed by many League members, was elected president in 1949. Under his direction the organization has made amazing progression in the steps Christianity imprinted by its trail-blazing founders.

At the first conference at Bethel AME Church in San Diego, September of 1950, Stafford reported visits to more than half of the existing 42 charges and the raising of more than $500 for the benefit of visited stations and missions.

Formed Headquarters

In that one conference year every charge had been visited except Blythe. The Imperial Valley churches were formed into one League with headquarters at El Centro. That is considered by the laymen as organizing and evangelizing at a very quick pace.

Stafford's success has been contributed to his uncanny ability to select progressive helpers and his ability to weed, without offense, those who may retard the purpose of laymanship. Assisting Stafford is B. W. Ingrham, a devoted Christian, who was chosen as supervisor in 1928. The son of an early pioneering San Bernardine family, he has always maintained that his place was in the church. His father and mother founded St. Paul's Church in 1904 in San Bernardino.

SUPERVISOR—Benjamin Ingrham, member of pioneering San Bernardino family, serves as supervisor of the Southern California Laymen's League.

LAYMEN LEAGUERS—Recently the League planned an affair at one of the local churches which proved to be one of the biggest successes under the leadership of its president, C. M. Stafford. Pictured are some of the members with their guests who participated. Seated, Mrs. Mable Norman, Cora Ross, Rev. A. K. Quinn, presiding elder; Pinkie Wilson, Rev. J. W. Price, Camilla Leftridge. Standing, Stafford, John R. Wright, Benjamin Ingrham, supervisor; James Crafton, Vassor B. Freeman, George W. Phillips Sr., M. E. Webb, Dr. William Beck, J. Evans, H. H. Pettigrew and Thomas Persons.

From that primary training the desire to elevate Christianity was instilled.

Ingram's sister, Dorothy L. Ingrham, is the present principal of a local San Bernardino school. His brother is Dr. Howard D. Ingrham now established in that city for many years. Ingram's Christian memberships number many. One is affiliated with the Speakers Bureau World Conference on Christian Education. Another is Council of Churches of Greater San Bernardino.

Assisting the two executives are other prominent church leaders who merited the praise of fellow Leaguers by winning offices into the local body. They are George L. W. Phillips, vice-president; Donald A. Brunson, vice-president; Mabel Norman, secretary; Moses E. Webb, treasurer; Lucy Minor, corresponding secretary; and Pinkey Wilson, chaplain.

Wilberforce

Richard Allen, who founded the first AME church in Philadelphia, was himself a layman before his ordination as a deacon. From his monumental creation the AME church has developed the first institution of higher education which now celebrates its 96th birthday. Wilberforce is the renowned university that first revealed the importance of education among Negroes.

Dr. Carlton Goodlett Opens Official Negro History Wk.

Dr. Carlton B. Goodlett, M.D., of San Francisco, will be the principal speaker at the great mass meeting to be held at the Second Baptist Church, Sunday, February 10, at 3 p.m. This will be the official opening of the Negro History Week activities which will run through February 17. Dr. J. Raymond Henderson is pastor.

Dr. Goodlett is prepared to bring a timely message. He received his B.S. Degree from Howard university, his Ph.D. in Psychology from the University of California and later persued his M.D. in medicine at Meharry Medical college. He has served on the faculties of the West Virginia State college, Fisk university, Tennessee, State college and State Teachers College at Fort Valley, Georgia.

He is now a practicing physician in the Bay area as well as publisher of the Sun-Reporter. He is a Kappa fraternity man. He will speak from the subject of "Great Negro Teachers." Music will be furnished by the Second Baptist choir, Anna G. Morrow, director.

Kenneth Morris, director of the YMCA will act as master of ceremonies. Greetings will be given from the Community Chest, L. A. County Medical Association, and County Conference on Human Relations. Dr. E. I. Robinson will represent the NAACP. Dr. Wm. Atkinson, president of the Medical, Dental and Pharmaceutical Association.

Many city officials will be present. The Mayor's proclamation will be read. Councilman Don Allen will read the resolution adopted by the City Council. Dion Morrow, college student, will represent the Youth of Los Angeles.

A special invitation is being issued to the public, clubs, organizations, churches and Greek letter organizations, to attend.

Westminster Plans Mammoth Youth Rally

All youth of the church and community, ages 12 through 23 years, are invited and urged to attend a mammoth Youth Rally, February 10 at 4 p.m. at the Westminster Presbyterian church, 2230 West Jefferson Blvd. in Fellowship Hall.

The purpose of the rally is to organize a Westminster Fellowship. Dr. William C. Bouchelion is the leader of this organizational effort. The speaker at the rally will be the Rev. James T. Smith, director of the Southern California United Christian Youth Movement. His subject will be "Christian Youth in Community Action." Rev. H. Hawes is pastor of Westminster.

Ministers Must Use Sex Appeal

Ministers today must pack sex appeal in their personality in addition to their electrifying oratory to attract and hold their flocks.

This is the considered opinion of a national Negro magazine, which features a layout on the 14 top Negro ministers in sex appeal.

"The more handsome the ecclesiastic the more seats will be set up the Sunday's overflow section, for whether he encourages it or not, the ladies will come out to hear a good-looking man."

"Competing with television, movies and night clubs for their audiences, today's ministers recognize the need for good pulpit presence and do not hesitate to use their natural charms," so says the magazine.

RACE RELATIONS DISCUSSED—Dr. George Robert Garned III, Dr. Harold C. Case and Dr. Walter G. Muelder discuss the Lincoln's Day mass meeting which will be held in Pasadena.

The Mt. Zion Jubliers Singers will appear in concert at the Aim Well Baptist church, 1063 E. 55th street on Sunday, February 10. Rev. B. D. Walker is pastor.

Third Sunday Before Lent
WE NEED LENT!
Brace yourself! The priest will be vested in violet next Sunday. It's Septuagesima. Lent is coming, with its fast and abstinence, its extra devotions, more frequent sermons, Stations of the Cross, self-denial, etc.
To dread the prospect is only natural—but WE NEED LENT. We must do penance for our sins and get ourselves back in hand through voluntary mortification. "Make up your mind right now that this is going to be the best Lent you've ever had in your life!"

When bereavement occurs, it's never too late nor too early in the day to call Angelus Funeral Home. The personal service of an Angelus funeral director is determined by the urgency of family need alone—not by the hands of the clock. Phone ADams 5188 for prompt attention.

KEFAUVER, EISENHOWER, TAFT RECORDS RAPPED BY NAACP

DETROIT—On the basis of their present records on civil rights, Senators Taft and Kefauver and General Eisenhower "would be wholly acceptable to the Dixiecrat elements" and their election at this time would make "the northern bank of the Potomac River . . . an outpost of the resurrected Confederacy," Clarence Mitchell, director of the Washington Bureau of the NAACP, declared here this week.

Senator Kefauver, Mitchell said, "has boldly announced that he opposes FEPC. . . . A review of the record shows that on March 11, 1949, he supported the ruling of Vice-President Barkley which would have limited debate, but on May 19, 1950, and July 12 of the same year, he had opportunities to vote . . . to break a filibuster against FEPC. On both of these occasions he voted with the old South." On June 21, 1950, the senator voted for the defeated Russell amendment, which would have required segregation in the armed forces.

Although Senator Taft has gone on record against the filibuster, the NAACP executive said, "he has openly opposed FEPC with enforcement powers and broadly hints that the Federal Government should not use its proper Constitutional powers to end segregation in the southern states.

As for General Eisenhower, Mitchell reported that his civil rights record "is meager, but he has yet to live down the statements made before the Senate Armed Services Committee in Hearings on Universal Military Training in the second session of the 80th Congres." At that time the General said that the "competition" would be "too tough" for Negro soldiers completely integrated into white companies, and that they would have difficulty getting "promotion to such grades as technical sergeant, master sergeant and so on."

General Eisenhower's testimony also expressed the opinion that "if we attempt merely by passing a lot of laws to force someone to like someone else, we are just going to get into trouble."

Few Homes Still Available At Broadmoor

Seventy-five veterans and their families have purchased dwellings at Broadmoor Homes, new Compton community, and 14 homes still remain, available in a variety of designs.

This was the announcement this week from Cletus H. J. Jollie, general contractor for the property on the east side of Central avenue, just south of Rosecrans avenue.

Completed and ready for immediate occupancy, three-bedroom homes may be purchased by veterans with down payments from $550, plus closing costs, and on monthly terms of $48.60 for principal and interest. Four per cent GI loans prevail.

Continuing on display daily are three model homes, with one furnished by Harry Karmes of the Karmes Furniture Co., Hollywood.

Home features include dishmasters and garbage disposers, floor furnaces, double sinks, hardwood floors, weatherstripping, lawns with shrubs, tile stall showers and baths, dinettes, wardrobe closets, incinerators and clotheslines.

In and paid for are such community improvements as sewers, sidewalks, curbs, gutters, asphalt driveways and landscaping.

Broadmoor Homes is close to the city's major employment areas and is near schools of all grades, shopping centers, churches, public transportation and recreational facilities.

brutally beaten, kicked and burned by officers when arrested on drunk charges in Firestone sheriff's station. After being manhandled with harsh force, both said Houtz sprayed them with carbon dioxide which resulted in severe burning.

Houtz testified that he did not know carbon dioxide burned. When told by deputy district attorney Joseph Carr that "snow," substance formed by the acid, was similar to hot ice and had the same effects, Houtz backed up his statement with not knowing hot ice burned either.

The incident, which brought quick action of the sheriff's office, caused the removal of five deputies, including Houtz, from the department. Several weeks later all five were reinstated by civil service commission.

Upon public demand, the state placed charges against Houtz and special deputy Carr, of District Attorney Rolls' office was assigned the case.

In Carr's summation to the jury, he said he was determined that justice be carried out. He emphatically told them that regardless of a man's color or character, he would challenge the privilege of any law-enforcing officer to abuse a prisoner in his custody.

Prying Pye in Prep Sportdom

By BRAD PYE, JR.

HAWTHORNE HAS MY BEST WISHES

The news that Pasadena City College's halfback, Addison Hawthorne, heralded the greatest back in the history of the college since the famed Jackie Robinson, will enter USC come February 18, is very gratifying. . . . Will he get to play to his full capacity? . . . Will he get kayoed in the classrooms?

ADDISON HAWTHORNE —

It's all well and good that the University of Southern California thinks enough of Hawthorne to grant him a scholarship to their great institution. . . . I might add it's high time that it decided to let its hair down and get in line with the present period.

NO "COLOR LINE"—OH, NO!

The Trojans declare that they never had a "color line" on their athletic teams, but Negroes just never seemed to qualify for grants-in-aid in recent years. . . . I know this to be a fact that Guy Blackburn, the three time 100-dash city champ, and Jordan's George Brown, probably the greatest broad-jumper developed around these parts, all but got down on their knees to garner a scholarship to SC but the University Street School in a nice way told them that they had the wrong paint jobs. . . . Blackburn sported a straight "A" at Jefferson in an academic course. . . . SC passed both of these fine athletes up but consequently the both of them are making fine records at UCLA and California, respectively.

Bert Ritchey, grid teammate of SC's coach Jess Hill was the last member of the race in the last two decades to receive a grant-in-aid. . . . If you think that Bert had a gravy train, ask him to tell you about that trip to Pullman, Wash.—better yet, ask SC's present athletic head, Willis Hunter, then assistant grid coach to the great Howard Jones.

I do not belittle any fellow that wants to be a pioneer. On the other hand I praise an intelligent athlete such as Stanford's truly great Ed Tucker, the erstwhile Compton JC star. . . . Tucker is a lad that can handle himself in the classroom as an "A" student and likewise on the hardwoods. . . . If this is Hawthorne's great desire, I say more power to him . . . and the best of luck from always a top rooter for the same cause.

LA BEACH BOYS

Lloyd La Beach, presently employed as a salesman for the McKesson and Robbins products, is still turning in top-flight performances that is in the selling business. . . . Lloyd was in the office this week for a gabfest with old friends Abie Robinson, Circulation Mgr., Francis Waller, Adv. Mgr., and yours truly. He states that his running days are water under the bridge. . . . He declares that he has a couple of fine prospects in his two kid brothers, Byron and Sam, who are now studying at Morgan State for honors in the Olympic Games.

POWELL ALL-CIF GRID GREAT TURNED BOXER

Charles Powell, All-CIF grid player of the year for San Diego High a year ago, launched his boxing career at the South Gate Arena Wednesday night. . . . Powell, who was an all-around athlete in high school, was signed by the St. Louis Browns recently but he returned the $500 bonus last week in order to take up boxing as a career.

J. C. Gipson, star of Larry Hanson's city championship basketball team of '51, was signed by the Harlem Globetrotters Saturday. . . . As I understand it, Gipson has been under close scrutiny by the Trotters for quite some time now but he was not signed until Saturday. . . . Jackie Robinson, the Brooklyn Dodgers' money player, signed a two-year radio and television contract this week . . . but the big second baseman is not giving up baseball. . . . It's rumored that All-American fullback Ollie Matson of the USF is doomed for Tay Brown's Naval Training Center roster. . . . As of now this is 25 and 5.

HENRY RACKS UP GREAT WIN

Heavyweight Clarence Henry, the top candidate for Joe Walcott's crown in the world made quite a hit with the Windy City fans with his stellar 1m. 41s. t.k.o. triumph over Bob Satterfield Wednesday night. . . . A Henry-Mararciano bout would be the fight of the year. . . . This I would have to rate a toss-up.

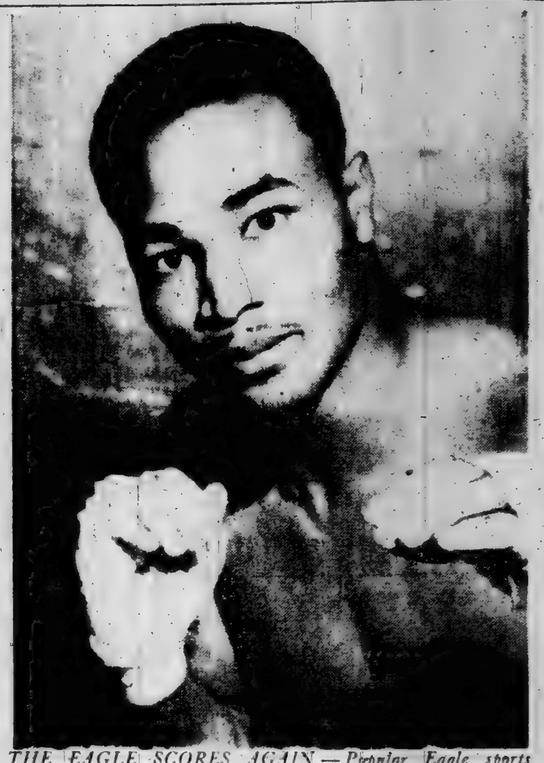
Important Role Of Negro Baseball Players Told By Sporting News

IRVING BERMAN TROPHY—Ring immortal Henry Armstrong accepts Irving Berman Award made to Joe Louis from Bill Welch, popular radio and television sports announcer. Scene was at first annual Boxer's Testimonial at Club Alabam last week. Because of important golf committments, Louis was unable to be present. Both Armstrong and Louis were given Helms Athletic Foundation Awards to boxers Hall of Fame. (McLain Photo)

ST. LOUIS.—The important role of Negro players in the major leagues, since Jackie Robinson broke in with the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1947, is emphasized in an exclusive story in the February 6 issue of The Sporting News.

Constituting the first overall appraisal of the part taken by Negro performers in determining the outcome of the pennant races, the copyrighted story pointed out:

(1.) No major league club using Negro players as regulars throughout an entire season has ever finished out of the first division. Four of them—the Dodgers in 1947 and 1949, the Cleveland Indians in 1948 and the New York Giants in 1951—won pennants.



(2.) Only five teams in the majors used Negro players all last season—and all five clubs finished in the first division. Eleven teams did not use them all season—and only three of those teams gained first-division berths. The story said, "It looks as though second-division clubs have something to ponder."

(3.) When the vote for the Most Valuable Player was taken last fall, three of the first six men in the balloting were Negroes. Roy Campanella of the Dodgers was first, Monte Irvin of the Giants, second, and Robinson, who had previously won in 1949, was sixth. In the American League's MVP voting, Orestes Minoso of the Chicago White Sox was fourth.

(4.) Negro players came close to sweeping the baseball writers' Rookie of the Year awards. Willie Mays of the Giants won in the National League. In the American, Minoso was edged out by Gil McDougald of the Yankees by two votes, but he was named Rookie of the Year by The Sporting News, a selection that won wide support.

The Sporting News, which devoted two pages to stories on the general theme that Negroes are strengthening their position in Organized Ball, noted that the Texas League may have Negro players this year, and it also is possible that at least three clubs in the Florida International League will have Negroes in their lineups.

Perhaps the greatest baseball figure of all time, Ty Cobb, a native of Georgia, was quoted as saying that he had no prejudice whatever against the use of Negroes in any sport. "Anyone who qualified as a gentleman," Cobb said, "is qualified anywhere, regardless of his color."

THE EAGLE SCORES AGAIN — Popular Eagle sports columnist Ted Daniels '50 middleweight Golden Gloves champion is again gunning for honors in this year's tournament which started yesterday and runs Thursday and Saturday.

Tryouts for Southwest League Baseball Team At Ross Snyder Saturday

Arrangements for the acquisition of a sixth team by the Southwest International League were completed yesterday by the Board of Directors with the naming of Emmett Ashford, prominent local basketball referee and baseball umpire, as general manager of the Southwest Comets, all-Negro traveling nine.

Ashford, who successfully became organized baseball's first Negro umpire last season, will assume his duties at once, according to Harry Leddell, league prexy, who enthusiastically announced plans for the unveiling of the Comets the night of April 14 at Wrigley Field, when they engage the Mexican All-Stars from Baja, California.

Immediately upon obtaining permission from Don Stewart, president of the Los Angeles Angels, Ashford revealed plans for the Comets' tryout camp to be held this Saturday, February 9, at Ross Snyder Playground, 1501 East 41st Street. Activity will start at 9 a.m. and continue throughout the day. Aspirants must be high school graduates, furnish own suits, shoes, equipment and lunch. Successful candidates will be signed to contracts.

"It is the desire of the Southwest International League," stated Ashford, "to afford the Negro ballplayer unable to play AA ball or better, a much deserved chance to exhibit his wares. The Comets are expected to provide that showcase as well as spirited opposition for the rest of the league."

The loop is comprised of teams from Las Vegas, Yuma, El Centro, Mexicali and Tijuana.

Jordan's Sprinter To Lead Pepperdine

PEPPERDINE — William Randolph, freshman 9.7s. sprinter via Jordan High is expected to be a part of Pepperdine's sprint squad come February 15 against the Fullerton JC cindermen.

Hank Williams, CCAA half-mile champ along with champion high hurdler Jim Jackson will again be back in the fold. Veteran sprinter Moses Clay, who is reported to be a 9.6s. man is back and is as "ready as Freddie."

Easter Says He'll Hit 40 Home Runs

SAN DIEGO — Luke Easter, giant first baseman for the Cleveland Indians stated here this week that he expects to hit more than 40 home runs for the American League club this year.

The stellar horsehider reported that his left leg, which bothered him last campaign because of a torn ligament, felt strong again.

Douglas Ex-ELAJC Star Wins Award At UCLA Dinner

WESTWOOD — Elmer Douglas, great lithe halfback on that fine undefeated, untied and uninvited East Los Angeles Junior College football club of '49, was awarded the Charles Pike Memorial Award as junior varsity captain of the UCLA eleven here Thursday night at the annual Bruin grid dinner.

Douglas starred for the Jefferson varsity squad before doing a couple of years in the Navy.

Fullback Luther Keyes, the Bruins' bread and butter man; Pete O'Garro, the flashy frosh end; and Ike Jones were awarded letters at the dinner.

WALCOTT GIVES EZ RUN-AROUND

MIAMI—Jersey Joe Walcott, heavyweight champion of the world is trying like mad to evade ex-champ Ezzard Charles in giving him the first crack at the crown.

Charles has a contract to fight Walcott first. In Pittsburgh this week Charles' manager Jake Mintz declared, "The only thing we are interested in is for Walcott to fulfill the contract he has with us.

"All we want is for Jim Norris to announce the date and place for Walcott to meet Charles."

Walcot won the title in Pittsburgh in July by a knockout. He states that he hasn't made a dime off the title and wants more opportunity to cash in before giving Charles a return fight.

DOBY GETS PAY CUT

CLEVELAND—It doesn't seem that Cleveland's Larry Doby's bating average is the only thing that took a drop last season. Hank Greenberg, manager of the Indians, states that a proposed cut of $6000 from his '51 salary of $25,000 is in the making.

SANTA ANITA — Intent, a sparsely colt that has never won a stake race, defeated the great Counterpoint in the richest race in the world. It was a startling upset for the fans but a great victory for the peerless Eddie Arcaro. Heady Eddie Arcaro shot Intent through on the inside as the pacemakers swung wide entering the home stretch. The Maryland-bred son of War Relic-Liz V. came down in front of California's own gold capitol an outsider in the field of nine to score by a neck. The victory was worth $112,750 to his owner. Another great race has made history at beautiful Santa Anita, and the champion horse of 1951, Counterpoint, that was supposed to be invincible, was dissolved with ridiculous simplicity. Rumors now have it the big horse was hurt and would not start in the hundred grander.

Ramsey

More than 55,000 fans were on hand to witness the big race and they sent $3,240,895 through the mutuel machines. It was the largest crowd of the season and the first three million dollar day.

Santa Anita offers three great attractions for this week. On Wednesday the Los Cerritos handicap for three-year olds and upwards at six furlongs has an added value of $15,000. Saturday two features, the San Felipe handicap for three-year-olds carries an added value of $25,000. Co-feature, the San Marcos at one mile, with $20,000 added at one flat mile.

CENTER OF ATTRACTION—Jim Goodrich, top writer for Ebony, is the attention-getter and not the object he is clutching for fear of foul play by Bennie Shaw, Foster Ricardo, Bryce Wisner, Charles Dunning and Ivan Cannady. A round of "Jolly Good Fellow" was sung for Goodrich Saturday night prior to his early Sunday morning plane take-off for Chicago where he will give his mag assistance for one month. The farewell took place at the opening of Wisner and Ricardo's real estate office where they have combined under the name of United Realty Co.

P-J Top Dance is Friday

Tomorrow night (Friday) will be the night everyone has been waiting for. It's the night when the Pyramids present their annual "Pajama Top."

This year, the site for the affair will be the beautiful Park View Manor, 2200 W. 7th Street. Everyone will be on hand around 10 p.m. and will dance until early the next morning. Prizes will be awarded for the prettiest and the most unusual pajama tops. Judges will be chosen from members of the collegiate set.

The Pajama Top Party is the first dance on the agenda this year for the Delta pledges. The next affair will be the annual "Club Pyramid" in March.

Gloria Nelson, president, hopes everyone will come out in their pretiest pajama tops and join in on the fun.

Thank heaven for the United States mails, for Alexander Bell's invention, and for kind friends and gentle peepul.

Huccome? Well, on accounta this scribe has been more than slightly under the weather and unable to attend any of the "tough to miss" events of the social week. Therefore, all our information this edition comes from the kind friends and g p's mentioned above.

Barbara Mounts postcards from Clovis, N. M. that she's en route home after attending the national meeting of the Silhouettes (Kappa Wives), visiting in Chicago and in her home state, Kansas. She'll go to Long Beach as a special speech trainer for a spastic child there, but promises to take time out for the local Silhouette Valentine Coffee at the Kappa house, 2104 S. Harvard, on Sunday, February 10, from 9 p.m. until 12. The Pet Milk Co. will donate coffee, cream and sugar.

This is to be a public event, so everybody's invited. Donations expected, of course.

Miss Evangeline Woodfolk of 1298 W. 35th place was dinner hostess recently to Mrs. Maddie Miller and her houseguest from Cleveland, Mrs. Beatrice Kirkpatrick, aunt of Mr. Miller and Dr. Lucille Fuller.

Leontyne King phones us that Sunday is going to be a big day at the People's Independent Church of Christ where Clayton Russell is pastor. Under the sponsorship of the Organ Guild, with Mrs. Charles B. Hayden as chairman, early spring styles will be shown. Featured will be the creations of Helen Gudgell whose clothes bear the Helen of California label. Her models will be Virginia Blain and Dorothy Wilks.

Many other models will appear, wearing clothing of their own design. Thelma Meegs will emcee. Among the entertainers scheduled to appear are Arthur Lee Simpkins, Ginger Smock, Mary Louise Jones and the Victory Trio. Begins at 5 p.m.

Zetas Announce Finer Womanhood Week Date

Announcement is made this week of the date set for Zeta Phi Beta sorority to observe its annual Finer Womanhood Week. According to the governing council of the three local chapters, the principals and ideals of Finer Womanhood will be emphasized and recognized in this community from February 24 through March 2.

The usual amount of enthusiasm and interest is expected to be stimulated for the nationally known project and the sorority is accepting nominations for "Woman of the Year" at this time. Applications may be obtained from Sorors Z. Vivian Boswell or Bernice Garner, 767 East 42nd Street, or by calling Adams 1-3096. Deadline for nomination applications from individuals and organizations has been set for February 15.

This year's honoree will first be presented to the public via radio on the morning of February 24. Radio interview will be handled by Barbara Bradley, Xi Alpha chapter member and UCLA student.

Worship services will be enjoyed at the Tabernacle of Faith Baptist Church, 113th and Central avenue. Principal speaker at the latter will be Soror Thelma Williams, local school teacher, and soloist will be Soror Ethel Ingram.

Other activities planned to be included in the week's program are: closed re-dedication service, a banquet, and a mammoth benefit scholarship musicale.

Farmar Reception Planned

Mesdames Athalie Shan and Ruth Jenkins will be co-hostesses at the reception to be given for Geraldine Farmar and her accompanist, Stephanie Shehatovich, following their concert at the Manual Arts high school auditorium Saturday night.

The event, which will be held in the Woodlawn YMCA, is being sponsored by the King's Daughters club, an affiliate of the Seventh-day Adventist church. Guests, numbering 100, are expected, including many prominent in church, music, and government circles, Mrs. Veleria King, chairman of the reception committee, reported.

Miss Farmar will arrive in Los Angeles Friday acompanied by the distinguished pianist, Miss Shehatovich, and her husband, Gerald Farmar of San Francisco. Several dinner parties and luncheons are being planned in their honor over the week-end by friends, including the Owen A. Troys of Pasadena and the Joseph F. Dents of Los Angeles.

Golden West Bridge Notes

By Ann Daniels

The regular Tuesday night play which was preceded by the usual instruction period in duplicate bridge was held at the Golden West Bridge Association's Club House, 1054 E. 54th St. Jan. 29. These insructions are open to beginners as well as to advanced players.

The following Friday night there were nine tables of players. Dr. Darthula Veil, who was paired with her husband Ellis Veil, won first honors. Ann Daniels and Aubrey Stevens carried away second place honors. The first huge membership campaign for 1952 has now been launched by Golden West Bridge Association players. The public is invited to join our friendly group and become an integral part of all of our activities.

Listed among the shut-ins is the Association's genial social hostess Mrs. Gertrude Setle.

Melba Holley Lunch Hostess

Charming Melba Holley entertained her club, La Sorelle, and made the occasion a really gala one when she invited about 50 guests in to share the fun, last Saturday afternoon, at the well appointed home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith on Victoria avenue. Graciously assisting Mrs. Holley were Mmes. Clara Bailey, Zelda Grubbs, Mary Wright and Lou Emma Smith. The Valentine motif was used in decor and the hostess received in a silk print. A delicious turkey dinner was served, buffet style, with covers laid for about sixty smartly gowned ladies. Champagne punch was served throughout the afternoon.

After luncheon, bridge, pokeno and canasta were played with prizes going to the following: guest bridge, Mmes. Susan Cooley, Marjorie Taylor and consolation, Rhetha Beck; guest pokeno, Rosemary Holoman, Lydia McCain, consolation, Alice Mason; guest canasta, Roselle Fernandez, Travis Allen and consolation, Ida Wright. Club prizes: bridge, Lorenza Cole, and Helen Garland; canasta, Ann O'Ferrell and Lillian Sanford. Out of town guests were Mmes. Mary Wright of Vallejo, Gloria Woods of Chino, Cal. and Ellen Willis of Kansas City, Mo.

The club will attend in a body the opening of Negro History Week next Sunday afternoon, at Second Baptist church.

Club adjourned to meet next with the president, Mrs. Billie Lynthecom, on South St. Andrews Place.

Bazaar to Aid School

Mrs. Juanita Cassius Macklin, prominent civic and social figure who is assistant chairman of the board of directors of the Frances P. Williams School for Mentally Retarded Children, will sponsor a bazaar Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 9 and 10, at the school, 1086 W. 34th St.

Proceeds will go toward meeting current expenses of the school.

Mildred Miles Entertains

Mrs. Mildred Miles entertained members of Les Petites Mesdames and their husbands and escorts with an elaborate dinner party in her lovely home on 7th avenue.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ohorran Cathcart, Mr. and Mrs. C. Dixion, Mmes. Ophelia Ransom, Ethel Phillips, Uortia Harris, Utah Jones.
Harris, Utah Jones, Carol Angel, Alberta Lawrence and Mr. Harold Lloyd.

Mrs. Sue Harris, a club member, received a pleasant birthday surprise when Mrs. Miles presented her a beautiful heart-shaped birthday cake.

Next hostess will be Mrs. LaVerne Williams.

INSTALLATION—Shown here is a part of the mammoth crowd that jammed the Wilfandel Clubhouse last Wednesday evening to take part in the Twelfth Annual Installation Banquet of the Golden West Real Estate Board. Seen standing is Allen C. Woodard III making introductions. Seated at the speaker's table were some of the outstanding citizens of Los Angeles. Among them were the sponsors of the dinner. They are the Superior Escrow company, Modern Escrow company, Farmers & Merchants Bank of Watts, Faulkes-Evans of the Orange Building and Loan Association and H. L. Ainley, Investment Broker.

Realtists Banquet

With an overflow crowd in attendance, the Golden West Real Estate Board held its impressive Installation Banquet last Wednesday evening at the Wilfendel clubhouse. Acting as master of ceremonies was Edgar Johnson, secretary-treasurer of Golden State Mutual Life Insurance company while Attorney Everett M. Porter administered the oath of office to the new officers.

Guest speaker for the evening wasP James F. Hesley, attorney and advisor to the Title Insurance and Trust company.

Slechta, presiden of the Great Western Savings and Loan Association, Mrs. Verda Powell, manager of the Modern Escrow Company and her husband H. Powell, Dr. Jefferson Fowler, president of the Superior Escrow Company, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Morrison, investment brokers of Detroit, Thomas P. O'Connell, Public Relations representative from the Title Insurance and Trust company and numerous others.

H. A. Howard, re-elected presil dent of the Golden West Real Estate Board, can be proud of the confidence his co-workers expressed by their presence.

Among the new officers installed were H. A. Howard, president, Emma Morris, vice-president, Felton Edmead, secretary; Mrs. LeBelia Dingee, financial secretary, Bernard C. Herndon, treasurer; Allen C. Woodward III, parliamentarian; Mrs. Billie Lynthecom, Pauline Stokely and James Johnson, directors.

The entertainment side of the banquet was a treat to all in attendance. Several vocal solos were rendered by Miss Georgia Lester accompanied by Mrs. Bernice Lawson.

The crowd at the banquet is reported by the members of the board to be the largest ever to attend. A gigantic program is being planned by the board for the year.

Among the sponsors for the affair were The Superior Escrow company, Modern Escrow company, Faulkee-Evans, E. L. Ainley and the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Watts.

BILL SMALLWOOD

On The Delightful Side

Gwen Russell has been quite ill! she's much better. Jewel Price, on the ailing list, too. Pearl Lee who twisted her ankle last week is on the okay-again list. Betty Hudson up and out again after a week indoors with ole debbil virus. Louella Dent had a touch of it, too. Also Coralee Trawick. Predictable Ruby Phillips reportedly got off but quietly to N.Y. no one of her frequent business with pleasure trips. Steve and Buddy Lockett lost their stepdad, John Le Neer. Tall, likable Sherman Waters passed suddenly, too. He was at General for awhile but returned home. The C. G. Prices "fishtailed" it on out of town last Wednesday en route to Mexico for two months of leisure.

Virus Victim

Maurine Browning was among the virus victims for a spell. Dr. Gertrude Curtis Thompson, who goes East next month, antieipates her unfailing presence at the annual Easter Sunday service of the Negro Actors Guild (she's one of the original members) in Manhattan. Her husband is sort've interested in a future trip to the lush Virgin Islands—but, then, who isn't, golly! Rigors of eastern weather don't suit his fancy at all, he admits. Cincy's redhead Jessie Clark, here a month, TWA-Constellationed East Sunday night. Her hostess, Joanne Sampler, went along. Joanne will be east a month, visiting her parents in Cincy. The Sampler apartment, in one of those Montclair buildings perched atop a rise, is strictly a thing to see. It's ultra modern.

Mentioning Montclair and apartments, glamour gal Dottie Crozier will be among the folks who shortly will be claiming their new homes in that new madly modern group nearing completion at Montclair and 7th. Janet Collins will hit the road next season as a solo attraction, she'll carry accompanists. That means no doubt L. A. will see her. Dynamic speaker: Convincing Rev. L. L. White who can chuckle at his own humor as well as the next man's. Urbane, he commands immense respect in his profession. George Price, Jr., has gone to Detroit to school. His mothen Thelma Price Biram, and his stepdad live there, you well know. George so long been an integral part of the maternal grandparents, the Tabors, it will seem strange not having him here on the coast even for a short period.

To the Game

Ceth Lee, eye-filling in navy, a saucy hat and entwined in furs, waves Sunday as she dashed away for the Harlem Globetrotters game. Clara Watson, on the not-so-well list expects her sister and her sister-in-law out from N.Y. Clara's husband has been hospitalized. Midweek visitor: Dr. Wallace Thurman. Don Barksdale, seen everywhere in Balto, with a ballet dancer, is causing his cronies there to wonder out loud. The Ed Boyds have an 8-room apartment plus maid on Manhattan's Riverside Drive, heigh-ho. Marion Jackson Downs (still in Europe) became an aunt again the other day in Balto. Her sister, Juanita Mitchell, had a new son.

Zeniths Prepare Benefit

The Zeniths are looking forward to March 2 when they will mingle with their many friends at the New Club Alabam in a charity benefit matinee from 3:30 to 8 p.m.

There will be a gala review featuring famous guest artists and a talent show sponsored by various clubs and organizations. A handsome prize will be given to the contest winner.

Any organization desiring to enter a contestant may contact Mrs. Atkins at RE. 2-0259 or Mrs. Cummings, RE. 2-8577.

Wilfandel Offers To Send Student For Study Abroad

The opportunity of a lifetime awaits some Los Angeles high school or college girl graduate, as winner of the scholarship contest announced by the Wilfandel Club last week. The winner will receive a scholarship and travel to a European university.

The second and third awards are almost equally as attractive. Second place winner will receive a scholarship to any university in the United States. The third award is a scholarship to a local college.

Wilfandel founder-advisor, Mrs. Fannie Williams, who heads the scholarship contest declared, "Judging from the inquiries and interest being shown generally, I am certain a large number of contestants will file before the February 24 deadline for certification."

In discussing the contest awards, Mrs. Williams said the Wifandels decided on the foreign scholarship, because of the great need for better understanding of European people and their problems. At the same time, the presence of a student there is expected to increase their knowledge of the American Negro.

Already certified for the contest are first day registrants, Diane Watson, Gloria Brandle, and Danellan Marbry.

Doll League Tells Plans

The spacious and attractive home of Mrs. Sydney Jackson was the setting for an elaborate dinner party last Sunday afternoon for members of the Doll League Charity Club, Inc.

A business meeting followed, with a discussion of Philanthropic projects for the year of 1952. The date and location of the first great undertaking will be announced in this paper in the near future.

Deltas' Sweetheart Ball Soon

Plans are now in progress for the Sweeheart Ball to be given by members of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority on Saturday, February 16.

This event is a definite must on the College Set date book. There will be wonderful surprises in store for the whole crowd.

The fun begins at 9:00 p.m. at the Elks Hall—4016 So. Central Ave. All the "socially wise" will be seen there on February 16 in their dressy attire dancing to the wonderful music of Py Taylor.

Prizes! Surprises! Fun for all!

More information about this wonderful affair can be obtained from Harriette Flowers, Joyce Overr, Geneva Waller, Dorothy Gadberry, Lois Banks, Dorothy Jenkins, Florelle Pierson, Elsie Ledet, and Jackie Rambo to name only a few.

Don't miss this gala event!

BUY A COOKIE?—Girl Scouts who will be selling cookies this week include Brownie twins Emmy and Penny Chretjen, Tr. 349; Intermediate Scout Pauline Paulin, Tr. 904; Sr. Scout Doris Worthy, President Sr. Board, Tr. 970; Mariner Scout Helen Harley, Tr. 176.

That was a pretty darn gay Sunday night party the Juan Rays had, marking his birthday! Their place was packed to the rafters and heap much fun. One of the many features I like about such Sunday night parties in our town is the wealth of talented guests who don't mind displaying their musical wares. 'Twas also birthday for Moose Raglan, who was on hand. Hostess Freda, her dependably well-dressed self, sparkled from start to late hour finish.

I-want-you-to-meet: Tall (almost 6 feet), athletic and studious 15-year-old Nand Hart-Nibbrig, a shining light at exclusive Mt. Carmel High School. Quite a fellow, Nand is the eldest son of attractive Annabelle (Roy) and Ferdinand Hart-Nibbrig, member of a Dutch family world-famed as distillers. Nand is the only lad I know who ever refused a scholarship to Loyola simply because he prefers football with his studies at Mt. Carmel; he was named as one of the best backs on the current All- Catholic High team (C.I.F. League). In '53 he will visit (again) his Dad in Holland prior to takin ghis junior and senior school years in either Switzerland or Holland. His Dad wants him to prepare himself to take a place in his family's traditional business. Nand's brother, 13-year-old Harold, is a straight A student at Holy Name School. Quite a pair of unusual lads, these Hart-Nibbrigs. And I strongly suspect you will be hearing splendid things about them in years to come.

Atty. Earl Dickerson in town. His deb daughter, Diane, enters Smith in the fall. Omaha's Mrs. Helen Mahammitt says: "I would stay on here in this beautiful sunshine a little longer but I must get home to Omaha by early March. I never fail to set my tulips out then!" She's been spending her annual winter's visit in Pasadena with Daisy Lacey and the latter's husband.

S.F.'s busy Flo Wysinger Allen is writing a book. An eastern publisher is interested in it. She took time out to participate in some of the activities centered around the Roi Ottleys who included the Bay area in their coast visit. And Flo has added a member to her family; he's a big tom cat who meows to the name of Adolph.

With tongue in cheek an eastern seaboard scribe quotes a round figure of some $250,000 as the amount spent in those five days of Xmas meetings and socials in Balto by the AKA's (725 of them, 623 were out've-town delegates). Morgan State College, which helped feed them, cleared in the neighborhood of $1,500. The Balto. hostess chapter, rumored to have set aside something like $12,000 for fun.

Calvert's wonder boy Joe Makel (his eligible bachelor rating keeps more gals fluttering from coast to coast than a whole rafter of UN flags in the breeze) was recipient of quite a testimonial in Chi the other night. Accent on ten years of remarkable service to his firm, over 200 friends and business acquaintances banqueted him royally in the Wedgewood Towers Starlite Room. And gave him a set of monogrammed imported luggage, what's more.

We're Proud

Those really magnificent pictures with the story on Speedy Curtis and Sterling Wallace in that current national magazine were done by the Eagle's adept Bob Douglas, our very own photog. Bob really went to town on the project. You have to give him a high rating on the quite-a-guy list, too. Wilfandel ladies met Sunday to discuss their forthcoming popularity contest. Jim Goodrich flew to Chi Sunday night. He'll be back next month.

Bridging It From Club Pacifico

February — the second and shortest month of the year. We were just wondering how many of you ever stop long enough to look up the meaning of this poetic word taken from the latin "Februarius," meanning to "purify." That's right, to etaetetit ify." That's right, purify, to cleanse, to make whole, what a pity there are only 29 days in the month which hardly gives us enough time to do much purifying — perhaps 29 years will show some marked improvement.

We attended a bridge affair sponsored by the YWCA last Friday evening in its fund and membership drive and must say we enjoyed ourselves very much, meeting old acquaintances and trying to do our bit to lend a helping hand to this very fine and worthwhile organization. Everyone who loves the game of bridge should attend these affairs and help our community to maintain its "place in the sun." And indeed attend all affairs wherever or whatever our desires are prone to take us. But always we should, unless we are utterly lacking in the training of good behavior, learn to respect the presence of others.

I am still a little amazed at the conduct of individuals who know better yet who make a practice of showing bad manners wherever they go. Oh well, psychologists have a name for them. But until I have been properly analyzed, I'll go on calling them my own pet names. This is especially true in the case of one "certified Culberson" teacher—whose conduct was inexcusible last Friday p.m.

As bridge players we have so much to learn to be recognized as "equals" yet it is noted that most of the best consider their knowledge so efficient there is no need for improvement, which means sooner or later there will be a new awakening, that while they stood still and became stagnant others were marching onward slowly but surely—and why wouldn't they, after attending the best of informative and instructive lectures on bidding and playing "The Experts Way" by Mr. Robert Lee Johnson each Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. A. Fritz and Mr. Harold Ennis (Pacifico members) were again winners in Sundays play with Mr. I. Hamilton and Mr. J. Clarke (Harmony Club) running second. Mr. C. Ennis directed and the game A. Howell movement was very smooth and very fast. Incidentally Mrs. A. Fritz and Mr. C. Ennis teamed in last months' game at the Harmony Club plays, which are held each Thursday night at this club room. This little lady is so determined to win she'll let no one stop her. You guessed it, they won, Mr. Fritz, please take note.

To the members of the Angel City and the Gold West Bridge Clubs we'll say thanks for coming, we know you enjoyed your lecture and your game. Hope we will see you again this Sunday.

And now a tribute to one of our dear members and fellow "bridger" who is gone but not forgotten, Mr. C. Denton, whose profund love for the game, and keen sense of humor always gave him the impetus to remark "Partner, I play my game above the line. Bid them as you see them well, he called it putting the fear in his partner as well as his optimists."

How would you play this hand with such a partner if you were on the defense and siting West? No. 4 in a Series of 10 problems:

South is declarer at 4 hearts. What is West opening lead and why? Why do you make this lead to set the contract?

Party Set For Chicago Attorney

George E. Cannady, president of the Langston Law Club, and William B. Esterman, president of the Los Angeles, Hollywood-Beverly Hills Chapters of the National Lawyers Guild, announce that a cocktail party and reception is being held in the honor of Earl B. Dickerson this Friday evening, February 8, at 8:30 at 330 South Las Palmas Drive.

In addition to the reception, there will be several community meetings addressed by Dickerson, who has just concluded a speaking tour in San Francisco.

All members of the bar and their friends are invited to attend the reception. Reservations may be confirmed by calling Laurence R. Sperber, CRestview 1-5753.

Valentine Day Baby Contest

Paradise Court No. 24, Heroines of Jericho will sponsor a baby contest, a bazaar of beauty and delicious foods on St. Valentine's Day at the Eastside Settlement House, 1219 E. Adams boulevard.

Babies in the contest are Carol Baker, Rudolph O'Neil, Cassandra Hall and Ellen Barnett. Ollie Mae Barnett heads the court with Cora Daugherty chairing this event.

Las Golandrinas girls club announces an installation tea Sunday, March 2 from 3 to 7 p.m. at the Eastside Settlement House, 1219 E. Adams boulevard.

ALL FOR A CAUSE—Heading the list of top entertainers who will assist at the Coffee Sip for St. Augustine-West View, Sunday, February 10, at the Zenda Ballroom from 12 to 2:30 p.m. are Arthur Lee Simpkins (left, top) noted balladeer, now appearing at the Bar of Music; lovable Louise Beavers (left, top) actress, Roy Mosley (right, top) young singer and composer; (extreme right), Frank "Please Believe Me" Haywood, composer and Alladin Recording Star, (top, center), the newest singing rage, Joyce Bryant, and the Knowles Quartette (center.) The Postalettes, sponsors of the affair, are anxious that all women attend and learn the details of the present plan for the building of the hospital. The affair is honoring the club women of the city. The hostesses service of Carnation Milk company and the Folger Coffee company will serve for the Postalletes. Also assisting in this gala affair, Sunday, will be the wives of three top movie actors, Mrs. Bing Crosby, Mrs. Bob Hope and Mrs. Jerry Colona, also Eddie Beal, pianist; June Yungneo, singer; Frances Nealey, tap dancer and Jeeps Smith and his recording orchestra. The affair will be photographed for Newsreel-television release by NBC. Admission is free. The public is invited.

Edith Bailey

THE EAGLE'S GUEST

This is a week of "firsts" for the Baileys, Vi.

It's the first time I've ever attempted to write a column—and this week my husband, Dr. William E. Bailey, delivered his first "second generation" baby, Mrs. Catherine Baker, whom he brought into the world (just a few years ago, y'know) gave birth to a son Saturday night with Dr. Bailey in attendance.

Thursday night at the Alabam was interesting for several reasons: The first Annual banquet to hnor outsatnding boxers was sponsored by Herman Hill. Chalky Wright and "Long John" Thomas. Boxing commissioner Norman Houston presented awards. In the Houston party were brilliant young Atty. Roscoe Carroll and Mitchell Miles (brother of Joe Louis' manager). And, of course, petite Mrs. Houston.

Henry Armstrong received Joe Louis' award for him. Jos was in Arizona golfing, as everybody probably knows. Mabel Scott, whose opening night as headliner of the Alabam show was the following evening, sang. So did the rising young star, Joyce Bryant. Joe Adams was emcee. Representatives of every local newspaper were there.

The Couple Club met with Atty. and Mrs. Earl Broady Saturday night. Other members who attended included Judge and Mrs. Edwin L. Jefferson. Dr. and Mrs. Warner Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Parchman, Mr. and Mrs. Newell Eason. Dr. and Mrs. M. B. Moore and Dr. and Mrs. William E. Bailey. We played bridge, had a wonderful dinner. Mrs. Baxter Scruggs was the guest of the evening.

On January 30, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Woods celebrated their seventh anniversary with a buffet dinner. She is president of the Medical, Dental and Pharmaceutical Society Auxiliary and a doctor of psychology in her own right.

What Happened

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cameron and Mr. and Mrs. William Green spent the week end at their cottages in Val Verde.

The sub-deb club of some of our nicest girls, the Anchorettes, plans a Parents' Tea in March. Janice Shelby and Fayette McAllister entertained the group Saturday.

Cornelia Bradford, with her daughter, Ann, and Alice Harvey spent the week-end in Palm Springs.

Dr. Doris S. Moore entertained her husband, Dr. Mildrige Moore on his birthday, Sunday, Feb. 4, with a lovely family dinner at their beautiful Wellington road home.

Mrs. Ruth Chaney and Mrs. Edna Dawson of Chicago are visiting here in Los Angeles.

From Oakland, R. Conklin Brown Jr. came down to our end of the state to share in his mother and dad's wedding anniversary celebration Jan. 30. He has gone back home by now, of course. Busy man!

Coming Soon

This should provide an unusual evening: The Southwest Coordinating Council is planning a dinner at Pepperdine College on Feb. 15. Each person who attends is asked to bring a foreign student. Wonder how many languages wil be heard, how many kinds of apparel from how many countries seen, and how many interesting revelations made?

Beginning her duties as new choir director at Westminster Presbyterian church last Sunday was talented Mrs. Ursula Murrell. She's a member of the very musically accomplished Pruitt family.

At 11 o'clock every morning a group of youngsters, oldsters and inbetweeners enjoy Hawaiian dancing at Denker playground. A refreshing change from square and round dancing. Not that both of those aren't fun, but something new is always welcome. Everybody's invited to participate.

This was fun, Vi.

The Social Knights held their last meeting at the home of Victor Bostic. Heading the list of social actvities for the year is the club's second cabaret matinee dance at the New Club Alabam Sunday, March 16.

Omega Dance

Additional momentum is heaped into Omega Queen fanfare as new candidates make their bid for Queen of the Que's formal dance, slated for February 22 at Zenda Ball Room.

The last day for accepting queen applicants is today at noon since judges will make their choice tomorrow night at the Que Frate House.

Getting in under the deadline for queen applicants were new candidates of the Delta and AKA sorority.

Omega men will know who the queen is after tomorrow night, although it is not revealed whether "her highness" will make her public appearance as such before the night of the formal. A court of four will grace the scene with the Que Queen who greets formal guests on the night of the dance.

Llewllyn A. Mazique, regional district conclave marshal, has scheduled a busy three-day meet order. From fashionable restaurants on Wilshire, to at least one major broadcasting station, Omega men will make their presence felt. Most work-shops and seminars during the regional conclave will concern the securing of peace through the strengthening of democracy. The meeting ends on the following Sunday, February 24.

Folkways Guild is Organized

Recent weeks have seen the formation in Los Angeles, of the Folkways Guild, an organization interested in studying, enjoying, and furthering folk music.

The Folkways Guild arranges programs to meet the expressed interests of its members in various aspects of folk culture. These programs regularly include, in addition to the feature program, community singing, square and folk dancing, discussion, and refreshments.

The Folkaways Guild meet the first and third Fridays of the month at the Friendly Barn, 5914 Barton Ave., near Santa Monica and Gower. The next meeting will be held Friday, Feb. 15, at 8 p.m. and will feature a program of Flamenco music.

All those interested in folk music are invited to attend and participate in the activities. GL. 8322 may be called by those wishing more information.

'Names' To Be at Benefit

"The immediate response of Mrs. Bob Hope, Mrs. Bing Crosby and Mrs. Jerry Colona, Arthur Lee Simpkins, Eddie Beal, Jeeps Smith, Frances Nealey, Louise Beavers, prominent civic and social women to make an appearance and aid us at our Coffee Sip Sunday, February 10, indicates sincere interest and desire to insure success to what has been inadquate answer to a dire community need," said Mrs. Norvelle McNeil, secretary of the Postalettes, sponsors.

The Coffee Sip at the Zenda Ballroom, 9361/2 W. Seventh St. is on behalf of the St. Augustine-West View Hospital Drive. A dynamic show and presentation of facts about human needs will be given.

Coffee is being served by the Carnation Milk and Folger Coffee Companies and NBC will photograph the proceedings for newsreel and television release.

Club women and their friends are sincerely urged to attend. There are no charges attached to this program. Further information may be had by calling RI. 7-0267.

Big Event At Bovard

Kastle Hastle

Over Kappa Kastle way the Scrollers and Kappa members gave a closed affair that posed more crashes than invites. People off the streets walked in and out in a steady flow but went unnoticed 'cause the members weren't in the stateo f comprehensive awareness. Trying to do the hucklebuck to "Because of You" was that couple of Ernie Powell and wife.

It took the fratmen a blue moon to pull Dan Pullem off of cloud thirteen. . . . Also greeted that twosome of Therese Matthews and Newton Harris. Mary Cantrell looked real cute dancing with man about town Herman "Ichabod" Ward. . . . After digging that fiendish look in Austin Nicholas' eye we dared not ask his steady, Charlotte Johnson for a scuffle. . . . Leroy Matthews was in a very bad state of affairs when he saw Walker Bruce walk away with his girl. . . Said hello to Katherine and Sterling Wallace. . . . Chancey Rumford. Bill Tyree and John Blight were among the guests.

Come One, Come All

If you don't have appropriate clothes, wear pajamas and get away with it this time, because the Pyramids are giving a PAJAMA TOP DANCE (their third annual) at Park View Manor on Friday, Feb. 8, from ten 'till two. And incidentally, prizes are to be awarded for the most beautiful and the wierdest pajama top.

Notice

If you like good basketball, why not be on hand for the Alumni-Varsity basketball game between the Jordan alumni and the varsity team, which features three All-City hoopsters. The alumni team posts such names as George Brown, Milton Williams, Curtis Gladney, Charley Johnson and Rufus Johnson.

Try to get in on this good nights entertainment.

Congrats

Best of luck, wishes and all that sort of stuff to the twelve Scrollers who are going on probation this week. Hear that the A.K.A.'s are soon to follow.

Wine, Women and . . .

Ever popular Tony Sheen was on the receiving end of a surprise party forced upon him by his friends who suddenly became aware of his latest age dating.

This was really a party, and when we say party we mean party p-a-r-t-y. They balled, brawled and called names till the wee hours of the morning.

Indulging in the act of having a good time Betty Norman, Lorenzo Horde, Mary Ann Vandagne, and Eugenia Sheen. . . . Much to the delight of Sherill Luke, Stanley (The Square) Robertson, and Melvin Mansfield "lunch" had yet to be served. Most of the cool daddies were in the gambling room endeavoring to beat the odds in shooting six pocket billiards commonly known as pocket pool. A game of NINE ball was in progress as we came into the room, and a beautiful three-in-the-side gave Kenneth Hill reason to collect quarters. Chalking up their sticks for a definite loss at the hands of Pete O'Garro and Hugo Hill, were Bill Tyree, David Reed and Howard Morehead.

Lawrence Winston, after finding that his luck was nil on the felt table shifted to rolling bones and his efforts were justly rewarded. In the words of Mose, "Quite a bit of gamblin' was did."

Excerpts

Frank Hannable, Sydney de Costa, Ronny Flemmings, Alfred Elliot, Pat Anderson and steady beau Ernie Lindo, were seen swooning to the songs of Billy Eckstine at his recent concert.

George Brown has been holding out on his buddies. It's said that he is stashing a way-out female cousin at the crib.

We wonder where lovely Dawn Carter has been hiding out for these past few weeks.

Many people are wondering why a well known playboy, husband, and father won't stop trying to date a certain A.K.A. pledge on the Q.T. After all, it's quite obvious.

Look out, the HOUNDS are around.

column about the doings of the younger social set:

Athenians' Dance

Adorable Mrs. Yvonne Rhinehart was the first lady we saw at the Athenian's dance at the Alpha Friday nite. Being one of the most angelic items on the floor, it is quite fitting that she should be the first object of roving eyes. Then we ran directly into the waiting arms of Cora Foster—waiting for Pfc. Wade McClain, that is.

Audrey Burrell was waiting for Herman Reed, who was also waiting for her. In fact, the two were waiting to get married in a short while. Alma Torrence stated that she will start in right away helping her to prepare the invitations.

Another choice dish on the floor was delectable Olivia Lawrence who also attracted our attention. President Barbara Andrew was by far the finest one in the place and Betty Taylor was the cutest. Wanda Stasher stacked up in black and green and Elaine Martin came in blue and white.

Dolores Crooms could be a model on anybody's show. Delores Twine was playing the great Andy Allen's records while Mitzi Allen was renewing old acquaintances. Also among the select were Pat King and Francine Fortier. Clara Ware was announcing the Blazons' Sadie Hawkins Masquerade Dance slated for the 16th.

Otherwise appeared Jenny Robinson, Mittie Lee, Doris Haggatt with George Smith, Rosalind Douglas, and males Gifford Montgomery and Thomas Hanks."

Mrs. Bernice Thomas, 410 E. 36th street, and Miss Vivian Paris are back in Los Angeles after an extended tour of the mid-west and eastern cities. They report a very enjoyable trip. In Washington, D. C. they were house guests of the Thorpes and Juanita Tate. They made the entire trip by rail. Other cities visited by them were Kansas City, Mo., Pittsburgh, Chicago, Tulsa, Detroit and New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crowley and children recently settled in Los Angeles.e they are from Oakland, Calif.

A treat to the ears, Johnny Harper, recording "Old Love is New".

Tony and Virginia Searcy, 8274½ Melrose Ave. are looking forward to a blessed event.

Miss Dorothy Chinn recently visited her brother, Arthur Sibley, in San Diego, Calif.

Just in from San Francisco is William Thedford.

Thanks, fellas.

Top-Hatters

The Top-Hatters Social Club have just completed final arrangements for their forthcoming pre-valentine benefit ball. The dance will be held at the beautiful, and spacious Humanist Hall at 2308 South Hoover on Saturday, February 9. Jeep Smith will be on hand to supply an evening of solid dancing entertainment.

The spirit of leap year and Valentine day will reign throughout the dance and fun, gaiety, and relaxation will dominate the evening.

The club was greeted with the news of a new arrival to the James Pratts. A beautiful gift was presented to the new stranger. The mother, Mrs. Exie Pratt, is doing well and the little tyke is doing great.

Jolly Crew

The Jolly Crew social club invites the public to a Valentine dance at 5904 S. Broadway on February 16 from 9 p.m. until 2 a.m. Music will be played by Bugs Williams orchestra.

MAKE-UP WON'T HIDE CALENDAR LOOK

But this scientific way of "nerves" may avoid showing monthly

All the make-up in the world can't take that drawn, nervous look out of your eyes each month. But here's a modern way that has helped many women and girls who suffer from calendar misery, nervousness and its signs. It's Cardui, a tested medicine that helps build strength and resistance each month, so, after a time, many women feel no spasmodic cramps at all. Also helps relax jittery nerves, sleep deep better. Look, feel your normal, happy self. Ask your dealer for Cardui. (Say: "cards-dooey").

California Eagle

Published Every Thursday

The Eagle stands for complete integration of Negroes into every phase of American life through the democratic processes.

We favor:

1. FEPC on local, state and national levels.
2. Decent housing for all Americans.
3. The President's Civil Rights Program.
4. Adequate old age pensions and social security.
5. Collective bargaining rights for all workmen.
6. Development and encouragement of Negro business.

We oppose:

1. Jim Crow in all forms.
2. Communists and all other enemies of democracy.

Florida and The Sentinel

On February 21, Walter White, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will speak in Los Angeles.

Everybody knows who Walter White is.

Everybody knows what Walter White has done over the past twenty years in leading the NAACP to its victories over white primaries, school segregation, race restrictive covenants, and in a dozen and one other battles that have helped bring the ideal of first class citizenship closer to Negroes.

Walter White is coming here to explain and discuss the situation in Florida where Negroes have been mobbed, their homes burned, their institutions bombed and where Harry T. Moore, secretary of the NAACP, was murdered on Christmas night for taking the leadership in the fight against lawlessness.

The Florida events have called forth vigorous protests from all kinds of Americans, white and Negro, poor and rich, liberal and conservative. The United States attorney general has launched an investigation and the FBI is seeking the culprits.

American newspapers have been full of what's happening in Florida. (The Los Angeles News and The Mirror have printed stories about the outrages and editorials condemning them.)

That is all newspapers with a single exception: That exception is the Los Angeles Sentinel. It hasn't printed a word—NOT A SINGLE WORD—about what's happening in Florida. It hasn't uttered a single syllable of protest against this wave of lawlessness and murder. All it has printed was something in praise of an incident that happened in Florida.

And, of course, the Sentinel hasn't printed a word about the fact that Walter White is coming to Los Angeles to give us the inside story of what's happening in Florida. That would violate the Sentinel's present policy of saying something decent and good about the NAACP and would violate its rule that the NAACP can't be mentioned except in a derogatory fashion.

As we said last week in connection with our editorial comment on the fact that the Sentinel is now opposing FEPC, we want to make it plain that Leon H. Washington Jr. is not to blame. He is ill and has been ill for the past two years. When he was publisher the Sentinel was a fighting, militant newspaper and it would still be just that if he had control or direction of its editorial or news policies.

What we have been saying in this editorial can be verified.

Just get copies of the Sentinel for the past three months. Look at it, read every word of it since the happenings in Florida. Check up on us. See if we aren't right.

And then ask yourself these questions:

Do you want a newspaper that won't support the NAACP?

Do you want a newspaper that won't print anything about such things as have been happening in Florida?

Do you want a newspaper that attacks FEPC?

Do you want a newspaper that tries to hide and conceal the truth?

Ask yourself these questions Mr. and Mrs. Advertiser and Mr. and Mrs. Reader.

You're the people who finally determine, by your support, the kind of newspaper you have in your community.

You can have the kind of paper you want.

Negro History Week

There's something a little inconsistent in Negroes having to have a special Negro History Week to remind the nation of what they've done to make it strong and great.

That something is the fact that Americans haven't yet quite accepted the Negro as just another American whose skin happens to be dark. That lack of acceptance has led them to disregard the Negros' contribution to the common welfare.

That's what makes it necessary to have a special Negro History Week.

We think it is a good thing for us to remind our fellow Americans once a year that this is our country too and that we have had a big part in making it the strongest and best nation on the face of the earth.

Many of the contributions made by Negroes have had to be forced on the majority of our fellow Americans. For example, many of them, have been shortsighted and stubborn and haven't seen that our constant pressure for a complete realization of democratic ideals serves them as much, and in some instances more, than it serves us.

Even in war time, Negroes have had to accept Jim Crow in order to be able to fight for their country. During the Civil War when the very life of the nation was at stake they served without pay in many instances and at lower pay in most cases but they insisted on serving.

Negroes who have wanted to make contributions in science and in the arts have had to force Americans to look their way and accept contributions to American culture. But they've done it just the same.

Negro History Week is just our way of reminding America and other Americans that we want to do even more in the future than we've done in the past for the common good.

Miscarriage of Justice

The acquittal of Deputy Sheriff Edward Houtz is a startling miscarriage of justice that will surely encourage the lawless minority of law enforcement officers to continue their violation of the constitutional rights of American citizens.

Houtz will be remembered as the deputy who sprayed the contents of a fire extinguisher on two hapless Negro prisioners and then had the gall to tell a jury that he didn't know that the carbon dioxide content of the extinguisher would burn. That despite that fact that he had been a fireman for five years.

He was promptly fired by Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz but the soft-headed county civil service commission reinstated him and put him right back in uniform so he could continue to flout the laws of his country. Incidentally, the commission also reinstated four other deputies who connived at Houtz' lawlessness.

The jurors who freed Houtz have given the stamp of approval to a kind of conduct that is not only reprehensible but may also rise up to afflict them and their friends. Lawlessness practiced against helpless members of minority groups has a way of spreading out until it envelopes others.

The only people who emerged with any credit in the entire matter are Sheriff Biscailuz, who had the good sense to fire his faithless deputy, District Attorney Ernest Roll, who filed the complaint against Houtz, and the deputy district attorneys who did their best to convict him.

Now that Houtz is back on the job, we hope that he will be removed from this section of the city and sent to some other station where he can "serve" some of the jurors who freed him.

The Watch Tower

If Negro voters are smart between now and next November they can have considerable influence on the choice of a President of the United States and members of Congress for the next few years. For, despite attempts of political writers to bury it, and of politicians to soft-pedal and play it down, the civil rights issue is very much alive and more than ordinarily important.

It is true that we are hearing much of Communism and corruption. People are being taught to say that the Truman administration has permitted Communists to get into government and that socialism is being spread in our fair land. People are being taught to yelp about the small change that has been gathered in by petty cheap chiselers in public office. The corruption is there, alright, but in a government that spends money in the tens of billions, a guy who finagles a fur coat at a discount of a few hundred dollars, or who buries a tax case involving even a couple of hundred thousand is a small operator. The chances are that the really big stuff is getting away from the people through some perfectly legal channels. The corruption issue is there and it will be played for all it is worth. So will the Korean war. Senator Taft, in his New York speech, called it Truman's war, although the record shows Taft quickly approved our nation's action in 1950.

But even with all this, civil rights remains of very great importance. The real reason the Southern Democrats are so bitter against the President is his support of a civil rights program. On other issues the South would get together with Truman, but on civil rights it feels it has to fight. The other day in Alabama the party leaders who did not want the state delegates to be required to support the nominee of the party stated their position in these words: "The only way to keep segregation and prevent FEPC is to elect delegates not pledged to the regular Democratic nominee." They didn't win, but that was the platform on which they made their fight.

Governors Byrnes of South Carolina and Talmadge of Georgia are fighting a desperate battle based upon the civil rights issue. Senator Robert Kerr of Oklahoma is not being seriously considered as a nominee by the Democrats because of his bad record on civil rights. The supporters of Senator Estes Kefauver are trying to think up some plausible excuses for his bad civil rights voting record. Senator Taft is hoping Negroes will forget the speech he made in North Carolina endorsing segregated schools, but even while so hoping Taft goes right on saying the wrong thing. Last week in Florida he told Southerners they should vote for him for President because he believed in states' rights. To the average white southerner that means just one thing and that is that Taft would not allow the Federal government to interfere in the South's treatment of the Negro. Taft made the speech in Orlando, Fla., just a few miles from the spot where Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Moore were bombed to death Christmas night. Florida has done nothing to date to bring the murderer to justice.

Yes, civil rights is in the presidential campaign up to its neck and Negroes should not be fooled by those who try to brush it aside. Whatever else Harry Truman has or has not done, he certainly has set a standard on civil rights by which the voters can measure the other candidates.

Lester B. Granger's

Battle Axe & Bread

The death of Harold L. Ickes last week removed from the American scene one of the most colorful figures on the stage of public life during the past quarter-century. "The Old Curmudgeon," as he liked to call himself, or "Honest Hal," as his political opponents were more apt sarcastically to describe him, was one of the original Roosevelt New Dealers. He came into the Roosevelt cabinet just after F.D.R. took over in Washington in 1933 and he stayed there until just after Truman took over more than a dozen years later.

To remain in any cabinet that long required more than political skill—which Ickes had in abundance—but also toughness of conviction. And this, too, Harold L. Ickes showed in a number of ways. He was one of the few top figures in the New Deal inner circle with any driving convictions about a square deal for the Negro citizen. Most of the Administration's luminaries — and this does not necessarily exclude the President himself—were far better on flowery profession than direct action, when it came to straightening out racially discriminatory situations. In previous columns I have told how Henry Wallace, Harold Hopkins, and F.D.R. as well, shirked off from taking such action if there was any danger of offending influential groups in so doing.

There was no such timidity about the Ickes approach. He didn't believe in the double standard of administration as between Negro and white citizens, and he could be profanely explicit in stating his feelings on the subject. He had been a member of the Urban League for a number of years before he went to Washington, and this was at a time when it took some effort on the part of the average white "liberal" even to discover that there was an Urban League working in behalf of economic parity between the races.

In the PWA program under the Ickes administration, Negro workers got their first real break at Federally subsidized employment. In cities throughout the country Negro skilled workers began to be hired at their skills—as self-respecting craftsmen—rather than in unskilled jobs after white workers were taken care of. This was because Administrator Ickes not only made general statements about equal rights of Negro citizens (a favorite New Deal topic), but also issued explicit directives to his underlings (a most untypical New Deal action), that made it possible to check up on them to make sure they were not guilty of sly sabotage of administrative intentions.

It was in the federal housing program under PWA that Harold Ickes proved, once and for all, that the Federal Government can institute fair employment practices in the area of public works and civil service employment whenever the White House wishes to do so. Housing contractors were required, whether they were building in Texas or Massachusetts, to furnish proof that they were giving Negro skilled and unskilled labor an equal chance at building jobs. If such proof was absent, Federal checks were to be delayed. This was in the contract; contractors never hesitated to sign the agreement, because they wanted those fat contracts. White workers offered no serious opposition, once they understood that their own pay checks depended upon the Negro brethren getting theirs as well. 'Twas just that simple.

Of course, Harold Ickes was no angel. He was a bitter-tongued partisan, even though he was generally on the side of the angels. When he strayed off on the other side he could be unfair and untruthful. As for instance, after he had broken with President Truman, he actually sought to justify Southern opposition to the Fair Deal Administration by saying that the South was not attacking Truman because of his civil rights position, but because the South couldn't tolerate dishonesty and inefficiency in office. A bald, bare misstatement of fact if there ever was one, but a .500 hitter is entitled to strike out once in a while, isn't he?

ADULT EDUCATION

Dear Sir:

We are all quite happy that the Gerontology program is now placed in the Jordan Adult Education Center where the older people and middle aged people can have the rare advantage of hearing experts tell them how to extend their lives for many years. It has not been my privilege to be down your way speaking for many years.

I was the Pension Commissioner for the City of Los Angeles and spent much time in helping put over the City Employees' pension. Hugh MacBeth and others have been very cooperative with me and I with them. Mr. Smith, the Jordon Principal, in the night time has secured the very best medical mind on this subject called Gerontology. It is the study of how to prevent old age and as you know we are all paying a great deal of attention to it since it is not only worthy and humanitarian but our terrible tax load makes it urgent and necessary. I phoned your office but you were not there so I am asking you to please write up an important article to encourage the community to take part for we would like to have some other great leaders also appear.

The Press seems to be the most important part of this program and it looks as if the editors have helped put the program over in the neighborhoods where it is a success. Many of your best citizens have urged that this program be put on so please help us get the news to the people.

With every good wish to you all,

Ann Mengan Barron

ON THE BOOKSHELF

GODS, GRAVES AND SCHOLARS. By C. W. Ceram

Since the time in the fabulous 'twenties when King Tut became a newspaper sensation, the romance of archeology has exerted wide appeal. However, few books exist that are popularly written and yet authentic enough to satisfy the scholars. C. W. Ceram, who is a German editor writing under a pseudonym, has written one of the best and most readable. It will bring you up to date on the latest discoveries of ancient ruins and what they tell us about the amazing adventure of mankind upon the earth. At the same time, the book will enthrall you with the fascinating story of such dramatic episodes as Schliemann's discovery of ancient Troy, the finding of a hitherto unsuspected civilization at Knossus in Crete, the recoveries of vanished glories at Ninevah, and the tense story of the excavation of the Tomb of Tut-ankhamen.

THE NATURE OF THINGS. By Roy E. Marshall

From the inside of the atom to the outside (or nearly) of the universe is a great leap—a leap that the mind of man has tried to encompass by active experiment and by theory. For our own minds, this book summarizes the discoveries and the theories about what is happening in and out of this earth—the careers of the stars, the forces pent in matter. Reading this simple though fascinating work causes a sense of wonder on what God hath wrought and man has been able to envision.

THE PRODUCER. By Richard Brooks

Matt Gibbon was ready to start on his first independent Hollywood production. He felt confident of turning out a box-office success, but that was before he tangled with temperamental writers and actors—not to mention his restless wife and various political witch-hunters. This may sound like a plot that has been done before, but in the hands of the author the reader experiences vividly the underlying currents of present-day movie making, the basic integrity of the producer at odds with the pressure of artificial standards exerted upon him.

DAY OF RECKONING. By John Gerdon

"Each man kills the thing he loves," Oscar Wilde wrote years ago, and however you may care to interpret the paradoxical remark, it is true that the mixture of passion and sudden death is a staple for our writers of suspense stories. Here you have a murderer who kills his wife because he loves her(don't ask how; read the book!) and discovers that he cannot appease his conscience and sense of guilt because no one will believe him guilty. It's a horrible situation for a nice family-man type of murderer to be in!

People and Places

Abe Saperstein, the little boss of the $2,000,000-a-year enterprise known as the Harlem Globetrotters, is with us again this year. We talked with the pudgy little promoter who fought race hatred with basketball and thus paved the way for other Negroes in other sports. Energetic Saperstein looks about the same as he did in the early '30s when he first started his Western teke. However, the box office appeal is far greater, thanks to Bill Miller, West Coast Trotters' publicity representative. Their Sunday afternoon game at the Pan-Pacific was SRO and as many fans left without tickets as there were watching the games. Miss Louis (Babe) Pressley, 15-year man with the outfit, but Road Manager Welch is as cool as ever. Tells us Abe is leaving for Japan, while he will do three weeks in good old New Orleans. Looking much like he did when we first met were: Marques Haynes, Reece (Goose) Tatum, club stellar attraction.

RING DEM BELLS. That was what someone was afraid of last Thursday night at the Club Alabam, where the boxers held forth their first annual testimonial banquet. All the California ring greats of former years were on hand. The solid favorites such as: Henry Armstrong, Chalky Wright, Ken Overlin, Mickey Walker, Manuel Oritz, Gorilla Jones, Dynamite Jackson and John Thomas. Also there were the crowd pleasers Tino Wilson, Chester Parks, young Peter Jackson, and we were surprised not to have seen such names as Willie Joyce, Bobby Yeager, Louis Wise, Eddie Hudson, Willie Bean or Harold Dade.

JOYCE BRYANT is making plans to invade Europe soon and we predict if and when she does, look to add her name to list of American stars to meet extraordinary roaring success. Joyce has just that kind of talent.

SIGHT ITEMS—Golden State president and his lovely wife, NORMAN O. HOUSTON, taking in the Club Alabam. Robert Jenkin, young sportsman, squiring a brownskin that he says he is serious this time. Must be cause he bought himself a new '51 Ford and she was the only reason. Two attractive housewives are: Mrs. Lloyd LaBeach and Mrs. Betty Scott. DISC JOCKING Hunter Hancock, a square in swing-circle, that's hep to real crazy tunes. My man Jimmy Witherspoon gave me the drawing about the Hancock guy four years ago while we were in San Francisco. We wonder when will he pick up on the pillar around the block.

PORTLAND BOUND—is shapely Evangeline McKitton of 1507 Punet, and brother will Los Angeles get a boost when this young lady hits their city. Miss McKitton will be accompanied by her father, the Rgt. Rev., so the boys can keep church on their minds. Awful tough on the sinners. FLEET FOOTED—Lloyd LaBeach stopped in our office (White Label) and all to tell us the bad news of the coming Olympic. Look for Jamaica to run 1-2-3 in the 400 meters and a relay victory. LaBeach is doing a bang-up job for McKesson & Robbins Company.

MOVING UP—Dapper young Ted Schaffer, the up-and-coming barrister in the West Jefferson and Western Ave. office. Appears to have found the legal tender, he is looking very well these days sporting a convertible "cat" with Ohio license plates. TAINT SO—cried Bill (Red Hut Broiler) Davis, the only expecting the Mrs. expects is $$$$$ and me. TONSORIAL TRIO—Herman L. Harrison, S. P. Johnson and manager of the smart men's parlor is Charles MacArcher and they are expert in their work located at 3110 S. Western Ave. L-S Motors Lester Freeman and his lovely Mrs. are a couple of happy kids. Got a right to be cause is hoping for what hubby want. Natch his mind is on income tax deduction twins!

SEPIANAIRES—nationally famous trio moves into Oakland Chef Club for a short run this week. They are billed for the summer season in Canada at the popular King George Room. The Sepianaires are: Robert Lewis, bass; Jimmy Edwards, guitar; Bill Spooner, piano; and vocalist Betty Shepherd. BEACH WEATHER—is with muse a Western Ave. wolf as the little pretties with their poodle dog, horse tail, hair-do made with an Earl Carroll revue down the Blvd. Sunday afternoon.

CLINTON CAMPBELL, former boxer, has been handed the assignment of handling the regular Sunday evening platter spinning of religious records from Dolphin's of Hollywood record shop. The program time is 10:30 until 11:30. ELLINGTON ORK—The Duke currently being hailed as the "best in history," is on its way West. The band will be presented in a concert here February 27. Another one of Gene Norman great shows. New faces in the band include Juan Tizel, trombone; Willie Smith, sax; and Lou Belison, drums.

CHARLES (BLUES) BROWN—brings his groovy orchestra and his entire company on Hunter Hancock's show at the Lincoln Theater Sunday. Looking for a great stage show, this is it.

THEATRE

PRESENTED IN CONCERT—Ellabelle Davis, dramatic soprano and grand opera star, will be presented in concert Sunday afternoon, February 24th at Philharmonic auditorium.

Davis And Winters In Concert Here

Two Negro trailblazers in the field of grand opera, soprano Ellabelle Davis and baritone Lawrence Winters, will sing dramatic duets ranging from Mozart's "Don Giovanni" to Gershwin's "Porgy and Bess," Sunday afternoon, February 24, in a Delta Sigma Theta-sponsored concert, presented by Irwin Farnes at Philharmonic auditorium.

Miss Davis' debut as "Aida" in 1946 with the famed Opera Nacional of Mexico marked an advance for her race in opera's international bigtime league, and earned this praise from the Mexico City Novedades: "Was it an angel? A nightingale? A flute of gold?"

South Carolina's Lawrence Winters was a prize pupil of Todd Duncan at Howard University, and later succeeded his tutor in the Gershwin opera, "Porgy and Bess," which he recently recorded in its entirety for Columbia Masterworks Records.

RCA Signs New Artist

NEW YORK CITY.—RCA Victor has just released the first record by Billy Bunn, Negro crooner who hails from Norfolk, Virginia. Billy has what many consider to be one of the most unusual singing styles discovered recently.

Signed to the company's Blues and Rhythm label, Billy and His Buddies make their recording debut with two original songs penned by members of the group. The coupling offers "I Need A Shoulder To Cry On" and "I'm Afraid."

Farmar Concert At Manual Arts Friday Night

Manual Arts High School auditorium has been chosen for the Geraldine Farmar concert. Miss Farmar, lyric soprano and one of San Farncisco's greatest discoveries in recent years, will make her local bow Saturday night, February 9 at 8:15 under the auspices of the Helping Hand Educational Club.

The program is an enticing one, running the gamut of the classical library from Handel to Gershwin. Stephanie Shehatovich, a concert pianist of top level quality having toured both Europe and the United States, will not only accompany Miss Farmar but will also play a piano group including works by Chopin and Villa-lobos.

Tickets are now on sale at the Southern California Music Company and all Mutual agencies. The auditorium box office will open at 7 the evening of the concert.

Baltimore Theater Drops Color Bar

BALTIMORE — The six-year fight of the Baltimore branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to end discrimination at Ford's Theater, the only place in the city where legitimate theatrical presentations are offered, ended in smashing victory today as the theater management announced that it has dropped its segregation policy.

The announcement came on recommendation from the State Commission on Interracial Problems, after Governor Theodore McKeldin on January 3 wrote the Commission that the Negro citizens of Baltimore had been "needlessly affronted" by Ford's policy. "The resultant humiliation has brought a picket line to the doors of the theater," the Governor said. "Many white people have been reluctant to cross the picket line, and so, in addition to the injustice involved, there have been inconveniences to many persons and economic loss. It may be that this is a contributing cause to the scantiness of the theatrical program now offered in Baltimore."

The picket line against the theater's discriminatory policies has been maintained by the NAACP, which has not missed a single performance in six years.

Mrs. Lillie M. Jackson, president of the Baltimore NAACP branch, and a member of the Association's national board of directors, publicly expressed her appreciation to the white citizens of Baltimore "who respected the rights of colored citizens enough to stay away from the theater the past six years." Mrs. Jackson said the victory proves "that democracy can work and that the people in general believe in democracy."

Dewey Asked To Close Stork Club

NEW YORK—A request from the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People for investigation of charges against Sherman Billingsley, proprietor of the Stork Club, published in the New York Post, was referred this week by Governor Thomas E. Dewey's office to the Chairman of the State Liquor Authority.

Walter White, NAACP secretary, wrote Governor Dewey on January 23, enclosing a clipping from the Post which described Billingsley as an "ex-bootlegger" and noted that he was twice convicted of violation of the Volstead Act.

"It is our understanding," Mr. White wrote, "that no person with a criminal record, particularly if the charge is violation of the Volstead Act, is eligible under the State Liquor Act for a liquor license. . . . The Post also asserts that in 1936 when the Stork Club license came up for renewal, State Liquor Authority investigators recommended disapproval."

The Association urged the governor to investigate the charges "and upon proof of their validity to have the license of the Stork Club revoked. We urge, also, investigation into the peculiar circumstances under which this license was renewed in 1936 despite the recommendation of the SLA investigators."

Gladys Bentley Cuts New Discs

Gladys Bentley, the fabulous piano-song stylist, signed a lucrative recording contract last week with Swingtime Recording Company. Tunes recorded were four Bentley originals, "After Midnight," "Two Fisted Daddy," "Easter Mardi Gras" and "June Teenth Jamboree." She was backed by a combo of stellar instrumentalists.

MABLE "Elevator Boogie" SCOTT, fresh from old Broadway, is currently giving the "local yokels" a play at Central Ave's. "fave rave," the good Club Alabam.

T-Bone Walker Back In City

T-Bone Walker, one of the better blues singers around today, returned to the city this week following a highly successful engagement at the Howard theater, Washington, D.C., and the Apollo theater, N.Y. The popular little blues singer and guitarist literally had the gals in the audience reaching into their bags for swooning salts when he gave out on a score of tunes in the original, inimitable Walker style.

He cut short his tour upon learning of the death of his personal agent, Harold F. Oxley, and will resume his itinerary in March, teeing off in Dallas, Texas. On his forthcoming theater-nitery tour of the nation, the famed little blues star will be accompanied by the Jim Wynn orchestra.

Blanche Drew Says: "You'll be glad . . . that you bought your "pad" from ABARIS REALTY, 11226 So. Central Ave. (Phones: LO. 9-8138, 39 and 30).

Bass Harris Stars in Own One Hour Show on KMPC

"Bass Harris At Home" is the title of a new one-hour show starting on Radio Station KMPC Saturday, February 2, at 8:30 p.m. Featured on his own show will be Bass Harris, long time star of stage and radio and at one time voted "Most Outstanding Disc Jockey" of the Northwest.

Harris started his radio career in Boston in 1936. In recent years he has had programs on KING, Seattle, and KOL, Portland. He was a featured singer in the "Exposition Four" quartet which registered big successes at the Palace Theater in New York and on the Keith and Pantages circuits. He also appeared with Harry Fidler, in his time a famous Chinese impersonator. Harris, also, has had numerous night club engagements.

In his KMPC show, 8:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m., Saturdays, Harris will intersperse his own humorous and philosophical poems and monologues with the finest recordings and guest stars.

"I'm calling my show 'Bass Harris at Home'," said Harris, "and it's going to be just that. My imaginary home will be on Rainbow Street and I will take the listening audience on a tour of the various rooms and each room will have the music or other entertainment that best fits the mood of that particular spot in the home. I appreciate the opportunity Station KMPC is giving me. Seldom, if ever, is an artist given a full hour of Class A time on a powerful station such as KMPC. I hope everyone will be listening."

BLIND PIANIST . . . Ray Charles hits the jackpot again with his recent waxing of "Kiss Me Baby." Now on a cross country tour the popular blind pianist received considerable publicity on his "Baby Let Me Hold Your Hand."

Duke Ellington Honored for Culture

CHICAGO. — Orchestra leader Duke Ellington was honored by a committee of distinguished citizens last week at the Regal Theatre for his "outstanding contribution to world culture" and "significant worth to and championship of his race."

Abaris Realty Plans Community Service

A group of prominent business women decided that a customer is entitled to a little more than courteous service for his money and formed the office which is announcing its location at 11226 S. Central. That is how the Abaris Realty was born.

The personnel, which includes Blanche Drew, Clara Gardenhire, Lucile Liston and Vera Roseman, has set up a new plan which they feel will revolutionize buying and selling transactions of real estate in this community. The office is using as its motto, "The power to perform miracles."

They believe that every desire for real estate creates a new need and they hope to satisfy the need by making conveniences right out of their own offices. For example, Abaris Realty points out, "If a person buys property, he must make loan commitments. We will provide outlets where money can be acquired quickly and cheaply."

"If income property is purchased," they continue, "a member of our office who is trained in building management, will handle the property at a minimum charge."

Abaris Realty has provided free civil service job applications and bulletins which can be acquired directly from the office. The qualified personnel will give advice or counsel in job problems as an added public service.

The other specialties of Abaris Realty include rentals of all types, purchasing of 1st and 2nd trust deeds, income tax service, and notary public. The office is open daily from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Sunday and other special appointments can be made by phoning LO. 9-8138, LO. 9-8139 and LO. 9-8130.

YOU DON'T HAVE TO BE A "WHEEL" . . . to make a "deal" at ABARIS REALTY, 11226 South Central Ave. (Phones: LO. 9-8138, 39 and 30).

Plot Laid To Cairo Negroes

CAIRO, Ill.—Copying the outrageous policy established following last July's Cicero riots, Cairo police last Thursday arrested nine leaders in the fight to tear down jim-crow segregation in the city's schools.

Most of those arrested were NAACP officials, including Dr. W. A. Fingal, president of the Cairo branch, and Dr. J. C. Wallace, whose home was the target of shot-gun blasts two weeks ago.

All nine were charged with "conspiring to endanger the life and health of certain children" of Cairo for insisting on their transfer from outmoded jim-crow schools to the schools nearest their homes.

Held in Jail

They were held in jail for four hours before they were released on $1,000 bail each.

The arrests followed a series of bombings, shootings, cross-burnings and threats, all directed against those who were fighting jim crow.

The situation came to a climax last week in this southernmost Illinois town when Negro parents presented their children for registration at previously all-white schools.

Local school authorities stalled on the requests of the Negroes. Despite these tactics and despite threats, parents of 87 children continued to insist upon transfers for their youngsters.

Intimidation

Only 11 such transfers have been granted. One colored student was admitted to the junior high school. By the afternoon session, 25 percent of the white students were "absent."

During the week preceeding

Nation Eyes Court Test of Florida Justice

OCALA, Fla.—The trial of Walter Lee Irvin, sole remaining defendant in the infamous Groveland rape case, who is still recovering from serious gunshot wounds inflicted upon him by a sheriff last November 6, was scheduled to start here Tuesday morning before an all-white jury.

On Monday, the judge had refused to move the trial to a spot beyond this terror-ridden section of central Florida.

Judge Truman G. Futch—the same judge who in 1949 presided when Irvin and Samuel Shepherd were sentenced to death—refused to accept as proof of prejudice existing in this Marion county seat an Elmo Roper opinion poll of four counties showing widespread bias. He held that the poll violated established legal procedure.

Negroes Testify

The prosecution had managed to scrape up 24 residents—including five Negroes—who swore that there was no racial tension in Marion county. All five, among whom were a minister, a physician and a dentist, declared stoutly that a Negro could receive a fair trial in the county.

Their testimony was not confirmed, however, by the opinion poll.

All five Negroes admitted on the stand that no Negroes have held public office in Ocala for many years. They also admitted that no Negroes have served on juries.

Before they testified, Julian

Free Husband Who Clubbed Wife to Death

Arthur Harris, 34, 1354 E. 22nd street, who killed his common-law wife, Alberta Payne, by clubbing her over the head with a two-by-four plank, was exonerated by a Coroner's jury last Thursday. The jury found that Harris had acted in self defense.

Harris and 35-year-old Mrs. Payne had lived together for six years.

On February 3, they attended a house party in Watts and came home around 11 p.m. Harris testified that his wife began a jealous argument with him because he had been dancing with other women at the party. Suddenly she ordered him to pack his things and get out of the house. While he was packing, she attacked him with a hunting knife concealed in a glove, cutting him about the head. He fled from the apartment.

Witness Clubbing

Mrs. Anna Dues, 1350 E. 22nd street, testified that she saw the couple arguing in the front yard. She looked away and when she looked back Harris struck Mrs. Payne over the head with the plank.

Mrs. Viola Searcy, another neighbor, testified that she saw the altercation and saw Mrs. Payne with her hand drawn back as if to strike Harris. She then saw him pick up something and

Shrine Rally Feb. 21 To Protest Terror

If you watch television, listen to the radio, go to church, to a union meeting, belong to any of dozens of organizations, or read the newspapers, you'll be finding out about the united mass rally being held Thursday, Feb. 21, at the Shrine auditorium

The meeting, called by the NAACP to protest murder and intimidation in Florida, is being co-sponsored by a score of organizations, including the CIO and the AFL, Americans for Democratic Action, the Los Angeles County Conference on Community Relations, Anti-Defamation League of the B'nai B'rith, and the Veterans Coordinating Council.

Walter White, executive secretary of the NAACP, will be the principal speaker at the rally. Hollywood stars will join in the protest.

Sound Trucks

A sound truck donated by the Automobile Workers of America CIO will tour the southeast industrial area of the city urging workers to fill the auditorium Feb. 21.

Another sound truck, sponsored by AFL unions, is expected to tour the downtown industrial area, calling for solidarity with the NAACP in its protest demonstration.

Thousands of leaflets are being distributed—by the UAW, the NAACP, the AFL, the International Ladies Garment Workers Union AFL, and a score of other organizations and groups.

Southland Alerted

Every newspaper in the city, every radio and television station is being informed of the meeting, and given the background of the outrages in Florida which culminated Christmas night in the bombing murder of NAACP state leader Harry T. Moore and his wife, Harriet.

All NAACP branches in the Southland have been alerted and at a meeting last Sunday in Palm Springs of the Area Council of the Association pledged their support and attendance of their members at the Shrine.

On Sunday William Lindsay Young will call for support of the protest over his church news program, radio station KMPC at 8:15 a.m. On the same day at 1 p.m. over television channel 11, KTTV, the Retail Clerks Union AFL will

Local Lawyer Appointed to D. A.'s Office

District Attorney Ernest Roll announced late Wednesday afternoon the appointment of Attorney Gerald D. Lenoir as Deputy District Attorney in his office.

Twenty-nine-year old Lenoir, 5633 S. Central, is a graduate of Lincoln University law school in Jefferson City, Mo. He graduated with high honors.

Lenoir was admitted to practice in California, January 5, 1950.

Roll stated that Lenoir was one of seven appointments made when the Board of Supervisors authorized seven new positions in his office. The appointment is for a 60 day period subject to a civil service exam. The seven new appointees must rate ninth or better to receive a permanent appointment.

Lenoir, who is married and has four children, will assume his duties in the District Attorney's office Monday morning.

The last such appointment was made in 1931 when Attorney Charles Matthews was appointed by Buron Fitts.

Arizona School Case Submitted To U. S. Judge

PHOENIX, Ariz.—The question of whether or not this city can continue to maintain Arizona's only Jim Crow high school was submitted to Federal District Judge Dave Ling Monday after an afternoon of argument. Attorneys Loren Miller of Los Angeles and William P. Mahoney of Phoenix sought to persuade the jurist that the Arizona law "neither permits, nor authorizes nor requires" racial segregation.

Basis of their contention was that the Arizona law, which provides only that school boards "may segregate groups of pupils" does not permit racial segregation and they laid great stress on a prior decision in which Judge Ling held that the law did not authorize segregation of Mexican pupils. Attorneys H. B. Daniels, Herbert Finn, Burton Lewkowitz and Stewart Udall assisted in the preparation of the lawsuit.

Old Court Case

School board attorneys pointed to an old 1927 Arizona case as supporting their contention that the law as it now stands is ample to justify Jim Crow in Carver High School. Heading the list of plaintiffs was Dr. R. B. Phillips, dentist and head of the Arizona NAACP, and Carl Sims, one of Arizona's two Negro legislators. Sims and Daniels introduced the legislation which repealed cumpulsory school segregation last year.

Sentinel Knifes NAACP

(AN EDITORIAL)

Mrs. Dora Moore won't go along with the Central Avenue Chamber of Commerce in supporting the NAACP.

Mrs. Moore isn't important as an individual. What is important about her attitude is that at the moment she's dictating the editorial policies of the Los Angeles Sentinel.

She told local business men that the Sentinel DOESN'T support the NAACP and WON'T support the NAACP and WON'T give it any help or publicity whatever.

Those statements are almost fantastic but they're true.

Mark the knifing of the NAACP down to the discredit of Mrs. Moore. Don't blame Leon H. Washington Jr. Before he became ill, he was a member of the board of the local NAACP. Roy Wilkins, NAACP administrator, wrote a column for the Sentinel. The Sentinel backed every move the NAACP made to fight prejudice and discrimination.

Now at a time when the NAACP is in the forefront of the fight against murder and bombings in Florida; when it is challenging Jim Crow in public education; when it is being badgered and attacked by every friend of Jim Crow in the country; when it has carried the Negro's fight for first class citizenship to greater heights than that fight has ever achieved—Mrs. Moore has misled the Sentinel into attacking it.

That means that she's offering aid and comfort to

Lucius C. Harper Dies in Chicago

CHICAGO — Lucius C. Harper, executive editor of the Chicago Defender, died here Sunday after an illness of three months, at the age of 57.

Harper, who has been associated with the Defender for more than 20 years as managing editor and executive editor, and who has been connected with the paper since its early years, was an authority on Negro history and considered one of the best versed and most competent journalists in the country.

An essayist of note, he was a member of the first staff of writers assembled in 1926 by the Associated Negro Press, national Negro press service.

Harper and his wife, Lillian, traveled widely in the United States and Mexico. They visited Los Angeles two years ago, their second visit in three years.

YM Parade Slated for Next Sunday

The 28th Street Branch YMCA will accentuate its emphasis on youth by holding a mammoth parade Sunday at 2 p.m. which will culminate in a grand open house program at the YMCA, 28th and Paloma streets. In conjunction with the affair there will also be a Benefit Sweethearts' Tea sponsored by Fay Allen, prominent civic worker, and postal employees. All money raised at this tea will be given to the YMCA for its membership and finance campaign and the public is cordially invited to participate in both programs.

The parade will assemble at 1:00 p.m. at 42nd place and 41st street between San Pedro and Avalon boulevard and will march south on Avalon boulevard to 51st street; east on 51st street to Central avenue; thence north on Central avenue to 28th street; thence west on 28th street to the YMCA where parade will terminate for the open house program and tea.

Many outstanding marching bands in the city have volunteered their services for the parade and there will be one hundred and fifty cars which will be decorated especially for the occasion.

"We would like 60,000 parents and children in the Central Area to assist us in our plan for our "Y Day Parade." Fill up the family car and join us in our March on the 28th Street YMCA. Drill teams, Bands, Movie Stars and everybody will be there. It's your YMCA and we want you to join the great spirit of hospitality and good will which will grow out of this great public-spirited movement," Secretary Kenneth Morrison said.

The 28th Street YMCA is now in the midst of its annual effort to enlist 2,500 members and $16,000. All membership fees are available at half price during this campaign period which extends through February 27.

Val Verde Owners Plan Water Meet

Val Verde property owners were invited to a barbecue at the Val Verde Club House Saturday, Feb. 16, by Mrs. Gertrude Barksdale, chairman of a committee in charge of meeting to deal with the community's water problems. Mrs. Barksdale explained that the water system will be under the management of the Val Verde water district and that all funds will be used to buy necessary equipment and for operating expenses of the water district.

Lincoln's Birthday

Nation's Highest Honor Awarded Negro Soldier

The nation's highest award for outstanding valor in combat was awarded a Negro sergeant on Lincoln's birthday, the Army announced this week.

Sgt. Cornelius H. Charlton, 21, of the Bronx, New York, was awarded the Medal of Honor posthumously, for taking command of his platoon when the commanding officer was killed, and leading them in three charges to wrest an important hill from the Communists in Korea last June 2.

Army Announcement

The Army announcement said of Sgt. Charlton:

"Rallying his men, he led the assault up a steep hill, personally wiping out two hostile positions with grenades and rifle fire, and killing six enemy soldiers."

"Subsequently repulsed in two charges under fire, Charlton, although wounded, led a third attack which swept the enemy from the crest of the hill.

"He was mortally wounded by a grenade while single-handedly knocking out the last enemy replacement."

Charlton is the second Negro to receive the nation's highest award for outstanding valor in Korea. The first was Pfc. William Thompson, 22, of New York City.

In New York, Van Charlton, 58, an unemployed Negro porter, spoke with quiet pride today of his son.

Blast at Robeson

With conviction he declared, "The death of my boy in combat distinctly makes a liar of Paul Robeson and others who have claimed the Negro will not fight for our country."

(Robeson told a Communist-inspired peace rally in Paris in 1949 that American Negroes would never fight the Soviet Union.)

Charlton continued:

"I thank God that this good news comes to us on Lincoln's Birthday because he was the greatest friend of the Negro and he knew that we're all loyal Americans."

Woman Skips Jury Service When Restaurants Refuse to Serve Her

ST. LOUIS—A Negro in Clayton county can serve on the jury, but if she wants to eat lunch she"l have to bring her food with her.

So ruled a Clayton Circuit Court judge last Tuesday, and threw Mrs. Annie Chism Williams, 28-year-old mother of four small children, into jail.

Mrs. Williams had figured that if she was serving on a jury she should be provided with a place to eat, like everybody else. But restaurants refused to serve her, so she didn't show up.

Judge Annoyed

The judge, Raymond E. LaDriere, was very much annoyed. He declared a mistrial in the case on which Mrs. Williams was to serve, and sentenced Mrs. Williams to 24 hours in jail. He pointed out that she could have brought her lunch with her, or that she could have bought something to eat at a snack counter.

Mrs. Williams, after serving her term, was bitter but defiant. "I'd do it again," she said. "I am fighting for a principle I believe is right."

On Monday Mrs. Williams was sworn in as a juror in a $100,000 personal injury suit. The judge instructed jurors to be on hand at 9:30 the next morning. Mrs. Williams didn't show.

Resented Treatment

She was picked up later at the home where she works as a maid, and was wearing a blue coat over her maid's uniform when she was hailed before the judge.

Explaining her failure to report, she said, "I resented the fact I was a citizen serving on a jury and couldn't sit down to eat."

When the judge explained that a lot of people brought their lunches, Mrs. Williams replied: "They do that because they want to. They are not barred from eating in places like I am."

Judge La Driere later, admitting that the problem of eating places for Negroes is a tough one, reportedly added: "If I had been dealing with an intelligent white person I would have been more severe."

Profile of the Week

WRIGHT BRINGS RICH EXPERIENCE TO BROADWAY FEDERAL SAVINGS

By WENDELL GREEN

Richard R Wright III, the new manager of the Broadway Federal Savings and Loan Company, is a man who, all of his adult life, has had to struggle against the handicap that his father and grandfather were outstanding successes and are internationally famous for their achievements in life.

The son of Bishop R. R. Wright, Jr., one of the standout church leaders in the world today, and also one of the most controversial leaders in the AME church, Wright has his work cut out for him just to move out of the shadow of his father's works and high reputation. As if that was not enough, he is the grandson of the late Major R. R. Wright, financial genius, who founded the oldest Negro bank still operating in the United States and esablished a financial empire that he ran until his recent death.

On top of that, his maternal grandparent, Dr. W. A. Crogman, was president of Clark University and one of the nation's eminent educators.

With such a famous name and rich family background, Wright could have easily rested on the family's fame and fortune, but the tall, serious-minded scion of one of America's famous families has a burning desire and driving ambition to add glory and lustre to the famous name he carries.

"I could have gone into the family bank in Philadelphia, or gone into church work with my father," Wright said with a slow smile and slight drawl, "but so many people confuse my identity with my father or grandfather that I determined early in life that I'm going to be a Wright in my own right. My father did it, and besides," he said with a hearty laugh, "I want to give my son, Richard Wright IV, a three handicap to overcome."

Strict Disciplinarian

Richard R. Wright III was born in Philadelphia. He was the second child and has three living sisters. He received his early education in Philadelphia schools and his grandfather's bank. "The Major was a strict man. Hard but fair," Wright said with a faraway look in his eye. "I never could figure out why he was so hard on me. He was harder on the rest of the family than he was on his employees, and he seemed especially hard on me. If I was late he would dock me a dollar for every minute. He fired me several times for what seemed to me to be minor infractions of rules.

"It was only after I was grown and out on my own that I understood what he was trying to get over to me, and believe me, it has stood me in good stead."

Wright attended Wilburforce University where he received a Bachelor of Science degree in Commerce. Between jobs he attended Ohio State University where he earned a Master's degree in Business Administration, Banking, Finance, Economics and Marketing.

While attending Ohio State and for a short time afterward, Wright managed the Book Publishing Company of the AME church. The concern was floundering badly in the red when Wright took over and when he left two years later it was solidly in the black.

In 1939, his father, Bishop Wright, who was Bishop to South Africa at the time, came home for a visit and persuaded him to return to South Africa with him as a missionary-teacher.

Fear American Negroes

"White South Africans are deadly afraid of American Negroes. One cannot get into the country with a shoehorn. They permit the Bishop of the AME church to supervise work there, and the only way I could get permission to enter the country was by qualifying as a missionary-teacher. Proudly Wright said, "My father was the first Bishop to South Africa to actually take up residence. He did a wonderful job. I taught at Wilburforce Institute near Johannesburg. Dad serviced over 2000 preaching places from small huts to churches comparable with the best in Los Angeles.

"Also, while in South Africa, I took moving pictures and made studies of the economic condition of the country and the church." Wright describes South Africa as a veritable garden spot. "It is just like California, the mountains, warm weather and beautiful beaches. Every time I look at the Southern California landscape I'm reminded of South Africa. Even the architecture of Los Angeles is just like Capetown."

War broke out while Wright was in South Africa and he returned to the States. He went on a lecture tour for nine months after he returned, showing pictures and describing life and conditions in South Africa. He then headed the commercial department of Edward Waters College in Jacksonville, Florida, for a year.

From 1941 to 1946 he served as purchasing agent at Wilberforce University and taught in the commerce department and reached the rank of associate professor before leaving.

Organized Bank

In 1947 he went to Memphis where he helped organize the Tri-State Bank of Memphis.

It was the fastest growing bank in the country and had assets of over one million when he left in 1950. "I enjoyed my work, and we were really achieving wonders, but I had a family by then, and no matter how good the opportunity, Memphis is just not the place to raise a family, if it is humanly possible to avoid it."

From Memphis Wright went to Morris Brown College as business manager. Last June he met Dr. Claude Hudson at the NAACP convention who urged him to try the West. "I've always wanted to come to California to live, so a short time later I took Dr. Hudson up on his proposition."

Bespectacled Richard R. Wright, who occupies a spacious office in the rear of the Broadway Federal Savings Company, looks like a man born to work with figures and to inspire others to trust his judgment. After a short visit with him in his office, one becomes aware that he has his finger on the pulse of everything happening in the business.

Slow, Small Profits

"My master's thesis was on the small loan business. The average layman, and some of the early Negro bankers had an entirely wrong conception of the banking business. They envisioned fast and large profits and acted accordingly and were doomed to early failure. The best such an institution can do is to provide jobs for trained personnel, and a fairly comfortable living for its executives.

"Anyone who wants big salaries and fast profits cannot survive in this type of business. The conservative practices of my grandfather are the reason that his bank survived while all others failed. The highest trust is when people have confidence in you to place their life savings with you, and to do anything to jeopardize that faith is worse than criminal."

Great Future

Wright sees a great future for California. "It is still possessed with a lot of youth and prospects for a lot of growth. The influx of population seems to indicate employment and opportunity for all folks."

Wright puts in a 10 or 12-hour day in his office leaning heavily on experience gained from his grandfather. In the evenings and on weekends, he is a popular speaker on a variety of topics, mostly Broadway Federal Savings and Loan. He also finds time to be with his wife, Neva Gilmore Wright, and his two sons, Richard and Philip.

In between Wright manages to be active in church work and civic organizations.

While running the bank in Memphis Wright managed to head the Negro Junior Chamber of Commerce, was a member of the Citizens Committee Travellers Aid Society, member of Seminole Council Boy Scouts, and was a member of the Finance Board of the AME church.

He is a Mason and a member of Omega Psi Phi fraternity. Since he came to Los Angeles Wright has been busy working into his new job and establishing a home for his family. He is a member of Second AME church and as soon as he is squared away, without doubt his influence and experience will be felt in community affairs.

Residents Attempt to Find Homes

Rodger Young Village is gravely concerned as it awaits the decision of the city council which must make the final recommendations in the eviction question. Attempting to prove that their existence depends upon saving their homes, more than 500 residents met Friday night to publicly record statements of their attempts to find other shelters.

Eviction was brought about by the denial of Recreation and Park Commission to renew a lease for the village. The refusal was issued to City Housing Authority on January 31 because "an emergency housing shortage no longer exists."

The action taken to evict the 1500 families in the vetearns housing project brought searches for other homes. Residents combed Los Angeles and surrounding areas, but found rentals unobtainable.

As the stories unfolded, high rentals and fees, no children permitted, inconvenient locations and rundown property were repeated many times as the reasons for unavailability.

Mrs. Charles Henry Reed, an expectant mother said, "It is just impossible for me to find anything. Most of the owners don't want children and when they look at me, you can guess what they are thinking. I have one child now and this one coming will make two. My husband is a veteran. This village was supposed to be provided for American fighters.

"If I could buy a home I would," she continued, "but we don't have the money. Besides the down payment, we would need $300 clear to meet all our obligations." Mrs. Reed has a 19-year-old brother who will return from Korea next month. His only place to live will be with her.

Mrs. Ann Jacobs, hut 466, explained, "All last summer I spent days hunting for some place to live. At last I found a tiny apartment in Norwalk. But that was 30 miles from my husband's work.

"I started searching for a closer place. Anywhere I went, $80 or more was asked for rentals. No place wanted children at all. I looked for three months. Then I moved here. You don't know

POLITICAL POT PIE

by Polly Tix

Rayfield Lundy was the first Negro to make formal announcement of his candidacy for the state and federal offices that will be filled next November. Lundy said that he will enter the Republican primary in May for assemblyman from the 55th District.

A member of the Willowbrook School Board, Lundy is a practicing lawyer who has been active in civic and community movements for the past several years.

The 55th District is a newly created district in the Watts-Willowbrook area and G. Vernoon Kilpatrick, Democrat, is the incumbent. He expects to run again and Democratic leaders in the area have been making noises like looking for a Negro Democrat to run for the position.

Los Angeles in 1902

On February 6, 1902, Los Angeles' first Board of Water Commissioners was established. A few days before, the city acquired for $2,000,000 the domestic water system which had been operated by a private company under a lease arrangement with the municipality. These actions started a chain of stirring events which enabled Los Angeles to grow from 120,000 people in 1902 to its present size.

Today in Los Angeles

Your Department of Water and Power completes fifty years of service

Nourished by ample water and powered by low-cost electric energy Los Angeles has become America's fourth largest city, where more than 2,000,000 people live and work.

Fifty years ago, the Los Angeles River was the main source of water. Today, from two more rivers, water flows to the city through huge aqueducts—the Owens River Aqueduct and the Colorado River Aqueduct.

Soon after the turn of the century, municipal power development began with hydro-electric plants along the Owens River Aqueduct. Hoover Dam has sent more electricity surging into the city. Steam plants have added their output to meet a constantly growing demand. Added power facilities are being built in the Owens River Gorge and in the San Fernando Valley.

Today, on the fiftieth anniversary of the Department of Water and Power, the citizen-owners of the Department may look back on a half century of progress and be proud of their municipal systems which provide them with low-cost water and electricity. Looking forward, water and electric facilities are being planned and built—so that our community may achieve its destiny as one of the world's greatest cities.

PRESENTED GIFTS—Carolyn Marie Jefferson and Barbara Jean Rubin, right, admire gifts presented to 11-year-old polio victim Fedora Paul last Sunday.

Gifts Presented to Young Polio Victim

An 11-year-old girl who had been stricken with polio six years ago was given three birthday gifts by a religious organization last Sunday. Cheerful Fedora Paul of 231 E. 117th street was presented a pink and blue record machine, portable radio and a candle decorated birthday cake.

The presentation was sponsored by members of Mrs. Mary G. Rubin's music studio who had known of the child's confinement and wanted to do something to cheer her up. Finding her birthday was February 9, the group decided to give her the things she wanted for Christmas but did not receive.

Young Fedora was presented her tokens of friendship the following day at Magnolia Baptist church, pastored by Rev. H. C. Cornelius. The program was directed by a missionary society of the church presided by Mrs. G. M. Simms. Many tears were shed as the pretty child rolled her wheelchair down the aisle to receive the gifts.

When polio struck five years ago, Fedora fought gallantly and is slowly regaining the use of her limbs after complete paralysis. She remained in that state for nine months, two of which were spent in an iron lung. The past December was the first one she spent home since the attack.

The physicians thought there was no hope for recovery, but Fedora's spunk attracted so much attention that all who met her joined in to help her continue living. So started one of the bitterest campaigns for both mother and daughter.

Now, Fedora who was dressed in a Christmas multi-striped taffeta trimmed in black velvet, cheerfully talks and plays with her friends and six-year-old sister. She says that as soon as her legs are strong and her right arm gets strength, she is going to start to school and lead a life like all the rest of the gang.

Barbara Jean Rubin, who shares Fedora's birthday, presented the gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Livingstone gave the radio and the record player was contributed by the studio group, Sunshine Band. Carolyn Marie Jefferson donated the cake.

Others who contributed were Rubin's Inspirational singers, Gulf Coast singers, Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Walker, Frank Kirks, Collins' Gospel singers, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Allen, Mr. J. Broomfield, and Phoebe Frances.

Former WAAF Wings to Paris

Mrs. LeRoy Williams and her two-month old son left here this week and emplaned from New York to Paris to join her soldier husband, Sgt. Williams, who is now stationed in Germany.

Army life is no novelty to Mrs.

Mrs. LeRoy Williams

Willams, the former Augusta Davis, Belmont High school graduate. In May, 1949, Mrs. Williams joined the Army Air Force and took her basic training for a job as a clerk-typist at Lackland Airforce base, Texas. After completing her course, she was assigned to the base on a permanent basis.

She was shortly promoted to the rank of corporal, and as Cpl. Davis met her future husband. They were married in June, 1950.

Mrs. Williams is the daughter of Mrs. August Cheeves, 207 W. 60th street.

School Child Struck by Fast Pacific Train

On her way home from school, a six-year-old girl was struck by a Pacific Electric train at Alameda and Santa Ana street Monday. Attempting to cross the tracks where no crosswalks are provided for small children, Doris Jean Smith of 2525 E. 114th street was struck by a Bellflower train and suffered a fractured hip.

Round-faced Doris was walking across the track happily discussing her good grades with a classmate when she was hit by the train. She said she did not see the approaching vehicle as it bore down on her. Witnesses told the police they believed she was unaware of the fast moving train.

Motorman Russell W. Slaymen, 50, of 9241 Lexington-Gallitan road, Downey, told investigators he saw the child playing with other children. Before he could stop, he heard the thud of her body as it was struck. Slaymen stopped his train 200 feet from where the little child was lying.

The child was taken to Tweedy hospital where no treatment was administered until her mother, Mrs. Doris Anderson arrived with fees. After complete check-up at General hospital Doris was ordered confined to bed for four to six weeks.

Other injuries and bruises were received to head and body. Doris complains of pains in stomach when she moves or coughs. Her only statement to the press was although she does feel pretty bad, she is glad she doesn't have to go to school.

Boy Scouts Ready For Wintercamp

The Boy Scouts annual winter camp at Camp Pepperdine will be held February 22-23. Scouts of the McKinley District will meet at the Vernon Branch Library at 7:00 o'clock the morning of the 22nd. Chartered busses will take them to Camp Pepperdine, which is located about 100 miles from Los Angeles in the Angelus National Forest.

After a hot lunch and instructions, skis, toboggans, and snow shoes will be issued, and the scouts will go on snow maneuvers Friday afternoon and Saturday morning.

Camp Director J. B. Williams and his assistant Donald Wiggins have made elaborate plans for the enjoyment of the boys. The Friday night camp fire program will be under the direction of Joe Hines, advisor for Explorer Ship 1298.

Domestics Lay Plans for Union

Headquarters for the newly planned organization of domestic employees, known as the California Institute of Domestic Employees, will be sought in the Beverly Hills - Hollywood film colony circle it was strongly urged at a meeting held Sunday afternoon. Another meeting has been set for Sunday, 3:30 p.m. at 10302 Graham Avenue.

Bob Bennett, one of the spokesmen of the group, urged that emphasis be put on the fact that the CIDE would proceed down the middle in its effort to improve employer-employee relations of domestics, chauffers, maids, cooks and butlers with their private employers.

Local Chamber of Commerce Maps Community Programs

An ambitious community relations program including support for local church, fraternal and civic organizations and promotion of special sales events has been planned by the Central Avenue Chamber of Commerce, according to Robert B. Strather, secretary. He quoted President Jack Rosen as saying that one of the first activities would be a Clean-Up-Week campaign with prizes for winners.

The NAACP, Community Chest, March of Dimes, YMCA, YWCA, Urban League and Westview fund drives were among specific community activities that will have the wholehearted backing of the Chamber.

On the recreational side, the Chamber will seek out worthy athletes from Jefferson High, Carver Junior High and Lafayette Junior High with the object of awarding scholarships for further high school and college training. Various concerns also plan to sponsor baseball teams, bowling, and golf will be sponsored.

Under the slogan "For a Better Central Avenue, Spend Your Money on the Avenue Among Friends," the Chamber will plan an annual dollar day with the first such event tentatively set for March 8. Buyers will be asked to patronize merchants who display the emblem of the Chamber.

Cold Kills Baby

Police today listed the death of Phillip Robert Lockhart, 2 months of 1314 East 55th St., as natural.

The child had been receiving penicillin shots for a cold during the last week, doctors said. Monday, while at home, he took a turn for the worse. His mother, Mrs. Mamie Lockhart, rushed the baby to General Hospital, where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Harmony Baptist Church Organized Upon Faith of Three Vigilant Boys

By MIRIAM CHRISTIAN

Persistent pleas of three small children changed the well plotted life of a minister and caused the organization of one of the close-knitted congregations in the community.

Little did Rev. Chester A. Hemphill realize that out of the small Sunday school class he held for three boys in 1943 would develop Harmony Missionary Baptist church, 4132 S. San Pedro.

It began when Rev. Hemphill became assistant pastor to Dr. R. B. Porter at Progressive Baptist church. While going to and from church each Sunday morning with his Bible and religious brochures under his arm, he had been watched by the three strange boys who thought he was a teacher.

Vigilant Children

One bright morning when Rev. Hemphill was busily rushing through routines in an attempt to reach church on time, his doorbell rang. As the door opened and the vigilant children saw he was the man they had been watching, they asked him if they could enter.

Not knowing what they wanted, the young minister showed them into a room and asked them to be seated. As he began questioning them he found they wanted him to read stories from the Bible. The time was nearing morning worship and Rev. Hemphill was somewhat reluctant.

Gave Offering

But he reasoned that the children had been sent to him for some purpose and it was his duty as a religious instructor to satisfy their wishes. After the lesson was completed he made an attempt to show the alert youngsters to the door, but he was stopped by one who asked if he had forgotten something.

Knowing he had been a little rushed, he paused and pondered over the situation. The smallest of the trio asked him if he had not forgotten to take up a collection. Rev. Hemphill was amazed. He realized that the boys were serious in their Sunday school endeavor. He collected 17 cents from them and attempted to give it back. The boys flatly refused to accept. They said it was their offering and expected him to keep it.

Returned

Later that week, Rev. Hemphill purchased illustrated pamphlets and bought candy with money added to the small sum. He prepared himself for the return of the serious boys. Just what he anticipated happened. A return was made.

The following week, one more was added to the group and the fourth week five children sat patiently while Rev. Hemphill explained the life of Jesus.

That same evening, a mother visited him and begged him to permit her youngster to attend classes with him regularly. Knowing that he had no facilities to comply with her ideas, Hemphill begged her not to insist, but to no avail.

New Undertaking

He immediately set about preparing for the new undertaking and used the first group of boys as charter members. Thus Harmony became a member of the Baptist conference.

The little group of anxious worshippers soon outgrew the comforts of Rev. Hemphill's home so a shelter was sought for religious services. The church's fund held a little more than $2,000 and with it a frame structure was purchased and moved on a corner lot which had become Harmony's property.

After five years of using a house, the congregation met with approval of the new home and fell into a regular church pattern. But the church was sited in an area where residents stayed for a short period of time, usually moving out when homes in the outlying areas are available.

Harmonious

This resulted in a decrease in membership at Harmony, but after a period of time the attendance reached a level where those who supported the church attended regularly. From those steady members the reputation of the harmonious atmosphere has spread about town.

Chester Hemphill did not plan to become a minister in his early youth. His decision came aft-

GOOD NEWS CLUB—This happy throng of small children are anxiously watching the developments of the new club being formed by Rev. Chester Hemphill at Harmony Baptist church, 41st and S. San Pedro. The group will meet every Tuesday at 3:30 in the afternoon and will participate in the teaching by demonstrations and exhibits designed by Rev. Hemphill. Seen with his arms around his young daughter and small son, is the energetic pastor.

church when it was located where the Pueblo del Rio Housing Project now stands, will be happy to welcome back to the city Dr. Thomas J. Townsend who was pastor of the church about ten years ago. Dr. Townsend is now a presiding elder in the Colorado conference and makes his home in Phoenix, Arizona.

This Sunday morning Dr. Townsend will preach at Ward A.M.E. church, 1177 West 25th St., where Dr. Frederick D. Jordan is the minister.

WARD STEWARDESS

The three Stewardess Boards of Ward will combine in an annual service this Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mrs. Beulah Falls, Susie Clark, and Irene Little are the presidents.

The sermon will be delivered by Rev. William H. Burnett of Brown Memorial, Pasadena. His ushers, choir, and officers will accompany him. In the Methodist churches, Stewardesses in addition to their sacramental functions devote themselves to evangelism, visitation of the sick and errands of mercy.

Relation of Church to Schools Major Issue

The relation of the churches to the public schools will be one of the major issues considered by the 700-member Assembly of the Division of Christian Education of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. when it meets in Columbus, Ohio, next week.

The Assembly, supervision body of the division, is meeting February 15-16 for the first time since the National Council was established in November, 1950, said Dr. Roy G. Ross, associate general secretary of the National Council and executive secretary of the division.

Meeting at the end of the week-long annual sessions of the division, the Assembly will review the division's work over the past year, map plans for new projects, and discuss proposals coming from sessions earlier in the week.

One of these sessions, Dr. Ross noted, is a meeting Wednesday afternoon, February 13, of professors, researchers, weekday religious education leaders, and city and state religious education executives, to consider the report of the Educational Policies Commission of the National Education Association on moral and spiritual values in the public schools.

"This is a problem in which the Christian churches are vitally concerned," Dr. Ross said, "and it is one in which we feel we can make a real contribution without infringing in any way on the freedom of the public schools."

During the annual meetings, from February 10-16, some 1,500 specialists in Christian education from more than 50 Protestant denominations in the U.S. and Canada will gather here in hotels, churches and the YMCA and YWCA. In 16 section meetings on different aspects of Christian education of children, young people and adults, they will discuss topics ranging from church sumer camps to problems of family life.

Rev. I. H. Hunt Delivers Main Allen Address

Rev. I. H. Hunt, presiding elder San Francisco District of California Conference of A. M. E. church, delivered the morning sermon at First A. M. E. church, Eighth and Towne, as the church commemorated the birth of its founder and first Bishop, Richard Allen.

Attending service in a group was Troop 750C of the Boy Scouts of America, guests of Mrs. Eula Mae Taylor, den mother. Two other den mothers, Mrs. Ruth Wheatly and Mrs. Susie Auter were also present with some of their Boy Scout and Cub Scouts.

At the Sunday School hour Fred Baker, local public school teacher, reviewed the contribution of Richard Allen to the life of America. Baker pointed out that while we justly honor George Washington, John Adams, Thomas Jefferson, and other contemporaries of Richard Allen, they achieved their fame out of a full opportunity while Allen, an ex-slave, accomplished much with so litle.

The evening hour featured a pageant on the life of Richard Allen and the history of the A. M. E. Church with more than 60 young people participating. The program was directed by Mrs. Mary Person with Mmes. Willa Pearl Curtis, Ruth Patterson, Laura Smitherman, Sara Davis, Pauline Patridge, and Isabelle Dorsey, assisting.

St. Philip's Will Install Officers and Hear Report

Officers who will serve St. Philip's parish, 801 E. 28th street, in 1952 will be installed this Sunday, February 17, at the 11 a.m. service by the rector, the Rev. H. Randolph Moore.

Parish officers in the Episcopal Church, are called the Vestry and function as a board of trustees. Twelve male persons are elected by the congregation at the annual parish meeting; one of the twelve is appointed senior warden by the rector, and the twelve in turn elect the junior warden, clerk, and treasurer.

Officers for 1952 are: the Rev. H. Randolph Moore, rector and chairman of the vestry; Marvin M. Jackson, senior warden; Chester O. Williams, junior warden; J. Delancey Boyd, clerk; Robert Summerrise, treasurer; James E. Farmer, Wesley A. Lyons, Clovis M. Neilson, Forrest E. Pickett, Joseph E. Prather, W. Emerson Sapp and Sanford N. Smith, Vestryman.

The installation, this Sunday, will consist in a Corporate Communion at 8 a.m. when the officers will receive Holy Communion together followed by breakfast; then, at the 11 a.m. service will pledge themselves faithfully to discharge the duties of their office until their successors are elected.

Delegates to the recent Episcopal Diocesan convention at St. Paul's Cathedral will also make their report at the installation service. The delegates who attended the convention were: Messrs. J. Delancey Boyd, Forrest E. Picket, W. Emerson Sapp, David W. Williams.

Church Celebrated Avalon Center's Day

The Avalon Christian church celebrated its Avalon Center's day Sunday, February 10 at 11:00 a.m. The speaker of honor was Mr. Erwin W. Johnston who is the executive secretary of the Church Welfare Bureau of Los Angeles. A youth chorus from the Center sang songs and two parents, John Campbell and W. MaShack, both spoke on "What Avalon Community Center means to our Family and Community." Two young people spoke on "Why I Like Avalon Center."

In the afternoon at 3:30 p.m., a brief musical festival was held with groups participating under the direction of the following choir directors: Cecil Dandy, Charles Gross and Harvey Huggins.

The new officers of the Board of Directors were installed by Dr. C. A. Cole, general secretary of Christian Churches of Southern California.

A reception followed the musical festival honoring the Christian churches of Southern California invited.

Rev. B. C. Duke is minister of Avalon Christion church and Mrs. Anderson B. Barnes is executive secretary of Avalon Community center.

Rev. R. Gayden Guest Speaker

Guest speaker for Sunday night's service at Second Baptist church, will be Rev. R. B. Gayden, representative of the Education Board of National Baptist Convention of America, Inc.

Rev. J. Raymond Henderson

At Sunday morning hour, Rev. J. Raymond Henderson, pastor of Second, will deliver a sermon titled "Ideal Worship."

Edmonds Gospel Temple Celebrates Big Opening

The Edmonds gospel temple of which the Rev. Anita L. Edmonds, noted evangelist of this city is pastor and founder, did celebrate its grand opening Sunday, February 10 at 11 a.m.

The church has recently purchased the corner building at 973 E. Vernon avenue and plans to be a continous revival center.

At 3:30 p.m. there was held a gospel song feast with noted artists, including Cora Martin of the Sallie Martin Singers, the Akers and Simmons trio, Rev. Belle Hamilton and congregation of the Pentecostal church participating.

The Evangelist, Rev. Edmonds who has just returned from a successful tour of northern California, offered special services for the sick in each service.

This church is nondenominational and welcomes all races. Monday, February 11 launched a two weeks' revival with pastors and their congregations of the city assisting. Service each night at 8 p.m.

'Spirit' Topic of Christian Science

How omnipotent Spirit, God, purifies, governs and strengthens man and dispels discord will be brought out at Christian Science church services Sunday.

This selection from the Psalms (143:10) will be the Golden Text of the Bible Lesson "Spirit": "Teach me to do thy will; for thou art my God: thy spirit is good; lead me into the land of uprightness."

A Scriptural passage from the Psalms (139:1, 7, 17, 18) reads: "O Lord, thou hast searched me, and known me . . . Whither shall I go from thy spirit? or whither shall I flee from thy presence? . . . How precious also are thy thoughts unto me, O God! how great is the sum of them! . . . When I awake, I am still with thee."

Mary Baker Eddy writes in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" (pp. 344, 330): "In the Bible the word SPIRIT is so commonly applied to Deity, that Spirit and God are often regarded as synonymous terms; and it is thus they are uniformly used and understood in Christian Science." "God is infinite, the only Life, substance, Spirit, or Soul, the only intelligence of the universe, including man."

Early March Revival Planned

Strangers Rest Baptist Church, 526 Stanford avenue, Rev. E. Burns, pastor, will begin a community revival service March 6 through March 14. The public is invited to attend the evangelistic service. Rev. B. L. Thomas, pastor of the King Solomon Baptist church, Vicksburg, Miss., will be the guest speaker.

Missions Present 'Up From Slavery'

The Senior and Junior Missions of the Greater Cornerstone Baptist church will present a program titled, "Up From Slavery" Sunday, February 17, at 3 p.m. There will be orators who will give the facts about great Negroes. Mrs. Bessie Anderson, an efficient reader, will speak from the subject, Are We Progressing?

Mrs. Zelease Jackson will speak from the subject, "What The Negro Woman Has Contributed To The World." Mrs. Pearl Texada, president of the Senior choir, and well known orator, will bring the main speech of the day, "The Achievements Of A Depressed Nation."

Also on the program will be heard, classical, spiritual and gospel solos by Mrs. Freddie B. Gates, Mrs. Malvie Giles, Miss Nellie Ruth Monk and Sam Bradley.

The program will continue from 7 p.m. until 9, with Mrs. Lillian Cook narrating, and the Senior choir presenting such numbers as, "Rockin In Jerusalem," "Steal Away," "Soon Ah Will Be Done," and many others by famous Negro authors.

Mrs. Cook, who majored in English, is one of the best known local narrators. Rev. D. C. Austin, pastor, and both missions invite the public to hear the outlined program. Mary E. McGee is news reporter.

Harmony Baptist Organizes on Faith

er he had witnessed the good and bad activities of life which amounted to 28 years. It was at that age that he ventured into his training which developed him into a sincere, conscientious minister.

He attended Southern Bible Institute in Dallas, the place of his birth. Hemphill was graduated with high honors. It was also in that city that he met and married Alma Acery, a native of Oklahoma. Following his graduation he moved to Chatanooga where he was appointed a Bible teacher in one of the biggest schools.

Interviewed by Governor

Requirements were stiff, and the examination Hemphill was requested to take was equally so. He was personally interviewed by the governor of the state of Tennessee who was impressed with his astuteness. He had to meet with a Billy Sunday's club weekly.

During his Chatanooga stay he also taught classes at the YWCA and YMCA. An amusing story Hemphill like to recite is that when he first arrived to the city which later caused him several heartaches, he and his wife could not find sleeping quarters.

Mrs. Schakleford, director of the YW suggested that his wife sleep in one of the dormitories and Hemphill sleep on the sofa in the reception room. He said that early the next morning he was aroused by 30 or more girls who stood staring and giggling at him. He is almost certain that he was the first and only man to ever sleep there.

Good News Club

When events did not develop as Hemphill anticipated he moved to Los Angeles and was given his first pastorate at First Baptist church in Duarte. From there he became Progressive's assistant pastor and later originated his own church. He has never permitted a member of Progressive to join his church. The only person who was an exception to that rule was his wife.

At this time, Rev. Hemphill is launching a campaign to get the children of the community to form a "Good News Club." By demonstrations of Biblical events he hopes to win the confidence of the children with an educational principal with which they are familiar. The method he is incorporating is employed by the public school system.

St. Paul Celebrates 45th Anniversary

Guest Speaker, Dr. E. C. Estell

St. Paul Baptist church of 100 W. 49th Street celebrated, beginning February 10 through the 15th, its 45th Anniversary. The achievements of this church, from its incipiency through the present day were reviewed.

Pastor, officers and members are making preparations to set aside this time with a period of gratitude.

The guest speaker of this outstanding occasion, was Dr. E. C. Estell, pastor of the St. John Baptist Church, Dallas, Tex. Dr. Estell is a preacher of international note and known for his magnetic personality.

The services were held each night at 8 o'clock in the church auditorium. The public was cordially invited to attend. There included singing and preaching each evening.

Dr. John L. Branham is pastor.

Rev. T. R. Butler will have charge of services, assisted by Rev. Earl Cotton.

Artishia W. Jordan Speaks at Banquet

Mrs. Artishia W. Jordan, wife of Rev. Frederick D. Jordan, pastor of Ward AME Church, was the guest speaker at a banquet recently in Oakland, California. Parks Chapel, of that city, sponsored a mammoth missionary banquet at which Mrs. Jordan was featured as speaker. She gave a complete travelogue of her recent trip to England and the meeting of the Eighth Ecumenical Conference of the Methodist Church.

The travelogue included many cities of interest to Methodists—Lincoln, Epworth, Gainsborough, Nottingham, Birmingham, West Bromwich and others in which John Wesley, the founder of Methodism, had lived and worked. The Ecumenical Conference at Oxford commemorated 200 years since the death of Wesley.

Mrs. Jordan also gave interesting sidelights on customs in England and Scotland, and a resume of the "Woman's Work" committee of the Conference. The banquet was a gala occasion attended by women, active in religious circles, in the Bay Area.

Covers were laid for 200, hostesses and persons at the guest table were in formal attire. Mrs. Jordan, who was presented by Mrs. Matilda Chappelle, wife of the Rev. E. David Chappelle, pastor of Parks Chapel, was the recipient of much applause and was presented a beautiful orchid.

Mrs. Jordan is active in religious circles in Southern California, serving at present as president of her denominational organization and as a member of the executive council of the United Church Women of Southern California. Before leaving Oakland, Mrs. Jordan was guest of honor at dinner at Fisherman's Wharf.

Rev. D. Turpeau Visits Vermont Square Church

Believing that a growing evidence of the spirit of Christ must be found in the area of improved relationship between the races of the world, the Vermont Square Methodist church at Vernon avenue and Budlong exchanged its pastor and choir with the minister and choir of the Hamilton Methodist Church on Sunday morning, February 10 for the 11 o'clock hour.

Rev. J. Maxwell Chamberlain, minister of the Vermont Square Methodist church used as his subject for this service that has as its objective the abolition of prejudice, intolerance, and misunderstanding. "God's Three Answers To Prayer."

The Senior Choir of Vermont Square that sang at Hamilton for this service has as its director, Prof. Ralph E. Rush, who is a member of the faculty at the University of Southern California and is chairman of Music education in that institution. The organist is Richard Jenkins.

Samuel Huston college at Austin, Texas, which was approved in December 1951 by the Executive committee of the Southern Association as a class "A" institution for higher learning, will receive a special offering according to Rev. D. DeWitt Turpeau, collected at each of these churches on that day.

Bible Classes Held at Zion Temple Com.

Officers, members and friends are enjoying as well as studying Bible prophesy on Sunday evening from 6 to 7 p.m. and Bible synthesis on Thursday from 7 to 8 p.m. at the Zion Temple Community church, 1315 E. Vernon. Rev. Geraldine O'Connor is minister and teacher. The public is invited to share with in the classes, either to visit or join.

Credit Union Elects Leaders

At the second annual meeting of the First A.M.E. church Federal Credit Union officers and committee members for the coming year were elected by the membership.

Newly elected officers are: Mrs. Martha E. Jones, president; Paul Greenway, vice president; Miss Cordova Adkins, treasurer; Mrs. Helen D. Brown, clerk. Committee members elected are James R. Derry, Mrs. Anna Mae Davidson, and Thomas Person, credit committee, and Mrs. C. K. McCalpin, William Burrell, and Mrs. Ruth Ringgold, supervisory committee.

According to newly elected president, Mrs. Jones, the Union will start an immediate drive to increase savings and funds available for loans by obtaining 150 new shareholders.

Rev. Alvia A. Shaw, minister at Eighth and Towne, expressed his wholehearted approval of the Credit Union, pointing out that it not only will encourage thrift but work for greater fellowship within the church. All members of Eighth and Towne and organizations of the church are eligible for membership in the Credit Union.

Negro Joins Drew University Faculty

Dr. George D. Kelsey, of Madison, N. J. will join the theological faculty of Drew University as associate professor of Christian ethics, President Fred G. Holloway has announced. His appointment became effective February 1.

Dr. Kelsey, probably the first full-time professor of the Negro race in a top-ranking Methodist theological school, was professor of religion and philosophy in Morehouse college, Atlanta, from 1938 to 1945, and headed the Morehouse School of Religion from 1946 to 1948. He also taught at Gammon Theological seminary in Atlanta. Last year he was visiting lecturer in social ethics at Drew.

To accept the post at Drew he is resigning a position as associate director of field administration for the National Council of Churches of Christ. He joined the staff of the Federal Council of Churches four years ago in the same capacity.

A natjve of Georgia, Dr. Kelsey graduated from Morehouse College in 1934 and received the degree of Bachelor of Divinity from Andover Newton Theological seminary, Newton Center, Massachusetts. Yale university awarded him the Doctor of Philosophy degree in 1946. He is the author, with others, of The Christian Way in Race Relations, and has contributed numerous articles to various religious and academic journals.

Vance Milligan At Wilberforce

Vance Milligan, recent graduate of Manual Arts High School, and member of Ward AME church, left this week to enter the second semester at Wilberforce university on a scholarship from the church.

Milligan, who has dedicated himself to the Christian ministry, will combine his Liberal Arts course with Theological studies. He expressed his sincere appreciation for the encouragement of Dr. Jordan, pastor, and the assistance of the church. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. James B. Milligan, who reside at 1539 E. 46th Street.

Pacific Conference Convenes at Ward

The African Methodist Episcopal Church made history at Ward church this week when it convened the ministers and lay leaders from the churches of the Pacific Coast in an Educational Convocation.

Bishop I. H. Bonner, recently from Cape Town, South Africa, where he has spent the past four years, presided. While in the city he was the guest of Dr. Frederick D. Jordan, pastor of Ward, and leading candidate for Bishop at the coming General Conference.

The sermon was delivered by Rev. J. A. Hall of Berkeley. A symposium on public housing in preparation for effective participation by the Church leadership in this vital issue included George Beavers, chairman board of Golden State Life Insurance company, and member of the Housing Authority of Los Angeles; Don A. Allen, Councilman of the 7th Ward; Clarence Johnson, Public Relations Consultant of Federal Housing, San Francisco.

Wilberforce University alumni and former students had a dinner service at which Miss M. Bredley of San Francisco was the speaker. The money reported by the pastors to their presiding elders at the meeting goes to make up the $40,000.00 budget which the district under the leadership of Bishop D. Ormonde Walker, contribute annually to Wilberforce university and Payne Theological seminary.

Radio Minister Dies in Detroit

The minister who held the reputation of never missing a Sunday night broadcast in his 13 years of radio ministry, died of a kidney ailment in Detroit last week.

Bishop Wallace P. Robinson, 46, founder and pastor of the city's Alpha and Omega Spiritualist church preached every service aired until his fatal illness.

FOR SUNDAY SCHOOLERS

THE LITTLE LOST LAMB

A little lamb had wandered far away from its mother and the other sheep. That night when the shepherd counted his sheep, he found that one was missing. He took his staff and went out to find the little lost lamb.

H searched all night, but still the little lamb was nowhere to be found. Looking toward the east, he saw faint streaks of light through the purple mists. Then he saw something else—two great eagles were flying round something on the mountainside.

"It is the lost lamb," said the shepherd sadly, as he hurried up the rough mountain. Just as the largest eagle was ready to pounce on the lamb, the shepherd reached down, and gathered it in his arms.

With a faint "baa-aa," the lamb pushed its cold little nose inside the shepherds' coat. And the shepherd carried it home.

Then, calling his friends, he said, "Be glad with me. I have found my little lost lamb."

"BE GENEROUS!"

"He gives not best who gives the most; but he gives most who gives best. If I cannot give bountifully, then I will give freely, and what I want in my hand, I will supply by my heart."

This only echoes the praise Christ gave to the widow, graciously contributing from her poverty.

While we should always contribute generously according to our means, the fact remains that it's not WHAT we give so much as HOW we give it that matters.

Prying Pye in Prep Sportdom

By BRAD PYE, JR.

The University of Southern California, in granting Addison Hawthorne, Pasadena City College's All-Southern Cal halfback a scholarship last week, ran dead last behind "two southerners"—the Texas Baseball League and the footballing Dallas Rangers.

Members of the race beginning this season will be permitted to play in the Texas League and the Dallas Rangers, formerly the New York Yankees are going to string along with their three Negro stars Sherman Howard, Buddy Young and George Taliferro.

The Trojans in giving Hawthorne a grant-in-aid, a modern day pharaseology for scholarships, in my way of thinking did not cover up their unfavorable past, that many fair-minded grads have been apologizing for the last twenty years or more.

The woods are literally full of "well qualified" athletes of the race.

PYE

One writer of a daily paper wrote this week that he would not like to see the academic standards of ole Southern Cal lowered merely to haul in flock of great Negro (or Caucasian, for that matter) halfbacks, sprinters, and broad jumpers.

I know several SC footballers personally and they aren't exactly Daniel Websters or William Jennings Bryant.

I do not know whether the standards have been lowered or not, or that they are set for each individual, that happens to have the right paint job . . . but this column conductor would be a mighty surprised cookie to see a great number of present and past Trojan athletes to pass the entrance exams of a number of the other schools.

USC has missed the boat in the past by not giving such fine athletes such as ex-UCLA cage great Don Barksdale, Ventura's Ernie Hall, rated one of the finest basketball prospects in the history of JC ball, Stanford's Ed Tucker, probably the greatest hoopman developed at Compton JC and numerous of others a tumble . . . Jefferson High which turns out some of the city's finest athletes, both academically and athletically is literally ignored when the Trojans look for talent.

BACK TO HAWTHORNE WITH TAYLOR USC'S FIRST A-A

Brice Taylor, USC's first All-American football player states that Hawthorne will have to be scholastically, mentally and physically good and morally alert."

"I have every reason to believe that the coaching staff and the boys will give Addison as much opportunity to play when Saturday afternoon rolls around, if he has proven himself in the forementioned departments as any one else."

Brice rated by Mirror Columnist Maxwell Styles as the greatest running guard to ever wear the Trojan colors casually said "I only wish that I was out there to clear the way for Hawthorne."

When Taylor was asked if he thought Hawthorne would make the squad on his ability he declared that "Hawthorne will make it if he has the heart. He is going to have to be physically strong because he's going to take a terrific beating physically. . . . His attitude will have to be high . . . and he will have to understand that it isn't to be easy, and that a position on the squad isn't going to be handed to him on a silver platter. . . ."

Herman HILL EX-TROJAN HIGH JUMPER SAYS

"As an alumnus and former track and basketball athlete at the University of Southern California, I am sincerely happy to see Addison Hawthorne get a break at Troy. The miserable manner in which certain powers that be at SC have manuevered and connived to keep worthy and outstanding Negro athletes off their varsity teams, during the last twenty years is a disgrace, and borders on a national collegiate scandal.

"I feel certain the coaching staff will afford Hawthorne a thorough opportunity to make good. He'll never have to worry about the student body or his teammates' support. Young Americans of today are the hope of this nation for tomorrow. They not only talk Democracy but they practice it."

"Now, maybe even I can start rooting for the Trojans again."

Well put ace . . . Herman is probably the dean of local sports writers. . . . This writer has always envied the stellar newspaperman's great skill and talent and his super summary of the situation I approve 100%.

HERE AND YONDER

Jerry Drew, Jefferson High's great two-time all-city halfback is reported attending classes at the University of California at Berkeley. . . . Drew was reported to be ticketed for UCLA in this sports section three weeks ago. . . . Drew told this writer at the football banquet on the campus the same week that he would enter UCLA. . . . We are not at liberty to report his speedy change of heart. . . . Rommie Loudd, two-time all-city flankman, Drew's teammate told me in a telephone conversation today that he will spend a semester or two at Valley JC and then join Drew and another mate Thelton Henderson, all-city halfback in '50 at Cal.

As of now this is 25 and 5.

LOPEZ SAYS EASTER, JONES, DOBY KEY TO INDIAN FLAG HOPES

TAMPA—"With Luke Easter's knee and Larry Doby's legs in shape, I do not see how we can fail to improve on our hitting stated Al Lopez, manager of the Pennant seeking Cleveland Indians.

"That's our biggest repair job for '52—to improve our hitting. I am optimistic enough to expect that to happen. You've got to remember that Luke Easter missed more than a month because of a bad knee and that Doby was nursing injured legs practically all season.

"If you don't believe how important Luke's big bat was to us, just look at the figures. The Indians played nearly .700 ball with Easter in the line-up and below .400 without him.

"Easter's knee is sound again I'm happy to to say. The operation he had after the season was a success and I hope that the big man will be able to give us nine full innings every day this season.

"We have a fine young prospect in Sad Sam Jones. He is a big 6 ft. 4 in. right-hander who won 16 games for San Diego, a sixth place club last year. He looked good in his only start for us last September."

Sad Sam was the hottest hurler in the Cuban League during the winter season.

Snyder's Clothing Holds Gigantic Sale

High style are words in common used by all men regardless of size. Although bigness and bulkiness play an important part in the cut and lines of large men's clothing, this should not hinder them from wearing the latest fashions, so states Sam Snyder. Snyder has been selling massive sizes for many years and is one of the few authorities on their styles.

Centrally Located Downtown

Snyder's location at 127 W. 9th street is a mecca for the woes of the extra large men. Bringing him problems relating to out of proportion limbs and roly poly stomachs, Sam listens intently until the last cry is heard. Then he performs many miracles for the unhappy callers. He produces from an extensive stock, clothing that suits the needs to the smallest detail.

Completely Stocked

Snyder has produced another miracle for his old and new patrons. That is the clothing store-wide clearance that has knocked prices of superb creations to the barest minimum.

Imported and Domestic Fabrics

Positive clearance of all odd lots, showroom samples, uncalled for suits and one-of-a-kind items brought the sale. Included are men's suits formerly $39.50 now selling for $17.95. For a suit of exceptional tailoring and smart colors, only $22.95 is asked for a former $55 suit.

Convenient Credit

Popular styled sport coats which used to sell for $35, Snyder is now selling for $12.95. Any article can be purchased with no money down and more than six months to pay. Easy credit terms will be established by Snyder upon request. At the same time, Snyder will take measurements so that future purchases may be made more conveniently. (See page three.)

Ram's Towler Top Athlete for January

HELMS HALL—Deacon Dan Towler, the Los Angeles Rams' dynamic running back, will be honored here February 27 as "Athlete of the month" for January for his stellar performance in the Pro-Bowl game Jan. 12.

Towler led Joe Stydahar's National Conference eleven to a whacking 33-14 triumph over Paul Browns' American squad.

Towler was picked as the "outstanding player" of the game by virtue of his brilliant running.

HAWTHORNE'S FIRST USC LESSON—Head football coach Jess Hill gives Pasadena's Addison Hawthorne a briefing on the single wing system. Hill reports that Hawthorne will be given a fling at the tailback spot.

BUMPING HEADS—Jim Mitchell, better known as the Black Panther in wrestling circles, demonstrates his favorite "hold" to Irving, King of Style, Berman . . . the "head knocker" . . . Grappler Jim is one of the King of Style's best customers, as well as being high on the fans list of popularity in mat circles hereabouts.

Carver Wins Tournament

On February 1, a basketball tournament was held at Carver Jr. High School. Yes, Carver did win again. The Carver teams won three divisional titles. They won in the Major, Minor and Intermediate classes. There were many good players in this tournament who gave all they had for their schools.

The game played between the Intermediates was considered the most exciting and closest game. The score in this game was Carver 23 and Foshay 20. Some of the great Carver players were Leo Hill, captain of the team, Samuel Douse, Lawrence Holt, Lawrence Harman and others.

These boys who played so gallantly in the basketball tournament are hoping to win the baseball tournament which is not so far away.—Samuel Douse.

Arizona Drops Texas School

TUCSON—"As long as Texas Tech at Lubbock, Texas refuses Negro athletes the right to participate we will no longer send athletic teams to play there announced the University of Arizona this week.

"This policy has been adopted by the University of Arizona athletic committee," declared Charles Tribolet, graduate manager. "Texas Tech has known of our intentions for sometime."

The two schools are members of the Border Conference.

Indians Name Three Negroes To Texas Team

CLEVELAND—The Cleveland Indians named three Negro players today who might play for their farm team at Dallas in the Class AA Texas League.

They are Al Smith, 24, and Dave Pope, 26, third basemen and outfielders and both now playing in the Puerto Rican League; and Dave Hoskins, 26, an outfielder and pitcher last season with Wilkes-Barre.

Smith had a .281 batting average for 25 games last year in the Class AAA Pacific Coast League. Pope batted .309 for the Class A Wilkes-Barre team. Hoskins batted .268 and in 60 innings of pitching had an earned run average of 3.60.

GEORGE RAMSEY

SANTA ANITA—Heady Eddie Arcaro, one of the greatest jockeys of all time, walked off with all honors at beautiful Santa Anita last Saturday when he won both stake races with Hill Prince and Windy City II. Hill Prince, making his first start since last November, just played with his field and scored by three lengths.

Ramsey

It was nearly the same for Windy City II. When Arcaro called on the leggy Irish colt for the run to the charmed circle he fairly flew by his 13 rival 3-year-olds.

Windy City II will be the solid choice for the Santa Anita Derby, to be run Feb. 23. It was his second win in three starts in the U.S. As for Hill Prince, he will be the horse to beat in the hundred grander.

It was one of those rare triumphs—for a jockey to score a double stake win on the same day. As for Hill Prince, Eddie said that had his old kick back again; when he alighted the crowd of 50,000 fans cheered. It was Hill Prince's 17th win in 29 starts, and his lifetime earnings now stand at $422,140.

It was the second three million dollar day of the present season. The fans bed $3,047,274 on the eight races. Three stakes are on the program for this week. On Tuesday the Lincoln's Birthday Handicap at six furlongs, carries an added value of $15,000. Saturday the feature will be the San Antonio Handicap with $25,000 added. The co-feature is the Santa Susana Handicap with $20,000 added. This will be a grand week for the lovers of the sport of kings.

CALIENTE IN OLD MEXICO—The largest crowd of the present season was on hand at the colorful border course south of the border down Mexico way last Sunday and gave Jockey Willie Shoemaker a great ovation when he brought So La Ci from far back to capture the George Woolf Memorial Handicap.

The American Champion of 1950, sitting low and calm at one time in the race, had his mount last and far, far out of it. At the ¾ pole he was eleventh, and to the fans it seemed impossible for him even to be in the money. Coming down the home stretch So La Ci exploded that final burst of speed and drawing swiftly away with every stride, scored by two lengths. It was one of the greatest finishes seen at Caliente in many years.

The famous late George Woolf, known as the "Iceman" for his coolness, couldn't have staged a calmer performance. It was a great race with leading jockeys taking part.

Golfers Elect Officers, Head for Phoenix Tourney

In their annual meeting held last month at the Kappa House, the Cosmopolitan Golf Club returned the same group of officers led by prexy Don Walker to the offices filled by them the last two years, including Jess Hutten, vice president; Alex Peoples, secretary; Clayton Moore, corresponding secretary, Harold Bowman, treasurer, Theophilus Smith, tournament chairman, and Dr. Wm. Bailey, Lee Marshall and Dr. C. A. Bradford, members of the board of directors.

Archie Hairston, boys' counselor at ELAJC, was presented with the huge president cup, emblematic of the club championship won by him in the annual match play tournament. Dues for the year were set at $6 payable by February 29, after which date the club membership will be closed until July.

Beside holding tournaments at Baldwin Hills, Rio Hondo, Los Serranos, Griffith Park and Santa Anita last year, the Cosmos staged the first thirty-six hole championship event held in this area in July when they held the first annual Cosmo Invitational to replace the original Cosmos Open, a ten-year-old event.

Most important, however, was the club's victory in their fight to force the Griffith Park's Men's Club to throw out the clause in the constitution that excluded all but members of the Caucasian race from membership. This will force recognition of Negro amateur golfers, the same as the fight led by Joe Louis on the PGA will force entry of Negro pros into the open tournament field.

Next week the Cosmo golfers head for Phoenix, where they will be guests of the Desert Mashie Club, headed this year by Dr. Lowell Wormly. The desert tourney will be held Feb. 22 and 23, followed by a banquet. The Cosmos will help stage the YMCA tourney March 7 at a local course, and follow with a string of seven tournaments of their own, plus the affairs held by their associate clubs in Portland, Oakland and San Diego.

Annual Urban League Real Estate Workshop Meets

One hundred persons, primarily real estate brokers and salesmen and other guests attended the Los Angeles Urban League Real Estate Workshop held on Saturday, February 9, at the Alexandria hotel.

Bernard Jefferson, past president of the Urban League Board of Directors, presided at the luncheon and the first session. George Beavers Jr., present president of the Board of Directors, made the luncheon speech.

In his preliminary statements, Beavers outlined the objectives of the Urban League. His speech tended to point out the growing working relationship between brokers and the Urban League and made specific reference to the increased use of FHA by minority brokers and the employment of minority persons in escrow companies at different levels primarily as a result of Urban League and brokers working together.

A skit was presented by the offices of Mrs. Emily Johnson and L. V. Spencer. Participants were Andre Vaughn, Florence Nukes, Cluese Reid, Emily Johnson and L. V. Spencer. The skit was entitled "We Sell the Average House." The purpose of the skit was to give brokers a clear picture, step by step, of the procedures in making a listing. This resulted in a discussion and projected many questions regarding listing by the brokers.

The second session was presided over by Floyd Covington, FHA Racial Relations adviser. The subject for discussion was "Problems and Possibilities of Private Housing with an Open Occupancy Pattern."

Participants were Herbert Tobin, Urban League Board member and private developer, James Wood, private developer, M. Marten Ward, private developer and John J. McDonald, Jr., Administrative Officer, FHA.

Mr. McDonald, in his opening statement, outlined the steps necessary in getting an approved FHA loan. The steps are: (1) Develop your plans and specifications, (2) secure a builder or contractor, (3) determine an estimated cost, (4) make an application with a lending institution, (5) the lending institution submits the application to FHA for approval, and (6) if approved, it becomes FHA insured.

McDonald pointed out that a loan may be obtained on an existing structure up to 80 per cent of the FHA appraised evaluation, provided the structure follows FHA standards. The two primary reasons given for the rejection of a loan was the location of the property and lack of financial ability of the applicant to assume the loan.

It was also pointed out that as brokers encounter problems of what appeared to be racial discrimination in FHA offices, they were to report such incidents to the FHA Racial Relations office. The developers, in general, pointed out to the brokers the need of their working together for the development of increased housing for middle-income families.

Experiences of agencies have pointed out that often land and developers can be found, but they are continually blocked in securing finances. The brokers are in a good position to organize themselves into small corporations to promote such projects.

The final session was entitled "The Value of Scientific Appraisal to Real Estate Brokers."

the arrests, the home of Dr. U. F. Bass was bombed, one bedroom being demolished; three sticks of dynamite were tossed in front of a tire shop owned by Henry Dyson, vice president of the NAACP branch; a shot was fired into the home of Dr. Wallace; and Dr. Fingal was warned to leave the city "or else."

Arrested along with Dr. Fingal and Dr. Wallace were: Mrs. Rosetta Walker, mother of two children who have been transferred to a "white" school; Rev. Arthur Jelks; C. P. Williams; David V. Lansden, white attorney for the local NAACP group; Dr. W. S. Madison; and Lester Bailey and June Shagaloff, NAACP field secretaries.

Hearings Thursday

Hearings on the charges were set for Thursday, February 14.

A warrant was also issued for the arrest of Mrs. Carrie Watkins, mother of a child who had been transferred. She was not held, however, because she is pregnant.

Thurgood Marshall, NAACP special council, left New York immediately upon learning of the arrests to consult with Illinois lawyers on preparation of the defense. Before leaving, he wired Attorney-General J. Howard McGrath, charging intimidation and asking for an immediate investigation.

The Jewish Labor Committee also sent protests to McGrath, Illinois Governor Adlai Stevenson and the mayor of Cairo, charging that the arrests are "repugnant to the ideals of American democracy."

Four men have been arrested and released on bond as suspects in the bombing of Dr. Bass' home and the other acts of violence that have flared up here during the past few weeks. They are Robert Hogan, Jerry D. Ellis, Roy Downs and Charles Herbert Miller Jr.

strike Mrs. Payne across the head three times.

Officers found Mrs. Payne in the corner of the yard with a five-inch hunting knife partially concealed in a glove, in her left hand. Harris was arrested at Georgia Street Receiving Hospital when he applied for treatment of knife wounds about the head, back and hand.

Attorney Earl C. Broady, who represented Harris, placed Harris on the stand and had him tell his story in his own words. Harris testified that after his wife stabbed him, he ran from their upstairs apartment. She followed him into the yard and stabbed him with the hunting knife in the back. He ran again, and when she cornered him by the fence, he picked up the plank and hit her over the head.

Displays Wound

Attorney Broady then had Harris remove his shirt and displayed the blood-stained bandage covering the stab wound in the back to the coroner's jury.

The jury retired and shortly returned with a verdict of justifiable homicide, finding that Harris had acted in self deefnse.

School Case Goes to U.S. Judge

Judge Ling gave no indication as to when he will hand down his decision but an early ruling was forecast with his statement that he did not need further briefs in the matter.

Last week a three judge federal court headed by Circuit Judge Clifton R. Matthews held that it did not have jurisdiction to hear the case and referred it to Judge Ling. Affidavits filed in the case disclosed that Carver High has about 400 students. It offers only academic courses and Negro students seeking technical or vocational training are sent to an integrated high school.

LEAD TREK TO PROTEST MEETING—Delegates from 19 Southern California NAACP branches met in Palm Springs last Sunday, when the Association's Southern Area Council made plans to support the Shrine protest rally, Feb. 21. The delegates pledged themselves to urge all members of their respective branches to turn out en masse for the demonstration.

All NAACP Branches to Join Rally

PALM SPRINGS — Delegates from 19 Southern California NAACP branches met Sunday at the Francis Stevens High school here in a meeting planned to stimulate the fullest possible organizational participation in the Florida protest mass meeting Feb. 21 at the Shrine auditorium in Los Angeles.

The delegates pledged themselves to circulate petitions in each Southern California community and to arrange and have present at the mass meeting representatives from each branch.

The group also heard reports from Southern California Area Council president, John H. Dial, Jr. on the growth of the Southern California organization in the past two months.

Dr. A. R. Traylor, treasurer of the Area Council, reported the receipt and expenditures by the Area Council for the two month period, December and January, of more than $1500.

James H. Anderson, executive secretary of the council, gave a detailed report on the Palm Springs housing fight which the area had been engaged in and a review of the status of branches within Southern California. Anderson reported on the re-organization of the Indio branch, the appointment of organizing committees to reorganize branches at San Luis Obispo, Oxnard and Santa Ana.

All delegates present at the meeting enthusiastically supported the Area Council as a means of stimulating the NAACP Southern California program, and adopted a proposal to meet in different cities once each month until re-organization has been completed.

FEPC Ordinance To Be Drafted For Detroit

DETROIT, Mich. — Common Council last Tuesday directed the Corporation Counsel's office to draft a new proposed fair employment practices ordinance for Detroit.

Issuance of the directive was preceded by heated argument between Councilman Edward D. Connor, FEPC advocate, and Paul T. Dwyer, acting corporation counsel, who repeatedly insisted that any FEPC ordinance would be unconstitutional.

Connor finally declared: "You are harping on the constitutionality, but a lot of good lawyers in this city say we do have the power. Let's find out in court who is right.

televise an appeal for attendance at the meeting.

No Minority Safe

The ILGWU leaflet, being distributed to all garment shops in the garment center, calls upon workers to "protest the Florida outrages, bombings, cross-burnings and murders. Protest terrorism against Catholics, Jews and Negroes. Sign petitions. Get tickets for the meeting."

The AFL leaflet, being widely circulated, declares that the Central Labor Council is backing the meeting and states: "The American Federation of Labor is protesting the terrorism in Florida! The two persons killed on Christmas night were Negroes. . . . But mob violence has also been aimed at Catholics, Jews. The bombings are an outstanding lesson that no minority is safe when another minority is attacked."

Elsewhere in the nation, action is also being taken to attempt to see that Florida's lawlessness is brought to an end. Last week the State of New Jersey became the first state to express official protest and to memorialize the President of the United States and the Attorney General to adopt measures to end mob violence and destruction of life and property in the State of Florida.

Joint Resolution

In a concurrent resolution adopted by the New Jersey Senate and General Assembly, the terror was denounced as striking "at the very fundamentals of our constitutional rights and our system of democratic government."

Last week also the City Council of Philadelphia, third largest city in the country, "urgently requested" President Truman and Attorney General J. Howard McGrath to "utilize the full power of the Federal government" against the bomb-slayers of the Moore family in Florida.

Meanwhile petitions were being circulated throughout Los Angeles and the Southland, petitions of protest which will be consolidated and forwarded to President Truman after the Feb. 21 meeting.

Mich. Bill Would Ban Cemetery Bias

DETROIT, Mich. — A bill to prohibit discrimination in the sale of cemetery lots was introduced last week in the Michigan House of Delegates by Rep. Harry T. Emmons.

Willowbrook Health Center Site Selected

The choice of site for the Willowbrook Health Center fell upon a portion of Enterprise park by motion of Supervisor Raymond V. Darby at Tuesday's meeting of the Board of Supervisors.

The proposed site at El Segundo and Central Avenue was turned down by the Board because of the price which skyrocketed from $3500 to $7000 after the expiration of the option two weeks ago.

Darby had asked for immediate purchase of the property two weeks ago after being visited by neighborhood groups and organizations, importuning the Board to erect the Health Center as soon as possible, pointing out the dire necessity for such facility.

Closing Thought:

What makes us discontented with our condition is the absurdly exaggerated idea we have of the happiness of others. Yours, Phyllis.

"Why shouldn't you haul the other fellow's oil?"

One of the things people ask about Standard is why we do not let other oil companies use all of our tankers, marine terminals, and pipelines. They say, "Why shouldn't you haul the other fellow's oil?"

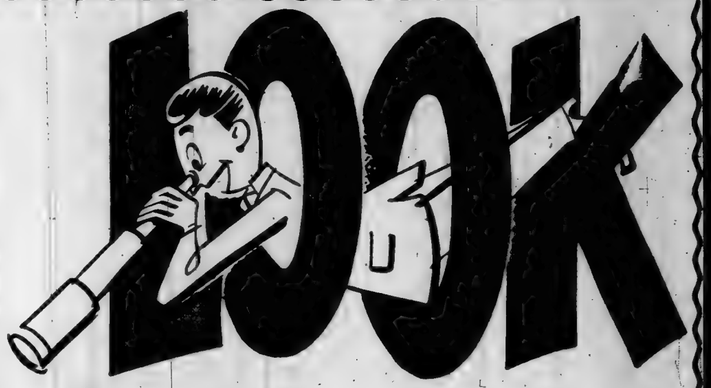
The answer to that question is that we're mighty busy hauling our own, meeting our regular obligations to our customers. Standard just can't share all of its transportation equipment with other companies. And it's unfair to ask us to do it. It's like asking you to let everybody else use your car.

You go out and buy a car for yourself and your family—a car big enough for your needs. So with Standard. We provide whatever facilities it takes to handle our crude oil and keep delivering our finished products where and when they're needed, to customers who depend on us for service.

Now suppose you're driving your car and a hitchhiker thumbs a ride. You pick him up only if you want to. The choice is yours. So again with Standard. In our pipelines within a state, crossing only privately-owned land, and in our tankers, we may choose to carry only our own oil.

But the way some people seem to want it, our freedom of choice would be gone. It's as if you were to be forced to stop and pick up everybody who lifted a thumb at you. We'd be required to carry anybody's oil in these tankers and pipelines, even if our own had to be set aside.



In time, if your car were taken over like that, you'd have to buy another for your own use. Once again, so with Standard. If we were forced to carry competitors' oil, we'd have to buy or build additional facilities to handle our own. Result: increased costs to us, higher prices to you.

When they're needed for national defense, Standard makes its private facilities available for public use. But we can't do it as a general rule. We would lose our efficiency—a loss to you, our customers, as well as ourselves. We don't believe you want it that way.

CARNATION GAVE—For benefit of St. Augustine-West View hospital Carnation Milk company donated coffee, cream, sugar and cookies Sunday morning at the Zenda ballroom. In the photo are some of the big-wigs in the hospital fund drive being served coffee by Mrs. E. K. Tave of the Carnation Consumer Consultant department (second from right). They are screen luminaries Louise Beavers and George Murphy with Dr. Dickerson Hawkins, Dr. Roy Peyton and Thomas Lewis, all of the board of directors for the hospital.

Stars at Hospital 'Coffee'

The Coffee Sip held at the Zenda Ballroom for the benefit of the St. Augustine-West View Hospital, last Sunday, February 10, will be shown Sunday, Feb. 17 at 10:30 p.m. over Channel 4 by NBC newsreel.

The affair sponsored by the Postalettes, a group of Postal employees drew more than 500 people including many celebrities.

Special guests and entertainers included Florence George, singer, Marilyn Monroe 20th Century Fox star; Mrs. Bob Crosby, Father Cramins, Father V. Roden, Father T. McIntyre, Louise Beavers, actress, Arthur Lee Simpkins, noted singer, Eddie Beal, pianist, Robert Mosley Jr., singer, the Knowles quarette, Madonna Martin, song stylist, Rev. Clayton Russell, Mrs. Gertrude Hicks, member of the board, Tom Lewis, producer and radio executive also member of the board, George Murphy, actor, former chairman of the drive.

Appeals were made by the directors, Harry Brooks, Jesse Robinson and Pete Hurley with the three doctors, founders of West View, Dr. Thomas Roy Peyton, Dr. D. Hawkins and Dr. P. Taylor, giving the original plans for the hospital.

St. Augustine-West View Hospital will be built at 53rd and Main Streets, and will serve more than 300,000 people now living without any other adequate hospital facilities.

FIRST ENTRANTS—These two popular Los Angeles City College co-eds were the first to enter the big Willandel Scholarship Contest which has the younger set all agog. Gloria Brandle, left, 4435 S. African Harvest Festival

The African Students Association, under the sponsorship of the Intercultural club of the University of Southern California, will present a program of African culture on Saturday, February 23, at 8:30 p.m. in Bovard auditorium on the campus of the University of Southern California.

In West Africa the Harvest Festival comes toward the beginning of the dry season, the early part of November. The people have spent the rainy season in doing heavy farm work and raising crops.

At this time of the year the crops and vegetables from the farms are being gathered from the fields into the barns and homes. It is, therefore, a time of great merriment and rejoicing. Thanks and sacrifices are rendered to the Gods who have blessed the land with plenty. There are great festivals and carnivals going on everywhere.

Cavalretts Select '52 Charities

The Cavalretts Inc. held their first meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. Kyle with Jack Moore as hostess. Installation of officers was held and the officers were installed by Mrs. Ester T. Greenly, club advisor. The club selected its project for the year. Chosen by the members was the Phillis Wheatley Home for Girls, headed by Mrs. Leola B. Wilson, who is superintendent of the Phillis Wheatley Dept. of the California Federation. The club also will continue contributing to the Outdoor Life and Health Association.

On February 7 the club met at the home of Pauline T. Williams. At the beginning of the meeting the members worked on the club's scrap book. The club discussed plans for working on their project. Plans were made for a public breakfast. Negro History Week was the feature of the meeting. Mrs. Ester T. Greenly, club advisor, asked questions of the club about leading Negroes and talked on the life of Frederick Douglas.

On Sunday, February 10, the Cavalretts Inc. and the Triple Four club were the guests of the Ester T. Greenly Club at the Phillis Wheatley Home. Canasta and progressive whist were played and prizes given. First prize was won by Margaret Clay, second by Irma Jones of the Cavalretts, and third by O. M. Jackson of the Triple Four.

Special Speaker at NCNW Meeting

The Human Relations department, under the direction of competent Mrs. Mildred Whitaker brought to the members of the National Council of Negro Women two dynamic personalities, Dr. James C. Wilson, associate professor of sociology and philosophy at L. A. State College and his noted wife, Prudence Penny.

Choosing as a topic, "Creative Living," Dr. Wilson elaborated upon the following points (1) Do not walk backwards nor live in the past. (2) See the green grass where you are. (3) Find a cause bigger than you and become wedded to it. (4) Maintain faith in man. (5) Have a positive and creative attitude toward life in the universe. Prudence spoke briefly, mentioning the things which interest her most—food and clothing.

Mrs. J. P. Taylor, Pete Hurley and Jesse Robinson brought the ladies up-to-date on the progress of St. Augustine West View Hospital as well as informing them of the amount of money on hand and the amount needed to complete the structure. Mrs. Taylor extended an invitation to the ladies to join the guild and many took pledge cards to pay the $27 over a period of a year.

Guests present were Mrs. J. P. Taylor, Mrs. Bertha Prescott, Mrs. Laura Brooks, Mrs. Jessie Jones, of Toledo, a life member of the NCNW and Mrs. Lucy Washington of Cleveland.

Forty-four members were present. They were asked to stand ready for a special call meeting the last of the week to meet two of the national officers.

Mmes. Mildred Whitaker and Hilda Hatcher will represent the Council at UCLA on February 23 at the World Brotherhood Conference. Various members reported on the progress of the solicitations for the Moore Defense Fund. A total of $47 was reported with Mrs. Nell Plant having the highest amount of $24.

The next meeting of NCNW will be on March 9 at the home of Mrs. Emily Johnson, 3029 Hillcrest drive. Co-hostesses will be Mmes. Ettamae Pearl, Mae Pearson, Nell Plant, M. D. Pott and Dorothy Price.

Pacific Town's Election

The members of the Pacific Town club are eagerly awaiting the results of the coming election February 21. This will climax a most successful civic and social year in the administration of president Edward C. Atkinson, in which the members have shown the most enthusiastic cooperation. The highlight has been the beginning of construction of their new club house.

Club Hears Guest Speaker

The L.A. Art and Charity club was guest of Mrs. Lucille Williams, 2057 W. 28th street, with Mrs. Edith Wilson, president, presiding. The guest speaker was John Jackson, manager of the Outdoor Life and Health Foundation, who brought important questions and answers on the operating of the clinic. The L.A. Art and Charity club contributes $10 monthly to help finance the debt for the station wagon so greatly needed by the clinic.

B. Cassell Talks to YW Group

Much enthusiasm was exhibited at the 1952 Membership Drive Kick-Off held at the YWCA Woodlawn Branch on last Tuesday. The attendance was most gratifying with cooperation from former membership chairmen, Metropolitan Board members and new workers.

Mrs. Dorothy O. Buckner, general chairman of membership for the Branch got off to a wonderful start with a "Dessert and Coffee Hour." Devotionals were led by Mrs. Gertrude Hicks, with Mrs. A. C. Bilbrew leading community singing. The gracious Mrs. J. Cullen Fentress acted as chairman of the committee on administration of introductions united the true spirit of the YWCA.

Mrs. Beatrice Cassell, who led the winning team in 1949 and served as membership chairman in 1950, gave to the workers this year a goal of $1,000,000. Report meetings will be held each Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m. at the Branch. Those desiring to work, but who have not yet secured their kits may do so at any time through the office.

Teen-Agers In Recital

Next Sunday evening, February 17, an unusual presentation by the Sunday School of Neighborhood church will be given at 5 o'clock in the church auditorium, 47th place and San Pedro street. The presentation of these youngsters in a musicale is annual affair and promises this year to maintain the regular high standard. Mrs. Frances Driver is superintendent and Miss Patronella Ross, secretary.

At the same church, Margaret L. Davis and Gloria Reddell, will be presented in recital by the Monogram club on Sunday, February 24. Each is an artist of excellence in her particular field. Miss Davis is a talented soprano and Miss Reddell is a flutist. Mrs. Buredene Lowry is president and Mrs. Julia Jennings secretary, of the club.

Vi's Column

By The Society Editor

Chivalry may not be, but rivalry sure is d-e-a-d. Whatta you do when one of your best friends becomes part owner of a rival newssheet?

I'll tell you what you do if you're one of the best—like Pat Alexander. You lend one of your society writers to me for a guest columnist. Notice that Laura Slayton is this week's "Eagle Guest"? She's also the new club columnist for the L.A. Herald (Pat's paper).

We'd planned on Laura for our guest weeks and weeks ago and a short, sweet, understanding conversation with Mrs. Alexander okayed the deal.

How genuine can you get?

YOU OUGHTTA BEEN THERE!

At the St. Augustine-Westview hospital breakfast Sunday at the Zenda there were Hollywood stars, community leaders 'n' everybody. And Carnation Milk Company (through its consumer consultant department, headed by Rosalee Orsbon), provided all refreshments for free, except, of course, at the "open for business" Zenda bar.

Here's a more-or-less complete list of hostesses: Rosemary Hampton, Judy Cozzens, Alice Collins, Maxine Lundy, Betty Clark, Catherine Kinney, Pat Alexander, Sadie Louise Davidson, Fay Rosenblatt, and the following members of the sponsoring club, the Postalettes: Mattie Mae Kennedy, Hazel Foster, Flora Waide, Marie Armestone, Bernice Williams, Norvelle McNeil, Kathryn Greene, Addie McWashington and Elouise Erwin.

Doing friends a favor as always was the town's most cooperative florist, "Cherie" of 59th and Broadway. She provided—as a gift to the hospital fund drive—the most exquisite floral pieces.

The most active clubs in town were represented there, too, including the always-diligent Zeniths.

Wish we could have some representation on February 25 when this one will speak at the Hollywood YMCA at 8 p.m. Subject is Negro History—interested are all the young movietown Y'ers. We'd like them to see that we are

Dance to Benefit YWCA

The excitement of the May Festival at which a queen will be crowned, is building up to a high pitch with a flow of responses from our friends. This is the first year by members of the Rainbow Bridge and Charity Club. They ask every business, club and organization to sponsor a contestant to run as Queen, to reign over their Charity Benefit dance. There is an entrance fee for each contestant, who will sell tickets to the dance for her votes. The winner of the contest will receive a $25.00 prize plus the honor of being crowned the "Queen of the May Festival."

Proceeds will benefit the Teenagers of the Woodlawn branch YWCA. Watch this paper for the names of sponsors and contestants as they enter.

And he knew it all the time . . .

Our boy Ernie Lindo, probably invited more guests than his three hostesses combined, and yet was so surprised to find this affair in his honor. But these things help to make for a better time, and as Mose says, "quite a bit of good time was had." The three charming hostesses who gave this "surprise" included, Pat Anderson, Shiela Montgomery, and Elaine Lindo.

We had no idea what an assortment of lovelies had congregated on the inside until we battled our way in. Once on the inside it was just wine, women, and song all night long (and that song can get you down).

Herbert McCluster showed up with one of Pasadena's pride and joys, Mary Cantrell. . . . Some of the curvaceous damsels who add an air of distinction to any affair included Sidney De Costa, Elaine Bias, Delores Roberts, and June Jones. . . . Charles "Treetop" Stephens explained how atmospheric conditions were hampering his vision while looking for the punch bowl. Mrs. Lindo who worked very hard fixing her beautiful hors d'ouevres, cake, etc. gaped at the precision movements of Bill Tyree's claw-like fingers as he thinned out the array. . . . The long and short of it Joe Gore, and Sandra Shields made a twosome. . . . We noticed the attractive girl that John Duncan had well in hand and learned later that she was his most recent spouse Marie. . . . Among the mass agregation we exchanged hellos with Archie Durham, Barbara Dorsey, June Bugg, Beverly Kirkwood and Walker Bruce, Hugh Davenport and Fannie Moore, Rodney Richards and Lois Banks, Wendell Williams, Brandon Bolan, Milton Davis and Elaine de Lavallade, and Dennis Bunton.

Whaling Success . . .

The Pyramid's "Pajama Top" party was a huge success judging from the half-clad patrons parading around. Now it can be said publicly that Paul Mitchell sleeps in an old coat. The prizes were awarded to populars Newton Harris and Dorothy Cain who by coincidence wore the same pattern of pajamas. The NIGHTFIES could easily be called "the prison print" cause they closely resembled this year's San Quenton styles.

Good things come to those who wait . . .

We got wind of the fact that Nona Reed did the aisle walk with Cal-Grad Staten Webster. It is a confirmed (fact or lie) that prevaricating Hurricane Michelle is being made a Kappa at the U. of California. . . . Saw our buddy George Colbert lurking in the shadows out front of Betty Norman's abode. . . . Congratulations and stuff to "old friend" Verlohn Johnson for bringing into the world a bouncing baby GIRL. . . . Heard Dion Marrow's wonderfully enlightening speech made at the mass meeting for Negro History Week, last Sunday. He's really going places. . . . Dave Reed is still dating Toni Adams. . . . Unpredictable Uly Griggs, who can really pick 'um, escorted Joan Moore to a recent dance. . . . Who will be the Kappas new cheerleaders? . . . The Red Hut seems to be the meeting place for everyone these days. A group of social whirlers namely Jackie Price, Tony Sheen, Wilfred Lamb, Peggi Sue Terry, Don Benjamin, and Percy McIntyre met there and suggested making with the gay times at Pooky Graysons home.

What's this? . . .

Wedding bells are soon to be ringing for a local Kappa man and his Arizona sweetheart. . . . With high powered telescopes we spotted Zoe Wise, Joan Arnold, Nira Hardon and others at the Sunset Skating Rink Friday nite. Modern Sounds . . .

Have you heard that crazy side that Capitol records put out his month? The Shorty Rogers Quintette goes wild with original compositions which feature the artistic dexterity of Art Pepper, Jimmy Jufree and Shorty Rogers. Man, this is the end. . . . While viewing a crazy flicker at the Bill Robinson theater we saw well known personality (initials W. P.) with his secret sweetie. We can't say any more than that because it might put a certain romance on the skids.

LOOK OUT!
THE HOUNDS ARE AROUND.

Off for Colombo

Off for the Colombo Plan Exhibition, Marie Bryant sailed via NY on the Franconia for India, Ceylon and Australia. Ruth Dago, home from the hospital. Dr. Fred Grigsby, in town from Camp Roberts to say adieu prior to leaving Saturday for the East, swears he's returning here to practice. He was at the Watkins. He hails from Dayton, Ohio. April is the month Irene Morris will be a grandmother, you know?

I-want-you-to-meet: Topeka-born Harold Oden, one of the top race florist designers in the land. Astoundingly prolific, he is recognized as an artisan whose floral pieces (projects, no less!) are sheer works of art. In the work for 22 years, he's never had a day's formal training in the art; a famous fixture at Leo's of Beverly Hills, he's known for his breathtaking wedding bouquets. Years ago it was the latter which attracted the attention of a Kas. governor then being inaugurated. It proved his start on his career.

Quiet, unassuming, Harold could've modeled for the buffalo nickel what with his distinct Indian features. Paradoxically his own home seldom has flowers around it! He leans toward all creative arts and is expert especially at leather work, jewelry, woodwork and ornate knives for collectors. At one thing he draws the line, however. He detests anything to do with a kitchen.

Right now he's mentally working out a spectacular 6-foot high Maltese cross for Easter display at his shop, an art work which probably has never been attempted in this section. It doubtless will slow traffic to a crawl.

Advice to youngsters? Harold suggests they concentrate on perfecting their chosen field first, forgetting this bugaboo of one's color. "Just be ready, your break will come," he adds. He's a good example, make no mistake about that.

Virus bug caught up with Betty and Jim Scott's active youngster, Jim III. The daughter of the Spud Cimmingses had a touch of it, too. Betty Vaughn, Helen Garrott and Juanita Miller, back from a motor trip to Phoenix. The latter's barrister mate, Loren, there on the school issue case, flew back to L.A., leaving the trio to return by highway. Which I'm sure was an all-round lark for the three! Tues. suggestion: The Links and Women's Council affair at SC's Bovard Auditorium at one o'clock.

Ailstock is New Prexy Of Sorority

Great emphasis has been placed on duties and responsibilities for the officers of the Beta Pi Sigma sorority this year, and all have taken it with deep sincerity.

Officers assisting Lucille Ailstock are: First vice president, Claudia Pairs; second vice-president, Elnora James; recording secretary, Una Davis Green; corresponding secretary, Rosetta Hightower; financial secretary, Marjorie Grace; treasurer, Maggie Rawls, and editor-historian, Essie Robertson.

Founder's Day of the sorority was celebrated on Sunday morning at the Tabernacle of Faith Church, Rev. O'Farrell, pastor, making seven years of progress. In this length of time the sorority has organized chapters in the Bay Area with Myrtle Wilson serving as field representative, has established a permanent scholarship on the campus of UCLA recently initiated into the Alpha chapter here, the largest pledge group of the sorority.

Service Club Directors Plan For Program

The Board of Directors of the Los Angeles 28th Street chapter, International Association of Y's Men's Clubs held a dinner planning meeting at Crystal Tea Room last Tuesday night. Speaker of the evening was John Paulson, scheduling officer of North American Aircraft and Past Lt. Director, Pacific Southwest Region.

Honored were past president, Charles Williams, recently returned from Alaska, and Kenneth Morris, executive secretary of the 28th Street YMCA. Selected Y's Menettes were invited to lend the women's viewpoint to the year-round planning session.

Pasadena Receives Debutantes

Twelve lovely girls will bow formally to Pasadena Society on Thursday evening, Feb. 21, when Crown City Tabernacle No. 38 Knights and Daughters of Tabor, presents its mammoth Debutant Assembly in the Gold Room of that city's civic auditorium.

According to A. C. Bilbrew, nationally known musician and director of the event, each girl will step through a huge flowered heart to greet her public and later receive a tiny gold crown her official coming out insignia from her parents or sponsors.

Making their formal entry promptly at 10:00 o'clock will be Vertanio Lee, Jean Buggs, Harriett Lewis, Arlene L. Bonty, Lora Lee Jones, Aline Jean Guidry, Beverly Cass, Haralyn J. Gentry, Vivian Williams and Beverly Rogers.

Featured singing group that evening will be the Vocalettes under the direction of Rose Brown Brooks. Benzel Graham, talented whistler, will do several selections as will a dancing team from the Covan dance school.

Johnny Sapp's orchestra will provide the music.

Norman Berlen, dance instructor at MGM studios, is training the debs in proper "coming out" and ballroom decorum.

Deltas' Dance Plans

Plans are now completed for the Sweetheart Ball to be given by members of Delta Sigma Theta sorority on Saturday, February 16.

This event is a definite must on the college set date book. There will be wonderful surprises in store for the whole crowd.

Local engaged and steady couples will parade through a Floral Heart at their midnight introduction. The fun begins at 9:00 p.m. at the Elks Hall—4106 S. Central avenue. All the "socially wise" will be seen there in their dressy attire dancing to the wonderful music of Py Taylor. There will also be prizes, surprises and fun for all.

Tickets and information about this wonderful affair can be obtained from Harriette Flowers, Joyce Overr, Geneva Waller, Dorothy Gadberry, Dorothy Jenkins, Florelle Pierson, Elsie Ledet, and Jackie Rambo to name only a few.

THE EAGLE'S GUEST

Following a recess after the holidays, Southland Social and civic groups went into high gear last Sunday, and the day was crowded with interesting events. Sunday morning there was the Les Petite Femmes St. Valentine benefit breakfast that was attended by hundreds of people. Evelyn Williams, the hard working president of the group, reports that the affair was a great financial success.

The Silhouettes also chose St. Valentine as the motif for their Coffee at Kappa Kastle. Large crowds of fashionably dressed men and women also poured in and out of this affair which from all indications and reports was tops in events.

Clara Webb is president.

Then downtown way, the St. Augustine—Westview Hospital Fund gave a Coffee Sip for the clubs of the city. The occasion was highlighted with such personalities as Louise Beavers, Arthur Lee Simpkins, Marilyn Monroe, Eddie Beal and others.

National Negro History Week program was opened Sunday afternoon with a mass meeting at Second Baptist Church. The guest speaker was Dr. Carlton Goodlett of San Francisco. The speaker's subject was "Great Negro Teachers." Dr. Goodlett's lecture was well received by the enthusiastic audience. This year's local leaders for National Negro History Week are Rev. Baxter Duke, chairman, Mrs. Reather D. Beck, co-chairman, and Mrs. Vassie D. Wright, president and organizer of Our Authors Study club.

Springtime is the theme for the Town and Gown Formal dance to be held on March 1st. This year's dance will be graced with the charm of personable Gaynelle Desjournette. Gaynelle has been on a leave of absence for the past few years and is now an active member.

Speaking of concerts and the cultural side of our city, the Lawrence Winters and Ella Belle Davis concert is much talked about in smart circles. The two artists are sponsored by Delta Sigma Theta Sorority at Philharmonic Auditorium on February 24. Invitations to an after concert reception at Wilfandel House honoring the two artists are being issued to purchasers of patron tickets.

Newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Price (nee Alma Ribb) will honeymoon in colorful Mexico City. The couple left Thursday via motor. They will spend five weeks touring Mexico City and the many surrounding places of interest. When Mr. and Mrs. Price return to the States they plan to visit his family in Texas before returning to Los Angeles.

When the charming Alma reaches home she will meet with a pleasant surprise, as her husband is having the Raymond Avenue abode completely redecorated inside and out during her absence.

Harvest Festival

For the next four or five months there follows a period of relative dry weather during which little or no rain falls. As a result there is not much work to be done on the farms. The people have plenty of time at their disposal.

It is a period when young people learn new dances which they exhibit on the many festive occasions. It is also the season of great romance. Young people make love in their typical but unique and fascinating African way. Most marriages take place at this time of the year.

About early in April the rainy season begins again and the people go back to work and hang up their drums and other instruments for the duration.

The "African Harvest Festival" is designed to portray the gaiety which pervades the whole African atmosphere during the harvest season. In this program the African Students Association, the West Coast branch, will bring the culture, music, songs and dances of Africa in original African costumes to the American audience.

These students all have come from Africa to study in the United States and they all intend to go back to their countries to help their people in different capacities. There will be love songs, folk songs, folk dances, wrestling, and an African marriage scene.

Participating in the pageant will be all the African students in the Fred Archer School of Photography, Compton Junior College, Los Angeles City College, College of Medical Evangelists, Occidental College, Pepperdine College, Loyola University, University of California at Los Angeles, and the University of So. California.

The faculty, student body and general public are cordially invited to come and see this special event.

There will be no admission charge.

Egyptian Temple 5 Promises Gala Benefit

Chairman of Egyptian Temple No. 5, Associated Charities, Eddie (Rochester) Anderson this week said he is very pleased at the progress being made on plans for a benefit show to be headed by him.

After several meetings at his home with members of Egyptian Temple's special committee, consisting of Nobles Walter Goodlow (chairman of the Temple's ways and means committee); Theodore Webb, Kenny Washington, Herbert Simpson, Rupert Lucas, W. Scott Chapman, and Chief Rabban Roscoe C. Washington, Assistant Rabban Vernon Strange.

Illustrious Potentate William Goward, Jr. also is pleased with progress being made by the honorary chairman and his special committee and looking forward to formal announcement of time and date of the event.

Virginia Rd. P-TA Party

What might well be called the most impressive and festive meeting of the school year is scheduled at Virginia Road School Thursday, February 14. In keeping with the founding of the Parent Teacher organization the program is planned to review the basic ideals on which the PTA groups were founded by Mrs. Phoebe Apperson Hearst and Mrs. Alice McClellan Berney in 1897.

Past presidents of Virginia Road School will be honored guests at a Homecoming luncheon preceding the official meeting which is to start at 1:30 p.m. Other active PTA workers and community leaders have been extended special invitation for the Homecoming event.

In observance of National Negro History Week and Brotherhood observance throughout the city, the Rev. Harold N. Kinsley, pastor of the Church of Christian Fellowship on West Adams Blvd. will be the guest speaker.

Life membership awards will be presented by Mrs. K. Kinoshita.

Throughout the festivities, a Valentine and birthday party theme will be carried out to enhance the beauty of the ceremonies, according to Mrs. Kenneth Sands, Founders Day chairman.

A very inspiring afternoon is promised to all who attend and a cordial invitation is extended to the community by Mrs. Ferrol Fortier, president.

Alumni Meeting

The Atlanta University School of Social Work Alumni Association held its monthly meeting Monday, February 11, at the home of Mrs. Ross, 3615 Second avenue at 7:30 p.m.

M. Newsome, program chairman, also acted as host. A short business session preceded the program.

Dr. Murray Russell was the guest speaker and a film was shown.

Mrs. Mildred Conyers is president, and Mrs. Dorothy Boone, secretary. Evangeline Woodfolk is reporter. All interested in attending are asked to contact Mrs. Boone at TWinoaks 8701.

Bridging It From Club Pacifico

This week as we give honor to that great patriot, Abraham Lincoln, and the principles he stood for, we also honor the celebration of the "National Negro History Week. In this passing parade we see a very close unity of greatness out of the pages of history and that great documental dedication of Lincoln, "Those who have died there, have not died in vain" for the ideas of great men shall always have a hand in shaping the destiny of us, the living.

Though we are not entirely free we are making progress. Here, as the world over, "we the people" shall continue to fight for the freedom that is our right. Only those who become enslaved to the shackles and the narrow mindedness, those who are self satisfied and those who refuse to yield to the necessity of preparation, for the better ways of living, "for the people and by the people, shall perish from the earth."

In bridge the same principles apply. That is why we of the Club Pacifico have brought you, the people, this wonderful opportunity to prepare yourselves for the better way of living by playing better bridge. That is why we offer you the giant in his profession, Robert Lee Johnson. We wanted you to have the best, that you might become free from your bondage of misconceptions, for as in life, bridge is marching forward.

Previous eigagements prevent us from taking part in the regional being held this week by the Golden West Bridge club, but we wish you much success and take this opportunity to thank your many members who have participated in our Sunday plays.

It was especially nice to have Mrs. May Denton, the president, with us last Sunday. Better luck next time. We also hope that your co-worker and member, Mrs. G. Settles is much improved. Also hear Mrs. Elizabeth Henson is on the sick list so the same to her. Mrs. Myrtle Swanson, member of the Harmony Club who has been in Kansas due to her father's illness, is back again looking like a million.

I. Hamilton and Robert Jarmon were winners in Sunday play. D. Norman and Hughes were second place winners. J. W. Crane and James Robinson took third place. C. Ennis, directed nine changes, 27 boards played in two hours and forty minutes. Quite a record for most of us and enjoyable to all who were present.

Again we thank the members of the Angel City Bridge Club for their patronage. Incidentally, the Angel City club meets every Friday night at the Denker St. Playhouse at 8 o'clock.

To those of you who have never played duplicate bridge or do not like it, we invite you to take part in these lectures and play all the rubber bridge you like. You can still win prizes by putting into practice the knowledge you gain by the masterful instruction of Johnson each Sunday at 3 p.m.

Meanwhile, try your hand at this the number 5 problem in a series of 10.

Pattern of Attack

The arrest of Cairo, Illinois, leaders of the National Association for Advancement of Colored People and their attorney for their determined effort to break down segregation in their local schools is as amazing as the Chicago indictment of attorneys for the victims of the Cicero riot. They are charged with endangering health of school children!

It is apparent that the Illinois law enforcement machine can be manipulated all too easily by those who want to use it to hamstring the Negro's fight for civil rights in that state.

The Chicago indictments were dismissed by the Cook County courts and the probabilities are that this latest lawless use of law enforcement machinery will come to the same end. But it won't do to let the whole matter rest with the dismissal of these indictments.

Evidence is piling up that the NAACP has grown so strong and that it is so much feared by segregationists and their ilk that we can expect more and more attacks on it and more and more attempts to use the law to hamper it and frighten its supporters.

The Cicero indictments, the Cairo arrests, the murder of one of the two Groveland defendants and the killing of Harry Moore and his wife are cut from the same cloth. Sheriff and grand juries alike are law enforcement agencies and in these instances the law was used as a sword to cripple the NAACP and stifle its active effort to safeguard historic constitutional rights. The utter failure of law enforcement agencies to protect the Moores is the reverse side of the same coin: the law has failed to ferret out murderers who used violence in order to silence NAACP leaders who tried to invoke protection of the law.

Plainly the effort is to put the NAACP on the defense and to blunt its attack on segregation. If it can be kept busy defending itself it won't have time or money to press its program.

This threat calls for renewed support of the Association and demands the laying aside of petty differences over its program or approach. For no matter what small faults it may have we can all agree that the NAACP is our best and most effective weapon in the fight for first class citizenship. We must not falter now that our goal is in sight.

Housing and Truth

At the risk of boring some of our readers who know what is at stake we want to point out again that the fate of the city's ten thousand unit low cost housing program will be decided at the June 3 primary election.

Voters will be asked the question of whether or not they want to build these houses to eliminate slum living for the forty or fifty thousand persons who will live in the new dwellings if they are built.

George A. Beavers Jr. is eminently correct in pointing out that opposition to the program stems from the very forces which have tried so hard and so long to impose residential segregation on Negroes and members of other minority groups. The character of that opposition alone should stir Negroes into activity. They know by harsh experience what the Los Angeles Realty Board stands for as far as housing for Negroes is concerned. They know how that outfit fought to keep race restrictive covenants, how it tried to confine Negroes to certain sections of the city when war housing was being built and they know that it even went far enough to propose a consititutional amendment to restore the court enforcement of covenants that was forbidden by the Supreme Court decision.

The facts are there, too, to show that there is no discrimination or segregation in housing built by the Los Angeles Housing Authority. And by the same token everybody knows that privately built housing is closed to Negro ownership and occupancy except in the south part of the city.

In light of these facts—and nobody denies them — it is hard to understand how any Negro can oppose public housing. But there is opposition.

That opposition stems from ill-informed or shortsighted persons who are confused or misled by the constant stream of propaganda that has been poured out to obscure the issue.

It would be a tragedy of the first order if Negro voters were hornswoggled into voting against their own best interests. The one sure way to avoid that unfortunate result is for the NAACP, the Urban eLague and informed individuals to map out a campaign to lay the truth before those voters. And if the truth is known the result will be an overwhelming victory for public housing.

Genuine Public Service

Negro college graduates have often been accused of being lax in playing the part their education fits them for in community life. That charge can't be leveled against the local chapter of the American Council on Human Rights, which is an oragnization of college fraternities and sororities.

That organization has taken the leadership in a vote registration campaign and if it does the kind of a job it promises to do, it will deserve the thanks of all of us.

We've said time and again that all eligible Negro voters ought to be registered and that they ought to vote after their names get on the rolls. We've said just as many times that the proportion of registrants and voters is all too low.

The fall presidential election is just around the corner and at that same election we're going to choose a great many state legislators and other officials.

We'll get the kind of officials we deserve. If we stay away from the polls those officials won't be concerned very much with what we want when they get into office. But if we make our influence felt with our votes the officials will keep a weather eye peeled on our wants and demands.

The Council deserves support in this drive. Let's give it that support.

It's Your YMCA

Ask the first ten men you meet on the street tomorrow and they'll all agree that the YMCA is a community organization that deserves support. And ask the same ten how much they've given in the current drive and we'll hazard the guess that the percentage will be low—very low.

All of which gets us around to urging you, all of you, to give as much as you can for our Y. It has a new secretary — Kenneth A. Morrison — who has initiated a dynamic program and who is working hard to make the Twenty-Eighth Street Branch play the part it should in our civic affairs.

To do its job the Y needs money. Give what you can—today!

Roy Wilkins'

The Watch Tower

The evidence is piling up that the NAACP program of equal rights and the NAACP as an organized body are considered important and dangerous by t[he] white people who don't want Negroes to get out of the rut of second-class citizenship.

Now comes the town of Cairo, Ill., and arrests three officials of the local branch of the association, two parents of children who want to go to a "white" school, and two field officers of the NAACP from the New York headquarters. All these people are charged with endangering the lives of children by seeking to get Negro children enrolled in the schools nearest their homes. The home of the president of the local branch has been shot at, and the home of a Negro doctor there has been bombed. Fiery crosses have been burned nearby. This has happened because Southern Illinois has had segregated schools for many years contrary to state law and now does not want to give up its custom of short-changing its Negro citizens and their children. Some time ago a new law was passed providing that state funds would not be given to any school district that maintains Jim Crow schools. Cairo is going to lose this battle and the Negro parents are going to win, but the measure of their resentment is to be found in their arrest of NAACP officials.

In Florida, as we all know, the state head of the NAACP, Harry T. Moore, was murdered in his bed on Christmas night because he preached the NAACP doctrine. Last fall attorneys for the City of Kansas City, Mo., tried to have Thurgood Marshall, NAACP chief counsel, barred from a Jim Crow swimming pool case, and later in the winter Marshall was barred from a preliminary hearing in Florida by a judge who said Marshall was a member of an organization "stirring up trouble" in Florida.

All of us remember the grand jury indictment voted in Cicero Ill. last summer when an NAACP attorney who was defending the family that had been attacked by the mob was accused of inciting to riot, whereas not a single member of the mob was accused.

This would seem to make plain that the NAACP and its program has become a prime target among those who don't want Negroes to advance. A program must be dangerous (making effective) if murder by bombing is regarded as necessary to stop it, if its officials are arrested, and if efforts are made to bar its lawyers from trials. This must mean that the NAACP is on the right track.

Aside from making this very plain, the terror has failed utterly to frighten Negroes into abandoning their fight for their rights. If anything, they are more determined than ever. They are more united than before, and they are much more angry than they are frightened. The announcement at Jacksonville, Fla. by 211 NAACP leaders from twelve southern states that they intend to concentrate on registration and voting shows that they are getting to the root of the trouble. They intend to have their people have more to say about who is elected to carry out policies, especially law enforcement. That means, also, that in this atmosphere of resentment against terror, no candidate for the Presidency who has a bad or indifferent record on civil rights will get much consideration from Negro voters. Nor, it may be added, will any candidate who woos the South by promising state's rights. The states' rights doctrine helped murder Harry T. Moore.

Battle Axe & Bread

St. Louis furnishes a perfect example of a very profound point made by Professor Ira De A. Reid during his remarks to the annual dinner meeting which the National Urban League and the Urban League of Greater New York held recently at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. Dr. Reid is head of the department of sociology at Hacerford College in Pennsylvania, famed Quaker institution of learning, but fifteen years ago he was the National Urban League's director of research. Thus he knows his sociology from the practical as well as the theoretical side.

Professor Reid pointed out that more and more, as the tide of migration continues to surge c i t y w a r d, economically-disadvantaged groups are moving into the center of our great industrial cities while those of superior economic status are drifing out toward the suburbs. These city centers are apt to be in the process of slowly rotting; thus Negroes and similar newcomers are exposed to the hazards of slum living.

But something else is happening too, Dr. Reid indicated. When the upper and middle income families move out to the suburbs they are also moving into new political j u r i s d i c t i o n s. Though they continue to make their money in the city, they are leaving the other people behind to create and control the city government that affects the way in which money is made. Negroes are becoming an increasingly large proportion of those people who are "left behind." Thus what happens to the way Negroes live, and think and react to their environmental conditions becomes a matter of prime importance to the very people who are trying to escape them as neighbors. If the speaker had been in a mood to quote Joe Louis he would have said: "They might run, but they can't hide."

Now, back to St. Louis. This Border City of hybrid antecedents is not only important as a population center of more than a million people in its metropolitan area; it also sets the pace for racial developments over a vast area. As a great manufacturing center, it is headquarters for a number of national industries and thereby affects employment policies in communities a thousand miles removed. In general, that influence so exerted is not apt to be in favor of the Negro worker. St. Louis thus far has a pretty dismal record in the matter of defense jobs and Negro employment.

According to the St. Louis Urban League, there are around 90,000 defense workers currentemployed in local industry. Of these approximately 4,500 are Negroes. But there are more than 150,000 Negroes in the city, approximately 18 per cent of the total population, while members of their race furnish only 5 per cent of defense labor. Nor is this the whole sad story. Out of those 4,500 Negro defense workers, only 10 per cent are in production (i.e. skilled or semi-skilled) jobs, while the rest are doing ordinary labor.

While this employment has been lagging something else has been happening; the Negro population has been increasing by leaps while the white population has remained static. During the past ten years the former rose by close to fifty per cent while the latter lost a few thousands. What does this mean? It means that while the "best people" continue to turn their noses up when urged to give the Negro population a squarer break—while the town fathers shilly and shally on the matter of better housing, school and health provisions—while serious racial questions are being side-stepped instead of being faced honestly, the Negro population is getting bigger and bigger, actually and proportionately. And is getting madder, too!

And it will learn how to make friends and allies among an additional 20 or 25 per cent of the city's "economically-disadvantaged." And when that alliance is made to stick politically, "there'll be some changes made," and if those changes are not in acordance with sound planning for everybody, and if the "best people" find their noses put out of joint, they'll have no one to blame but themselves.

Our Problem, Brother

Kendrix Komments

WASHINGTON, D. C.—In my book, J. B. Blayton is the biggest name in radio. Blayton is the Atlanta businessman, who, in purchasing Radio Station WERD, became the first Negro to own a standard commercial broadcast outlet.

Through the WERD operation, our people are getting an excellent opportunity to learn the radio industry from the ground up. In connection with WERD, the Blaytons operate a radio school—so their training and practical experience are brought together.

Already graduates are going out from WERD to other stations acros the nation. Young Larry Faulkner, who is now program director for the new interracially owned WSOK in Nashville, got his training and practical experience in the Atlanta station.

Ken Knight, WERD program director, although in radio for a number of years, became probably the first person of his race to become a station program director as a result of Blayton's venture into radio ownership. The same is true of J. B. Blayton, Jr., who is a station manager-first.

Jack Gibson, a rather sharp disc jockey, who pulled out of Chicago to go to Atlanta for work at WERB, once told me that even in Chicago his jockeywork was confined to talking about the records. In Atlanta, he had the experience of doubling as a studio engineer. Jack is now at Louisville's WLOU.

Over the nation there are many disc jockeys. Here in Washington, Jon Massey, WWDC, Hal Jackson, WUST, and Cliff Holland, WOOK, are making decent livings turning the plates. Holland, incidentally, was recently moved to the spot of program director at WOOK, the mother outlet of the five-station United Broadcasting Company.

My friend Paul E. X. Brown, chief announcer at WERD nad publicity man for the Shriners, tells me that when he was in the disc jockey business in the Chicago area in 1944-45, there now are more than seven Negro disc jockeys in all of the nation. Now almost every sizable city has one or more.

Brown started in 1942 as a newscaster. This brings me to another area of radio in which I would like to call some names. The greater portion of our people who are in the news end of radio are still doing "The Negro in the News."

Some of our radio personalities, even the disc jockeys, are getting the opportunity to do general newscasting. But I feel that William Boyd, the Ph.D head of the division of political science at Atlanta University, is about the cream of the crop of radio newsmen.

Heard three times a week, at WERD, Boyd is a keen analyst of the news and his commentaries on local, national and international affairs are of a sort that would do justice to any network audience. In the opinion of this corner, Boyd is a good example of the opening opportunities in radio.

Out in the St. Louis area, "Howard Woods Reports" is a newscast that deserves god mention. Howard B. Woods, city editor of the St. Louis Argus, carries a straight news program five nights a week from WTMV, East St. Louis, Illinois. Heard in the Greater St. Louis area, Woods is sponsored by one of that city's bigger banks.

We could mention William Fowlkes of Atlanta, who has two WERD commentaries w e e k l y, Paul Brown, also of WERD, who does the five-minute newscasts for that station. And looking back a year or so, there was Dr. Rayford W. Logan, with a weekly commentary on international affairs from WWDC. Logan was believed to be the first of the race to carry such a program.

We are just getting started in radio, but the progress to date is good. And from radio, the roads lead to television, radio being a type of under-graduate school for this rapidly growing industry.

ON THE BOOKSHELF

This is Negro History Week. The fascinating story of the rise of a people from slavery and poverty is told in books suggested by the public library to show the extent of the problems faced by Negroes and the severe odds they are overcoming.

A MAN CALLED WHITE
By Walter F. White

The courageous life of the man long general secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People should be read by every American. More than a personal history—though it is always vividly that—it is a saga of twentieth century democracy in action and a great attempt to make it work. Mr. White, who could himself have passed as a white man yet chose to remain with his own p e o p l e and carry on their struggle, does not blink unpleasant facts. Yet in the long run, the reader retains a feeling of hope. Much needs to be done; but s l o w l y, little by little, against the threats of Totalitarism, American society is making democracy work.

ON BEING NEGRO IN AMERICA
By J. Saunders Redding

A document of deep human appeal which presents a frank, yet philosophic, summary of the problem of the Negro in our society. Mr. Redding's final conclusion is that the race problem, like most other social problems, could be solved if only men would live up to Christ's teachings. Although he doubts that this can be brought about in our imperfect world, and he is filled with some misgivings about the future, most readers of every race wil appreciate his simple, eloquent appear for justice and humanity.

Chez Leon, lots of French and Bohemian atmosphere is found in this swank little Figueroa Street nitery. Maurice Saunders, the sweet mistress, is a master in the culinary department, her art or process of turning out the best dinner in town is not amazing. It is natural with her.

It will be smart if Maurice gets Kenny Washington or Ez. Anderson to invite Addison Hawthorne, USC newest and hottest football recruit in years, to one of her crazy dinners. Will lay you even money you'll soon have the football crowd.

Despite the rumors that are being circulated by someone obvious trying to save his face for blowing a bird nest on the ground. It got to the Eagle office that the place was closed. Maurice tells us that the law requires the Chez to close at 2 a.m. until 6 p.m. and that is the only time the doors are shut. If you want to give a grand gal a break, drop in for one for the road or a real heavy meal that goes light on your pocketbook.

MODERN OFFICE is the Broadway Federal Loan Association. Managed by the capable Richard R. Wright III, a gent who is fast becoming a moving factor in the community. Inside the smartly arranged office you see just what the popular manager has to work with. The persons of Juanita Heard, Lucille Mathews, Joan Jackson, Helen Dommasch and Daisy Coven denote modern office class.

SIGHT-ITEMS James Watkins, shopping for a light picnic in the Val Verde hills. The bags were heavy after leaving Manuel's Avalon street house of name brands. The outing included Walter Mitchel, Jefferie Mitchel, Clotle Sims, Gloria Jet, Fred Ransom and wifie.

CHARTRUESE FABRIQUEE' is the latest drink according to Steve Lockett, Reginald Williams, Margo Collins and Porter Mann, were using the Red Hut Broiler parking lot to introduce it. Gotta admit it is wild and inexpensive.

TEETH CHATTERS—when coffee brown Mamie Moore goes strolling down Western Ave., so sorry men she is much married to music master Oscar Moore.

EUGENE JOHNSON and pretty wifie beating high prices at Boys market.

MARSHALL & SONS — better hurry and do something about that sign overhanging the Ascot Street barber shop. Handsome Bud Marshall who hasn't been lured into the two dollar club is the keeper of the shop.

JERRY SOLOMON is as chic and cute as the LAJC days.

EARL PERRY proud papa of his 2½ year old son who drew down the house at the recent Al. Jarvis TV show.

MEN OVER FORTY — better watch your style chart. House of Berman tell me that is the age men can dress their smartest.

ALVIN NUNNELEE—man-about town is a living example. His smart selection of clothes and colors makes him one of our better dressers. Most of our successful men over forty seem to think that price makes the garment. Boxed-back, tight-fitting suits won't make a smart appearance.

BETTY HARRIS, home for a few weeks just can't get use to the old town. She has been finding heaven in northern California living.

COTY JEAN JOHNSON — once the belle of LAJC campus has a son that may make track history. Already the 13-year-old has pocketed two Junior Olympic titles.

JOHN BRODDE, who shocked the peasants years ago wearing big brim hats, lived to see his style accepted. He will soon be a father.

TWENTY MAGIC PACES—that's Dolphin's, the two for one record man and he tells us that DAMITA JO-latest wax "How Long Can I Live," is outselling everything this week.

SINGERS URGED TO JOIN ADULT CHORUSES FOR NBC BROADCAST

The South Central and West Adams Adult Civic Choruses will be heard over the coast-to-coast NBC network on Good Friday, when they join with other city-sponsored choruses in singing portions of Bach's mighty "St. Matthew Passion," it was announced by Jester Hairston and Albert McNeil, directors of the choruses.

Hairston announced that qualified singers in the South Central area are still welcome to be auditioned for the chorus and participate in the NBC broadcast and other South Central Chorus activities and concerts. He can be reached at 3959 La Salle street.

McNeil announced the same for qualified singers in the Adams-Jefferson area.

The South Central Adult Civic Chorus, which meets every Monday night from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at George Washington Carver Junior High School, 805 East 45th Street, is one of 13 adult choruses sponsored by the City of Los Angeles Bureau of Music. There is no charge for membership in the South Central Chorus—one of the most successful and frequently-performing Bureau of Music units—and music for the "St. Matthew Passion" will be loaned free to members.

The West Adams chorus is now meeting every Monday night from 8 to 10 p.m. at the Sixth Avenue School, 3109 Sixth Ave., corner of Jefferson, under its new director, one of the city's outstanding and inspiring choral leaders.

Both directors urged local singers to attend this Mondays' chorus session so that they could be integrated with the group before the next combined rehearsal by all of the choruses. For those unable to attend this Monday, the combined rehearsal on Monday, Feb. 25 at Berendo Junior High School will mark their last opportunity to enroll in time to take part in the broadcast. The Berendo School, at which the Feb. 25th special rehearsal will be held, is located at 1157 So. Berendo St., two blocks west of Vermont Ave. and two blocks south of Olympic Blvd.

IN CONCERT SUNDAY—Marian Anderson, America's great singer, will appear in concert in Philharmonic Auditorium on Sunday afternoon, February 17th, at 2:30. This will be the noted contralto's only recital in Southern California this season.

CLUB ALABAM SHOW TERRIFIC

Terrific is the adjective for the show at the New Club Alabam. Two top acts with a high class supporting cast spells a highly entertaining evening at the Central avenue bistro.

The two stars of the show, Mabel Scott and Dinah Washington, put on a battle of talent in their widely divergent entertainment styles, that leaves the patrons ga-ga with excitement. In the opening show Tuesday night before a packed house, both stars shown so bright that after almost exhausting their repertoire of songs, their fans were still pounding the tables and screaming for more.

However the sneaker in the show is the sophisticated comedy team of Foxx and White. Their zany antics, fast patter and satirical takeoffs brought the house down. Their act is a smooth combination of the visual, auditory, and ludicrous that makes hilarious entertainment.

Rounding out the well balanced show is a dance act by

DINAH WASHINGTON

Happy Feet, and several spectacular numbers by the girls of the ensemble.

Music is furnished by Calvin Boze's band without Calvin Boze. Leonard Reed takes his place and also serves as Master of Ceremonies.

3 Negro Stars In Red Ball Express

Sidney Poitier, "Bubber" Johnson and Robert Davis, a trio of well-known Negro actors, are prominent members of the cast of Universal-International's "Red Ball Express," a film saga of the activities of the U. S. Army Transportation Corps during World War II.

The California Eagle first exposed the plans to make the "Red Ball Express" without portraying the valiant role the Negro soldier had in its success as a military operation. Shortly afterward the script was changed to include Negro soldiers.

The three men head a cast of approximately one hundred Negro extras and bit players who also work in the film in support of stars Jeff Chandler, Alex Nicol and Charles Drake.

Both Poitier and Johnson are well-known on the New York legitimate stage, having appeared in top theatrical productions during the past few years. Their roles in "Red Ball Express" serve as motion picture debuts for the two men.

Robert Davis is well-known in Hollywood for his screen work. He has appeared in dozens of motion pictures during the past several years.

The three actors enact the roles of army transportation truck drivers in the action-packed film, and all worked "on location" at Fort Eustis, Virginia, where most of the scenes in the picture were filmed.

Aside from his acting activities, Sidney Poitier is the owner of a popular Harlem restaurant which he calls "Ribs in the Rough."

Harlem Globetrotters Strut Stuff in Picture

"The Harlem Globetrotters," razzle-dazzle miracle men of pro-basketball team that turned the hoop game into big-time entertainment strut their inimitable stuff in the Columbia picture which starts Saturday, February 16 at the RKO Hillstreet and Pantages theatres. The new film features Thomas Gomez, Dorothy Dandridge, Bill Walker and the original Harlem Globetrotters.

Gomez plays Abe Saperstein, the team's manager who nearly a quarter of a century ago organized the Globetrotters, now the "standing room only" sensations of five continents.

Miss Dandridge, who has been called a "new Lena Horne" portrays the sweetheart of one of the Trotters' star players, while Bill Walker has the role of a college professor.

Topping the bill will be Howard Hughes "Las Vegas Story" starring three top screen favorites, Jane Russell, Victor Mature and Vincent Price. It is an action-packed story played against a background of Nevada's glittering sporting centre. Hoagy Carmichael, as a piano playing philosopher, and Brad Dexter, as a criminal adventurer head the supporting cast.

Blanche Drew Says: "You'll be glad . . . that you bought your "pad" from ABARIS REALTY, 11226 So. Central Ave. (Phones: LO. 9-8138, 39 and 30).

Jackie Robinson Appointed to NBC Radio Post

NEW YORK CITY—Jackie Robinson, one of the foremost athletes in America, has signed a two-year contract with WNBC and WNBT radio and television outlets of the National Broadcasting Company in New York City, and will serve as the stations' Director of Community Activities, it has been announced by General Manager Ted Cott.

The new position will encompass programming, public relations and merchandising. As Director of Community Activities, Robinson's duties call for performing on the air and supervising the stations' over-all programming for youth, with particular emphasis placed on the development of children's programming in sports.

In addition to his program activities, Robinson will play an important role in WNBC's increased merchandising operation, and will hold special meetings in the food and drug field.

Harvey Brooks Joins Kid Ory's Jazz Band

Harvey Brooks, noted pianist and equally noted songwriter, who authored the popular, "A Little Bird Told Me" and scores of other numbers, has been signed with the famed Kid Ory Dixieland orchestra. Brooks replaces Lloyd Glenn, who is forming his own combo in preparation for a tour to plug his own recordings.

The Kid Ory band is currently at the Beverly Cavern Club. Music fans will remember the band as Kid Ory's Original Creole Band.

Music I Hear

NETTA PAULLYN GARNER

The radio, recordings and the universal novelty of television are rapidly destroying the response to publicized names and extravagant advertising and in its stead is the well deserving advent of music for its real value. Music, after all, is more than sensation, glamour and publicity. Big names alone are not drawing the Los Angeles public. We are willing to pay for what we are going to hear. We have grown up. Music in the flesh is a greater attraction to the smaller communities. Since this is true, the name Harold Swanson is not as important as his orchestral work, a symphony which was rated by New York music critics as the best new work presented to the musical public this season. I was glad the prefix Negro was added to his name for the good Norwegian name, Swanson, would have deprived us of the pride which we feel for such an accomplishment by a member of our racial group. His symphony was played at the Edinburgh, Scotland, festival last summer, at which time our recent soloist was a first to be included in that series.

Alfred Wallenstein includes many new works on his symphony programs and the Swanson symphony is under discussion for next season programming.

Martha Daugn Locke, soprano, charmed audiences this season nationally and internationally. A large but rainy audience heard her superb singing in the Santa Monica Civic Auditorium last week. Her voice is a clear lyric organ of appealing timbre and floats effortlessly forth with perfect finesse and shading. Her program was unhackneyed and she has been successful in unearthing Yiddish folk songs which she includes on each program. She will be heard in Los Angeles this season.

Artists who have the fundamentals of greatness possess a quietness that very often eludes our appreciation. Solomon, the British pianist, is just such a musician. Making music comes as naturally to him as breathing. He was born to play the piano. Despite the downpour of rain, the Philharmonic Auditorium was completely filled, for his devotees realize he plays with an awareness for details and with all he combines the different temperaments of the larger works into a complete whole.

His program covered a wide scope, opening with two Bach fugues from the "Well Tempered Clavier" followed by a Mozart sonata that sparkled in a flawless design, then Brahms with romantic sweeps, followed by DeBussy and Ravel in sensuous imagination. His encores included some Chopin.

There will always be great musicians because great people think deeply and produce greatly, but the contemporary medium tends to influence the day in which we find ourselves. Great playing such as Solomon produces can be standardized as some of the most eloquent this or any other generation has ever heard.

Abdeen Ali Succumbs

Death came to Abdeen Ali, former noted musical stage figure here Wednesday, February 6, after a long illness. The body was shipped to Waveland, Miss., following preparation for shipment by the Angelus Funeral Home morticians.

The deceased was a mamber of the former dance trio known throughout the land as the Ali Brothers and Jackson. It was composed of Bardu Ali, John Jackson and Abdeen Ali. The dead man was of East Indian extraction.

Bardu Ali, brother of the deceased, has been a long time resident of this city. He was a former leader of the Chick Webb band. Abdeen Ali had lived here about two years before his passing.

The old Judge mounted the bench with a thoughtful look on hsi face. He and a few of his colleagues had been arguing about the basic nature of man. There was one school of thought that held that man was born bad and to act bad was natural. The other school held that man acted naturally and was considerd a bad actor due to false ideas of good and bad. Then as always there was the neutral school that held man both good and bad. "I'm an optimist, and from now on I'm going to try to see the good in everybody," resolved the Judge with grim determination.

Ella Mae Jefferson, 302 E. 42nd place is a good old soul. She invited Ventura Watson as a guest in her home. Ventura overstayed her welcome and was gently urged by Ella Mae to find quarters elsewhere. She did, taking a $60 typewriter with her. Remembering his resolve the Judge thought, "Maybe she just wanted to run a classified ad in the Eagle, or pawn it for her first month's rent."

Homer Lee Walker, 1275 E. 11th street is a man who knows where he wants his car parked. When he left it parked at 55th and McKinley and his wife Cleo tried to move it, he beat her, bit her, and also whipped his daughter who was in the car. Still trying to see the good the Judge remarked, "Guess a man's got some rights."

Sam B. Jones, 1622 E. 27th street was playing cards at 2675 Long Beach with James McClain, 1519½ E. 15th street and Ira Kimble, Jr., 1515 E. 15th Street. Kimble and McClain accused Sam of cheating and an argument ensued. Sam left saying "I'll do a MacArthur," and came back loaded.—with a shotgun. He fired one shot at Kimble and held the gun on Ira while he relieved him of 10 bucks. For gallantry in action Newton officers awarded him with a pin striped overall suit.

Audrey H. Henderson, 483 E. 49th street, got angry when he came home to his pregnant wife Rosetta and she did not answer his fond hello. He took off his belt and beat her about the face. "Hummmph" shrugged the Judge trying to be optimistic.

Charlie Blake, 1401½ E. 15th street was buncoed for $165. Constance Tyler, 4237 S. Main street, buncoed for $800. "They really believe in their fellow man," mused the Judge.

Harry C. Thompson, 500 E. 35th street and Wilford Proveo got in an argument in a bar at 4008 S. Central. As Thompson left, Proveo was waiting for him and stabbed him several times. "Musta been drinking a bad brand of whiskey," mused the Judge, still trying to see the good side.

Charlie L. Latimore, 4609 Wadsworth, Oliver Williams, 1104 E. 40th place, Robert E. Harris, 1209¼ E. 40th place, Cleo Clonon, 200 E. 51st street, Thomas J. Stones, 239 E. Vernon, Robert Brown, 2624 Van Buren place and Beatrice Lewis, 1194 E. 35th street were arrested for bookmaking. "Gotta give them credit for having guts to buck the G. That reminds me, must call Joe and get down on Block to Block in the fifth."

Benjamin Lee, 5117½ Compton and William Parks, 5117 Compton had been drinking and quarreled over the rent on Bennie's room. Bennie got mad and threw water glass at Parks, hitting him in the head. "Sure got a good throwing arm" said the Judge, still full of sweetness and light.

Joseph Harris Rievas, 450½ E. 47th street and Frank Williams, 728 Crocker, were pulling a bunco on John D. Porter, 1660 E. 47th street trying to get him to withdraw $5000 from the bank when police smelled pigeon droppings and rushed to the rescue. "Best damb police dept. in the country," cried the Judge.

Ida Smith cut Paul K. Smith with a butcher knife when he came home late." He probably was running hog-wild and she was just trying to slice off a pork chop," excused the Judge with a weak laugh as he remembered what time he rolled in that morning.

Jewel Benton, 709 E. 40th place and his wife Iola Benton, had a real knock-down and drag out fight using a knife, bottle and can opener. Iola lost and had to be given a blood transfusion at General hospital. "Love, love, love," hummed the Judge.

Atha Ellison, 1261 E. 25th St. reports that Cornelius Watkins thought she was talking to another man on the phone, grabbed the phone and hit her over the head with it, knocked her down, choked and bit her. "She probably was," snickered the Judge. "A little jealousy is good in any love affair."

Willie Mae Austin, 4416 Stanford Ave., got in an argument with hubby Leroy over money. He ended it by beating her about the head with his fists. "You know how money excites some people," excused the Judge.

Willie Mitchell, 720 E. 42nd place called Ceola Mitchell, 4320 Hondutas, on the phone and asked to see her. When she refused to answer, he came to the house, struck her on the face and left an 8 inch cut across her throat. "A real determined fellow," sallied the Judge.

Lloyd E. Galloway, 1270 East Vernon, got in an argument with Minnie Foster, 1264 Vernon, over parking in an alley. She called police who gave him a ticket. When they left he asked Minnie why she had called Nab Jones and she replied by hitting him over the head with a table lamp. "That's enough," roared the Judge. "I don't mind people fighting over money, love, or whiskey, but when they begin battling over parking spaces, law and order will soon break down."

how hard it is until you have to start looking."

A serviceman, stationed at San Diego Naval base, when hearing of the sudden eviction notice requested a leave of absence from his commanding officer. He was granted one immediately for the emergency. Hughston Smith, 481, said, "I don't know if I can get a place or not. I just got in this evening and I am pretty confused.

They should not run people out like they aren't human. My wife and I have three children and she is expecting another. I earn $164 a month and the allotment is $140."

A warning was made by Frank Hartman, block representative for number 14. "I went to a Burbank rental service. Take it from me, stay away from the joints."

Robert Brown, who acted as moderator of the group revealed, "I went way out to Lawndale to see if a place could be had. We were told by the owner that he would accept children. The place he took us to was built off a dirt road. The places were chicken coops and rented for $16 a week."

In a quiet manner, Sy Winch, a Carnation employee, said that he moved into Rodger Young from Altadena where the rent was high and he had to pay all utilities. After we were settled here, we purchased the necessary furniture and appliances. If we move, we will have to give up our furniture in order to eat. Most of the places on my route rent for $95 furnished.

Mrs. Elizabeth Land says she is very frightened. Her husband is fighting in Korea. She has three children ages two, three and five months.

It was agreed by the group to conduct a survey to establish incomes of residents. Only to be used for research, it is an attempt by the residential council to aid the city council in its fact finding proceedings.

Veterans adviser, Al Wineberg, said that he had turned over the resolution to many veteran associations who were going to take up the battle. He suggested that nothing should be done which would later cause embarrassment. Wineberg congratulated the residents on the manner they have attempted to solve the problem.

Councilmen J. Holland and Timberly Allen who were invited to attend the meeting failed to appear.

New Trial Starts In Groveland Case

Laurence Woodward, of New York, former psychology professor at Cornell University and a researcher for Elmo Roper Associates, was kept on the stand for several hours explaining how the poll had been conducted.

NAACP Asked Survey

The NAACP, he said, had requested the survey in four mid-Florida counties—Marion, where the trial is being held; Lake, where in November Sheriff Willis McCall seridusly wounded Irvin and killed his co-defendant Samuel Shepherd; Gadsen; and Jackson. The NAACP had asked for the survey to determine the "attitudes of the residents in respect to the trial."

The prosecution asked Woodward why they had gone to every "Tom, Dick and Harry" for an opinion, instead of confining themselves to the voters list.

Atty. Marshall Admitted

Earlier on Monday Judge Futch reversed his previous ruling and permitted NAACP Attorneys Thurgood Marshall and Jack Greenberg to join the defense counsel. He had refused to admit them at the hearing in Tavares last month.

More than a hundred Negroes watched intently from the gallery. Several hundred whites sat in main floor seats. Uniformed members of the Florida state highway patrol kept a close eye on the courtroom.

Never before has a trial in Ocala received so much interest from an aroused nation.

Backdrop of Terror

Irvin's fate is being decided against a backdrop of terror in Florida which culminated on Christmas night with the bomb-murder of the state's NAACP leader, Harry T. Moore, and his wife, Harriet.

Six weeks earlier, Sheriff McCall had shot and killed Shepherd and fired three bullets into Irvin's chest. Irvin miraculously lived and told of the horrible night ride from the State Penitentiary at Raiford and the shootings. But McCall was exonerated by a coroner's jury.

Following the death of Moore and his wife, a wave of protest against Florida justice has engulfed the nation. Last week the New Jersey legislature memorialized President Truman to see to it that criminals in Florida are brought to justice. Protest meetings have been held in scores of cities. Labor, church, civic groups from Maine to San Francisco have demanded action.

Faces New Ordeal

And now Irvin again faces the ordeal of a trial for rape of a white woman in 1949 in Groveland. The woman had claimed that four Negroes had raped her. She could not identify the men, but four young Negroes were charged with the crime, though one of them was in jail for vagrancy when the crime was allegedly committed.

A posse swept down on the Negro community of Groveland, burned Negro houses, killed one of the accused.

Before the trial of the other three commenced, the newspapers of the area were screaming for blood. They quoted the sheriff as declaring that the men had "confessed," and one of the papers published a drawing of electric chairs with the caption: "No Compromise—Supreme Penalty."

This was the atmosphere in which the trial was conducted before an all-white jury in Judge Futch's court. Charles Greenlee, the 16-year-old lad who had been in jail when the woman said she was raped, was sentenced to life imprisonment. Irvin and Shepherd were sentenced to death.

The NAACP appealed the death sentences. In April, 1951 the Supreme Court of the United States unanimously reversed the convictions and ordered a new trial. Sheriff McCall was conducting the two men to the new trial in November of last year when he shot both of them. At a hearing at Tavares last month, the site of the trial was changed to Ocala.

Student Who Broke Color Bar Fired From Job

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — Gene Mitchell Gray's triumph at becoming the first Negro student enrolled at the University of Tennessee is not an unmixed blessing.

The day after his enrollment, he lost his job at a Knoxville hotel. With two children to support, he tried to get work elsewhere, but was given the "cold shoulder" wherever he applied.

His mother, Mrs. Bernice Taylor, was also victimized. She has been aiding him financially, but shortly after he was admitted to the university, she, too, was fired.

A group of Knoxville Negroes have undertaken to aid Gray while he carries on his studies in bio-chemistry.

County Janitor Head to Keep Present Post

The Woman's Political Study Club this week praised the Board of Supervisors on their fairness and understanding in regard to a proposed economy program that would have consolidated the janitors and elevator service men now headed by Robert Z. Hardon, with a larger department of the County.

On a motion made by Leonard J. Roach, Supervisor of the second district, the board decided to continue this department as a separate department with Hardon as a department head.

Roach pointed out the fact that he could see no saving to the County by the merger and praised Hardon and his entire force for rendering efficient and outstanding service to the County and general public. By a unanimous vote of the board, Hardon will continue as Superintendent of janitors and elevator service men.

Man Killed in Fight Over Can of Beer

By EDDIE LEE KING

"Sherman I Am Dead" was the feeble cry of Ural Vaughn, 32 of 1337 East 78th street as Milton Lee Allen, 23, Valley Dale Trailer Court, 119th & Willowbrook avenue sat on top of him and plunged a butcher knife into his chest, during the early dawn of Saturday.

Friday evening Allen and Vaughn met at the 78th street address and watched the wrestling matches on television. Later Allen asked Vaughn to go with him to have a few beers. They returned around 4:30 a.m. Saturday and got into an argument over who drank the last bottle of beer.

Sherman Hurst, 1337 East 78th street heard them arguing and got out of bed and went into the living room where Allen and Vaughn were to stop the argument and saw Vaughn pick up a butcher knife and Allen pick up a table lamp; he then pushed them apart and made both men put down their weapons. Hurst then went upstairs to 1337½ East 78th street to the home of Edward Diggs Allen, Milton's brother, in order to get him to help quiet the disturbance.

When Edward Allen and Hurst returned they observed Milton Allen in a sitting position on top of Vaughn, with a butcher knife raised over his head. Milton Allen then plunged the knife deep into Vaughn's chest and Vaughn cried out "Sherman I am dead" and began coughing. Edward Allen then told Milton Allen to get his wife, who was ustairs at Edward's home, and to go home. Milton Allen and his wife then left in their 1940 Chevrolet sedan.

Edward Allen took the knife away from his brother before he left and left it on the drainboard of the sink in the kitchen. He noticed that Vaughn was bleeding profusely, therefore he and Hurst wrapped him in a blanket and carried him to their car and drove him to the Georgia Street Receiving Hospital where Vaughn was pronounced dead.

Milton was arrested at the home of his brother J. B. Allen, 1040 West Washington boulevard.

Milton Allen told the Sheriff's deputies that while he and Vaughn were fighting Vaughn kicked him in the mouth and that was when he stabbed Vaughn.

The Los Angeles County Coroner's inquest is set for 9:30 a.m. February 15.

Businesswoman Dies Following Illness

Funeral services for J. Dexter Montgomery, prominent Eastside businessman who died at Queen of Angels Hospital after a brief illness, were held Tuesday at Avalon Funeral home. In the service station business for 15 years Mr. Montgomery owned and operated his station at 43rd and Avalon for the Signal Oil Co., being the oldest operator in this section.

He leaves a son, J. Dexter Montgomery Jr.; a brother Renfro; four nephews, Roscoe and Russell Weathers of Los Angeles, Dunbar and Lawrence Weathers of New York; and a niece, Mrs. Floy Johnson of Wilberforce, O.

Rev. Baxter Duke officiated. Interment was at Rosedale.

Floridans Try to Stem Criticism

MIAMI, Fla.—Peace officers in Florida have been attempting to counter the nationwide censure of "justice" in this terror-ridden state. Their efforts to air their "defense" over the radio, however, met a rebuff last week.

The Liberty Network cancelled a series of broadcasts planned by Florida Peace Officers' Association. The action was taken following protests over a broadcast by Rev. Lloyd King of the association.

Rev. King declared that a "racial hate organization" stirred up trouble when a sheriff killed a Negro, but kept silent when a Negro killed a sheriff.

Sentinel Knifes NAACP

Jim Crow; that the Sentinel under her direction is retarding the fight for constitutional rights.

We're saying these things because we think that the Sentinel readers and advertisers ought to know them. We think they ought to face up to the fact that their support of the Sentinel is making them partners—unwilling or unknowing partners, perhaps—but nevertheless PARTNERS in Mrs. Moore's crusade FOR Jim Crow and AGAINST the best interests of Negroes.

Contrast the Sentinel with the Eagle since we took it over in May.

The Sentinel is against the NAACP. We're for it.

The Sentinel is against FEPC. We're for it.

The Sentinel hasn't printed a SINGLE word about the Florida murders and bombings. We've told you the whole story.

The Sentinel wouldn't print the NEWS about the Cicero riots. Our files are replete with the news of that assault on Negro rights.

The Sentinel won't even support college organizations that are promoting a voter registration campaign. We're all for registration of voters.

The Sentinel is against public housing which will provide homes for hundreds of Negro families. We're for it.

Those are sample attitudes.

Ask yourself what kind of a newspaper YOU want.

And remember, you'll get the kind of a newspaper you WANT AND DESERVE by the support you give.

A. J. Wells to Head Avalon Civil Defense

Alfred J. Wells, 157¾ East 36th street, has been appointed community warden for the Avalon area, Americ Hadley, head of the Block Warden Division, of Los Angeles' civil defense organization, announced this week.

Wells replaces Smith W. Green, Jr., who was forced to resign the community warden post for personal and business reasons. Green will continue to serve in the capacity of assistant and advisor to his successor, however, Hadley reported.

The new Avalon community warden was promoted from the post of neighborhood warden which he had held since last July.

Wells joins approximately 65 other community wardens serving throughout Los Angeles 453 square miles in carrying out the functions of the Block Warden Division.

Wells, a retired building contractor, is a native of Holly Springs, Mississippi, but has lived in Los Angeles since 1926.

During World War I, he served in the Quartermaster Corps of the U.S. Army's 365th Infantry.

Included in his family are his wife and two sons, Frank, 30, and George, 28.

Gang Killer

swank home, under the pretext of delivering a package, and shot Crane after forcing him to lie down on the floor.

Big Time Operator

Crane, who was suspected by the authorities of being a big-time narcotic dealer and white slaver, was a native of Seattle, Washington, where his father, Felix Crane, was a big time gambler. Crane attended the University of Washington for several semesters, and was a popular sportsman and social figure on the Pacific Coast.

His listed vocations were importer and prize-fight manager. He had made a financial killing right after the war importing batteries to the Phillipines.

At the time of his slaying, the local underworld buzzed with the word that it was the result of welching on a big narcotic deal.

Crane was in Los Angeles with one of his fighters, Melvin Johnson, who had a main event bout at the Olympic Auditorium. After the fight, his party visited several spots on Western avenue, then retired to the Shaw household, where he and Jean Robinson were the house guests of Marian Shaw. Her husband, Barney Shaw, was in the East attending the World Series.

About 11:00 o'clock on the morning of October 1, two men knocked on the door of the Shaw residence with a package to deliver and gained admittance. They stated that it was a holdup and forced the two women and Crane to lie on the kitchen floor. Suddenly a shot rang out and Crane was mortally wounded. Both men left immediately, without disturbing or taking anything, leaving the package behind.

From the handwriting on the package, which was full of bits of paper, a description of the man, and a general description of the automobile driven by them, detectives R. H. Howsley and W. E. Tool went to work on the case. They soon established that Burton was one of the men wanted in connection with the killing.

The FBI stepped into the case when it was reported that Burton had been seen in Las Vegas. His arrest was on a federal warrant charging flight across a state line to avoid prosecution.

He was arrested on a tip from a man who heard about the fugitive on a radio program. Burn scars on his hands from an old welding accident had been unsuccessfully disguised with makeup, and it was the scars which attracted the tipster's attention.

Burton has a criminal record dating back to 1921. He had been living the past four years at Powell, Wyo., under the name of Winston L. Jeter. Usually reliable underworld sources stated that Burton is a man known to "sing" when put under pressure, and if he talks he is expected to involve some big names in the local narcotic picture.

return was a hit and added new laurels for the gal with the rhythm in a song.

COURT ROOM BOOGIE — featuring Jimmy Witherspoon is set for Feb. 18 when his fighting young barristers, Atty. James Reese and Lang will plead his case.

STANLEY'S—that groovy Vernon and Avalon Street joy house music is handled by Warren "Blimp" Earl, Chas. Norman, Red Morris and P. J. Johnson the band is known as the Rocket.

LILLIE MAE JARMON — eye-catching lady barber is off to San Francisco for a few days.

LIBBY CLARK—would like very much for the culprits who made off with purse in front of the NAACP office last week, to return her important papers and no question asked.

DINAH WASHINGTON—moves into the CLUB ALABAM this week. HORACE CLARK'S—Magnolia Room is really the home of hospitality.

PARADISE LOUNGE—Chinese dishes and Kentucky Whiskey highballs are the rage at the 55th Street spot.

WALDORF CELLAR — is attracting delightful week-end crowd.

GLORIA ROSE—a lovely California lass does well as a model of fashion. The young brownskin is rated as one of the best dressed among the younger set. THEY SAY—that the new Hotel Booker T. Washington in San Francisco is the show place for people of note. C. R. Lane is the manager. NEW NOTES IN TUNES—Joe Liggins and his Honeydrippers are about to release a tune that should out-sell their "Honeydripper" of a few years back.

CHARLES TRAMMEL—the disc jockey with a zip in his program tells us he is about to come up with something big in music. Trammel's program rates high with the music lovers.

JOHN F. SIMMONS, enterprising young medic is just recuperating from a serious illness. Shortly before his illness Simmons was making big plans for his opening of his South Los Angeles office. Now that he regained his health plus dropping 20 pounds from his near 200 pound frame he is completing his plans. The South L. A. area will be getting another outstanding young genius in the physician and surgeon.

MEMBERSHIP CLUB — Rumors are flying in the select circle that the new locker club that carries an Avalon Street address will be out of this world. It is reported that many of the city's wheels are members and it is to be run strictly first class.

Miracles Performed for Large Men at Snyder's

Japanese Collegiate Club To Present Negro Culture Program at City College

A program presenting Negro culture will be offered at Los Angeles City College auditorium by the California Intercollegiate Nisei (Japanese-American) Organization in conjunction with Los Angeles State College and Los Angeles City College on February 16, at 8 p.m.

Although the program is designed to be of particular interest to the collegiate group, the general public is welcome.

Loren Miller, prominent attorney, authority on restrictive covenants and publisher of the California Eagle, and Bob Kodama, former director of All People's Community Center and board member of the Los Angeles County Conference on Community Relations, will speak on cultural relationships.

Serita Carmargo, film choreographer from the West Indies and former dance instructor at UCLA, will perform "Prayer for All Peoples" from her modern dance suite, "Dance of Unity."

"Florence," a one-act play written by Alice Childress, will be put on by the Negro Art Theatre, directed by Joel Fluellen and starring Marietta Canty, Broadway and Hollywood actress.

Also on the program is one of the first showings of the UCLA Theatre Arts department movie, "Introduction to Jazz," which is directed by Dennis Saunders, a modern dance, "Interno," to be put on by Omega Theta, Negro modern dance group from Compton Junior College; Negro spirituals by the Charles Grose Choir, a reading of "The Creation," poem by James Weldon Johnson, featuring Dion Morrow, student at Pepperdine College.

Wardell Moss, student at UCLA and president of Kappa Alpha Psi, Negro fraternity, will give the closing speech.

A social program of dancing to the music of Bob Fedman's combo and the singing of Chickie Ishihara and art exhibits by Negro artists will climax the evening's activities. Refreshments will be served. Admission to the social half of the program will be thirty-five cents.

The California Intercollegiate Nisei Organization (CINO) is made up of Nisei (Japanese-Americans) clubs on the college campuses of California. This presentation of the Negro History Week program is a project in keeping with the purposes of CINO in developing the potentials and social awareness of the Nisei college students.

Edison junior high.

Broadmoor Homes Still Available

Sales have passed the $800,000 figure at Broadmoor Homes, new Compton community on the east side of Central Ave., just south of Rosecrans Ave., it was announced today by Cletus H. J. Jollie, general contractor.

Still avilable in a variety of designs are a number of three-bedroom homes, complete and ready for immediate occupancy.

Veterans may purchase with down payments from $550, plus closing costs, and on monthly terms of $48.60 for principal and interest, with 4% GI loans prevailing, it was said.

Three model homes are on display every day of the week at the property. One is furnished throughout by Harry Karmes of the Karmes Furniture Co., Hollywood.

Included with all dwellings are dishmasters and garbage disposers, floor furnaces, hardwook floors, double sinks, weather-stripping, lawns with shurbs, tile stall showers and baths, dinettes, wardrobe closets, clotheslines and incinerators.

Sales offices are at 412 N. Central Ave., Compton, with Henriette G. Mallette, real estate broker, in charge, and James L. Carter as sales manager.

Two Signed for Hayworth Pic

Charles MacNiles and Juanita Berry Moore were signed to perform in Rita Hayworth's first picture since her Aly Kahn marriage and divorce, "Affair in Trinidad," now shooting at Columbia Studios.

MacNiles and his Calypso orchestra will play a song written by MacNiles, "Trouble Tree."

Both MacNiles and Miss Berry have good parts in the picture, directed by Vincent Sherman, to be released during the summer.

HUMANISTS TO OBSERVE NEGRO HISTORY WEEK

Negro History Week will be observed by The Humanists at their monthly meeting on Sunday, February 17, 8 p.m., at 2308 S. Hoover St., by the presentation of a distinguished panel of three speakers. The program topic, "Racial Equality and Human Dignity," is one which all three speakers are eminently qualified to discuss. They are:

Miss Adora Ulasi, 19-year-old journalism student at Pepperdine College, from Nigeria, Africa, who will talk on the history, background and present status of the Colonial Negro Peoples. Miss Ulasi, who will return to Nigeria and work as a journalist after completing her studies here, is the author of a book, "Out of Poverty," to be published this year.

Dr. W. Henry Atkinson, Negro physician and surgeon. Dr. Atkinson received his M.D. from Harvard University, has practiced in North Carolina and Ohio, and served as Captain with the Army in Europe during the last war.

Mr. Alvin Wilder, business man, radio commentator and writer, has for many years taken a lively interest in national and international afairs. He is a feature writer for the "California Jewish Voice" and has a commercially sponsored program, "A Layman Views the News," Sunday mornings over station KECA.

The public is cordially invited. Admission is free.

Police Scouts Hold Inspection

Inspection of Police-Sponsored Boy Scout Troop No. 617 was held at Nevins Ave. school last Thursday night at 8 p.m. Troop was inspected by Sgt. K. A. Brown of Newton Division in the absence of Division Commander, Capt. Noel A. McQuown, who, due to previous commitments, was unable to attend.

Coordinator of this troop is Officer Edward R. Hoxie. Scoutmaster Officer L. A. LeFlore and Assistant Scoutmaster Officer Lloyd Rainey Jr. of Newton Division. Also persent at the inspection were parents of some of the Scouts, Mr. Willis, District Coordinator, Mrs. Wiggins, Den Mother of Cub Scouts 617A and a large number of applicants to join the troop.

Say You Saw It in The EAGLE

'ON THE SCENE' With Eddie Lee King

Evening was creeping over the vales;
The last of the sun was below the hills;
High above the house a pale moon sailed
And quietly slept the daffodils.

That was the scenic outside spectacle last play night, Saturday to the intellectual few, at the swanky east side villa of I. D. Butler, who did the cooking, as the Master's Social Club presented a sand session, with eats yet!

The wiggs started wagging around six; the choppers were put into operation awhile later; the whiskers began getting wet a little after, and we were off for a good night.

It was truly a grand and successful event as are all things given by the Master's Social club. The members include Clarence Williams, Robert "Bob" Johnson, I. D. Butler, Theo. Dent, Clarence Solomon, Eddie Dent, Lester Wright, George Dorton, Rufus Johnson and R. L. Crosby.

Sweetheart Ball by Deltas

JACKIE RAMBO, the lovely girl with the slow smile and quiet eyes, talked ON THE SCENE about the Delta Sigma Theta sorority Sweetheart Ball come February 16.

The "socially wise" will start jumping at 9:00 p.m. sharp at the Elks Hall, 1016 South Central avenue to the music of Fy Taylor.

Fun and prizes for everyone will be the theme of this gala occasion Saturday evening, February 16. I will see you there.

GRACE FURNITURE DISPLAY DESIGNS

Many spectators walked thru the spacious Grace's Furniture and Upholstering Co. during its grand opening. Only business of its kind catering to a combination of furniture and upholstery, west of the Rockies, opened last Friday, February 8. Among those on hand to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Scott Grace were: Tank Younger, halfback of the Los Angeles Rams, Isamuel Evans, sportsman of Los Angeles; Dr. and Mrs. James Rawls, Mr. and Mrs. I. Neely of the "House of Neely" plastics and many other social, religious and civic personalities.

Awards Chair

A beautiful TV chair was awarded Mr. Fernando. The lucky winner was drawn by little Miss Cheryl Grace with the aid of her brother, Scott Grace II. This was an armless, blond modern chair, covered in a red and gray tapestry trimmed with a red moss.

Tremendous Experience

Taylor Scott Grace, Memphis born, was educated in Tennessee. He is the father of two children, Scotty 5, and Cheryle 3. His tremendous experience as an upholsterer was gained at the Park Lane Furniture Co. and the Restwell Manufacturing Co. and has enabled him to obtain a wide knowledge of furniture, upholstering and making furniture to suit an individual's taste.

A lover of all sports, he is a baseball enthusiast. As a member of the Labor Committee of the NAACP, he has a great interest in the community and its welfare. Ever since Grace was a young boy he had an interest in furniture. He offers a wide range of various designs which are important to all homes.

Assisted by Wife

Proprietors of the Grace's Furniture and Upholstering are Grace and his wife, Mrs. Marjorie Wooten Grace, a graduate of Herzel Junior College, Chicago, is active in religious and social circles. She is employed at the Veterans administration and holds the position of a dental clinic assistant supervisor.

Grace hopes in the future to expand his business into a chain of stores of this type throughout the state of California.

Dr. Moss Found Guilty Of Abortion Charges

Attorneys Plan to Appeal

After two hours and twenty minutes of deliberation, an all-woman jury found Dr. Jay Weaver Moss, local Chiropractor, guilty of performing an abortion on Mrs. Cecelia Alitalo, 41, last August 16.

Mrs. Alitalo, the mother of three children, testified that the illegal operation was performed on her at Dr. Moss' office, 1387 E. 56th street, for the sum of $100. She further testified that due to complications she was further treated by a Dr. Nelson, who cleared up her condition. Mrs. Alitalo, 854 E. 80th street, had her sister Avelina Ybarra, 917½ E. 80th street, corroborate her testimony.

Surprise Verdict

Moss was arrested October 10, and released on $2,500 bail.

Veteran court observers were frankly amazed at the verdict. Attorneys Curtis C. Taylor and Crispus Wright handled Moss' defense. "I thought they put on a magnificent case for the Doctor," said one court attache. "These cases are nasty and hard to beat, but most of us thought that Moss' attorneys had disproved the state's contentions with several very reliable witnesses." "You just can't figure an all-woman jury," said another.

Wright and Taylor introduced evidence that Mrs. Alitalo had a dislocated vertebrae, which she first denied, then later admitted. They also introduced expert testimony that such a condition can induce abortion under certain circumstances.

Moss testified that he was treating the woman for her back condition, and in the course of his examination and treatment, the vertebrae might have caused an abortion. Mrs. Alitalo testified that she figured she was about "six weeks gone."

Salesman Testifies

Another witness testified that he was a salesman of surgical instruments, and the instruments found in Dr. Moss' office had been left there by him for Moss

Uncle Toms Help Doom Groveland Prisoner to Death

All White Jury Condemns Irvin In New Trial

OCALA, Fla.—Five Uncle Toms last week week helped the State of Florida condemn to death Walter Lee Irvin, sole remaining defendant in the Groveland rape case. It is the second time the 24-year-old farm hand has faced execution by the state.

Judge Truman J. Futch, the same judge who sentenced Irvin in 1949, promptly announced that the prisoner would have to die. Irvin was immediately returned to the death house at Raiford.

Negroes, crowded into the gallery of the court room, wept openly when the clerk read the verdict of the all-white, all-man jury.

New Trial Sought

The trial ended Thursday, after four days of hearings. It took the jury only one hour and 23 minutes to find Irvin "guilty."

Thurgood Marshall, special counsel for the NAACP, stated that a motion for a new trial would be filed within the next few days.

Irvin is the youth who cheated death last November 6 when he was left for dead on a lonely road in Lake County, Fla., after the sheriff who was escorting him to a new trial, shot him through the chest. The same sheriff, Willis McCall, shot and killed Samuel Shepherd, Irvin's co-defendant, to whom he was manacled at the time of the shooting.

Negroes Afraid

At the opening of the retrial here Feb. 11, the NAACP sought to introduce as evidence a survey showing that 84 percent of

'Protest at Shrine' Call Covers City

Sound trucks this week were touring industrial areas of the city calling upon workers to "fill the Shrine auditorium Thursday night, Feb. 21, to protest lawlessness, intimidation and murder in Florida." Leaflets were being distributed by the thousands, announcements were being made to scores of organizations, ministers and rabbis were informing their church members "Fill the Shrine! Show our solidarity with the Negro people in their fight against terror!"

RALLY M.C.—Walter O'Keefe, NBC radio star, will be master of ceremonies at Shrine demonstration.

On Wednesday, Walter White, executive secretary of the NAACP, arrived here by plane from New York, to be principal speaker at the huge united demonstration Thursday night.

City Fathers Support

Indicating the breadth of support accorded the demonstration was action last Thursday by the Los Angeles Board of Supervisors which unanimously endorsed the meeting and the protest against racial terror, and on Monday by the City Council, which also endorsed the meeting.

Walter O'Keefe, well-known star of radio and stage, will be master of ceremonies. The Los Angeles Interracial choir will sing the national anthem, the

Funeral Set for Saturday

The "Grand" is dead!

All of Elkdom bowed its head in grief when the news flashed across the nation that J. Finley Wilson, the mightiest Elk of them all, died in his home in Washington, D. C., Tuesday.

The funeral will be held Saturday in Washington. Henry W. Davis, Grand Esquire from Southern California, is flying to the memorial service.

EXALTED RULER DIES—J. Finley Wilson, for many years Grand Exalted Ruler of the Elks, died at his home in Washington on Tuesday.

For 29 years, Wilson has ruled the nation's million Negro Elks with sheer domination of a brilliant and tireless personality. Through brilliant strategy, he brought the organization from a bickering group, torn by internal dissention and jealousy, to a highly organized, multi-million dollar organization, that he ruled with an iron hand.

According to the records, Wilson was born at Nashville, Tennessee, on August 28, 1881. In his early years he was a Wyoming cowboy, Arizona miner, Klondike prospector and waiter on the fa-

Witherspoon Convicted on Drunk Charge

Blues singer Jimmie Witherspoon was found guilty of drunk charges in Division 15, Municipal Court by Judge Ben Berry last Monday. Sentence was set for Thursday morning when the "Spoon" faces a possible heavy fine.

Attorney James N. Reese defended the "Spoon" and F. W. Haight served as prosecutor. Ben Waller, theatrical agent, appeared as character witness in Witherspoon's behalf.

The husky vocalist crashed the news on Wednesday, January 24 when he was picked up by officers Wesley Crawford and Jack Ruggles on the grounds that he was under the influence of liquor while driving a car. He was taken to 77th Street Police station and held there until morning.

Crawford, first to take the stand, testified he saw a 1950 Cadillac stop for signal changes at 103rd and Central. The car turned north on Central and immediately picked up a fast speed.

Love Led to Killing Slayer Tells Police

"I killed her because I loved her!"

That was the only explanation Odell Barret, 28, 643 South Kohler street, gave for the brutal slaying of his common-law wife, Lillian Scott, 36, last Saturday afternoon.

Barrett and Mrs. Scott had a fight a few weeks ago, and Barrett left her and their three-year-old son, and went to San Francisco and stayed with his brother, Leroy Barrett of 311 Mary Road. He returned to make up with Mrs. Scott.

Saturday afternoon Barrett, Mrs. Scott and a group of other people were having a drinking party in their room when Barrett accused her of making eyes at "Shorty" (Albert Nickolson) who lives in the vicinity of 36th and Avalon. He took his 32-Colt automatic from under the mattress and they went out in the hall. She grabbed his arms, he took out his gun and shot her once in the head at close range. As she fell, he let her have one more in the head. When she fell to the floor completely, he shot her four more times across the breast.

"Get out of here, I'm going to call an ambulance!" Alice Perkins of 1225 East 24th street told Barrett as she came out of the room where they had been drinking and found him standing over the body with his smoking gun.

Jackie Rose Lightsy, age four of 323 North Mountain Veiw was burned to death Friday morning when her nightie caught fire from an open gas heater.

Mrs. Rosalie Crunk, Little Jackie's grandmother, stated that Jackie Rose came into her room, in the front part of the house, early Friday morning. Mrs. Crunk lit the gas heater at 7:30 o'clock. Shortly thereafter she went into the kitchen and started the washing, leaving Jackie in her bedroom.

After discovering that she did not have enough soap, Mrs. Crunk went next door to borrow some. As she passed her bedroom door little Jackie was sitting in the middle of the floor eating a banana.

When Mrs. Crunk returned, she saw large flames shooting up in her bedroom . . . "Jackie!" She ran into the room! The bed was burning. She could not find Jackie, she started screaming, and awakened her son, Kary Crunk, who immediately ran into the room and found Little Jackie lying with her legs under the bed. He pulled her out and placed her in the hallway, then ran next door to Mr. Firth's house, 327 N. Mountain View, and had him call the Fire Department.

Dead on Arrival

Upon the arrival of the Fire Dept., Battalion Chief Clarence N. Pague, stated that he carried Little Jackie from the hallway to the front porch where she was

Hill and Hill Bandit Shot To Death

Police believed that they finally caught the notorious Hill and Hill bandit, who has terrorized Eastside liquor stores for the last two months.

William T. Grayson, 27, 145 N. Front street, San Pedro, was cut down with two blasts from a shot gun Tuesday night as he attempted to rob a liquor store at 2327 S. Central avenue.

Grayson died almost immediately from wounds in the back and leg.

The police department has maintained stakeouts in Eastside liquor stores in an attempt to stop the robberies. The Hill and Hill bandit, so called because he always ordered a pint of Hill and Hill before robbing the store, has uncannily avoided the stakeouts, picking unprotected stores.

Police suspect Grayson of being responsible for 18 robberies in the last two months. His accomplice escaped in the store.

According to the police, Grayson entered the store, and this time ordered a pint of Old Crow. When the clerk was slow about getting it, he pulled his gun and ordered him to empty the till. He then replaced the gun in his pocket.

Detectives Melvin McCurty and Joe Papsum were staked out in the rear of the store. When Grayson placed his gun back in his pocket, he heard the click of the shotguns as they were being cocked. He pulled his gun and whirled towards the door as if he thought the sounds came from the outside. Officers then cut loose, one blast catching him in the middle of the back, and the other in the leg.

Sam McCallister Faces Tough Job Organizing Civil Defense

By WENDELL GREEN

Samuel M. McCallister faces one of the toughest jobs he has encountered in his 41 years. Upon his organizational ability depends the difference between panic and orderly functioning in case of enemy attack or major catastrophe. His success can well spell the difference between life and death for thousands of Eastsiders in case of attack or major disaster.

As Coordinator, Southeast District, Warden Service, McCallister is placed in this key position. He realizes the seriousness of his project, and has a pair of broad shoulders, backed up by wide experience in the community, to help him in the gigantic task that faces him.

Native Son

McCallister is one of those rare animals, a native son. As a boy he worked on the California Eagle as a printer's devil in old Eagle hall on Central near 8th street. "I used to put out Mr. Bass's cigar when he would fall asleep from overwork while writing editorials," laughs McCallister.

He attended 20th street grammar school, Lafayette and Compton Union high. He went to UCLA a year and a half, and decided to get married in 1929. He stayed out of school for a while, and then entered Quindaro College in Kansas in 1931. He was blessed with a family, so again he quit school and headed for home and a job.

"It was in the bottom of the depression, and things were tough. In 1936 I started as a part-time director at Ross Snyder playground under the Federal Works Project. I had always been rather athletic, for my size," smiled McCallister, "and I decided that I wanted to get into the Los Angeles Recreation department.

"I had worked with the Boy Scouts and YMCA as a volunteer worker and at one time headed the Youth Project of the First AME church, 8th and Towne. I decided to make my vocation my vocation. When the chance came to work at Ross Snyder I grabbed at it as it was necessary to have six months full time experience to qualify for the civil service exam."

After a year at Ross Snyder, McCallister went to the University of Chicago where he completed work on his degree. He returned to Los Angeles, took the civil service exam for playground director and was appointed in 1939.

By dint of energy, application, and hard work based on experience as well as theory, McCallister was soon recognized by the department heads and promoted to Chief Recreation Director at Ross Snyder in 1941.

Understood Kids

"It wasn't really that hard," said McCallister. "I was an Eastside boy and was raised up on the old Violet street playground on Violet and Mateo. I understood the problems and attitudes of the kids, and it was easy to work with them and help them. The department has always given me a fair shake and has not in any way impeded my ambitions to advance."

When the Civil Defense program was set up, the City Department of Recreations and Parks was given the responsibility for the Warden Service Division. McCallister was snatched from his position as Chief Director at South Park and given responsibility as Coordinator of the Southeast District.

"There are seven such districts in the city," said McCallister. "Ours is the third largest. It is bounded by Washington on the north, 122nd on the south, Main on the west and Alameda on the east. Our job is to organize and recruit civil defense personnel for the Warden Division. The Warden Division is but one of eleven divisions in the overall civil defense program for the city. Locally the Medical Division is headed by Dr. Henry McPherson and Officer James Polk of Newton heads the Auxiliary Police for Newton Division. All other divisions are city-wide and handled from downtown."

The primary purpose of the Warden Division is to coordinate the services of the Civil Defense program, so that the area might get what it needs in case of attack or major disaster. The organization is set up in Communities, Neighborhoods, and Blocks. A Block is both sides of one street between two intersections. In each Block the plans call for one Block Warden and three assistants. "We figure that out of four people we should be able to find one person at home and uninjured in the block."

Any Major Disaster

"I want to emphasize this," McCallister interjected suddenly. "This organization is not set up just to operate in case of enemy attack. Its primary purpose is to operate in any major catastrophe, including enemy attack. If we had had such an organization when they had that terrific explosion on Pico near Stanford several years ago, many lives and much property could have been saved. This organization is geared to go into action in any major disaster until the regular emergency agencies such as police, fire department, Red Cross, etc., can carry on. Our Mobile unit did yeoman's work during the recent floods, and I stayed on the telephone at the City Hall for over 12 hours.

Eastside Prime Target

"Another thing I'd like to point out. In case of enemy attack, the Eastside would be a prime target as it is ringed by industrial areas and constitutes a working man's neighborhood. There would be no point in bombing Beverly Hills and Belle Air. They would want to knock out the factories and the homes of the factory workers. We've got to organize to meet that threat," said McCallister with grim determination written all over his face.

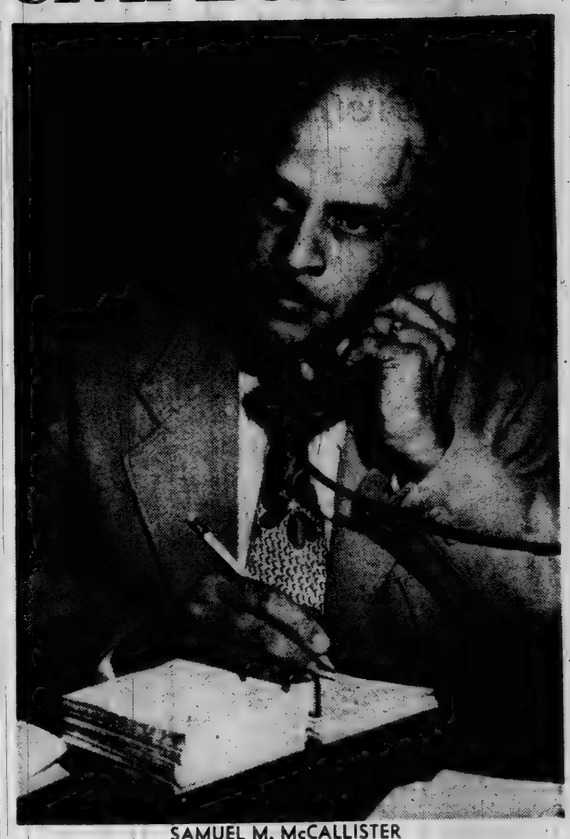
So many blocks constitute a neighborhood according to the density of the blocks. There is a Neighborhood Warden with four assistants. So many neighborhoods constitute a community with a Community Warden with four assistants.

"Our big problem so far has been to get qualified people. During the last war a lot of undesirables got into the program and almost wrecked it. This time we're organizing much slower and preventing persons with criminal inclinations from joining.

"A block warden has to know how many people live in every house on the block. How many invalids and babies that will need special care. What emergency supplies and equipment is available in every home. Naturally we can only have the highest type of person doing this work as it is confidential, and such authority can easily be misused and abused. That is why we are going slowly, trying to get the highest type of citizen for the job.

Need Women

"Another thing I'd like to emphasize is that we need women to participate in the organization, particularly in the block warden setup. The ideal situation would be two women and two men in a block and so on up the line."



While they have not gotten into the block warden organizational phase, McCallister thinks he will need about 11,000. "We need four Community Wardens and their assistants and four Neighborhood Wardens and their assistants in the Green Meadows area bounded by Slauson, 120th, Main and Central. We need seven Neighborhood Wardens in the Watts area, and four Neighborhood Wardens in the Central Community.

Citizenship Responsibility

McCallister was emphatic as he said, "The people of the district must assume the responsibilities of citizenship to protect their homes and families just as they enjoy the fruits of citizenship. It only requires a few hours a few nights a week.

"I want to make an earnest appeal to the PTAs, Coordinating Councils, Veterans Organizations, fraternal groups, social clubs and other civic groups to take an interest. They can contact the office of Civil Defense or make up a list of people who are interested so we can secure competent people for these responsible positions."

Without a doubt McCallister has his work cut out for him, but on the basis of his past success and experience, we know he will overcome the obstacles of apathy and lack of understanding.

SAMUEL M. McCALLISTER

Volunteer Health Workers Needed at Watts Clinic

According to Dr. Robert F. Kolts, health officer, Watts health center, 1513 E. 103rd St., there is an acute need for volunteer workers in the child health and maternity clinics of the local health center.

"Increased attendance at our Jordan Downs housing project child health conference held on Monday afternoons, the Manchester playground child health conference held on Thursday mornings, and our regular clinics held at the Watts health center, is working a distinct hardship on our regular nursing staff. If we are to continue our services to local families unable to seek private care, we must have immediate volunteer assistance," Dr. Kolts said.

The Metropolitan Los Angeles volunteer bureau recognizes the volunteer health service workers, originally organized by the nursing division of the Los Angeles city health department, and will award certificates to individuals completing a minimum of 100 hours in health services. It is interesting to note that several volunteer workers have been able to gain regular employment with private doctors, hospitals and private clinics after having served under the capable supervision of the health department's public health nurses in charge of maternity and child health clinics.

Trip to Snow Enjoyed by Newton DAP's

Forty-eight members of the Newton street division of the Deputy Auxiliary Police participated in the annual winter camp at Camp Val Crest last Saturday and Sunday.

Local newspapermen were the guest of Newton Commander Captain Noel A. McQuown and DAP coordinator James Polk.

The weekend outing was supervised by Officers Willie Jackson, George Bell, Odessa Parks, and adult leaders Vivian Talbert and Willie Mae Davis.

Nestled high in the San Bernardino Mountains in the Angelus National Forest over 6000 feet above sea level, Camp Val Crest was truly a winter wonderland. Boys and girls who had only seen snow from a distance promptly piled from the bus and began pelting the adults and each other with snow balls.

Hearty meals were served the youngsters who expended the energy bob sledding and snow fighting Saturday afternoon and Sunday morning.

Saturday night skits and talent acts were put on by the DAPS, who range in age from 8 to 18. Camp songs were sung under the direction of Mrs. Davis.

Captain Ben Stein, head of the LAPD's Juvenile department, and Lieut. Peter Hagan, head of the DAP program, met with the newspapermen Saturday and explained the DAP program and the fascinating history of Camp Val Crest. The camp boasts an excellent club house, swimming pool, cabins, and lots of rugged territory to hike or sled over. It is used for the wholesome recreation part of the DAP program, and camp periods are held summer and winter.

Captain McQuown told the newsmen that over 400 youngsters participate in the Newton program. They have a rifle club, participate in all sports, develop talent in skits and plays, and have a well organized social program.

Plans are now under way for another snow outing in March for members who missed this one.

Brotherhood Week Every Week at Aliso

Brotherhood Week, observed by churches, schools and fraternal organizations throughout the nation, is a period of time set aside for fellowship. This 19th annual celebration is sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews for emphasizing the importance of internal unit.

America's external strength is measured by her internal solidity. Therefore, her power to play the significant role which is thrust upon her rests on individual ability and will to conquer the group prejudices. If allowed to persist and flourish, they will disappoint the hopes of hte entire world.

The leading principles in the American creed are human equality, personal equality, free kinship, political independence, equality of opportunity, and social freedom.

The chief rights which these principles assure include: food and shelter, growth, health, and reason, conscience and responsibity, private worship and moral decision, social intercourse and leisure, familial life and freedom, justice, education, free inquiry, work, and membership in an all-inclusive community.

One place where each and everyone of the above rights can be practiced and used is in public housing. Here, the interests of racial and cultural relations coincide with the interests of minorities in the general population.

The best way to create brotherhood is to live and accept it. This creation would most likely exist in a community where all peoples occupy homes, attend the churches and schools, partake in social activities in a compact manner.

Throughout the city, such relations do exist in the field of housing. Pueblo del Rio, Rodger Young Village and Aliso Village are examples of mixed housing projects.

In such housing people experience other people's problems and beliefs. Because of the contact, opposite views are soon understood.

Aliso, 1401 E. 1st St., is composed of about 45% Negro, 36% Mexican-American, 10% Caucasian and 2.3% Oriental. These figures vary from month to month, but remain close to those percentages. A resident council, made up of each block, is composed of these groups. Once a month, two representatives of each block meet and analyze the various problems that occur. This group works closely with the management and is a valuable asset to it.

One outstanding speciman of brotherhood in action is the play school. The school is composed of pre-school aged children and was started by a mixed group of mothers six years ago. Here, the parents take turns each morning to supervise the small tots. One skilled worker is provided for over-all instruction. Purely voluntary, the mothers teach and feed one another's child. Each of the children becomes another woman's child for the three hour period. That is a working brotherhood. When any furniture is needed, fathers join together and manufacture the necessary equipment. During that time, friendships develop with a trend toward a definite blendship of all races and nationalities.

A young Caucasian mother, Mrs. Diana Baldwin, who is treasurer of the mothers' club, said since her 4-year-old daughter, Cheryl Ann, has been attending school, she has made lots of friends. "I enjoy it very much when some of the mothers join together after classes for home and family chats.

We learn an awful lot from one another. I am a Catholic and attend the Delores Mission which is located right here in the project. I believe in worshipping with all peoples as well as living with them. That is basically important."

She continued, "I often visit one of my best friends, who is a Negro. I also have a close friend who is Mexican. There is no difference in them."

Daughter-in-law of the famous comedienne Clarence Muse lives at 316 El Rio in Aliso. Mrs. Dion Muse has two children, Dion Susan, 5-year-old, and John Clarence, 3½. Dion Susan has just started to the Utah Street School and said that she has all kinds of friends. Mrs. Muse belongs to the cooperative play school and is president of the mothers' club. She has resided in Aliso since Dion Susan was an infant.

"A very fine example of brotherhood, said Mrs. Muse," is the All-Nations Church Bible classes that are held each Saturday. A teacher visits the homes of the children and tells them stories relating to the scriptures.

Another good feeling among my neighbors is the willingness to help in time of illness. At anytime at night they are available for aid. The main interest of the people is in the children.

With children growing up in homes where parents love outsiders, prejudice will soon be wiped out.

Some who came here had that I-am-better-than-you attitude but later lost it when they found how easy it was to be friendly and that it was an accepted way to be.

Mrs. Frank Delgado has resided at Aliso for four years with her husband and four children. They are Daniel, 5, Alejandro, 4, Frances, 3, and Patricia, one year old. She said that she has never had any trouble with her neighbors.

"I have made life-long friends of which I am proud here," the pretty mother said. "Many have left, but I still write to them. There is no reason why people cannot live, work and worship together.

Mrs. Delgado had to be coaxed to admit she does a five-family laundry every week for a friend who is expecting another child.

The remarks are but a few of the outlooks of the majority. But there is much significance in them. If more housing were available to minorities, one of the greatest problems of the world would be nearer solution.

Registration for the conference will open Friday night with a business meeting to follow the public meeting Saturday afternoon. Dinner and installation of officers will be held Saturday night.

SPEAKER—Glenn Anderson, state chairman of the Democratic party, will be one of the participants on a forum sponsored by Omega Psi Phi fraternity at its regional conference at 2069 Oxford avenue Saturday afternoon.

Church services at St. Phillips Episcopal Church will be held Sunday morning and members of the fraternity will attend the Ella Belle Davis concert Saturday.

Democracy Loses Gamble To Prejudice

SAN FRANCISCO — American democracy faced a crucial test here last Saturday—and lost.

A former Chinese Nationalist intelligence officer, Sing Sheng, thought that he, his American-born wife and their small son had a right to live wherever they chose.

They selected a home and made a down payment. Then they found there was some opposition to a Chinese family moving into an all-white neighborhood.

Sing believed in American democracy. He decided to put the question up to the residents in the area, and suggested an unofficial ballot.

Residents of the Southwood residential district, where he had bought his home, voted 174 to 28 against his moving into the area.

Before the votes were counted, Sing told some 100 of the residents assembled: "If the balloting is against me, it will prove we are fighting in vain in Korea."

There is no legal bar against the Sings moving into the house, but they won't move into it now. The real estate dealer who sold them the home said he will refund the $2950 Sing paid him.

Attractive young Mrs. Sing remarked: "We'll have to sell the furniture we bought and go somewhere else to live. I hope the people are happy now and will live secure in the knowledge their property values will continue to rise."

PRESS CONFERENCE—Walter White, executive secretary of the NAACP, arrived in Los Angeles early Wednesday morning and was almost immediately whisked to the Alexandria Hotel for a press conference. White is to be principal speaker at Shrine auditorium meeting Thursday night protesting terror and murder in Florida. Loren Miller, Eagle publisher is seated next to White.

famed anthem, "Lift Every Voice and Sing," and other songs.

Leaders from every walk of life in the city will be on hand to lend their support to the combined protest. Among these will be "Blackie" Lunceford, president of the Greater Los Angeles CIO; Thomas Ranford, president of the Los Angeles Central Labor Council AFL; C. V. O'Halloran, regional director of the United Automobile Workers CIO; Irvin De-cial Action, Anti-Defamation League of the B'nai B'rith, National Conference of Christians and Jews, Urban League of Women Voters, Veterans Coordinating Council, Metropolitan YMCA and many others.

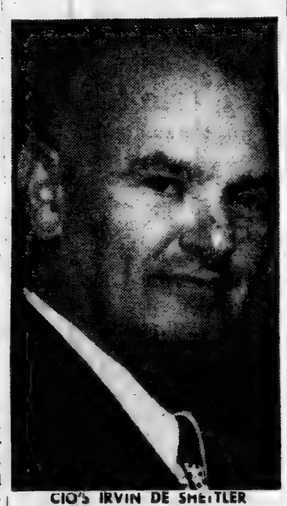
The demonstration will open at 8:15 p.m. Thursday at the Shrine, Jefferson Blvd. and Royal avenue, with an invocation by Rev. Jonothan L. Caston, pastor of the Trinity Baptist church.

Program Speakers



Speakers will include John Dial, co-chairman of the meeting, who will introduce representatives of many of the co-sponsoring organizations; Dr. E. I. Robinson, president of the local branch of the NAACP; Franklin Williams, NAACP west coast regional director, one of the attorneys who won the Supreme Court reversal of the death sentences for the Groveland rape case prisoners; Councilman Edward Roy ball, who will read the City Council's resolution of endorsement of the meeting; and Dr. H. Claude Hudson, head of the steering committee for the rally.

Father John McNolte, pastor of St. Leo's Catholic church in Willowbrook, special representative of Archbishop Francis MacIntyre, will give the closing prayer.

Terror Background

The demonstration was called for by the NAACP following the series of outrages that have erupted in Florida during the past year, which culminated Christmas night in the bombing murder of the state's NAACP leader, Harry T. Moore and his wife Harriet.

These double murders followed closely upon a rash of dynamitings and attempted dynamitings of a Negro housing project, Jewish synagogues and a Catholic church; floggings of Negroes; Ku Klux Klan cross burnings; and the "legal" killing on Nov. 6, 1951, by a sheriff of Samuel Shepherd, handcuffed Groveland rape case prisoner, and the serious wounding of Walter Lee Irvin, likewise accused in the Groveland rape case. No arrests have been made for any of these crimes.

Outcries against this lawlessness and brutality have swept the country. Practically every liberal, labor, church and Negro organization from Maine to California has joined the protest.

The Los Angeles meeting at the Shrine, however, is the first united meeting to be held.

The California Eagle joins the many organizations, groups and individuals who are co-sponsoring this significant demonstration, and urges all of its readers and friends to join the throng tonight, Thursday, heading for the Shrine. Protest the terror! Fill the Shrine!

Cairo School Case Conduct Hit By NAACP

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—The inaction of state officials in the explosive Cairo school situation was deplored by spokesmen for the NAACP after a conference here this week with the Illinois Legislative Committee and representatives of Governor Adlai Stevenson. The NAACP announced that it plans legal action in the case.

The meeting was held at the request of the NAACP after a series of racial flare-ups that have accompanied attempts of the Association's field workers to help implement an Illinois statute that forbids segregation in public schools.

Cross-burnings, shootings and bombings took place at the time Negro children were scheduled to be transferred to previously all-white schools. Last week eight persons spearheading the integration movement, including NAACP Field Secretaries June Shagaloff and Lester P. Bailey, were arrested and charged with conspiracy to "endanger the life and health of certain children" involved in the transfer actions.

Man Held for Murder

A coroner's jury today ruled that Ben Harrison, 24, of 692 East 49th St., was criminally responsible for the knife-stabbing death of Norman T. Linear, 26, on Feb. 9.

The fatal fight occurred during an arugment. Harrison is under arrest and will be prosecuted by the District Attorney's office.

FBI Arrests Ten Klansmen As Terrorists

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C. — Ten former Ku Klux Klan members were arrested near here last Saturday and face possible death sentences for kidnaping, beating and terrorizing Negroes and whites in a series of floggings that extended over many months.

Included in the 10 are two former police chiefs.

An FBI spokesman described the terror as the "most vicious" ever investigated by the agency.

The 10 are charged with violating the Federal (Lindbergh) kidnaping act and with violations of civil rights. All were released on $5,000 bail. Hearings were set for Feb. 26 and 27.

Sadistic Orgy

The specific case for which they were arrested involved the abduction of a 27-year-old white woman and a 40-year-old white man last October by a band of white-robed men in full Klan regalia, complete with red crosses over the heart and red-tasseled white hoods.

Both the woman and the man were brutally flogged with a flail-like whip made from a machine belt three inches wide and two feet long nailed to a pick handle. The young woman was forced to bend over the fender of the automobile. Then she was beaten. She was repeatedly knocked to the ground, picked up and draped over the fender again. Then the flogging continued.

The sadistic orgy was accompanied by the singing of hymns.

Crossed State Line

The man, Ben Grainger, was given the same treatment.

The two had been seized in Fair Bluff, N. C., and carted across the state line into near-by Horry county in South Carolina.

The community of Fair Bluff has been in a state of tension for months, according to the FBI. Most feared, they said, is Early L. Brooks, town constable and former police chief, because of his "bullying tactics." Brooks, the FBI added, was tried in 1947 for shooting a fellow officer. He was acquitted, but because of strong public resentment, he resigned from the police force.

Find Whip

Brooks was arrested at his home. Found there, according to the FBI, were two pistols, the flail that was allegedly used in the floggings, and two white Klan robes and hoods. There was also an announcement of a meeting of the Associated Order of Carolina Klans at which there would be "speeches and cross burnings."

The band of robed terrorists had apparently set themselves up as defenders of "morality." The beatings were administered for alleged immorality, drunkenness, failure to attend church, failure to support the family, or even general laziness. Victims were about equally divided among Negroes and whites.

The 10, in addition to Brooks, were listed as: Bobby Brooks, 19, of Raleigh; Ross Enzor, 43, Cerro Gordo, N. C.; L. C. Worley, 25, Cerro Gordo; George Miller, 19, and his brother, Sherwood Miller, 26, both of Cerro Gordo; Steve Edmond, 26, Fair Bluff; and Horace Strictland, 38, Cerro Gordo.

Prisoner Doomed

the Negroes of the county were afraid of what would happen to them if they served on the jury and held out for acquittal.

Judge Futch, however, refused to admit the survey as evidence. The poll was prepared by experts from the Elmo Roper public opinion firm. It was introduced in an attempt to get the trial moved to a site beyond this terror-ridden section of Central Florida.

The five Negroes whose testimony was the main factor in preventing Irvin from getting the scene of the trial changed, all claimed that Negroes could get a fair trial here.

Love Negroes

Dr. L. R. Hampton, a dentist, spoke of the "love and respect the white man has for Negroes here." He admitted, though, that if Irvin were freed by the jury "some hot heads might try something." He didn't know of any white man who ever demonstrated any evidence of racial prejudice, but later recalled that the Ku Klux Klan had burned crosses in front of his home some years ago.

Rev. I. M. Anderson, pastor of Mt. Maria Baptist church for 11 years, said white people in Marion county, seat of the trial, are more "liberal" than in any other state in the south.

The defense had two new witnesses who had not testified at the first trial. One, a criminologist, accused the state of concocting evidence by fabricating plaster casts of shoe prints found at the scene. He declared on the stand that there were no feet in the shoes at the time the footprints were made.

"Mighty Calm"

The second unexpected witness was Pfc. Lawrence Burtoft, to whom the white woman who claims she was raped appealed for help on the night of the alleged attack.

Pvt. Burtoft testified that the young woman, Mrs. Norma Padgett, had said nothing about being criminally attacked, had said she couldn't identify the Negroes who had abducted her, and added that she "looked mighty calm." The story Mrs. Padgett had told at the time the soldier said, was that she had been robbed and kidnaped, and that her husband had been knocked down. She had wanted help in finding her husband. Burtoft was the son of the owner of a beer parlor about four miles from the scene of the alleged rape.

Irvin is one of the four Negro youths who in July, 1949, were charged with the rape of a white woman, in an atmosphere of madness and mob hysteria. One of the four was lynched, Negro homes in Groveland, scene of the orgy, were burned to the ground. A second of the accused, a lad of 16, who was in jail on a vagrancy charge when the alleged rape took place, was sentenced to life imprisonment.

Suit Attacks Jim Crow Public Housing in Fresno

FRESNO—The question of whether or not this city can maintain racial segregation in its public housing projects will be aired in Superior Court Monday when Attorney Hugh Goodwin appears to ask for an injunction on behalf of three Negro complainants "and all others similarly situated."

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Lusk and Mrs. Gertrude Walls charged in their complaint that the city maintains three public housing projects and that it restricts Negro occupancy to Sequoia Courts. One of the other two is limited to white occupancy and the other to Mexican occupancy, the Eagle learned.

The segregation scheme results in discrimination, Goodwin told the Eagle, because "it means that if there is no vacancy in a so-called Negro project, no Negro applicant can be placed no matter where he stands on the eligibility list."

The suit demands that the Court issue an injunction restraining the city officials and officers of the Housing Authority from "continuing its policy of assigning housing units" on the basis of the race or color of the applicants.

Double Trouble Plagues Trio

Three men were arrested Thursday in Dept. 41 of Superior Court where they appeared on a robbery charge and charged with the theft of money from two Sunland stores.

The suspects are Austin A. Webb, Jr., 27, of 4329½ So. Compton boulevard, Morgan Martin, 30, of 2320 Wall street and James L. Griffin, 28, of 1241 E. 43rd street.

The men, arrested on a previous robbery complaint, were identified from police pictures as the men who rifled cash registers in the Sunland Market, 8355 Fenwick street and the Valley Center Market, 7819 Foothill boulevard in Sunland.

At the Sunland Market, Martin allegedly purchased 15 cents worth of beef while the others allegedly took several hundred dollars from a cash register. At the Valley Center Market, Griffin distracted the properietor while others took the money from the cash drawer.

Parolees Make Good, Gordon Tells Confab

SAN FRANCISCO — Society shares a positive responsibility for the rehabilitation of criminals, and although an ayerage of two out of three men make good on parole, the parole system must be maintained.

This was the message brought to soft drink bottlers of California and Nevada, in convention here, by Walter A. Gordon, chairman of the California Adult Authority and the number one parole officer of the state.

"We are criticized because we release men on parole," said Mr. Gordon. "We think that in view of the fact that better than 60 per cent of our men make good, and 33 percent fail, that we are on the right track."

to keep for him a few days.

The case and the verdict came as a surprise to the community. Dr. Moss is well known locally an ardent civic worker, and popular in the social set. He had several excellent character witnesses, including Rev. Clayton D Russell.

Judge Jesse Frampton put the sentencing of Dr. Moss over to March 11. He is at present free on bail. Wright and Taylor immediately gave verbal notice of their intention to appeal the decision. Both lawyers were emphatic in their statements that given another trial and a more representative jury, they can win freedom for Moss.

College President Speaks at Bowen

Dr. Howard McDonald, president of Los Angeles City and

REV. J. BAIN

State College, will bring the special Laymen's Day message at Bowen Memorial Methodist church, E. 36th and Trinity Sts., on Sunday, February 24, at the 11 a.m. worship service.

Bowen Memorial considers itself especially fortunate in being able to present to the general public this outstanding layman and educator. He comes to this assignment with unusual qualifications, not only in the field of education but as an active and enthusiastic layman and church school teacher in his local church.

The entire services at Bowen, on this day, will stress the place and importance of laymen in the general program of the modern church. Music for the morning worship will be furnished by the Youth Choir at Bowen, under the direction of Mrs. Armenda Nelson. The public is cordially invited to participate in these services. Rev. John C. Bain is minister at Bowen.

Catholic Priest Writes Volume

Vatican City Religious Book Company announces the publication of a new book entitled "Our Saints," by Rev. Umberto Bonomo, C.SS.R.

With this volume Father Bonomo makes a notable contribution to Christian hagiology. Brilliantly and impartially, he sifts his material of folklore and legend, and cuts it down to its essential truth. His clear, uncluttered style makes "Our Saints" come to life so vividly that their words and deeds are flint to our hearts again, reveals the company.

In this concise and catholic collection, Father Bonomo brings together 150 little-known and well-known saints in a volume that should be of great help to priests in search of easy-to-reach material about the saints, to teachers who might be searching for information about one of the more obscure of our "elder brothers," but most of all, to the great mass of the faithful who will be able to profit so much from further contact with "Our Saints."

The book "Our Saints" is the last book that was personally handled and published by Alex F. Martignoni, the late founder of Vatican City Religious Book Company, Inc., and represents number six in the "Catholic Action Library" which the publishers will endeavor to continue. The next addition to the collection will be "St. Maria Goretti."

A prolific and competent writer, Father Bonomo has several doctrinal and devotional works to his credit. The present work, "Our Saints," represents the first biographical anthology that he has compiled.

This book may be ordered from Candle Light Shop, 2139 W. Jefferson Blvd., or phone REpublic 9063.

Rev. Williams Delivers Morning Service at Ward

Rev. Everett P. Williams of Tulare, and formerly of Yakima, Washington; will be the speaker at the 10:45 a.m. service this Sunday at Ward African Methodist Episcopal church, 1177 W. 25th street, where Dr. Frederick D. Jordan is pastor. Rev. Williams is a graduate of Washington University, and is acclaimed as a very forceful speaker and talented singer.

At the evening hour, 7:30 p.m., the senior choir of Ward will present its regular fourth Sunday musicals. Negro compositions will be featured, Robert Betton, guest artist for the service, is known throughout the city as a singer and reader.

He has given many recitals and appearances, accompanied by a local musician, Mrs. Edna L. Porter. Other soloists are: Myzella Ellis, Louella Dent, and Gwendolyn Whisenant, soprano; Anita Logan, contralto.

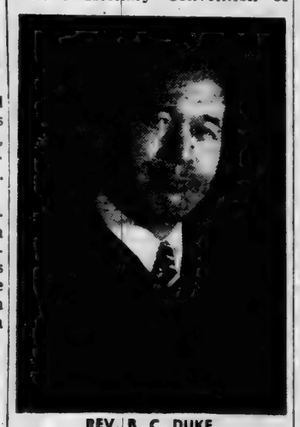
Interracial Choir in Brotherhood Recital

The Inter-Racial choir of Los Angeles will emphasize the importance of Brotherhood Week with a special recital Friday, at 8:15 p.m., at the McCarty Memorial Christian Church, 4101 W. Adams Blvd.

Composed of 22 young adults, the choir is representative of the various racial and religious groups in the Los Angeles area.



In addition to the recital, the program will include "The Seedling," a one-act play on the subject of brotherhood. Members of the cast have been chosen from the various churches participating in the evening's entertainment.

Sponsoring the program in cooperation with the Church Welfare Bureau of the Church Federation of Los Angeles are the following churches:

Ward Chapel AME, Olivet Lutheran, Greater Faith Baptist, McCarty Memorial Christian, Holman Methodist, Centenary Methodist, West Adams Christian, West Adams Presbyterian and Mt. Sinai Baptist.

EXECUTIVE SECRETARY PROGRAMS CONVENTION

Emmett J. Dickson, executive secretary of the National Christian Missionary Convention of the Disciples of Christ of Indianapolis, Ind., arrived in Los Angeles Thursday.

Dickson is visiting in the city in the interest of the 36th Annual Session of the NCMC which is to be held with the Avalon Christian church, Reverend B. C. Duke, minister. The Avalon Christian church will have the full cooperation of the sister churches throughout the city and state. President of this convention is Dr. Blair T. Hunt of Memphis, Tenn., and will convene in August.

The convention is the organized work of the churches to evangelize, educate and missionize, giving support to 10 foreign fields. The home missions include schools and colleges, some of which are Jarvis Christian College, Hawkins, Texas; Southern Christian Institute, Edwards, Miss.; and other home mission institutions.

Dickson is the brother-in-law of Hazel Chapman, Angelus Funeral Home soloist. He may be reached by phone at PA. 9880. He will preach at Avalon, 5272 Avalon Blvd., at 11 a.m., Sunday, February 24.

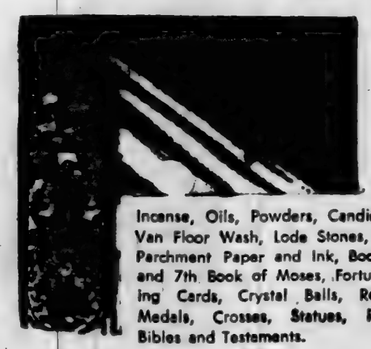
umphs, will present a varied program of religious, ballads, spirituals and concert numbers . . . such as "Roll, Jordan, Roll," "His Name So Sweet"; and ballads "Cool Water," "Beautiful Dreamer," etc.

The program will close with the singing of Andre Green's special arrangement of Louis Stanton's "Hymn for All Peoples." This composition, which reflects the spiritual aspirations of freedom loving people everywhere, had its world premiere performance recently.

It was sung by the combined 250 voices of Catholics, Protestants, Negroes and Jews at the World Brotherhood program, and broadcast by the National Broadcasting Company from coast to coast, and relayed overseas by the Armed Forces Radio Service.

The church extends a cordial invitation to all to come and hear this outstanding male chorus and experience this unusual musical feast.



Edmonds Gospel Revival Continues

The revival begun at Edmonds Gospel Temple, located at 973 E. Vernon avenue, last Monday night, following the grand opening of the church, is still continuing. Each night, programs have been held, with pastors and churches of the city attending.

Rev. Anita L. Edmonds, evangelist, pastor and founder of the church, has accomplished the unusual feat, having a time limit of only one week to make ready a vacant doctor's clinic into a place for worship.

Many services are included in the daily schedule of the church, beginning with the noonday prayer services and continuing until 1:30 p.m.

Rev. Pettigrew Starts Revival

A city-wide old fashioned revival is being sponsored by Rev. Julius Pettigrew at the Allena theater, Santa Barbara at Woodlawn avenues, Sunday, Feb. 24. This marks the third Sunday the revival has been held and Sunday, March 2, will conclude the spiritual movement.

Rev. Pettigrew, a pioneer religious leader in California, is known for founding the first Congregational church on the west coast. It was named Pilgrim and

REV. J. PETTIGREW

Lincoln Memorial Congregational, is an outgrowth of that founding.

Rev. Pettigrew won national recognition for organization of a Negro colony in Mexico. From that group, many Negroes are still citizens of Mexico.

Rev. Pettigrew says, "I hope to start a campaign that will sweep the city back into a strong Christian thinking and living community. If we can conform to the scriptures of the Bible, we would soon witness a peace that will manifest God's power.

This movement is not an ordinary kind. All persons should take an active part in seeing the change for a Christian good take place."

Prominent Leaders Observe Men's Day

Men's Day will be observed at the Westminster Presbyterian church Sunday, February 24. Dr.

REV. H. B. HAWES

William C. Bouchelion, D.C., and an ordained Presbyterian minister, will bring the message at the 11 a.m. service.

Kenneth A. Morris, executive secretary of the YMCA, will read the Scripture and Rev. David Thomas, a Baptist minister and president of the Neighborly Assistance Foundation, Incorporated, will offer prayer.

Dr. Hampton B. Hawes, pastor of Westminster, will take part in the service and Attorney William R. Freeman, president of the Westminster Council of Presbyterian Men, will preside. A male choir, directed by Dr. Henry A. McPherson, will occupy the choir loft.

Under the direction of Attorney Freeman, a play entitled "The Trial of Every Man," which stresses the responsibility of the individual member to the church, will be presented in Fellowship Hall at 7 p.m. The public is cordially invited to attend both services of the day. The Westminster Presbyterian church is located at 2230 West Jefferson boulevard.

TALENTED — Judy Spain, child singer, will appear with her own bell musical accompaniment at Victory Baptist church, 48th and McKinley on Sunday, February 24 at 3 p.m.

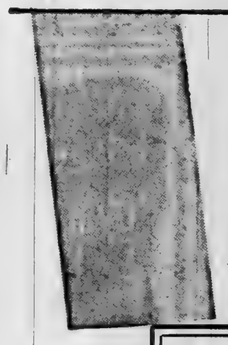
„The SEASON of LENT"



Here it is at last! Lent starts Wednesday. Think over your resolutions: attendance at weekday Mass, devotions, Stations, something in the way of self-denial, observance of the fast and abstinence program as best you can.

But don't take on too much. If you overload your boat, it might sink. Better a few resolutions well kept than an ambitious program abandoned after a week or so.

Eat well, then, these last few days, take in a party or a show, then settle down Wednesday for a good stiff Lent.

ZION HILL DEDICATES MODERN EDIFICE WITH SPECIAL SERVICE

By MIRIAM CHRISTIAN, Church Editor

More than 2000 people posted themselves on corners covering four blocks to attend special dedication services of the opening of new Zion Hill Baptist Church auditorium last Sunday.

As the organizations of the church marched into the new building, motion pictures were taken of the colorful procession. After them followed members and spectators who filed into the impressive modern edifice located at 51st street and McKinley avenue.

Rev. Timothy Chambers lead the march and after the church had been packed, he called the congregation to worship. Following a rendition of Messiah's HallelujahChorus by the Cathedral choir, the honor guest of the day was presented.

Councilman Kenneth Hahn congratulated Rev. Chambers for his remarkable achievement and presented him a resolution drawn by the city council for his services dedicated to the youth of the community. Rev. Chambers was also commended for the beautiful religious foundation he has constructed for his congregation.

Afternoon Service

V. G. Goree and Charles Satchel Morris took part in the pulpit services. Dr. J. Raymond Henderson, pastor of Second Baptist church, delivered an address in the 3 p.m. worship service.

Zion Hill, has grown rapidly since the day of its organization, February, 1923. It is now one of the nation's largest churches with a membership roll having ascended to between six thousand and seven thousand. The number at the time of organization was approximately 30 persons. There have been three pastors, preceding the present one. Under the pastorate of Rev. Grant Harris, the present property was purchased.

The present pastor, Dr. T. M. Chambers, was called here in 1950, and in nineteen months the entire plant was remodeled and many additional facilities installed. The church is Instituionalized and has twenty-one persons on its payroll. It has many music groups and a well trained staff.

Show Spot

It is definitely one of the show spots of the golden west, and is unsurpassed in uniqueness, logical attractions and up-to-date order of procedure.

Rev. Chambers has played a prominent role in the growth of Zion Hill. Coming from one of the largest churches in Dallas, Texas where he served more than 14 years, he has added history to the church when he sponsored the recent gigantic fund raising drive.

His Dallas church, Good Street Baptist, fondly refers to him as its pastor to this day. Rev. Chambers organizational affiliations number many. One of importance is his membership on board of directors of Bishop college in Marshall, Texas.

He was also pastor of Arkansas Baptist of which his son pastors in Arkansas. His daughter, Eunice is church organist. His present wife, Mrs. Hazel Chambers is an active worker and participant in many religious activities. His youngest child is Thomas Paul, 3 years old and Zion Hill Sunday School member.

PROCESSIONAL—Rev. Chambers, pastor of Zion Hill Baptist church, leads members and friends into the new modern edifice constructed under his supervision. More than 2000 persons blocked traffic to attend the opening service.

CONGRATULATED — Councilman Kenneth Hahn congratulates Rev. Chambers for his achievements in behalf of his community. Hahn presented Rev. Chambers with sealed resolution drawn by the city council thanking Chambers for meritorious services.

SANTA ANITA — Little Jockey Ray York from La Mesa had a good laugh when his mount Phil D., the Cinderella colt, captured the rich San Antonio Handicap worth $29,800. Just two weeks ago in the world's richest race Phil D. was well beaten off when York faithfully followed strict orders to make his move when the great Counterpoint made his, but when Counterpoint failed to make a move and York realized it, the race was over with Intent winning the rich plum.

Ramsey

It was a different story this time. At the break Bryan G. took the lead with Phil D. right at his heels and forced that contender to yield as they leaned into the final turn and came on for a nose decision over the fast closingIntent. This was the tune-up for the hundred grander, and the way Intent closed in the mile and one-eighth race he will be tough to beat in the mile and a quarter Santa Anita Handicap.

Hill Prince, if he starts, will be the one to beat. Hill Prince, who was slated to start in this race, was declared in the afternoon by trainer Casey Hayes. The Prince was pitched in at 132 pounds, and that could have been declare him. This weektd eitT the reason for trainer Hayes to declare him.

This week the lovers of the sport of kings will witness the Santa Anita Derby for three-year olds at one mile and one-eighth which carries an $100,000 added. On Friday, Feb. 22nd, the Washington Birthday Handicap will be the feature attraction, the distance is seven furlongs with $15,000 added.

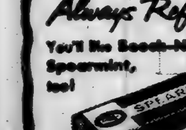
CALIENTE IN OLD MEXICO—So La Ci, the long distance champion of the border course, made it two in a row when he defeated Mon Songe and eight other distance horses in the feature event last Sunday. Laying fairly close to the early pace the son of Reigh Count-Kindergarten came to the outside to wear down Ray's Devil and, scored by a neck over the fast-closing Mon Songe. As the public favorite he paid in the mutuels $7.20. Big Silver, from the stable of R. C. Ellsworth, made it a double for this popular sportsman. His first starter, Gay Spouse, scored in the second race for a payoff of $25.20.



The daily-double combination of Colossus, winer of the fourth race, and Tropical Sea, victor of the fifth, paid $62.80. But the Quniela, that sent lucky holders of Hi Rene and Cactus Mike, who finished in that order, home very happy, paid $456.00.

Date Set for Annual YMCA Golf Tourney

The third annual YMCA Amateur Golf Tournament which is becoming so increasingly popular with local divot-diggers, will be held at the Rio Hondo Country Club, Downey, California, Friday, March 7. First toe time 7:30 a.m.

This sports event under the direction of the Physical Education Department and sponsored by the Y's Men, an up and coming service club of the YMCA, is to aid in creating funds for your "Y" work.

The tourney will be an 18-hole, first nine qualifying event. Experience gained last year in this event will be utilized to the golfers benefit.

Beautiful trophies will be awarded for first and second low gross in five flights for men and two flights for women, plus longest drive award in women's and men's division.

Entry including green fee is $3.50 with deadline for entries March 3, 1952. No post entries.

Blanks may be obtained at 28th Street YMCA office or anyone of the following committee members: Lee O. Marshall, chairman; Nadine Cole, Cadence Hines, John Bean Jr., Mae Crowder, Donald Walker, Leonard Reed, Toussaint Jennings, or Norman Ward. Make all checks payable to the 28th Street YMCA, and mail to Lee O. Marshall, care of Norman Ward, Physical Education Director, 1006 East 28th Street, Los Angeles 11, California.

Baseballers To Tryout In Torrance

Two weeks of intensive baseball tryouts by the Southwest Comets culminate Saturday, February 23rd, in the city of Torrance, California. Twenty-five finalists will converge on the beautiful Municipal Ball Park at 9 a.m. to tryout for the privilege of signing contracts with the all-Negro traveling team of the Southwest International League.

Major league scouts will sit in on the "wheat from the chaff process" and assist in the selection, disclosed Emmett Ashford, Comet general manager.

The enclosed Torrance field is expected to provide a true yardstick for the plate and field prowess of Harvey Allen, gazelle-like conterfielder, whose 440 foot home run highlighted workouts last week; Magso Dixon, lanky shortstop, whose two clothesline variety triples had railbirds agog; Waymon "Hot-Rod" Johnson, hard throwing outfielder; Robert Carter, heavy-hitting outfielder-catcher, and Charlie Brown, speed merchant outfielder.

Others coming in for close scrutiny are, infielders: William Wade, Lucius Banks, Travis Branch, Sylvester Bell, Allen "Heavy Duty" Carter, Simon Peter and Solomon Garrett.

Catchers: Frank Lewis and Elijah "Zeke" Merrick.

Pitchers: Walter Towns, Alfred Graham, Clarence Mims, William Marshall and lefthander Jesse Pipkin.

Dillard Makes Strong Bid for Olympic Titles

NEW YORK—Harrison Dillard, '48 Olympic 100-meters champion won his sixth straight 60-yard high hurdles title—a feat unprecedented on track—here in the National AAU Indoor Track and Field meet.

Dillard, presently employed by the Cleveland Indians in the public relations department, accomplished the feat in 7.4s., three tenths of a second off his world standard.

Mal Whitfield, the former Jefferson High halfmiler ran third in the 600-yard run behind Charley Moore in 1:10:9s.

Reggie Pearman, and Roscoe Browne ran second and third respectively in the 1000-yard run won by Don Gehrmann.

Walcott Agrees To Meet Charles

NEW YORK—Jersey Joe Walcott who won the heavyweight crown from former Champ Ezzard Charles last July has agreed to defend his title for the first time against Charles in June.

For weeks negotiating has been going on for Jersey Joe to defend his title, it finally ended this week when Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club announced that Walcott would fight Charles at a site to be selected.

Towler Third Best Ball Carrier in Loop

RAMDOM—Deacon Dan Towler, the Los Angeles Ram's great running back recently named athlete of the Month of Southern California for January was named this week as the third top ball carrier in the National Football League.

Towler finished in third position with 854 yards on 126 attempts and an average gain of 6.8 yards a crack. His average was the second best among the leaders.

The San Francisco '49er's Joe Perry and the Ram's Paul "Tank" Younger finished fifth and seventeenth respectively.

ELAJC Huskies Seek Cinder Crown

Opening of track workouts at East Los Angeles Junior College finds the Huskies loaded with outstanding prospects for the approaching season.

Returning lettermen Allen Warren, Ralph Casas, Reed MacDonald, Henry Patterson, Stagalee Brown, Wesley Dickson, and Eddie O'Brien make Coach Ray Smith smile when he contemplates the weeks ahead.

Added to the above are several former high school athletes including Art Taylor, Roosevelt, All-Southern League miler; Franklyn Chong, Garfield broad jumper; Cleve Simmington, Jefferson pole vaulter; John Chavez, Garfield 440 man; and Tony Pena, hurdler also from Garfield.

Other 1951 squadmen who look good are Larry Todd, footballer John Henderson, and Bob Hernandez, pole vaulter and fine journalist.

The Huskie tracksters open the 1952 season against Compton on the Tartar track Friday, March 7.

BACKSTROM AT CHAPMAN

CHAPMAN COLLEGE—Jim Backstrom, ex-all-city and trackman for Poly High is currently one of the top cagers on the Chapman College five.

Hans Stars for Navy

Rollin Hans, a member of the National JC championship quintet of LACC in '50 and All-city performer for Poly High is currently the fifth top scorer in the Far West Major AAU League.

Hans is now playing for the Los Alamitos Navy five which is second in Loop standing.

COULD THIS MEAN Baron Leone is going in for football? Here, the popular wrestling star gets some first hand information on the gridiron sport from "Tank" Younger of the Los Angeles Rams, while Deacon Dan Towler, George Taliaferro and Irving Berman enjoy the gabfest. Picture was taken at Berman's House of Style following the recent Pro-Bowl game.

FOOTBALL STAR ON RADIO—Robert Arthur Evans, native of Philadelphia and captain-elect of the University of Pennsylvania's 1952 football team, who outlined his philosophy of life on CBS Radio Network's program, "This I Believe," devoted to statements of the guiding personal convictions of individuals from all walks of life. Edward R. Murrow, the program's host, introduced Mr. Evans as "an example of the richness of human resources in these United States."

Flowers for the Living Dept.

It is customary for pessimists and the disgruntled to cite and stress the disreputable characters connected with boxing, consequently, the impression prevails, in some circles, that the sport is wholly bad and utterly devoid of redeeming features.

However, there will always be ample vindication for boxing, while men like Stuart L. Vance are identified with it, as patrons.

When prices, periodically, are raised for the local championship fights, it does not faze Mr. Vance; penuriousness being something absolutely foreign to his nature. Besides investing customarily in a ringside seat for his personal use, Mr. Vance gratuitously and unostentatiously buys and distributes an additional number of expensive tickets to others, who, however ,are associates, still only in the casual acquaintance category; the identity, however, of such beneficiaries remains a guarded secret, being known only to himself. Humanitarians like Mr. Vance, with a flair for showing condescension, are certainly an asset to boxing. In the course of time with such financial backing, it cannot fail to thrive.

Incidentally, Mr. Vance is an exponent of the Christian principle that the secret of finding happiness is to essay making others happy.

Obviously, he has the right formula: who can doubt its appropriateness and the potency of its appeal, when the proffered gift, in question, is a championship fight ticket!

London Wants Third Turpin, Robinson Go

LONDON—A third title fight is brewing between world Champ Sugar Ray Robinson and Randy Turpin of England.

Fight promoter Jack Solomons is reported to fly to New York this Sunday to negotiate for a third title bout between the two.

It's said if Solomons gets the fight he expects to stage it in London's White City Stadium, June 10.

"Ole Randy Boy" won the world's welterweight crown from Robinson in London last year but held it only 64 days. Robinson won the crown back when he defeated him in New York in September.

Ex-Demos Spark Cal Poly Five

SAN LUIS OBISPO—Algin Sutton, Ex-Jefferson High All-city ace along with Dean Johnson, all-loop players for the Demos paced the Cal Poly five to a 55-52 triumph over Los Angeles State here Saturday night.

All-Conference Ed Nichols, and Vern Wilson also were an aid to the Mustangs.

Sutton and Johnson hit for 6 points a piece.

Simmons Huskie Cager

HUSKIEVILLE—Henry Simmons, ex-Jefferson High basketballer is one of the East Los Angeles Junior College star cagers.

St. Louis Browns Sign Ex-Jeff Ace

Ross Washington, ex-Jefferson and Manual Arts High horsehider, signed a reported $10,000 contract Tuesday of this week to play for the St. Louis Browns of the American League.

Brown officials state that Ross, rated as one of their outstanding local finds, will report to Pocatello for seasoning.

Washington starred for the Jefferson varsity nine in his freshman year and then moved over to the Manual Arts High campus for two stellar seasons.

Booster Group Formed by Sport Fans

Professional sporting events, all up and down the Coast will get a new "shot in the arm" as far as increased attendance is involved, if the newly suggested Boosters group has its way. Jimmy Nelson, popular owner of the Dunbar hotel, 4225 Central avenue here, is the lead off man for the group which will assume the name, California Athletic Sports Boosters Association with headquarters at his hotel.

Spokesmen for the group state the move follows the plan of integration recently adopted by the nation's foremost promoters and managers of major professional sports events. The group as an unattached body will attempt to rally the support of Negro fans to all local and coastal sports promotions.

Nelson said the move was favored by such outstanding local sports fans as Elihu "Black Dot" McGee, Sonny Maddox, Ralph Roberts, Dr. Thomas R. Peyton, John Collins, James "Buddie Garcia, Elmer "Babae" Wilson, Yvonne Shelton, Atty. H. Leonard Richardson, Clarence Moore, Dr. Burlin Humphrey, Charles Martin and others. He said Clyde Wamack, here on a vacation, would represent the sports fans of San Francisco in the coastal organization.

Lawrence F. LaMar, nationally known newsman, is serving as press representative for the organization. It was pointed out to newsmen that the example of integration viewed with growing satisfaction by the fan group was in the appointment of the following men as officials in the local sports realm:

Norman O. Houston, boxing commissioner; Dynamite Jackson, boxing referee; Clarence "Benny" McFadden, boxing inspector; Dr. John Coleman, medical examiner and Emmett Ashford, a semi-pro baseball umpire. The group is looking eagerly to witnessing the oft postponed Ray Robinson-Bobo Olson, worlds middleweight title bout in San Francisco on March 13. They still have hopes that the heaveyweight title bout between Jersey Joe Walcott and Seattle's Harry Kid Mathews bout may be fought here on the coast.

Tucker High Point Man In Split Bill

PALTO ALTO—The UCLA Bruins and the Stanford Indians split a double bill here over the weekend with the Indians' Ed Tucker racking up a total of 40 points.

Ed hit for 23 digits the first night and came back to lead his team to a thrill-packed 77-68 by pitching in 17 markers.

Ed who was an all-southern California selection for two seasons while playing for Compton JC is the first member of the race to ever win a Indian letter.

UCLA's freshman star Johnny Moore scored a total of 19 points for two games.

Prying Pye in Prep Sportdom

By BRAD PYE, JR.

DREW, HOW GREAT CAN ONE BE?

Among the mail received this week was a letter from a client blasting Jefferson's two-time all-city halfback, Jerry Drew, for letting the local press and Vic Kelly, publicist of UCLA down in not notifying them of his change of heart. . . .

Jerry, probably the most sought-after back in the history of Jefferson High, had Red Sanders, UCLA grid mentor and his former coach Mike Marienthal, erstwhile UCLA all-coaster, and everyone else concerned under the impression that he would enter UCLA. . . . But without a word it is reported that he, along with his mother and sister, made the trek to the Cal campus, via the airlines, during the recent lull between semesters. . . .

GEORGE BROWN
Olympic Prospect

I've been trying to get in touch with Drew for the last two weeks without any results. . . . Drew told this column conductor the same week of his graduation that he was all set to go to UCLA on the 18th of this month. . . . As the readers of this corner will recall we ran a banner story on this fact, and so did the dailies . . . but it seems now that Drew put all of us on a spot. . . .

This same client, which I'm not at liberty to name, states that it's a long time from Feb. 18 until Sept. 1. . . . Jerry . . . he says he will give me 100-1 odds that you won't be wearing a Cal football suit . . . come Sept. 1. . . .

THIS I HOPE ISN'T SO . . . SO SAY IT ISN'T SO

Drew, I hope this isn't so. . . . We have gone all-out for you, which isn't any more than we would do for any other deserving athlete, without any thought of reward, except your trust and appreciation. . . . Drew, we want it to go on record that it doesn't matter to us whether you go to Cal., USC, or any other college or university of your desire. . . .

But I think that you were unfair in letting your fine coach, Mike Marienthal, the community, the rest of the great Jefferson High faculty, the outstanding student body, your fine UCLA backers, and little ole me down in telling us that you were going to enter UCLA. . . . It was your moral obligation. . . . I have heard or read along the way-side that an athlete is no greater than his public and publicity. . . .

I'm of the school of thought that competitive athletics help to mold an individual's character! for some athletics cast out conceit and prejudice, while for others athletics remove the barriers of fear; athletics offer to some boys an opportunity to make friends and find confidence in themselves. . . . It's my contention, Drew, your actions missed the boat. . . . How great can one be? . . .

Irving "King of Style" Berman and lovely wife are just back from three joyous weeks of vacationing in Havana, New York, and other South American scenic spots. Berman, in my book one of the city's finest sportsmen, donated the giant trophy awarded Joe Louis at the Herman Hill, Long John Thomas and Chalky Wright-sponsored First Annual Boxer's Testimonial recently at the Club Alabam.

Long John Thomas, probably California's most colorful lightweight in his day, is at present likewise California's Chicken Champ with his well-appointed location at 4021 So. Avalon Blvd. . . . I was in at the Champ's establishment Saturday for one of his fine fryers. . . . Take it from me, Ace, you cannot get better anywhere else in town. . . .

THANK YOU, IT'S GREAT TO ME FOR YOU TO SAY SO

The finest compliment ever paid this column conductor was made by serviceman Albert ..... at the Elks Aud. Sunday night. . . . Albert, who is just back from overseas duty, told me that he and the other fellows really appreciated my columns over there. . . . Albert, thank you, and the rest of my swell buddies over there who get something out of these efforts. . . . Thanks again, and believe me, it's a great honor for you to say so. . . .

THE SPIKE FRONT . . . LAUDS UCLA's BROWN

UCLA's George Brown, holder of every broad jump record around these parts, is virtually a sure bet for a gold medal at Helsinki this summer. . . . As a prep at Jordan High, Brown broke Jesse Owen's national Interscholastic mark and last year he amazed the world in Tokyo in an International meet, with a fabulous leap of 26 ft. 1 inch. . . . Brown, along with his teammates Rod Richards, ex-Poly High B star and UCLA century record holder at 9.5s, and footballer Milton Davis were among the 60 spike aspirants who reported to Coach Lucky Drake this week. . . . Davis should be a strong candidate for the quarter mile race. . . . Elmer Douglas, Honorary Captain of the UCLA Rebels, is currently one of the Bruin's No. 1 point winners on the boxing team. . . . This is Douglas's second season of boxing for the Bruins. . . .

HERE AND YONDER

Richard Powell, of Chicago, is rated by the great Willie Hoppe as a coming champ in the billiards game. . . . Up and down the coast this season is probably one of the greatest arrays of sepia cagers ever. . . . The No. 1 among the lot in my book is Stanford's Ed Tucker, the first of the race to win an Indian letter. . . . Ed is currently the top scorer in the PCC. . . . He hit for 23 digits against the Bruins here over the weekend in one tilt. . . . K. C. Jones, big USF Frosh, is one of the Don's big guns. . . . Forward Victor Gibson is a workhorse cager for San Francisco State. . . . Algin Sutton, all-city player for Larry Hanson's Jeff team of '50 along with all-leaguers of the same team, Charles Hill and Dean Johnson are fine aids to the Cal Poly five. . . . So are James Bell, Hardy Gideon, Vern Wilson and the celebrated Ed Nichols, named to two all-tournament teams last year. . . . And here at home Freshman starter Johnny Moore and Bobby Pounds of UCLA are two fine prospects. . . . Many of these lads will be seen in action locally when the big Frat series gets under way later this month.

'Spoon' Convicted

He fololwed the speeding car for 20 blocks, moving behind it at 75 miles per hour and losing sight of it twice as it made several turn. Crawford said his red lifht and siron were on throughout the chase. After the car turned on 83rd, it came to a stop and Witherspoongot out on the left, staggering as he walked to the rear fender.

As he and Ruggles approached the recording artist, he said that Jimmie began loud talking and demanded to know why he was followed. Crawford said he did not ask Witherspoon what he was doing with that car. He said he asked for credentials and found a temporary driver's license.

Crawford remarked that if Witherspoon had been an ordinary drunk on the street he would not have arrested him. But because he opearted a vehicle he felt that he should have taken him in. He continued that Jimmie began cursing and reached into the car. As this action occurred, Crawford said, Ruggles drew his gun and pointed it at Witherspoon.

Added the officer, Witherspoon became belligerent, swinging his arms around to keep free from being searched. Crawford said Witherspoon struck his partner, Ruggles, who returned the blow with a direct punch. He said the singer insisted he was not doing anything and they had no right to arrest him.

The officer said he told Witherspoon to clam down, that he intended to subdue him or arrest him. Crawford examined the "Spoon's" eyes without placing a light to them and concluded he was drunk because they were blood shot.

At that point Attorney Reese brought Witherspoon to the bench where he revealed that Jimmie's eyes are normally red due to a faulty eye condition. Judge Berry said the redness was not to be considered evidence of intoxication in the trial.

Ruggles testified that when Witherspoon was questioned as to identity, he said he was Captain McGowan of Newton Street police station. He said Jimmie reached for his waist and he grabbed both wrists and pushed him back.

He pulled his gun and after Spoon quieted down, he replaced it in its holster. He said the singer picked his partner off the ground and he grabbed his neck in'a choking manner, forcing him to release Crawford.

Together the officers handcuffed him from the back and ordered him into the police car.

When the nationally known entertainer, nattily dressed in gray suit and colorful tie, took the stand, he told the court he had taken a friend home, stopped off for breakfast at a drive-in and was headed for home when the humiliating event took place. He admitted drinking three jiggers of Scotch earlier in the evening, but said it had left no intoxicating effects.

"I could not have been doing more than 60 or 65, your honor, as I was driving down Central," he said. "It was after I turned the corner on my street that I saw the red light. I pulled to the curb and parked my car. I got out and the officers began getting rough."

He told the court he pleaded for a sobriety test but the officers refused. When he insisted, he was struck in the stomach and was knocked against the car. "When I mentioned Captain McGowan's name, I only meant for them to call him for my identification. I had recently done a benefit for the DAPs and we had become friends."

After Witherspoon said he was battered around, while officers placed handcuffs that were too tight and caused severe cuts on his wrists, he was taken to the station and completely ignored by the night lieutenant. He requested aid fro mthe jailer who called an ambulance, he said.

Spoon said that even at the station he was refused a sobriety test.

In Attorney Reese's closing remarks he said that Witherspoon did not hear the siren because the windows were closed. He said that Ruggles formed the opinion Jimmie was drunk before he talked with him. He accused them of not taking the necessary steps to ascertain whether or not he was under the influence of alcohol.

Before giving the verdict, Judge Berry said he was very much impressed by Witherspoon's truthfulness and honesty on the stand. He said he would be as lenient as possible because it was his first arrest.

Meanwhile, Witherspoon, no doubt due to the decision, will be singing the blues with real sincerity at the Cotton Club where he is scheduled for two weeks engagement.

Horseburgers Being Sold on Central Ave.

"Horseburgers"—hamburger adulterated with horse meat—have made their appearance on Central avenue, and have resulted in the arrest of one dealer charged on four felony counts.

Preliminary trial of Joseph Siedle, 68, wholesale meat dealer at 255 E. Florence avenue, charged with selling the horse meat, is scheduled for Tuesday in municipal court.

Outlets in the Central avenue area reported to have received horse meat when they thought they were buying beef are the Gorge L. Mudd Market at 6100 S. Central avenue, and the Avalon Catering Co., 5947 S. Avalon Blvd.

Siedle is accused of selling meat adulterated with horse flesh to these two companies, to another at 152 N. Market street, and through his wholesale store on Florence avenue. He is now out on $2500 bail.

If convicted of the felony charges, Siedle faces a penalty of not less than $10,000 or not less than one year in jail, or both.

Investigators of the State Bureau of Food and Drug Inspection department advised the Eagle that their action in checking up on all sources of adulteration is for the purpose of preventing the development of a "horse meat" scandal such as is current in Chicago and similar to the one that developed here in Los Angeles several years ago.

The department is testing meat throughout the city, for possible horse meat content and for an overage of fat and other possible adulteration.

YM Reaches One Fourth Of Its Goal

The 28th Street YMCA Membership and Financial Campaign has reached a grand total of $3,187.85 after three report meetings, less than one-fourth of the overall goal which has been set at 2,500 members and $16,000 in cash.

The Commissioner's Circle, under the direction of Lonzie L. Jones, tops the three divisions with a total of $2,746. Top man in this division is Rev. M. Frederick Mitchell who has recorded $505 to his credit. Other members who have exceeded the century mark are Clarence S. Smith, $215; Norman O. Houston, $200; Lonzie L. Jones, $185; John Bean, $170; Lorenzo Bowdoin, $160; Dr. P. Price Cobbs, $155; Lloyd V. Prante, $100; Arthur Houston, $160; Nolan Peyton, $125; Edward A. Hawkins, $100; Toussaint L. Jennings, $138; Rev. Paul D. Lehman, $185.

The National League, headed by Ethel Bryant, Arthur Patterson, Clyde Howell and Gilbert Lindsay, are out in front of the American League by a safe margin. Arthur Patterson and Harold Markham have been the big guns for this division with reports of $140 and $105 respectively, while Bernard C. Carter leads all workers in the Amercain League with a total of $86.

Civil Rights Plea Made by President Of Catering Union

A strong plea for the defense of civil rights appears in an editorial in the current issue of the "Catering Industry Employee."

Under the signature of Hugo Ernst, general president, the editorial points up the threat to Liberals and unionists and all others who dare to criticize by the creation now in this country of concentration camps. The article links the closing in of freedoms with the intimidation of Negroes in the South.

The editorial states:

"Last month in these pages I spoke of the urgent importance to our country of a big turnout at the polls in this year's elections. This is especially important for people like members of our union who work for somebody else. It is a special duty of trade union members everywhere.

"This month, as the year begins in which we will choose a President, a new Congress and thousands of state officials, I want to dwell upon one of the most serious of the reasons why we must vote this year: to defend our Bill of Rights.

Violations Grow

"From where I sit, it looks to me as though the basic civil liberties which most of us have always taken for granted are in danger. They are in danger, it seems to me, because most of us, from the President on down—business people, labor people, the press and radio, yes, even our school and church leaders—have been paying so much attention to the troubled state of world affairs, the threat of war, the jolting revelations of public and private corruption all about us, that we have permitted violations of our civil rights to grow on every hand.

"America has wound up 1951, and entered the new year on the creast of a great business boom created by the bottomless demand of the festern world for arms. Our ability to produce thees weapons is a tribute to our industrial power.

"It points up advanced techniques—possibel under capitalism, making ours the wealthiest nation on earth with a standard of living the envy of billions.

"But what shall it profit us to produce this arsenal against a foreign foe, if the very institutions they are meant to protect are permitted to languish through the indifference of our people?

Minorities Attacked

"On page three you will find the text of our Bill of Rights. They are the first 10 amendments to our Constitution, adopted 160 years ago when the first American citizens felt they needed to put in writing their most precious privileges. They are worth studying.

"In recent months, more than one of these rights has been put in jeopardy, sometimes by private, sometimes by public persons. In every case, the person whose rights are violated is a member of a minority—racial, religious or political.

"Most generally, the violations are suffered by those who speak out for unpopular cuases. They are punished, in effect, for their criticism of the way the majority is conducting itself.

"Latest in the series of items confirming the view that the rights of U. S. citizens are in jeopardy were two reports carried in the papers late last month.

Death and Detention

"One datelined Mims, Florida, told of the Christmas night murder of Harry Moore, Florida representative of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Mr. Moore's civil rights were violated with awful finality because he could not sit still while the civil rights of others were being violated.

"Mr. Moore died for daring to criticize, and for demand that other citizens criticize, the Florida sheriff who shot two shackled Negro youths, killing one and wounding the other, who were being transported to a hearing on the Groveland case.

"The other news item, in its broad implications even more omnious to thetraditional U. S. idea of freedom, was datelined Washington, and told how the Departmentof Justice has ordered its Bureau of Prisons to prepare several detention camps for "subversives" to be used "should the need arise."

Remember Hitler

"Anybody old enough to remember Nazi Germany can well pause and reflect upon the implications of these two items from our daily press.

"Remember how we didn't really believe that a civilized nation could permit bandsof hoodlums to go about killing Jews?

"Remember how we could not believe that Hitler & Co. were locking up teachers, labor leaders, musicians, business men, political leaders and plain working people in concentration camps?

"And what was the crime of these victims of Hitler?

They Criticized

"They were guilty of criticizing the German state, its policies and its programs.

"Some of them didn't like the way the Jews were being treated, and said so.

"Some favored Social-Democratic plans for nationalizing the steel industry, and said so.

"Some didn't like the way Hitler set up a Labor Front, and said as much in speeches and union papers.

"Some protested that too much was going for guns, and not enough for butter.

"Some talked out loud about inflation, and the need for more take home pay, and urged their unions to fight against frozen wages.

"Some didn't like the use of German troops in Spain to help Franco destroy the Spanish Republic, and made the mistake of passing out leaflets on the subject.

"Some didn't like the way Hitler tried to silence the church, or objected to Nazi ideas being taught their children at school.

Subversives

"And some, undoubtedly, were spies and saboteurs, traitors to the Third Reich and the principles of the National-Socialist Party.

"No matter what the criticism, Hitler had an easy formula for putting them out of the way—for silencing those who criticized: he simply labeled all of them "subversives," guilty of "un-German activity" and hauled them off to jail. When the jails were full, he put them away in concentration camps. And when the camps were full, he simply had his critics burned in the ovens of Belsen and Buchenwald.

"And that, in the main, was the price of criticizing Hitler and his ways.

Threat to Labor

"All this is important to us in American unions.

"It is important to us because our unions, first and last, are in the business of criticizing and protesting. Every time we organize the unorganized, every time we negotiate a new contract, every time we go out on strike, every time we ask the Congress to vote more houses, or tighter price controls, or fair employment laws we are engaged in our fundamental mission of protest, of criticizing things as they are and demanding with all our power that changes be made for the better.

"But criticism is getting dangerous in the U. S. A.

"More and more subjects are becoming forbidden, lest he who speak of them be listed by someone as "subversive," guilty of "un-American activities." And in the understandable rush to avoid the label "red," those who stand to cash in on the fever of fascism are happy as can be.

No Longer Safe

"Time was when it was considered safe to speak of peace, but that time has just about gone.

"It used to be safe to walk into a record shop and ask for anybody's music, or to hire anybody you wanted to be on your radio show, or to read the books fo your choice—but now authors, singers, atcors are being blacklisted for their views.

"It hasn't been very long since every respectable labor leader in the land was ready to put his name to a demand for FEPC laws—but now labor leaders think twice before standing up to be counted against discrimination.

"Only a couple of years ago it was safe to speak out for national health insurance—but now you're branded a radical by the AMA when you sound off out loud on the subject.

Footsie With Reds

"Lately the bosses are even saying in so many words that the union which fights to break the wage freeze so working people can escape the trap of inflation is playing footsie with the Reds!

"Sounds crazy, doesn't it, that you might get into trouble, maybe under the Smith Act one of these days, for advocating an end to frozen wages?

"Yet, Mr. Moore lies dead in Florida because he spoke out against the white supremacy ideas of the majority.

"And the Department of Justice is fitting out detention camps for people who have too freely opposed the political and economic ideas of the majority.

"Whether these people are Communists or not is beside the point. The camps may be intended for Communists today. They can be used for "non-Communist liberals" and trade unionists tomorrow.

"Where is it going to end?

"The answer to that question is up to you and me. We have a chance to answer it in this year's elections—by sending to Washington and our state capitals men and women who will dust off the Bill of Rights and restore it to its proper place as the capstone of Americanism."

The old Judge lit a big cigar, took a sip of excellent brandy and leaned back listening to his erudite friends discuss psychology. They were going at it hot and heavy. The Freud cohorts were explaining everything in terms of the libido. Another school was balancing the libido with environment. The hereditary school was leaning heavy on instincts. The followers of Jung. Will James, Pavlou were trying to get a word in edgewise. The whole organism school was trying to compromise with everybody.

The old Judge had more than a passing interest in the conversation as he was fairly conversant with the basic theories, though the new terms such as psycosomatic sorta threw him. After all he had taken Psy. 51 from Dr. Blau at City College and had gotten a B in the course. He had even understood the psychological undertones of Mourning Becomes Electra in lit. 52. Admittedly they were rather heavy handed, but he caught them.

He had more than a passing knowledge of Sigmund's sex relationship theories, though he admitted that he read them more for pornographic relaxation from stuffy law books concerned with Stare Decisis. He recalled with amusement how armed with a bare knowledge of Freud he set out to "psy" every chick on the campus to help her release her inhibitions and frustrations, and only succeeded in heightening his own.

There was one strain of consistency through the conversation. No matter what school of thought adhered to, his friends could explain all forms of human behavior through their particular psychological formula. "Wonder what they would do if they were on the bench with me and ran into some of the cases I do. Think this week I'll try to analyse each case and see if it helps me.

Theodore Booker, 1125 E. 49th street is a good Christian. He went to church Sunday at 1300 E. 50th and sang in the choir. While raising his voice in praise, some thief sneaked in and raised his wallet from the dressing room to the tune of 69 dollars. "Let's see," muse the Judge. "The environment boys would say he was taught to steal and hate churches in his squalid childhood. The heriditary school would blame it on the genes he was unfortunate to get in the shuffle for him to be like mother or dad. The Will James boys would figure it a rebellion against the fear of God. The Freudian crew would figure that church, choirs, and money got mixed up in his sex life somehow."

The Judge shook his head sadly, "Seems to me that whoever wrote that the love of money is the root of all evil, dug a pretty good root."

Calvin Mathews, 625 E. Vernon, was observed walking down the street with a typewriter under his arm. Alert officers investigated and found he borrowed it from Scott Bros. Realty Company (do they advertise) without their consent.

"Wonder if his mother typed while she nursed him, thereby setting up a complex," conjectured the Judge.

Robert Baines, 291 E. 45th street and Curry Specks, 1110 E. 12th street got in an argument. The argument was over money and Specks gave Baines a blood test that wasn't intended for the blood bank. I supposed the dominant personality won out," said the Judge hopefully.

Robert Starr's common law wife Corrine Finney, 1120 E. 12th street came home and accused him of having another woman in the room during her absence. When he didn't deny it enough to suit her, she cut him deep, wide and consectively. "Score one for Freud," roared the Judge.

John's Place, 3412 S. Central and Pontiac Liquors, 4600 S. Central again made deposits to the Hill and Hill bandit. "There must be some psychological motivation behind his asking for a pint of Hill and Hill every time," thought the Judge. "If I could figure that out, I might solve Capt. McQuonn's troubles."

Leroy Smith, 4727 Compton Avenue, tried to stop a fight between Henry C. Wiseman and his wife and got sliced with a razor for his trouble. "Just can't tell how much violence between lovers is part of sex play," said the Judge quoting Freud.

Oscar Young, 3718 Wall and his girl friend Catherine Yarbrough (same address, hummm) indulged in a little violent sex play that left Oscar bleeding from the effects of being caressed with a butcher knife. "No comment," said the Judge thumbing through a book on Freud.

Virgie M. Cooper and James Howard, 950 E. 31st street had been living in a manner to qualify for community property without benefit of clergy. During a domestic tiff, after a few drinks, he started after her with knife, but she was too agile and he was frustrated soul as he only cut wind.

Willie Joe Welch, 633 E. Vernon got in argument with Robert Blassnigell, 633 East Vernon (hummph) over her boy friend. He got out his tools, chased her into a drug store where he hit her over the head with a hammer and cut her with a knife. "Maybe his subconscious wouldn't let him hurt her until she was where she could get first aid, or probably he was just a little slow afoot."

Veteran Tries Suicide Leap From Roof Top

Suicide attempt of a despondent veteran was foiled by a quick thinking army sargeant Wednesday afternoon.

Charles Spruill, who was reportedly grieving over his recent separation from his wife, tried to take his life by jumping from the roof ledge of Southway Hotel, 5119 S. Avalon. His life was saved by Army Air Force Instructor Sgt. Wesley Lark who wrapped his belt around the legs of Spruill as he daggled in wires.

Just before the near tragedy occurred, Spruill had eaten lunch and appeared to be in good spirits. His cheerful mood was noticed by those he spoke with during the morning. His conversations showed no evidence of his later suicide attempt.

Sgt. Lark, hotel manager James Holmes and Rayon LaRué were standing in the rear yard of the building when Lark noticed Spruill. He screamed to him, but his warning was unheeded. Spruill jumped from the ledge of the three story building. As he fell, he was caught in wires that formed a net beneath him.

Lark reached the top of the roof in time to slip his belt around Spruill's legs and held him upside down until Holmes and LaRue came to his rescue, Spruill was treated for shock and minor bruises.

Spruill was released from the army in 1948 after serving three years. Upon discharge, disagreements with his wife arose and final break-up took place six months ago.

He rented a room at Southway and had been living there three weeks. After searching for employment several weeks, he became depressed. In his grief, Spruill became quiet and seldom participated in conversation.

When his mood changed Wednesday, his friends remarked how pleasant his personality was. His attempt was a blow to them later. Spruill does not remember what lead to his near suicide.

Spruill's only known relative is a sister, Martha Moore, who lives at 100 Princeton street in Smithfield, N. C. He hopes his sister will read his story and permit him to return home.

Anti-Bias Ordinance

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.—Passage by the City Commission of a strong civil rights ordinance places this New Mexico city in the forefront of local communities combating racial discrimination. The new ordinance, banning racial discrimination in places of public accommodation, is believed to be the first such law passed by a city legislative body. Other civil rights statutes have generally been passed by state legislatures rather than by city councils.

Negro Workers to Back Strike Fight Of Steel Union

Approximately 1500 Negro workers will be on strike here if the United Steel Workers of America fail to reach an agreement with the steel companies.

Negroes in the industry, according to Woodrow Redo, president of local No. 2172 at the U.S. Steel Products, are standing shoulder to shoulder with their white fellow workers in backing the demands of the union.

Special point of interest to the Negroes is the demand for a guaranteed annual wage, one of the demands contained in the "package" deal being sought by the union. Reason for the special interest in this demand is the fact that when any lay-offs occur, Negroes are hardest hit due to the fact that in many instances they are the last hired and therefore have least seniority.

Committee o Decide

Decision on the strike question is to be taken by a 170-man policy of the steelworkers in Pittsburgh next Thursday.

A nation-wide strike was slated for the first of the year but was postponed by action of the steelworkers convention following a direct appeal from President Truman. It was agreed then to submit the case to a special six-man panel of the Wage Stabilization Board, and to reconsider the situation 45 days after that panel commenced its hearings.

The panel commenced its investigation Jan. 10. Deadline set by the union is Feb. 24.

Denies Inflation

The steel companies have claimed that granting of the wage demands of the workers including the "fringe" demands would be inflationary.

Philip Murray, president of the union, has answered forthrightly that this claim is a fraud, and that the steel industry can well afford to pay the wage increases and other benefits out of its skyrocketing prices.

Gives Facts

In his speach to the panel, Murray declared:

"Let's get this fact straight, once and for all:

"Wage increases are in no way responsible for the price increases and inflation which have taken place in this country during the last year and a half.

"What is responsible? Simply this:

"Shamless profiteering, sky-high profits and a Congress dominated by industry—including the steel industry—which refused to pass a decent law to control inflation.

"Steelworkers—and all the American people—are its victims.

"Steelworkers are badly in need of a wage increase to keep their heads above water.

Rodger Young Closing Fought

Proposals to abandon Rodger Young Village, Quonset hut public housing project in Griffith Park, drew the fire of united veterans organizations this week as they asked City Council to declare an emergency and continue maintenance of the project.

Almost one third of the more than 1560 families of the Village are Negroes. Veterans said that they feared the effects of eviction both on the morale of present residents of the Village and on the fighting men in Korea.

Meanwhile City Council resounded with complaints that some of the residents are earning as much as $650 a month and are not hardship cases. The Village is on land in Griffith Park and the Department of Parks and Recreation has asked that the land be restored to its original use.

Still under consideration by the State Supreme Court is the question of whether or not the city can abandon its ten thousand unit public housing program. City Council, by an eight to seven vote, balloted to abandon that program but the Housing Authority sued to prevent that action. Also to be heard by the Supreme Court is an action challenging legality of the entire program.

Three Men Burned In Huge Explosion

Three workers at the Berg Metals Co. plant, 2652 Long Beach Ave., today are recovering from severe burns received when an aluminum smelting furnace overflowed into water and exploded Saturday.

The injured were Lee Leonard, 44, foreman, of 1056 West 54th St., Ben Ross, of 1347 East 27th St., and James Melch, 36, of 6200 Santa Fe Ave., Huntington Park.

All the men received first, second and third degree burns of the legs arms and face. They were taken to Georgia Street Receiving Hospital.

Rosement Area To Hold Negro History Affair

An exciting and challenging program of action was mapped out by the members of the Rosemont Area Youth Project at their regular monthly meeting held February 7th at the Echo Park Recreational Center.

The committee is planning its first annual Negro History program to take place February 29th at the Echo Park Recreational Center. The program will be presented by the young people from the Rosemont Area. Any young people who would like to participate in the program are urged to contact Mrs. Josie Johnson, program chairman, DU 3-5730. If the committments made to date are any indication, the program will be one no one will dare miss!

The second project undertaken was the sponsoring of an adult education forum. A committee under chairmahship of Mrs. Clara Ramsey, will meet Monday, February 18th at 9:30 a.m. at the Echo Park Recreational Center. Anyone interested in participating is invited to attend this meeting. For further information, please contact Mrs. Ramsey, DU 7-5425.

Negro Student Attends Brazil School Confab

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil—Herbert L. Wright, national youth secretary of the NAACP, arrived here this week for the Inter-American Student Conference sponsored by the National Students Union of Brazil.

As a delegate from the National Students Association of the United States, Mr. Wright is representing the youth of the U. S. at this conference of students from all countries in the Americas and to discuss cultural, social and economic problems affecting youth.

Postal Heads Fight Federal

WASHINGTON— Developments of nationwide significance are expected from this city in a few days, following momentous conferences by top officials of the National Alliance of Postal Employees, headed by President Ashby B. Carter, distinguished Chicagoan. The developments involve the much-discussed "loyalty" situation.

In Dec., 1951, the U. S. Civil Service Commission announced that the "reopening of the loyalty cases of 565 Federal employees has been ordered by the Loyalty Review Board."

How many Negro Federal workers were on that list is not known. However, the new appraisal holds serious implications, especially in view of the long and hard, but successful, fight of the NAPE to vindicate and gain reinstatement for a number of Negro postal workers who lost their jobs in the "postal purge" of four years ago.

The new standard provides that a "reasonable doubt" of an employe's loyalty is sufficient to bar employment by the U. S. Government. Previously, the requisite was that "reasonable grounds for belief that the person involved is disloyal" could bar such employment.

Technical J.C.

A 500-hour course for pre-apprentices will be established shortly in the Day Division Plastering Class at Los Angeles Trade-Technical Junior College, 1646 South Olive Street, announced Alf Dahl, building trades department chairman.

Required of all applicants for apprenticeship in the Plastering trade without previous experience, the class is open to men 18 to 24 years of age. Students must complete the class before their 24th birthday to qualify for apprenticeship. Applications may be made at the school's information window.

3 TV Shows Commended For Racial Integration

Three television programs on the National Broadcasting Company network have been commended by Television Authority, the American Federation of Labor union representing performers in television. They are "The Somerset Maugham Television Theater," presented on Monday evenings; "The Texaco Star Theater," which features comedian Milton Berle, and the Eddie Cantor show, telecast from Hollywood. The shows were cited for "the way in which they have integrated Negro artists into their programs."

The Somerset Maugham program, which has been referred to as one of the most adult presentations on television, offers some of the noted author's most provocative stories. On occasions when Negro thespians have been cast in the TV adaptations of the English writer's short stories and novels, no racial identification was associated with the roles they portrayed.

Top Negro entertainers have appeared with increasing frequency on the Milton Berle show in recent months. Popular blues and rhythm artists such as Louis Jordan and his aggregation, The Mills Brothers, trumpet star Louis Armstrong, and Larry Steele and his Smart Affairs Review are among recent visitors to "Mr. Television's" program.

Eddie Cantor, long known for his efforts in behalf of better racial understanding, has also played host to prominent Negro entertainers on his program. Cantor alternates with other comedians as featured star on the Colgate Comedy Hour on NBC.

Letters of commendation were sent to the three shows on behalf of the 25,000 members of Television Authority by the Committee to Further Employment Opportunities for Negro Artists in TV.

The shows were cited on three counts: one, "for improving the quality of TV by the use of Negro performers in such a way as to reflect their role in everyday life"; two, "for demonstrating to the world that American democracy does work in action"; and three, "for your effort to please that segment of the TV audience which consists of a potential of 10,000,000 Negroes."

Eugene Francis, chairman of the Committee to Further Employment Opportunities for Negro Artists in TV, announced that the three shows were mentioned particularly for the way in which they carried out the industry policy, a statement of which was secured following a series of meetings between representatives of Television Authority and officials of four broadcasting networks.

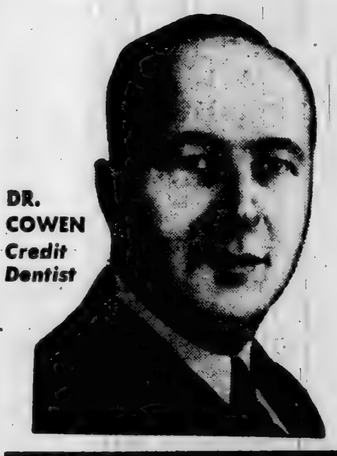
How to treat your telephone

The best way to spruce up your telephone is to polish it with a soft, dry cloth . . . never with water or any other liquid. You'll find that it'll always be ready to serve you better, too, if you keep these simple pointers in mind: Avoid "gadget" attachments . . . keep cords free of doorways where they may be pinched . . . and always keep water away from wires and fittings.



it's precision-built . . . and it can develop ailments if it's dropped. So make sure the stand your telephone sits on is solid . . . and located in a place where the instrument won't be accidentally knocked off onto the floor.

Local Groups Aid March of Dimes

Participation of leading clubs and outstanding civic leaders is helping make the March of Dimes benefit dance to be held at El Sombrero Ballroom, Monday, February 25, an outstanding success.

To this worthy cause such people as Ann O'Farrell, Wini Orr, Travis Allen, Gilbert Lindsay, Yolanda Billingsley, Lillian Dody, Gaynelle Miles, Beulah Honore, Ruth Epps, Mae Myers, Sydnetta

PERCY MAYFIELD

Smith, Marzella Johnson, Florence Atkinson, Zrelda Sealey, Ann Jackson, Ann Gordon, and Estelle Sherwood.

Local clubs represented are Jack and Jill Mothers of Los Angeles, Bib and Tuckers, Medical, Dental and Pharmaceutical Auxiliary, Thirteen 'Aides Charity Club, Charles Drew Medical Auxiliary and National Council of Negro Women.

Betty Howard, co-chairman, wife of Dr. Wayne C. Howard, is in charge of invitations, tickets are donated by Fentress Press.

Many of the well-known acts will be present such as Dinah Washington, Mable Scott, Ina Ray Hutton, Harry James, Will Mastin Trio were obtained through the conscientious efforts of Don Brown, Ben Waller and J. T. Bibson.

The central division of the March of Dimes is headed by Lorenzo Bowdoin, of Angelus Funeral, and Gilbert Lindsay.

The dance committee is under the capable direction of Ethel Sissle Gordon, well-known civic leader.

There is special interest this year in the fight for polio due to its infliction upon one of our leading club women, Mrs. Paul Johnson of Pasadena, who was a victim last summer and is now, through excellent care, able to walk again. Another strike close to home on the committee was the little daughter of Don Brown.

Those who will appear include Will Mastin Trio, Sammy Davis, Jr., Charles Brown, Dinah Washington, T. Bone Walker, Trenier Twins, Lorenzo Flennoy, Page Cavanaugh, Edward Everett Horton, Mable Scott, Jimmy Witherspoon, Fox and White, Arthur Lee Simpkins, Joe Adams, Delta Rhythm Boys, Charles Trammel, Leonard Reed, Percy Mayfield, Harry James, Ina Ray Hutton, Jimmy Miller Trio, Bootie Green, Caribbean Dancers with Camille Cannady, and "Scatman" Crouthers.

Music will be provided by Calvin Boze, now playing at Club Alabam.

Author to Speak on 'Moby Dick'

Millions of Americans know Moby Dick as an exciting sea story. What is now emerging is the prophecy—an astonishing anticipation of the modern crisis—which Herman Melville wove into the excitement of his adventure story.

This is the analysis of C. L. R. James, the British author who is electrifying audiences from Los Angeles to New York with his lecture on "Prophetic Riddle of Herman Melville."

James, the speaker at the Los Angeles Melville Centenary Celebration at Occidental College, College, March 7 and at the Columbia University Moby Dick Centennial, February 13, shows Melville not only anticipated the modern totalitarian dictator, but also the quandary of the liberal and the intellectual, and the question of primitive man's relationship to the Western world. He discussed Moby Dick over CBS "Invitation to Learning" February 10.

"Melville," James points out, "lived in a time of great crisis prior to the Civil War. He described characters and types of behavior characteristic of a period of turmoil. These disappeared for two generations after the Civil War, only to reappear with the stress of World War I and snice. As the crisis grows, so does the interest in this great writer."

Among the sponsors of the Los Angeles Melville Centenary Celebration on March 7, are James Edwards, star of "Home of the Brave," Leon Howard, biographer of Herman Melville, Frank C. Baxter, English Professor at the University of Southern California. Albert Wm. Upton, English Professor at Whittier College, is chairman of the Centenary Celebration.

Doll League Dinner Party

A dinner party was enjoyed by members of the Doll League Charity Club, Inc., at the home of Mrs. Evelyn Royal. The business meeting followed and plans were completed for a spring cocktail party on Easter Sunday afternoon, April 13, at the Florentine Gardens, 5955 Hollyood Blvd.

The public is familiar with the charity work done by this enterprising group.

Entertainers will include top name guest artists. A surprise gimmick is also in store. Watch this paper for further details.

Next meeting will be held with Mrs. Ruth Ball on Saturday, Feb. 23 at 8 p.m.

Please address all correspondence pertaining to Doll League Charity Club Inc. to the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Ethel Pickett, at 2122 West Blvd.

Loretta Pruitt Becomes Bride In Sunday Ceremony

BEWITCHING BRIDE—Loretta Pruitt Matthews who was wed Sunday in an elaborate ceremony at Westminster Presbyterian church.

Amid surroundings of breathtaking beauty Loretta Pruitt, daughter of William Montcalm Pruitt and foster daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil B. Murrell, became the bride of Frank Matthews. The Rev. H. B. Hawes performed the ceremony.

The bride was exquisitely gowned in a custom made dress of shimmering ivoty satin with full bodice of imported Chantilly lace which fell in a full peplum over the hips, cascading in a Cathedral train over the satin one.

Her veil was of imported French illusion held by a pearl circlet tiara. About her throat she wore the groom's gift—a strand of delicate, matched pearls.

The gowns of her attendants all repeated the peplum tunic effect. Maid of honor Norma Williams and matron of honor Ursula Jacqueline Doughtery, wore rose colored dresses with nylon tulle double pointed peplums. They carried American Beauty roses with hyacinths interminglied.

Bridesmaids

Aqua was chosen for the gowns of the bridesmaids who carried delight pink roses the exact shade of the dresses of the maid and matron's dresses. The bouquets were heart shaped with ribbons and roses cascading from the center of the point. Bridesmaids were Richmona Dunn, Virginia McMorris, Joan Moore, Jean Blanchette, and Mary Drye.

All the bride's attendants wore sweetheart shaped hats of crushed maline with pearl rings holding the veil of each.

The tiny flower girls were dressed in miniature replica of the maid and matron of honor. Their baskets were filled with Sweetheart rose petals.

Jean Alice Green, first of the candlelighters to appear walked down the aisle alone lighting her candles when she reached the altar. Folowing her came Loretta Ann Bradford and Lorraine G. Morrell with candles already lighted.

Approximately 100 candles glowed on the altar. Massive candelabra were joined by wide, swirling satin ribbon. Flanking the altar were potted white azaleas while white stock, white peach blossoms and gladiolis decorated the rest of the church.

Groom's Attendants

Groomsmen, wearing formal afternoon attire, were George Matthews, brother of the bridegroom, as best man. Lester Allbright, Sherill Luke, Barrington Pate, Connor Baumann, William Johnson and Roger Glasgow as ushers.

Soloists included Myrna Kimbrough, Arthur Lee Simpkins and Jean Jackson.

To greet the guests at the reception which followed at the beautiful Morrell home, the bride's mother, Ursula Morrell, wore pink taffeta and lace studded with sequins with an overskirt of pink and gray marquisette. Feature of the custom made gown was the stole, drape effect shoulders. Her mittens were of matching lace.

The mother of the groom, Mrs. Georgia Matthews, was in a gorgeously fashioned gown of

Westview Benefit at Palladium

The Palladium in Hollywood will be the scene for the gigantic kick-off drive for St. Augustine-West View Hospital Building drive, April 13 at which time the Peoples Independent Church will present the St. Augustine-West View Easter Parade.

According to Jess Robinson and Pete Hurley, directors and Rev. Clayton Russell, pastor of Independent, all church groups, clubs, organizations, civic and social leaders and people from all walks of life have been invited to participate in this extravaganza.

Top Designers

Top fashion designers, producers and personalities in the fashion and entertainment world of Hollywood are working together to present to the community one of the greatest shows of its kind, an Easter Parade and to begin the drive that will mean a community hospital at 53rd and Main Streets.

"If past response to our educational program is indicative of the sincere interest of the people in this community in building a hospital, this Easter Parade will not only mean the completion of St. Augustine-West View, but it will set a tradition that will be carried on through the years in behalf of an extension program for the hospital and other worthy causes," said Hurley, associate director of the fund drive.

On The Delightful Side

The Mitchell Mileses bought a swank place in exclusive Northridge. Girl Friends busy with plans for a rummage sale. George Garner left for Chi last Friday. Mrs. Robert Bradley here from Dallas for two weeks. She's visiting her son and his wife, the James Bradleys. Al Hathaway gave his family a bad scare last week when he was brought home suddenly ill with an acting-up ticker. In S. F. Monday: Marian Anderson. It's one of her favorite American cities. Incidentally, her appearance at the Philharmonic fell on the date when thirteen years ago the DAR refused her at their Constitution Hall!

Harvey Brooks, who hasn't been east in such a long time he'll probably get lost, is off soon (with Kid Ory) via Arizona. Edythe K. Owens at this date pondering as are several others over just which fast-approaching event to attend; the Methodist Conference in the Bay area, the Baptists in Chi or settling for the musician's August assembly in Manhattan. Not long ago Edythe and I were wondering out loud what had become of Joe Crawford. Pounds heavier, handsomer, he was in N. Y. last week with the Southernaires for a radio stint (Lincoln's birthday). Long on the slender side Joe now actually has a moon-face, what's more! Dooley Wilson in a N. Y. hospital with a stroke.

Luscious-looking BVA members plan a party for Ellington on the 29th. The latter will be on the coast until May.

Edna Deaver-McCormick's cousin from Baltimore, statuesque Lucille Watts (everyone fell in love with her when she visited here not too long ago) died suddenly in Balto. last Sunday. State Dept. okayed a Porgy and Bess company for Europe. Kelsey Pharr, relaxing in Miami, has high hopes of getting in the company. He left an earlier Porgy company to become one of the in-town-now Delta Rhythm Boys. Virus listee: Elsie Foster. Altho she managed to keep going, Izella Allison had her share of it, too. The Harry Whites had a boy, you knew? In town briefly: Johnnee and Bill Tizenor's soldier son, Donald. He's off shortly to a Florida base as a pharmacy student. Awed murmur: That's quite a handsome sounding title Joe Green has out at RCA-Victor, by cracky.

Fun in Chi

Arvella Young says she balled a while on that Chi trip. The talented daughter of Jane and Ed Strong is developing into a prolific pianist and they're beaming, but naturally, Jane and Ed are another pair who year in, year out, maintain their happiness, youth and likability with ease.

Dr. Alexander at Deltas' Banquet

As honored guest at the Delta Founders' Day banquet which took place at Bit O' Sweden on Friday evening, Dr. Sadie Alexander, former Grand President of Delta Sigma Theta sorority, lay a magic spell upon the 130 local sorors who came out in their prettiest attire in deference to their great and highly respected leader. The banquet, planned by a committee, co-chaired by Mrs. Alice Harvey and Mrs. Irene Morris ,and presided over by Mrs. Paulyn Garner, was noteworthy from every standpoint and will be remembered wistfully by all who were present.

Not scheduled for a speech, Dr. Alexander, however, pointed out some very significant things in the brief remarks which constituted her greetings. What ran like a theme song throughout her comments was the fact that Los Angeles as a new and growing city offered exceptional opportunities.

A paragon of leadership herself, she pleaded with the sorors to infiltrate into every movement and help mold the thinking of the city lest patterns get set that are contrary to their welfare.

"Be dynamic and respeced," she exhorted. Phenomenal things could be done by the group here, she thought, because they had acquired such affluence and so much leisure.

Prior to Dr. Alexander's greetings, a program of music and brief talks was put on by members of the three local chapters, which was highlighted by introductions of Mrs. Zephyr Chisholm Carter and Mrs. Wertie Blackwell Weaver, two of the founders of the sorority at Howard University in Washington, D. C. Among the founders of the chapters here present were Mrs. Walter Webster and Miss Miriam Matthews of Pi Chapter, and Mrs. Alice Buggs of Upsilon. Mrs. Mary Lou Tolbert, president of Nu Sigma chapter, took advantage of the occasion to boost the Delta presentation of Ellabelle Davis and Lawrence Winters at Philharmonic Auditorium Sunday afternoon, Feb. 24th, after which Harriet Flowers and Joyce Overr, presidents of the undergraduate chapters, were presented.

Dr. Geraldine Woods, vice president of Nu Sigma Chapter, introduced Mrs. Paulyn Garner, mistress of ceremonies. Contributing to the musical part of the program were Mrs. Mignon Cabel who led the group singing of Delta songs; Miss Helene Oates, Delta scholarship student at USC, who sang a number from the opera, "Romeo and Juliet" and "Go Away From My Window"; Miss Edna Hurd of Santa Monica who accompanied at the piano for the group singing and Mrs. Bernice Lawson who accompanied Miss Oates; and a piano solo, "Hungarian" by Edward McDowell, played by Mrs. Lorenza Jordan Cole.

Besides the co-chairmen, the members of the banquet committee were: Marguerite Allen, Gloria Armour, Claudia Bishop, Cassandra Bradley, Vassie Brown, Mignon Cabell, Paulyn Garner, and Lillian Payne.

SMILING—Miss Danellon Mabry is thrilled by the prospect of studying music in Europe this summer if she wins first prize in the sensational Wilfandel scholarship contest. Danellon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel F. Mabry, 639 E. 52 place, interrupted rehearsal of the KGER "Radio Guild Show" to tell reporters how excited she is about the contest. The popular co-ed attends U.S.C. She is a member of the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, the Students Council and is emerging as a top-flight radio artist. Miss Mabry also does the organ background for the station KMPC show "Studio A." High school graduates, co-eds, and adults interested in studying arts, fashions, etc. are eligible to enter the contest. Details may be secured from Mrs. Fannie Williams at REpublic 5526. The entrance deadline has been extended to March 2. Sheffield photo

Receiving Line

At the door, Mrs. Venye Corporal admitted guests who were then presented to the mother of the bride by her sister, Mrs. Marcia Baumann, and to the mother of the groom. They were then escorted to the wedding party by another of the bride's sisters, Mrs. Portia Byrd.

In the hall and dining room were hostesses Dr. Vada Somerville and Mrs. Reba Butler. All gifts of silver, crystal, china, dresdenware and bric-a-brac were displayed in the dining room by Mrs. Paul Williams. In the kitchen, where Mrs. Thelma Pruitt was hostess, kitchenware was exhibited. In the berakfast room Mrs. Frances Drye showed the pottery and similar gifts.

In the solarium of the lanal, linens were seen with junior hostess Audrey Cloyd in attendance. Directing the hostesses in the garden was Mrs. Susie Moore. Junior hostesses Pat Johnson and Marvelle Finks and Mildred Price received the gifts with Geraldine Griffin registering them and Sarah Morrell unwrapping. Garden hostesses were Mmes. Cornelia Bradford, Myrtle Dunn, Julia Morrell, Harlette Flowers and Billie Nunn.

As the guests left they were given portions of the bride's cake in boxes held by silver or pink ribon. Performing this task were two of the bride's cousins, Ouida Lehman and Joan Lewis.

Chief hostess and director at the church was Mrs. Bernice Barnum.

Following the wedding Mmes. Myrtle Dunn, Portia Byrd, Marcia Baumann and Edith Davenport entertained the nuptial party at a champagne supper.

Among the events immediately prior to the wedding was a "hen" party at the home of the matron of honor on Friday, and on Saturday before the 6 p.m. rehearsal, a bridal dinner given by Mmes. Somerville, Morrell and Corporal. Lester Allbright's residence was the scene of the bachelor party.

The newlyweds left Sunday night for a San Francisco honeymoon, both attired in tan tweed suits. The bride's suit was of an imported fabric. Her accessories were of light natural calf.

After March 1st they will be at home at 1044½ S. Arlington.

THE EAGLE'S GUEST

Dear Vi:

Aren't people wonderful—spring—traditional signs—first robin—come fashion shows—for instance: One at Westwood's Bullocks where Pat Alexandre, Peggy Hawkins, Mae Crowder, Rose Dobbs, Leontyne King and Anita Grant, previewed Spring and Summer collections—then to banquet at Bit-'f Sweden.

Significent Odds and Ends:

Wives of Sigmas held their fiesta and successful Spanish Dinner Saturday night at Dr. and Mrs. Zetas's home, South Hobart. Mrs. Long, the president, was all smiles because of its huge success.

"Open gate day for Jefferson High Founders' Day." The P-TA is giving a special reception February 19 at 2:00 p.m. Parents please take notice!

Sigma Gama Rho is glad to hear of Sally Edwards' rapid improvement at the Queen of Angels Hospital. She is the beloved Grand Basileus of Sigmas and is now making her home in Southern California.

The Twelve Big Sisters gave their annual Valentines Party at the Rerior School, San Fernando Valley. Dorothy Jones of West 29th street, the school teacher, is president of this very active group. She reports that two matrons of our group have been placed at the school for the first time.

Sauntered in Fay Allen's W. Jefferson home to the YMCA Tea. The Postaletts hostessed the affair and made everyone feel at home.

Rev. Clayton Russell and his lovely wife are taking active interest in St. Augustine West View Community Hospital Project. Such plans for an Easter parade on a fabulous scale. All club presidents and church officials are working assidously on the plans for the Palladium.

Della Williams had such pride in the Wilfandel Club meeting Sunday morning where ten of her club members were hostesses and many plans were made over coffee.

Zephyr and Leroy Gill were honored at a dinner on their second anniversary. A very special menu of pink champagne and squabs made the twenty guests present wish that the Johnsons would be hosts again soon. (Mr. and Mrs. Otto Johnson).

To see and talk to Lillie Montgomery is an inspiration for "doing." She is all a glitter for the Special Activity Committee of the NAACP Annual Affair. A must date, April 20, this year for the Cabaret Dance. She also reports that she is helping to sponsor the Zenith Club plans for their Matinee Club Dance. Audrey Atkins is the power behind this club.

Scribe Returns

Our local chronicler, Libby Clark, returned from San Francisco, weary but happy. She attended the party of Mr. and Mrs. Pleas Skaggs, which made the Bay Area eye's pop with their fabulous St. Francis hotel party. The guests were entertained in the Italian Room. It was also a celebration of their second anniversary and the opening of their New Apartment Annex to their Apartment Hotel.

While in the Bay Area, Libby interviewed Harry Rosemburg Foster, a Chicago school teacher, who is on tour with her Trash Craft. Beautiful anything can be made with throw aways, bottles, cans, etc. Her exhibit is worth thousands of dollars and she promised to visit our city so that we may, too, enjoy this new fad. It will be of interest also, to know that Mrs. Howard Thurman's book is being popularly received by San Francisco's reading public, "California Pioneers of Negro Origin."

Hear tell that the National President of the National Council of Negro Women is in our city to check Programs and Projects. You will know her when introduced as Mrs. Ruth Haskins Neullar.

Another interesting personality is the brother of Theresa and Gilbert Lindsay who is here as a representative director of Supreme Liberty Life. The local office is humming with plans to entertain him. Mr. Lindsay's brother will be here for the next five or six days and is known as Mr. Albert Lindsey.

Percy McDavid, who is a musical genius, is director for the new United Nations Symphony Orchestra, everyone is looking forward to their first program. Buddy Collette, NBC flutist, is being presented at the West Hollywood Auditorium with a quintet that is also newly formed. Monday evening, the 19th, this Auditorium will be packed.

Wedding arrangements for Haroldine Browning is the next spectacular social affair. Leontyne King is doing the bridal presentation.

Invites are out for YWCA Katherine Kinney's Unique Birthday party. She is spotlighting YWCA memberships for her gifts. Another worthy cause for the YWCA is the rummage sale at the Watt's YWCA, February 29. Everything desirable, you can purchase.

In the midst of Anna Louis's hustle bustle for the Sigma Wives Spanish Dinner, husband John Nelson returned from the Bay Area, where Ole Home Week was held with the Fouches, Blackburns, and the rest of the Golden State friends, who made him forget the weather with their warm friendly reception.

M/Sgt. Lottie Mills, who is doing a tremendous job, spoke at Carver 4, for Negro History Week. Rev. and Mrs. Hammond sponsored the program in Southeast. M/Sgt. Mills is happy to announce that she added to her staff, a very personable and likeable chap, Sergeant first-class Harry H. Williams Jr., also Sgt. Albert B. Young, and Cpl. Bradley are there to give added assistance, to serve at the US Army and Air Force Officer on Central avenue.

Convention Here

Bless Mrs. Gertrude Hicks for bringing the National Association to Los Angeles. This is a big juicy plum for Mrs. Bethune orated as only she can orate to bring the convention to be held in Florida, but with a master stroke Mrs. Hicks had wired Newlan Florists to send their biggest roses, orchids and mystery gardenias to the National Officials of this Council. The vote was given unanimously for California with 20-minute ovation. So in August, Los Angeles will be buzzing with about three thousand to five thousand more women. With all of this Mrs. Hicks is planning, with 32 Jr. Hostesses, to go to Camp Cooke Saturday afternoon to help the boys to forget their camp activities.

Mrs. Beulah Arnaud, of YW Administration, of Ways and Means Committee is taking a much needed rest and will arrive in New Orleans in time for Mardi Gras. We feel that Mrs. Arnaud, who sponsored the bridge tournament will be happy to know that Betty Porch, the new YW Sec. will certainly be one of the causes that the membership will hit a new high as to success.

Sunday afternoon the Twelve Links entertained hundreds of bejeweled and befurred guests. The Alabam practically rocked with the unusual entertainment that Theresa Lindsey presented. Usually guests say they had a nice time, (but) this time, the guests were so pleased that no criticism could be heard.

Vi, my son said, "Mother, what is a guest column?" So, I read to him the above items and he said "This is a column?" Anyway, I enjoyed this effort, because people are wonderful.

WELCOME TO NBC—Frank Terry, left, well-known in local business and publicity circles, recently appointed to the public relations staff of the National Broadcasting company is seen with Eagle society editor Violet Moten Brown, New York NBC public relations man Joe Baker and Eagle church editor Miriam Christian. The scene is a cocktail party given by the broadcasting company at the Sunset and Vine headquarters last Thursday afternoon.

Bridging It From Club Pacifico

In Bridge, "The Play Is the Thing," it can make points for you or break you, (depending of course, on what type of game you play). Incidentally someone has said that bridge is first and foremost a game for perfected liars. We prefer to think of it as play acting . . . It is up to you, my fellow players, play your part so well that those around the table will also be convinced that your "big bluff" is straight from the shoulders.

The old fogeyisms of 2nd hand low and 3rd hand high were brought down to earth in Sunday's lecture by ROBERT LEE JOHNSON, as well as the nonsense of covering an honor with an honor. Such action without proper analysis can mean the difference between winning or losing many points at bridge.

The next time you are holding A-X in front of dummy's K-J and declarer lays down a small card, that's your cue ot stop acting, and wear your best poker face. Because he'll be watching you. So please don't let him catch you off your guard. Let him do his own guessing.

When you happen to be sitting behind dummy, don't play high because partner led a suit. Especially if by doing so you will set up a winner in the dummy.

These are but a few of the aspects of playing good defensive bridge that all who were present enjoyed hearing from Mr. Johnson. After which, we tried some tricks of our own . . . quite successfully, too . . . Results two beautiful tops, from thé King and Queen, H. Ennis and A. Fritz . . . Thanks . . . Hope I'll have the chance to do the same next week, until then remember "The Play Is the Thing," so see what you can do with this the No. 6 of a series of 10 problems appearing in this column.

South is declarer at three no-trump. West leads the King of Spades.

as King, Bernice Johnson, Michael Snider, Clinton Arnold and Julia Brown. This was just for fun.

The Pitt Los Club of Los Angeles asks this column to convey its belated thanks to the many contributors and donors who last year gave such loyal support at the Mother's Day Symposium to give financial aid to the Spastic Foundation for Children; to the Big Sisters for their efforts at the carnival. The club provided Christmas baskets and donations instead of their annual Christmas party.

Pitts Los is headed by Nan Lee, Eva Cornelius, vice president; Lucia Richmond, treasurer; Irene Walker, recording secretary; Lucille Haney, corresponding secretary.

I Sorrow

Wiht our father, J. S. Moten, briefly hospitalized over the week-end, my brother, Frederick Moten, and I missed most of the terrifically interesting "Negro History Week" events. Mother, Cora Ball Moten, didn't mind not attending anything excepting Sunday's Marian Anderson concert. That—she had counted on! Know I'll have her for an audience when I mush through Negro history at Hollywood YMCA on the 25th.

Among the people who have been unusually kind during Dad's protracted illness are Dr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Bailey, Essie Charles, "Cherie" the florist, Zora Williams, Edna and Merritt Cohen, the Rev. Father Llewellyn Williams and Georgia Tymony. The last named is one of his former Lincoln University (Mo.) students, all of whom have rallied 'round.

Do you know that Maidie Norman, star of the surprise-movie-hit "The Well," was hospitalized Sunday morning? Serious business. Send all cheering greetings to Methodist Hospital, 2826 S. Hope street. She'll be out of circulation for at least six weeks. We'll let you know when she's home again.

Addenda to Maidie Norman item: We know without being told she'll appreciate interesting reading matter.

These last two items don't quite cover the "Tears and Sorrows" depatment, but they provide an example of everybody's daily woes—a father and a best friend in pain . . . suffering.

Taint enough to take the starch out of you IF you have learned that the world is peopled with those who are "the happy people." 'Cause that's us now, too, with youse wonderful, happy guys and gals.

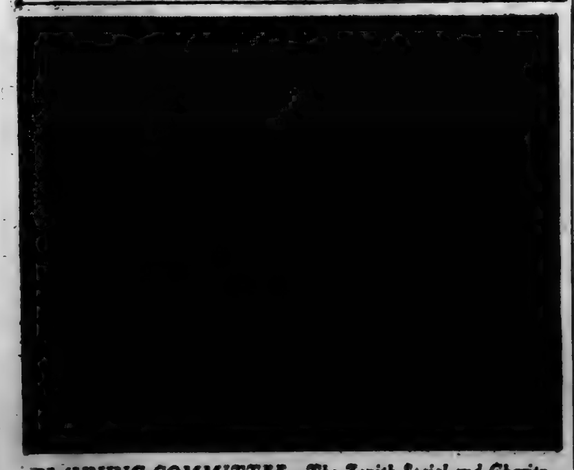
Georgette Harvey, who passed in N. Y., had a great love for L. A. and wanted so much to live here. She always stopped with Rose and Juan Tizol when in town. Startling, the resonance in the speaking voice of handsome Lee (Delta Rhythm Boys) Gaines . . . it actually vibrates. He's at the Mickey Joneses. Few women anywhere can wear striking hats as does Mable Scott. At a recent Sunday nite party Edna Thrower did that ever delightful little poem she alone recites so well. She calls it "Just Outside My Window." Remember? Former Riverside USO head Burdette Hockaday, now one of three operators of the dining room in Dee-Cee's Dunbar Hotel. Deil Porche perched atop a stool next to me at the Bill (have a new Buick) Powells red bar says: "Nat Gregory called me from Palm Beach. He'll be here for a visit this summer."

Jim Goodrich back from that bumpy air trip to Chi. Well known here Lillian Sharpe Hunter okay again after a N. Y. hospital bed. Rev. Shelton Hale Bishop, one of nine U. Midnite corner: Strolling arm in arm, their frisky wire hair terrier on leash, Dottie and Bob Allen, so in love, getting the late editions. They're one pair of youngmarrieds who are consistently well-liked by all their close chums.



Zenith Benefit

The Zenith Charity and Social Club's forthcoming benefit matinee cabaret at the Alabam on March 2 is whipping up much interest. Which is as it should be. The hard-working (and well-dressed) members plan to present a check to the L. A. Orphanage during the affair. And that's a wonderful cause. Incidentally, the Zeniths have come up with the idea of a talent contest as part of the shindig. Any clubs with a sure-fire contestant in mind should contact Audrey Atkins or Evelyn Cummings.

I - want - you - to - meet: Shaw Brooks (literary sounding name, that!) who is the first tan-tone assistant superintendent of lab techniques at Zelznick Studio, no less. His exacting work covers processing color and preparing it for sound. He spent two busy years at SC in cinema photography, was one of the best to date to emerge. He also is a Fred Archer School graduate, that in itself is an achievement with top-drawer eminence in photography circles so they inform me.

Mem'ry Montage: Those delightful dancing parties given seasons ago by the Gay Westerners (Bobbee Black Borders, Lolita Edwards, Flo Rucker Wilson, Ruby Terry); the oak beams and hearthside in the earlier Pasadena house of Carolyn Bryant; Rita Christiana; Jules Smith singing and playing "Yesterday"; Ernest Whitman's wire-recording of a houseful of us at their Nov. anniversary party (I never laughed so hard in my questionable life); Charles Holland singing "Do Not Go My Love"; the revival scene in Run Lil Chillun; Ellington in the orchestra pit of Jump for Joy; Marie Joe Browne reading poetry locally; Libby Taylor's midsummer barbeques Pasadena way; pancakes at Olivette Miller's; after-dance waffles at Bernice Eblon Smith's; Angelique Bratton's garden wedding in picturesque San Gabriel.

Louella Dent, a new student in social work at LACC. The Gladwin Balls have joined the Palm Grove Avenue property owners.

PLANNING COMMITTEE—The Zenith Social and Charity Club finalize schedule for the Benefit Matinee cabaret to be held at the Club Alabam, Sunday, March 2, at 3:30 p.m. Reading from left to right (standing) are Marian Harvey, Evelyn Cummings, Mary Wiley, (seated) Eulah M. Earles, Catherine Kerr, Audrey Atkins, Fransys Perry, Gloria Davis and Argralia Earles.

California Eagle

Published Every Thursday

The Eagle stands for complete integration of Negroes into every phase of American life through the democratic processes.

We favor:

1. FEPC on local, state and national levels.
2. Decent housing for all Americans.
3. The President's Civil Rights Program.
4. Adequate old age pensions and social security.
5. Collective bargaining rights for all workmen.
6. Development and encouragement of Negro business.

We oppose:

1. Jim Crow in all forms.
2. Communists and all other enemies of democracy.

Ickes and Waring

Negroes will regret the death of Harold Ickes and the retirement of Judge Waites Waring from the federal bench in South Carolina.

Each of them played an important part in the struggle for first class citizenship. Ickes had been president of the Chicago branch of the NAACP when he went to President Roosevelt's cabinet in 1932 and he took with him the belief that color lines in government had to be broken down.

It was Ickes who initiated the New Deal practice of appointing Negroes to administrative positions in various government agencies where they were called upon for advice and direction when agency activities affected racial problems.

Judge Waring began his career on the federal bench with a series of blunt opinions requiring southern states to equalize separate facilities for Negroes. He believed in the separate but equal doctrine in the beginning and he said so. But he insisted that the states couldn't welch on the requirement of equality as so many of them were doing.

Gradually, however, Judge Waring came to see that there could be no equality in the separate but equal formula and that no matter how it was disguised that doctrine was only a device for giving constitutional sanction to a denial of rights to Negroes.

After he had grasped that concept, Judge Waring fought for it to the bitter end, even while old friends forsook him and ancient enemies renewed their attacks upon him. He wound up a lonely man in his native Charleston with none but Negroes—and few of them — even daring to visit him in his own home.

Ickes and Waring will be remembered long after opponents and detractors are forgotten. Each did his part to nudge America a little closer to its goal of full and complete democracy.

Miscarriage of Justice

Florida is determined to have its pound of flesh in the Groveland case. An all-white jury deliberated only a little more than an hour to convict the last of the defendants in that case and sentence him to death for an alleged "attack" on a young white housewife in 1949.

He was still suffering from severe bullet wounds inflicted on him last November when Sheriff Willis McCall killed his companion and tried to kill him while he was being transported to the trial.

An analysis of the evidence upon which he was convicted shows it to be so flimsy that if the racial factor was removed no jury, north or south, would bring in a guilty verdict. But the trial was held in a small town in which a scientific poll showed that more than eighty five per cent of whites were so prejudiced against his case that he could not get a trial and that most Negroes were so afraid of reprisals that they would not dare to serve on a jury and vote for an acquittal.

The proceedings prove again that judicial process can be so subverted in an atmosphere of prejudice that a Negro can't get more than the appearance of fairness when he is accused. Accusation is tantamount to conviction.

Equally as disturbing as the verdict in the case was the fact that the state was able to produce a half dozen Negro witnesses to testify that in their opinion the defendant could get a fair trial in the county. These men, all of them in positions where reprisals could be taken against them, testified that there was no racial prejudice in the county and one of them said that he had never seen any evidence of racial prejudice—that in face of the fact that the Klan had burned crosses on the lawn of one of the witnesses and that Jim Crow is strictly enforced.

The combination of prejudiced whites and frightened Negroes doomed the defendant from the start. The death sentence was certain from the day he was arrested.

On All Your Houses

A "plague on all their houses" just about sums up the NAACP's Clarence Mitchell's review of the records of Taft, Eisenhower and Kefauver, all of whom would like to be president.

Taft belongs to the Old Guard Republicans who have been playing footsie with the Dixiecrats for the past four years in order to stymie the president's civil rights program. In addition he's hell bent to help the southern states retain segregation in grade schools. He calls it a state program which is outside the ken of the Supreme Court.

Eisenhower, who is a mighty fine soldier and who seems to us to know or understand little about domestic problems, drew Mitchell's fire for his roundabout support of segregation in the army. As for Kefauver, he's a southern liberal who knows better but who just can't summon up enough courage to take a forthright stand on civil rights. He's been trying to be on all sides of the fence and now everybody's mad at him.

Outside of President Truman, who may not run, the only Democrats who seem to us to have a sound view of the Negro problem and courage enough to stand by what they believe are Governors Adlai Stevenson of Illinois and Mennen Williams of Michigan.

USC Changes Mind

This editorial probably belongs on the sports page but we can't help thinking that it took adversity to persuade the University of Southern California to drop the color bar in football.

During the 1930's, USC was riding high wide and handsome and it didn't want and wouldn't have Negroes on the Trojan football team. Its attitude was the more reprehensible because Negroes had helped make it an athletic power.

USC hasn't fared so well in recent years and it hit the sawdust trail last month and gave a scholarship to Addison Hawthorne, Pasadena's great junior college back.

We hope that repentance at USC is genuine and that it won't backslide to its old Jim Crow policy if its football teams get back on the top of the heap. And we can't resist the observation that USC's twenty years of discriminating against Negro athletes is as shameful a page as any we known in the history of a California institution of higher learning.

Congratulations Mr Rolls

District Attorney S. Ernest Roll is to be congratulated for adding a Negro deputy to his staff. Mr. Roll has had the advantage of having served with Leon Whittaker and Charles Matthews while they were deputies in the district attorney's office and of course he knows that race and color have nothing to do with ability or devotion to duty.

The importance of the appointment does not lie in the position itself but in the fact that it recognizes the importance of the integration of Negroes into government.

In our opinion such integration strengthens the fabric of democracy and makes it increasingly impervious to attacks from Communists and others who are so busy trying to convince Negroes that they have no stake in our present form of government.

Lester B. Granger's

Battle Axe & Bread

One of the hardest things for the colored American to do, it would seem, is to make up his mind as to what he wants out of American society. In terms of generalities it seems easy: he wants a "square deal." He wants an end to racial discrimination, an even chance at jobs, prestige situations, easy living or responsibility. It's easy to take a position and stick to it in terms of generalities, but it's different when he is asked to come down to cases—to be specific.

For instance, let's take this State Department hassle that seems to be bubbling up in a few columns and feature stories of Negro newspapers. For several years writers and reporters have been heckling the State Department over its failure to use qualified Negroes in diplomatic and other international assignments. Our government officials have been assured that it would be good business to send a few well-informed Negroes into foreign countries to "speak up for Democracy," by representing this country's interests with dignity and effectiveness.

That's the generality, and it's a sound one. When it comes to the specific, however, it's a different story. After the State Department has taken the suggestion and appointed a few Negro spokesmen as roving ambassadors or included others as members of legations to other nations, these same writers are still dissatisfied. Now they want the authority to censor what is said overseas. They want to make sure that these Negro spokesmen are "telling the truth" about race relations in America. They just can't make up their mind, and they are still unhappy.

Of course no mature observer is going to expect for one moment that our State Department is going to appoint anyone, Negro or white, to go abroad and "tell the truth" about race relations, corruption in the Treasury Department, RFC influence-peddling, vote-buying in Ohio or any other discreditable phase of life in this country.
